Innocent Blood and Poor Priorities

News/Commentary
by Lou Binninger

Humans have a knack for killing. When investigating a potential homicide, detectives look first to the victim's family for a suspect. They then look elsewhere. Investigations with no resolution become cold-cases.

The first murder recorded in the Bible is Cain killing his brother Abel (Gen 4:8). It is God rather than the siblings' father that confronts Cain. "Your brother's blood cries out to Me from the ground." The blood of the innocent who are murdered speaks to the community, as well.

Deuteronomy 21:1 says if a murder victim is found in a field and the perpetrator is unknown, then the government and spiritual leaders in the nearest city must take responsibility. They are to conduct a detailed ceremony and wash their hands declaring "Our hands did not shed this blood; our eyes did not see it." Then, they ask the Lord not to hold the shedding of innocent blood against the community.

God tells leaders that by doing this they are doing what is what is right in His sight. Although God imparted codes, culture and rules of conduct to the Hebrew people His "way" was a mandate for all humankind. Jewish society was the 'floor model' for living. Maybe community leaders should approach unsolved homicides God's way.

Most jurisdictions of any size have 'cold-case' homicides. They are troubling to the soul of the community and can be a bane to law enforcement, particularly if children are victims. Although closure is a myth, cracking cases is very powerful because not-knowing is tormenting to family and citizens.

The arrests last week of William Harbour and Larry Patterson in the 1973 abduction, rape and shotgun slaying of Doris Derryberry, 13 and Valerie Lane, 12 caused a community-wide gasp and resurgence of grief for two of Olivehurst's most vulnerable citizens.

The reopening of Yuba County's 43-year-old case also raised the level of seriousness felt about nearly 40 men free on bail in Sutter County for attempting to engage girls of 9, 13 and 14- years-of-age for sex. Not all molests and sexual assaults stop there.

Larry Patterson was found guilty of putting a noose around the neck and raping two Chico women three years after the abused middle school girls were found dead along a quiet dirt road. If convicted, it appears Patterson had a taste for raping and killing females.

The community should be grateful that the evidence in the Derryberry / Lane case was properly maintained. Who knew in 1973 that old evidence combined with new science could lead to suspects?

Detective Karen Howard going on light duty allowed the extra time to work with Diane Tubandt in the homicide department to give new life to the case. An attempt was made years before but the demand of daily calls consumed the detectives' attention.

It should give taxpayers pause when they hear of understaffed law enforcement agencies and district attorney offices. The public is incurring a cost much greater than dollars and cents to go lean on protecting itself.

If Yuba County Sheriff's Department had more personnel could this crime have been solved a decade or more ago? The technology was there. The employees were not.

Sutter County District Attorney (DA) Amanda Hopper got an additional investigator recently to hunt down the types that prey upon the Derryberrys and Lanes of our community. It was not an easy go with a 3-2 vote even after explaining to supervisors that she returned $330,000 of unused DA monies to the general fund. Supervisors Munger and Whiteaker preferred to further analyze the budget.

The founding fathers intended that the primary purpose of government was to defend against foreign invaders and provide local public safety. That's it. All else is government expansion and social agendas that could be addressed another way if really needed.

God ordained that law enforcement (and the judicial system) keep a lid on the gnarly side of human kind. That should be the priority.

How many programs costing hundreds of thousands and millions of dollars could be ended or departments sent to the private sector to save enough money to properly fund law enforcement? It is something to think about and work on.

In the meantime cold-cases are securely filed away while perpetrators are free to hit-up young girls on social media.

Live Oak Parade and Festival

Live Oak, Ca.

Saturday the 17th was a perfect day for the annual Live Oak Festival and Parade. A huge crowd turned out for the family oriented parade and festival. Broadway was lined with families watching the parade and hoping to get a glimpse of their friends, neighbors and politicians.

Following the parade down Broadway the crowd gathered at the Live Oak Memorial Park. There they were treated to a carnival atmosphere with dozens of vendor booths of all kind including a large variety of food. Families brought their own chairs and some just found a place in the shade to listen to the background music. Memories of the old days.

There was a special children's area along with activities included in the festival. One attraction that was enjoyed by young and old was the "Bell Ringer", a test of strength.

Car shows have become a big part of festivals today. The Live Oak Festival was no exception. The car show was comprised of old restored cars and pick-ups, Hot Rods, and brightly painted custom cars. A very good turnout.

The Live Oak Festival is a celebration of the role the agricultural industry plays in the community. The Chamber of Commerce says that the community serves as an anchor of the diverse agricultural products grown in the area.

California Farm Bureau Expresses Deep Disappointment with Signing of Agricultural Overtime Legislation

Paul Wenger, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, said that the agricultural community is very dismayed that Gov. Jerry Brown has signed the Agricultural Overtime bill, Assembly Bill 1066 (Lorena Gonzalez - D, San Diego).

President Wenger issued the following statement:

"We are extremely disappointed that this legislation was signed into law, as it will be harmful to farm employees, farmers, consumers and the environment. Those who work on California farms will see reduced paychecks and have their lives disrupted as these new worker overtime rules come into play. California consumers will have fewer opportunities to buy California-grown farm products that are produced under the most stringent food safety, employment and environmental rules in the world.

"Legislation such as AB 1066 only works if California consumers buy California farm products and opt not to buy cheaper food products from sources outside of California that do not meet the same labor and environmental stewardship standards that our farm products do.

"It is unfortunate that those who will suffer the economic consequences of this ill-conceived statute are not the ones that wrote it and passed it into law."

Senator Jim Nielsen remarked, "Farm workers will end up working for one farm in the morning, getting back in their cars to drive to another farm to work the afternoon shift. "I am disappointed at the insensitivity to this vital industry. And sadly I say, stay tuned for loss in salary for workers and higher prices for consumers."

Assemblyman Gallagher Responded by saying, "It's the same old story of a government that is out of touch with the reality of living, working, and doing business in California. I wish that the voices of farmers and farm workers would have truly been heard in this discussion. Instead, the ruling party placated to one union group and the chronic and ignorant misconceptions of a few legislators who have no understanding of the industry and its people. If you understand agriculture, you know that this new law will result in lost wages for farm workers. There are no real winners with AB 1066."

Together the organizations identified & prioritized work that was ready to be implemented on the national forest. "The fruits of these efforts demonstrate the importance of partnerships between the PNF and collaborative groups such as the Feather River Stewardship Coalition," said Lovato.

The Feather River Stewardship Coalition was initiated by the Plumas County Fire Safe Council using funding recommended by the Plumas Resource Advisory Committee (RAC) and approved by Lovato.

