Marysville Gold Sox Hit Big Home Run for Community

Community sports teams around the nation are leveraging their brand and resources to better their communities. The social impact is rising rapidly. Community sports teams build programs with social impact of sports philanthropy is growing to address a whole host of social issues, from bringing sport to underprivileged populations, empowering young women, teaching healthy lifestyles and encouraging children to stay in school longer and exercise. Today's Community sports team like the Gold Sox possesses all the tools for a successful social program. Though the driving motivation behind sports philanthropy was originally altruistic, today, teams have found that their philanthropic activities add core value to the organization and benefit the team. Marysville Gold Sox identifying the powerful impact their brand has on members of their community, and as fan-based organizations, their success relies on building a strong and engaged community. "We love our community and refuse nobody who walks in our front door", Said GM Michael Mink. "It's our job to do more every day because we know we can do more". Baseball is something magical for all ages and it is game that can change lives immediately. Looking back at the 2016 season the Gold Sox may not have won the Pennant, but won a lot of new hearts and minds for the future of the program. www.goldsox.com.

MJUSD Refinances Bonds

Marysville, Ca. The Marysville Joint Unified School District sold approximately $28.5 million of refunding general obligation bonds for the Measure P general obligation bond measure that was passed by voters in 2008. This sale of refunding bonds was pursued by the District in an effort to generate savings for taxpayers. The financing will close on November 10, 2016. Due to historically low interest rates in the municipal bond market, combined with high investor demand for the District's bonds, the refinancing resulted in savings greater than expected. Through this refinancing, property owners in the District will save nearly $4,600,000 over the remaining term of the bonds, which equates to approximately $172 over the same period for the average homeowner in the District.

In a school district general obligation bond refunding, similar to refinancing a home mortgage to a lower interest rate, proceeds of the new bonds are used to retire the older bonds. Unlike refinancing a mortgage, the term of the original debt is not extended. With municipal bond rates near historic lows, the District was able to refinance at an all-in cost of 2.97 percent compared to the prior average interest rate of 5.17 percent on the original bonds issued in 2009. The lower interest rates reduce the debt service payments, which results in savings to taxpayers.

The refunding reflects the commitment of the Board of Trustees to effectively manage its bond program, which is funded by taxpayer dollars. As the prior bonds are paid off in the next 18 years, this refunding is a prudent step to ensure remaining payments are as low as possible. The result of this bond sale highlights the District's sound financial management and its stewardship of the taxpayers' interests.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 70 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

We reported last summer about the low water at Lake Tahoe. In fact, it was so far down you could see the sand bars off of South Shore. Well folks, we have good news. The water level at the lake has increased, with the last storms, which makes is up almost four inches which does not include any runoff. This is good news for a state that has had drought conditions for the past four years.

A while back, in fact several months, maybe a year, we talked about the plans in Sacramento to eradicate the striped bass industry in California. This plan included the Central Valley region as well as other areas. The plan was to change the regulations to the point we the anglers could take all fish, with no size limits, anytime we wet a line. Several proposals were challenged and stopped, but the idea still looms in the minds of many men. We need to look into this crazy plan and do what we can to stop it once and forever. If you are interested in putting a stop to this ridiculous idea you can get more information by email at msturm@asafishing.org.

Once again we have reports of stripers on the move at Verona. Reports tell us the bass are running on the large size with some approaching thirty pounds. Apparently the recent storms have the fish moving up the Sacramento River. In addition, lures and plugs are bringing some nice black bass to boats and nets.

This last storm, which produced lots of rainfall in certain areas of California, has muddied up streams, creeks and eventually the river systems. Expect sturgeon to be on the way in the future and do not forget the catfish, which love to feed in the flooded areas for an abundance of food.

Our weather source has told me to expect a continuation of wet weather, which will bring occasional periods of dryness, but overall will produce a wet one for this winter. He also advised to expect reservoirs to fill and Valley Rivers to flood the river bottoms.

Closing thought for the week: "The seven wonders of the world...To See...to Hear...to Touch...to Taste...to Feel... to Laugh and most of all to... Love."

Osumi's Tractor

by Rod Hicken

My adventure with old tractors has led me into an interesting journey. Upon arriving home from a third world country visit, the realization of appreciation for being lucky enough of being born in America has been deepened. Liberty is the ingredient that has made us prosper and a focus of desire to live. Our country is not perfect and at times decisions made are less than admirable judged by hindsight.

However, many families of the Yuba Sutter Basin have overcome great diversity and their contributions have become part of the woof and warp of our community. Such is the Osumi Family. When David Osumi was a young man his family was interned in Poston, Arizona during World War II. It is hard for me to imagine my family having dinner, a knock on the door by government agents, and my whole family removed to an unknown place. What would have been the range of feelings of an American of Japanese ancestry elementary student on December 5th and December 8th 1941. Yet the quality of character came through as David recalled the pleasant times of hiking, fishing, and he was happy to have someone who would play with him!

When the family returned to their farm in Sacramento everything was gone and other people had possession of the property. A friend assisted them in the move to the Yuba City area. The new home was not much, but they worked hard and smart at whatever they could find that made money. The domiciles improved and the farming operation grew. Like many tomato farmers of that time he leased different plots and rotated the crops. He finally secured a small family farm and the four children grew up on Stewart Road. Mitzi his wife, is still alive and gave birth to Bruce, Mike, Karen and Kirk.

