

Yuba Co. Pot Chaos Life Threatening

by Lou Binninger

A turkey hunter chasing a wounded bird was confronted by men with long guns and informed that if he crossed onto their property again he would not fare well. The property is at 10874 Marysville Road, Dobbins and owned by BBNR LLC, Lance Bates, Adam Bates, Mary Bates and Scott Bates.

What would cause someone to be so inhospitable to a hunter just trying to retrieve his game? They were protecting a major marijuana growing operation on 429 acres once known as the Middlebrook Ranch. (See Google photo here) Confirmation that the plants were marijuana was made by conversations with those who had access to the property.

Since 1996 and the passage of Proposition 215, The Compassionate Use Act, allowing the use of medical cannabis, counties and cities have wrestled with ordinances to comply with the new law. Yuba County has tried a couple different approaches. The latest forbids any outdoor growing.

However, hundreds and possibly thousands of marijuana entrepreneurs are ignoring the ordinance, permits, fees, and their neighbors in Yuba Co. In fact, Buck Weckman, who founded Yuba County FACT (Families against Cannabis Trafficking) 5 years ago, says the problem of illegal pot growing has increased and become even more dangerous particularly for hill residents.

The shooting of two Yuba County sheriff deputies, Phillip Bronson and Andrew Everhart last week by an armed felon with warrants employed by the Rastafarian Church may have been a tipping point for many hill citizens. ‘Church’ leaders Heidi Grossman and Eddy Lepp have been in an ongoing legal scrap with the county over their illegal pot operation in Oregon House.

In spite of Grossman’s history of crass and profanity laced threats posted on the Internet against the sheriff’s department, on August 1st she called for help protecting her illegal marijuana from an irate employee. Deputies were fired upon after entering a home where the resident denied the presence of the perpetrator.

The irony of law enforcement put in harms way by a hateful lawless citizen to protect her illegal operation and then deputies being deceived and led into a death trap by a second citizen is disgusting in its lack of respect for authority and for fellow human beings.

Yuba County hill residents are angry and fearful at what they perceive as the inability of the government to protect life and property. The founding fathers believed the role of government was to protect from foreign invaders and from those in our midst who would infringe upon our liberty.

Government has taken on many roles like handing out condoms, welfare, cautioning about hot weather, taxing everything and restricting what we eat and drink, none of which are in the constitution. If the county cannot protect the life and property of Yuba Co residents it has lost its mandate to govern.

Yuba County is using 4-code enforcement officers to respond to all kinds of complaints. There currently are 700 open cases 10% of which are marijuana complaints. Kevin Mallen, Director of Community Services, was surprised at how few calls they get for marijuana grow issues, but citizens say that many people now are afraid to complain or don’t see any results.

Mallen said that normally 2 of the 4 code enforcers are assigned to the marijuana complaints but lately all four have been focused mainly on the homeless problem. Even though marijuana farms are protected with armed security people, code enforcement officers go out with only body armor and a pen and paper. Many residents believe the marijuana grows are a law enforcement problem and we need to declare a state of emergency and ask for federal intervention.

Mallen said grows on private property are more cumbersome to address versus grows on public property like the recent Bullard Bar Dam eradication of 3,500 plant and 500 lbs. of refuse. The private property dilemma seems to be whether the illegal grows are going to be considered a matter for criminal versus code enforcement. It is complicated, cumbersome and ineffective.

People violating codes and/or laws are afforded due process. However, the neighbors of these marijuana businesses want law-breakers cleared out and the problem solved. Good people are growing weary and may choose to relocate rather than wait for government to do its job.

Two Deputies Shot In Oregon House

Deputies Condition Upgraded to Good

Marysville, Ca.

On the morning of August 1, 2017 the Yuba County Sheriff’s Department received a call about the Rastafarian Church in the 9000 block of Marysville Rd., Oregon House. The complainant Sugarleaf Rastafarian Church leader Heidi Lepp said she received a call from church members who live on the marijuana farm saying a newly arrived worker had become erratic, was ripping up plants and holding a gun. Lepp said she called the sheriff’s office and told the men on the farm to leave immediately. Upon arrival the two deputies responding pursued a suspect, matching the description they were given, into a mobile home. As they were clearing the home they were met with gunfire, both were hit twice, and returned gunfire. While unknown at the time it was believed that they hit the suspect. The two deputies, Phillip Bronson, 14 years with Yuba County Sheriff’s Office (YCSO) and Andrew Everhart, 10 years with (YCSO), were dragged to safety by a third deputy, Daniel Harris, 22 years with (YCSO), who had been watching the back of the home. Harris called for officer down and backup. The two deputies were flown to Sutter Roseville where they underwent extensive surgery.

Multiple Yuba County Deputies, SWAT team members, Detectives, and Hostage Negotiators responded to the scene, along with many neighboring law enforcement officers and other first responders. Nearby residences were evacuated, a perimeter was established, and attempts to communicate with the barricaded suspect were initiated. Just before 2pm, SWAT personnel deployed diversionary devices into the home followed by tear-gas deployment, and then entered into the residence. Once inside, SWAT members located the suspect and determined the suspect was deceased and had suffered multiple gunshot wounds.

The suspect was later identified as Mark Anthony Sanchez, 33, originally of Gilroy, Ca. It is believed that Sanchez was living and working as a caretaker at the marijuana garden. Sanchez was a previously convicted felon that had served time in California State Prison for multiple violent felonies including carjacking and assault with a deadly weapon, as well as burglary and possession of stolen property. It was also discovered that Sanchez had two active warrants out of Gilroy for Robbery and Disturbing the Peace at the time of his death.