This is the second grant award that the working group, led by the Feather River Stewardship Coalition, has received this year. In June, another $465,000 was awarded for approximately 500

Why We Fish

Submitted by David Read

Scottish writer and politician, John Buchan (1875-1940), once wrote, "The charm of fishing is that it is the pursuit of what is elusive, but attainable... a perpetual series of occasions for hope." I have always liked that quotation as a wonderful testament to why so many of us fish and the reasons for our enthusiasm beyond just catching the biggest or the most fish.

hook or when the boat engine won't start.

other fishermen, but to me, what it is really about is to just get out on the water and drink a couple of sodas and eat a couple of sandwiches and to realize how beautiful this world really is. Like I mentioned, you will lose a couple of big fish, but you will have a lifetime of memories to tell your grandkids. So, yes, fishing is a sport I enjoy, but it is also a way of life.

One of my best fishing trips was in Oregon when my grandpa, my Dad and his friend and I went sturgeon fishing. We all caught some, but none were keepers.

What a wise young man and one who demonstrates such a deep understanding of one of our favorite pastimes.

And to tell you more about fishing, it's not all about just going and catching fish. It is about going and spending time with your family and friends and loved ones. That's what it is really about. I mean, don't get me wrong, I love to catch fish like all the

Blue Jacket Bonanza Program

The Yuba-Sutter Farm Bureau Fund for Ag Education 501(c)(3) is proud to announce the application period for the 2016-2017 Blue Jacket Bonanza program is now open. The program is made possible through generous donations made at the Yuba-Sutter Farm Bureau Fund for Ag Education (YSFB FAE) yearly Spring Fling fundraiser event.

The Blue Jacket Bonanza program was developed to provide area students involved in FFA, who can demonstrate a passion for FFA and provide examples of how the students have earned the privilege to receive a jacket from this Program, a chance to earn their own blue jacket. To be considered for a jacket, the students will be required to complete an application and conduct a personal interview with the YSFB FAE Committee.

To be considered, applications must be received no later than Friday, October 7, 2016. For more information about the program and how to get students interested in applying for the program, please contact us at the Yuba-Sutter Farm Bureau office or visit our website, www.ysfarmbureau.com.

Boys and Girls, ages 4 through 9, are invited to test their kicking skills at the annual Marysville Elks Soccer "Kick & Score" contests at 11:30am on Sunday, September 25th at the back lawn of the Elks building at 920 D Street, Marysville (next to Ellis Lake). The event is free, and winners can advance to a regional contest in Sacramento on October 2nd. Registration is required, and may be done in advance by emailing to: roy.newman@comcast.net (provide age of child and also receive contest rules); otherwise, registration table will open at 11:30am the day of the event. Participants will be treated to refreshments at the conclusion of the competition. For additional information, call Roy Newman at (530) 713-4947.

FISHIN' TALK

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 70 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

Congratulations go out to Ken Moorehead, a resident of Vallejo, who fished Collins Lake last week and caught a huge 14 pound catfish. Other folks also had luck with the whis-kerfish, some up to six pounds.

do just that and see if I can fool a native trout into taking my fly as I did several years ago. Of course, if I am successful a couple of the beauties will be in the frying pan. The rest will be carefully released to fight again.

These cool mornings and evenings tells us it is time to start thinking of autumn and the fall season. As most avid anglers know, the big fish become active when the weather cools. They will cruise the shoreline of lakes and reservoirs looking for food in order to fatten up for the upcoming winter months ahead. Yes, this is the beginning of outstanding fishing for larger fish of all species. However, the thought of the brown trout always sinks into my mind.

We will be camping above Chester looking for the elusive deer and also fishing the North Fork of the Feather River. If a friend shows up with his boat we will more than likely fish Lake Almanor as well. Near camp there is a meadow and a spring. Brook trout live here and they are wild and cautious, which makes me want to try my luck and my expertise with the fly rod. Perhaps this year I will Boots fishing tip of the week: "When fishing for salmon I recommend adding smell to the lure. This can be accomplished with a sardine wrap or by spraying or smearing the lure with a manufactured smell.

Learn the Truth and Save Your Country

Author, Chuck Frank

Now the serpent is more cunning than any beast of the field and very convincing and smooth with words. Through the centuries the creature has been but a destroyer that deceives with countless lies while preying upon those who are blind to the truth. It is true, truth and love is not in him for he distorts all of the facts so as to expand his rogue and sinister kingdom, which in the end leads to the common peoples destruction and death. Yet when a persons eyes are finally opened and finds the truth, the serpent will then be exposed, and the truth will be known and the serpent will flee.

Additionally, people may be abased or exalted and nations rise and fall yet what are the factors that determine a civilization's collapse which is generally caused by massive deception and a lack of knowledge? Here are a few basic lessons that support the fall of a nation.

denced when a country is divided but also by a society's loss of economic direction often brought about by the control of a corrupt money system and a rising and out of control, self serving bureaucracy that instills an abundance of excessive regulations and taxes upon the people to where the civilization is mired with inefficient processes resulting in bondage, poverty and discontent, thereby propelling that nation into a crisis of lawlessness and cultural decay.

2. Cultural decay results in a loss of respect for tradition, a weakening of the cultural foundations of the society which adds to immorality and social unrest, thereby ushering in a police state resulting in decreased freedoms along with rising incarceration.

3. Moral decay occurs as religion and tradition is pushed aside or restricted by the civilization's leadership. Confusion, rebellion and violence follows from a lack of moral principle and leadership, thereby guiding the country down a path of final destruction.

Historically, there are former kingdoms that fall into the above categories. They are Egypt, Greece, Israel, Rome, and Persia. These countries have left a track record of their collapse which historians can look to, so as to determine the cause of their misfortune. It is of great interest to historians in that they may be able to then predict the outcome of a present day nation which has similar factors such as those other countries which experienced moral decline and fell. In this instance, the fall of a present day nation might be averted by warning the people of the coming consequences which may take place when the people and the leadership continues to live with substandard values that lack moral fiber. Basic goals such as "doing unto others as you would have them do unto you" as well as following the golden rule is a necessary ingredient if a nation is to thrive and exist in a state of reasonable peace and happiness.

While meditating upon all of this, America, since 1776 has succeeded in becoming the greatest nation that the world has ever known. But with that said, and when considering where the country stands today, it is obvious that our nation now lies in the balance for it reflects those very serious concerns that are listed above. Presently, America as a whole is becoming hardened and is waxing cold as ice and now stands at the crossroads. It is imperative that the people realize this and choose a path that will lead to internal peace, love and joy before it is too late. Will this country even survive the 21st Century and beyond or become just one more fallen statistic?

America the beautiful, you are rapidly fading and surgery is the only option here. Is there a doctor in the house for we have a patient that is dying and is in great need of a heart transplant.

