

Karen Rosser Honored with Tad Lucas Award

Marysville, Ca.
Karin Allred Rosser, Miss Rodeo Utah from the Ogden, Utah, will be honored this week during the National Heritage Museum's annual Rodeo Hall of Fame Weekend in Oklahoma City for her western heritage work. The Tad Lucas Heritage Award is named for Tad Lucas, who was known as 'Rodeo's First Lady'.

Yuba-Sutter Chamber of Commerce commented, "We can be extremely proud to have Cotton and Karin Rosser as part of our community family and congratulate Karin on this well deserved honor. She is certainly 'Rodeo's First Lady' in our hearts.

Cotton Rosser and Karin, are the owners of Cotton's Cowboy Corral in Marysville, California, as well as, "one of the most successful stock contracting firms in professional rodeo," the Flying U Rodeo Company, which is the oldest rodeo company in the world and the major supplier of rodeo stock in the United States.

In 1995, Cotton Rosser was inducted into the Pro Rodeo Hall of Fame in Colorado Springs, Colorado. In 2007, the Flying U Rodeo Company published a book called Million Dollar Memories: Fifty Years with Cotton Rosser and the Flying U in commemoration of Rosser's career. And in 2009, he was inducted into the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum Rodeo Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

As a roper, he competed alongside the likes of Gene Autry and rode with Casey Tibbs and Jim Shoulders—Cotton received the Jim Shoulders Lifetime Achievement Award at the Heroes & Legends ceremony in Las Vegas.

Marysville Notes

by Lou Binninger

Marysville City Administrator Walter Munchheimer is leaving soon. It appeared all was well with the city as he received his raise after voters agreed to an 8.5% sales tax. Then, boom, he resigned. Maybe he'll return to Florida where there are no state income taxes. California's top rate is 13.3% and the Florida's sales tax is 6%, not Marysville's 8.5%.

There hasn't been talk of Marysville's infamous Bounce Back plan for months. Remember how indignant Bounce Back committee members became when the entire plan was challenged? Did the city spend $100,000, $200,000, or more? Did the consultant ever get the work done? No matter. There's more money where that came from.

Maybe the committee would like to return for a reunion.

Most people thought the city council, after going against voters to permit two marijuana dispensaries for medical uses, would expand sales for recreational use as well. As of January 1, recreational cannabis gets the green light in California.

However, council members McKenzie, Pedigo and Whitmore said no to recreational sales. Remember, cannabis users for medical purposes already had home delivery in Marysville without dispensaries. However, the city wanted the tax revenues from cannabis outlets.

After cannabis people greased Mayor Samayoa's palm with $10,000 along with some ordinance and zoning massages, these dispensaries may finally be Marysville legal. The odd thing is we knew who would win the dispensary lottery ahead of time. Is that how it's supposed to work?

A Colorado Springs Gazette editorial ("Five Years Later, Colorado Sees Toll of Pot Legalization") takes the euphoria out of the benefits of legalizing cannabis. The writer refers to the story of legalization as an "embarrassing cautionary tale."

"Visitors to Colorado remark about a new agricultural smell, the wafting odor of pot as they drive near warehouse grow operations along Denver freeways. Residential neighborhoods throughout Colorado Springs reek of marijuana, as producers fill rental homes with plants.

Five years of retail pot coincide with five years of a homelessness growth rate that ranks among the highest rates in the country. Directors of homeless shelters, and people who live on the streets, tell us homeless substance abusers migrate here for easy access to pot.

Five years of Big Marijuana ushered in a doubling in the number of drivers involved in fatal crashes who tested positive for marijuana, based on research by the pro-legalization Denver Post.

Senior Citizens and Yuba County

by Lou Binninger

The Yuba County Board of Supervisors did their best in the past to make senior citizens another entitlement group. Supervisors believed it was their job to provide them a center. That would be fine if Supervisors were investing their own money and not the taxpayers'.

Supervisors first gave seniors a free ride in the now demolished county offices on 14th Street in Marysville. That was a financial black hole and possibly an illegal arrangement. They had talked of actually building them a center.

The seniors then rented the facility on Olivehurst Avenue from Yuba County Office of Education (YCOE). After years there when the seniors heard the building was for sale they threw an 'entitlement fit.'

Since the building is now being sold by YCOE, the seniors group must determine their future. Some say they may rent a location in Marysville.

The taxpayers do not owe the seniors a place to meet or funding. However, politicians would like to take credit for giving taxpayers' money to seniors or solving their problems. It's all about ego and getting elected. "I saved the seniors center."

