Cascade Fire (Wind Complex) Yuba County

Fire Perimeter

by John Mistler

The Cascade Fire affected Loma Rica, Browns Valley and Rackerby in Yuba County and Bangor to the Butte County line. The fire began north of Collins Lake at approx. 11:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 8th with unprecedented winds, 50 -70 miles per hr. forcing the fire south through Loma Rica and eventually north to the Butte County line. At the Butte County line the Cascade Fire joined the smaller La Porte Fire. As of October 16th the Cascade Fire has burned 9,989 acres and is 94% contained. Approximately 200 structures have been destroyed and four deaths have been confirmed. All missing persons have been accounted for.

Browns Valley was evacuated along with Loma Rica and Bangor however; Browns Valley received little damage as the winds subsided.

A meeting was held Friday the 13th of October at the Browns Valley Elementary School. More than 100 people packed the school room and were told that the evacuation order had been lifted. The two hour meeting was a first chance for the people that had lost their homes to hear how the recovery will be handled. The county officials talked about the process to begin clean-up and that the permit fees would be waived. For the most part the people were positive, appreciative and understanding of the effort to save their homes and property. The largest complaint all week long was the lack of information provided by officials; County and Calfire. They responded with apologies and acknowledgement they needed to do better.

The only part of the fire that jumped over Marysville Road to the east was 600 acres burned below Collins Lake.

Sheriff Durfur is quoted as saying that the Wind Complex Fires are "unprecedented in scale" and the worst incident in his career.

Govt. in Spite of the People

Sutter County citizens against spending $2 million on a homeless village along Garden Highway came to speak at the October 10th Supervisors' meeting. Supervisors feigned surprise that there would be a protest from Little League parents, Airport operators, Posse Arena and Twin Cities Rod and Gun shooting range advocates. Supervisors contended the issue wasn't even on the agenda.

The concern was Item #9, the second reading of a new and improved camping ordinance outlawing squatting on county property. Supervisors argued that Item #9 had nothing to do with a homeless development on Garden Highway. However, a Little League representative noted that the new ordinance exempted the property in question essentially allowing a homeless camp in the city.

Though supervisors acted astonished at the dust-up, there are detailed plot plans, purchase lists and cost estimates for cots, tents, hygiene items, food, security patrols, an agreement with nonprofit providers, and plans for a 6,000 sq. ft. building, and more. Were supervisors ignorant, deceived by County Administrator (CAO) Mitnick, or devious?

The meeting started in bizarre fashion. Board Chairman Jim Whiteaker moved #9 from a stand-alone agenda item to the Consent Agenda where there is no discussion and a number of issues are voted upon at once. However, scores of people were there to speak about #9.

Whiteaker then asked county counsel if the supervisor made a mistake. Counsel responded that Item 9 should now be considered in a separate meeting. Whiteaker ignored counsel by saying he was taking responsibility. The supervisors then passed the Consent Agenda allowing the use of Garden Hwy property for a homeless camp.

In spite of the ordinance being passed without discussion and public input, Whiteaker allowed homeless village speakers to have their say. This was governing in spite of the people. The su-

Crazy and Dangerous State Ways

by Lou Binninger

Liberal policies coddling the homeless are reintroducing troubles from the Dark Ages, illnesses spawned from human filth. As Governor Brown declared a State of Emergency due to an outbreak of Hepatitis A in San Diego, Los Angeles and Santa Cruz, San Francisco civil engineer / web designer Jennifer Wong created an interactive map called Human Wasteland.

The computer map notes human excrement incidents in San Francisco reported by the public to SF311. SF311 is essentially a "Crap App" to request a Public Works "Crap Buster" crew. Have liberals outlawed the plastic bags that could be used by homeless to catch and release their own stools in convenient receptacles?

The highest concentration of crap is at a downtown alley next to the financial district, right in a high-traffic area frequented by tourists. Why? That's where the hand-outs are? If you wonder where that Third World scent is coming from, that is the fragrance of rewilding modern America.

Marysville and Yuba City should look into launching a "Crap App" since they are both Sanctuary Cities for the homeless.

