

Yuba County Jail Inmates Earn High School Diploma

by Lou Binninger

Five Yuba County Jail women recently earned high school diplomas while incarcerated. The graduates were Angela Villa, Amber Williams, Thi Nguyen, Carla Rincon and Marygen Matta.

The ladies benefitted from a partnership between Yuba County Office of Education (YCOE) and the Yuba County Sheriff's Office (YCSO) to not only offer an adult education curriculum but a high school diploma option starting with the 2016-2017 school year. YCOE has offered adult education in the jail for years along with English proficiency and basic skills classes.

Assistant Superintendent Bobbi Abold and Captain Brandon Barnes put the project together and veteran YCOE instructor Carol Holtz assisted the students.

The expanded program also received help from the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and its Educational Services Division. The agency helped streamline the process of obtaining transcripts so prior credits could be evaluated to see what each student needed to complete.

The course of study complied with California State Standards and College and Career Readiness Standards. The students were required to earn credits in English, Mathematics, Social Studies, Science, and Health as well as Life Skills.

In order to serve inmates that leave custody but still need a diploma, the program is also offered at the Day Reporting Center (DRC) run by the Sheriff and Probation Departments. The DRC is a service center for people on probation and parole to obtain needed skills to succeed.

The jail offers additional classes as well on the following topics: computer keyboard, parenting, sewing, sexual and mental abuse, anger management, health and tobacco cessation, sexually transmitted infections, life skills, relapse prevention, the supernatural and Celebrate Recovery.

Presentations are made by Child Support and Child Protective Services. Local rehabs and shelters explain how to access their facilities. One Stop Jobs assists inmates and a new employment skills class will soon be offered by a retired businessman.

Other services are also available. Since 2008, Sutter-North Medical, Dr. Joseph Cassady and the jail have provided tattoo removal for both jail and juvenile hall residents. The program seeks to remove barriers to work and eliminate offensive messages leading to violence. More than 4,300 treatments have been performed in the jail, juvenile hall and the Sutter-North Surgery Center.

For years, the Sheriff's Department has funded a fulltime substance abuse counsellor, Randy Inman, to interview and educate inmates to link them with residential rehabs, clean and sober living homes and shelters. Having an in-house advocate has eliminated a major communication barrier to those incarcerated.

The legislature's decision to house more inmates in county jails versus prison presented an opportunity for local agencies, nonprofits and volunteers to help. Eventually, all inmates are going to return to the community. Community members have an influence in how that happens.

Munchheimer On The Move

by Lou Binninger

Marysville City Manager (CM) Walter Munchheimer emailed his notice of 'retirement' the day after the council rejected on a 4-1 vote, his paying a headhunting firm $22,000. The County of Yuba offered instead to find a Finance Director for $2,000. Munchheimer already hired the firm with $25,000 to fill the Community Services position. Now, the city council has 3 slots to fill. Munchheimer will be gone by October 31.

Munchheimer, if remembered, it will be for costing taxpayers. He launched a Bounce Back (BB) economic plan with a Blue Ribbon Committee of citizens that never had any bounce, though spent hundreds of thousands of dollars. Remember the outside consultant that was to present a BB report after months of waiting? When the CM called to set the presentation date, the fellow never got around to doing the work. The bid winner then found a friend to complete the contract. Is there a new shelf to hold that report?

And, there was the Measure W Sales Tax Increase Measure, the one that failed. The city was touting being broke. The CM in the middle of the propaganda campaign bought three thousand dollars of new furniture for his office. When they went to furlough Fridays to save money the citizens realized they really didn't need a fulltime administration after all. Hold that thought.

Munchheimer considered the city council's directives as suggestions and basically did his own thing. The council in turn lacked the 'Spauldings' to hold him accountable. Under his management philosophy the city stopped enforcing basic decency laws allowing the place to become a sanctuary of vagrants.

The CM took no responsibility for those working under him as the Community Services Director decided to stop completing quarterly reports to the Department of Water Resources, twelve of them. The state fined Marysville $3 million. The new sales tax increase that finally passed brings in at most $1.5 million annually to "save police and

"Fruit Jar Pickers"

The end of a musical era in Rough and Ready

by Courtney Ferguson

"Seventeen years is a heck of an inning," said one of the Fruit Jar Pickers' founding members, Red Sagraves, "but all good things come to an end." Sagraves was referring to the 17 years the Fruit Jar Pickers have been entertaining Nevada County with their bluegrass style of sing-along music. "Originally, a few of us got together on the front porch of the Rough and Ready Market," he recalled. "Soon more local musicians joined in, including DoBro player and anchor, Everett Burkard. His skill, patience and generosity helped us become something of a local fixture. We moved to an abandoned car-repair garage across the street - where both the band and the audience grew in numbers. It wasn't unusual to have retired Lake Wildwood residents singing songs like "Motorcycle

Mamma" with bike club members." The band sometimes had as many as 28 musicians of varying expertise, and the audience was often over 200; many from all over America and all over the world. Eventually, the garage became the site of what is now the Rough and Ready Fire Station, and the band moved to the nearby Grange Hall. "We will miss each other - as well as our many loyal friends who'd sing along with us each Sunday," Sagraves reflected.

The band experienced its fair share of slice-of-life challenges, changes, romance and passings. In addition to playing each Sunday morning, the Fruit Jar Pickers played again in the afternoons at one of Nevada County's retirement homes or convalescent hospitals. "Over the years, we got to know many of the residents and patients," Everett Burkard explained. "Their willingness to sing along and connect was inspirational, and something we will always remember fondly. Many said we helped them get through a tough patch in their lives."

The last performance will take place on Sunday, June 18th from 10:00 a.m. to noon in the Rough and Ready Grange Hall. "As always," Sagraves added, "it will be free of charge - and fun."

