JAMES (JIM) KENNEDY

1947-2018

James (Jim) Kennedy, long-time pillar, leader, and mentor in the Yuba-Sutter community, passed away at the age of 71 at The Fountains in Yuba City on Feb 3, 2018 after a long battle with Parkinson's disease. His loving wife Wendy and sons Josh and Jake were at his side. In addition he leaves behind Lauren Hull Snowden (Phil), Christopher Hull, and six grandchildren: Taylla, Matthew, Shelby, Andrew, Luke, and Joey as well as nephew Mike and niece Jill. Jim was born in Watsonville, California, one of two sons to James and Dorothy Kennedy. He is preceded in death by his older brother Robert, and by granddaughter Kylie.

Jim was a fiercely devoted husband, father, and grandfather who could never pass up a game of tummy pokey-poke when one of the grandkids zeroed in for a hug. Additionally, all efforts at childhood artwork were proudly displayed on his bulletin board, window, ceiling, bathroom mirror, etc. While afraid of little in life, he met his match facing a brisk Scottish wind while wearing a kilt of the Kennedy tartan prior to their wedding along the west coast of Scotland. He rapidly developed an appreciation for the immediate benefits of a tot of Scotland's national drink. He and Wendy were fortunate to have traveled to New Zealand, Australia, Alaska, Ireland, and Scotland as well as many places stateside. Perhaps his favorite of all was simply the front porch at their home in the foothills of Browns Valley, watching the sunset over the Sutter Buttes while enjoying a glass of wine with friends.

Jim graduated from Watsonville High School in 1964, going on to earn business degrees from Cabrillo College in 1966 and San Jose State University in 1968. Involved in municipal and county government since his college graduation, Jim started his career in the Auditor-Appraiser's office of Shasta County, moving on to similar positions in San Benito and Siskiyou Counties before ultimately landing at the Yuba County Treasurer & Tax Collector's (TTC) office in 1979. Starting as assistant to Clifford Irish, he was appointed by the Board of Supervisors to succeed Cliff as Treasurer-Tax Collector in 1980, was elected to the position in 1982, and served in that position until retirement in December 2009.

During his tenure as the Yuba County Treasurer, Jim was a force in navigating Yuba County and other municipalities through some of the most pressing financial matters in the state's history. He had the job of implementing California Prop 13, fought for Yuba's many water rights issues, guiding the county through multiple bond issues, and maintaining its financial solvency and credit rating. He was especially instrumental at the local and state level in guiding many counties through the aftermath of the Orange County public bankruptcy in 1994. He worked thousands of hours with other county treasurers and state legislators to maintain solvency of numerous public investment portfolios across the state. He and a handful of County employees were the core of emergency services during the 1986 floods, and Jim was a force in long-term levee improvement plans for our area. On a lighter note, many in the community will forever remember getting the green envelope from his office to pay their annual property taxes. For his long and outstanding services in public finance, Jim served as the President of the California Association of County Treasurer-Tax Collectors in 1987-1998, and was honored as Person of the Year by that association in 1998. He was also honored with the Victor E. Martinelli Award in 1997 as the Outstanding County Treasurer in the United States, for which only one other Californian has been so awarded.

While Jim's professional accomplishments alone are notable, it was his volunteer and leadership work across the Yuba-Sutter that defines his legacy. While his sons were young, he coached Little League Baseball and in the Yuba-Sutter Youth Soccer League. Both he and Henry Reimers were the driving factor in starting the soccer program at Marysville HS, where Jim helped coach the first two years until turning the reins over to a full-time coach. He served with the Yuba-Sutter United Way, ultimately being honored with its prestigious Pedro Award. He was a long-time member and past chairperson of the board for Sierra Central Credit Union, where his visionary work enabled SCCU to become one of the finest community-based credit unions in the USA. He was a past board member and chairperson of the Rideout Hospital Board of Directors, as well as Peachtree Clinic. Late in his career he was elected to the Yuba College Board of Trustees. His professional volunteer service is almost too long to list, but the highlights demonstrate his lasting impact to our community.

Jim was cared for by the staff at The Fountains for the final two years of his illness. As the end approached it was with great respect, sadness and obvious love that they helped carry him through his final journey. The kindness and generosity of spirit they showed will always be remembered with great thankfulness. During his last week many friends gathered in his room to share stories, to hold his hand and to tell Jim how much he had influenced their lives.

At his request there will be no funeral services. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donating in his name to the Yuba-Sutter Food Bank, Rideout Health Foundation, the Parkinson's Foundation, or the Stanford Movement Disorders Center. Jim's family will host a celebration of all things Jim at Peachtree Country Club later this spring.

Water Bonds Burn Taxpayers

by Lou Binninger

Since liberals took over the California legislature they have been concerned about water – storing less, using less for humans, and letting more go untapped to the ocean. In the last 50- years there have been no dams built while the population doubled and farms were abandoned after being deprived of a water allotment.

As liberals “re-wild” California and prepare the state for Governor Brown's Global Warming Armageddon, conservatives have been smitten with the Stockholm syndrome. They repeatedly vote to borrow billions via water bonds and get no more water storage or water for farming.

Finance counselors advocate saving in good times to survive future difficulties. However, liberal legislators see no sense in holding back more water during winter to prevent drought or deluge.

In November 2006, 64% of voters passed “Proposition 1E -The Disaster Preparedness and Flood Protection Bond Act authorizing $4.09 billion in borrowing to rebuild and repair California's most vulnerable flood control structures to protect homes and prevent loss of life from flood-related disasters, including levee failures, flash floods, and mudslides and to protect California's drinking water supply system by rebuilding delta levees that are vulnerable to earthquakes and storms.”

