First Annual Ceremony Remembering Pearl Harbor

"Never Forget"

Marysville, Ca.

On December 7, 2016 Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 948 held a ceremony to remember the lives lost and the survivors of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. The 75th anniversary of the attack is a "date that will live in infamy", said President Franklin Roosevelt. The President further charged the people of the United States to "Never Forget."

VFW Post 948 Commander, Ray Bull, lead the Ceremony, which may be the first for the City of Marysville. Commander Bull said, "This is not a pleasant anniversary but necessary that Navy Veteran Brock Bowen ringing the bell 21 times.

Post 948 Commander Ray Bull gives opening prayer

we remember the survivors as well as those who made the ultimate sacrifice. It is necessary that these memories not fade from our youth of today."

The Commander referenced the similarities of the attack on Pearl Harbor and the 911 attack. Did we forget? Commander Bull also said he believed that we had lost our last local Pearl Harbor Survivor in Navy Lt. Commander, Joe Langdell who died on February 4, 2015 at the age of 100. Lt. Commander Langdell was the oldest living survivor of the USS Arizona. There were a total of 334 survivors from the Arizona, there are 8 left.

Navy Veteran Brock Bowen rang the bell 21 times signifying a 21 Gun Salute.

The ceremony was closed with a prayer.

First Devil's Garden Horse Adopted

brought back home

Devil's Garden mustang adoptions began last week. One was a blue roan yearling gelding adopted by Tessa Glaze of Davis Creek, CA. She named him Tuffy.

For a mustang that had been living wild a short time ago, he loaded, traveled in the trailer for two hours, unloaded and settled into his new home with surprising calm. If Tuffy's temperament is typical, these horses promise to be very tractable.

More than 200 horses were gathered from Devil's Garden in the Modoc National Forest in September. Mares over the age of six that were gathered will be inoculated with the fertility drug PZP and returned to the territory.

There are currently more than 100 Devil's Garden mares, fillies and geldings available for adoption at the BLM Litchfield Corrals. The breakdown is GELDINGS: 9 weanlings; 13 yearlings; three 3 year olds; 8 four year olds and 1 five year old. FILLIES & MARES: 13 weanlings; 15 yearlings; 18 two year olds; 11 three year olds; 13 four year olds and 6 five year olds. Several more weanling to two year old stud colts are scheduled to be gelded this week and will be available for adoption around Dec. 20.

The colors are primarily roan, bay and black with some brown, sorrel, chestnut and grays. Some have blue eyes. The average height is 14 to 14.2 hands. These horses descended mostly from ranch horses and there is some draft horse influence as well.

Due to budget constraints and the cost of holding these horses long term, they will only be available for adoption until June 2017. At that time any unadopted horses will be returned to the Devil's Garden Plateau Wild Horse Territory.

If you would like to find a trainer to help with the initial gentling process, bios and contact information are on the Adopt California Mustangs and Burros Facebook

BLM adoption requirements and application are available online at <https://www.blm.gov/programs/wild-horse-and-burro>.

You can follow Tuffy and the progress of other Devil's Garden mustangs on the Devil's Garden Wild Horses Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com>

For adoption information, contact Videll Retterath at the Litchfield BLM Corrals, 530 254-6575 or vrettera@blm.gov.

The Gore Effect

Commentary by Lou Binninger

A sequel to Al Gore's 'Inconvenient Truth' will launch the 2017 Sundance Film Festival to give the global warming hoax new life. Hollywood is good at refreshing a story line that turned a profit.

Hoax plus cult is probably a better description of the movement. Some scientists and environmentalists cook the calculations to get a grant or regulation passed, but global warming is a religion for film folks and liberals.

Al Gore, since losing the 2000 race for president to George W. Bush, has put his mouth where his money is invested. Gore's government connections have funneled hundreds of millions of your dollars to green energy companies where he serves on the board or owns stock. Global warming has been good to Gore.

President Obama and Governor Jerry Brown claim that our inability to control the climate is the greatest threat of our time. Public educators and the media were easy converts to this teaching even when confronted with its absurdity. They're a cheap date for liberals since they still claim with a straight face that humans came from monkeys.

Students, k through college, must kneel at the climate altar or be scoffed at, mocked and marked down. Nay-saying scientists lose their grants, promotions and sometimes their careers.

The term global warming evolved to climate change when dishonest scientists were outed for pitching fraudulent numbers. The climate wasn't warming, just changing.

That was safe ground since God was the first to say so... Gen 8:22 "While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night, shall not cease." No revelation here, but people paid for college to get a Sunday School lesson.

Remember President Obama predicted his reforms could stop the rise of the oceans. Gore's movie threatened that sea levels would rise six meters (20 feet) with the melting of the Antarctic and Greenland ice sheets. New York was in danger.

Meanwhile Gore bought a beachfront mansion with his climate change profits. We then watched research ships become mired in massive increases in the ice caps. The scientists were there on government grants to measure the meltdown but instead needed rescuing from the cold and ice.

Al's movie said that the amount of CO2 'pollution' was the thermostat that controls global temperatures. However, CO2 increases have only warmed the hearts of plant life since flora can't live without CO2. Farm yields are up.