An autopsy was completed the morning of August 3 and the official cause of death was listed as “multiple gunshot wounds”. Official manner of death is pending conclusion of the shooting investigation, however it was determined that the suspect was struck multiple times by return gunfire from the two injured deputies. It is not conclusive at this time whether the fatal shot was self inflicted or the return fire from the deputies.

The two wounded deputies are still recovering and their condition has been upgraded from Fair to Good

There are many more grows that look the same as these pictures on the 429 acre grow.

Union Goes for Nail in County Coffin

by Lou Binninger

Though politicians created the pension and health care crisis in California they all fault someone else. It’s like the 40-year smoker who has lung cancer and now blames the tobacco company and society for not warning him.

There is even a term for the evolving condition of cities and counties, service insolvency. That is where the jurisdiction is still paying bills, payroll, pensions and health but that’s it. There is little or nothing left for services.

As a city manager was once said, California cities have become pension providers that offer a few public services on the side. It’s a corrupted system when local governments exist to do little more than pay the people employed there.

Wherever unions have dominate, industries crumble under the weight of health and pension benefits. Before the bail-out General Motors had become a health and welfare business, no longer a competitive car company. Everyone remembers the pastry icon Hostess Twinkies, once a victim of Bakers Union greed. The nonunion private sector bought the brand and heavenly recipe out of bankruptcy and the tasty treat returned to the shelves.

Not surprisingly, the union-dominated Legislature has been of little help to local officials dealing with such fiscal troubles. The state pension systems have run up unfunded liabilities, or debts, ranging from $374 billion to $1 trillion (depending on the financial assumptions one makes). Regardless, legislators

Last Chance for Spillway Claims

by Paul Preston

The Oroville Mercury Register is reporting there are only a handful claims relating to the Oroville Dam Spillways disaster. Risa Johnson who are considering a law suit at a later date in an interview July 29, 2017, residents who feel they were harmed have until August 11, 2017 to file a claim. Residents who are considering a law suit at a later date must according to California law file a claim within the 6 month time frame prescribed by the state.

Residents have until Aug. 11, six months from the declaration of a state emergency, to file in order to be eligible to receive compensation for their losses from the government. The form can be completed online or mailed in and costs $25 to process. Several affected cities and counties have also filed claims of their own, including the city of Oroville, which asked for about $1 million.

Residents forced to flee their homes and drop work in February because of the Oroville Dam emergency should file a claim with the state government soon in order to have a chance at getting reimbursed.

Residents can file up to Aug. 11, six months from the declaration of a state emergency when more than 188,000 downstream residents were forced to evacuate for fear of spillway collapse Feb. 12. The form can be completed online or mailed in. There is a $25 processing fee, though residents who are incarcerated, have a monthly income lower than the poverty line, or are receiving federal assistance such as food stamps or supplemental security income may apply for a fee waiver. The form also states the filing fee will likely be waived if the claim is accepted.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

A check with all the activity down in the bay area, specifically around the Golden Gate, in regards to salmon fishing is true. Our source advised it appeared like every boat and angler from the western United States had appeared for the outstanding salmon bite. He further stated the wait time to launch his boat was over two hours and taking it out was not much faster.

Meanwhile, outside the Golder Gate still has salmon everywhere with all anglers putting fish in their boats. Limits of fish were the ticket last week from San Francisco, Sausalito, Berkeley and Emeryville. In fact, as our report stated, boats were limiting out and returning early. Average size was 12 to 25 pounds.

We hear from Lake Tahoe. The big Mackinaw lake trout are being caught at this time. Reports tell us some of the fish caught are in the 15 to 18 pound range. Now that is a huge trout by anyone's standards!

The Auburn Rooster Tail Fishing Club is holding their Table Top Swap Meet Fishing Gear Sale at the Auburn Elks Lodge from 6:30 A.M. to 11:00 A.M. during their breakfast Business Meeting on August 18th. The optional buffet breakfast is $13.00. This is an opportunity to bring your unwanted fishing equipment, rent a table and keep the sale of any of your fishing items. Table cost is $25.00 per table and can be shared with others to cut down the cost. More info can be had by e-mail (Jim) at info@roostertailsfishingclub.org.

We are told some of the holdover catfish, released for the last kid's derby, are still being caught at Ellis Lake in Marysville. It appears the cats are on the bite anytime of the day or night with some in the two to three pound range. Largemouth black bass are also available. We have been advised not to eat any fish which is caught in Ellis Lake. Best bet is catch and release.

Closing thought: "To be old and wise you must first be young and stupid."

Bears Finish Season Strong

Yuba City, Ca. – The Yuba City Bears have just completed their inaugural season with an impressive 11-2 win against the Lincoln Potters. "This was a great way to end the season" says VP/GM Michael Mink, "This is a great group of players and we look forward to having many of them back next season."

The Bears defeated the Potters with flying colors on Saturday night. The Potters led the first inning 1-0; however, the Bears came back to score eight runs in the bottom of the second inning, followed by three more runs in the third inning. The Bears were able to hold on to their lead and were able to win their final game of the season.

7th Annual Dance with Our Stars

Dr. Francisco Reveles, Yuba County’s Superintendent of Schools, is a high energy motivational speaker. But is he a dancer? Perhaps not, but with the help of his professional dance partner, Meghan DeGroodt, Francisco has agreed to learn two choreographed routines and will perform them at Rideout’s 7th Annual Dance With Our Stars on August 19 at Colusa Casino. Dancing on stage when you are not really a dancer: that’s potentially painful and embarrassing. But as tough as that is, Francisco, like all of the other dancers in the competition, have also pledged to raise donations of at least $5,000 in advance of the competition to help the Rideout Foundation’s Special Projects Fund to support projects like the Center for Women’s Imaging, a partnership with Sutter Buttes Imaging, Inc., and many other needed services. Please help our friend Francisco reach his goal by attending this pre-competition musical reception. He may be silly for putting himself on stage in front of hundreds without a safety net. But he’s a good guy all the same.