David's first tractor was this 1948 Farmall Super AV, serial number 261249 which he purchased from Henry Miller Senior in the new dealership of Valley Truck and Tractor. Valley Truck and Tractor began as an International Harvester agency in 1948. The AV was used to cultivate tomatoes on various sites around the area including working in peach orchards. The tractor is somewhat unusual in that David bought a Hydra-Creep auxiliary transmission to slow the cultivating process so the plants would not be damaged. The Super AV had a hydraulic lift instead of the mechanical lift of the A. About 1,400 Super AVs were built and sold for about $750 and up depending on accessory items. The C123 engine produced 13 horsepower on the drawbar and a claimed 16 horsepower on the belt. Super AVs were produced from 1948 to 1954. This model weighs from 2,400 pounds to 3,450 pounds depending on options.

I met Mike at Tractor Supply and he invited me to see his Dad's tractor. We went to the family barn, opened the door and there it was! Stolen radiator, absent grill, rotten tires, dirt, dust, and highlighted by pigeon droppings. It was a jewel at first sight. This little tractor left in the barn still had important work to do after the family made the tractor available to me. I contacted Jeff Magill, the Farm Mechanic Instructor at Wheatland High School. We discussed the unit and he said he had a young man who could restore it and he was looking for a sponsor. Bruce and Mike approved of the project. I then met the fine young man, Lucas Skinner. Lucas spent over a year restoring the little Farmall and it was presented to the public at the Yuba County Fair. It will also be in several upcoming local parades. The tractor has received rave reviews from people in the Vintage Tractor hobby. Lucas did an outstanding job. Lucas has now moved on and is a Mechanical Engineering Major at Sacramento

State.

Again, an old tractor and a Yuba Sutter family are part of our history and participating in an effort that will outlast them.

Many thanks to Northstate Bandag, Commercial Diesel Electric, and Golden Valley Auto Body for their assistance in the project.

Palm weevil concerns insect specialists

An insect that can kill palm trees will be the subject of a meeting near San Diego Wednesday. The South American palm weevil feeds on the crowns of palm trees, and causes enough damage the trees eventually die. Weevils have been found in San Diego County, and specialists say they don't know how far the insects may have spread. Authorities consider the weevil a threat both to ornamental palm trees and to date palms.

Animal-health lab set to open

A new laboratory designed to protect animals and people from diseases will be dedicated in Tulare Friday. The lab will add to a state system of animal health and food-safety facilities. It will help with rapid detection and response for routine illnesses and more serious outbreaks that can harm farm animals, such as foot-and-mouth disease or avian influenza. The lab will be operated by the University of California and the state Department of Food and Agriculture.

Asian weather affects vegetable demand

Typhoon damage to crops in Asia has led to increased demand for California-grown vegetables. California exporters say they're selling more produce to Japan and Taiwan in particular, because of typhoons that have hit those islands this autumn. Much of the new demand appears to be affecting broccoli and lettuce. Marketers say increased vegetable demand from Asian markets may extend into early November.

Organization ranks top college farms

A dozen campus farms at California colleges appear on a list of the nation's top college farms, compiled by an organization that promotes online college planning. The Ecological Agriculture Center at Santa Rosa Junior College ranked No. 1 on the list of top 60 campus farms. The ranking organization said it based its standings on farm size, crop variety and the number of degree options related to sustainable agriculture.

All Lives Matter

Author, Chuck Frank
Less we forget, the common consensus is that America reflects the aim that supports in principle that all lives matter, and that is whether people are red, or yellow, black or white, bronze or Asian, Arabian, Mexican, East Indian, or an Islander. While there are many that support the idea of equal justice that would further this ideal, one can never legislate something that actually must come from the heart. For a country to succeed in perfect harmony, a greater understanding that is outside of the legalistic norm of conformity must be accomplished and here is an example of this.

There is not one child born in this world that is more important than another and if someone wants to believe that they are but a cut above the rest, they need to understand that every person has a value that is far above rubies or gold and no one should ever be judged and measured as being greater than another.

In spite of the desire to reach a peaceful and prosperous existence, millions of innocent people in the world, which includes those in America, are at odds with each other but generally because they were in some way influenced or taught by parents, peers, teachers, religious leaders, government leaders or the mainstream media which elevated certain views and ideas wrongly that ended up pitting one group against another or placed various groups of people superior to the rest. And consequently, the end result of all of this. is unrest, chaos and a divided nation.
Furthermore, what is surely missing in this revolutionary model is a lack of respect, caring, patience, self control, joy and genuine love for another. And for those persons who choose to embrace a more fruitful and positive attitude towards life, they will finally capture that age old vision and rise above the crowd and will begin to reach out to all people which includes the rich or poor, the unlovable, the down trodden and the outcasts of society. And finally these accomplishments will not be in vain nor the result of government intervention and a host of laws that creates extreme bondage's. It will be the result of good will towards all men and women and will solidly be attributable to the transformation of a new heart.

The Christian Treat by Pastor James

Can a Christian let you down? If so, does that make them less Christian...? Is forgiveness a sweet treat?
The question deserves a look!
I recently purchased some fishing waders on-line from my favorite sporting goods store. They've always treated me fair, and I usually get items on sale and free shipping... then my wife has a hard time saying, 'no!' Especially after I already purchased them!
So, after two orders, one exchange, two charges, two products - sent not the right size, and a month later. No merchandise! With one charge on my bill, not removed!
After talking with 6 separate people, to get the last refund (They kept calling it an exchange - but they charged me again! Argh...). Two from their online ordering desk, two from their credit card bank, and two from customer service... I'm still waiting!

What gives Christian's distinct ability is knowing Jesus as our Lord and Savior, having received forgiveness of our sins, we're born again, following Jesus resurrection we go to heaven after this physical body dies. We're given a guarantee, His Holy Spirit, a down payment of the price Jesus paid from the cross, with His blood! (John 3:16-18; Romans 5:8; 6:23; Eph 2:8-10)
A Christian's distinctiveness is: offering the same forgiveness to others, not thinking somebody else's stuff (Sin; mistakes; failures; or being a pain) is worse than our stuff, and theirs not worth forgiving!
So, I'm still waiting, for my refund, I know it will happen, it was a mistake, and I am not going to hold it over their head... I'm still going to buy merchandise from them, and I would tell anyone they're a good company that made an honest mistake.