Honest scientists are confident that the sun is the key influence on heating and cooling variations. Even lowly inmates at correctional centers overwhelmingly concur that the sun drives temperature changes, and not CO2.

Al contends Hurricane Katrina was manmade. Gore also said that a continual onslaught of Katrina-sized hurricanes were to be the global norm?

Yes Al, the flooding was man's fault. Political corruption and graft involving levee repair funds allowed the New Orleans levee system to slip into shambles, inviting a deluge. New Orleans Democrat Mayor Ray Nagin is now serving 10 years federal time for "selling his office over and over and over again," said the Asst. US Attorney Matthew Coman.

Since Wilma in 2005 we've enjoyed a hurricane holiday until recently. It has been so quiet that climate change disciples quit using the H - word.

Green Pope Al also declared that polar bears were dying off. It makes sense. No ice. No sex. No little bears.

Copulating is tough when swimming for your life or even trying the wild thing on thin ice. However, for polar bear lovers everywhere the indigenous people say that the bear population is greater than before Gore was conceived.

Al has received an Oscar, Nobel Prize and credit for creating the Internet. Now, he has a name-sake, a phenomenon called the 'Gore Effect.'

This is a trend beginning in 2004 that frigid weather settles-in on global warming and fossil-fuel protests. Many events have been postponed or canceled while devotees were assured that climate and weather were not the same. The Psalmist says God chuckles when we try to outsmart Him.

A recent "Keep It in the Ground" anti-fracking protest in Denver saw a handful of participants standing outside the Department of Interior in 4-inches of snow and 20-degree temperatures. They were suffering the 'Gore Effect' and warmed themselves around a wood-burning fire that added to their carbon footprint. Other Denver residents were thrilled about using fossil fuel that day.

Maybe the climate change movement should hire Trump's KellyAnn Conway to get some traction.

Fire Safe Council of Nevada County Seats New Board

Grass Valley, Ca.

The Fire Safe Council of Nevada County (FSCNC) has seated a new board of directors for the 2016-17 year to attain their mission of reducing the risk of catastrophic wildfire in the community. All directors are volunteers who commit to giving their time and expertise to developing landowner assistance programs and projects to help make Nevada County safer from wildfire while creating healthier forests.

The FSCNC is a local non-profit, volunteer based organization working to reduce the impacts from wildfire through education on how to create defensible space, formal fuel reduction projects, and creating nationally recognized Firewise Communities/USA®. By providing this education and various landowners assistance programs, the Council aims to help residents live a Firewise lifestyle. For those unable to create defensible space themselves, a Special Needs Assistance Program helps low-income seniors and/or disabled citizens clear defensible space free of charge.

The board welcomes new directors, Eric Trygg and Certified Public Accountant, David Walker. Mr. Trygg is well known to the community through his work with the Grass Valley Rotary Club, UC Master Gardeners, Sierra Nevada Memorial Hospital Foundation among many others. David Walker has also been heavily involved in community service, serving with Gold Country Telecare, Penn Valley Community Church board and Nevada County 4-H over the past ten years. The Tahoe National Forest appointed Jacobie Waters, District Fuels Officer to also serve.

Rick Nolle, Broker, with Century 21 Cornerstone Realty was re-elected as Chairman of the Board. Barry Dorland with Patterson Fire Equipment was elected as Vice-Chairman, Dennis Cassella returned as Secretary and David Walker was seated as Treasurer.

Other volunteer directors include: Gretchen Bennitt, Northern Sierra Air Quality Management District; Peter Beesley, Pacific Gas & Electric; Crawford Bost; Bill Drown, Law Enforcement and Fire Protection Council; Jeff Dunning, Allstate Insurance; David Hanson; Bill Houdyschell, Tahoe Donner Association; Sean Griffith, CAL Fire; Warren Knox; Jerry Martinez, Bureau of Land Management; Chief Don Wager, Penn Valley Fire District representing the Nevada County Fire Chief's Association; Donn Thane, retired fuels specialist; and Hank Weston, Nevada County Supervisor with Richard Anderson, County Supervisor as his alternate. This dynamic team of professionals and residents represents a cross section of the community with a vested interest in wildfire mitigation efforts.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 70 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

I lost a true friend and an avid outdoorsman who loved to fish, hunt and camp in the mountains. Rodger Sprague passed away on December 1, 2016 at the young age of 60 after a long battle with cancer. He will be missed around the campfire fishing, hunting and enjoying the outdoors. Rest in Peace my friend and save some of the fish for me in Heaven.

The current storm will raise the water in all rivers and streams as reservoirs fill to the brim in the foothills and mountains. Streams and rivers could be blown out which will more than likely muddy up the reservoirs. Our weather source advises to expect a break in the current storm on Tuesday (12-13-16) which will only last a couple of days with another storm moving in by Thursday. He informed us the storms will be on the warmer side, with temperatures dropping down to freezing in the mountains at night, which will bring snow above 6000 feet. He also predicts another cold front hitting the valley floor and foothills before Christmas Day.

Yuba City angler Kyle Caldwell, with family and friends journeyed down to Bodega Bay last week and returned with crab for the entire family, some of which this writer enjoyed for supper. Thanks to all for the fresh delicious crab.