As the rural North State burned did the payers of the fire tax wonder where the benefits are? Approximately 800,000 rural property owners living in State Responsibility Areas (SRAs), have been paying a fee of $152.33 per habitable structure or a reduced fee of $117.33 if living in an area that overlaps with another fire service area.

The tax was illegally passed by the legislature and became effective July 1, 2014. Remember, Governor Brown said rural dwellers were not paying their fair share.

The fee was said to pay for a variety of fire prevention services like fuel reduction activities that lessen risk of wildfire to communities and evacuation routes. Other tasks include defensible space inspections, fire prevention engineering, emergency evacuation planning, fire prevention education, fire hazard severity mapping, implementation of the State and local Fire Plans and fire-related law enforcement activities such as arson investigation.

However, no firefighting assets were funded by the more than $300 million collected as of June 2015. And, while the Butte and Valley fires raged that year $43 million remained unused in the fund. A state agency was also paid $22 million just to collect the tax.

Correa Ruled Ineligible for 2018

Marysville, Ca. The Marysville Gold Sox have just been informed that Field Manager, Dallas Correa, will not be able to coach in 2018 due to NCAA coaching eligibility guidelines.

Sox. Sometimes in sports you're only measured by wins and losses, and even though we came up short in 2017, Dallas and our players were winners in my book and were a credit to this organization. He will be missed by many as his personality and work ethic were infectious to everyone around him. May he be blessed in his career of baseball and he will always be part of the Gold Sox family, including my personal family," says VP/GM Michael Mink.

According to the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), a paid coach cannot be affiliated with another baseball club outside of one hundred miles of the current university he/she is employed at (see Bylaw 13.11.2.4 and Bylaw 17.2.10.1.2.1 below).

Food and Farm News

Wildfires damage farms, ranches

Because wildfires continue to burn in Northern California and communication in rural areas remains spotty, it will take some time for farmers and officials to assess the full extent of agricultural damage. In Mendocino County, for example, the county Farm Bureau says some vineyards have burned, some have been singed and some are undamaged. Winegrape harvest had nearly ended in part of the fire-damaged area, but was continuing in other parts of the region.

Farm groups focus on trade talks

With negotiations on reworking the North American Free Trade Agreement due to resume in Washington Wednesday, the American Farm Bureau joined in a grassroots campaign to underscore the importance of trade for the rural economy. Farm Bureau announced it is joining a coalition called Farmers for Free Trade, which aims to mobilize rural residents in favor of trade agreements. Farm Bureau says 20 percent of U.S. farm income stems from agricultural exports.

Trends point to lower turkey prices

Early indications point to the potential for lower turkey prices for analysts say farmers across the nation have been building turkey flocks, and that wholesale prices for whole birds have been well below average for most of the year. California ranks eighth in the nation in turkey production. Most California-grown whole turkeys will be sold fresh, rather than frozen.

Sweet potato harvest hits full stride

If you've ordered sweet potato fries recently, farmers in California's main sweet potato-growing region say you've contributed to an uptick in demand. Harvest is well underway in Merced County, which accounts for about 90 percent of the state's sweet potato production. Farmers there say they hope their crop will ultimately come close to matching last year's in volume. North Carolina leads the nation in sweet potato production, with California ranking second.

he was netted. The big boy was measured and released. Also on board the boat was my son Ted Johnson also from Yuba City, My Grandson TJ Johnson, the groom, who resides in Nashville Tennessee and Dr. Peitersen, the father of the bride who resides in Dallas, Texas.

All the boats scored big with ours catching the most fish. Other fish boated were catfish, stingrays, reds and hammerhead sharks. Many of the fish caught from all boats were released.

My Grandson, TJ, caught the biggest drum which measured 42 inches.

The bachelor party on the Gulf of Mexico was so great and the wedding on Sunday evening, two days after our fishing trip was like a picture in a book, including their leaving later in the night in a white carriage drawn by a beautiful white horse. As they pulled away they were showered with rose pedals. I was both proud and humbled to have the honor of presiding at the wedding with special words and prayers.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife finally did a number for Northern California. They planted fish heavily in Plumas County before the wildfires, which included the following areas: Middle Fork of the Feather River at Graeagle, Middle Fork of the Feather River at Portola, North Fork of the Feather River at Almanor, North Fork of the Feather River at Beldon, East Branch of the Feather River, Jamison Creek and Little Grass Valley Reservoir above LaPorte.