Guided Barn Tours at This Year's Draft Horse Classic

Get behind-the-scenes and meet the stars of the Classic

Guided Barn Tours are available to visitors at this year's Draft Horse Classic and Harvest Fair at the Nevada County Fairgrounds. The behind-the-scenes tours, led by teamster and assistant show manager, Eleanor Roberts, are another way for visitors to be able to meet and talk with draft horse exhibitors, as well as meet the stars of the Classic – the beautiful draft horses.

Barn tours will be held on Friday, September 23, at 3 pm and Saturday, September 24, at 2 pm. Advance reservations are recommended, as there are a limited number of openings for each tour. The cost for the tour is $10 per person, and advance reservations can be made by calling the Fair Office at (530) 273-6217. If there is still availability, tickets may also be purchased the day of the event at the Arena box office.

Each tour will last approximately 45 minutes and will include meeting the exhibitors and learning about how they got involved with draft horses; discussing and seeing the different draft horse breeds; a show-and-tell of draft horse equipment, and a discussion about the training of draft horses and what it takes to put a team together. You'll also get to roam to the various barns on the Fairgrounds to meet the beautiful draft horses!

The 30th annual Draft Horse Classic and Harvest Fair starts Thursday, September 22 and runs through Sunday, September 25 at the Nevada County Fairgrounds in Grass Valley. The Draft Horse Classic features six stunning performances in the arena. If you can't make it to a guided barn tour, the barns are always open for viewing the horses in between performances throughout the event. Additionally, musical entertainment at the

Pine Tree Stage, a world class art show, delicious food, vendors with western wear and items, a clogging jamboree, and a live horse shoeing competition are all part of the Harvest Fair, which takes place at the Fairgrounds during all four days of the Classic.

For tickets to the performances, the barn tours, or information, call the office at 273-6217 or visit NevadaCountyFair.com.

4th Annual Celebrity Golf Tournament

be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

We know it is early to be thinking about Christmas, but some of the gals at Stone Soup were singing at the monthly birthday celebration there and thought it might be fun to start a group to sing Christmas songs at Stone Soup as well as singing at various holiday events. If you want to join in, please let us know. Either let someone at Stone Soup know or check in at Books & More (675-3275). This project is pretty much at the planning stage at this time, but Christmas caroling is not out of reason. It would take some practicing, but not too much we wouldn't think.

Speaking of Christmas plans, planning for Christmas in the Foothills is getting some attention. Are there craft people, bakers, woodworkers out there who would like to sell some items on Dec. 3 – 4?

We are all anxiously a-waiting that first rain of fall. Often we get a few sprinkles as deer season starts. The air needs to be cleansed of all the smoke and pollutants. We remember getting a real downpour about Halloween. You never know but we are waiting.

Here are a few unimportant and sometimes silly facts. Did you know that: 1. Stewardess is the longest word typed with only the left hand. 2.

M&M's chocolate stands for the inventors, Mars and Murrie. 3. The only continent without volcanoes is Australia. 4. Goldfish can see both infrared and ultra-violet light. Then last but not least 5. A giraffe can clean its ears with its 21 inch tongue. You just never know when you might need one of these pieces of information.

Program on History of Jewish Cemetery in Marysville

The Community Memorial Museum of Sutter County is excited to announce that Stephen Kinsey will be giving a talk on the history of the Jewish Cemetery in Marysville on Saturday, September 24th at 2pm.

Mr. Kinsey, Vice Chairman and Trustee/Office of the Commission for the Preservation of Jewish Historical Cemeteries and Landmarks in the West, has been very active in academia and the Jewish community. He has a master's degree in California History from San Jose State University, writing his thesis on They Called It Home: the Development of the Jewish Community of San Jose, California 1850-1900. He was a graduate assistant at Sourisseau Academy for State and Local History, and taught Social Studies at J.W. Fair Middle School/Bridges Academy in San Jose for many years. As part of his role in the Commission, he lectures and leads tours to Jewish Gold Rush cemeteries.

The Community Memorial Museum is located at 1333 Butte House Road in Yuba City. Regular open hours are Wednesday-Friday 9am to 5pm, and Saturday 12pm-4pm. Admission is free. For more information, call the Museum at 530.822.7141.

Improvements to Local Transit Center Nearing Completion

Marysville, Ca. Yuba-Sutter Transit will soon be finishing a project to significantly expand covered seating and improve passenger amenities at its North Beale Road Transit Center in Linda. The passenger waiting and bus boarding areas at the transit center, located on both sides of North Beale Road next to the Walmart parking lot, were recently increased by approximately 350 sq. ft. to make way for the second phase of the project.

Beginning on Wednesday, September 14th, crews will be removing two existing bus shelters, replacing them with significantly larger shelters to greatly increase the covered seating available at Yuba-Sutter Transit's busiest stop. As part of the project, one of the existing shelters currently on the north side of the street will be re-located to the south side and larger, permanent trash receptacles will be installed. Work is expected to be completed by late Friday and any delays or interruptions to service should be minimal.

Yuba-Sutter Transit operates local public bus service in Yuba City, Marysville, Linda and Olivehurst, Monday through Saturday with six routes on half-hour or hourly schedules. Fares are $1 one-way or 50¢ for eligible youth, seniors and persons with disabilities. For more information, please call Yuba-Sutter Transit at (530) 742-2877.

Elected Officials Offer Mediator to Teachers Union, School District

City of Yuba City and Sutter County Officials Offer to for Pay Retired Judge to Help Mediate

Yuba City Mayor John Buckland, Council Member Kash Kill and Sutter County Supervisor Dan Flores have extended an offer to Yuba City Unified School District and the Yuba City Teachers Association for the City of Yuba City to pay for retired Sutter County Judge Thomas Hill to serve as an impartial mediator in contract negotiations in hopes of returning students and teachers to the classroom as quickly as possible. Hill is available immediately to help find a solution to this critical community issue.

"Mediation between both parties can begin immediately, if they accept this offer," Buckland said. "Our goal is see a resolution of this conflict so that students and teachers can return to the classroom."

At the Mayor's invitation, the parties came together for 16 hours on Saturday and Sunday to meet and bargain in good faith, with the elected officials present. The two sides met again Monday night for an additional five hours, but as the teachers strike entered its fourth day today, the City and County representatives realized another step may be needed.

"Children, families, community members, businesses and countless relationships continue to be affected by this impasse," Flores said. "We are hopeful that the teacher's union and school district will accept our offer to have a neutral party to step in and drive productive conversations to bridge their disagreements."

Hell or High Water

Starring: Ben Foster, Chris Pine and Jeff Bridges.
Rated: R, Runtime: 102 minutes.

A West Texas man turns to his recently released from prison older brother for help to save the ranch that has been in the family for generations from going back to the bank after his mother dies and leaves a reverse mortgage unpaid. Bank robbery is their solution. It has a bit of poetic justice to it, but still not the best of ideas. The ranch ends up costing much more than money.