Calling All Yuba-Sutter Veterans Yuba Sutter Arts Announces Part 2 of It’s “Portraits of Veterans” Project

Marysville, Ca.
Yuba Sutter Arts is proud to announce its next art project by and for Veterans. “Portraits of Veterans” is a re-boot of the photography project started earlier this year, but this time it will be conducted on an “epic” scale. Thanks to a generous grant from the California Arts Council, professional photographers will once again help Veterans in the process of creating high quality photographic portraits. The photographers will work with small groups of Veterans and enable them to make photographs of each other within a basic studio environment. The goal is to photograph 200-300 Veterans in the next eight to ten weeks and display them before, during and after Veterans Day.
“We began this project in February of this year,” said David Read, Yuba Sutter Arts Executive Director. “More than 60 Veterans came forward to be a part of it. We displayed the 20”x30” black & white photographs in March and held a gallery reception attended by 200 Veterans, family members and the general public,” he added.

The hope is that during the process of meeting, learning and collaborating, Veterans will experience positive reinforcement of their service and enjoy creating an intimate, lasting work of art with the help and support of fellow Veterans. This is another way for Veterans to convey their stories and for the community to honor their service in a unique and creative way.
Professional photographers will oversee the technical aspects of each session. A portable photo studio will be set up at various locations with all of the required equipment - tripod, cameras, lighting, etc. Veterans will be asked to sign a model release. The images will involve the subject or subjects, photographed against a plain background in high resolution for maximum clarity. The project is open to all Veterans and there is no cost to the participating Veteran.

Each photography session with individual Veterans will take 10-15 minutes. Yuba Sutter Arts welcomes the involvement of Veteran couples. Each Veteran will receive a print of the portrait and/or electronic versions of the photographs. Several photo sessions are planned for this phase of the project. The first “pop up” photo studio session will be at Yuba-Sutter Stand Down at Rosser Pavilion in Riverfront Park on Thursday and Friday, August 24 and 25 from 9-4. Additional dates and studio locations will be announced in the next few weeks.
Yuba Sutter Arts will produce 20”x30” black and white enlargements of the photographs, which will be displayed along with each Veteran’s bio (as much as they care to share) at various locations throughout the community in the weeks leading up to and immediately following Veterans Day. Display locations may include the Sutter County Memorial Museum, the Sutter County Library, Live Oak City Hall, and restaurrants in both counties and a number of other sites.

Again, this project is open to all Veterans in Sutter and Yuba Counties at no cost. To register or for additional information, contact David Read at 530-749-8065 or david@yubasutterarts.org.

CRITIC'S CORNER by Matt Woolery War for the Planet of the Apes Starring: Andy Serkis, Woody Harrelson and Steve Zahn. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 140 minutes.

This is yet another broadcast from the future. Apes are rising from their knuckles and riding horses on quests of vengeance. Adopting humans as pets and orchestrating calamities to wipe humans from their path to supremacy.

I didn't want to watch this movie. My expectations were quite low and it exceeded them. That being written a brick through my windshield would exceed my expectations. The story was not terrible. The path it took to tell it was disjointed and awkward. The actors did a great job and earned their pay. The effects were great. The emotional expressions on the computer generated apes while mostly brooding and angry were very well done.

War for the Planet of the Apes, earns two out of five, Doll Finding Humans. While not worth the money to see in theaters it is passable to see if you sucker someone else to pay for your ticket and concession stand items. Have a great week and for all you scientists out there. Just because you can doesn't mean you should.

Food and Farm News

Farm bill session to be held in Modesto

As part of its work to shape new federal farm legislation, the House Agriculture Committee will hold a listening session in Modesto this week. The Saturday session will gather comments from farmers, ranchers and other interested people. Congress plans to write a new farm bill next year, authorizing programs on conservation, research, nutrition and other aspects of agricultural and food policy.

Proponents write new water bond measures

Drought remains on Californians' minds despite this season's wet winter, and as many as four new bond proposals address continuing efforts to improve the state's water system. Two of the proposals have been created in the state Legislature. The other two would need to qualify via signature drives. Each aims for the 2018 statewide ballot, and could build on the Proposition 1 water bond voters passed in 2014.

Tomato harvest picks up speed

They've faced challenges this season, and farmers who grow processing tomatoes say their harvest has gotten off to a slow but good start. Spring rains delayed tomato planting, then heat waves during the growing season further affected the crop. Farmers say their harvests have been starting later than they did last year. California leads the nation in production of processing tomatoes, which go into salsa, ketchup and other products.

Rice agreement opens new markets

The promise of new markets in China encourages California rice farmers. A trade agreement allows American rice to enter China, and California farmers say they may be uniquely suited to fit the market. For one thing, California is much closer to China than other rice-growing regions of the U.S. In addition, California farms specialize in growing high-quality, medium-grain rice that could fill a market niche in China.