Trout are hanging around in the top fifteen feet of water at Collins Lake. Fish are being caught both by trollers and from the bank and are ranging around two pounds. Congrats to Johnny Grizzle on his three pound rainbow trout caught last week on power bait fishing near the campground shore.

It appears the mackinaw lake trout at Lake Tahoe could care less about the messy weather last week. The fish were ranging in the three to five pound size. Party boats were scoring on the south side of the lake. However, with the current storm moving thorough the area, expect boats to stay moored until better conditions prevail.

The current storm passing through our area reminds me of years past with rainfall overwhelming local river systems, including the bypasses with lots of high water. Catfish were on the prowl, moving into otherwise dry areas in the bypass and sturgeon moved up into the Sacramento River and its tributaries. This is happening again so go out and catch some nice fish.

Anglers are reminded of the closing of Eagle Lake above Susanville the end of this month.

Closing thought: "As we grow older our wish list gets shorter and shorter, because the things we want cannot be bought."

DUI/Drivers License Checkpoint Planned

Yuba City, Ca.

The Yuba City Police Department Traffic Unit will be conducting a DUI/Drivers License Checkpoint on Friday, December 16, 2016 in the central part of the city between 7:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m.

The deterrent effect of DUI checkpoints is a proven resource in reducing the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol or drug involved crashes. Research shows that crashes involving an impaired driver can be reduced by up to 20 percent when well-publicized DUI checkpoints and proactive DUI patrols are conducted routinely. DUI Checkpoints are placed in locations based on collision statistics and frequency of DUI arrests, affording the greatest opportunity for achieving drunk and drugged driving deterrence. Locations are chosen with safety considerations for the officers and the public.

In California, this deadly crime led to 867 deaths and over 23,000 serious injuries in 2013 because someone failed to designate a sober driver. Nationally, the latest data shows over 10,000 were killed by an impaired driver. Over the course of the past three years Yuba City Police Officers have investigated 47 DUI collisions which have resulted in over 80 injuries.

Officers will be looking for signs of alcohol and/or drug impairment with officers checking drivers for proper licensing delaying motorists only momentarily. When possible, specially trained officers will be available to evaluate those suspected of drug-impaired driving, which now accounts for a growing number of impaired driving crashes.

Recent statistics reveal that 30 percent of drivers in fatal crashes had one or more drugs in their systems. A study of active drivers showed more tested positive for drugs that may impair driving (14 percent) than did for alcohol (7.3 percent). Of the drugs, marijuana was most prevalent, at 7.4 percent, slightly more than alcohol. Everyone should be mindful that if you're taking medication – whether prescription or over-the-counter – drinking even small amounts of alcohol can greatly intensify the impairment affects.

Law Enforcement emphasizes the preventable nature of drunk driving reminding everyone that all it takes is a little planning ahead. Designate a sober driver or call a cab. But whatever you do, don't drink and drive. The California Office of Traffic Safety DDVIP (Designated Driver VIP) mobile app is now available for free download on iOS and Android devices. Launched last year, the new DDVIP app offers enhanced features, allowing users to "Map a Spot" with their current location to find DDVIP partnering establishments in their area or a "List of Spots" to search all participating bars and restaurants throughout California. Users will be offered free incentives at each bar to celebrate their life saving role. They can stay up-to-date with the latest from DDVIP and see what other users are saying via its social tab. Also through the app, for those who want to imbibe but also make it a point to plan ahead, users can easily order a sober ride from Uber, Lyft or Curb – all from one screen.

Drivers caught driving impaired can expect the impact of a DUI arrest to include jail time, fines, fees, DUI classes, other expenses that can exceed $10,000 not to mention the embarrassment when friends and family find out.

Funding for this checkpoint is provided to the Yuba City Police Department by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, reminding everyone to "Report Drunk Drivers – Call 9-1-1".

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Books & More will close early on Christmas Eve and remain closed until Jan. 4. There are no definite travel plans; perhaps just a rest time.

School will start Christmas Vacation (oops, winter vacation) on December 16th. The darling little elves will be out-and-about, so keep your eyes peeled. They have been known to pop out from behind parked vehicles; dart out into the street chasing a dog, ball, or even each other; you'll even see them flying down the roads on their bikes. Come January 9th they will all disappear back into their classrooms. We wish the kids a fun but safe vacation.

Hillside Community Church will be presenting a Live Nativity Scene on December 15, 16 and 17 from 6:00 pm – 7:30 pm. A CD will be handed out to each vehicle for narration as you pass through the Nativity. If you are looking for an inspiring and traditional Christmas event put this on your list. Hillside Community Church is located on Aero Drive (on the corner of La Porte Rd.) in Brownsville.

The local bookworm was hunting for ideas for inexpensive Christmas gifts. The family had decided to exchange reused items this year, things from thrift shops, flea market treasures, unique, unusual things. So of course, the plan to buy gifts at a used book store came up. At our local book store there were many interesting choices. The best part was to find a number of books already wrapped in series. No one wants to read number 2 or 3 in the series until you tackle number 1. So it was not difficult to find a few sets for a number of family members on the list. One job finished.

Look Back in Time – In 1885 Colonel Rackerby sold the finest Mental Invigorator at his store (we wonder just what that was).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon. Christine and Yvonne

Remembering Pearl Harbor

by Jim Nielsen Senator, Fourth District

Seventy-five years ago, President Franklin Roosevelt's chilling pronouncement entered a microphone in Washington, DC and emerged into the living rooms of American families throughout our nation.