Anglers are reminded of the closure of the Outlet Hole on the Feather River on October 15th.

Closing thought: "Take the risk or lose the chance."

Big Black Drum

We returned from a trip to Galveston, Texas last week after attending my Grandson's wedding. The bachelor party was held on the Gulf of Mexico. We had three fishing boats with four persons per boat. It was a wonderful day of heckling, fishing and comparing fish results as the day progressed. In addition, the fish were cooperating and the boat I was on returned with hundred pounds of fish. I caught sea trout, black drums, red drums and others plus a beautiful blue colored eel which shined in the sunlight and had teeth that looked like Piranha's. My biggest fish of the day was a huge black drum which I caught on spinning tackle. The fish was just under three and a half feet long and would have tipped the scale close to 32 pounds. The fish, which charged the boat several times and made numerous runs, tired this old man out by the time

Classical Guitar with Devin Kosloff

Marysville, Ca. Yuba Sutter Arts is pleased to welcome Yuba College Music Department Alumnus, Devin Kosloff, to the Burrows Theater stage. Mr. Kosloff is a Portland, Oregon based guitarist who has agreed to perform in Yuba-Sutter as part of his fall northern California tour.

The concert will be held on Sunday, October 22 at 2pm at the Burrows Theater, 624 E Street in Marysville. General admission is $12 and admission for seniors, students and military is $8.

"We say classical guitar like you've never heard it before because of Devin's wide range of influences and his incorporation of contemporary music into his programs," said David Read, YSA Executive Director.

Mr. Kosloff received his Master's degree in performance under composer and performer Bryan Johanson and Jesse McCann, two members of the internationally recognized Oregon Guitar Quartet. With a background in jazz, rock, and video games, Mr. Kosloff seeks to broaden the appeal of classical guitar by focusing on under-recognized and contemporary composers who bring elements of each of those styles to their music. This playful repertoire lends to his goal of creating an intimate, but light-hearted experience for the audience that will encourage further listening to this wonderful instrument.

The program will include a few standards of the classical guitar repertoire like Castelnuovo-Tedesco's "Tarantella" and the Giuliani "Preludes." In addition, Mr. Kosloff will play works by less well-known and somewhat eclectic composers like Roland Dyens, Nikita Koshkin and Jiri Jirmal. The concert finale will be the lyrical "A Dog from Every Town" by Bryan Johanson.

Come support live music in the community and enjoy these very gifted musicians. Plenty of free parking is available on the streets adjacent to the theatre and at the Umpqua Bank and Bank of America parking lots directly across the street.

Govt. in Spite of the People

pervisors already made up their minds without debate. Then they grandstanded about how transparent and easily accessible they were.

In fact, Supervisor Flores promised Peach Bowl Little League new ball fields, just somewhere else. A new shooting range had already been proposed to the Rod and Gun Club, but somewhere else. In other words, everyone along the corridor is being hustled with promises and spending someone else's money. However, rather than building new facilities first, people are being asked to trust their fate to the Supervisors.

No such guarantee is given to the airport people though. If CAO Scott Mitnick has his way the airport will be closed. Mitnick is not a fan of the Sutter County Airport. He considers it underused and not the best utilization of the property. The county owes the Airport Fund hundreds of thousands of dollars because Federal Aviation Administration rules requires paying fair market rent to the airport for using portions of it for unrelated activities.

So, is creating a camp where hundreds of homeless people will live across the fence line from the airport the first step to closing the facility? Thieves are already stealing from the gun club, baseball operation and airport hangars.

Drugged and drunken homeless pose a threat to airport safety and children at the ball parks. Will sex registrants be allowed in the camp in violation of the law? Speakers addressed the supervisors about these issues but the ordinance was already in the books.

Supervisors played the crowd encouraging them to return on October 24 when the camp itself will be on the agenda. However, the issue may already be decided and then reassigned to the Consent Agenda for a vote.

Last Friday, Gov. Jerry Brown declared a State of Emergency because an outbreak of deadly hepatitis A has killed at least 18 people in the state, and forced almost 500 to be hospitalized. How did that happen?