What we owe our seniors is respect, honor and kindness for their service to the community and the country. Individuals may be inspired to assist the seniors but it is not government's business to make them a charity case.

Seniors were 13.3 percent of the U.S. population in 2011 or 41.4 million people 65 and older. Once turning 65 people did not forfeit their intelligence or decades of experience and wisdom. In fact, as a

Homicide and Arson Arrest

Marysville, Ca. — Early morning November 17th, Yuba County Sheriff Detectives arrested 78 year old Ronald Allen Dainauskus of Marysville for Homicide and Arson following an investigation overnight into the death of a Marysville woman. The deceased victim was located in a burned RV at a mobile home park located in the 3700 block of Highway 20 northeast of Marysville just after 8pm Thursday night 11/16/17. The victim's identity is being withheld pending the notification of next-of-kin.

The Yuba County Dispatch Center received a 911 hang-up call from the mobile home park in the 3700 block of Hwy 20 outside of Marysville at approximately 8pm and while dispatching deputies to respond, CHP dispatch also received a 911 call from the same phone number advising of a deceased female located in a motorhome at that location. Upon deputies' arrival to the mobile home park, the RV was found on fire. Once the fire was extinguished, the body of a deceased female was located inside.

It was determined during preliminary examination of the burned motorhome and the body located within it, that the female was likely deceased or gravely injured prior to the fire. The investigation further revealed that the initial 911 calls were believed to have been made by Ronald Dainauskus who was no longer at the scene.

Shortly after the discovery of the fire and body, Deputies searching the area located suspect Dainauskus walking near Browns Valley. He was detained and later interviewed by detectives, then subsequently arrested for 187 PC/Homicide and 451PC/Arson and booked into the Yuba County Jail. During the investigation detectives learned that Dainauskus and the victim were neighbors in the small mobile home park where the suspect was a longtime resident. It is believed that the two were associated with one another and at this time we are not aware of any history of problems or hostility between the two. Yuba County Sheriff's Office has no prior arrest history with Dainauskus. Official cause of death for the victim is pending autopsy at this time.

Yuba County Bans Commercial Cannabis

by John Mistler

Marysville, Ca. — Yuba County has banned all Commercial Cannabis grows in the unincorporated areas of the county. The ban will become effective in 30 days.

Yuba County Board of Supervisors adopted the ordinance relating to commercial cannabis activities. Supervisors Vasquez, Fletcher and Bradford voted to adopt the ordinance. Supervisor Lofton was absent and Supervisor Leahy abstained. Supervisor Leahy said his concern was that it is not clear whether the ban will stop the transportation of cannabis from outside of the county. Since the City of Marysville has OK'd Medical Marijuana Dispensary's this could be an issue. Supervisor Bradford asked County Counsel to clarify the transportation issue. She replied that she would review the law and get back to him.

Yuba County residents, Buck Weckman and Karen Liggett thanked the board for adopting the ordinance but; Lee Boutt was very concerned that the board was taking away his right to Medical Marijuana. At the end of the discussion Community Development and Services Director Kevin Mallen said that the ordinance did not affect the Medical Marijuana rights under California Proposition 64.

It is likely that the board may make adjustments to the ordinance after the State of California comes out with regulations on January 1, 2018.

Suspects Arrested for Elder Abuse

of Former Marysville City Council Member and His Wife

Marysville, Ca. — In early November Marysville PD began an investigation into alleged elder abuse of a former Marysville City Council member and his wife. Thomas Hickman and his mother, Heather Deuel were being paid by the victims to provide in home house care. Through preliminary investigation it was revealed that Thomas Hickman and Heather Deuel were embezzling several thousands of dollars from the victims, and not providing proper care.

On Wednesday, November 15th at approximately 4:46 p.m., Marysville Police Officers went to the victim's residence on the 1100 block of Swezy Street in Marysville to conduct a welfare check. Thomas Hickman and Heather Deuel were both at the residence and were interviewed regarding this case. Based on the investigation, Thomas Hickman and Heather Deuel were arrested for elder abuse, embezzlement, criminal threats, and for being under the influence of a controlled substance.

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Books & More has a special display in their lobby of Red Books. During the 1980s a special grant was awarded to the schools in Marysville Joint Unified District to help students with their writing skills. Writer's Workshop was instituted in many local schools and one of the results was having hardback books (mostly red ones) published by students or groups of students. Although many of the students were able to buy their own books, others were donated to libraries. Just as one of the libraries was about to discard the books, our volunteer Tania, decided to make a project of it.