Re: Defunding Planned Parenthood

Just north of Live Oak along Highway 99 I was surprised to see a billboard placed by DemocraticVotes.net urging “SUPPORT PLANNED PARENTHOOD – AFFORDABLE HEALTHCARE FOR ALL.” In many ways than one, this is a bold face lie. Unfortunately, “all” does not include the unborn, who are torn from their mother’s wombs at Planned Parenthood clinics, which sometimes also sell their body parts for research! Just what healthcare services do they offer? According to their website, primarily reproductive health—another misnomer since most of their services are meant to prevent or interrupt reproduction: abortion; annual exam; birth control; morning after pill; pregnancy testing; sexually transmitted infections and urinary tract infection screening and treatment; counseling and testing for HIV; condoms counseling; and referrals for free or low cost vasectomy. Other than abortion, these healthcare services, and many more not provided by Planned Parenthood clinics, can be obtained elsewhere at federally qualified health care centers (FQHCs) which provide basic needs such as treatment for colds and flu, back pain, bodily injury, and mental health issues, pregnancy care and pediatric care. In the immediate Yuba-Sutter area alone, there are nine such clinics providing no or low-cost care. Throughout the country there are 20 times as many FQHCs as Planned Parenthood clinics. There is no need for taxpayers to send Planned Parenthood one-half BILLION dollars per year! Note that the White House offered to maintain federal funding to Planned Parenthood if they would stop doing abortions—but they said no thank you. Obviously their abortion agenda is more important than “affordable healthcare for all.” One final note: There are also around 2000 Pregnancy Resource Centers in the U.S. where women can receive at no cost pregnancy tests, ultrasounds, STI screening, abortion information, parenting classes, and material assistance that empowers women to choose life, including A Woman’s Friend in Yuba City (www.awomansfriend.org/). These ministry centers offer hope to women facing unplanned pregnancies by providing practical help and emotional support, and there is no charge for any service provided. Miriam Page Yuba City, Ca.

The Big Marysville Water Rip Off

I have been doing some research on the Water situation in the City of Marysville. Last Month we received a bill for almost 200 bucks! The previous was under 50... When I complained, Mr. Meyers from Cal Water came to our house and tried to make excuses as to why the bill was so high. "Oh you have a leaky toilet" he told me. I told him we didn't have a leaky toilet or any other leaks that I nor anyone else could detect... So he then tells me our lawn was pretty green... That is when I really lost my temper. I asked him if the Citizens of Marysville are supposed to have DEAD LAWNS because a San Francisco based company is reaming the Taxpaying Citizens of the City of Marysville? He also told me the Wells don't fluctuate much because of the water table being high due to the rivers, even in the drought. So what he was telling me is we are basically FLOATING ON WATER! Hmm, can you ever remember having to evacuate because of a possible pending FLOOD?

Yea, I know, they just work there and have to give excuses, excuses, and more excuses! Well, I had to do some investigating and found that 3 other Citizens of the City of Marysville have had a similar shocking bill ranging from 150 to 180 and 200 range... I would like any of you who have also had a high bill to write in so we can get a better idea of how many of us are getting reamed! I can guarantee the Water Company will be blaming the State and High Cost of Purifying the water due to State Regulations... Don't fall for that lie... I did some investigating about water bills in Linda and Olivehurst and found out of the people I know over there, keep their lawn green and some even have a good size garden, and their bill for using even MORE WATER is only about 50 bucks a month and really cheap in the wintertime. And Yes they are on a Meter too but not under Cal Water's tyranny. Now since we are getting abused in the City of Marysville for water... maybe to hell with the Water Company and we all drill our own wells? I don't remember signing anything giving up my water rights...do you? I know they'll say different but if we all just start rebelling and do it, that would send a very clear message. The other option is to SELL our Homes "AS IS" which will lower the over all housing prices...that would be a good thing since lower home prices would offset the outrageous cost of water so your home has a green lawn and you don't look like you are living in an impoverished neighborhood. Then again, maybe it is time to let Marysville die once and for all... hell maybe let Commie Cal die and move to Free America? Yes, that's the ticket... because it is one hell of a note when your wife is afraid to take a shower or wash clothes because we might get a 300 dollar water bill! Time to Rebel! AT&T Phone Service in the Foothills

In May, I received a notice in my AT&T bill that mandated I would have to allow an AT&T technician to install new network equipment on my premises or, if I didn’t allow them to do so, my phone service “may” be disconnected. Since there are no other landline providers in our area, which is very rural, this gives us no choice but to accept their changes to our residential service agreement and the notice comes across as a definite threat to our security and well-being that such a monopoly can achieve. There was also no explanation as to the purpose of the new network equipment and how it would benefit AT&T customers. When I read the Territorial’s July 26th article titled “AT&T Is Stealing Our Landlines”, I began to wonder if there was a connection between the notice in my bill and AT&T’s desire to get rid of their landline service in our areas. I called the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and registered a complaint. They forwarded my complaint to the California Public Utilities Commission, where Mr. Ryan Yamamoto, in the Division of Safety & Enforcement, responded by calling me. He asked several questions and requested a copy of the AT&T notice, which I sent. I also called AT&T and asked if their proposed updated equipment included improved cell phone service in our area. They said no. However, I do believe that it is AT&T’s long-range intent to abandon its landlines in our areas and turn the telephone poles into cell towers. If so, such cell service must be determined to be 100% reliable in all areas before landlines will be abandoned. There are thousands of vulnerable residents in the foothills that rely on landline phone service, especially in the case of emergencies. Many cell phones do not function well up here. So what happens in an emergency if the phone doesn’t work? Those with cell phones have to drive all over town or down the hill in order to find a spot where they can get a signal. Who has time to do that if someone is having a heart attack or their house is on fire? There are laws in this country that are intended to protect the people from such high-handed conglomerates like AT&T that can monopolize our phone service to the peril of its customers. Please encourage the CPUC to thoroughly investigate AT&T’s actions before it is too late! Rebuttal to Jefferson Meeting