On the same ballot, 53.8% said yes to “Proposition 84 - The Safe Drinking Water, Water Quality and Supply, Flood Control, River and Coastal Protection Bond Act” creating an additional $800 million in debt.

None of these nearly $5 billion included work at Oroville Dam but there was money to spend on “Sustainable Communities & Climate Change Reduction, Planning and Design Protection of Rivers, Lakes, and Streams, Forest and Wildlife Conservation, Protection of Beaches, Bays and Coastal Waters, Parks and Nature Education Facilities.”

It's now 12 years later and some of the 2006 funds have yet to be spent.

However, in 2014 after a severe drought, neglected dams and insufficient water storage more than 67% of fearful voters approved “Proposition 1 -The Water Quality, Supply, and Infrastructure Improvement Act authorizing $7.545 billion in general obligation bonds

Wastebook: PORKemon Go

by Lou Binninger

When you hear bureaucrats and politicians squeal like stuck pigs about the Trump Administration cutting the size of government you may think the nation is collapsing. These people think they and their ideas are indispensable.

It was a thrill to hear federal employees threaten that up to 25% of them would quit if Trump was elected. It is even better to see some keep those promises. Those leaving and even trash talking on their way out is a sweet sound.

Trump recently authorized millions of dollars to do an audit of military spending. People gasped at the expense. However, the law mandates an annual audit that no one has been doing. It is one thing to honor the military and properly fund it, but being a watchdog for the taxpayers is new for Washington.

A few politicians have weak stomachs. The waste in Washington makes them sick. Oklahoma medical doctor and Senator Tom Coburn was so put-out he created 'The Waste Book' annually highlighting some of the most bizarre and embarrassing uses of money forcefully taken from hard-working Americans.

Coburn retired from office in January 2014. Since then, Arizona Senator Jeff Flake has taken on the cause of waste to produce Wastebook: PORKemon Go that lists the top 200 shameful examples. Here are a few.

Liquor stores have taken advantage of a Department of Agriculture program to support rural businesses' effort to install energy efficient

EPA Formally Suspends WOTUS

from Sierra Sun Times

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) officially suspended implementation of the agency's Waters of the United States rule last week to comply with last year's Executive Order issued by President Trump.

EPA Secretary Scott Pruitt filed the legal documents on Tuesday required to suspend the rule for two years while the agency seeks public input on a redrafted version of the rule.

Opponents of the rule suspension, including the Natural Resources Defense Council, have already vowed to pursue legal action against the move saying that the rule suspension denies protections to public health.

However, supporters of the move nationwide are applauding the suspension of the rule in light of the controversial nature of the original rulemaking process, as well as questions still surrounding the actual water quality benefits that would result from the measure.

Many, such as Rural County Representatives of California, opposed the rule as a jurisdictional overreach and inappropriate expansion of federal authority over bodies of water not previously controlled by the federal government.

The expansion of federal authority over these waters could result in delays in important local public works projects such as maintenance of flood conveyances that could ultimately endanger public safety.

help taking the "next step" in their life. We hope to assist in figuring out what the next step might be, finding resources needed, offering tutoring help, and other aids. This group of local volunteers are working to help in many ways. They meet at Books & More (675-3275) on some Friday afternoons, but mentors will be available to help you at other times when you need assistance. Perhaps you know of friends, family or neighbors who might want to take a "next step". We hope to offer small group meetings for various topics: computer help, counseling, nutrition ideas, hobbies, or whatever a group might want.

Valentine's Day is on the fourteenth and if you still have need to purchase last minute valentines or a small gift for your Special Valentine make a stop at Books and More or the Brownsville Mercantile. You can pick up a book, bookmark and a valentine at Books and More as well as jewelry, glass ware etc. The Brownsville Mercantile also offers jewelry, glassware, and special gift items. Help support our local businesses this Valentine's Day and have a Happy Valentine's Day.

February 17th is Random Acts of Kindness Day. I have been blessed several times by such random acts of kindness. These can change a person's whole day and cause a chain reaction of kindness in the community. Open a door for someone, carry someone's groceries, do the dishes without being asked, and the list is endless. When I was still working in S.F. the car in front of me paid for my bridge toll one morning. I smiled about that all day. So let's see how much kindness we can spread around.

We are hoping that the weather is turning and rain will come. Ben's rain gauge in Strawberry Valley shows 33 inches for the whole season so far and the average for a season is around 85 inches. Our forest needs water!

A group of us took a trip to Sacramento to visit the Crocker Art Museum and had a great experience. One can certainly spend the whole day there viewing the many galleries. Paintings in the old section of the museum are great, but just visiting that building is worth the trip. Then the newer section has many special shows. These change often and can be viewed on their web site.

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

The recent cold spell last weekend slowed the bite a bit but warmer weather should return by mid-week. Expect the fishing in local reservoirs to pick up when trout are planted in mid-February.

Reports still keep coming in for the sturgeon population in the Sacramento River which is improving but local anglers are still waiting for the big rush of fish. Best bet is to find a spot between Verona and Colusa at this time. However, as reported last week there are lots of boats in the water around Verona and Knights Landing with some success. In addition, sturgeon has been reported above Colusa as well. This all goes to say that the Sacramento River has sturgeon throughout the system.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife are planting catchable trout in Jenkinson Lake and Mather Lake as well as Ranch Seco Lake. Jenkinson is located in Placer County and other two in Sacramento County. The mackinaw lake trout in Tahoe and Donner Lakes are on the bite and have many happy faces showing up at ma-rinas. Expect this bite to slow until the warmer weather returns.