Each book will be on sale for $10.00 and half of the money will be given to local fire victims. The other half of the money will be divided between administration costs and the new program, Yuba Feather Next Step (more about that soon). What a gift it would be to a former student, now that he or she is an adult. Perhaps a book could be given to the child of those parents. Or you could come up with a better idea. Come check them out.

The Yuba Feather Community Services, Hillside Community Church, and other local churches are hosting a community dinner on Saturday, November 25, at 2 pm. The menu includes turkey, ham, mashed potatoes, gravy and all of the traditional holiday foods. We hope you can make the dinner and visit with neighbors and friends.

This dinner will open our holiday season.

Get out those galoshes, umbrellas and raincoats as it seems our rainy season is starting off with a bang. Sure hope it will continue all the way through spring.

Come by and check out the Lost Sierra Visitor Center at Books and More and pick up some local information.

Look Back in Time – In 1899 New York Flat School closed for the winter season. The roads were nearly impassable because of the deep mud (now we have 4-wheel drive).

Happy Thanksgiving to all!!

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

Sox Signing Period Begins

Marysville, Ca.

It's time to get pumped up! The Yuba-Sutter Gold Sox have begun their player signing period for the 2018 season! Alex Zalasky is coming to the team as a Sophomore from Concordia University, Irvine. "We've got a great start to our recruitment this year; Alex is a great player and we're excited to have him on the team," says VP/GM Michael Mink.

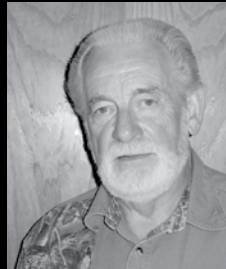

The 6'3, 200 pound, Elk Grove native comes as a left-handed pitcher. Last year, he had an average of 54.2 innings pitched with a 5.43 ERA. We're excited to have this efficient player join us next season.

At Concordia, Zalasky is currently majoring in Sports Management and in his free time, he likes to play basketball, play video games, and hang out with his friends. "I'm excited to play in front of all the great fans and hope to be the last team standing in the end," said Zalasky.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

This is the time of year to expect the sturgeon to show in local rivers when the rains come and the water rises and turns the familiar brown color. The sturgeon are currently being caught in the north delta area along with striped bass.

The water level of the Feather River has kept many anglers off, but the steelhead fishing should be picking up at this time. The Yuba City boat Ramp is currently closed due to the low water conditions. Best bet is to fish above the Outlet. Bait and lure preferences are Glo Bugs, night crawlers and roe.

The trout bite has improved at Collins Lake. Expect some big rainbows to be caught in the coming months in this reservoir.

The warm weather up at Lake Almanor has really slowed down the trout bite. Expect conditions to improve when the weather turns colder and the mirror like surface of the reservoir gets more ripples and slight movement.

Those anglers who carry a side arm while in the woods fishing are advised that the Sutter County Sheriff's office has announced changes in concealed weapons permits. The department now allows more than three weapons on the permit. However we recommend checking with them to make sure you qualify for any other firearms as we understand there are some restrictions in regard to caliber.

Up Camp Far West Reservoir way the lake has filled considerably which has slowed the bass bite. The docks will be left in this body of water for the rest of the year.

Englebright Reservoir has been relatively quiet with a few bass being caught. As usual night crawlers work best in this lake.

If you plan on going to Scotts Flat Reservoir we recommend fishing either along the Cascade shore or near the inlet for bass. Smallmouth bass are hitting inflated night crawlers. The fish range up to two pounds.

Boots fishing tip of the week: "Don't forget to winterize your boat this year.....and add some stabilizer to the fuel."

Marysville Notes

Five years of commercial pot have been five years of more marijuana in schools than teachers and administrators ever feared.

‘An investigation by Education News Colorado, Solutions and the I-News Network shows drug violations reported by Colorado's K-12 schools have increased 45 percent in the past four years, even as the combined number of all other violations has fallen,’ explains an expose on escalating pot use in schools by Rocky Mountain PBS in late 2016.

The investigation found an increase in high school drug violations of 71 percent since legalization. School suspensions for drugs increased 45 percent.

The National Survey on Drug Use and Health found Colorado ranks first in the country for marijuana use among teens, scoring well above the national average.