Eternal forgiveness is free, not cheap. A treat for Christians, those bought by the blood of Jesus. We believe by faith, we trust - that what God's word says in the bible is true.
I don't have to go thru 6 different people, to get an answer, just one...
Jesus said, 'I am the Way, the Truth and the Life, no one comes to the Father but through Me!' A few chapters before, He said, 'If you shall know the truth, the truth will set you free!' (John 8:32; 14:6)
Have you been tricked? Or treated? If treated then give forgiveness away... because it's sweet and Jesus forgives us, all!

Murals of Live Oak (MOLO) Project Ready to Launch

Marysville, Ca.
The Yuba Sutter Arts Council (YSA) is pleased to announce its newest public art project, the Murals of Live Oak. In partnership with the City of Live Oak and its Economic Development Committee, YSA is putting out a "Call to Artists" to submit entries with their ideas for murals.
The mural themes established by the City will include:
• Live Oak's natural beauty and Native American heritage • Live Oak's early agricultural settlement and history

• Live Oak's railroad history
All murals will also incorporate the presence of an Oak Tree or Oak Trees, re-establishing, in art, the once dominant oak forests.
Through grant funds awarded by the City of Live Oak and matching funds from the National Endowment for the Arts for Phase 1, the project will enable YSA to broaden its "Art Everywhere" vision throughout the Yuba-Sutter area and especially in Live Oak.

"We were honored to have been chosen by Live Oak as its designated consultant on this important project," said David Read, YSA Executive Director. "Public art and murals especially are a proven way to increase community pride and civic engagement," added Read.
The project is designed to enhance both the north and south entries into the city along Highway 99 with large scale murals on buildings along this main corridor. Additional murals will be created throughout the community as well.

The Live Oak Unified School District will also be involved both as sites for future murals, but also as a way for students to become involved in a community public art project.
Interested artists should visit www.yuba-sutterarts.org and review the Call to Artists - Project Submission Guidelines and, when ready, submit the Entry Form along with their mural design concepts.
Interested building owners should also contact YSA in ordered to be considered for the project.
In addition to artists and building owners, Yuba Sutter Arts is also looking for community member volunteers interested in serving on the project committee. This will include helping to judge the mural entries, coordinating with building owners and artists and helping as a liaison with the schools.
The deadline for Phase 1 mural submissions is December 1, 2016.

"Give me liberty or give me death"

Years ago a nation repressed. Over taxation by the monarchs, too much in your face meddling by the so called rulers and just basically having had enough, a group decided to flee their homeland in search of a new one.

Across the treacherous Pacific they came, here to America. Boat after boat arrived, not without peril of course. Some drowned, others eaten by natives because they landed somewhere else I suppose. Disease took some more and those that did arrive had to survive harsh winters, unknown perils and hostile inhabitants in some cases. But came they did, traversing farther west, until the whole nation was conquered, or inhabited as some might say.

They established new rules, even fought off the rulers from their old stomping grounds as they tried an across the ocean tax grab. Since no army can really inhabit another's land for long, the ruler in Britain gave up and said the hell with 'em.

So the newly found nation penned its Constitution and Articles and set off to live a life on based on the concept of liberty. Some say Democracy but that has its flaws.

Preposterous some say, how could Democracy be flawed? After all what is better than the will of majority? Well, it can also be called mob rule right? If my mob has more people than your mob, we rule. That's called strength in numbers and that is the epitome of democracy- the great numbers get their way

But Democracy flawed? Maybe. Think of two wolves and lamb, deciding what to have for dinner.

The majority of course, the two wolves, would have lamb chops for dinner under the rule of democracy, after all they will win the vote. But the poor lamb, being a minority, will forfeit his liberty and life to satisfy the mob, aka the democratic decision.

Ah, but others might say liberty is where the vote is taken but the lamb in this case is well armed and has the means to defend itself from the ruling mob, in this case the two wolves.

The lamb's liberty and therefore his rights are now defended by his right to bear arms you could say. That it is his right and it works out pretty well for the lamb. The wolves will have to consider another alternative and one that doesn't trample another ones rights

We can conclude that Democracy might not work for you so well if it's your rights and your liberties being violated by the majority.

Liberty then could be thought of as, you have the right to do what you want, as long as it doesn't infringe on the rights of another. Now that sounds like a better deal. The wolves have the right to WANT to eat the lamb, but if the lamb objects, his rights would be infringed upon because basically he would die. Not so good. So the wolves, under liberty, cannot exercise their right to a lamb stew despite having the majority as that would infringe on the lambs right to life.

One could draw it out a bit further and say, you have the right to want to help out someone, but you don't have the right to force another to do so, even if it might appear to be the right thing to do. The same could be said for taxes. You have the right to vote on a tax you would pay, but you don't have the right to vote on a tax another would pay, especially if you won't pay it yourself.

Want a tax to help the homeless? Go ahead and pay it, it's your right, but you can't force another to pay it, THAT infringes on his right to keep his money.

In any case, you can bet it wasn't the lamb who said give me democracy or give me death, in fact nobody said that. But there was a wise man who insisted "give me liberty or give me death".

There is a big difference between Democracy and Liberty. They are not the same, just ask the lamb. One tramples rights in the long run, the other insures them forever.