"We can make a party out of nothing," is a line from one of the songs they sing - and probably sums up the spirit behind their earthy music. The Fruit Jar Pickers are likely to be remembered more for their big hearts than their musical expertise. However, that's probably exactly what they want.

North Yuba Water District Utilizing Inmate Work Crews

Oregon House, Ca.
As the rainy season finally winds down, the North Yuba Water District (NYWD) is employing Yuba County inmate work crews to clear the irrigation ditches in Dobbins and Oregon House. The crews will remove invasive plants, brush and weeds.
Work began late May and will continue for approximately one month, through the end of June. NYWD Manager, Jeff Maupin, said recent rains have propelled the growth of weeds throughout the irrigation ditches.

"Weeds reduce the flow of water in the ditches during the irrigation season and they become a fire hazard after the irrigation season," he said.
The inmate work crews include nonviolent, non-sex offenders who have earned a place in the program. Yuba County Sheriff, Steve Durfor, said the program is a partnership between the Sheriff's Department, Yuba County Fire Department and organizations like NYWD. The work crews provide a cost-effective labor source for budget-strapped districts like NYWD.

"It's a win-win," said Durfor. "Work programs allow our inmates to make a positive difference in our community, while giving the inmates job skills and a sense of self-worth and dignity that comes from a productive day's work."
The NYWD provides irrigation water to over 100 parcels in Dobbins and Oregon House, and provides domestic water service to approximately 2500 residents in Brownsville, Forbestown, Rackerby and Challenge.

Gold Sox vs Bears for Weekend Series

Marysville, Ca.
The Yuba City Bears rode Rickey Ramirez's hot arm to a 5-3 victory in the first game of a three game series between the Marysville Gold Sox and the Yuba City Bears. Ramirez pitched eight innings, striking out eight batters while only allowing one run. The Gold Sox rallied in the top half of the ninth inning behind a two-RBI single from Grant Horwitz but Dalton Bishop struck out the next batter to earn the save. The Bears lead the Twin City Rivalry Series 2-1.

The series continued on Saturday at the Gold Sox hosted the Bears with fireworks, by Feather Falls Casino Brewing Company, after the game

Josh Winkler's 2-RBI single with two outs in the top of the 9th inning sent the Bears and Gold Sox into extra innings. Kalen Crisosto's double in the 10th inning scored Dace Asher for the go-ahead run as the Yuba City Bears came from behind to beat the Marysville Gold Sox 5-4. Andrew Fuentes pitched three stellar innings of shutout ball to pick up the win for the Yuba City Bears. The Yuba City Bears increased their lead in the Twin City Rivalry Series to 3 games to 1.

Final score for Sunday was not available at press time.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

All the places we checked into this week had reports of good to great fishing. For instance, the stripers are still active in the Sacramento River as well as in the Feather. Shad are still in all rivers with the best bet being the American River. The spotted bass bite is still outstanding at Lake Oroville as well as Clear Lake, Shasta Lake (Shasta Dam) and other bodies of water.

If you decide to get out of the valley to avoid the upcoming heat wave we recommend Lake Almanor. Slow trolling here will get you fish for dinner. Also, if you go just about anywhere in Northern California in the foothills or high mountains you can expect creeks, streams and rivers running a bit high. Personally I am looking forward to some trout stream fishing around the end of June and after the big Fourth of July Holiday. Streams by then should be ideal.

The Squawfish Derby, which will be held this Saturday (June 17th), will offer lots of prizes amounting to $2500.00 worth to be exact. The cost per entry is $40.00 which will include a barbeque lunch and membership in the Guides and Sportsman's Association. The derby will cover the Sacramento River from the Shasta Dam to Verona and on the Feather River from Verona to the Oroville Dam.

The object of this derby is to reduce the number of squawfish population due to their feeding on baby salmon and steelhead.

More can be obtained by calling Guide James

Stone at (530) 923-9440. Other Guides in the Sacramento area are also available for information as well as Johnson's Bait and Tackle in Yuba City.

Closing thought: "Worry never robs tomorrow of its sorrow.....it only saps today of its joy."

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Sutter County Community Action Agency will conduct a public hearing on Tuesday, June 27, 2017, at 10:00 a.m. in the Yuba-Sutter Economic Develop-ment Corporation office, located at 950 Sharp Road, Ste. 1303, Yuba City, CA 95993.

The purpose of the public hearing is to give citizens an opportunity to comment on Sutter County Community Action Agencies 2018-2019 Community Service Block Grant (CSBG) Community Action Plan.

Sutter County Community Action Agency is responsible for determining local needs and setting priorities for Sutter Coun-ty's CSBG program. The basic goal of CSBG funding is to remove obstacles to enable low-income residents of Sutter County to achieve self-sufficiency. The Community Action Plan serves as a two year roadmap demonstrating how CSBG eligible entities plan to deliver services. Testimony received will help determine the use and distribution of CSBG funds. Participation of low-income residents of Sutter County is invited.

If you are unable to attend the public hearing, you may direct written comments on any aspect of the Community Action Plan to the office of Yuba-Sutter Economic Development Corpo-ration, 950 Sharp Road, Ste. 1303, Yuba City, CA 95993 or you may telephone (530) 751-8555.

The Sutter County Community Action Agency encourages those with disabilities to participate fully in the public hearing process. If you have any special needs to allow you to attend or participate in this public hearing process, please call (530) 751-8555 prior to the public hearing, so that we may accom-modate you.

If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case 17-0049-11. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. Munchheimer On The Move fire?” The city has holes in its pockets.

The multi-million dollar street and drainage overhaul at 12th and J languished though the city had a grant and borrowed $700,000 from the county with interest and a $7,000 administration fee. No explanation for this blunder either.