Commercial pot's five-year anniversary is an odious occasion for those who want safer streets, healthier kids and less suffering associated with substance abuse. Experts say the worst effects of widespread pot use will culminate over decades. If so, we can only imagine the somber nature of Big Marijuana's 25th birthday.”

Maybe McKenzie, Pedigo and Whitmore are sensing troubled times mixed with the cash cow of cannabis outlets. The Colorado Springs Gazette sure is.

Is City Hall getting easier to deal with. A local paint contractor said his client had to submit the proposed exterior paint color for approval by the City. Sometimes, these life and death decisions need to go before a special committee. But no, the city official quickly signed-off at the counter. Is it a honeymoon at City Hall or is this a new approach to encouraging business?

Does going to government to pick a paint color for your business sound Communist to you? There is something bad wrong when you invest your life, money and sleepless nights into an enterprise only to have the government say what it should look like, operate like, who can work there, what the wages are and what you can and cannot sell. Then they want to approve the sign for the building. And they call this ‘free enterprise?’ Who are these people?

There is a sense of hope and anticipation with many key employees at City Hall leaving. Let's see if the change is lasting.

CRITIC'S CORNER
by Matt Woolery
Thor: Ragnarok
Starring: Chris Hemsworth, Tom Hiddleston, and Cate Blanchett. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 130 minutes.

An Asgardian finds out that his father has been sent into retirement and his adopted brother has been masquerading in his place. The two set out to return their father to the throne, but manage to find him just before he sets out for Valhalla. They then learn they have a sister that is bent on death and destruction as a way of turning Asgard into the seat of tyranny that it once was.

The story reaches far across the universe and collects lost friends and makes new ones. The feeling of optimism in the powerful overshadows the horror of the destruction that befalls the not so powerful. A good example of evil using power to destroy because it can, and good using power to protect because it must. The actors performed wonderfully. The cinematography was excellently done with lots of colors and special effects.

Thor: Ragnarok, earns five out of five, Bifrost Falling Monkeys. This is a fun film that adds to the Marvel Cinematic Universe and paves the way for the Next Avengers. If I had the time I would go and see this movie again and again. I can't wait for its release to Blu-Ray.

My Holiday Wish

by Carol J. Donaldson

Holidays are filled with family and friends; warmth; love; delicious aromas of dinner; good conversations and laughter. Look into your heart, can you feel the spirit of the holidays approaching?

Now imagine if you will, being in a cold lonely cage; no sofa to lay on; no warm house; not even one delicious scrap fed under the table; you are abandoned by the ones you love and do not know why. This is what hundreds of animals go through on a daily basis as they sit in a kennel awaiting their fate - adoption or euthanasia.

Why is this still happening today? Hundreds of people have written about the plight of the abandon animal and the responsibility of pet ownership. Yet hundreds of animals die each year through callous disregard.

It has been proven that when one is loved, one thrives and when one is not, then one fails. Animals through the years have proven themselves a huge benefit to mankind and what do we prove to them?

A puppy, kitten or foal when they come into this life are like children; full of joy; innocence; they greet the world with enthusiasm. If they are lucky they go to loving homes. The unfortunate meet with beatings, tortured, starvation, no bed, no love or caring. They are either locked in a cage or tossed in the yard and forgotten about.

Think very carefully before adopting or purchasing any animal. Like a husband or wife, they are a lifetime commitment. They require 24 hour care in sickness and health; cleaning up after babies and taking care of them as they become seniors. It is your responsibility to provide a safe, secure environment for them and mental stimulation done through training and play. Do not take on an animal unless you are willing to take them for a lifetime.

It may surprise many of you, who purchase a pet only to give it away, because you're moving; you're pregnant, a job; the animal is unruly or it no longer matches your outfit. You knew what your lifestyle was before you bought that animal. News flash - animals are capable of adapting - to moving across country, they learn to love babies and children, they adapt to situations and they are smart enough to be trained. They are not inanimate objects with no feelings. They are not accessories nor are they toys. You should not be adopting any animal - they don't fit your life.

The animal shelters in Yuba, Sutter, Colusa, Nevada, Placer and Sacramento are currently over run with animals. Most of these surrendered, abandoned and lost animals are in the shelters through no fault of their own. Shelters can only place so many and the staff make a darn good effort to do that, they don't like putting animals down but that is the only option left if no one adopts.

Open your heart for a lifetime of love and go to your local shelter and adopt. They have purebreds and mutts - all ages and all colors. If you don't see the one you want today, check tomorrow it will come through their doors. Make the dogs and cats holiday wishes come true - a loving home. Check with the shelters to see what is on their wish lists (blankets, towels, toys, etc) as the staff is trying to make the animals lives as normal as possible.