The epidemic has been linked to homeless communities in San Diego, Los Angeles and Santa Cruz.

So far, 581 people in California have been afflicted with the liver virus, more than half of whom have ended up in the hospital. The virus is very dangerous, and can be fatal for those who already have other liver diseases, like hepatitis B or C.

Federal health officials said last week that even with the ongoing efforts to slow the spread of the disease, California's outbreak could last for years.

Should a handful of local politicians and bureaucrats spend millions of tax dollars while putting the community at risk? The voters say no but no one is listening.

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

at the Gold Eagle Market parking lot on Willow Glen Rd., from 5 pm to 8 pm, where there will be a bounce house, haunted house, food, candy, games and a costume contest. Across the street from the Gold Eagle Market, Books and Spooks (Books and More) will host a trick or treat event in the haunted bookstore. 2. In Forbestown, on New York Flat Rd., The Church in the Wildwood will have food, games, candy and a bicycle giveaway starting at 5 pm until 8 pm. 3. The little ghoulies can trick or treat from vehicle to vehicle. There will be plenty of spooky fun in the foothills on Halloween night. Don't miss it!

After the two weeks of vacation, Books and More will reopen on Wednesday, Oct. 18. Then the regular schedule (Wed. - Sat.) will be good until the week after Christmas. We hope you will do a good deal of your holiday shopping locally. This will help support your neighbors and friends.

Look Back in Time - In 1926 La Porte cattlemen, A. L. and A. A. Bustillos, drove their cattle out of the mountains to winter range near Durham (how many of us remember the cattle or sheep drives when one had to stop the car and just wait for a bit).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

Christine and Yvonne

Foothill Fire Auxiliary Thrift Shop, on Willow Glen Rd. in Brownsville, will have a half-off sale on everything in the annex room on October 21st. They need to make room for the Christmas Bazaar so drop in and check out the treasures in the annex.

CRITIC'S CORNER

Blade Runner 2049

Starring: Harrison Ford, Ryan Gosling, Ana de Armas. Rated: R, Runtime: 166 minutes.

In the next thirty-two years humans manage to colonize other planets with androids that are nearly indistinguishable from humans. When these androids can no longer be trusted and find their way back to earth, it is the job of the Blade Runner to retire them using bullets. The Blade Runner featured in this film is a more advanced, more obedient android. It finds itself uncovering old and socially dangerous secrets and sets out to find a predecessor that has been missing for thirty years to answer these new riddles that change its psychological baseline in terminal ways.

The flow of the film is slow and plodding with both visual and music scenes that both add to the depth of the story as well as detract from it. Much like the androids must feel in the story. The acting was good and the special effects were stunning.

Blade Runner, earns a solid four out of five, Hard Sci Fi Monkeys. This film is not made for the casual science fiction viewer. It lays out the hard questions of sentience and where it starts as well as the consequences of artificial intelligence both good and bad, but mostly bad. The story takes a while to tell, so a bathroom break beforehand and a small soda to drink is advised. There are naked folk in odd places in this film so be warned if you take offense at that sort of thing.

SOJ is the Answer

How many new laws were passed by our gifted lawmakers this past year? Would you believe that eight hundred (800) new laws were sent to the governor for signing? It is true. Ok, lets look at a few of them. The 12 cent a gallon more on gas. The new tax on car registrations. The computer that will be put on trucks to see how many hours/ miles the driver does in a day. Cap and Trade for ten (10) more years, and the republicans voted for this one. Private contractors are now required to use union wages. (SB35) New fees from $75.00 to $225.00 to be imposed on real estate actions. (SB3) Do you really like being in a state that spends all of its time putting a chain around your neck? Look at it like this: these restrictions, laws, and controls are like the links in a chain. You now have eight hundred (800) laws (links) around your neck, not counting last years around the same number. No wonder we are so stressed out. Hope is here. It is time SOJ51 to put a new star on the flag. Educate yourself and be a teacher to others about the truth that this is insane and we need and want our liberty back. If you are fed up and think the time has come and liberty is worth fighting for you need to give of your time, talents and treasures and get behind this movement. Let get it done. A good place to start.

