A Great Parade

Korean War Purple Heart recipient Gilbert M. Cortez

Marysville, Ca. – The 14th Annual Veterans Day Parade was a great success. Thousands of people turned out to honor our veterans. The parade was billed as the biggest one ever and it delivered. The number of entries was the largest and the public turnout was probably the largest. Loud cheers from the public could be heard for blocks as the troops marched past. Homemade signs could be seen "Thank You Veterans", and "Thank You For Your Service" could be heard all day long.

Along with the parade the community turned out with a BBQ at River Edge Pub, dinner at the Elks, dinner at the Loma Rica Lioness, BBQ at American Legion Post 807 and new this year there was a free ride on a Navy WII "Duk" at Ellis Lake. Truly a day long event.

Some retired Vets from Sacramento came to enjoy the parade and planned on coming back the next day to go to the Museum of the Forgotten Warriors.

Cindy Verrill and the Yuba-Sutter Veterans Day Parade Committee and the City of Marysville pulled off the "Great Parade".

Holidays at Empire Mine

"...like walking through an old-fashioned Christmas Card"

"When it comes to sharing Christmas wishes with Santa, I wonder if he works on a first-come, first-served basis," Troy Hammer, first-time chair for Holidays at Empire Mine, mused. "If so, this popular event provides visitors with the perfect opportunity to let him know early."

Santa and Mrs. Claus will be listening carefully to gift wishes in the beautifully decorated old Clubhouse on the Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving. Light snacks, beverages and baked goods will be for sale outside. With creative children's activities such as balloon sculptures, the time will pass quickly – and will be full of fun. There's also a potting bench where children can make little, living gifts for special people in their lives.

Empire Cottage will sparkle – with colorful, old-fashioned decorations. Visitors will get to meet Living History docents in lavish, period costumes, as they portray the characters who helped make Empire Mine one of North America's oldest, largest and most prosperous hard-rock gold mines. Owners Mr. and Mrs. William Bourn, Jr. will be there to welcome guests, as will Mine Superintendent George Starr and his wife, Libby. In the kitchen, however, it's housekeeper Katy Moriarty who rules the roost – and she will have plenty to say about what life was like in those heady heydays. Visitors will also be offered complimentary Christmas cookies. On Friday, singer/guitarist Kelly Fleming will perform festive music in the stately dining room, and on Saturday, visitors can enjoy Heather MacAdam's magnificent music.

Just as in Holidays of old, visitors can sing along with traditional carolers. The Sierra Gold Chorus will perform on Friday from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m., and the Katy's kitchen is always a popular place to visit. Portrayed by docent Bev Skinner, housekeeper Katy Moriarty ruled the roost in the Empire Cottage kitchen. Photo by Courtney Ferguson.

Forever Young Chorus on Saturday from 11:30 to noon.

There will also be music in the Mineyard. With covered benches by the Administration Office porch, visitors can enjoy talented one-man-band Gary Hinze on Friday, and duo Gianni Rome and Ken White on Saturday. Nearby, there will be chestnuts roasting for visitors to enjoy.

The Blacksmith Shop will be a hub of activity – as the smiths handcraft candle holders, dinner bells, and other items to be sold in the Gift Shop. It's always fascinating to see their traditional skills in action – as they share their tales of the "good-old days." No visit to Holidays at Empire Mine would be complete without a visit to the Gift Shop. A variety of unusual, reasonably-priced gifts and mementoes will be on display. This year, heritage roses, propagated by garden volunteers, will also be for sale. What unusual, treasured gifts these will make.

Each child who enters the Park will be given a prize-draw ticket. At the end of each day, a name will be drawn, and the winner will receive a special Holiday Gift Bag, full of special items from Mountain Pastimes in Nevada City.

"Many say it's like walking through a magical, old-fashioned Christmas card. Last year we welcomed over 2,000 visitors," Hammer explained, "and this year we look forward to welcoming even more. Many local residents are proud to show our Park to their visiting family and friends. It's an ideal way to fill the long Thanksgiving weekend with colorful history and holiday spirit. We welcome all ages – and everyone's invited!"