Food and Farm News

Flowers plentiful for Valentine's Day, despite challenges

Flower farmers in the Carpinteria Valley largely dodged two disasters this winter: the Thomas Fire and subsequent mudslides. As Valentine's Day nears, the region called the "flower basket of the world" is returning to normal and ready to fill customers' vases. Roses are often the holiday's go-to flower. One farmer says his hydroponic roses have carved a niche for themselves in a market dominated by imports.

Wildfire lessons spread statewide

Lessons learned from the North Bay wildfires could help other regions prepare for and respond to disasters, according to farmers and officials who met last week in Sonoma County. One agricultural commissioner spoke of arranging escorted access to farms and ranches in evacuation zones during the October fires, and of being contacted by a Southern California counterpart for advice on how to accomplish that during the Thomas Fire in December.

New tree-mortality tool helps in fight against wildfire

Drought and bark beetle infestation killed 100 million trees in California from 2006 to 2016, increasing the risk of wildfire. The U.S. Forest Service has created a new tool that analyzes historical data to help predict the location and extent of tree mortality one to two years in the future, allowing land managers to better plan for pest suppression and wildfire prevention.

Global demand for ice cream grows

The global ice cream market is estimated to reach $78.8 billion by 2025, according to a new report. Demand for premium products, innovative flavors, lactose-free options and impulse purchases, as well as increased consumption in the Asia Pacific region, is expected to drive growth at 4.1 percent annually. California is the top dairy and ice cream-producing state in the U.S.

Democracy vs Freedom Which Do We Have?

by Kyle Cuniberti

Freedom is so often confused with democracy and more so in recent times. I would rather use the word "liberty" as in "give me liberty or give me death". Patrick Henry's famous utterance did not contain the word freedom nor democracy but precisely the word liberty and I put forth there exists a definite difference between the three words.

essence of freedom and liberty. The assault takes on the guise of what is fair to "promote the general welfare", often described as "for the good of the people".

Democracy can be said to be majority rule and that didn't work out so well for many a minority group throughout history. Its deficiency is best illustrated in the case of two wolves and a lamb deciding by democratic vote what to eat for dinner. Democracy doesn't work out so well for the lamb as dinner-time arrives. Freedom gives the lamb the ability to leave, but only if he can.

When replacing individual liberty, with "the good of the people", we lean into the exact opposite of freedom and liberty which is then towards socialism or worse, communism.

Liberty however means you have the right to do what you want as long as it doesn't infringe on another's rights. Freedom in this case is a subset of liberty. Exercising liberty in place of democracy, the lamb is free to go, as the wolves desire to eat is their right, but the act of eating the lamb infringes on his right to life.

Both ideologies remove liberty and freedom of the individual by leaving the interpretation open to a select few, or more distinctly, to someone else besides that individual, and therein lies the problem.

Liberty and freedom are said to go hand in hand but they do not. To establish and clarify the opaque areas of the two, the Bill of Rights was established together with the U.S. Constitution and herein lies the essence of the explanation and interpretation as set forth by the authors of both documents.

The good of the people can only be arrived at one individual at a time, by each individual having liberty as its beacon. By insuring the liberty of the individual, only then is the good of the people fairly administered.

The right to bear arms, the right to vote, the right to trial and many other rights we humans deem basic and necessary were detailed by our forefathers.

For each man is his own island with his own rights. Together, the sum of each individual's rights in society then results in the most ideal form of liberty and freedom for the group, and no other method or group interpretation preserves that right so purely.

The ongoing assault on these sacred documents exhibits the essence of their weakness. Although perceptually written in stone, they are anything but permanent. Pummeled by continuous assaults from those wishing to replace rights with "fairness" (or at least their perception of such) the democratic vote assaults the very Simply put, by adhering to the right of the individual we arrive at the sweet spot of liberty and freedom for the group.

Defending such a stance is a daunting task as exhibited throughout history and into today. The perceptions by many are that one person or group has a better idea than the next, that one has a more compassionate plan then the other and that determining how that plan is implemented is left to those with the democratic vote in their favor is a dangerous precedent.

Alexander Fraser Tytler (1747-1813) said; "a democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can only exist until the voters discover that they can vote themselves largesse from the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidates promising the most benefits from the public treasury with the result that a democracy always collapses over loose fiscal policy, always followed by a dictatorship. The average age of the world's greatest civilizations has been 200 years".

Is not there enough of a warning here, indeed a prognostication, that seems to encompass most of the attacks we see on our reverent Constitution?

Defending our country from foreign enemies is often quoted as the price of freedom, but democracies, or should we call them nations of individual liberty, are more often destroyed from within.

Those that exist within the borders are more dangerous than those outside of them for outsiders can be clearly defined and defended against. Those that dwell within the borders however, can destroy by subterfuge, propaganda or by appealing to the masses, promising everything yet in the end delivering very little.

Defending liberty and freedom is so much more than guns, ships and tanks. It's the ability to recognize threats, no matter their origin, no matter how they are veiled.

The enemies of liberty are both outside our borders and within them. We can defend our way of life with blood and spilled guts abroad, and indeed domestically if it comes to that, but the real threat is the clandestine yet stealthy attack on our rights as laid out in our founding documents from those within. Defending these rights from those that would subdue them will prove to be a battle much more difficult than any fought on the open sea or on the fallow grounds of democracy.

Kyle Cuniberti is a senior at Forest Lake Christian School, plays varsity sports and maintains a 4.14 GPA. He was a board member of the Food Bank of Nevada County for 3 years and completed a senate internship with California Senator Ted Gaines. He currently has applications at several colleges and hopes to be accepted to Stanford University.