The news that the Empire of the Rising Sun had launched a stealthy, devastating attack on our naval base at Pearl Harbor first stunned, then distressed, and finally angered our citizens. Less than four years later, American military and naval forces were accepting the unconditional surrender of the Japanese Empire aboard the battleship U.S.S. Missouri in Tokyo Bay.

President Roosevelt's carefully worded opening was a cautionary warning to future generations of Americans. He knew that we always must remain vigilant to threats to our liberty and sovereignty, many of which may strike us unexpectedly. On September 11, 2001, we lived through a similar stealth attack from foreign terrorists because we had forgotten the ongoing relevance of that warning.

In the aftermath of the Pearl Harbor attacks, our nation's heroic "Greatest Generation" responded by defeating Japanese and German fascism around the world in the greatest, bloodiest war in human history. Their courage and sacrifice quite literally saved the world.

But now the last surviving members of the "Greatest Generation" are in their nineties and hundreds. In recent years, I have spoken with military veterans of that generation, and some have expressed concern that our youngest generations are not remaining vigilant to the lessons of 12/7/1941 and 9/11/2001.

Pearl Harbor and 9-11 are unfortunately insufficiently taught in our history classes.

Like all Americans, I wish the United States always to be a force for good in the world, upholding security and prosperity for all peace-loving peoples everywhere.

Yuba City Panders on MJ Growing

by Bob Renton

Yuba City will vote on a resolution by Darin Gale on Dec 20. That resolution will be to make the MJ ordinance the same for the city as in the county. But here is the kicker: It will only apply to the "Key Hole" area if we are annexed into Yuba City.

This was presented in the latest public information meeting on Dec 1 at Lincrest School.

I question if this is legal or even fair to other residents of existing areas of Yuba City. It would mean one side of a street in the city would have different restrictions than the other side.

This is obvious pandering to voters in our area to reduce the number of people against annexation. And it shows the city desperation to annex our area. They need our residents as "slaves" to pay down their growing unfunded pension debt. That debt is due to a bloated city retirement system that most of us can only dream about. Please see my Facebook page: "Bob Renton South Yuba City".

Sutter County requires any MJ growing to be 1000 ft from a church, school, youth oriented facility, child care center or park. Yuba City requires just 700 ft from a school. It requires any MJ growing to be only 350 ft from a child care center or park. A much shorter list.

I do not trust Yuba City to execute this properly. This would be an ordinance they could not hope to enforce fairly. At the very least it would create a nightmare for Yuba City Police to properly enforce. It would also pit one YC resident against the other.

And once annexation occurs Yuba City could simply refuse to enact any ordinance. Or, they could rescind the ordinance as unworkable. Or, simply not enforce the ordinance since the YC Police Department is very busy. Especially with the drug related shootings and invasions.

Yuba City should adopt Sutter County restrictions for the whole city to treat each resident fairly. Or Yuba City should reject this resolution and call it exactly what it is: a pandering stunt born out of desperation.

Any current city resident who prefers the higher level of restrictions on MJ growing should attend the Dec 20 city council meeting and voice their opinion to city council. The city council owes each and every resident of Yuba City equal treatment. It should not matter whether they are newly annexed "Key Hole" area residents or prior residents of long standing.

Residents of our proposed annexation area are welcome to contact me to sign our petition in January. We need to know in advance of your willingness to sign to force a vote on annexation. The petition period to gather signatures is very short. A vote is not automatic. Thanks!

Trolls

Featuring the Voices of:
Anna Kendrick, Justin Timberlake, and Zoëy Deschanel.
Rated: PG, Runtime: 92 minutes.

Trolls singing, sparkling, and hugging. Trolls everywhere from the left and the right with fountains of glitter from their bums. A real Trollapalooza. The only downfall to this sparkly bliss is the Bergens. A village full of unhappy and unfulfilled folk that think they can only find true happiness by eating a troll.

It seems the writers and voice actors really enjoyed making this film and it shows. I am sure the animators were a congress of stress baboons trying to pull it all off. This is a fun and funny cartoon that the little ones in the theater really seemed to enjoy and us older kids can still appreciate.

Trolls, earns four out of five, Glowing and Growing Hair Monkeys. A fun film for all ages and well worth seeing in theaters as well as having around the house for the youngins to watch after it is released on various forms of media.

Farm Bureau Looks Toward Change

Pointing to the sacrifices made by previous generations to provide opportunity to family farmers and ranchers, California Farm Bureau Federation President Paul Wenger said farmers have the ability to change their future, if they commit the time and resources to the effort. Wenger spoke during the opening session of the 98th CFBF Annual Meeting in Monterey.

"Those people who came before us gave us this opportunity, and the big question is whether we are going to answer that bell," Wenger said, praising earlier generations who had the foresight to build reservoirs, roads and other infrastructure that allowed California to become the greatest agricultural region in the world.

Now, he said, the struggle has focused on defending the resources farmers and ranchers need to maintain and enhance production of food and farm products. In order to be successful, Wenger said, farmers and ranchers must work together—across commodities and across regions.