Though city and county residents voted twice against marijuana dispensaries the CM and the council forged ahead to ‘save’ the city by taxing the sale of bud. The process of soliciting and vetting dispensary operators was an ethical and legal fiasco replete with violations of the Brown Act and city ordinances, crony capitalism and pay to play. The council is still ditching ordinances and cancelled a June 8 appeal on the dispensary decision to get the rules to comply with their decisions.

It’s a shame the average business doesn’t get this type of coddling. The city wouldn’t have any vacant buildings left.

Recently the city has been making gifts of public funds in the ‘spirit of helping businesses.’ However, just certain people are getting hand-outs. In most places that’s illegal.

One slice of Lemon Street worth $28,000 according to Councilmember Whitmore was donated, not sold to the auto company moving to Tenth and H. Then, $30,000 of rent was forgiven Armstrong Racing since their track was flooded in Riverfront Park this winter.

The Motocross contract specifically says the lessee rented the property knowing the state manages water levels and the city was not liable for flooding. Exhibit B Winter Operation Policy spends more than a page dictating Motocross responsibilities when the water rises. Item 27 of the contract explains the city would not suffer in the case of a loss of business when the facility is inoperable.

Furthermore, most enterprises carry insurance for business interruption and loss from disaster. The Motocross is in effect renting the property for a year around fee though only wanting to pay for the favorable months.

The city’s law firm of Rich, Fuidge, Lane and Bordsen on retainer for nearly $10,000 a month signed and probably drafted the contract. However, the firm’s attorney gave no input according to council members as they voted to give away the public’s revenue.

Since the council will make a decision about 3 administrative positions maybe the legal contract should go out for bid as well. Sometimes service providers become too comfortable and lack the diligence that a new firm may have.

Munchheimer’s high performance scored a raise recently that will reward him with greater retirement benefits. And so goes the world of public employees.

Yuba Sutter Youth Choir Announces Music Selections for Summer Session

Marysville, Ca.

Final preparations are underway for the kickoff of the new Yuba Sutter Youth Choir. The summer program gets underway Thursday, June 15 at 7pm.

“Our students will be exposed to a variety of really great music this summer,” according to Choir Director, Obie Leff. “In addition to selections from the musical theater repertoire like Annie and Les Misérables, we’ll also be working on a pop medley featuring the work of Shawn Mendes and a few of my original songs,” said Mr. Leff.

The concert themes for the two performances will be “Growing Together” for the 7-10 age group and “Beyond Broadway” for the 11-14 year olds. Interested parents or guardians should contact YSA at 530-742-ARTS or abbie@yubasutterarts to pre-register.

The Yuba Sutter Youth Choir is part of Yuba Sutter Arts’ Arts in Education program. Classes will be held at the Burrows Theater at 630 E Street in Marysville. Instruction for two age groups will be offered; 7-10 year olds and 11-14 year olds. Classes will be held on Thursdays for six weekly sessions through July 20th. The final performance will be held on July 27th. The cost for the summer session is $50 per student.

Obie Leff, has taught music in the Yuba-Sutter community for more than 20 years. Currently, Mr. Leff directs the music program at Twin Rivers Charter School in Yuba City, which includes classroom music for all students in grades TK-4 and Choir programs for students in grades 4-8.

Obie Leff

Alex Cesena, who has just returned from a three year, international engagement with The Young Americans, will assist Mr. Leff.

“I think the lyrics from ‘Why We Sing’ by Greg Gilpin, one of the songs I’ll be teaching, sort of says it all,” added Mr. Leff. “Music builds a bridge; it can tear down a wall! Music is a language, than can speak to one and all! This is why we sing, why we lift our voice, why we stand as one in harmony.”

Sutter Co Pilot for Voter’s Choice Act

by Lou Binninger

Sutter County has been chosen as one of 14 counties to implement changes to California’s system of voting based upon the legislature’s Voter’s Choice Act.

“This landmark law will provide voters more options for when, where, and how they cast a ballot,” Secretary of State Alex Padilla said. “SB 450 will increase civic participation and make our democracy stronger.”

Pilot counties can begin using the new approach starting January 2018. The remainder of the counties can adopt the SB 450 reforms in 2020.

Sutter County Clerk Donna Johnston is presenting the old versus the new approach to the Supervisors at their Tuesday June 13, 3pm public meeting. They will ultimately need to approve implementing the reforms and how it will be done. Nevada County Supervisor’s already approved their county’s use of the new system.

Johnston is soliciting the public’s input before going forward. The proposed changes will be presented through the media, mailings, meetings, and on the county website suttercounty.org/elections. She can be reached at my2cents@co.sutter.ca.us or by calling at 530-822-7134.

The current voting system requires each voter to cast a ballot on one day, during limited hours, at one location, using one type device. Absentee voters either mail the ballot or can drop it off at one location prior to Election Day.

SB 450 vastly expands the voting opportunity. Once deployed, every registered voter would be mailed a ballot 28 days before Election Day. Voters would then be able to vote in-person at a vote center, mail their ballot, or leave it at a vote center or at a ballot drop-off location.

Polling places would be replaced by vote centers. Voters would have the freedom to cast a ballot at any vote center instead of being tied to a single polling location. Vote centers will look and feel like polling places, but provide additional benefits and options for voters.

For example, citizens could register at any time and at any vote center on Election Day. They could also receive a replacement for lost or damaged ballots. People can access language assistance and translated materials. Vote centers would be connected to the clerk’s office via technology.

Starting 10 days prior to the Election and through the Friday before Election Day, there would be 2 vote centers open (Live Oak and Yuba City). An additional 3-4 vote centers would open on Election Day and the Saturday, Sunday, and Monday before (locations to be determined).

There will also be 4 ballot drop-off spots in addition to the Election’s Office throughout the county starting 28 days before the Election Day. The state mandates that drop-off locations be secure, accessible to voters with disabilities, and located as near as possible to public transportation routes.