The story moves at a slow yet determined pace. With a distinct Texas feel to it. The acting is good with Chris Pine stretching his legs after sitting in the Captains chair. The effects of the film were really good and shocking in parts.

Hell or High Water, earns three out of five, Lord of the Plains monkeys. This is not a bad film and while not wildly entertaining it has a good solid story that holds your interest.

We Enslaved Ourselves by Doing Nothing! The Death of America!

By RW GLESS

You Stood Aside and Did Nothing when they told you your children HAD TO Attend their Training Camps {Schools} even though the Supreme Court has ruled it to be Unconstitutional "Pierce, Governor of Oregon, et al. v. Society of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, 268 U.S. 510 (1925), was an early 20th-century United States Supreme Court decision striking down a Oregon statute that required all children to attend public school. The decision significantly expanded coverage of the Due Process Clause in the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution to recognize personal civil liberties. The case has been cited as a precedent in more than 100 Supreme Court cases, including Roe v. Wade, and in more than 70 cases in the courts of appeals"

You Did "Nothing" when they made you a financial slave, {1913 Creation of the FED and Income Tax}, even though the Supreme Court also ruled direct income tax was Unconstitutional. "In a 5-4 vote, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the income tax is a direct tax. Chief Justice Melville Fuller, writing for the majority, first showed a surprisingly keen awareness of incidence: Ordinarily, all taxes paid primarily by persons who can shift the burden upon someone else, or who are under no legal compulsion to pay them, are considered indirect taxes; but a tax upon property holders in respect of their estates, whether real or personal, or of the income yielded by such estates, and the payment of which cannot be avoided, are direct taxes. He even went further and analyzed the writings of the Framers, the tax writings of Adam Smith, the ratification debates in the states, and observations by early justices and members of Congress. From this he concluded that it was well understood that "all taxes on real estate or personal property or the rents or income thereof were regarded as direct taxes." Since direct taxes must be apportioned by state population under the Constitution, the 1894 laws attempt to tax income was void.

You stood aside and "Did Nothing" when the government infringed on your Rights, 1st 2nd, 3rd 4th, 5, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th.

You have been so dumbed down and intimidated you are afraid to do anything when all it takes is to file a judicial complaint in Federal Court asking for a revue and order to cease and desist, when any government oversteps their legal authority under the Constitution. Any citizen can do this because it was meant to be a safeguard against a tyrannical government seizing total authority. "Filing a Federal Lawsuit against a State

A civil suit is appealed to the state supreme court. Constitutional issues of violations of due process and fundamental liberty interests are raised. If the State Supreme Court declines review then they have Constitutional issues ultimately sidestepped by that state without properly addressing them. A lawsuit is then filed in Federal Court seeking injunctions on civil judgments against the state and its judicial arm (county court). The State's use of Rooker-Feldman doctrine defense presumably does not apply since all remedies at state level were exhausted, and an issue of preclusion defense is arguably rebuttable.

Who would most likely be the parties named and served in such a suit? The State, a City, or County, and County Court generically or a specific judge, appeals court, parties to initial suit."

You continue to stand aside and allow leftist Social Communists to brainwash your children and destroy your freedom... You have Stood Aside and Allowed Yourself to become Slaves by doing nothing to stop these tyrants! You Should Be Ashamed but you revel in your Complacent Apathy... The Death of America was foreseen by Benjamin Franklin when he replied to a woman who had asked him what type of a government they had created for America... "A Republic madam... if you can keep it."

Supports Cavaliere NYWD

As an irrigation customer for well over 40 years, I was curious regarding the North Yuba Water District and the availability of irrigation water this year.

We received a call informing us that we would be receiving water this year, unlike last year when we received water just a couple days a week. After two weeks or so of receiving water we were called again but this time we were told that there was no water – "Dry Creek" was dry. Just what changed in the 2 plus weeks between "you will have water and there is no water"?

We were told that if we wanted to "buy" water for the remainder of the irrigation season it would cost $2,500.00! But I believed the North Yuba Water District when I was told that there was no water. Where is the $2,500.00 water coming from?

My husband, a former Director of the NYWD, and I attended a special meeting for irrigation customers of the NYWater District in July. The manager came empty handed and when questioned he seemed to have no information for us. Buck Weckman, who is not an irrigation customer, was there stating that Jenny Cavaliere had "leaked confidential" information, just how would he know that this information was "confidential" unless someone else had "leaked" it to him!

He also made disparaging remarks regarding Director Jenny Cavaliere. It was only when I objected to Mr. Weckman's remarks that Board Pres. Dale Skinner ruled that those remarks were out of place. Mr. Weckman continues to make dispiriting remarks about Director Cavaliere at NYWD meetings and in the Territorial Dispatch! Regarding the 2005 agreement with South Feather Water District, she was just one board member voting in favor. What Mr. Weckman refers to as "allegations" are nothing more than requesting information from the manager. And I won't even touch the "marijuana representatives" he brings up.

It is important to keep in mind that under the current management of the North Yuba Water District irrigation customers are being regarded as "second class" water users putting the purchasing of water in the future in jeopardy. Just what do those against irrigation users want to do with the water? Sell it elsewhere?

Also, dry fire hydrants without water for fire suppression puts all of Oregon House/Dobbins at risks as well as for fire insurance! At a NYWD meeting I was told by Director Ferguson that there were NO FIRE HYDRANTS in the Dobbins/Oregon House area, that those "hydrants" were "stand pipes". Fire hydrants or stand pipes, when there was water in our irrigation pipelines, water tenders could and where filled.

Water District #3 should know there is a move underway to vote Director Cavaliere out of office at this November's election. Information has it that 5th District Supervisor Randy Fletcher is backing Gary Hawthorn for that seat now held by Jenny Cavaliere, District #3. Gary Hawthorn is a good man and very community orientated, but I believe that if it's not broken don't change it. There are three directors representing domestic water users and two for irrigation customers, so unless a domestic director votes for irrigation customers with Director Cavaliere, irrigation customers will always get the "short straw". If Director Jenny is not there to support the interest of all property owners regardless if they are irrigation customers or not – who will?

As Alton Wright stated in his August 17th letter, many residents of the Dobbins and Oregon House area who have never received water actually pay taxes to NYWD and have for decades!

On a personal note, I object to being referred to as a "personal minion" for stating what I have learned by attending NYWD meetings.

The Marriage of Agriculture and "Intelligent Growth"

I moved to Yuba City 38 years ago and have lived through many of the changes the Sutter County community has experienced. Observing political campaigns for many decades, not only on the national scene, but here as well, has brought up a question we have probably all asked ourselves. Why would anyone want to run for public office in this day and age with politics most often representing disappointment when it comes to our goals and dreams?