Empire Mine State Historic Park is visited by approximately 100,000 people from all over America and all over the world each year. Located at 10791 E. Empire Street in Grass Valley, Holidays at Empire Mine will take place on Friday, November 25th and Saturday, November 26th – with special activities from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. For further information, phone the Visitor Center on 530.273.8522 or visit www.empiremine.org

Election Observations

– Commentary

by Lou Binninger

Though county clerks are still sorting votes most outcomes are certain. The densely populated centers of California bucked national voting trends that elected Donald Trump.

Californians (61.6%) overall wanted Hillary Clinton. She led in 32 counties and Donald Trump dominated 26.

Of the 26 Trump-leaning counties, 17 have filed declarations to join the State of Jefferson. Four Jefferson counties tipped to Clinton. Jefferson has declarations from 21 counties in all.

By the percentages, Clinton-leaning counties are more liberal-dominated than the Jefferson Trump counties are conservative. San Francisco County voted 85.3% for Clinton while 71.9% of Lassen County residents wanted Trump. Of course, San Francisco County also has nearly 25 times the population as Lassen.

Most of the Trump counties were in the sparsely inhabited far north compared to the state's heavily populated southern counties. The top ten populated counties (1 million or more) all went to Clinton. San Francisco and San Mateo counties, both in the Bay Area also went 85.3% and 76.3% for Clinton and are not included in the ten counties above.

If the 21 Jefferson counties were a state their Electoral College votes would have been in the Trump column with fewer California votes going to Clinton. So, the proposed 51st State of Jefferson would have bolstered Trump's win.

The election showed that Californians' take on crime is fickle. There has been a death penalty for years but few sentenced to death are killed. Convicts use a generous appeals process to survive and die by natural causes. Too bad their victims missed that benefit.

So, voters said they wanted to keep the death penalty by rejecting Prop 62 to repeal it. And, it looks like they passed Prop 66 to modify the appeals process making it easier to kill those who earn the death penalty, thereby affecting 750 inmates on death row.

However, don't hold your breath until the next execution. There have been just 13 since the 1970s.

These same death penalty voters ignored the warning of district attorneys and law enforcement to pass Prop 57 allowing violent, dangerous and adult career criminals out of prison early. They also passed Prop 63 adding more regulations to buy guns and ammo.

Many counties fail to properly fund law enforcement due to outrageous health and pension costs and unfunded debt. Releasing more criminals could be the tipping point to put the public and officers at serious risk.

Californians act like they are more and more comfortable cohabitating with rapists, sex traffickers, perverts, arsonists and abusers of the elderly. By disarming themselves maybe citizens plan to offer perpetrators a scolding rather than a bullet.

Politicians and special interests groups understand class warfare. Voters are suckers for pitches to raise taxes on their "neighbors" who have a habit or lifestyle they envy or feel self-righteously put-off by.

So, nonsmokers have stuck it to smokers again by adding $2 more in taxes per package of cigarettes (Prop 56). This will make criminals of reputable citizens who smoke and resort to black market cigarettes trucked in from other states or nations. Cigarettes can be purchased in Vietnam for 80 cents per pack.

Most voters pay little or no state income taxes. The majority are for sucker-punching those who already pay 77.2% of all state taxes. People filing single are assessed a 1% increase to 10.3% on income over $250,000. And, there is a 3 percentage point increase on earnings over $500,000 to 12.3% (Prop 55.) Those who pay the bulk of all state taxes are the most able to move out of state to avoid the highest state taxes in the nation.

Then there are the renters who voted for billions of dollars in school bonds (Prop 51, D, Q, X) that will be assessed on property even though the owner may have no children in school and maybe never had children at all. Renters and voters living rent-free with parents escape the bond assessments.

Finally, Prop 64 legalizing recreational marijuana use rips off ill people who have found relief in the medical attributes of cannabis. This proposition egregiously taxes all marijuana at every step of the process, cultivating to sales. Medicinal users should get the product they need cheap and tax – free. Politicians show themselves spiteful and uncaring in ripping off the afflicted. They should be ashamed and amend the law.

Fishing for Pyramid Cutthroat Trout

Auburn Ca.