Pay Attention to the Roads

For years, I have made people aware in newspapers and speeches how my life changed 25 years ago after a drunken driver hit me. I was 16 then. I urge all to have a sober driver if drinking and some are listening. Thank You.

I intend to bring more responsible, safe and sober drivers on the roads.

A new threat is quickly taking its place: Cell-phones. I see people on them everywhere like in stores, restaurants, and even vehicles. Drivers of all ages are distracted in numerous ways, but cell-phone usage takes the cake.

Who wants to drive a vehicle and not pay attention to the road just to text a petty message? Is this distraction worth the risk of injuring or killing others?

Due to the destructive fires in California, many hazards are around. Drivers through these regions must pay full attention to the roads and surroundings. Cellphone use destroys that. Driving with a cellphone is like driving drunk, if not worse. Looking at the phone for just 5 seconds is similar to driving the length of a football field at 55 MPH, blindfolded. Clearly, that is irresponsible and unsafe.

Please, stop your vehicle when using the phone and do not drive drunk. This brings more safety to the roads everyday.

Things, They are a Changing

Recently talking to my daughter on the phone, she was telling me that elementary school students in her school district, are no longer making Christmas decorations so as not to offend the non-Christian students. OMG. When we visit (or RE-locate) to other countries we have to play by their rules, but when they migrate here we are expected to alter our lifestyles and traditions to suit them. If their way of life is so wonderful, they should stay in their own country, and leave us to ours. Now we know how the native

American's felt when we pushed them out of our way, only, our land and way of life, we are holding the door open for them. Thanks for listening.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

change our policies? Or maybe these brilliant attorneys think only illegal aliens have the right to protest, but not other nations?

- Those on the left are going insane with their demands on destroying monuments, disrespecting the nation and politically-incorrect words and thoughts. Perhaps we all need to re-read Orwell's "1984" to understand where we are headed. I just did.

- The press is reporting that Bergdahl is going to plead guilty to charges of bad behavior in front of the enemy. Recall Obama's Rose Garden appearance with Bergdahl's parents where he came out with his arm around the mother's waist?

- Michelle, who may be planning to make a political run for some office, mouthed off again that Republicans are all white and male, whereas Democrats are a rainbow of colors and sexual identities. The country would be much better off if that line of divisive chatter were not coming out of the mouth of a former First Lady. Shame.

- Hillary tells us not to blame all Muslims for the acts of a few. Why does she then blame all Americans and the members of the NRA for the actions of even fewer?

- And then the rocket-scientist Nancy Sinatra says all NRA members should go before a firing squad. Aren't all the crazy lefties against guns?

- Harvey Weinstein, Democratic contributor on steroids and most likely master of the "casting couch" was not known for his behavior for decades? The "casting couch" has been openly talked about since the 1930's. Anyone who "didn't know" is deliberately blind.

- Students today can't pass the tests given them. So teachers claim that the tests are too hard. How about teaching instead of indoctrinating. Maybe the kids would do better and come out of school as better informed citizens.

- Then maybe some of the folks profiled in the media wouldn't spout crazy stuff. Like saying that if MLK Jr. hadn't peacefully protested, the black man would still be enslaved. Did this snowflake ever read US history about the Lincoln Administration, the Emancipation Proclamation, and the 15th Amendment (voting rights). All these happened before MLK Jr. was born.

- Why is it deemed necessary to know the sexual preferences of historical figures?

- It is too bad that some students at California State University-Long Beach don't know California history. Some recently protested to rid the campus of the "Prospector Pete" statue, claiming it is a monument to historical genocide. Of course, these snowflakes also want to strip the names of all sports teams who use Indian symbols or names, even though these honor indigenous peoples. They simply want to eliminate history in all its forms. Dumb and dumber.

- There is little doubt that indigenous populations in California were decimated in the rush of eager folks trying to make a fortune by digging gold. By 1855, it is estimated at least 300,000 had arrived in California from around the world. Americans, Mexicans, Chinese, Britons, Australians, French, Latin Americans, African Americans, Filipinos, Basques, Turks, Italians, Caribbean's, Brazilians, Hawaiians, New Zealanders and almost every other country and ethnic background imaginable. Who do we blame for the bad behavior?

- Currently there are 109 federally recognized Indian tribes in California as well as 78 more petitioning for recognition. Tribes have nearly 100 separate reservations or Rancherias.