Donna Johnston said that in the last election 76% of voters received absentee ballots and 23% indicated they would vote at the polls. However, only 55% of all those receiving absentee ballots voted and 20% of the remainder went to the polls. Previous years have seen voting at polling places down to 8% and 15%.

State-wide voter turnout continues to shrink. Bill sponsor Senator Hertzberg said, “You can stream a movie over the internet or deposit a check with your phone at any time, but without this bill, many people still have to rearrange their busy schedules to get to a polling place on a single day and that has hurt turnout.”

“For many working Californians it may make more sense to cast a ballot

the week before Election Day at a location closer to where they work, or where they drop off their kids, or where they go to college,” Padilla explained. “Why limit voting to one location on a single Tuesday?”

The Voter’s Choice Act is an effort to modernize a voting method that has remained the same except for voting machine technology. We’ve come a long way since 1776 when the right to vote began as a legal privilege almost exclusively available to white, property-owning, Protestant men. Now, all 18 year-old citizens and older of any ethnicity or religion are eligible to register and vote.

This proposed change makes it much easier for all to do.

Food and Farm News

Researchers hone drone use on farms

As they learn more about how unmanned aircraft can be used on farms, researchers also work to make drones more practical for gathering and analyzing agricultural data. A University of California farm advisor says, for example, drones can help farmers tell if trees suffer from water stress, but software needs to be perfected to make data easier to interpret. Several California universities are working on agricultural drone projects.

Flood damage in California orchards still being tallied

The extent of flood damage to Northern California orchards may not be known for months--perhaps years. Farm advisors are still finding signs of waterlogging in orchards affected by levee seepage and a collapsed riverbank. One orchard near Elk Grove, flooded in February, didn’t drain until early May; the farmer lost a third of his walnut trees.

Wet winter contributes to larger bean crop

More garbanzos, limas and other beans should be coming from California fields this year. Farmers have increased their bean acreage by 10 percent, compared to a year ago. The state’s wet winter receives part of the credit. Beans can be planted later in the spring than other crops, so farmers whose ground was too muddy to plant corn or other crops have substituted beans instead.

Prune crop rallies after lackluster year

Fans of prunes--also known as dried plums--can anticipate plentiful supplies. California farmers grow nearly all the nation’s crop, and a government forecast of 105,000 tons for this year’s harvest is more than double the 51,000 tons produced last year. Farmers report favorable growing conditions, resulting in more, and bigger, fruit.

Why the Democrats Fear Pres Trump

The Democrats are afraid of the Trump Administration. They fear that they will keep investigating Hillary and when things start falling apart it will be like peeling an onion and all the rotten things the Democrats have been up to will see the light of day. The Democrats in California are afraid. Today I saw our Dictator Gov. on T.V. speaking out against the Pres. All while our communist Senate passed a bill that Pet Shops could only sell Dogs, Cats, and Rabbits that they bought from rescue groups. Now they passed a Law that would punish firms who bid on the border wall. They are running our state like a separate Communist country I thought we were a part of the U.S.A. But they act like we are not. What I would like to know is where is the Republican Party or is there still one in CALIF? Donald Lewis Marysville Ca.

Fish and Game Making Laws

California Fish & Game recently stated they passed a law, no one will be allowed to collect insects in this state. Professors from the U.C. system said “This is absurd.” California Fish & Game Department cannot make law. This is unconstitutional. Fish & Game is not a duly elected legislative body, elected by the people. Only an elected legislative body may make law. Fish & Game commissioners are appointed by the governor. Many have no background in wildlife management. There was a recent article in this paper about fishing license sale declining. Many sportspersons have quit hunting and fishing in this state because of over regulation and Ms. Dragoneon laws. Fish & Game has poisoned the Alpine Lakes to kill the trout population in order to protect the yellow legged frogs. This practice is ridiculous. Trout populations are already in decline. Fish & Game imposes finest that are absurd. Most judges don’t understand or know the code to which Fish & Game refers to; such as fining sport persons $100 to $900 per shot shell, if for some reason they deem it illegal. According to U.S. Constitution’s 8th Amendment “No fines shall be excessive.” This is no more than a money grab. Fish & Game misplaced more than 11 to 22 million dollars years ago. After official hearings no money was found. No one from Fish & Game knew where it went, no one lost their job. This is absolutely ridiculous. California Fish & Game is the worst department of Fish & Game in the western US. They have let the pheasant almost completely disappear. It is not native to California. They should create a program that would help restore the pheasant population. I’m sure sports men and woman would support that. Western states Fish & Wildlife departments manage their wildlife for the benefit of the sportsperson. They also make millions of dollars. U.S. Supreme Court ruled the federal EPA could not make law. Stating, “They were not a duly elected legislative body. The same applies to California Fish & Game. People are better off saving their money and making an out of state trip. Their odds are better to be successful. Sportsmen organizations or the NRA need to take Fish & Game to task, all the way to the US Supreme Court, if required. Bring them back under control of the people, asking for contributions and donations. The lawsuit that would follow if successful would break Fish & Game. This is maybe what it is going to take. Fish & Game is California’s Gestapo. David A. Bennett Yuba City, Ca.