The Rooster Tails Fishing Club monthly breakfast will be held at the Auburn Elks Lodge on November 18. This event is open to club members, spouses, and non-member guests. Doors to the Lodge will open at 7:00 a.m. to share fresh brewed coffee. A fantastic $13 wide-selection buffet breakfast is served at 8:00 am followed by a 9:00 am by guest speaker, Captain Michael Peckham who will host a special seminar for fishing Pyramid Lahontan cutthroat trout. Reservations are not necessary to attend the breakfast, but attendees are encouraged to arrive by 7:00 a.m. for a good seat.

What does Pro Fishing Guide Captain Michael Peckham do on his days off when not guiding on the Delta and Central Valley Rivers? As owner of MJP River Adventures & Guide Service, he takes buddies with him to fish for the spectacular Lahontan cutthroat Trout on Pyramid Lake, Nevada. Rooster Tails Fishing Club Member and a well-respected California guide, Micheal has taken the easy drive from the Auburn area to Pyramid Lake for many years. By not serving as a Pyramid guide, Michael has taken his time to leisurely experiment with a variety of both off-the-shelf as well as unique trout lures. Relying on his custom Rogue Jet Boat that is equipped with state-of-art electronics, he has perfected effective lure presentation speeds and an effective strategy to target trophy trout.

As owner of MJP River Adventures & Guide Service, Michael takes buddies with him to fish for the spectacular Lahontan cutthroat Trout on Pyramid Lake, Nevada, the home of the largest Cutthroat Trout in the world. These massive Lahontan Cutthroat Trout grow to fantastic sizes up to and over 20 pounds in the high alkali waters of Pyramid Lake. The PH at Pyramid measures over 8.5 on the scale. The staple food source for these monster fish are the Cui Chubs. Along with the giant cutthroat, the lake supports the rare Cui-ui fish that is found nowhere else on Earth except at Pyramid Lake. As part of his seminar, Michael has invited select tackle manufacturers to display Pyramid related lures for breakfast attendees to examine firsthand. More information about Captain Michael Peckham can be found at www.mjpguide.com.

Pyramid is a desert lake located approximately 30 miles northeast of Sparks Nevada. The lake is fed from Lake Tahoe via the Truckee River. Pyramid Lake is the last remaining water from the ancient Lahontan Sea of over 15,000 years ago. Pyramid has no outlet and the water levels go down with evaporation. The native people of the area are the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe. They inhabited the land for centuries prior to the arrival of John Fremont in 1844. The Paiutes lived off of the wildlife in the area eating the Cui-ui and the Cutthroat. Pyramid Lake is located on the Paiute Reservation and is governed by the Tribe. Unlike other fisheries, Michael will explain the lake's fishing regulations, permits, and slot limits, and other guidelines for enjoying your time fishing Pyramid Lake.

The 30 year old, 200+ members Rooster Tails Fishing Club of Northern California, Inc. is a non-profit organization that meets the third Friday of each month to educate, entertain, and enhance fishing experience. Unlike many bass and fly fishing clubs that concentrate on very specific types of fishing, the Rooster Tails Fishing Club provides a balanced mix of fishing techniques presented by fishing experts targeting a variety of fish species on multiple types of waters. For more information contact Jim, Club Chairman, at 530-887-0479 or visit the club's web site at www.roostertailsfishing-club.org

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 70 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

Reports tell us the stripers are still available in the Feather River, but they are few and far between. Those who wish to catch them will need to spend time hunting them down. Of course this could eat up a lot of fishing time. While on the subject of the Feather River, we are told salmon, which are winter run fish, are still in the mix.

From what we have learned from Sacramento the trout plant program has mostly been moved to Southern California, with the exception of the Bay area. We remind you that both Collins Lake and Englebright Reservoir release their own trout from private holding pens.

Up Eagle Lake way the trout are cooperating with trollers. Apparently the best area is near Pelican Point. Fish are being brought to the net in the two to four pound range and are excellent fighters. The fish are hanging out in 8 to 10 feet of water.

With turkey day just around the corner it reminds us that the holidays suddenly are upon us. Fishing will slow down considerably in the coming months. A good bet now or in the next couple of weeks is to travel down to the Delta for some striper action, along with salmon as well. Also, keep in mind that the sturgeon are on the bite down there. However with the "summer like daytime weather" I am sure it has slowed down the transition of fish changes throughout the golden state.