In Loving Memory Doni-Jo Heinberger

ist with the Sacramento Master Singers. She led a madrigal-caroling group for 10 years that brought hope and peace during the holiday season to patients in the ICU & NICU wards of local area hospitals. Doni-Jo loved spending time with family and friends and looked forward to the annual family camping trip to Fort Bragg. She loved sitting and watching the waves, feeding the seagulls, and sharing life with those around her. A dream come true for Doni-Jo was getting to take a road-trip with her husband Keith in 2016, to see the fall colors along the eastern seaboard.

Doni-Jo was a loving wife, mother, grandmother, daughter, sister and friend. She poured herself into those around her and was a champion for truth. She delighted in beauty and held fast to her convictions. She followed her Lord Jesus Christ joyfully and steadfastly and has now entered her eternal home. We confidently look forward to seeing her again one day.

A celebration of life for Doni Jo is planned for the springtime of 2018. For those who wish to attend you can check the Support Doni Jo Facebook page in a few weeks for details.

Doni-Jo Heinberger, 60, of Yuba City, entered heaven's gates on February 1st, 2018 after a 5-year battle with breast cancer. She passed peacefully at her home and is survived by her husband of 39 years, Keith, and four children: Aaron, Andon, Aubrey and Aimelle, 4 grandchildren, her mother and father, Mack and Ronnie Jo Dewater, and siblings: Dave, Diane, Debbi-Lynn and Dan.

Doni-Jo was born April 18, 1957 in San Jose, CA. She graduated from Ponderosa High School in 1975 and attended Point Loma College on a music scholarship from 1975 to 1978 before marrying the love of her life, Keith W. Heinberger. She loved music and drama, spending 40 years passing that love onto future generations through piano and voice lessons, volunteering to teach music to the 5th graders at Olivehurst Elementary school and church drama productions. She also enjoyed singing first soprano and was a solo-

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Yong Suk Wahlberg Case NO. CVPB18-00009

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate or both of (specify all names by which the decedent was known): Yong Suk Wahlberg

A Petition for Probate has been filed by (name of petitioner): in the Superior Court of California, County of (specify): Yuba

The Petition for Probate requests that (name): Dale E. Wahlberg be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: February 26, 2018 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 4 located at Superior Court of California, County of Yuba, 215 5th Street Ste. 200 Marysville, CA 95901.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58 (b) of the California Probate code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California Law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-17-781254-CL. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee.

Yuba Feather Communities Services Dinner Results

Submitted by: Colene Weckman, Membership Secretary

Members of Yuba Feather Communities Services (YFCS) were honored at a Membership Appreciation Dinner on Sat., Feb. 3rd at the Ponderosa Center in Brownsville. The Dinner was free to all 2018 YFCS Members in good standing, in recognition of their support for the Community Center and Park Facilities. Thank you to YFCS Volunteers and Board Members, President Gary & Michelle Ellis, Vice President & Facilities Manager, Ann & Ronnie Plumb, Secretary, Freja & Josh Nelson, Treasurer, Dr. Bill Hoffman & Tawnya Hoffman, Maintenance, Sheri & Rodney Souja, Event Co-Chairs, Roger & Joyce Moen, Allison & Jim Lococo, Yvonne Scroggs, Membership Colene & Buck Weckman, Chris Seelye, Pastor Dan & Lisa Deli, Gene & Erin Weckman, Mike & Keri Mayo, Margaret Carnahan, Mary Lauch and Loretta Roberts who

helped make this event a success.

Special Guests included, 5th District Supervisor Randy Fletcher, Fire Chief Bill Shaw, North Yuba Water District Board Member's, Gary Hawthorne and Doug Nielsen, and candidate Steve Duckells running for the office of Yuba County Assessor.

Thank you to both, Supervisor Randy Fletcher and his wife Kathy who served as auctioneers, for members who donated baked goods. Between the auction, raffle and donations over $1800 was raised for YFCS.

Ten new memberships and many renewals were also accepted at the door.

Organizations serving under the umbrella of YFCS, Stone Soup, Girl Scouts, Quilters, Art Society and The Hilltop Gang also shared their success stories. If you are interested in joining any of these groups, getting involved, or learning more about our upcoming events and activities, please visit our YFCS website at yubafeathercommunitiesservices.org or Ponderosa park Facebook page.

Live or Die Disaster Planning for Animals

Part 1 - by Carol J. Donaldson

A well thought out and practiced disaster plan may be all that stands between your animals and death.

Hundreds of animals die each year during disasters. Animals have a small chance of survival when faced with flooding, fire or mudslides and their survival margin drops even more when left tied; crated; stalled or fenced.

The need to evacuate your premises may happen at any time. In many cases you only have an hour or less to get out and it may be a week or better before you return home. Do not leave your animals behind, do not leave them in cages or tied up. If you leave your animals you may come home to find they died due to starvation, lack of water or worse burning to death or suffocation.

As their caretaker, you are responsible for their lives. Your responsibility is to know what you need to evacuate; learn the roads in your area as these are your evacuation routes; location of safe areas; which organizations will allow pets in their shelters (the shelters that do accept pets may not accept all pets, such as reptiles and rodents), which hotels accept pets; where to take livestock (fairgrounds or designed area); practice crating your cat or dog (feeding them dinner in the crate may make it easier to load them). Practice hitching and towing your trailer, then practice loading your livestock.

Practice, practice, practice your evacuation drills with your animals. Evacuating is stressful to them and they look to you for reassurance. The more you practice the easier it is on both you and the animals when you have to evacuate.

Pets and livestock/poultry all require the same basic things; a method to control them (leashes, collars, halters, leads); a safe place to keep them; food and water for a minimum of a week; medications; proof of ownership (photos and papers); vet records; identification tags on the animals and a method to transport them (crates). You also need cash and a full tank of gas.