Lou Binner’s article, Jefferson Meeting Exposes False Accusations, contained several erroneous statements, beginning with “more than 150 leaders from the State of Jefferson movement throughout Northern California came to Yuba City for a meeting at Church of Glad Tidings.” Less than 100 attended; most were supporters, not leaders. Binner stated, “They were there at the request of State of Jefferson Chaplain Dave Bryan to address rumors and expose fake news and slander directed toward the Jefferson movement and its founder Mark Baird.” Perhaps Binner was privy to a hidden agenda, but Pastor Bryan’s invitation to the State of Jefferson (SOJ) and New State Council of County Representatives (CCR) stated the purpose was “to hear each other out, be able to ask pertinent questions, voice our concerns, and see if we can overcome the quagmire of personal self-promotion and ego-centricity in order to agree to WORK TOGETHER....” Binner stated Bryan wanted to see reconciliation of any factions resulting from misunderstanding or offenses over the last 3½ years. The two “factions” were united until SOJ’s unofficial leaders nullified the results of the election for SOJ leaders at the July 2016 SOJ Assembly at Glad Tidings. The elected leaders created the New State CCR: Binner’s article publicly reported a lot of stone-throwing in God’s house. He stated local radio host Paul Preston “was also noted at the meeting as claiming Mark Baird, the unofficial and unpaid leader of the movement, had misused Jefferson funds and would soon be held criminally accountable for his misdeeds.” Preston was not at the meeting, and Binner has not spoken to Preston. Baird is well respected and a fantastic spokesperson for SOJ but is not a leader.

Binner wrote, “Mark Baird said he has nothing to do with the 501(c)4, is not on the board and handles no money from the organization. He is a volunteer like all Jefferson advocates.” Binner stated, “Preston, a spokesperson for the Sutter Buttes Tea Party Patriots is now working with Tea Party members to nurture a ‘Jefferson’ splinter group describing itself as the leading effort to start the 51st state.” Preston is not a spokesperson for the Sutter Buttes Tea Party Patriots (SBTP). He is a regular speaker at SBTP meetings, on the Board of the New State CCR, and the leader of the Sutter County New State Council of County Representatives. Like many Tea Party members, he is working toward a new state. Carla Virga Secretary, Sutter County CCR Cofounder, Sutter Buttes Tea Party

Yuba County Captain Brandon Barnes to Run for Sutter County Sheriff

Long-time Sutter County resident and 22-year veteran of the Yuba County Sheriff's Department, Brandon Barnes, will run for Sutter County Sheriff/Coroner in 2018.

Current Sutter County Sheriff, J. Paul Parker, has not made an announcement about his re-election plans.

Barnes, 45, currently holds the rank of Captain and is the Jail Commander for Yuba County, managing a staff of 80 and an inmate population of almost 400. Prior to this, Barnes served as Yuba County's SWAT Commander and Lieutenant assigned to Investigations.

"I've lived in Sutter County for over 20 years, but protected the residents on the other side of the river each day. Friends and colleagues have asked me for years to consider running for Sutter County Sheriff," said Barnes. "It's time, and I've announced my candidacy early so I can meet with everyone at the department who wishes to share their thoughts on how we can improve the organization.

We have great men and women employed by the Sheriff's Department and together we can take the organization to the next level and provide the best service to the residents of Sutter County."

Barnes is a graduate of the FBI National Academy and the California P.O.S.T. Command College leadership program. Since 2015, he has served as a Police Academy Instructor. Barnes is a member of the National Tactical Officers Association and the California Tactical Officers Association.

If elected, Barnes' priorities will be to increase rural patrols, create policies that reflect the values of our community, bolster staff morale and increase leadership training.

"Brandon Barnes is extremely qualified to be Sutter County's next Sheriff," said Sutter County Supervisor, Ron Sullenger. "He has a phenomenal resume and he actually understands fiscal responsibility. We can't tackle huge issues like marijuana and homelessness without leaders like Brandon that are willing to enforce our laws and can stretch every dollar in the budget to make it happen."

Barnes is an active community volunteer and Board Member for the Yuba-Sutter Agents of Change. He was awarded the Marysville Exchange Club's Peace Officer of the Year award in 2002. Brandon and Jenn enjoy rooting for the 49ers with their four children - Brandon Jr., 24, Sarah and Victoria, 19, and Madison, 14.

- California wants to allow illegal immigrants to be able to become members of the State Bar and practice in California. In fact, this floating of such a law is already occurring. As Steven Franks reports: "One such lawyer is Lizbeth Mateo. Born in Mexico, Mateo and her family illegally crossed the border when she was 14 and have been residing in California ever since. In 2013, Mateo returned to Mexico knowing she had no legal visa to come back and, as part of what became known as the Bring Them Home Campaign, returned to the U.S. border with eight children and demanded unauthorized reentry into the U.S. — which she was granted. Having graduated from Santa Clara University School of Law and working jobs that required the use of a stolen Social Security number, Mateo now spends her time as an immigration lawyer 'preparing legal strategies to help undocumented immigrants stay in the country' — all while flaunting her own undocumented status."

• A random thought on the Oroville Dam fiasco (and politics in general). Politicians are at their best when claiming how open and candid they are while concealing as much as possible.

• Researchers are now claiming that 97% of football players have significant levels of brain damage. Keep in mind that these players, from the Peewee leagues to the NFL have worn helmets to prevent injury. If this research is accurate, then the helmets are almost useless.

• A Bay Area attorney, Thomas Frankovitch, has filed over 2,000 ADA lawsuits costing millions to business, leading to businesses closing or moving to another state. Is this why Marysville is rebuilding curbs and gutters rather than fixing roads which are filled with holes and alligators?

• Remember during the Presidential debates when Hillary made a big show of castigating Trump for not saying he would absolutely accept the upcoming election results? Look at the Democrats now. What a bunch of lying hypocrites.

• Vegans are becoming more and more of a religious cult. They can't bring themselves to understand nature in which eating meat is normal. For example, even their precious plants are sometimes carnivores. Think of the many varieties of Pitcher Plants which devour meat with delight.

• Regarding the Transgender Military Decision: Why does the Associated Press and mainstream media insist on huge headlines and long-rambling rants about "Christian conservatives" when the transgender military issue has nothing to do with Christianity? It has to do with military readiness.