We checked with our weather source and he advised to expect the warming trend we are now into to go away next week (Tuesday or Wednesday) and bring cooler weather, including some cold nights and mornings. He predicts to expect temperatures to drop into daytime 60's and nighttime 40's. If he is right this will change our weather considerably and make it feel like November is supposed to be instead of the warm days we have been experiencing.

Boot's fishing tip for the week: "Fish can see, however it is debatable if they can see color, but smell is one of the most effective attractor for all species."

Animal Disaster Assistance Drill

Yuba Sutter Domestic Animal Disaster Assistance recently conducted their annual shelter drill in conjunction with the Great California Shakeout Exercise on Sunday, October 30th. YSDADA, as it is known, is a local non-profit 301(c)(3) organization whose mission is to shelter companion animals in the event of a declared disaster. The drill was held in the parking lot of the Wilson Sports Complex due to the recent wet weather. Volunteers set up housing for dogs owned by other volunteers and a table top exercise with cats was set up in the Command Center Trailer. Communications within the shelter and with outside agencies and organizations was conducted by local Amateur Radio Emergency Services (ARES) volunteers.

YSDADA encourages all pet and livestock owners to be prepared in the event of a disaster to evacuate with their animals or make arrangements to lodge them elsewhere. The organization maintains a Resource List of ranches in the Yuba foothills where large animals could be sheltered in a disaster. Consult the website (www.ysdada.org) to find an Emergency Packing List for pet owners or to obtain more information about the organization. Information is also available on the Facebook page.

Each year, Recology Yuba-Sutter employees celebrate "Employee Owners Month" during which they recognize their employees and raise monies for community organizations. This October's fundraising resulted in a generous check in the amount of $10,000 being awarded to Yuba-Sutter United Way staff, volunteers and board members by Recology Yuba-Sutter General Manager Mike Leggins (shown far left). The funds will greatly assist the funding of Yuba-Sutter United Way's "Healthier Children" community impact grants as well as funds for the 26 local non-profit Partner Agencies served by United Way.

Colusa Holiday Faire Growing

The Holiday Faire is "blowing up" said Colusa County Fair CEO Jonathan Howard.

The vendor list is full to the point that the annual Holiday Faire Craft and Gift Show had to add an additional building. "In previous years we have had only three buildings open for vendors. Now we will have four," said Howard. "We are also booking outdoor booths."

The faire is celebrating its 30th year, and Howard said they have worked very hard to improve on the show. "This is a go-to event that helps kick off the holiday shopping season," he said.

Howard credits a long line of volunteers and a great fairgrounds staff with the improvements to this years show.

"We have a community that is filled with pride and has shown nothing but support for the events at the fairgrounds," he said.

Just as they did with our most recent fall events; Pumpkin Village, Community Haunted House and Haunted Paintball hayride, the community has come out to support our efforts to have the best ever Holiday Faire," said Howard.

The show will be open November 19 and 20. Open hours are 9 am to 4 pm on Saturday and 10 am to 3 pm on Sunday.

Food and Farm News

Cattle ranchers report improved pastures

One factor has improved for California cattle ranchers, but other factors point to continued tough times. Above-average rainfall in October helped pastures in Northern and Central California in particular. While welcoming the rainfall, ranchers say more will be needed to assure both plentiful grass and water for their animals. Meanwhile, cattle markets remain depressed by large supplies of beef and other meats.

California avocado production to decline

Avocado supplies from Mexico have rebounded after a slowdown in October. When the new California harvest begins, growers say they expect a much-smaller crop. The California Avocado Commission says groves produced a "nice-sized crop" in 2016, but volumes may drop by half next year. Growers say avocado trees tend to bear lighter crops in alternate years, but that weather and other factors may cut production more than usual.

Researchers report progress against avocado pest

There's a new way to combat a tree disease that has killed avocado trees in Florida and could cause severe losses if it reached California. The disease, laurel wilt, can be spread by an invasive pest called the "red-bay ambrosia beetle." Now, researchers have learned how to detect and control the beetle. They developed a more-effective lure to trap the beetles, and have begun producing the lure commercially.