Something has become painfully apparent. The act of falsifying facts for the benefit of slandering an opposing candidate has risen to a highly skilled art form, but not a desirable one. It is not a helpful practice for we citizens who want a better life for our families, who need clear facts, seek knowledgeable information regarding the issues, who long for honesty, and integrity in order to vote in a way we feel is best for the future of our country and our local area.

This brings me to one of the candidates running in the political race for the 5th Supervisorial District, Barbara LeVake. After reading numerous articles and letters written with incorrect information regarding the history of development in South Sutter County/Sutter Pointe, the Riego Road Interchange, etc., and Barbara's involvement, I felt it would be helpful to give some of the true facts.

I write this coming from a good vantage point. Not only do I personally own property in South Sutter County, I am President of North State Land Management which manages properties located in that area. I am a long-time member of the Farm Bureau and farmed rice for three years. Also, I served as President of Natomas Mutual water Company. Through time, I have gained first-hand information working with water rights, agriculture, habitat, conservation, and development. Another note is that I have observed many supervisors, Barbara being one.

Being an avid supporter of agriculture, I not only greatly appreciate it as a wonderful way of life, but also believe it plays a vital role in our economy. Farmers are being battered with more and more government regulations imposed on them regularly. The costs of farming have risen to exorbitant highs and many crop prices are currently suffering. We must support our farmers and never lose sight of who grows our food. But can we have "intelligent growth" operating alongside our local agriculture? I think we can and should.

South Sutter County is an attractive area for "Intelligent growth" due to its close proximity to the Sacramento Airport, access to major highways which all intersect, excellent water rights, lack of seismic activity, good weather, and it being a central location for commuters to Roseville, Sacramento, Woodland, and Yuba City. This area is right in the path of growth which is flowing northward from Sacramento towards Sutter County.

When the economy was at its last high point, developers put Measure M on the ballot which asked if the citizens of Sutter County wanted to approve a planned development (Sutter Pointe) that would offer residential, commercial, and industrial zoning. It was approved by Sutter County VOTERS in 2004. Final results showed the advisory question winning, 14,087 to 9,777, or 59 percent to 41 percent.

Barbara LeVake does support well-planned development for our county while simultaneously supporting agriculture. Opponents of Barbara are claiming some sort of "unethical behavior" has taken place on her part and that she had something to do with supporting "dirty development" when in fact it was the VOTERS who spoke loud and clear with the passage of Measure M. Barbara LeVake was not even on the Board of Supervisors on May 3, 2005 when the Measure M "Development Agreement" was passed. The Supervisors were Dan Silva, Dennis Nelson, Larry Montna, Larry Munger and Jim Whiteaker. Please keep in mind that the supervisors did NOT vote to approve the South Sutter County (Sutter Pointe) development, the VOTERS DID!! The citizens understood at the time that it was important and would be "intelligent growth" for the betterment of our local economy.

Amazon is building a distribution center in the area. There's just one big problem...it will be in Sacramento County, just south of the Sutter County line! It will be providing 700 jobs, which is the wonderful part. This is an opportunity for everyone in the region, including Sutter County. But.... what if Amazon had located just north of the Sacramento County line into Sutter County where the VOTERS approved the Measure M/Sutter Pointe development? What would that mean to the tax base of this county? It would mean better roads, sidewalks, schools, more law enforcement, people shopping here, eating here, and mostly.....staying here to live.

Barbara's opponents are also making an issue about the Riego Road/State Route 99 Interchange. For over a decade local residents complained about the safety of Hwy. 99 and Riego Road, due to the increased commuting out of the area to their jobs. Again, Barbara LeVake was not even on the Board of Supervisors when this agreement was approved. Just to be clear, some of the same developers who placed Measure M on the ballot, helped pay for the Interchange. How can anyone criticize an improvement which helps save lives on a major highway? Stop lights on highways are dangerous and dreaded by motorists, especially when it is foggy.

In summary, the marriage of agriculture and "intelligent growth" can be a successful union for all residents of Sutter County. Economic diversity makes sense and this is what Barbara LeVake believes in. She is part of a generational farming family. I have watched her fight for agriculture, protect our water rights, understand the importance of honoring our law enforcement and fire fighters, helped to build stronger levees for flood protection, fight crime, and understand the importance of jobs, jobs, jobs. She has children and grandchildren living here in Yuba City and envisions a bright and prosperous future for them and each resident. We need a leader who chooses to run for public office in Sutter County to move our community's best interests forward and help us have a quality place to live. That person should have a great deal of experience, be hard-working, and responsible. BARBARA LEVAKÉ is the most qualified person to serve as Supervisor in the 5th Supervisorial District.

Cavaliere's Investigation

Jenny Cavaliere, incumbent for North Yuba Water Board District III, appears to dislike being a team player (Board Member). She also seems allergic to due process requirements, and that allergy may bring serious consequences at the voting booth on November 8th.

Exhibit A: Jenny Cavaliere's own email says: "Fact: All allegations against me were found to be untrue and were Unsustained." (from Cavaliere's Sept. 8th yahoo groups email in Football distribution)

Exhibit B: The official Investigation Summary, however, clearly shows Allegations Two & Three as SUSTAINED (meaning true). This is from Page 5 of the Investigation Report obtained from N. Yuba Water District's archive through a Public Documents Request.

A direct phone call to Ms. Cavaliere revealed her email statement quoted above is accurate.

Problem: Ms. Cavaliere knows very well that the Findings confirmed Allegations 2 & 3 as Sustained because she was there in-person for the Board's August 18 NYWD Special Meeting when the Summary of Findings were read aloud and entered into NYWD's archives.

Conclusion: Due process allows Cavaliere to challenge the Findings and work toward a clarification, but to tell email subscribers that all allegations against her were "found to be untrue and were unsustained?" That spreads distrust and ill-will in the community and may spell political suicide for Cavaliere and her advisors.

Folks, we have a shameless, sociopathic bully in our neighborhood.

Their paranoia, lack of facts and self-righteousness divides and destroys communities.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

● A study out of Notre Dame claims to find that “Manliness” could be bad for the planet. Really? According to these ultra-smart researchers there is a prevalent association between the concepts of greenness and femininity and a corresponding stereotype that green consumers are feminine. These “more-brilliant-than-a-fence-post” academic types claimed in the Journal of Consumer Research: “As a result of this stereotype, men may be motivated to avoid or even oppose green behaviors in order to safeguard their gender identity.” Huh?

● The beat goes on and the mainstream media doesn’t care. In the FBI love-fest with Hillary she claimed that she couldn’t recall if she ever got briefings on classified materials by the State Department when she became the head of that department. Also she apparently lost a whole shopping bag full of devices with classified documents on them. When will the media wake up and do their due diligence as called out specifically in the Constitution?