- Did you know that the State Department had a Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor? And did you know that this bureau is using your tax money to offer grants up to $450,000 for institutions of higher learning and non-profit organizations to develop "intersectional programming" to "promote and protect the human rights of persons with disabilities, women and girls, LGBTI (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Intersex) persons, and other marginalized individuals?"

- Recall the left's continuous barrage of comments about there being no voter fraud anywhere? Then why did the LA County Registrar of Voters send 82 absentee ballots to a small apartment? Of course the Democratic Secretary of State is not looking into this matter, or any other matter showing potential fraud in the 2016 election. Maybe such is why Hillary got such a plurality of votes in California.

- Another brilliant snowflake in Chicago, this time a school district trustee writing "That flag means nothing more than toilet paper to me," The Chicago Tribune reported. And we wonder why people are killing each other virtually every day in the windy city?

- Another little tidbit to contemplate. The Rolling Stone printed an article stating that $80/hour "cuddling" is on the increase since Trump's victory. Apparently snowflakes need comforting to get through this horrible time. Where is mommy and a blankie when you need comfort?

Feather River Tea Party Patriots Inaugural Meeting

With Guest Speaker Paul Preston, Radio Host

Yuba City, Ca.

The new Feather River Tea Party Patriots announced Paul Preston, Agenda 21 Radio Host, will be the Special Guest Speaker for their Inaugural Meeting, Monday, October 23, 2017.

Paul Preston will fill us in on what's really going on.....the Las Vegas shooting, forest fires in Northern California, the Sanctuary State, NFL disrespect for the National Anthem, the New California State, and more.

Paul is a former basketball coach, high school administrator and Superintendent. His conservative background has not prevented him from seeing the devastating damage that the United Nations' Agenda 21 policies have visited upon America.

Starting with Karl Marx and the Communist Manifesto he shows us how socialist, communists, and fascists in the United Nations are using environmentalism as their tool to redistribute America's wealth and enslave our people for the 'greater good'.

Agenda 21 has destroyed the ranching and farming industry in many parts of the country. It has eviscerated property rights and it has superseded the United States Constitution and its laws.

Paul engages your political and cultural norms in meaningful debates over race, government, and education. He presents reasoned analysis on many of the myths apparent in our system of government, our society, and the media.

There is no membership requirement to attend and everyone is welcome. Doors open at 6:00pm; meeting begins promptly at 6:30 pm. Come early to register, socialize with like-minded patriots, and get a good seat.

The meeting will be Monday, October 23, 2017, at the Crossroads Community Church, 445 B Street, Yuba City, CA 95991.

"What the Wind Brought Me"

Plumas Arts and the Plumas National Forest are pleased to host an evening of readings and reflections from the Literary Artist in Residence at the Black Mountain Lookout for 2017, Margaret Garcia. The program will take place on Wednesday, October 25, 2017 at the Plumas Arts Gallery at 525 Main Street in Quincy beginning at 5:30pm.

For the month of October the gallery is also featuring paintings by the 2017 Visual Artist in Residence for 2017, Sally Yost, as well as paintings by former visual artists in residence Lucinda Woods and James Johnson. Garcia will be reading poems from a chapbook she has compiled from her time at the lookout called "What the Wind Brought Me," which she presents as a reflection upon the wildness of Nature and it's clarity of purpose. Some of her work is a tribute to a fellow writer and artist Farrell Cunningham, who she credits as the first friend to show her this beautiful region that has become her adopted home. Garcia will also speak (as a busy working mother and artist) to the need of alone time to write.

The presentation is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served.

The Artist in Residence in the Black Mountain Look-out is a collaborative project between Plumas Arts and the Forest Service. With this program, the Plumas National Forest offers an opportunity for artists to spend several days at Black Mountain Lookout to draw upon the breathtaking landscapes of the Plumas National Forest for inspiration.

For more information contact Plumas Arts at 283-3402 or plumasarts.org

Bridgeport Fall Festival

The South Yuba River Park Association (SYRPA) invites you to the Bridgeport Fall Festival on Sunday, October 22. Try your hand at gold panning, basket weaving and wool spinning. Take a hay ride in a wagon drawn by a vintage tractor and enjoy an up-close experience with wild birds provided by Wildlife Rehabilitation and Release of Grass Valley. Tours of the 1860s historic barn and 1920s gas station will be available to all. In addition, you can enjoy live music by the Buffalo Gals while picnicking under the shade of the massive mulberry tree.