Tests evaluate new pomegranate varieties

New varieties of pomegranates could eventually arrive on the market, as a result of trials underway in Southern California. A doctoral student at the University of California, Riverside, has planted a dozen pomegranate varieties in both coastal and inland locations, to check their commercial potential. Currently, more than 90 percent of the pomegranates on the market come from one variety, known as the Wonderful.

Farm Bureau Outlines Issues for New Administration, Congress

Facing urgent issues including water supply, trade, immigration and regulatory reform, the California Farm Bureau Federation said it looks forward to working with the incoming administration of President-elect Donald Trump and with the 115th Congress.

"California farmers and ranchers have seen, on many occasions, how federal government policies can affect their ability to provide food and farm products to customers around the state, nation and world," CFBF President Paul Wenger said. "We will provide the Trump administration and the new Congress with our best advice on how federal policies can benefit the economy and environment in rural Cali-

Wenger noted that President-elect Trump has spoken frequently about both trade and immigration.

"We'll make the case to the Trump administration and the new Congress about how reducing trade barriers benefits the rural economy," he said, "and we'll discuss ways to assure that farmers and ranchers who depend on an immigrant workforce remain able to provide jobs to those who want them."

Wenger said the elections renew hope for reform of estate taxes to assure family farms and ranches can be passed smoothly from one generation to the next, and for appointment of federal judges who administer laws fairly in the interest of all Americans. He said Farm Bureau will also ask the new administration and Congress to reform regulations that constrict water supplies and place unnecessary burdens on land management.

"Regulations must be flexible enough to encourage continued production of food and farm products while maintaining the stewardship of our land, air and water that farmers and ranchers pursue every day," he said. "For example, the Environmental Protection Agency has overreached with a 'waters of the United States' rule that greatly expands its authority over farmland, and we hope that regulation will now be withdrawn."

Happy 241st Birthday U.S. Marine Corps.

The United States Marine Corps celebrated its 241st Birthday on November 10, 2016.

The Marines were born November 10th, 1775 when our founding fathers met at the 2nd Continental Congress in Philadelphia. Among the things they voted for that day was a resolution to raise two battalions of Marines to protect American shipping and fight pirates lurking around the Bahamas.

Since then, the Marines have been an indispensable component of America's military power and legendary for their toughness and never-quit attitude that has carried them through some of the most fierce and bloody battles in history like Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima, Da Nang, Fallujah and others.

Caldwell: Guest Opinion: Amazing! Absolutely Amazing!

by Stephen Frank

There is one big loser in the 2016 election, the media. They actively worked to smear Donald Trump and to hide the criminal activities of the Clinton Criminal Cabal. CNN gave debate questions to the Vice-Chair of the Democrat National Committee, Donna Brazile. John Harwood of CNBC asked John Podesta for questions to ask Jeb Bush and Donald Trump, the ethically challenged Washington Post—owned by Amazon creator Jeff Bezos—asked the Democrat National Committee for opposition research on Donald Trump—in real language, they wanted dirt on Trump.

"The American people have spoken. It's time to support President Trump in his commitment to drain the swamp in Washington, D.C. Let's celebrate America's greatness and exceptionalism and put behind us forever the disaster of Barack Obama. And, finally, it is time to say goodbye to Bill and Hillary Clinton, to whom I say, good riddance."

The other big loser are the pollsters—only two got it right—the LA Times, which for weeks showed Trump with a small lead and IBT/Reuters which showed Trump with a two point lead. The rest were way off, for months. It looks like they, like the media, decided to use their "credibility" to depress the Trump vote. It did not work and that is why they have as much credibility as the NY Times or CNN. It is obvious they were in the tank for Clinton and the Democrats.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

94 million Americans no longer participating in the labor force by looking for work. These folks are drawing stipends from the Feds and States for staying home. The real unemployment rate is nearly 10% if these folks were counted.

- Think government is getting too big. Reports recently show that government provides 9 million more jobs than manufacturing. Isn't that "upside down"?

- Government gets more arrogant and corrupt by the hour. Even the FBI and its supposedly upright Director Jim Comey has fallen. All the alphabet soup agencies are becoming criminal enterprises rather than protectors of the public. The government requires a complete cleansing.