"We have to pool our resources, so we have the political might to change the future for this state," he said, adding that Farm Bureau would continue to work closely with other agricultural organizations and partners.

In discussing the election of Donald Trump as president and the implications of the incoming administration, Wenger acknowledged concerns about trade and immigration policy. But he said the new administration would likely focus on easing the impact of federal regulation on farms and other businesses.

"We can look to the federal level to help us, but folks, all politics is local. We have to be involved, we have to be engaged and we have to invest," he said.

At the end of his speech, Wenger returned to the theme of sacrifices made by previous generations of California farmers and ranchers to allow current generations to live a better life.

"What do we give back to make sure our children and grandchildren have that same opportunity?" he asked. "The baton is in our hands. What are we going to do with it?"

Gallagher Appointed to Key Leadership Position

Sacramento, Ca.

Assemblyman Gallagher (R-Yuba City) released the following statement today regarding his appointment as the Assembly Republican Caucus Chair.

"I am honored to have earned the support of my colleagues for this important leadership position. There is a lot of work to be done and I am ready to help Assembly Republicans pursue policies that help all Californians. We will work to eliminate burdensome regulations that hurt small business and job creation, while focusing on improving the core functions of government like infrastructure, education, and public safety," said Gallagher.

As the Caucus Chair,

Gallagher will help oversee caucus operations, advance the Republican policy agenda, and assist to achieve the caucus's goals. Gallagher previously served as the Chief Republican Whip where he provided guidance during legislative floor sessions to help advance Republican policy goals.

PLF Launches Campaign to Save California Wildlife From Feds' Water Cutoffs

Sacramento, Ca.

"Stop Starving Farms and Wildlife" is the theme of a public information campaign that Pacific Legal Foundation launched to highlight how federally decreed water reductions in the San Joaquin Valley are victimizing federally protected species.

Over the past seven years, federal environmental officials have ordered a sharp curtailment in the operation of the state and federal water projects in California. In a strategy to help two species on the Endangered Species Act list — the Delta smelt and salmon in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta — officials have imposed draconian reductions on water deliveries to the agricultural heartland of the San Joaquin Valley, and to tens of millions of urban water users in Southern California.

This policy has been widely criticized for its harmful economic consequences and questionable effectiveness (the smelt, for example, has kept declining nearly to the point of disappearing).

However, there has been comparatively little discussion of another damaging dimension — the peril that the policy creates for other species that are supposed to be protected by the federal government under the Endangered Species Act.

"We are launching an educational campaign to highlight the scandalous irony at the heart of the federal government's draconian water cutbacks in Central and Southern California," said Tony Francois, a PLF senior staff attorney. "In a so-called protection policy for two selected species -- a policy that may not even be helping them -- federal officials are causing outright harm for other ESA-listed animals by withholding water from their habitat, including the region's farms and open spaces.

"Instead of developing a well-rounded, holistic approach to species regulation, federal officials are essentially saying, 'No water for you!' to a host of species that they are supposed to be protecting," Francois continued. "This is not just irresponsible, it is a violation of the regulators' duties to safeguard all endangered and threatened wildlife from further degradation.

"In fact, we believe this myopic approach to smelt and salmon regulation is vulnerable to a legal challenge, precisely because of the government's failure to consider the interests of other protected species," said Francois. "We look forward to hearing from wildlife lovers and owners of habitat areas who share these concerns and would consider the possibility of becoming involved."

Some of the more well-known Central Valley species that are listed under the ESA, but which are potentially affected by the water cutoffs that ESA regulators have imposed, include:

- Buena Vista Lake shrew
- California condor
- California red legged frog
- California tiger salamander
- Conservancy fairy shrimp
- San Joaquin kit fox
- Southwestern willow fly catcher
- Vernal pool fairy shrimp
- Vernal pool tadpole shrimp

PLF welcomes hearing from potential supporters of our campaign throughout California and beyond. Interested individuals are invited to register at PLF's website to receive e-alerts.

Getting to this point has not been easy, but the collective commitment to provide relief to our state and local communities has proved resilient.

This is an important moment for California, and the timing of this deal is critical—we cannot afford to miss capturing water from storms during this wet season.

The agreement could not have been finalized without Senator Dianne Feinstein, and I am proud to have worked with her on this legislation. Our work on California water is by no means complete, but this deal signals that there is a path to getting more done to restore California's greatness.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

• Trump has received lots of blow-back over the telephone call with the Taiwanese President. What has not been widely reported is that Chinese flew two nuclear-capable bombers and escorts around the Island shortly before the call. Was the telephone call a message to China? If so, spot on. A "Tempest in a teapot" on the part of media. A china teapot of course.

• In relation to the above, the US gives multi-billions to Taiwan in military equipment, but no one can talk to anyone in their government?

• In 1914, a national convention of educators "condemned..... foundation grants as menacing academic freedom." How right those folks were. These days the continual need for educators to obtain grants to justify their existence causes them to spout whatever "thought and rhetoric" (no matter how fallacious) that will get them a grant at the time.

• California Fish & Game now requires lifetime fishing license holders to "buy" a new license each year. Why? Because of Homeland Security requirements. Huh? Perhaps fishing poles are now terrorist weapons.