You can partake in watching your children play games along with face painting, painting pumpkins and making bird feeders. This year's special attraction will be enactments of the Ghosts of Bridgeport. There is always an abundance of food including BBQ and baked potatoes by Penn Valley Chamber of Commerce, Frozen Yogurt by Culture Shock Yogurt and Root Beer Floats prepared by our expert volunteers.

Visiting with our rangers, volunteers and several local community organizations, such as Audubon, is always pleasant and informative. The "Save Our Bridge" campaign will be represented by volunteers who will be on hand to answer questions about the covered bridge renovation plan. You will have access to peer into the bridge through a fence since it remains closed to all traffic until renovation is completed.

Cascade Fire (Wind Complex) Yuba County

Debra Burns of Loma Rica said she and her husband were awakened at 11:20 when the power went off and with the sound of the wind blowing pebbles and hitting their house and windows. She then smelled smoke and even though she did not see the fire she began hooking up the horse trailer. In less than an hour she could see the actual flames of the fire and said, "We're Leaving now."

We gathered up all the essentials from inside the home – Dad's prescription medications, the cat in her carrier, the dog and his leash. And then I woke up my Dad, had him put in his hearing aids and put on his shoes and tried to get him into the car. He wanted to change out of his pajamas. He also had other things he wanted to do. I told him he could change later and grabbed his clothes.

About that time - at 1:00 a.m. - we got the reverse 911 call.

We went outside and loaded the goats in the tack room of the trailer.

The last thing we had to do was load the horses. I had an evacuation plan in place for years, so I knew that tough choices had to be made because I have three horses but only a two-horse trailer. I was putting the halters on when the Sheriff's Deputy came by advising us to get out.

We were pulling out at 2:30 a.m., 3 hours after we first smelled the smoke and one and a half hours after the reverse 911 call. We had the luxury of time that many of our neighbors didn't have. We know many of our neighbors had minutes, not hours.

We took our animals to friends in Wheatland with whom we have a reciprocal arrangement.

They would come to our house if they have a flood, and we were going to their house because of the fire.

Oh, and the horse we left behind – as I was driving down the hill I called my Farrier (at 2:30 in the morning). It was a miracle that he answered the phone – but as soon as I told him what I need-

Crazy and Dangerous State Ways

Last week, a Cal Fire spokesperson revealed that there should have been 3,000 personnel working on the Cascade Fire. Instead, since resources were spread thin throughout the state, there were fewer than 700 firefighters or just over 20% of a proper allocation.

Just how many Yuba Co. burned homes could have been saved if the fire taxes paid for more firefighting? Unfortunately another Cal Fire representative commented that they saved a lot of money on this fire by not having sufficient personnel. Fire victims are not thrilled to hear that.

Cal Fire spokes-people need training on how to communicate with victims. One started his briefing of evacuees, many of whom had lost everything, by alluding to how hard his firefighters had been working the past 24 hours. That certainly was true, but not the right moment to tout their exploits.

Another evacuee thanked firefighters for their work but asked why displaced people couldn't get more information. The Cal Fire boss then asked, "Would you rather have us put out the fire or get you information? With a more than $2 billion budget is it impossible to do both?"

Another lady, maybe a tad naïve but trying to be helpful, offered Cal Fire easy access to areas through gates on her property. The macho Cal Fire executive retorted that they would simply drive over her gates. Probably true, but not the kindest comment for a traumatized victim.

If you have HIV these are better times to intentionally infect sex partners or donate your HIV-tainted blood. Being selfish and deceitful possibly leading to someone's death will get the perpetrator only a misdemeanor charge and just 6 months in jail. Governor Brown signed the legislation.

However, if you willfully refer to a transgender person using the wrong pronoun you can be fined up to $1,000 and get up to 1 year in jail. Legislators are actually paid to make these laws.

If you missed the part where you needed to participate in this form of government to keep it on track, this is what you get for not being involved.