- Another good example. The FBI took only 8 days to go through 650K emails from Weiner's computer. But the so called law enforcement agency took more than a year to sift through 30,000 Hillary emails. Isn't it instructive what a 40 minute secret meeting on the tarmac at a Phoenix Airport can do?

- Think how far we have come. Trying for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1900, Admiral Dewey said "since studying the subject, I am convinced that the office of the President is not such a very difficult one to fill..."

- The so-called children refugees in the "jungle" in Calais, France aren't so young. News reports in the London Sunday Times show that some claiming to be children are actually over 20. And they are young men of military age. The USA needs to watch out for this phenomenon among the Syrian refugees Obama has unleashed all over our country.

- We're not the only ones who have challenges with the environmentalists. Britain reports that 227K cattle have to be destroyed because of bovine TB primarily spread by Badgers. And there are an estimated 400k badgers roaming the English countryside. There has been an eradication program which has brought out the do-gooders in droves to "save the badgers" and at this writing killing a badger has cost Britain some $10,000 each. Who will win this war?

- The unions intend to drive Uber out of business. Court rulings on union lawsuits have said Uber drivers are employees, not independent contractors. Before long, those wanting to earn pin money as Uber drivers will not be able to and more folks will join the unemployment lines, thanks to unions.

- A letter to the editor in the London Daily Mail said "Another failed landing on Mars. The Martians obviously have better border controls than we do."

- Josh Glancy, in the London Sunday Times says "We are the goldfish generation: digital addiction is shrinking our memories and eroding our attention span. Fears are growing that unless we learn to unplug now, to control technology before it controls us, we may never do so. We will become the slaves of technology." The effects of hand-held devices is seen everywhere. Folks look at their phones rather than each other. They start crossing the street without watching. They slam their cars into buildings. They walk down in the middle of train tracks without hearing the warning whistles.

- Among the celebrities who said they would leave the country if Trump won the presidency include Barbra Streisand, Miley Cyrus, Jon Stewart, Cher, Samuel L. Jackson, Whoopi Goldberg, George Lopez, Ruth Bader Ginsberg and Rev. Al Sharpton. Have a nice trip. Need any help packing?

Starring: Tyler Perry, Cassi Davis and Patrice Lovely.
Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 103 minutes.

The scary movie season is over, but when your brother-in-law wants to go to the movies, this is the one you go see. Madea, is begged into coming over to watch her granddaughter, by her son while he goes out of town. She knows the granddaughter is going to sneak out to go to a party. When this happens, hilarity ensues and clowns and zombies run amok.

The story is molded around comedy and with Tyler Perry playing three characters it is a busy set. The acting was good and the timing of the jokes is great. The production value is good.

Boo! A Madea Halloween, earns four out of five, Prescription Carrying monkeys. This is a funny film and you know what you are in for when you go see it. There is a lot of drug use, but no naked folk. Have fun.

A Veterans Day Message

from Senator Jim Nielsen

A few years ago, I witnessed a horrific scene that will always remain with me: a homeless veteran died in the street and lay there without identification.

Anonymous. No one to claim his remains. It was only later that it was discovered that he was a veteran, and that he served our country honorably.

This is unacceptable in our country. We are privileged to live in "the Land of the Free, and the Home of the Brave" —thanks to the dedication of this man and countless others.

Veterans sacrifice their lives when they serve. They give up their freedom so we can enjoy ours.

It is shameful that veterans are living on the streets. It is shameful that they do not have access to the healthcare and mental health services they so badly need. It is shameful that they are not given proper training to find employment when they make the difficult transition back to civilian life.

This is why we are fighting for our veterans to receive better education, job training, and healthcare services.

We must do more for our veterans. We owe it to them.

Every year on Veterans Day, Marilyn and I proudly display the American Flag in front of our home to show our appreciation and gratitude.

On this Veterans Day, and every day, we as Americans must thank our veterans for the sacrifices they make.

Because Your Money Matters!

Marc Cuniberti hosts "Money Matters" on KVMR 89.5 FM Thursdays at noon. His website is www.moneymanagementradio.com

Have a lot of people vote on taxes they won't pay themselves and you will have a lot of taxes, and that's what we have, a lot of taxes.