● Once again hypocrisy rears its ugly head. Where? Guess. Hillary screams that the rich are trampling down on the poor. Yet she hobnobs with every rich person she can in order to siphon off cash.

● Try this on for size. Unarmed correctional officers are shot down in a jail. The reaction of elected officials is to arm correctional officers with guns. When a night club of folks are gunned down, the same officials demand citizens have their guns confiscated.

● Kaepernick needed to do something to hold on to his multi-million dollar contracts and huge estate. Does he have any idea which political party has been oppressing minorities since forever? How about this millionaire football player suggesting to Black voters that they reconsider their 95% voting record for Democrats? Remember which members of which party owned slaves; which party started the KKK; which party fought civil rights legislation; remember the party of George Wallace who stood at the college entrance to keep Blacks out. Yep, the Democrat party.

● Moonbeam passes an extension of the “climate change” fiasco. Keep in mind that the carbon credit auctions have been an abject failure. Last week, however, we noted that Crescent City and Eureka were not under water. There’s no beachfront property in Plumas Lake, or Fairfield for that matter. We’ve had a mild summer for the last several years here and, according to real scientific sources, no world-wide temperature increase in nearly two decades. But don’t let facts interfere with the alarmists’ agenda. Keep killing jobs, demonizing coal, raising electric rates, tearing down dams, etc. PC to the extreme. Obamacare premiums and deductibles are on the rise again. And who knows how high is high? Were you aware that the ACA guarantees insurance companies profits by subsidies of taxpayer dollars? In 2014 the subsidy was around $1 billion. But what else is new, another Democrat welfare program.

● The Democrats and their fellow-travelers call Trump a bigot because he wants to restrict immigration temporarily from certain countries; particularly those from different cultures. Perhaps these folks don’t recall that Roosevelt, the Democrats’ hero, did not open immigration for Jews trying to escape Hitler. Further, the immigration plan outlined by Trump would return illegal’s who had committed crimes to their home country. The Democrats scream bloody-murder that such would be separating families. Recall last year when thousands of unaccompanied minors swept across the border? Now who was “separating families” in that invasion?

● There are some Republicans who aren’t worthy of the moniker. The Bushes, Ted Cruz, and Mitt Romney would rather see Hillary win than Trump. These poor losers have shown their true colors.

● With all the nutty university studies the Federal Government funds, maybe we should file for a grant to determine if being born leads to death.

● According to Obama, we don’t define ourselves by how we look. Then why did the Supreme Court say decisions on admittance to colleges by race are Constitutional?

● You’ve seen pictures put out by the “climate change” advocates of smoke stacks spewing forth huge plumes of nasty looking smoke. The articles accompanying the picture claims CO2 is being thrown out to change the climate in adverse ways. Such a claim is a fraud perpetrated by the government and by rich individuals who are greedily sopping up money from their deceit. But CO2 is a colorless, odorless, non-toxic gas. We exhale it with every single breath. CO2 is necessary for photosynthesis and the growth of green vegetation which turns the CO2 into oxygen. Obama and Hillary have demanded closing coal-fired power plants and pressed an international crusade against conventional fuels claiming carbon dioxide has a detrimental impact on the climate. Perhaps these ideologically-challenged folks ought to have taken a science course in school.

● According to Capital Public Radio, the Yuba City teachers’ union is asking for a 13% retroactive increase for last year. The school district says it is offering 5.5% for the current year and 2% for next year. But the “neutral” state panel – which unions demanded be put in the law – said 2%. The Union’s “own” panel disagrees with the union’s demands.

● Obama, Barbara Boxer and Moonbeam Brown unveiled several initiatives aimed at rescuing the slowly contracting Salton Sea. “We are going to reverse the deterioration of the Salton Sea before it is too late,” Obama said. The Salton Sea was created in 1905 when the Colorado River flooded. Got that folks? Obama and his loonies want to preserve something in the desert which was created by a flood. Why didn’t they try to retain the lake created by the Marysville flood? Wasn’t it as worthy?

● Did you happen to notice that salvaged trees from the King fire are being used to create jobs and make consumer products in Lincoln? News reports say that the burned trees came off private land and new trees have been planted to re-forest. Why aren’t burned out trees being taken off government land also? Because the environmentalists want dead trees to house the Spotted Owl?

Yuba College Administrative Office

by Don Schrader

Work has begun on the new Yuba College Administrative space in Yuba City. In a recent news article Robert Mathews president of the College Faculty Association questioned the expenditure of $264,000 the college is spending to move its headquarters and described the allocation as “outrageous”

The problem is Mr. Mathews missed the most important issue in the article it stated the land lord “has agreed to pay about $801,000 worth of tenant improvements” I hope no one believes the land lord is willing to pay $801,000 for improvements and not be repaid with interest. It was reported the college is also going to spend $117,828.41 for furniture. This did not include any office chairs, board room table or furniture for the Chancellor’s Office. I doubt he will be using orange crates for a desk.

The total of just those items listed in the article comes to $1,182,828. Not including the Board room table or furniture for the Chancellors office. I am sure that will be another $100,000 for an approximate total of $1,282,828. After having spent over 30 years as an instructor at Yuba this is no surprise.

At one time Yuba College was governed by the motto “Think Students Then Decide” I see absolutely NO benefit to the students of this move. I would like the Board to release what the actual cost of this decision is going to be for say the next 10 to 20 years. Include the cost of paying off the tenant improvements, moving, rent, utilities and estimated maintenance on the office space.

On the November ballot Yuba College is asking the voters to approve an additional $33,565,000.00 bond which if approved will be added to current property tax bills. I hope voters in the Yuba College District before voting remember the money being wasted by the district on the district offices. THINK STUDENTS THEN DECIDE!!!! VOTE NO!

Fifteen Year Anniversary of 911

by Fred Duncan

Just reflecting on the day, the cause, and the remedy; I can’t help but think is it may be too late, are we doing enough. Normally when a benevolent God allows the enemy to strike first blood it is a call to arms, prayer, dedication, and purity or holiness. It was that way in the Old Testament when Israel was attacked. It was that way in WW-II at Pearl Harbor.

But when our economic, political, and military centers were attacked on 911 we retrenched, doubled down and refused to acknowledge that sin of selfishness, greed, political corruption and power, and military stagnation were at fault.

It did not begin in 2001. The seeds were sewn in 1976 when various leaders called for national renewal. Among them Billy Graham, Jerry Falwell, and Pat Robertson. The later even ran for the presidency.

When Jimmie Carter was elected the Iranians attacked our embassy in Tehran Iran, captured our building and held our people captive. President Carter sent a rescue team that failed miserably in the desert foiled by an adverse wind. They were released when Ronald Regan took office and we began to strengthen America again.