My holiday wish is that every animal has a loving respectful lifetime home and that shelters and rescue become obsolete.

DJIA Loves Trump

With the Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA) racing to new highs almost daily, one has to ask, what is driving this market?

Certainly there are enough Donald Trump haters to cast a dim light on anything financial, where even many are doubting the civilized world itself will survive if Trump continues as President. But one cannot deny that the DJIA has loved this President, as evident by the rally that has been in place since he was elected.

With the DJIA making news headlines with every milestone it passes, the news might entice some investors to review their statements and then call their advisors to see why they haven't doubled their money in light of this almost relentless rally.

Although the DJIA is the most talked about index in the media, it encompasses only 30 stocks of the thousands that are out there in the various marketplaces.

The question some may ask: is the Dow a realistic representation of the market in general and the economy.

On the latter, I have always said the market will reflect reality eventually but its day to day movements are only the sum of the perceptions of all the players in it at any given time. For example, late in the housing boom cycle after Bear Sterns collapsed two funds tied to mortgage products (the proverbial first domino to fall in the real estate blow up), the reality was the housing crisis was already in its early stages of implosion. That was the reality. The perception however was that real estate never falls in value and any set back would be temporary. Housing stocks therefore continued to climb as the housing market was beginning its historic collapse. The perception that all was ok drove these stocks ever higher even though in reality the real estate market had already turned. The market did however eventually reflect that reality when all the indexes worldwide eventually cratered miserably.

That being said, the perception at least up until now, is the economy is strong and the stock market is justified in roaring upwards.

Certain things however might not add up and be confirming of the apparent strength of in the market meaning not all assets are firing on all cylinders.

If the economy is galloping forward in strength, one might expect the commodities and energy sectors to be in high demand and therefore screaming upwards as well.

Such in not the case, at least in the proportions the Dow has climbed. Indeed some energy and commodities have languished badly and or gone nowhere. (Yahoo.com). Since booming economies need energy and commodities, why have we not seen these asset classes go up in concert?

Additionally the Dow index is very limited in what it has in it. Remember it only has 30 stocks out of thousands and only seven stocks make up almost half of the index weighting (42%- Forbes.com) Some have even specu-lated the people who decide on what stocks go in the Dow rotate the losers out and replace them with winners in order to make it look better. This idea was put forth by QZ.com in an article by J.L Zargosky

Matthew Yglesias of Slate.com goes so far as to call the DJIA a “nonsensical index” due to how it is purposely constructed to favor more positive results.

Indeed just the fact that the DJIA contains only 30 stocks might be enough to convince the investing public to better observe how the market in general is performing by looking at a variety of indicators and markets. Indeed many of those indicators are positive.

But because most investors hold a variety of assets in their portfolio which include assets that might move in opposite of a rising market, and because there are stocks in many areas that have actually gone nowhere or even fallen in the midst of this rally, its likely few portfolios have seen proportional increases their value that the DJIA has. Additionally because fixed income investments (bonds and preferred stocks to name a few) may have moved opposite of the rally, some portfolios may actually have lost value.

Keep in mind this is not a solicitation to buy or sell any securities. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Past historical movements in any security does not guarantee future performance.

Yuba County Senior's Building Fund

Due to the building being sold that has housed the Yuba County Seniors for the last nine years, the senior organization is seeking a permanent home for the group.

The seniors have $25,000 in their building fund that is being matched by an anonymous donor to total $50,000.

There is a GoFundMe.com page under “Home for Yuba County Senior Center” for money donations.

resource, they are the best kept secret in town. They have time and most have sufficient money to allow them to serve others. Jesus said that was the best way to live.

They have worked, parented, governed, coached, built, taught, cooked and gone to war. And there is no reason someone should be inclined to assume their affairs unless they become unable to care for themselves and lack any family to come alongside.

You can find them everywhere serving --- A Hand-Up, Hands of Hope, Trauma Intervention Program, law enforcement agencies, hospice, the hospital, and churches. They improve our quality of life.

Seniors in America have an impact worldwide. In 2005, two seniors in their 70's, Eva Galambo and Oliver Porter, created the first new Georgia city in 50 years, called Sandy Hills. The city of 100,000 has a surplus, no pension problems, has a state of the art infrastructure and outsources all city tasks except police, fire and the courts. These two city builders are not outliers either.