CRITIC'S CORNER

by Matt Woolery

The Accountant

Starring: Ben Affleck, Ann Kendrick and J.K. Simmons.
Rated: R, Runtime: 128 minutes.

The Accountant, tells the story of a high functioning autistic man that finds work in the exciting world of black market accounting. To take a break from dealing with drug dealers and gun runners he takes a job auditing the books of a prosthetic manufacturer. Nothing safer than a company run by John Lithgow. The story is well crafted with surprising depth and a few twists that bring the movie to the next level. The acting is very well done and Ben Affleck does a great job bringing depth to a character with little dialog. The cinematography was good except for the fight scenes. The shaky cam makes an appearance like me at a karaoke buffet wearing a month old gorilla suite, not fun for anyone. The Accountant, earns four out of five, Target Melon Monkeys. This is a fun movie to watch except for the shaky cam. The things I missed by not going to accountant school.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

- “When you see that in order to produce, you need to obtain permission from men who produce nothing – When you see that money is flowing to those who deal, not in goods, but in favors – When you see that men get richer by graft and by pull than by work, and your laws don’t protect you against them, but protect them against you – When you see corruption being rewarded and honesty becoming a self-sacrifice – You may know your society is doomed.” (Ayn Rand, Atlas Shrugged)
- If humans are responsible for 95% of wildfires how can the mainstream media blame them on climate change?
- Hollywood beats its collective chest over guns, saying they must be eliminated. Yet every film coming out of their studios has the actors carrying the largest assault rifles available and most film disagreements are settled with a gun. Hypocrites.
- The Florida Supreme Court says the state’s death penalty is unconstitutional. Where in the Constitution does it address this issue? Have these “do-gooders” ever opined that killing someone is unconstitutional? What, then, do we do with killers? Send them to a house with free food, free clothes, free medical care, free TV, free exercise equipment, free legal teams, even free sex change operations?
- Apparently The Nobel Prize Committee was smoking funny cigarettes just before voting on this year’s awards. They gave an economics prize to some eggheads working on “Contract Theory” and then followed up by awarding the Literature prize to Bob Dylan! Recall that they gave the Peace Prize to Obama when he hadn’t done anything significant.

- Consider that before the election the mainstream media was virtually silent on emails showing anti-Catholic comments among Hillary’s top echelon. Wouldn’t that be hate speech if voiced by a conservative? Perhaps the press thinks that hate speech is perfectly okay if expressed by liberals.
- Obama keeps pushing back illegal alien deportations, some as long as to 2023, including the unaccompanied minors who came across in droves in 2014. Yet Obama and Hillary keep harping about family re-unification, charging Republicans with wanting to tear families apart. Sending these kids back to their families is not reunification? Why don’t the Democrats do what they claim is right?
- People sometimes are as dumb as fence posts. They think police should stand by with their hands in their pockets when a fleeing subject turns with what could be a gun in his hands and adopts a combat shooting posture.
- Political correctness is nothing more than anti-free speech.

Consider this: people across the country who can’t seem to get past Trump’s earthy comments, (claiming to be “offended”) purchased 125 million copies of the book, and 400 million theater tickets of 50 Shades of Grey.

- Obama has demanded car companies build less safe cars. How?
- He supported “Cafe Standards” under which automakers must make cars more fuel efficient. Unfortunately the only way to meet these criteria is to make the cars lighter. And if they are lighter they are more prone to damage in an accident and it is more likely you will be injured or killed. An analogous situation to Obamacare – if you are older, then you can’t get meds to keep you going. Therefore, you die and are not an expense to the gov-

- College students are getting such a good education, some are dumber going out than they were when they came in. Case in point: A former USC football player is demanding that “sports workers” (meaning the players) be classified as employees—paid by the hour, time and a half for overtime, workers comp, etc. How smart is that? A four-year player would be taxed on his wages and the $240,000 in free tuition and housing (USC is not free). An athlete’s education is based on playing a game, not scholarship, so finding a well-paying job after graduation is not certain. Filling taco shells will probably not pay the taxes on $500,000.
- The High Speed Rail, in the past 13 years, has not been able to raise a penny from private sources, as they were required to do before receiving any public funding. Still, they were given $3.2 billion of federal tax money. Instead of returning the money, as they had not met the terms of the agreement, they spent it. And Obama gave them an extension to raise the money or pay it back. Agreements don’t mean anything in Obama’s world.
- Listening to the so-called educators you would think that everyone who makes money should be giving back to the community. Have you ever heard of professors actually doing what they say others should do? Have you ever heard professors saying tuition should be lowered so students wouldn’t have debt?
- Think Obamacare is a good thing? All the following happened due to Obamacare: This year the Medicare tax went from 1.45% to 2.35%; Top Income tax rate went from 35% to 39.6%; Top Income payroll tax went from 37.4% to 52.2%; Capital Gains tax went from 15% to 28%; Dividend tax went from 15% to 39.6%; Estate tax went from 0% to 55%; A 3.5% Real Estate transaction tax was added. Every one of these taxes passed with only Democrat votes. Not a single Republican voted for these new taxes.
- Keeping an open mind, we wonder what’s going on at the farm when 3rd and 4th generation children leave to run for public office. Sounds like what happens with the 2nd sons of royalty. Put them somewhere so they won’t hurt the business?
- Well Fargo is on the hook for hundreds of millions because of naughty behavior. Where does the money go? To the Feds! Not to those customers who were adversely affected.
- Did you notice? The Navy’s newest advanced destroyer is captained by a Naval officer named James Kirk. How appropriate. Will this ship go where no one has gone before?