Both Bushes followed and both failed to deal conclusively with the Arabic uprising across N. Africa and into Asia Minor. Sensing our weaknesses our enemies rejoiced around the world including N. Korea where previous administrations failed to end the injustice of Communism that had spawned the revolutions in Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos, threatening Thailand, Burma, and the Philippines. Adding to the communist surge was the Moslem extremism in Miramar, Thailand, and the Philippines.

In the last 8 years there has been no improvement and in fact our President seems to have a blind eye to Islamic purpose to destroy us and Putin’s aim to subvert us and reestablish the Russian Empire. He also has little or no concept of what the Chinese aim to be a superpower will affect us and their work to steal us blind while buying up our debt.

But the greatest threat to America is from the creeping socialism, rampant cronyism, graft, and anti-Christ factions within that would throw out our constitution as outmoded and write something new and progressive. Political infighting is reduced to seeing who gets the larger slice of the tax pie and the choicest positions to administer it. The establishment so called, has locks on the wheels of government and is not likely to let go. They tell the people anything and keep doing what they want, just don’t get caught out in public.

Today we have two candidates for the presidency. One is trying to capitalize on her sex and experience as a proven member of the progressive establishment. The other a rich businessman who is a total outsider. Besides the fact that he has little political capitol and often puts his foot in his mouth, he is the best chance that we have to end the status quo and restore America to greatness again. First by ending the establishment perks and unearned privilege and making all accountable to the people and subject to the law. Then by dismantling the morass of Presidential edicts ruling as defacto law unapproved by congress. Then by appointing God fearing stewards to head up the various departments of State, IRS, FBI, Interior, Homeland, Defense, and his cabinet of knowledgeable advisors.

I pray that this will be so. Time is short and God in Heaven is watching us.

River-Flow Plan Will Cause Needless Suffering

Water supplies dedicated to fish should be subject to the same efficiency standards as those affecting California farmers and homeowners, according to the California Farm Bureau Federation, which criticized a proposal released to require significant new amounts of water to be directed to the ocean.

CFBF President Paul Wenger said the proposal by the State Water Resources Control Board could idle as much as 240,000 acres of Central California farmland—with no guarantee the redirection of water will help the fish it’s intended to benefit.

“For years, regulators have been requiring increasingly more water in the name of environmental protection, but fish populations have continued to decline,” Wenger said. “Regulators have no idea how many more fish—if any—would result from dedicating even more water to environmental purposes. But we do know one thing: This will hurt people.”

Wenger described the basis for the board’s approach as untested, unproven and unpromising, given past results.

“Turning our regional economy, our local communities and our livelihoods into a regulatory experiment is not a responsible way to manage our precious water resources,” he said.

“Farmers have consistently improved the efficiency with which they use water to grow food and farm crops,” he said. “It’s time to apply the same standards to water dedicated to environmental flows. Those flows must be reasonable, useful and most of all, effective.”

Wenger said Farm Bureau will urge the water board to revise the proposal and work with local water managers and communities to create “a balanced plan to help the environment without causing needless suffering” to people in the affected areas. He said the plan must also comply with the state’s long-standing system of water resource allocation, must afford operational flexibility and must emphasize other factors affecting fish populations, such as predation and habitat.

“Forcing farmland to be fallowed—as this proposal would surely do—degrades the unique environmental resource represented by California farmland, and will hurt people and the economy throughout the region and state,” he said. “It would create another area of chronic water shortage and economic distress, without any proven environmental benefit.”

16th Annual North Yuba Harvest Festival

Immigrant Brings Beautiful Color to Yuba Sutter

By Rod Hisken

It is fascinating to me to discover the adversity people overcome in their lives. One such person is Al Deforge who lived out on Broadway north of Yuba City.

Please excuse my philosophical contributions as his story is most poignant.

The present use of one of his tractors further enhances my growing belief that God works in mysterious ways. Who would ever think that old tractors would be a catalyst for this maturing realization. James professed that the greatest use of our lives would be to share it with things that outlast us. It's not what we have, but what we leave that is more important.

Al is presently afflicted with Advanced Alzheimer's and does not always recognize his lovely wife Betty. So, if you think money is a problem, go visit a Senior Citizens Center, a Vets Hospital, or watch a Challenged Ball game of youngsters in Grass Valley.

Al is native to Belgium. He was born in 1931. He was therefore an aware young man as World War II started. His father and his father's brother married sisters. His father left Belgium and came to the US. Upon his return he found his house ransacked by members of the German Army. Trying to leave, he discovered the Belgium Government had placed a hold on the families money and exits were blocked. The children now had dual citizenship which also seemed to complicate the issue.

The family survived by working their nursery business and that sustained them through the war. His Dad was part of the Belgium Underground and was involved in many actions which deterred the Nazi Army. One such activity was cutting power lines to interfere with railroad supply traffic. Unfortunately, his Dad passed before the multiple stories could be recorded. His father wanted to return to the US, but his mother did not. They eventually worked out their issues and moved to the Portland Oregon area to start a nursery business from scratch. They both worked at whatever they could find. The business was quite successful and grew to be quite large.

Al grew to being a young man and married the neighbors daughter, Betty from Canby Oregon. Al and Betty decided to move to Yuba City because of the more friendly environment for growing roses. Al grew a variety of roses and brought some new varieties into being. He sold widely with an emphasis on the Northwest. His specialties were roses and White Birch trees. He was a doer and developed much respect in the area including fellow nurserymen.

Al was also a respected "Well Witcher" and located many wells in the basin. He was a member of the board of Nuestra School Board for a few years. Mr. Delforge loved building things and completed about ten houses in the area.

One of the tractors in his collection was appraised for scrap, but ended up being restored and now serves as a ride for a young man who is wheel chair bound and has appeared in several local parades and shows. How ironic it would end up with an owner who can't walk, has a very limited vocabulary, and will never enjoy the many things most of us take for granted. I am sure that if you think money is a problem, Al and Meyer would laugh.

The Farmall BN was built by International Harvester from 1940 to 1947.

About 1,500 were manufactured and sold in the $750 range. It weighed about 1,800 pounds. It was a one plow tractor and served as a one row cultivator which was needed in the garden vegetable business such as beets and carrots. The 1.9L four cylinder engine was available as an all fuel or gasoline and produced about 16 horsepower.

Heavy Walnut Losses Lead to Drop In 2015 Sutter County Crop Values

A tough year for walnuts led to a 25 percent drop in Sutter County's crop values from 2014 to 2015, according to Sutter County Agricultural Commissioner Lisa Herbert.

The Agricultural Commissioner issued the 2015 Sutter County Agricultural Report to County Supervisors on Thursday, reporting agricultural production at $544 million, down substantially from the record $726 million reported in 2014.