Long Bar (Part 1)

by Roberta D’ Arcy (A member of the Yuba County Historic Resource Commission)

Browns Valley, Ca. Roiling through the crevices, canyons, and flats in winter, smoothing to a placid calm in summer, the Yuba River makes its unpredictable way to Marysville where it empties into the Feather which meets the Sacramento River and then on to the sea. With a mainstem 40 miles long and headwaters split into North, Middle, and South forks the river is thought to be named by Spanish explorers for the Maidu village on its banks in 1844 which was spelled in early records as Yubu. 170 years ago small towns had sprung up along its banks after the discovery of gold, long before California became a state. These towns could be as wild as the river, bubbling with crime, crops, and entrepreneurs. Fourteen miles east of Marysville just 2 miles above Ousley’s Bar (now Hammon Grove and Sycamore Ranch) was Long Bar, one of the richest and longest lasting bars on the river. Men were mining here all along the creeks and river with pick and shovel and pan in the mid and late 1840s. Efforts were individualized, men worked alone with no financial backing except what a person could put together for himself. That all changed in 1848, a watershed year for mining and growth in the new town of Long Bar, the Yuba River, and all of California. James Marshall discovered gold in Coloma in January, Jonas Spect found it on Deer Creek near Rough and Ready in the summer, and in late summer John Rose found gold in the main Yuba River one mile below what is now Englebright Dam. Repercussions spread across the country . Gold mining activity exploded up and down the rivers of the Sierra Nevada. In September according to historians Thompson and West, 4 Indians washed out $1400 worth of gold in one day at Rose’s Bar and handed it over to their white employers who had watched them work. Indians at first did not share the white man’s reverence for gold; it was said they would trade a cup of gold dust for a cup of sugar. As they became more savvy about its worth, they worked for themselves. Long Bar began to feel the effects of the strikes on the Yuba and all over California. According to Days of Gold by Malcom Rohrbough “When Peter Burnett and partners arrived at Long Bar in 1848 and bought the rights to a place to work they paid $300 in gold dust for 1000 square feet including 20 feet of river frontage.” Long Bar was one of the first camps to recognize a “claim”; a miner’s exclusive right to work a piece of ground. As gold fever spread, men and some women arrived from all over the United States and from the countries of Chili, China, Mexico, even Ireland. By late 1849 it

Criminal Justice Reformers Target Punitive Traffic Tickets

by Chris Reed for Cal Watchdog

California reformers seeking sweeping changes in the state’s criminal justice system have a new target: burdensome traffic tickets. The leading proponent of the proposal is California Supreme Court Chief Justice Tani Cantil-Sakauye. She is working on a plan to decriminalize minor traffic infractions by having them handled in civil court instead of criminal court. Cantil-Sakauye told the Los Angeles Times that it is unacceptable that people who are too poor to pay tickets or who miss court hearings related to the tickets end up in jail or are unable to get to work, wreaking havoc in their lives. But the change would also help the state court system by limiting how much time criminal courts spend on traffic cases. Reformers say that nearly three-quarters of criminal cases involve traffic tickets, more than 4 million of which are given out annually.

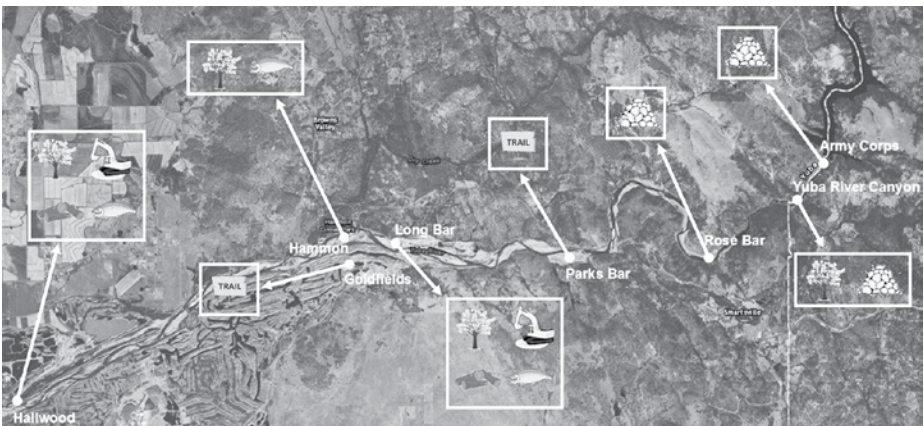

Poor seen as victimized by policies The shift of such infractions as running a stop sign, illegal lane changes or speeding modestly (up to 15 mph over the limit) to civil courts would involve lowering the burden of proof from beyond a reasonable doubt to reasonable certainty – also a change that would save resources. Momentum for the changes has built in recent weeks after the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights of the San Francisco Bay Area released a report showing unpaid traffic tickets took a heavy toll on the lives of poor Californians. It noted that from 2006 to 2015, one-sixth of California adults – 4 million people – had their licenses suspended because of unpaid traffic tickets. It documented that nearly four out of five workers commuted in vehicles and argued that the punitive effects of Golden State traffic policies went far beyond reasonable punishments. That’s because while the fines for certain driving offenses are relatively low – $100 for running a red light – state lawmakers for years have added fees to the tickets to help fund state programs. The total ticket cost for running a red light is $490 in California, vastly higher than other states. The result of this approach is state drivers being assessed nearly $10 billion a year for their infractions. The rationale that criminal penalties are disproportionately and unnecessarily harsh has driven the three other legal reform pushes seen in the state since 2014.

That year, California voters approved Proposition 47, championed by Gov. Jerry Brown. It made state sentencing policies less punitive by classifying many crimes considered “non-serious” and “non-violent” as misdemeanors instead of felonies, unless the defendant had criminal histories of major crimes. In 2016, California voters approved Proposition 57, once again at Brown’s behest. It made it easier for felons to win parole if they have constructive records in prisons and also gave judges the decision-making authority on whether juvenile suspects should be prosecuted as adults, not prosecutors.