• The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors was informed recently that the county has saved nothing as a result of Proposition 47 so far. The California law turning some felony offenses into misdemeanors to save costs has not done so. In fact, Los Angeles County reports increased workloads as well as a lack of a system to track offenders. The inmate population in county jail is also up.

• Figure this one out, if you can. A Swedish trade union has run a hotline where folks can be helped to deal with "mansplaining". Apparently this is a hotline where women can complain when men explain things to them in a condescending manner. You know, the way Ricky Ricardo "splained" things to Lucy.

• In 1919 Einstein was approached in Prague by an unknown young man who told the physicist that his recently confirmed equation would allow one "to use the energy contained within the atom for the production of frightening explosives." Imagine what the world would look like today if that one young man's insights had been acted on at that early date in Eastern Europe.

• In 2015, 200,000 illegal aliens were added to Medicaid without financing. In the most recent election, Prop. 52 (the tax money on going to a hospital) and Prop. 56 (the tobacco tax) both have provisions to give substantial new tax dollars to Medicaid. Moonbeam asked Obama for an exemption from ObamaCare, so California can give free health care to approximately 1.1 million more illegal aliens. What is the cost for this largesse to illegals? Probably around $293 million. California's total Medicaid spending was almost $34 billion in 2015..

• And the beat goes on. The National Institutes of Health conducted a $2 million study to analyze "how children perceive food, including testing to see whether or not when food is sneezed on, if 5-year-olds will still eat the food." The U.S. Department of Agriculture attempted to get healthier food options for recipients of SNAP, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, demanding tofu in convenience stores. And a grant to do grave digging in Iceland to study the cultures in the 8th century to the 12th century in Iceland. We are also paying the British to observe American volunteers so they can learn how to volunteer.

• Immigration violations accounted for 69,636 federal court cases last year. All other prosecutions for drugs, fraud, organized crime, weapons charges and all other crimes combined accounted for just 63,405 federal cases. Obama did not want to release this fact about his immigration policy.

• The discredited and lame-duck Obama administration comes out with a report that unemployment has gone down to 4.9%. The mainstream media chortles that this is almost "full employment." Of course, Obama ignored the fact that millions of potential workers have dropped out of the workplace as they can find no employment and only 62% of working age Americans remain in the workforce. The dropouts just exist on government largesse. Can't Obama leave sooner?

• San Fransicko Pelosi is re-elected as minority leader. How many national elections does she have to cause fellow democrats to lose before the Democrats wake up to the fact that she is incompetent?

• The University of California has decided that it will not turn in illegal alien students. Fair enough. Then cut off all taxpayer funding. Alumni take notice.

• Trump has criticized NATO. Since the US pays 70% of NATO's budget and the other 27 signatory countries pay 30%, Trump has a point.

• CBS is touting its slogan "Original Reporting." Original? Does that mean making up stories? Like the AP?

• In 1912, the suffragette movement paraded in New York. According to proponents, giving the vote to women would end war, white slavery, graft and corruption. Didn't Hillary get the memo?

• Joy Behar says Trump voters are racists and every other pejorative she can spout out of her potty-mouth. She has the right to her opinion — which is the excuse of losers.

• Lots of tears and nervous breakdowns on the left over Trump's victory. Trump won around 3,000 counties nationwide whereas Clinton won around 300. Hillary got the coasts and counties with large urban liberal and college student populations. If there was no Electoral College, the majority of the country would be disenfranchised and elections determined by a few highly populated urban areas.

• In 1910, the brilliant Swedish Nobel Committee decided not to award Albert Einstein a Nobel Prize because they felt his work on the Theory of Relativity was not a discovery or an invention. And yet, they awarded Obama a Nobel Prize for doing absolutely nothing.

The FBI is still studying whether the Ohio State Somali refugee attack is terrorism. Sigh.

• Sometimes Democrats simply cannot connect the dots. And the AP blithely reports the inconsistencies without noticing the disconnect. Congressman Adam Schiff (D) of Burbank Ca. says that "our most immediate threat still comes from lone attackers....who are not only capable of unleashing great harm but are also extremely difficult and, in some cases, virtually impossible to identify or interdict." Then why doesn't he support "extreme vetting" and an embargo on those from terrorist countries? Another "lost ball in high weeds" politician.

In Congress, a Water Deal for California

by Congressman Kevin McCarthy
Majority Leader, United States Congress

After years of hard work with countless constituencies, Congress is ready to pass a California water deal.

This legislation will bring more water to our communities and supports critical storage projects. It also provides resources for water desalination, conservation, efficiency, and recycling projects.

Because Your Money Matters!

Marc Cuniberti hosts "Money Matters" on KVMR 89.5 FM Thursdays at noon. His website is www.moneymanagementradio.com the next day's markets as Trump moved ahead during the vote counting only to turn back positive once it was confirmed he had actually won. What a wild ride it was for aftermarket traders!

Markets rocketed higher the next day and continued to do so at least for the first few days and at the time of this writing. Assets that benefitted initially were gold, stocks in general, healthcare, Russian markets and others. Interest rate sensitive issues such as bonds and utilities languished.

The thinking, at least during the first two days, apparently was that interest rates will rise faster under Trump than was initially expected with a Clinton victory and that more money will be spent on infrastructure and rebuilding certain areas of the economy, boosting company profits.