• Why do immigrants get welfare benefits upon setting foot on American soil? In the past, immigrants had to prove they could support themselves or have a sponsor who would agree to keep them off the welfare rolls. To offer welfare upon arrival is inappropriate and de-meaning. This part of the Deep State agenda needs a surgical knife.

• Susan Rice refuses to testify in front of Congress. No loss. All she would spout are lies.

• The appointment of Robert Mueller has resulted in nothing more than a high-paying government "jobs swamp" for a whole pigpen full of Obama and Hillary minions. Fire Mueller and drain that ugly swamp.

• In California, the percentage of union workers in the private sector has declined from 35% in the 1950s to 6.7%, while the percentage of workers licensed by the State has jumped from 5% in the 1950s to nearly 30%. In other words, rather than the unions deciding who can work in an occupation, the government makes that determination. Occupational licenses are effectively the new unions.

• This is why you elect Democrats, so they can show how dumb they really are. AB 1440, another inane piece of Democratic legislation moving through Sacramento, notes that federal immigration agents are not licensed peace officers. Seriously, when have you asked to see a license when approached by a local police officer? No such document exists. This is just another example of why California is considered the "flake and quake" State.

• CalPERS, has a $1.4 trillion unfunded liability; CalSTRS over $200 billion. Both are a 100% increase in mandatory contributions over the next five years. When will the symbiotic relationship between local government and public employee unions be broken? Until it is — removing unionization of public employees — the spiraling increase in government salaries and benefits will continued unabated.

• Garamendi hired Griego and Nicoletti in staff (Democratic) positions. They were voted out at the ballot box, but now are returning through the "back door". Professional politicians.

• Obama spent taxpayer dollars to directly interfere with the recent Israeli election. The mainstream media ignored the story. But when stories started circulating that Russian interference was the reason Trump won, the media went ballistic — and still is stomping its feet and screaming. No evidence, of course. Honest reporting?

Hackers Break Into Voting Machines in 90 Minutes

by Stephen Frank

We already know that absentee ballots by the dozen were shipped to a single apartment in San Pedro. We know that in Indiana thousands of illegal and fraudulent voter registrations were created by one organization. In Virginia they found lots of illegal registrations and voting. Then you have the votes of illegal aliens—in California you can register online without any real vetting! Now the next step.

"Tech minds at the annual DEF CON in Las Vegas were given physical voting machines and remote access, with the instructions of gaining access to the software.

According to a Register report, within minutes, hackers exposed glaring physical and software vulnerabilities across multiple U.S. voting machine companies' products.

Some devices were found to have physical ports that could be used to attach devices containing malicious software. Others had insecure Wi-Fi connections, or were running outdated software with security vulnerabilities like Win-

To make this happen in real life, all the hacker would have to do is be a "poll volunteer" so they can change the machines—or close them down, create errors and make the election look dishonest. Imagine what the Russians and Chinese could do with months to work and more sophisticated applications! Grow up—elections in the United States have been compromised. Yet the media calls these facts Fake News and refuse to admit the truth.

Union Goes for Nail in County Coffin

have avoided meaningful pension reform. They owe their soul to the unions. This has forced local governments to cut back services or raise taxes to meet their ever-increasing payments to California's pension funds.

Now, union legislators have introduced Assembly Bill 1250 to gain complete control over local government. AB1250 would essentially stop county governments from outsourcing services (financial, economic, accounting, engineering, legal, etc.), which is a strategic way for counties to survive these days.

The legislation originally also applied to cities, but was dialed back. It now applies to all 58 counties except for San Francisco (which is exempt because it also is a city) and the authors plan to exempt Santa Clara County because of a hospital contract. Cities will be hamstrung next if this move is successful.

The bill is sponsored by the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and authored by Assemblyman Reginald Byron Jones-Sawyer, a Los Angeles Democrat who previously was an SEIU vice president. It's a brazen blitz to force county governments to spike the size of their full-time, unionized workforce. Ultimately, the bill sees county governments as employment agencies rather than service providers.

The bill removes the autonomy of local citizens and their supervisors to make the appropriate decisions regarding the financial benefits of outsourcing. Counties were not intended to provide cushy employment-to-grave benefits but were created to serve the citizens. Does anyone recall those days?

An analysis for the counties by the Oakland law firm Jarvis Fay Donato & Gibson concluded ed that the latest version of the bill "will substantially increase the cost for delivery of county services and substantially decrease delivery of county services — including critical public health and safety services." Counties will be forced to pare back services "to offset increased pension and benefit costs." Small and rural communities in particular like Yuba-Sutter will face service reductions.

Although government outsourcing tasks to private companies usually saves huge sums of money while providing a more effective service this bill makes it nearly impossible with all the new rules and paperwork. Also, many companies may choose not to do government work due to the nonsense created to shut private enterprises out.

Clanking, Groaning and Moving Right Along, the Over-the-Hill Gang Works Wonders at Empire Mine

by Courtney Ferguson

“When I say clanking, groaning and moving, I’m not referring to the fifteen members of the Over-the-Hill Gang,” quipped ‘gang’ leader, Tom Newmark. “I’m referring to Empire Mine’s mechanical equipment – and how one of our goals is to make that equipment move again, so visitors enjoy a riveting, authentic experience. Rather than having our Tour Guides talk about the mine machines, isn’t it more exciting to see them in action?”

The Over the Hill Gang has been busy maintaining and improving the Park since around 1976. “We tackle the tasks that our State Park staff may not have the time, funds or specialized skills to accomplish,” he said. At 86 years young, Newmark admits that, like many of the Gang’s members, his involvement keeps him challenged and active. “We’re all retired,” he explained, “and our work here makes a difference to the Park’s appeal and safety. We’re not only able to use our skills, but we’re always improving them – and often, learning new ones. While our ages range from 70 to 90 plus, our spirit is unstoppable.”