Local Governments Rigging Elections – Again

by Jon Coupal, President of the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association

With all the state and local taxes on the November ballot, one would think that government at all levels in California was starved for revenue. But even a cursory review of the Golden State’s “tax machine” reveals that the tax burden is already too heavy for many to bear. California has the highest income rate in America (likely to be extended for another 12 years) and the highest state sales tax rate. And despite Prop 13, our per capita property tax collections ranks no lower than 14th in the nation.

In the June primary, voters already passed 29 out of 40 local tax increases. But those taxes register as barely a blip compared to the earthquake confronting voters in less than three weeks. According to the California Taxpayers Association, there are 228 local tax measures representing a cumulative tax increase of more than $3 billion per year, along with 193 bonds (more than $30 billion’s worth) that would dramatically increase annual property taxes.

After the June primary, this column observed that the high rate of passage reflected not so much a love for higher taxes as it did the fact that the tax raisers have become experts at gaming the system to pass tax and bond measures. Highly paid political consultants tell local officials not to publicize tax elections to the entire community, but to target only their supporters. This means running stealth elections, communicating (in the case of school bonds) with only administrators and construction firms who are always more than willing to finance political campaigns and, of course, public employee unions who never met a tax they didn’t like.

The strategies that the pro-taxers employ to extract money from an unsuspecting citizenry are endless. For example, many school boards, cities and counties do all they can to time elections so that potential opponents have inadequate time to mobilize. The ultimate goal is to prevent an opposition argument from even appearing in the ballot pamphlet. On countless occasions, taxpayer advocates have been blindsided by proposed tax increases because they were only afforded a few precious days to submit an argument. And when it is too late, there are few legal remedies.

The ultimate insult to taxpayers, of course, is when local governments use public dollars to engage in political advocacy to influence an election. In theory, it is illegal for officials to use public resources (including public funds) to urge a vote for or against a political issue. But, in practice, it happens all the time. Two weeks ago, both the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association and the Central Coast Taxpayers Association filed a complaint with the Fair Political Practices Commission alleging campaign violations of the Political Reform Act by the County of San Luis Obispo, the San Luis Obispo Council of Governments (SLOCOG) and the Yes on Measure J Committee, a group pushing a local transportation tax. These government entities have spent nearly a quarter of a million taxpayer dollars on promotional materials and government employee and contractor compensation supporting Measure J.

As the November election draws near, the complaints about government interference in elections have ramped up dramatically. In Sacramento, the Sacramento City Unified School District used “robocalls” to contact thousands of parents with “important information” about the benefits of a parcel tax as well as statewide Proposition 55. According to the Sacramento Bee, the district sent the scripted messages recorded by five district trustees through its automated telephone message distribution system, explaining how the two tax measures would raise money for school programs and services that otherwise could be slashed. (This despite the fact that education spending in California has exploded since 2010).

Such communications are neither information nor balanced. They are always one-sided puff pieces designed solely to extract yes votes from uninformed voters.

California voters need to be alert to the lies, distortions and illegal expenditures of taxpayer dollars when considering any request for higher taxes. Yes, government services require public dollars. But before voting yes on any tax increase, ask yourself why is it that other states have markedly better public services without the high price tag.

he will share a few observations concerning candidates and issues of interest to the citizens of Sutter County, Yuba County, and Butte County. All questions from the audience will be entertained, nothing is off the table.

Everyone is welcome to attend. There is no membership requirement and no charge. Doors open at 6:00 pm; come early to socialize with like-minded neighbors, enjoy the refreshments, and get a front-row seat.

by RW Gless

I just had to write about this public utility that is part of the fleecing of America, even if they are mostly northern California. They have been steadily and methodically raising the rates and complaining of an energy shortage and we all need to conserve... hmmm, then why do they spend tens of millions of dollars on TV Commercials that tout how much they do for the community and how happy their VERY WELL PAID employees/actors are? If we or They I should say, are having difficulties and need to raise rates, how can they afford tens of millions of dollars in TV and Radio ads? Could it be they are trying to fool the Sheeple once again? My bet is yes.

Here is the real issue that boils my blood. Have you received those notices from PG&E that tell you how much power you are using? How many of you are over what they say most homes of your size use? I really want to know... Because we don't really use much or have many items plugged in to supposedly be using twice as much as other homes that are 1900 square foot... Now here is the kicker... they are now putting us on a higher tear so we pay more... Is this happening to you? And their constant annoying calls to help weatherize your home are nothing short of intrusive and I believe they just want to get into your home to see what you have. Maybe get the lay of the home so to speak... And that was another reason for their rate hike, I always tell them I'm not interested, and they state that is part of the reason... "We notice you have not taken advantage of our home weatherization program. This will help you save on your bill." Hmmm.... Can you say blackmail and strong-arm.

Since we are slaves to the government's public utilities we basically have a gun to our heads. I think we should really look into PG&E to see how fraudulent they really are and how long have they been ripping us off? If a legit company supported by the government is doing so badly, how in the world can it afford Tens of Millions on PR ads to make you think they are so caring and needed in your community? I know some spinner will try and say they "PG&E" isn't supported by the government... they will be a bold faced liar! When cities and counties pass ordinances stipulating a home has to have Public Utilities i.e.

sewer, water and power to be habitable for humans, the Power and Water companies sure as hell are supported by the government! Otherwise we could drill our own wells and put in our own power plants without a city or municipality sending out the building inspector to red tag your home! Isn't high time to revolt people? You are being played as a chump fool and financially bled dry to maintain a façade that isn't in you or your family's best interests.

YCWA Response

In response to the October 19th article, 'YCWA Board Rejects Public's Right to Vote', we believe Yuba County's residents will appreciate our position on the recently proposed groundwater initiative, which we have determined to be illegal, unconstitutional and a disservice to the people of this community.