Cats should have identification tags, break away collars and harnesses; litter; litter boxes; and a crate. For safety and to prevent escape in cars, crate your cat (small dogs too). Only transfer cats from their carrying cage to a larger cage behind closed doors, even the friendliest cat can be terrified and try to escape. Dogs should be in crates or on a leash.

Bird cages need to be covered with a blanket for drafts; uncovered when hot, reptiles also have difficulty with the cold temperatures and must be in cages. Make sure you bring what they need for their care.

It's your responsibility to feed and clean up after your animals while at evacuation shelter or someone's home.

Make a mutual agreement with friends who live outside your community that when a disaster occurs they will shelter your pets and livestock. If there is a fire or flood danger it is wisest to remove your animals early, prior to the evacuation order. Better to be inconvenient for a few days then regret you did not get them out. If you are notified during the night or have to get out immediately - load your animals in secure cages (if possible) or trailers, take what food you can. Grab your papers and leashes or rope and go.

Islamic Relief USA Donating Over $75,000

to Help Yuba County Families Impacted by Wildfires

Alexandria, Va. -

Islamic Relief USA is contributing more than $75,000 to provide financial assistance to residents whose homes were destroyed or classified as uninhabitable by the American Red Cross.

Much of the assistance will assist residents living in Yuba County, which has one of the highest poverty rates among the impacted counties. Some 151 homes in that county alone were destroyed. Each family will receive $500 in direct assistance, in the form of cash cards. Collectively, $75,500 will be distributed to area families.

Assistance in identifying homes that were damaged or destroyed was provided by the American Red Cross and Yuba County Emergency Management.

"This is our way to help during a very difficult time," said Anwar Khan, president of Islamic Relief USA. "While many material possessions have been lost, not the least of which are houses where so families had lived in for many years, this direct assistance can help them find another place to live. In addition, it can also help them rebuild their lives emotionally."

Wildfires that broke out in the Northern California area in early October killed 43 people and destroyed more than 200,000 acres and 8,900 structures.

Sonoma and Napa counties saw some of the biggest conflagrations. Fires also broke out in Mendocino and Lake counties. One wildfire, the Tubbs fire in Santa Rosa, took some 23 days to contain.

Islamic Relief USA dispatched its Disaster Response Team during the response phase, providing assistance by operating a mass shelter in the Sonoma County Fairgrounds. IRUSA collaborated with the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the National Guard, among other groups.

23rd Annual Italian Dinner

The Yuba Sutter Legal Center for Seniors will hold its 23rd Annual Italian Dinner fund raiser Friday, Feb. 23, 2018, at the Veterans Hall in Yuba City.

One of the first senior legal offices started under the Older Americans Act, the Legal Center began offering free legal advice and assistance to the Yuba Sutter community in 1977.

Since then, the Legal Center has assisted thousands of seniors in landlord-tenant matters, obtained restraining orders to stop abuse, resolved consumer disputes, and obtain benefits to which they are entitled.

Each year the Italian Dinner serves as the Legal Center's major fund raiser.

"This is an important fund raiser to help sustain these essential services to our community", said Susan Townsend, directing attorney.

All monies raised will be used to provide free legal services to area seniors.

Employee owned Recology/Yuba-Sutter is donating the dinner and Marysville Kiwanis will prepare the dinner.

Students from River Valley High School will attend to the tables.

There will be raffle prizes, a silent auction and a dessert auction with a guest emcee.

Sponsorships for tables, auction items, etc., are available. Persons can also support the Legal Center by donating silent auction items, raffle prizes or desserts.

The evening starts at 6:30 p.m. with a no-host wine and beer bar provided. Dinner is at 7 p.m.

The Legal Center is a Yuba Sutter Colusa United Way agency and is also funded by the Agency on Aging/Area 4.

Tickets are $15 each or $80 for a table of six.

For more information, to sign up as a sponsor or to get tickets, contact the Legal Center, 725 D. Street, Marysville, or call 742-8289 or 742-2334.

Come Out and Meet

Marysville's New City Manager

Marysville, Ca.

The public is invited to come out and meet Marysville's new City Manager over a cup of hot cocoa and appetizers or over a slice of pizza and a soda. What does the City Manager need to know in order to make Marysville better than ever? What qualities and characteristics would you like to see in the City's next Police Chief? What do you love about Marysville? What would you like to see improved? Tell Marti Brown this and more on February 13 and 15.

February 15, 2018 from 5:30 to 7:00 pm (Pizza Round Up)

Monkeys. The shaky cam was used to distracting levels otherwise another monkey would have given it their vote. Just a helpful hint about rescuing your friends. If you hijack the flying war ship that was shooting at you. You can use those same weapons against the guys that are holding your friends captive. This is a good film to pass the time while you are waiting in the bus terminal or to watch over someone's shoulder on a long plane ride.

This is the third and final installment of the Maze Runner series. I couldn't believe they made a second movie and I watched it. Then the third movie just happened to be the next movie showing that I haven't seen at the Regal Theater in Fairbanks, Alaska. So ducking out of the darkness of a minus seventeen degree night, I settled in to watch a movie I was hoping to miss.

The story may have made more sense if I had read the book. However, my lot in life is to be a movie critic and not a book critic. Regardless, there was enough of a plot to keep me from wishing I were watching something else. The message of sacrificing a generations to save the future was about as subtle as a brick through the windshield. The acting was as good as could be expected. The effects were pretty good.

Water Bonds Burn Taxpayers

to fund ecosystems and watershed protection and restoration, water supply infrastructure projects, including surface and groundwater storage, and drinking water protection." This act also included "Climate and Drought Preparedness," code words to address the governor's climate disaster phobia.