Quiet craftsmen hard at work

Early each Tuesday and Thursday morning, The Over-the-Hill Gang meets at the Park. Examples of their combined expertise include restoring the two-stamp stamp mill and adding dramatic lighting and sound to the mine model in the Visitor Center. They’ve designed and built the popular Blacksmith Shop, Compressor House and other buildings to replicate the ones from Empire’s hard-rock heydays, dating from the late 1800s to the mid-1950s when Empire closed. The photography for the interpretive panels and the traditional iron stands they’re displayed on are further evidence of the Gang’s craftsmanship in action. “We are passionate about the Park,” Newmark added. “Time and weather mean constant deterioration. Add the fact that everything we do must meet the State Parks’ standards for authenticity, using traditional techniques – and there’s always a new challenge; yet that’s what makes it fun.” Predictably, over time, everything from the leaded windows in the Clubhouse, Cottage and old offices to the machinery in the mine yard needs attention, and the Over-the-Hill Gang has the quiet craftsmen to get this vital jobs done. In addition to the restoration-and-repair work they do, the Gang also prepares the Park for its annual special events, including the Mother’s Day Springtime Event, Holidays at Empire Mine – and the 122nd Miners Picnic coming up on August 26th.

It’s a costly, on-going process, and funds for materials come from sales in the Park’s popular Gift Shop. Both the Gang and the Gift Shop are part of Empire Mine Park Association (EMPA, for short). EMPA is dedicated to raising and donating funds to support the Park.

Tom Newmark’s team includes Bill Blount, Tom Bumgarner, Deane Dvoracek, Bob Flannigan, Jay Hansell, Bob Hansen, Ed Kittredge, Gary Larsen, Jim Schroeder, Dick Spoerer, Alan Trood, Jim Ward, Steve Wolf and Bert Wymer. Several are from the Auburn area. While not official members, retired Supervising Ranger Don Schmidt and former EMPA President Jim Dierberger frequently share their time and talents on special projects. “We have a serious need for help with painting right now,” Newmark added. “Maybe someone will read this, and get in touch.” For further information about the Over-the-Hill Gang, contact Volunteer Coordinator, Lauren Wilson at the Visitor Center, (530) 273-8522. ## Karen Henderson and Jim Drew, Robin Hauck to be Inducted Into Nevada County Fair’s Hall of Fame

by Wendy Oaks, Nevada County Fairgrounds

Karen Henderson and Jim Drew, along with Robin Hauck, have been named to the Nevada County Fair’s Hall of Fame.

Henderson and Drew have been attending the Nevada County Fair since childhood and were both Nevada Union FFA members who exhibited steers, market hogs, and lambs. They went on to become local agriculture teachers and FFA advisors for a combined total of 56 years. They have been buyers at the Junior Livestock Auction for almost 20 years, and help with the livestock sale each year; and Henderson served on the Nevada County Fair Board of Directors for five years. Additionally, their six children and two of their grandchildren have exhibited livestock as well.

“We have deep roots in the Fair and truly love what the Fair means to our community,” said Henderson. “The Fair and the Fairgrounds is a rich piece of history and cornerstone to our community’s agriculture heritage. When you realize the first high school agriculture classes were held in the Main Exhibit Building, the thousands of young people who learned about agriculture and developed a strong work ethic by exhibiting, the community activities and gatherings, you will understand why Jim and I know the Fair is vital to Nevada County.”

Henderson currently works fulltime for Live Wire Products Inc, her parent’s business in Penn Valley. She also raises project and freezer lambs, gardens, and recently qualified to enter the Boston Marathon for 2018. She is also on the Nevada County Farm Bureau Board. Drew was recently elected President of the Nevada Joint Union School District Board, and also serves on the Nevada County Resource Conservation Board and the Nevada County Livestock Producers Board. He works a large garden and vineyard on their property, and is an avid fisherman. Both are members of The Range, shooting weekly in the handgun league.

“Karen and Jim are an integral part of our Fair’s agriculture community,” said Rea Callender, Fairgrounds CEO. “They have dedicated countless hours to youth and Nevada County agriculture, and we are grateful for their service.”

Robin Hauck served as the Deputy Manager of the Nevada County Fairgrounds from 2009 until she retired in March. Prior to working at the Nevada County Fair, she was CEO of the Merced County Fair for four years, worked for the El Dorado County Fair for 17 years and the Grand National Rodeo at the Cow Palace, and served as a fair industry consultant.

Hauck, who grew up in Loomis, showed at and visited Fairs throughout California during her childhood. “My roots are in agriculture, and so is the Fair,” said Hauck. “The Fair provides a forum for the promotion and education of agriculture, the exchange of information, a celebration of our traditions and to recall our history. The Fair does all of this with charm, excitement and the competitive spirit – and I’m proud to be part of the industry.”

While at the Fairgrounds, Hauck founded several community service projects, including the Fair’s partnership with local libraries for their summer reading program and Ag-Sperience at the Fair (where Fair-goers can learn about agriculture in Nevada County). She also founded Community Involvement Day, which recently received the Western Fairs Association’s Merrill Award, the Fair industry’s highest honor.

“These community-based programs at the Fair are here because of Robin’s vision,” said Callender. “We are fortunate to have had Robin at the Nevada County Fairgrounds for the past 8 years, and I thank Robin for her years of service and dedication to the Fair industry, to the Nevada County Fairgrounds, and to the community,” said Callender.

Hauck is the current Treasurer of the Greater Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Nevada County Fairgrounds Foundation Board.

Henderson, Drew and Hauck will be inducted into the Hall of Fame at opening day ceremony on August 9, and will receive a portrait donated by Shaffers Originals of Grass Valley. The 2017 Nevada County Fair is August 9 – 13. For information, visit NevadaCountyFair.com.