YCWA's mission is to serve the people of Yuba County. This is a serious responsibility, and it absolutely requires our Agency to comply with all state and federal laws and policies. Our reading of the initiative is that it is an illegal tax designed to unconstitutionally redirect revenues to specific interests using an unexplained formula, and for purposes that are unclear.

California's Supreme Court has issued clear guidance that agencies such as YCWA should not "take a pass" on the responsibility of an initiative that contains illegal elements. Instead, the court has instructed agencies like YCWA to act responsibly and deny unconstitutional initiatives in the interest of the general public.

We understand that the proponents would have preferred that YCWA approve their new tax and spend plan, but that is unacceptable.

According to the California Constitution and the Agency Act, YCWA is prohibited from establishing a general tax and may only enact a special tax upon a two-thirds vote of the citizens of Yuba County. The proponents failed in their duty to demonstrate that the tax is proportional to the costs, if any, imposed on residents by the targeted groundwater transfers.

The U.S. and California Constitutions also prohibit YCWA from "taking" private property without paying just compensation for the property rights taken. YCWA also is prohibited from donating its funds to any other entity or person without a clear public purpose for such a gift.

The proposed initiative conflicts with YCWA's responsibilities to the people of Yuba County which include, improving flood protection, providing water supplies for local farmers and ranchers, generating renewable hydropower, maintaining recreational opportunities, and restoring salmon and steelhead habitat in the Yuba River.

The proposed initiative would not improve groundwater supplies because the proposal would not mandate that any of the funds generated by the illegal tax be used for groundwater preservation and improvement. In fact, the proposed initiative would reduce YCWA's funding and therefore adversely impact its mission.

In our view, the proposed initiative is illegal and would not benefit the people of Yuba County. Taxing groundwater transfers will only impair YCWA's ability to fund projects, and it would limit our ability to fulfill our responsibilities to all of our citizens. For those reasons, YCWA's Board of Directors unanimously chose to reject it.

For more information about YCWA's rejection of this initiative, visit our page at. <http://www.ycwa.com/ycwa-rejects-illegal-initiative>

Tib Belza
Chairman of the YCWA Board of Directors

Editors Note: It is good and proper that the YCWA is complying with all state and federal laws and policies. However, the above opinion does not trump the "initiative process" or the public's right to vote.

Is The Watchdog Dead?

Long ago, as a U.C. Berkeley Student, I learned about a fresh, new idea buzzing around the Journalism Department: Advocacy Journalism. The idea appeared so free and liberating that the Berkeley Campus was all atwitter with its huge potential. This was in the mid-1960s (the Angela Davis, Mario Savio, free speech and "F the power-structure" era). It was wildly and ardently embraced; it took off and has clearly taken root within America's Journalist Society. So successfully, that today, America's "mainstream journalists" are now at least 90% a closed society of avowed Democrats-Socialists-One-Worlders (choose either or all). That concept instantly made these folks the most important members of society because- 'We no longer merely report the news, now we get to create, explain and exploit the news '-and it has obviously been as irresistible as it is wrong.

This concept is in clear violation of our Constitution's requirement for 'A Free and Independent Press'. Why? Because our Founders were breaking-at great risk-from despotism, and they knew that a Captive Press was the single most important tool of despotism. Our Founders were-and still are-so absolutely right: The murdering despots of the 20th Century all succeeded through their absolute control of a controllable 'go-along' malleable press. And the World suffered terribly.

America's 'Mainstream Media' is, by its own admission, well over 90% committed to the Democratic Party-Hillary's Party-that is nothing like it used to be. Not many years ago, the Republican and the Democratic Parties would seriously fight over the best way to protect 'We, the People' and keep America 'the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave'. But over especially the last eight years, the Washington D.C. Democrats and some of the Washington, D.C. Republicans have become a dangerous Oligarchy. Their powerful base-Big Media, Big Lobbyists, Big Business, Big Labor, Big Education, Big Agriculture, Big Banks, Big Pharma, Big Medicine, Big Transportation. When they quit bickering and began to put their heads together, all the 'Really Bigs' learned they could work wonders for themselves. Go ahead; enlarge monopolies, ignore principles, screw the 'little people', abandon the Constitution (Obama has already publicly declared it 'obsolete'), and forbid "In God We Trust". It's worked for all those dictators; and its success in America in the 21st Century is becoming self-evident. This may be our last opportunity to change direction with a simple, well-considered vote. Don't blow it!

Re: Cavalier Letter 10/26

As an eleven year veteran of the North Yuba Water District Board, I have witnessed Jenny Cavalier practicing the art of personal intimidation and attacks, meant to destroy anyone she disagrees with, as expressed in Colene Weckman's recent letter to the editor 10/26.

Jenny's unwillingness to work with other board members as a team has remained a constant source of frustration and disruption, putting road blocks in the way of progress. It's apparent to many North Yuba Water District customers; attending Board Meetings that Jenny uses Board Meetings to promote her negative attitude toward other Board Members, the Manager and employees. She also falsely claimed that the Board initiated an investigation into her treatment of employees, which is a completely false allegation. No one on the Board was made aware of this Union investigation until all Board members received a letter at the same time. Once notice was received Jenny immediately went to work denigrating other members of the Board for having initiated this investigation. She received help from community agitator Alton Wright and other members of the North Yuba Water Alliance. She then proceeded to rally her troops to assist her in peppering the Board Meetings with loud, outrageous and boisterous personal attacks. Once again she achieved her goal of disrupting the Board, with nothing being accomplished. Jenny refuses to compromise and participate in mutual board agreement, having only one purpose in mind, to undermine and further demoralize NYWD employees and Board Members alike.

The board needs the leadership of Gary Hawthorne, Doug Nielsen, and Incumbent, Dale Skinner, candidates who are committed to working together.