Nelson Mandela was elected President of South Africa at 75. Colonel Sanders started KFC at 65. Noah Webster completed his American English Dictionary at 66. Peter Roget created the Thesaurus at 73. John Glenn returned to space at 77. Gladys Burrill ran a marathon at 92. Benjamin Franklin signed the Declaration of Independence at 70 and the US Constitution at 81.

The notion that seniors need to pack-it-in or become dependent on hand-outs is insulting to most of them and simply another indicator of socialist ideology permeating our government's thinking.

Only a small percentage of all Yuba County seniors even attend the center. That's like any group. Other seniors are involved in service clubs, churches, veterans groups and other nonprofits. Some are traveling and others still want to work. Most have other interests than this particular center. That does not mean the center is not serving a purpose. It just means that this group of seniors enjoys getting together.

That being the case, they should carry-on if they wish, manage their funds, do some outreach and strengthen the organization. Like any other nonprofit or business, the center will thrive, muddle along or cease to exist. All three are fine. Sometimes an idea or project has run its course and needs to be knocked in the head and given a decent burial.

In the private sector it happens every day. That's how the nation grows and improves. Government is the one that keeps programs and departments on financial life support long past their usefulness. It can afford to with your money. It's one of the many reasons the Founding Fathers had a disdain for the institution.

Re: Cascade Fire

Dear Friend's, Neighbor's and Family!

First and Foremost We made it out with our clothes on our back, our two dogs and our ferrule cat. We had 10 minutes to leave our property to escape the 85 mph wind's and the raging fire with very large amber's.

I want to Thank all the Fire Fighter's, the P.G.E. crew's, and the first responders. They did the best with what they had to work with! The question I have, Why did the Loma Rica Fire department leave only 4 or 5 engine truck's in Loma Rica and approximately 25 or 26 fire fighters to fight the fire.. Most were sent to other fires such as Grass Valley.

We are going to rebuild in Loma Rica and our house will be better than our old house. It's going to be beautiful. It's a blessing what is happening with our house plan's. The only thing we can't replace are all our pictures, antiques, wooden carvings, my Mother in law's player piano with rolls and cathedral organ. I lost all my V.F.W. hats, Purple Heart award's, plus the American Legion .DAV and my Cooties hat's.

The people I would like to Thank are Commander Danarae Doub-Reed, American Legion, Dale Whitmore, American Legion Finance officer. He offered his house to us to live in while we are getting our 5th wheel RV ready.. Ray Bull from the V.F.W., all my V.A. and AA friend's and our Pastor Dan Delle.

We have so many people to thank I don't have enough space to name them all. The Red Cross and F.E.M.A many more have reached out to us. Thank You so much!!!

Veteran's Day

Veterans Day gives Americans the opportunity to celebrate the bravery and sacrifice of all U.S. veterans. It was formerly known as Armistice Day, and was originally set as a U.S. legal holiday to honor the end of World War I, which officially took place on November 11, 1918. In legislation that was passed in 1938, November 11 was "dedicated to the cause of world peace and to be hereafter celebrated and known as 'Armistice Day.'" As such, this new legal holiday honored World War I veterans.

In 1954, after having been through both World War II and the Korean War, the 83rd U.S. Congress -- at the urging of the veterans service organizations -- amended the Act of 1938 by striking out the word "Armistice" and inserting the word "Veterans." With the approval of this legislation on June 1, 1954, Nov. 11 became a day to honor American veterans of all wars.

In 1968, the Uniforms Holiday Bill ensured three-day weekends for federal employees by celebrating four national holidays on Mondays: Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Veterans Day, and Columbus Day. Under this bill, Veterans Day was moved to the last Monday of October. Many states did not agree with this decision and continued to celebrate the holiday on its original date. The first Veterans Day under the new law was observed with much confusion on Oct. 25,

Finally on September 20, 1975, President Gerald R. Ford signed a law which returned the annual observance of Veterans Day to its original date of Nov. 11, beginning in 1978. Since then, the Veterans Day holiday has been observed on Nov. 11.

Please take time to remember those gave their all, because a veteran is someone who, at one point in his or her life, wrote a blank check made payable 'To My Country' for an amount "up to and including their life." Our liberty today is because of somebody else's courage.....Veteran's Day reminds us of that.

law outlawing sexual harassment in the workplace. How about it, Garamendi? What say you?