Over-the-Hill Gang leader, Tom Newmark (l) and fellow volunteer Jay Hansell discuss what’s next on the Park’s never-ending list of “things to do.”

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

There are ex-teachers available at Books & More for some assistance. It might be special tutoring for students needing extra attention for math or reading; or there is a spot for those who might need help with a GED. If interested please stop in or give us a call at 675-3275.

Do you need a new set of dishes, for yourself or maybe as a gift? The Brownsville Thrift Shop is having a special display

(and sale) of dish sets this week. We're sure there is a bargain or two that you just can't pass up. They are open Wed. through Sat. from 10 until 4. Then next week they will be displaying several large birdcages. These might be a home for a bird or the start of a craft item.

It won't be long now and we'll all be getting ready for Halloween, and in our beautiful foothills, that means Trunks with Treats. The planning is underway and if you are interested in helping out, stop by Gold Eagle Market in Brownsville and sign up. Last year it was a great success. Haunted house, games, food, and more!! Books and More will be dressed up inside for the occasion and transformed into a haunted bookstore. Let's all make it a spooktacular and safe Halloween.

Has it been hot or what! Hopefully it has cooled down some by the time you are reading this. Come on autumn!

Look Back in Time – In 1890 the Golden Queen Mine in Forbestown crushed 27 to 30 tons of ore per day at $2.50 per ton and employs 100 men (wonder what that ore would bring today).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon. Christine and Yvonne

Colusa County Cameos

by Carol Withington

COLUSA

The early beginnings of the community of Colusa can be traced back to the mid 1840s. According to research, Dr. Robert Semple of Benicia stopped briefly at the Rancheria of the Colusi Indians during a return trip. It is said that Dr. Semple was so impressed with the beauty of the area along with its fertile soil that he inquired as to who owned the land. He was told it was John Bidwell, who obtained it under a Mexican Grant.

When his brother Colonel Charles Semple arrived in California in 1849, Dr. Semple informed him about the Rancheria. The Colonel soon after located Bidwell and the purchase was made.

In the early 1850s,, Colonel Semple, accompanied with a small group, arrived to the area by steamboat. It appears they miscalculated their landing and ended up seven miles past the Rancheria. Realizing their mistake, they moved on down the river where they eventually built a "crude" hotel, surveyed the streets and a new town was born.

Witnessing this event was William Semple Green, the 17-year-old nephew of the Colonel, who would later become one of the most prominent citizens of the area.

During this time, both the county and town were named Colusi, derived from the name of the Coru Indian tribe who lived along the Sacramento River during the 1840s. Some sources relate that the Coru Indians came to be known as the "Colus" by the French explorers because of a "twisted" pronunciation. Whatever the case may be, both the county and town names were changed to Colusa in 1854 by an act of the California Legislature.

Monroeville was the first county seat, but in November of 1853, it was moved to Colusi. That same year, the first official jail and courtroom were built on Market Street. A hall of records, a town hall and county hospital would later be added in the years to come.

Due to its location on the Sacramento Pacific Railroad, the town of Colusa began to flourish. In 1861, a post office was established with J. Hop Woods, owner of the Colusa Drug Store, serving as postmaster. Although Colusa was largely dependent on its grain fields and fruit orchards and other agriculture, the community also boasted of a Canning, Drying and Packing Company along with a foundry and machine shop which manufactured plows, wagons, buggies, traction engines and agricultural implements.

Other businesses included a marble works, two cigar factories and a flour mill. In addition, the Colusa County Bank was considered "one of the most prosperous and soundly conducted interior banks" in California.

Incorporated in 1886, Colusa embraced all the major businesses needed for its community. There were general merchandise and clothing stores, drug stores, books and stationery stores, along with jewelry and millinery businesses. Hotels and restaurants were also among the many establishments.

In addition, physicians, dentists, attorneys and building contractors were all available to meet the needs of the citizenry. There was also a grammar school, a high school and a parochial school of the Catholic Church. Other churches included the M.E. Church South, the Christian and the Presbyterian.

The Colusa Gas Company incorporated March 5, 1886, supplied the town with its first illumination on March 31. The capacity of the works was said to be sufficient enough for a town of 10,000 inhabitants.

The community also included the Daily and Weekly Sun, the Herald weekly and the Gazette daily newspapers. However, it was the Colusa Sun which come into the forefront over the years. Thanks to William Semple Green, its editor and publisher, this newspaper was the "voice of Colusa County" for over forty years. Green, also known as the "father of irrigation" in California was self-educated. However, he became an author of the history of Colusa County as well as the entire state.

Green was also a United States Surveyor during President Cleveland's administration. Some even considered him a "hero" of the county-- quite a compliment for one of the founders of the town of Colusa who first arrived on a steamboat at the age of 17.

Note: Over the next few months, the histories of Sites, Stonyford, Grimes, Leesville and Grand Island will be featured.

California's Role in the Civil War

While no battles took place on California soil, there were a number of camps, battalions, forts and prisons. We still have a rich Civil War history. And we should tell the stories. Some of those volunteers, men and women, are buried in the early Yuba/Sutter cemeteries.

California Gold

Both Union and Confederacy wanted California's support, but for different reasons. California was viewed as a valuable asset to the Union due to its rich gold deposits. The Confederacy was equally interested. California had another resource that the Confederacy desperately needed. The coast of Southern California was the perfect open harbor, unaffected by the Union blockade for supplies.

This September 23rd and 24th 'Civil War Days' will again be coming to Marysville River Front Park. To honor our California fallen brothers and sisters of the Civil War there will be a headstone display. If you have a Civil War relative buried in our local cemeteries, come to the headstone display area to find their headstone and story. A costumed docent will greet you during the day's events prior to and after the battles.