Trump's talk of an amnesty period for repatriation of corporate overseas assets boosted a few asset classes but technology assets strangely did not exhibit the strength other areas saw.

The markets are likely to do some more digesting of what this all means for at least a few more weeks as upcoming statements from Trump will gradually give investors a window into just exactly what his plans are as far as the economy is concerned.

Tightly tethered to monetary policy as the market has been in the last decade or so since the start of the housing blow up and banking crisis, what the Fed does under a Trump administration will likely cause continuing volatility in the markets as the Trump show continues to unfold.

Since markets never do what anyone expects them to do, trading this market is likely to be next to impossible to accomplish with any sort of certainty at least for a while.

It is probably prudent for the average investor to sit tight and let the markets settle down a bit before committing large sums of money in any one direction or in any one area.

The old adage of keeping a certain amount of one's portfolio in a cash position to smooth out volatility and retain purchasing power for the possibility of better prices down the road may be the best advice for the average mom and pop investor.

Our customer portfolios as mentioned in our last musing have been neutral to market negative since about June and although we are now moving toward a more positive stance in recent days, we are still cautious about what might be ahead and therefore are not committing too much new money too quickly.

In Loving Memory
Edna May (Stevenson) McCullough
December 18, 1926 ~ November 30, 2016

Edna May (Stevenson) McCullough, 89, formerly of Colusa passed away on November 30, 2016 in Lacey, Washington. She was born to her parents Charley W. Stevenson and Eva Belle (Frederick) Stevenson on December 16, 1926 in Wakeland, Arkansas.

Early in life she married John C. Bowden and the couple had two sons; Tony Bowden and Tommy Joe Bowden.

In 1972 Edna married Fenton McCullough. The couple lived in Colusa until 1986 when they retired to Shelton, WA where they spent many happy years enjoying fishing.

Over the years, Edna welcomed many family members and friends to her home. There was always a place at the table for an "extra" or two. She was a wonderful southern cook who loved to share her talents.

Fish fry's with all the trimmings, an on going array of baked goods and her wonderful homemade lasagna were favorites.

She was loved by her family and friends and she readily offered that love in return.

She was preceded in death by her husband, her two sons, her parents, her foster brother Jack Stevenson, her sister Bonnie Bowden, and her brother-in-law James Bowden.

She is survived by, daughter-in-law Deena Bowden of Harrison Ark., granddaughter Melissa Ann Bowden (Sean) Bramer and two great grandchildren; Gavin and Cynthia Bramer of Virginia Beach, VA, granddaughter Teresa (John) Price of San Jose, nieces Kathy Craigo of Grimes, Ann (Samuel) Krouse of Meridian and Sue (Richard) Carrion of Sacramento, nephew George (Mardel) Sandridge of Colusa, and numerous, friends and family members.

Edna will be laid to rest with her son Tony in Arkansas.

CHP "START SMART" PROGRAM

California has the second highest fatality rate nationwide, involving drivers between the ages of 15-20. To help combat this growing problem, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) is conducting classes for teens and their parents. This is a program specifically geared toward reducing collisions and injuries involving teen drivers. This innovative program is called "Start Smart," Driving Smart to Stay Safe.

The purpose of the program is to save the lives and prevent injuries to teen drivers.

This class has been held bi-monthly for the past 12 years at the Yuba Sutter CHP Office. We are reaching out to the community and encouraging anyone interested in participating to call the Yuba Sutter CHP office and enroll. The class is free, takes 2 hours, and is guaranteed to leave a lasting impression on everyone in attendance. It has been said many times, this is the most important 2 hours a teen and parent can spend together to learn about the dangers of driving. Attendees will hear personal testimony from someone directly affected by a tragic collision. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 18, 2017. Yuba Sutter CHP office 1619 Poole Boulevard, Yuba City, Ca. Please call to reserve a seat.

highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. ## Safely Heating Homes as Temperatures Dip

San Francisco, Ca.

With temperatures expected to drop in Northern and Central California this week, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) urges customers to be cautious when heating their homes.

Electric heating devices, such as space heaters, are a home fire hazard when not properly used or monitored. Fuel-burning appliances, such as gas furnaces, stoves and water heaters, can increase the risk of carbon monoxide, a toxic gas, when they are not working properly.

"We want our customers to be warm this winter, but most importantly we want them to be safe. Space heaters should only be used as a supplemental source of heat. They are not intended to replace the home's central heating system and, when not used properly, can create serious safety hazards," said Jake Zigelman, Director of Local Customer Experience at PG&E.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, heating equipment is the second leading cause of home fires in the United States and from 2009 to 2013, accounted for 56,000 structure fires per year. Nearly half of these fires occur from December through February. The leading contributing factor to space heater fires is heating equipment too close to objects that can burn, such as furniture, clothing, mattresses or bedding.

PG&E urges customers to focus on safety heating their homes as temperatures dip and offers the following tips:

- Place space heaters on level, hard, nonflammable surfaces, not on rugs or carpets.
- Don't put objects on space heaters or use them to dry clothes or shoes.
- Turn off space heaters when leaving the room or going to sleep.
- Keep all flammable materials at least three feet away from heating sources and supervise children when a space heater or fireplace is being used.
- Never use cooking devices such as ovens or stoves for home heating purposes.