Loggers Give Thousands in Scholarships to Local Youth

Grass Valley, Ca. The logging industry has a long history of supporting youth pursuing education and careers in natural resources through annual scholarship awards. The local Gold Country Chapter of Associated California Loggers (ACL) conducts a raffle each year to raise funds for their annual scholarship program. This year, there were two local students selected to receive scholarships. Blake Yokom from Nevada Union High School was awarded $1,500 is planning to attend Butte College to study Agriculture and Fire Science. Chase Riedel from Bear River High School was given $1,000 and is also planning to attend Butte College to become a heavy equipment mechanic. Their applications were selected from 10 submissions for the awards. The Sierra-Cascade Logging Conference (SCLC) provided eleven, $1,000 scholarships to Nevada Union, N.U. Tech, Bear River and Ghidotti High School students: Jared Creamer, Elijah Ferguson, Paige Mack, Brittney Price, Tyler Warner, Blake Yokom, Caleb Drais, Grace O’Callaghan, Chase Riedel, Courtney Andes-McCullough and Conner McClure. SCLC hosts an annual Lumberjack Dinner & Education Auction to raise funding for a number of educational programs and scholarships. The current tree mortality crisis in California has demonstrated the need for more active forest management to improve forest health and foster investments in infrastructure to process forest products. Both ACL and SCLC promote the profession of logging to the highest standards as California leads the world in environmental regulations for timber harvest activities to provide for long-term sustainable forest management. They provide ongoing education in environmental compliance, best management practices and safety in all operations. was estimated 50 bars were being worked along the Yuba from Marysville to Downieville, making for fierce competition, squabbles, and work for lawyers. The Nash family arrived at Long Bar in the Fall of 1848 from the East with three daughters in their late teens. Three young females were such a novelty it is said that men hungry for a womanly presence came from up and down the river to view them. The Berry family arrived also that Fall at Long Bar after leaving Galena, Illinois on March 17. Mrs. Berry, in a letter to her sister in the Spring of 1850, described the area “It is emphatically the land of flowers, the whole surface of the earth is a gay pasture, every hill, every vale.” This family did not stay long, Fall found them living in Marysville where Mr. Berry resumed his law practice. Not all residents found the town appealing. Women who could be potential wives were scarce. A correspondent to the Marysville Appeal newspaper in 1851 noted “Parks Bar has some good and pretty women which we just now do not. We are living the true bachelor life. But if we have no pretty women we have the gleeful Yuba dashing over rocks, and hills studded with flowers.” As would-be miners poured in from all over the world, newer techniques and tools increased productivity; cradles, sluice boxes, and Long Toms allowed several men to work together . The Long Tom remained stationary, water flowed through with gold falling to the bottom. Some of the Long Toms were hooked end to end to hold more gravel which allowed men to work all along their length. (next week Outside money from faraway investors)

Bert Manuel Announces Run for Sutter County Supervisor

Third Generation Farmer

Lifelong Sutter County resident and third generation farmer, Bert Manuel, will run for Sutter County Board of Supervisors, District 3. Current District 3 Supervisor, Larry Munger, has stated he will not re-run for the seat next year.

Manuel farms rice and walnuts near the Sutter Buttes. He is currently Chairman of the California Cooperative Rice Research Foundation and serves on the Board of Directors for the California Rice Commission. He is a Committee Member of the USA Rice Federation, and a Past Director of the US Rice Council.

“Farming is the backbone of Sutter County’s economy,” said Manuel. “During this recent recession, we truly saw how everything else can go away, but farming remains our base. We need elected leaders who understand agriculture and the huge impact it can have on growing our economy.”

"Running a successful farming operation, I deal with budgets, HR, marketing, contract negotiations, and dozens of government permitting offices" said Manuel. "My motto is 'homegrown, and can't be owned.' I want to use my experience to help Sutter County thrive."

AB 699: Law Breakers and Nullifying of Constitution

by Stephen Frank

In 1860, South Carolina started the nullification effort against the United States. In 2017, Rendon, De Leon and Brown have started the SECOND Civil War, by passing legislation that nullifying Federal law. We have SB 54 to make California a sanctuary State, nullifying out immigration laws. We have a bill to give pot growers and sellers sanctuary, nullifying Federal drug laws. Now we have Democrats in Sacramento, with AB 699 giving honest tax dollars to law breakers, trying to further nullify enforcement of immigration law.

AB 699, instead of turning in law breakers, rewards them for breaking the law with tuition aid. In effect, this department of State government is a co-conspirator in a crime—using your money.

“Assembly Bill 699 will add legal protections for undocumented students attending K-12 public schools in California by barring immigration au-

Manuel is a Life Member of the California Waterfowl Association and the National Sporting Clays Association, and a Life Benefactor for the National Rifle Association. He is a member of the California Farm Bureau and the Amateur Trapshooters Association.

He attended Live Oak High School and Yuba College, and is a graduate of the USA Rice Foundation Leadership Class.

Bert and Dani Manuel have been married for 22 years. They have two children, Olivia and Dino. The family is very involved with the Sutter High Trap Team. Bert served as the Head Sporting Clays Coach for Sutter High School and is the State Sporting Clays Coordinator for the California Youth Shooting Sports Association.

- Of course all the countries in the world have their shorts in a knot over America’s withdrawal from the Paris Accords. Those folks were slobbering over the expectation of receiving billions of dollars from US taxpayers.

- Keep in mind that Obama didn’t bring that treaty to the Senate as is required by the Constitution because he knew it was a disaster for America. A side note: It takes four years to bail out of this non-binding treaty, according to its terms.

- Climate change occurs regularly and has since the planet was formed. Keep in mind some history. In Science News (1975) a spokesperson for the World Meteorological Organization predicted that “the cooling since 1940 has been large enough and consistent enough that it will not soon be reversed.” We were supposed to be having another Ice Age according to the experts. On the other side of the spectrum, only a few years ago, the “experts” were telling us that we had to be prepared for “global warming.” When the real facts were shown, the “experts” quickly changed the theme to “climate change” so no matter what happened, they could say they were right. Virtually every prediction of catastrophe has been shown to be wrong. Examples include Sen. Moynihan in 1960 saying New York would be under water by 2000. And many South Pacific Islands claimed they would be underwater too.