In 2014 high walnut values led to the crop replacing rice as the county's top crop for the first time in 24 years. Walnut values in Sutter County fell 60 percent in 2015 due to a decrease in acreage, production and price. The 2014 crop was estimated in value at $192 million. The 2015 crop was estimated in value at $77 million. Besides the unsustainable record prices of 2014, weather may have played a factor in production, and the port strike of 2014-15 may have contributed to loss of customers as product could not be delivered, according to Herbert.

Rice returned to its traditional spot as the top crop in 2015, with a value of $142 million, a drop of five percent in value from the previous year.

Dried prunes also suffered big losses in 2015, but remained in the third position in total value. In 2014, dried prunes in Sutter County accounted for $108 million in total value; in 2015, the crop value was estimated at $55 million, or a loss of almost 50 percent.

Processing tomatoes ($49 million), processing peaches ($49 million), and nursery products ($40 million) rounded out the top crops.

Because Your Money Matters!

Marc Cuniberti hosts "Money Matters" on KVMR 89.5 FM Thursdays at noon. His website is www.moneymanagementradio.com

Inflation

In our Money Matters series on inflation, we have discussed how inflation destroys most income classes because the prices of things we buy accelerate faster than our wages. We then covered how the super wealthy not only don't suffer from inflation but actually profit from it by their ability to hold large amounts of assets that increase in price with inflation. This enriches them far more than the increases they experience in what they might buy.

Today we will cover why the government also loves inflation and how they also profit from the general increase in prices.

First off understand that the government, through the Federal Reserve's policies, cause most types of inflation and have stated through their meeting statements they prefer inflation (versus stable prices or even deflation) and aim for a two percent annual inflation rate.

If they are successful at causing inflation (and they have all the tools to do so), many things happen, most all of them in their favor.

The policies at their disposal include quantitative easing (QE), low interest rates and government stimulus, all of which are inflationary.

By setting low interest rates, the government is able to finance more of their debt (U.S. Treasuries and other government IOUs), cheaper than if rates were higher and the government has a lot of debt. The lower interest rate they set, the less interest they have to pay on that debt and therefore the more they can afford to borrow.

When implementing another tool, QE, they buy assets (like mortgages) from the banking system so the banks have more money to lend out. The additional lending increases the money in circulation which causes more inflation (more money floating around in the system = higher prices).

In their third tool, by using stimulus money on things like infrastructure projects and more social program spending, they put even more money into the system causing even more inflation (remember our equation above).

When inflation causes prices to rise, it also causes wages to rise (albeit more slowly than general prices). When wages rise, more income taxes are collected. Wage earners also move into higher tax brackets, increasing tax revenue yet again. The caveat here is that although workers may make more money, the higher taxes coupled with the increase in prices of what they buy actually put them farther and farther behind the longer the inflation exists.

Finally, by causing inflation, the Feds weaken the U.S. dollar relative to other currencies, which causes our multi-national corporations to sell more to overseas consumers (exports) which increase their taxable income as well, bringing in even more money to Uncle Sam.

It is said that inflation punishes savers through the loss of purchasing power from the money they have saved while rewarding borrowers because borrowers will be able to pay back their debt with cheaper dollars. As the largest borrower in the world, it's not hard to see the incentive to foster inflation over stable prices (no inflation).

Couple with this the fact that revenues to the government increase with higher taxation on inflated sales and wages, their ability to sell more debt AND finance that debt at a lower cost, and then seemingly please the public with more spending to boot, it's easy to see why the government prefers inflation over any other monetary environment.

The bad news reverts back to our first illustration in our three part series of inflation. The fact that inflation hurts all but the very upper class. While that miniscule group profit handsomely from rising prices, all the other income levels beneath them slowly fall further and further behind.

Food and Farm News

Walnut supply up, prices down

The California walnut business is working to develop new markets and increase domestic demand for the nut as a healthy snack and ingredient, as growers cope with lower market prices for this year's harvest. For some, expected prices have fallen to about half of the record high from 2013. Increased supplies, reduced demand from China, a relatively strong dollar, high import duties and the 2014 port labor dispute have all affected the walnut market.

Winegrape harvest indicates high quality, slightly lower yields

As an early California winegrape harvest begins, growers report yields ranging from average to slightly below average, while quality remains high. In the 2016 season, growers have faced challenges such as water availability and market prices. Winegrapes and wine represent a powerful economic engine in California, contributing $57.6 billion annually to the state's economy.

Study looks at how light affects grapes

Can wrapping grapevines in cloth mesh of different colors change grape quality? Vineyard specialists are testing that theory at an experimental vineyard in Napa County. University of California researchers say the different colors of shade cloth manipulate the light reaching the grapes, and that could lead to subtle differences in fruit flavor, color and aroma. UC specialists say they're still evaluating the practice.

Students breed a more perfect popper

People might soon be able to buy bigger, better jalapeño "popper" peppers, thanks to University of California students. Since 2012, students at UC Davis have been breeding crosses between jalapeño and bell peppers, to feature bigger cavities suited for stuffing with cheese and other ingredients, and to thrive in organic growing conditions. The student-run project has become a model for other programs, and may result in the release of a cultivar within three years.

Benefit for Habitat Homes

Grass Valley, Ca. Street of Dreams is an evening of silent and live auctions, socializing, networking, and great food to benefit Nevada County Habitat for Humanity and build affordable homes in our community. Please join us for this special event on Friday, September 30, 2016 at The Foothills Event Center in Grass Valley. This year there is more food and more seating for guests – the event is catered by Chef Antonio Ayestaran! This event sells out, so get your tickets soon! Enjoy a plentiful buffet with such delights as A gourmet mac and cheese bar, coconut prawns, Korean roasted mini meat-balls, just to name a few. Sit back, relax, and enjoy a glass of wine (or beer) and take a signature wine glass sponsored by Grocery Outlet home with you! Decadent desserts and lots of other goodies complete the evening menu! You will not believe how many wonderful auction items local businesses have donated for you to bid on and win while helping this important cause! Every dollar raised gets us closer to completing the next affordable home for a hardworking family. 100% of proceeds from the event are designated to construction costs for homes #12 and 13 of our 16-home Heritage Oaks Project on Joyce Drive in Grass Valley, California. Habitat broke ground on home #12 in July this year with the Woodgrift Family. Tracy Woodgrift and her daughters have moved 10 times since 1990. A stable home is something that they never thought they would achieve. They have been at various times homeless and living in motels, and have lived in an attic and in substandard housing because it was all they could afford. Tracy made a promise to her girls to finally establish a stable home base, and a foundation for their future. Her determination is what brought her to Habitat. While they work on their home with volunteers, her oldest daughter Karli has now begun to plan for college. In the past, she would not have considered this over her desire to be there for her mom and sister. She can now look forward to a future filled with new possibilities, instead of worry.