John Jacobson,
NYWD 5 District Board Member

Obviously the recipients of the USDA food giveaway are in need of the food or they would not attend it.

So why is this being done and who is the cold hearted person responsible for the change in the location?

Laura Olson

Food Distribution Moving Location?

I was recently informed that the USDA food distribution program in Brownsville on the third Thursday of each month is being moved from Brownsville to the Willow Glen.

At least a hundred residents attend this program each month.

To move the program

an additional twelve miles further is a hardship on the recipients. When it is raining they will be standing in the rain. The elderly and disabled and low income already have a hard time getting to Brownsville, so an additional twelve miles to go is ridiculous and very wrong.

State of Jefferson - Local Control

"Tell me what the State of Jefferson would look like if it would come to pass." I get this question asked quite a bit. There are lots of answers but let me name just a few.

Electing our own Governor. That lives in the north and knows what We need and our problems.

Electing our own two (2) Senators to send to Washington DC.

Restoration of representation by returning to the Federal Model of government. One (1) State Senator from each county.

Less red tape and regulations that kill small businesses. LOCAL CONTROL of tax revenue expenditures, TOTAL CONTROL of schools and text books, TOTAL CONTROL of prisons with in our state, and LOCAL CONTROL of our water resources. LOCAL CONTROL of our agricultural resources, LOCAL CONTROL of access to our public land, LOCAL CONTROL of our Forest and mineral resources, and LOCAL CONTROL of our, fisheries LOCAL CONTROL of air quality. No CARB. LOCAL CONTROL of our, state borders, LOCAL CONTROL of immigration, and LOCAL CONTROL of tuition rate.

LOCAL CONTROL of drivers licenses, LOCAL CONTROL over state judicial appointments, and LOCAL CONTROL over voters ID requirement.

Lower sales taxes and lower gasoline taxes

I hope you noticed all the times I use the words "LOCAL CONTROL". Does it not seem like a ray of sunshine to go back to being in control of all your stuff? All most too good to be true, but believe me this can happen and we are working hard to inform you.

Keep the Outdoor Marijuana Grow Ban Vote No on Measure E

Why is it that not a single Yuba County person of note or merit has written a Letter to the Editor or declared themselves in support of Commercial Marijuana? That is because they do not exist. The recent lengthy letter from David Frankel of Camp-tonville is just another example of a commercial marijuana person, without any supporting credentials, trying to promote a destructive product for personal gain. His mantra supporting Measure E is just another refrain of the deceptive tune we heard last spring in support of Measure A. Remember Measure A, the Initiative that would have lifted the ban on outdoor growing of marijuana? Yuba County voters defeated that Measure by 68% of the vote on June 7th. Frankel's claims are easily debunked:

He claims that the ban on outdoor grows is the cause of crime. Nonsense, our current Sheriff and District Attorney, along with other notable law enforcement personnel opposed the June 7th Measure A and now oppose Measure E. Where marijuana is legal crimes go up as the last two years in Colorado have demonstrated.

He claims that Yuba County will get control of growers if Measure E passes and growers will follow regulations and environmental laws. More nonsense, history shows that growers (with few exceptions) simply will not comply. Currently in Yuba County a permit is required for indoor grows and outdoor grows are banned. The very low numbers of indoor grow permits applied for and issued and the number of continuing known illegal outdoor grows is ample evidence of this blatant disregard for Yuba County Ordinances and laws.

Another claim he makes is that marijuana is an agricultural product. Hmmm, then why did the Yuba Sutter Farm Bureau oppose outdoor grows last spring?

E should stand for enough, enough skunk like stench, enough unruly and inconsiderate growers, enough "neighbors" with assault rifles, enough vicious and barking dogs, enough self-centered growers that disregard their damaging results to the environment, to our community and to our children. Maintain the outdoor grow ban on marijuana and Vote NO on Measure E.

Nevada County Fairgrounds Foundation Launches Second Season of Leadership Speakers for Youth

Jon Gregory, Executive Director of the Economic Resource Council, serves as guest speaker

"Remember to keep calm and professional in the storm," said Jon Gregory, Executive Director of the Nevada County Economic Resource Council, to a group of local high school students on Wednesday night. "Because if you want to do anything innovative or start something that requires change, you will have nay sayers and it may upset people. However, if you believe in what you are doing and believe it will make a difference – stay calm and move forward."

Gregory recently addressed students from Bear River and Nevada Union high schools as the first speaker in the second season of the Nevada County Fairgrounds Foundation's Speaker Series. The series brings business education - through access to business leaders and real-life leadership experiences and advice – to local high school students.

"Jon did an amazing job talking to the students about business success," said Rea Callender, Fairgrounds CEO. "I was also impressed with the students for their level of participation and questions. It is exciting to see these kids with their whole lives in front of them, and it's encouraging to be able to provide them with tools to help them along the business path."

In addition to serving as Executive Director, Gregory is a General Partner of the Green Screen Institute's Virtual Reality Accelerator Investment Fund. He has spent 25 years in innovation, entrepreneurship, venture capital and angel investment, and economic development – with unique knowledge of what it takes for communities and regions to grow an economy.

In addition to sharing his own life experiences, Gregory outlined things to consider when beginning a career, including lifestyle, geography, wages, housing, flexibility, benefits, upward mobility, and stability. He also emphasized the various types of business opportunities from big corporations to small businesses to government work to nonprofits to entrepreneurs.

In sharing his advice with the students, he offered several keys to success – taking initiative, looking proactively for win-win situations, perceiving employment through the lens of the employer, knowing the importance of networking, not giving up, understanding our own strengths and weaknesses, being professional and courteous, and having a daily plan.