Breitbart writer Chriss Street wrote in a September 4, 2014 piece "that a close look at the language in the proposition reveals that the initiative is another legislative 'bait and switch' that will not complete a single major water storage or delivery system." The $2.7 billion for water storage in essence offers to fund 25% of a project and only if it can prove a pay-back or "public benefits to taxpayers in recreation, ecosystem improvements, water quality and flood control."

These benefits ($1 per $1 of state contribution) are defined not as how much water a reservoir can hold, but rather how much it improves recreation - boating or hiking, flood control and environmental conditions, such as helping endangered salmon populations come back by providing cold water to streams during dry periods.

The bond also states, "A project shall not be funded...unless it provides measurable improvements to the Delta ecosystem or to the tributaries to the Delta." Any submitted proposals to use the funds must clear Governor Jerry Brown's select California Water Commission.

"We're not paying for water. We're paying for public benefits," said Chris Orrock, a spokesman for the California Water Commission. "As defined in Prop 1, water is not one of those benefits that we are funding. We've been very clear at every step."

Four years later and they are just beginning to vet proposals for storage increases. Remember, the Empire State Building was erected in a just over a year. As Street wrote, the political game is rigged against new dams, plain and simple.

Now, environmentalists and their poll takers believe the voters racked by a 5-year drought and then torrential rains are still up for more bait and switch borrowing for water. In June 2018, the Legislature's new $4.1 billion ballot measure will fund water recycling, construction of flood-control levees and cleanup of polluted waterways. However, close to half the bond money would have little or nothing to do with water projects. Some would go to park acquisition and maintenance, much of it in Southern California. Money would be allocated for trail construction and land conservation in the Bay Area. Low-income communities would be given priority for the funding.

An $8.9 billion measure if it qualifies for the November 2018 ballot would not add storage. It would support more recycling, groundwater and clean-up programs. It would also pay for traditional water projects such as improved canals for farm irrigation in the Central Valley with a spiff of $200 million for Oroville Dam repairs and millions more for other reservoir upgrades to persuade Nor-Cal voters.

With $12.43 billion borrowed already and 2006 funds remaining to be spent and no sincere effort to build new dams, why do citizens keep voting yes? The voters are ideological hostages and joined the perpetrators to survive. It's called the Stockholm syndrome.

Marijuana and Land Values

As a real estate appraiser, I have seen small-scale, discreet cultivation of Marijuana that had no direct effect on neighbors at all. As a Yuba County Reserve Deputy Sheriff, I have seen massive grows reeking with crime, including the theft of water and electricity, serious environmental damage, home invasions, assaults and murders.

The median home price in Marysville increased from a low of $65,000 in 2011 to $175,000 in October, 2017, an increase of 169.2%.

In Olivehurst the median home price for the same period increased from $105,000 to $199,900 for an increase of 90.4%.

In Linda the median home price for the same period increased from $118,500 to $256,500 for an increase of 116.5%.

In Plumas Lake the median home price for the same period increased from $169,000 to $334,900 for an increase of 98.2%.

That gives an average median price increase in the Yuba County valley communities of 118.53%.

In comparison, the Yuba County foothill communities median home price (for parcels of five acres or less) increased from $181,000 to $304,000, an increase of only 68%.

I presented these numbers to a number of local real estate professionals and they all agreed that the stigma associated with illegal marijuana grows was a major contributing factor, especially since the difference in values appears to correlate with the communities that are affected the most by illegal marijuana impact.

If illegal marijuana cultivation is a factor in devaluing foothill properties, then the average foothill residence has lost up to $180,000 in potential appreciation over the past six years due in part to this criminal activity. The result is a significant investment loss and diminished retirement income for these residents, and significant unrealized property tax income for the county and state.

There may be other factors that have contributed to the arrested appreciation in the area and those should be identified and isolated if they exist. I hope to gather more data, including crime statistics and news stories as well as similar data from other Northern California counties, and to work with other real estate professionals to present a report filled with real data and supportable conclusions to the Yuba County Board of Supervisors, other governing bodies, and the public at large to aid them as they make future decisions regarding marijuana cultivation and crime enforcement.

The time for sticking our heads in the sand has passed. There is a significant disparity in the valuation of foothill homes that is now adversely affecting everyone in the County.

Steve Souza,
Loma Rica Ca

Re: Illegal Immigration

Does anybody have any idea why Mexico does nothing to help us secure the boarder and keep its people home. Mexico's biggest industry is its illegal aliens.

While we have the Democrats and the left, Socialist that have not found a illegal alien that they don't love and keep shoveling all the free stuff as long as someone else pays for it.

Now as for Mexico, the illegal alien who gets all the free stuff and demand more, stuff and amnesty and say they deserve it or it is owed them. According to the World Bank they send 120 billion home while we feed them and house them. That money should be helping us not Mexico. This is why the President of Mexico does not want to stop it; its more money than he makes from oil; And it's like free money lighting.

The section, titled "Getting Lit at the Liquor Store," complains that the $5,000 grant to a store called Newberry Liquors, in Newberry, Florida, went to an establishment that, "In addition to liquor, wine, and beer ... also serves cigarettes and tobacco products." Actually many rural liquor stores and other businesses and farms cashed in on the Rural Energy for America Program. Why do some businesses get welfare and not others? Good question.

The Oregon Museum of Science and Industry was given a $150,000 federal grant to develop "earthquake-proof gingerbread houses." Then, there is the "Spaceport to Nowhere" ($80.4 million). The Pacific Spaceport Complex-Alaska (PSCA) was founded in 1996 with an $18 million earmark. It has been seldom used since its founding and is now in disrepair as a result of a 2014 failed launch. Last year, the Missile Defense Agency awarded a "sole source" contract for up to $80.4 million to keep the base open.