- Moonbeam trotted out his ideology saying that Trump will be “sending us back to the stone age” with the Paris withdrawal. As far as we can determine there wasn’t much fossil fuel used by stone-agers. What’s Moonbeam’s point? Doesn’t Moonbeam want us to use less fossil fuel?

- You might want to think twice about patronizing Ben & Jerrys. The Daily Mail announced, “Ben & Jerry’s intend to ban customers from ordering two scoops of the same flavor ice cream until Australia legalizes gay marriage.” B&J thinks forcing you to buy a different flavor for your second scoop will make you support gay marriage. Can you see some struggling part time student behind the counter telling a 7 year-old he can’t have two scoops of chocolate?

- The Associate Press can easily drive you to distraction. Now they write “news” dispatches psycho-analyzing Trump’s body language. What qualifications does a snowflake reporter have to psycho-analyze anyone?

- According to the usual suspects, food stamp “cuts” in the proposed federal budget will pinch families. They are not cuts. They are decreases in the amount of the yearly “automatic” increases.
- The UK is rounding up terror suspects like the scampering cockroaches they are. Good for the UK. But they should have done so before people got killed.

- Another AP snowflake “news” bulletin. Latinos are dipping into retirement savings to survive. Only Latinos?

- Do you want Moonbeam and his lemmings determining the amount and quality of your health care? They will, if the Legislature passes “Single Payer” legislation. Does Moonbeam have a medical license to practice in California?

- The State Senate’s appropriations committee recently reported that the proposed Democratic thumb on health care would cost $400 billion a year — more than twice the state’s total $182 billion budget.

- Medicare is insolvent and unsustainable. Taxes and premiums cover only about 30% of actual costs. The rest comes from borrowed money (Chinese?) and is pushed off to our children, grandchildren, great-grand children and beyond. A Ponzi scheme allowed by law.

- CAIR National Executive Director Nihad Awad said “President Trump must speak out personally against the rising tide of Islamophobia and other forms of bigotry and racism in our nation that he has provoked through his numerous statements, policies and appointments that have negatively impacted minority communities,” Why doesn’t this “spokesperson” say something about those who blow up children and kill Christians and Jews?

- Unfortunately some otherwise intelligent commentators are blaming CalPERS for the dramatic increases in contribution levels. The blame should be placed on City Councils and Boards of Supervisors for voting for the increased pension formulas which caused the underfunding of CalPERS. Of course, these elected officials were only doing the bidding of public employee unions which demanded the new formulas, put in place by the Democrat Gray Davis. There is no way to sustain a 50% increase in pensions without paying for them. But Davis didn’t care; he got the endorsements from unions that he was seeking. If elected officials stop agreeing to huge formulas for all new employees and those who are not vested costs would go down. Fat chance.

- The lame-brains in the mainstream media and Democratic “strategists” are comparing the European’s love of Obama to Trump’s “pay your obligated share of NATO.” They were certain that Obama would do nothing about their failure to pay and continuing to dip into our taxpayer coffers to subsidize their socialistic policies and scofflaw tendencies. Recall the Euro’s anointed Obama with a Nobel Peace Prize for doing exactly nothing. Trump is right in demanding that the Euros live up to their contractual obligations.

- Floating through the filthy fingers of the state legislature are two bills aimed at local businesses. These bills would require landlords to keep their mouths shut when ICE comes around. If they don’t obey this illegal law, the state could fine and/or jail the owner. Another wonderful leftist idea is found in another bill which would prohibit public and private employers from letting ICE into their work-sites. Never mind that Federal Law preempts these stupid laws.

- More idiocy flows like sewage through the capital. AB 1576 would regulate how and where you shop by keeping track of purchases and how much the retailer charges. If you believe the items are substantially similar, yet priced differently, a suit could be filed demanding the business settle with you for a minimum of $4,000 or face costly litigation. What? Another reason for businesses to leave California.

- The body of Beranton J. Whisenant Jr. was found on a beach. Police have not determined cause of death. Whisenant had been handling the DNC voter fraud case in which ‘volunteers’ were caught shredding Republican absentee ballots. Will this case be covered by the mainstream media?

- In three special elections since Trump’s victory, the Democrats have been falling all over themselves claiming the results would be a repudiation of Trump. The snowflakes lost each one. And when they did, they changed the narrative to – “oh, it was only local and really doesn’t matter much.”

- Why does a simple fact have to be repeated constantly? Every time socialism has been tried, it has failed. Remember - trying the same thing over and over again and expecting a different result is a sure sign of insanity.

George Runner, State Board of Equalization Guest Speaker at Tea Party

Yuba City, Ca.

The Sutter Buttes Tea Party Patriots announced George Runner, Vice Chair, California State Board of Equalization, will be the Special Guest Speaker for their Monday, June 19, 2017 meeting.

George Runner is a former California State Assemblyman and former California State Senator. In 2002, Runner authored California’s AMBER Alert system, which has successfully utilized the Emergency Alert System to involve the general public in the search for abducted children and has aided in numerous successful parent-child reunions. As our elected taxpayer advocate on the Board of Equalization, George Runner is fighting to make sure all Californians are treated fairly and to promote tax policies that help grow our economy. He is always open to hearing our ideas on how we can work together to solve the toughest problems facing our state.

His presentation will cover the controversial healthcare bill making its way through the state legislature. SB 562 implements a single-payer healthcare system that would cost the state $400 billion per year, more than three times the current state budget. Also, of concern are the $52 billion tax at the gas pump and vehicle registration increase, the sales tax on services, and California vs the nation.

Don’t forget – Our regular feature In The News will follow our Special Guest Speaker. The issues of the day will be discussed.