- The Red Cross says there must be collusion between its employees and Sierra Leone bank related to the disappearance of millions in aid money supposedly destined for the Ebola crisis. Hopefully this will be fully investigated.

- Recall, the “no judgment” mantra of the left which has gone on for decades? Hollywood and Sacramento took it to heart. No judgment leads invariably to no morality.

- “Nation of Islam” leader Louis Farrakhan recently tweeted that it is time for “Black people” to start their own nation, perhaps a state where no one other than Blacks could reside. He went on to say that “it is time for us to separate and build a nation of our own.” Perhaps he forgets that the US has done that before; it is call Liberia and he is free to relocate there. Or does he want a “reservation” like the Native Americans have?

- The lefties are continually claiming the Republicans dance to the tune of the NRA. Not so. The Republicans honor the Constitution, especially the 2nd Amendment. The left, on the other hand, dances to the tune of those who would disarm citizens so the government can call all the shots without fear of dissent.

- The Earth has temperature cycles each lasting 1,000-to-1,500 years according to actual climate scientists. When there are warm periods food production increases. When the cold returns, food is scare. History shows Romans conquering much of the known world during the Roman Warm Period. Immediately thereafter the Dark Ages Cold Period kicked in, causing great survival distress. Following that terrible time the Medieval Warm Period began. Europe thrived and the Norse discovered Greenland. The Little Ice Age came next and the settlement in Greenland failed and New York harbor froze solid. Real climate scientists remind us today we are in the Modern Warm Period. Just as in the past, it won't continue: another cold period will follow.

- All of these changes are completely natural and have little or nothing to do with what humans do or don't do. What, then, is to blame? Basically the sun. It is doubtful we'll have control of the Sun any time soon.

- UC Berkeley's Professor Mark Cohen and Student Body President Zaynab Abdulqadir-Morris declared their outrage over the University's decision to allow Milo Yiannopoulos, Ben Shapiro, and Ann Coulter to speak on campus. Cohen urged his followers to “confront the appeasement of the ‘alt-right neo nazis’ by the @UCBerkeley admin.” Abdulqadir-Morris, meanwhile, declared that the public university has no obligation to the U.S. Constitution, but must honor its own “code of conduct which denounces hate speech.” A public university professor says we shouldn't follow the Constitution? Cut off public funding.

- Do you know what the term “prevailing wages” means in public contracts? It means union wages that are set in collusion with management. Union-only contracts add 15-20% to the cost of a project. This collusion is a payoff to unions by elected officials who take campaign money from the unions. The public loses tax dollars while the unions and Democrats gain power.

- We've seen a lot of teachers parading around recently with picket signs demanding higher wages and smaller class size. How these demands help California students is unclear. For decades salaries have increased and class sizes decreased but student achievement continues to decline.

- Have you noticed the “plastic bag” lunacy? Didn't the State require such environmentally-horrible items banned? Check your grocery stores. They are now selling bigger plastic bags and still using plastic to bag your produce.

- Senegal is a small African country. In 2015 it achieved a 6.4% growth rate. Remember, this is a year in Obama's presidency when the US could barely grow 1%. The same year the Ivory coast GNP went up 9%. Recent monthly growth rates under Trump have been close to, or over, 3% a quarter. Maybe we're improving, although you'd never know it to read the mainstream media.

- The mainstream media and leftists groups can't get over the positive change over the past year with Trump at the helm. For example the magazine Gentlemen's Quarterly awards Colin Kaepernick a Citizen of the Year award for his “activism”. And Glamour Magazine trots out California Congresswoman Maxine Waters as a Woman of the Year. Are they at the bottom of the barrel yet?

- Here we go again. New guidelines for blood pressure results is resulting in half of Americans now being listed as having high blood pressure. It is sort of like poverty – raise the amount of annual income and the government magically creates more poverty. Regard these new “studies” with healthy skepticism.

Jeff Pierce Will Run for Sutter County Sheriff

Yuba City, Ca. – Sutter County Undersheriff Jeff Pierce announced that he will run for Sutter County Sheriff to replace retiring Sheriff J. Paul Parker.

“Out of respect, I wanted to wait for Sheriff Parker to announce his decision before making any announcement of my own,” said Undersheriff Jeff Pierce. “Today, I'm proud to announce that I am running to serve the public as Sheriff, and I am honored that current Sheriff Parker has endorsed me for Sheriff.”

“I know all the candidates,” said Parker, “and they are good people. But there is only one candidate who has all the skills and qualifications necessary to keep the department on track and hit the ground running to keep our community safe. And that is current Undersheriff Jeff Pierce.”