The second season of the Speaker Series will feature six speakers, one each month, and will run through April. Upcoming speakers include Mike Naggjar, owner of Naggjar Vineyards and Winery; and Caroline Beteta, CEO of Visit California.

New this year, in addition to opening up the series to all high school Fair exhibitors, the Fairgrounds Foundation is offering two scholarships to individuals who meet the scholarship criteria, including attending five of the six speaker series dates.

BALLOT INFORMATION

16 REASONS TO VOTE YES on MEASURE E!

- 1) Regulation of licensed and permitted outdoor cannabis crops will provide greater safety for the people and the environment, while vastly decreasing the strain on tax payers’ dollars in Yuba County.
- 2) The status quo is not working.
- 3) Yuba County attracts the very criminal and scofflaws that the anti-Measure E folks are warning the public about. Due to the Ban, Yuba County opts out of the DOJ background check for growers and the strict environmental regulations of the California Water Board. The Ban actually creates room for criminal growers by virtue of Banning lawful permitted growers.
- 4) Voting no on Measure E will make it impossible to distinguish between criminals, medical marijuana patients and commercial growers, wasting millions of tax payer dollars trying to enforce prohibition.
- 5) If Measure E fails, there will be an increase in marijuana related crimes due to lack of regulation, and influx of criminal/cartel growers.
- 6) The Nature Conservancy of California also expressed concern for the environment stating “California needs to act swiftly to regulate.” Then they suggested, “Marijuana growers should be responsible for any environmental damage they in inflict.”

Where will the money come from for enforcement and regulation? FEES and FUNDING

- 7) Each licensing authority shall establish a scale of application, licensing and renewal fees, based upon the cost of enforcement. Fees shall be scaled dependent on the size of the business. (AB 243, 19350 (c)). A Medical Cannabis Regulation and Safety Act Fund is established in the state treasury to receive fees and penalties assessed under the act. $10 million is allocated to DCA to begin operations, with the possibility of an additional operating loan of $10 million from the General Fund (AB 243, 19352). The Bureau shall use the fund for a grant program to assist in state and local agencies in enforcement and remediation of environmental impacts from cultivation. (AB 243, 19351)
- 8) A yes vote on measure E will allow Yuba County to participate In state wide funding (20 million ) for enforcement and environmental cleanup. The state has offered incentives for counties to move toward regulation and control. Places such as Yuba County, on the verge of Bankruptcy, currently lack the funds necessary to combat illegal grows. The tax payer must foot the bill. Sacrifices must be made. Monies for schools, parks, roads and bridges, will be wasted on ineffective cannabis prohibition.
- 9) Yuba County could be collecting millions of dollars in fees. County financial problems would disappear. Some local governments are already contemplating additional taxes to fund youth programs or fight homelessness.
- 10) With cuts being made to Marysville police department, due to lack of funds, our public safety is now in jeopardy.
- 11) Wheatland High School students walked out of school due to broken air conditioning system due to lack of funds. Our children’s education is being sacrificed due to ineffective policies and the high cost of enforcement for marijuana prohibition.
- 12) Yuba County road crews are being laid off due to lack of funds. Roads go into disrepair, affecting everyone. Our roads and public safety are once again being jeopardized.
- 13) Yuba County is in desperate need of change. Voting YES on Measure E will contribute millions to Yuba County general fund, which will contribute toward public safety, schools, parks, and maintaining roads and bridges.
- 14) An October 2016 study by Eberhart School of Business, McGeorge School of Law, states that the greater Sacramento region (of which Yuba is a part) will lose an opportunity for 18,000 jobs if local restrictive policies like Yuba’s Ban make cannabis businesses locate elsewhere.
- 15) The Sacramento Region Cannabis Industry could account for up to $4.2 Billion in economic output if it pursues a regional cluster model for the cannabis industry, a cluster that could include Yuba. Opportunity to create hundreds of Yuba County jobs would be lost if Measure E fails
- 16) If Measure E passes then Yuba County cannabis growers will feed Sacramento’s cannabis industry estimated to be a low of $386 million to a high of $4.2 billion per year depending on a variety of factors.

Ignore the Anonymous Anti-Measure E Ad - they have no FPPC number and are full of lies.

How can we trust our “Leaders” when they can’t control their own? As proven back in December 2015, when Yuba County Deputy, Mark Heath (Net-5 Narcotics Task Force) with others were arrested and convicted of Interstate Trafficking among other charges a few short months into the Ban.

Zoning Clearance Certificates in Permitted Use areas are not free, they require a filing with the County and are enforced by code enforcement so it's not a drain on the Sheriffs, it's not lax regulation - it's as good as the County's Code Enforcement department and it's a lot easier because people will be stepping forward and filing with the County so the County doesn't have to go out and look for the growers to regulate them - so enforcement costs will go down and will be funded by County filings.

All registered growers will have to prove legal water and wastewater so fears of over drilling or overuse of water due to cannabis are unwarranted. Water regulation will be improved when Measure E passes because growers will be regulated by the State Water Board in addition to the County.

Measure E would open the door to regulated, controlled and taxed commercial cannabis and would force out the black-market. Once Measure E passes, the County would be able to pass additional rules, taxes and fees under the State Cannabis Law.

The only thing our “Leaders” have brought to Yuba are $Millions of dollars of lawsuits, $Millions of tax dollars spent to enforce an unenforceable Ban, a drop in raw land prices and housing in the foothills is at a low. So, now instead of highly regulated and taxed cannabis farms on agricultural land creating revenue and jobs, our County is in debt and worse an escalating issue brought to the county by poor “Leadership”.

Choose Regulation & Control over the Ban/black-market - Vote Yes on Measure E.