The meeting will be at the Church of Glad Tidings, 1179 Eager Road, Yuba City. Everyone is welcome to attend. There is no membership requirement and no charge. Doors open at 6:00 pm; come early to socialize with like-minded neighbors, enjoy the refreshments, and get a front-row seat.

Contact Larry Virga at (530) 755-4409.

FREE CONCERT at Summer Stroll

Yuba City's own Tyler Rich will be giving a FREE concert Saturday night at the Summer Stroll.

In Concert – Singer, Songwriter, Satirist Tom Galvin

Marysville, Ca.

Do you remember the Smothers Brothers television show and the original songs they performed about the current events of their day? Yuba Sutter Arts is bringing a taste of that sort of entertaining social commentary to its Burrows Theater in Marysville when it welcomes back singer-songwriter, Tom Galvin, appearing in concert at the Burrows Theater in Marysville.

The concert is scheduled for Saturday, June 17 at The Burrows Theater at Yuba Sutter Arts, 630 E Street in Marysville. Doors open at 6:30 pm and the concert starts at 7:00.

Tom started his musical career as a touring rock and roll musician. For 20 years, he roamed the country playing with different bands in cities from Nashville to Los Angeles and even sold a few of his original songs to publishing houses along the way. Eventually, Tom returned home to Ohio and re-entered college earning a degree that led to a second career as a certified psychotherapist.

Tom makes the connection between his original music and finding the humor in the most challenging aspects of modern living. As a grief counselor, he often must guide clients through difficult personal challenges. Tom attributes his background as a musician with playing a significant part in his clinical practice providing compassionate care to those dealing with personal trauma.

Married to jazz pianist and vocalist, Gay Galvin, the couple has performed in concert several times at the Burrows Theater as a duo. They have also played for the "Applause" concert series that helps raise funds for Yuba Sutter Arts as well as for the construction of the Sutter Performing Arts Center on Plumas Street in Yuba City. Transplants from Ohio, Tom and Gay are firmly entrenched in the artistic life of Yuba-Sutter.

Come support live music in the community and enjoy this very gifted musician. Tickets are $10 general admission and $8 for seniors, students and military. Plenty of free parking is available on the streets adjacent to the theatre and at the Umpqua Bank and Bank of America parking lots directly across the street.

Puerto Rico four feet up

Puerto Rico has gone four feet up in mouse terms, which means it filed for a bankruptcy of sorts. A territory of the United States, one could argue it ran its finances like much of our country, which is to say very poorly. Although a corporation would go through what is called Chapter 11 and a municipality the proverbial Chapter 9, Puerto Rico being listed as an unincorporated territory of the United States. (Wikipedia)

3.7 million U.S. citizens live there and with countless numbers of attempted but failed conversations and proposals behind it to restructure its debt, the time arrived where the Government there decided enough was enough. What comes next is likely to be a multitude of judicial rulings and countless back and forth negotiations between creditors, arbitrating authorities and Puerto Rican government officials.

$70 billion in debt is on the chopping block and with so much as stake and many hands wanting to dip into the available pie, expect the negotiations to be a long and arduous task.

The usual solution for such a problem is some sort of debt relief being granted in exchange for the indebted country (Puerto Rico) to go on some sort of fiscal diet. In other words, spending cuts and other forms of economic reform. With many historic examples of countries not being able to stomach such remedies however, debt restructuring is usually the entrée of day.

Why so many public entities get the fiscal affliction of unpayable debt is arguably one of life's secrets but many theories abound. Overspending governments wishing to appease their constituents with a variety of social spending is certainly a factor. Over building is another.

Public improves in infrastructure and things such as education and welfare spending certainly contributes as any dollar spent adds to the mountain of debt. No doubt the popularity of such spending by the public also makes cutbacks in these areas unpalatable by politicians who wish to get reelected, which is basically the wish of politicians everywhere.

The rotating door of politics also plays a role, as each subsequent official will bear no responsibility for the spending of the administration that came before. With each new elected officials come their own ideas on what the next dollar should be spent on. With little regard or responsibility taken for the previous indebtedness, another program or plan is sure to be hatched with each new official in power. Little by little, each program and its spending adds to the mounting pile until such a time the pile of IOU's become unmanageable.

No doubt, economic booms and bust, when they occur can also fool officials to overspend. During the boom times, government revenues roll in, and seeing mountains of cash in the coffers, officials succumb to visions of massive public parks with their names on plaques, immortalization of their persona as the one who "got things done" and other undertakings of grandeur or cause. Pet projects are instigated and improvement whether necessary or not or eagerly scheduled. When the boom inevitably turns into a bust, what was once an abundant stream of cash turns into an anemic trickle. At that time, the debt amassed during the boom loom larger and larger in the fiscal windshield. With huge entitlements and spending ongoing and in motion the debt that was under taken implodes under the weight of insolvency.

Regardless of the exact cause of unpayable debt, one truism becomes clear. With the funds spent, when it comes to paying it back, somebody is not going to get all their money back.

CRITIC'S CORNER

by Matt Woolery

Wonder Woman

Starring: Gal Gadot, Chris Pine, and David Thewlis. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 141 minutes.

An American spy is shot down while escaping Germans in World War one. He is rescued by an Amazon Princess, that action sets them on a path to change the course of the War to End All Wars. Their association leads to sacrifice and a supernatural battle of the gods.

The flow of the film is stuttered and forced as it moves from point to point. Once the new act is set the actors are able to pick up in the new environment and make it work. The effects and stunt work are amazing even wondrous you might say.

Wonder Woman, earns three out of five, Swaying Monkeys. There are some truly great elements in this film, moments that raise goose bumps and hopes for the DC movie universe. However, the overall finished product and the few oddly placed and poorly joined sequences keep this from being the truly exceptional movie it should be. It is by no means a waste of money to see in the theater.