Have a lot of taxes and some people will go broke, end up poor and needing welfare and assistance, and that's what we have, more poor people, more people on welfare and more people needing assistance.

Tax people who make more and they will make less to avoid the taxes. And that's what we have, more people working less.

Our tax base says the more you make, the more taxes you pay. How is that for incentive? If I make more you will take more of it so guess what? I won't work more.

We have a tax structure that punishes people for working more and making more money and rewards them for working less and making less money. No one would argue that is how the tax system works in today's world.

Kind of goes against the basic logic of incentive logic doesn't it? Try instigating that type of reward system on your kids and see how much sense it makes to them. It won't, not now, not ever.

How about doing the opposite?

How about a graduated tax that gives people incentive to work more rather than work less? The more you make the LESS you pay. That's incentive geared in the RIGHT direction.

Cut more lawns, you pay less tax. Flip more burgers you pay less tax.

On the flip side, do you want to stay home and not work much? You pay through the teeth and go hungry. More reason to get off your butt and get a job, any job.

Want to work a few extra hours to contribute to your great economy? Great, you pay less tax. Take a second job to make more, you pay even less. Now that's a plan I could get behind. While they run me out of town that is.

It's a basic Pavlovian response tax plan however. So simple and logical it boggles the mind who fail to see its benefits. It goes like this: the more you work the less you pay, the less you work, the more you pay. So how many of you would work more to pay less tax?

How about we look at how the human mind operates and instigate a graduated tax plan that rewards the workers and punishes the lazy?

Do that and the economy would hum so fast and loud it would make your head spin.

Students From Marysville High School

Participate in 2016 El Dorado Forestry Challenge

Grizzly Flats, Ca. Five students from Marysville High School participated recently in the 2016 El Dorado Forestry Challenge, one group of a total of 84 high school students from 13 schools from northern California. The event was October 26 to 29 at Leoni Meadows Camp, near Grizzly Flats, California.

One of the highlights for the students this year was learning how to conduct a "Brown's Transect", a method to quantify woody debris on the forest floor. The study area was the site of a fuels reduction project in 2008. Students entered the data into a fire behavior computer modeling program to determine optimum conditions under which to conduct a prescribed burn in the project area. During the Challenge, teams of students also completed field training, followed by a field test, to assess their technical forestry knowledge and data collecting skills.

"This competition requires teamwork and critical thinking as students learn about a precious natural resource," said Marysville High School teacher Bonnie Magill. Leilani Chavez, a sophomore at Marysville High School, summed it up as follows: "Overall, it was a great experience, broadening my horizons in agriculture, that forestry is a part of the industry."

Swing Dance Offers Free Lessons

November 19

Grass Valley, Ca.

Dance to big band hits from the 1930s, 40s and 50s – and support music in our public schools!

Nevada Union High School's award-winning Jazz Band will play during Harvest Swing, 6 to 10 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 19, at the Grass Valley Veterans Memorial Building, 255 S. Auburn St., near downtown Grass Valley.

Nevada City dance teacher Matt Richey will offer free lessons at 6:15 p.m. Richey was a judge at "Dancing with Our Stars" in Grass Valley. He has won more than 55 competitive dancing titles and, in 2014, took his first international title for West Coast swing at a competition in France.

The Rockabilly Love Cats, another Nevada County band, also will play a set. A professional photographer, Acacia Donovan of Acacia Studios, will offer photos under a full harvest moon. Vendors will sell food and beverages.

Cost is $15, and tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at HarvestSwingDance.bpt.me for a small fee.

All proceeds will be used for specialized musical instruction for band students. Scanty state funding for the arts and declining local enrollment mean music classes at the high school have been combined, leaving less time for small-group instruction. This fundraiser will support extra help to students developing their musical talents, improving the overall performance of the entire band.

Tenor saxophone stand-out Adriana Martignago and trumpeter Logan Siemers are among the talented musicians of Nevada Union High School's Jazz Band, which will play big-band standards for the Harvest Swing Dance from 6-10 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 19, at the Grass Valley Veterans Memorial Building.