“Jeff Pierce has earned my unequivocal and enthusiastic support for Sheriff.

In Fact, on January 13, I'm going to strap on an apron and cook spaghetti for his campaign kick-off,” Parker stated.

Jeff Pierce is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, and has a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice. He has served as Undersheriff - second in command - since 2010, where he led efforts to modernize the Sheriff's Department and to improve technology, crack down on drug gangs, and improve emergency response. He has served Sutter County for 36 years as Sergeant, detective, Captain, and SWAT commander; and has been named “Officer of the Year” twice - 1997 & 2004.

“The Sheriff's Department is facing new challenges we could not imagine even six years ago,” said Pierce. “The state is pushing career felons out of prisons, reducing penalties for criminals, opening the doors to increased drug use, and trying to block us from working with Federal agents to get rid of criminals and gangs from other countries.”

“I have spent 40 years keeping the public safe - won't let them make our community less safe,” said Pierce. “Being an effective Sheriff - running an organization with a $21 million budget and over 146 personnel, takes more than just giving speeches or wearing a badge and gun - it takes experience and knowledge. I know this Department inside and out - and I know and what we need to do to meet these new challenges,” said Pierce.

Property Rights Groups Calls It Quits

Over 15 years ago, and soon before the U.S. Supreme Court's infamous Kelo v. New London decision, the California Alliance to Protect Private Property Rights was formed to protect a Yolo County ranch from being forcibly seized by eminent domain – and we prevailed.

We are proud of our accomplishments and we believe Californians have benefited from our services. California was once considered to be among the biggest abusers of private property rights in the country. It was a well-deserving reputation.

Our organization provided citizens the tools to fight back and we publicly shamed politicians by bringing eminent domain abuse to the attention of the press, often when so-called community leaders demonstrated either indifference or the unwillingness to challenge authority.

The Alliance was also a sponsor of Proposition 98, a statewide ballot measure that intended to stop eminent domain abuse and we were vocal supporters of the State Legislature's decision to abolish local redevelopment agencies (RDA), relatively unknown local public agencies that used eminent domain and over $5 billion dollars in taxpayer money for dubious development projects, many of which failed.

After the State Legislature and Governor abolished RDAs, the number of eminent domain abuse cases declined significantly and today, this power is largely limited to public projects. The public's disdain for this police power has never been greater. It has become so closely associated with public corruption, corporate welfare and wasteful spending that few politicians will utter the words.

As a consequence, the Alliance is shuttering its doors, figuratively speaking. As we had fewer and fewer battles to wage, it became evident that we achieved what we sought to do – expose a corruptive power so that private property could once again be safe.

Will eminent domain abuse return? Absolutely! The redevelopment lobby may have experienced a setback, but they are still thriving and their campaign dollars will certainly persuade future legislators to return California to its darkest days.

While the Alliance's time has come and gone, we are pleased that the Pacific Legal Foundation will continue the fight. To all our friends and supporters, we enjoyed being part of this noble cause. Thank you for sharing our journey.

Research solidifies health benefits of nuts

Eating nuts on a regular basis reduces risk of heart disease, according to a study published this week by the American College of Cardiology. The study found that people who ate five or more servings of nuts a week had a 14 percent lower risk of cardiovascular disease and a 20 percent lower risk of coronary heart disease, compared to people who didn't eat nuts. The research tracked consumption of walnuts, tree nuts and peanuts.

UC Riverside reports progress on ethanol

A process that closes the gap between different types of ethanol production has been developed at the University of California, Riverside. Engineers say they've found a way to make ethanol more economically from non-food plants such as grasses, rice straw and wood chips. The UCR team found a fermentation process that releases sugars from such biomass products more readily, and ferments the sugars into ethanol.

Study charts history of prepackaged salad

It took almost 200 years to create the variety of prepackaged salads on the market today, according to University of California researchers. They traced the history of prepackaged salad to a French professor's discovery in 1820 about how to maintain fruit freshness. Since prepackaged salads were introduced in the late 1980s, they have grown to dominate the market. Americans now buy twice as many prepackaged salads as whole heads of lettuce.

California leads nation in food processing

Tomato canneries, milk and ice cream plants, wineries and other facilities are all considered food-processing plants - and California has more of them than any other state. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says California has more than 5,500 food-processing plants. The report cites the state's favorable climate for growing a variety of crops, its ports and its large metropolitan areas for attracting food-processing facilities.