The Department of Defense's Office of Naval Research and the National Science Foundation paid $460,000 for a study in which computers binge-watched 600 hours of "Desperate Housewives," "The Office," and other TV shows and online videos in order to train computers to predict human behavior.

Researchers at the University of California-San Diego Scripps Institution of Oceanography received $1.5 million to study how well mudskippers, a fish that can survive long amounts of time out of water and can walk with its front flippers, could walk on a treadmill. More National Science monies ($450,000) went for research to determine if dinosaurs could sing.

The National Eye Institute spent $300,000 of public funds to study boys and girls playing with Barbie dolls. "Researchers were literally playing with dolls to prove what every child already knows — girls are more likely to play with Barbie dolls than boys," Flake's report stated.

National Institutes of Health spent $230,000 to discover that the color red makes female monkeys get hot and bothered for male monkeys. A study found female rhesus macaques spent more time checking out the hind-quarters of male monkeys presented in front of a red colored background.

The colonies got in a war over paying taxes on tea but now business gets subsidies for tea and distilled spirits. The U.S. Department of Agriculture and Department spent $850,000 in subsidies for tea and whiskey product development.

How about $2.4 million to determine how to be more popular online? The IRS spent $12 million on an email archiving service that it could not and did not use. Or, how about $74 million for a program that allows taxpayer-backed loans to be repaid with peanuts?

You get the idea and can study the entire book online. When you hear politicians say they can't cut another dime just touch mute. It's called the swamp and needs drained badly.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

cording to their Democratic worshippers. Recently two of the little angels were arrested near San Diego on human smuggling charges.

- A bit of perspective is needed on the attempt by humans to save “endangered species.” Carl Sagan (in his book Billions and Billions) informs us that some “50 billion species have evolved on earth.” Are we so smart that we should be involving ourselves in this magnificent on-going process?

- The federal government is sometimes clearly insane. The Fish & Wildlife agency is moving about the forests in Oregon killing Barred Owls in an attempt to protect Spotted Owls. Hasn't worked so far. Whatever will these “experts” think of next?

- If the “sh**hole” countries are such heavenly places, then why do their citizens hammer down our borders to get in? And if the Democrats and their mainstream media buddies are so enamored of these countries, then why don't they pack up their families and crash their borders?

- Hypocrites abound. Think of the lefties beating their chests and having tizzy fits over “bullying.” As soon as the cameras roll or the presses crank up, they start bullying the President, his family and his administration.

- Google and Facebook are global-wide monopolies. Why don't the trust-busters go flat out to deal with them?

- Some in the mainstream media feel that a “public safety tax” is a good thing. Of course, when has a leftist ever fought tooth and nail against a tax? And why should only one department get more tax revenue while other needed services suffer?

- At UC Santa Barbara the Administration is promoting the practice of white people claiming to be black. Facts and truth have no meaning to this institute of higher learning. You can claim to be whatever you want. Why would anyone send their child to such a malignant place?

- UCLA's student government has allocated $100,000 of its funds (paid for by the entire student body) to help illegal alien students receive academic advising, counseling, legal advice, DACA workshops, scholarship information and more. As Stephen Frank aptly asks “Why does the UC system Board of Regents allow this corruption—and breaking of the Federal laws? They allow it because they too are law breakers. The losers? Honest students that want an education without being extorted.”

- The pace of catering to illegal aliens is happening like a snowball going downhill. The City of Stockton is planning to give $500 a month out of city coffers to low income families. Recall it wasn't too long ago that Stockton declared bankruptcy.

- We must be careful about statistics because the writers can do funny tricks with figures. But take the following for what it is worth. The US is rated as 3rd in the world for murders. However, eliminate the stats from Chicago, Detroit, Washington DC, and New Orleans and the US comes out looking good. Contemplate that the jurisdictions mentioned have the toughest gun control laws in the country. And look up which political party controls those cities.

- Nancy Pelosi, the poster child of San Francisco craziness, actually points to her own shortcomings when she calls Trump's words “insulting words of ignorance and prejudice.”

- California's economic climate is getting worse each time the state legislature is in session. One example is the state income tax rate. California now is the worst state in the nation with 10%+ rates (starting at $250 K), some 34% higher than Oregon, the 2nd highest in the nation.

- Watch out, Marysville, The Ohio Court of Appeals threw out an appeal of the City of New Miami which was under a lower court order to refund $3,066,523 in speed camera citations. The fines were deemed illegal.

- A FISA court using three Obama-appointed judges approved eavesdropping of American citizens using court documents filed by the FBI and DOJ filled with unverified “evidence” produced by the losing presidential candidate. How low can the deep state go?

- In California, if 3.5 million illegal aliens moved back to Mexico, there would be released about $10.2 billion to spend on schools for American children's school systems, and reduce the burden on hospitals and overrun prisons. Even the language tower of Babel would be favorably affected.

- And you thought McDonald's french fries were nothing more than junk food. Well, think again. Scientists (you know, experts) at Yokohama National University discovered the chemical dimethylpolysiloxane, a silicone used in McDonald's fry oil to prevent splashing, produces hair follicles on mice. Wow. Baldness may be on the way out, thanks to Ronald McDonald.

Sutter Buttes Tea Party Patriots

Host, John Cox, Gubernatorial Candidate

Yuba City, Ca.