• Install carbon monoxide detectors to warn you if concentration levels are high. As of 2011, all California single-family homes are required to have carbon monoxide detectors. Make sure they are installed near sleeping areas and replace the batteries at least twice a year.

• When using the fireplace to stay warm, make sure the flue is open so that the byproducts of combustion can vent safely through the chimney.

• Never use products inside the home that generate dangerous levels of carbon monoxide, such as generators, barbecues, propane heaters and charcoal.

If customers suspect there is a problem with a natural gas appliance inside their home, they should call PG&E at 1-800-743-5000. A gas service representative will be dispatched to do a thorough inspection. If you detect carbon monoxide in your home, you should get out immediately and call 911.

Sutter County Makes It Easier To Search Ordinances Online

The Sutter County Counsel's Office announced Wednesday completion of a project to make it easier to search an online database of the County's local ordinances.

County ordinances are local laws that are adopted and enforced within a local government's jurisdiction. These laws are in addition to federal and state laws. The California Legislature provided for the codification of county ordinances in Sections 50022.1 - 50022.10 of the California Government Code.

Sutter County's ordinance code had been online before, but there was no way to conduct a search for topics through keywords. Finding what you were looking for proved cumbersome.

The update allows users of the website to find all references to a word or topic in the County's Ordinance Code with either a simple search, or with more advanced phrase, wildcard, Boolean, and proximity searching techniques. The simple search feature will give you the results you're looking for in most instances — just like a Google search.

The online version of the Sutter County Code of Ordinances is revised as updates are available. While every attempt is made to keep this online version current, it should be used for reference only.

Sutter County's online version of the County Code of Ordinances is hosted on the Municode website, and can be accessed through the County's website at www.suttercounty.org, at the bottom of the Sutter County Board of Supervisors page. The direct link is here: <https://www.co.sutter.ca.us/doc/government/bos/ordinance>

The public can view hard copies of the ordinances at the following locations: the Sutter County Library, 750 Forbes Avenue, Yuba City, 10 am to 7 pm Monday through Thursday and 10 am to 5 pm Friday and Saturday; and the Sutter County Board Clerk and County Administrative Office, 1160 Civic Center Blvd., Suite A, Yuba City, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Food and Farm News

Farming still a family way of life

Farming remains overwhelmingly a family affair, according to a new report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Ninety-nine percent of U.S. farms today are family-owned, accounting for 89 percent of farm production. Small farms make up 90 percent of total farms, though large-scale family farms hold the largest share of overall production. Only 3 percent of large farms are nonfamily corporations.

New navel orange offers early harvest

A new navel orange variety being planted in California may give citrus fans something to celebrate. Growers say the early-maturing M-7 navel variety offers color, juiciness and flavor that outperforms other early varieties. The M-7 could allow California growers to compete better for early-season markets. The M-7 navel orange was developed in Australia, with commercial plantings just beginning in California.

County Farm Bureaus receive honors

Extra Extra: Read All About It Misinformation Is Still Alive and Well

Author, Chuck Frank

Why is it so hard to find the truth today? It is because the mainstream media has been controlled by major corporate players for years and years. Day by day their reports are loaded with deception which is so massive that a locomotive barreling down the track is losing steam because it can barely pull the load.

For example, it has been noted that Hillary Clinton spent a billion dollars on her disinformation election. Whether this figure is true or not, it is neither here nor there, for millions of people already know that it is big money which has infiltrated our political system so massively that true representation has been eliminated though a centralized agenda made up of hundreds of federal agencies which have wormed their way into every "sovereign" state within our nation. Instead of federal government being subservient to the states, which was the original "central" design of the U.S. Constitution, now the states are subservient to a minute parcel of land which is measured as 68.34 miles and is called Washington D.C. What happened? We the people were sold out by representatives that were bought off by you know who...BIG MONEY, and thus we now have BIG GOVERNMENT. Whether the people are aware of it or not, we still have a growing centralized government and a faltering democracy which is more accurately called the vanishing republic but how do we get it back? Isn't time to shuffle the deck and put your hope in the Trump card?

Yes, these locomotive wheels have been in motion for decades but those rusty wheels, for the sake of the people and their rights, need to be reversed before the entire country lapses into political, economic and social chaos. It is now necessary for local governments to chart their own course, free of state and federal interference who use grant money as a carrot which is meant to continue the centralization of power. Remember now, that power is connected to international corporate interests and the United Nations. This association of players has only one agenda in mind and that is the common people's money and their individual rights. Hello!

Does anyone remember the song "We Are The World?" The song represents the idea of all people coming together and accepting one another to the degree that we become part of an "international community" and this theme is meant to bring peace and love to every corner of the world. That has a nice ring to it, however, this idea is not possible because certain groups of people in the world are not peaceful, nor are they interested in blending cultures and societies to achieve that very goal.

Finally, sovereign nations must work out their own problems before they can even make solid advances in bringing more peace and love to other neighboring nations. If the people don't start at home, how can they possibly bring more peace to the world?

"Well the pistons keep on turning, and the wheels go round and round, the steel rails are cold and hard for the miles that they go down.

Without love, where would you be right now."

"Long Train Runnin", Tom Johnston, Doobie Brothers