Tea Party will host, John Cox a businessman, not a politician. Monday, February 19, 2018 from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at Church of Glad Tidings, 1179 Eager Rd. Yuba City. He began his conservative activism more than 35 years ago on Jack Kemp's national steering committee. He currently serves as Chairman of the Give Voters a Voice, Repeal the Gas Tax Constitutional Amendment effort.

A successful businessman and CPA, John built his own business from scratch to now having assets of over $200 million with almost 100 employees. John also founded an organization that repairs the homes of low-income seniors and individuals with disabilities. Since 1991, that organization has mobilized 20,000 volunteers and repaired over 1,000 homes.

John Cox is the only candidate running for California Governor endorsed by the California Pro Life Council. He is both a fiscal and social conservative, John supports 2nd Amendment rights and strongly opposes boondoggles like the High Speed Rail “Train to Nowhere.”

Once the land of promise and opportunity, California today is on the brink of financial insolvency, thanks to the failed policies of the Liberal Democrats and the timidity of “me-too” Republicans.

We have the highest income tax rate in the nation, and rank dead last in friendliness to business.

We have the highest poverty rate in the country.

Our unfunded public pension liability is double that of any other state and we haven't even begun to fund our huge public retiree health care liability.

Our regressive taxes are hurting the middle class, with the highest state sales tax, and outrageously high traffic fines and utility rates,

AND if you felt under-taxed before, the California Legislature recently passed an incredible 52 Billion Dollar gas tax increase.

Everyone is welcome to join us as we continue to move forward with enthusiasm in recognition of our achieved success in the White House! As we continue to promote the principles of constitutionally limited government, fiscal responsibility and free markets – we will also acknowledge our progress in those areas and bring attention to the victories for liberty, truth, justice and faith in God, that do not make the headlines. There is no membership requirement and no cost to attend. Doors open at 6:00 pm. Come early to socialize with fellow patriots and get a good seat

YCWA Supports 2018 Water and Park Bonds

Brent Hasteley, YCWA Board Chairman

Yuba County Water Agency supports initiatives and efforts that help provide flood risk reduction, groundwater management, watershed protection and habitat restoration for the benefit of the people who live and work in our community.

This year, we are placing our support behind two proposed bond measures that will be on statewide ballots, known collectively as the 2018 Water and Park Bonds.

If approved by California voters, these initiatives would provide billions of dollars for statewide water management projects to enhance water supplies for societal and environmental uses, including projects valuable to Yuba County residents.

Senate Bill No. 5, the “California Drought, Water, Parks, Coastal Protection, and Outdoor Access for All Act of 2018”, is a $4 billion bond that would provide millions of dollars to implement voluntary agreements that benefit water quality, supply and watershed protection and restoration, for Central Valley flood protection and levee improvements, and for drought and groundwater investments to achieve regional sustainability.

The National Heritage Institute's proposed measure, the “State Water Supply Infrastructure, Water Conveyance, Ecosystem and Watershed Protection and Restoration, and Drinking Water Protection Act of 2018, is an $8.9 billion bond that would provide funding for flood management improvements to existing dams, including possibly New Bullards Bar Dam, and for salmon restoration or reintroduction projects in the Sacramento Valley.

Because of the increasingly extreme weather patterns we are experiencing, it is becoming more important for us to make significant investments in improving infrastructure to be better prepared for potential future droughts and floods.

In my capacity as YCWA Board Chairman and Association of California Water Agencies President, I encourage the people of Yuba County to review the 2018 Water and Park Bonds.

Actively investing in flood risk reduction projects in our community is the first step in rebuilding and reinvigorating our economy. We continue working toward that goal every day, but we can use all the help we can get.

Mark Twain Live! Jail Break Tour

Special Guest Appearances by Black Bart and Stephen J. Field

occasion, he delivered his "Our Fellow Savages of the Sandwich Islands" (Hawaii) lecture which included a discussion of the islands' geography, climate and customs and reports of cannibalism. Twain started the lecture with, "I have the pleasure of introducing to you Mr. Samuel Clemens, otherwise Mark Twain, a gentleman whose high character and unimpeachable veracity are only surpassed by his personal comeliness and native modesty."

Mark Twain will be brought to life by actor Chris LeGate who has been performing his one man Mark Twain presentation since 1994. He started out by entertaining brunch guests at the Holbrooke Hotel in Grass Valley which he did for eight years, racking up a total of over 400 appearances at that one location alone.

Chris took his show on the road and began performing throughout Northern California at county fairs, schools, and special events and at theaters in Nevada City, Sacramento and Eureka. He even claims to have appeared locally at the Burrows Theater, although we are unable to substantiate that claim at this time.

The performance will be in the "stand up comedy" style used by Twain and his contemporaries during the late 19th century. The topics will range from his early life in Hannibal, Missouri, his time as a riverboat pilot on the Mississippi, his brief stint as a Confederate soldier and his time out west, including Marysville, whether he was really here or not!

To make the event even more fun, there will be guest appearances by other local Gold Country historic figures of note - an historic "mash up," if you will - with Charles Boles, aka Black Bart (1816 - 1899), and Stephen J. Field (1829 - 1888), the first Supreme Court Justice from West of the Mississippi. They'll appear alongside Mark Twain (1835 - 1910) for some lively discussion in the second half of the show. Their lives overlapped for 30 some years and we'll explore any real or imagined interactions they may have had.

The performance will conclude with a question and answer session where the lecturer and special guests (Mike Moyers and Chuck Smith) are expected to answer with the truth, mainly.

Doors open at 3:30 and "the trouble begins at 4." At the Burrows Theater, 630 E Street in Marysville. Tickets are $15 general admission and $10 for seniors, military and students. Plenty of free parking is available on the adjacent streets and in the Umpqua Bank and Bank of America parking lots.
