Aerospace Museum: We Did Do It!

By Ruth N. Morse

MCCLELLAN, CA (MPG) - The Aerospace Museum hosted its second annual STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) 'We Can Do It' event on Saturday, September 24, 2022. The co-chairs Heidi Sanborn and Linda Martin put together an experience meant for girls in junior high and high school. The program encourages them to consider studies and careers in math, science and engineering. Specializing in aerospace technology from multiple eras, the Museum is uniquely situated to provide this.

Statistically, girls participate in STEM endeavors less than boys. Twenty-six percent of STEM participants are female. The program leads interests in such areas as robotics, space and many other math-based careers. Also offered are the satisfaction of career choice as well as challenges in scientific and intellectual pursuits of all kinds. For the intellectually curious, these paths are not only personally rewarding but also beneficial to a technologically based society.

The Aerospace Museum called on Rosie the Riveter as a mascot for the Saturday event. During World War II, women became involved in assisting the Allies by working in factories. Iconic views of Rosie the Riveter appeared on t-shirts worn by volunteers, attendees and staff. They also sported red scarves with white dots following the female factory workers of the 1940s.

A story about women who broke ground laying the foundations for the U.S. space program became famous recently in the movie Hidden Figures. The Museum is currently working on a mural featuring famous women in the history of aviation. Also prominent on the museum floor is a display highlighting women historical figures in science and math.

Spearheading the Saturday encounter were two co-chairs, both highly passionate about students becoming involved in STEM activities. Linda Martin is the Museum Board's President and was formerly an Assistant Supervisor of the San Juan Unified School District, one of the Sacramento area school districts and located nearby the museum. She feels strongly that girls should be exposed to science and math so that doors can open, and women can enter careers in the field. For this, role models and mentors are needed.

Heidi Sanborn is the other co-chair of the event. She is an elected official on the SMUD Board. Her other passion is waste and recycling. She was instrumental in getting California State SB 54 passed which will aid in achieving zero carbon in packaging by 2030. As the daughter of a chemist, she was inspired to look into a

CDPH Warns Schools of 'Rainbow Fentanyl'

CDPH News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) this week warned school leaders about a new and concerning "rainbow fentanyl" drug that may interest youth. In a letter to superintendents and charter school administrators, CDPH Director and State Public Health Officer Tomás J. Aragón warned that "rainbow fentanyl" is a potentially fatal drug found in pills and powders in a variety of bright colors, shapes and sizes that could attract young people.

"Rainbow fentanyl can be found in many forms, including pills, powder, and blocks that can resemble sidewalk chalk or candy," said Dr. Aragón. "Any pill, regardless of its color, shape, or size, that does not come from a health care provider or pharmacist can contain fentanyl and can be deadly," he said.

In its letter, CDPH points to a recent warning from the United States Drug Enforcement Agency that notes the highly addictive and potentially deadly "rainbow fentanyl" has been found in at least 18 states.

Anyone who encounters fentanyl in any form should not handle it and should call 911 immediately.

Recognizing the signs of opioid overdose can save a life. Here are some things to look for:

Small, constricted "pinpoint pupils"; Falling asleep or losing consciousness; Slow, weak, or no breathing; Choking or gurgling sounds; Limp body; Cold and/or clammy skin; Discolored skin (especially in lips and nails).

It may be hard to tell if a person is high or experiencing an overdose. If you aren't sure, treat it like an overdose. Here are the steps that could save a life: 1) Call 911 immediately; 2) Administer naloxone, if available; 3) Try to keep the person awake and breathing; 4) Lay the person on their side to prevent choking; 5) Stay with the

Republic FC’s Open Cup Dream Ends with Their Heads Held High

By Nicholas Murray,
USL Soccer

ORLANDO, FL (MPG) - After the finality of it all began to dissipate, Sacramento Republic FC’s players and staff collectively applauded the travelling fans in the upper reaches of Exploria Stadium, who responded in kind at the end of a dream that ended 15 minutes too soon.

The players and coaching staff then went to collect their finalist medals, where they were greeted by handshakes and commiserations from the dignitaries on hand led by USSF President Cindy Parlow Cone.

And then, in an uncommon turn, they returned to the catwalk placed on the field leading to the stage and surrounded it on either side, offering a guard of honor to the Orlando City SC players and staff that had just defeated them to claim the 2022 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup.

If there was a gesture that summed up Republic FC’s historic run, and what the club is made of and stands for, its last act before departing the stage was the perfect illustration.

Glory in victory, honor in defeat.

“The guys did our club, our city, extremely proud,” said Republic FC Head Coach Mark Briggs on September 7.

For more than an hour, Sacramento more than held its own against its Major League Soccer opponent. The Lions held more possession, and created shots, but none which threatened Republic FC goalkeeper Danny Vitiello. The home supporters among a club record of 25,527 appeared to be getting restless.

It was, in fact, Republic FC that produced the first shot on target of the game. With 16 minutes to go, Douglas Martinez Jr.’s header off an angled cross from Rodrigo Lopez was claimed by Orlando goalkeeper Pedro Gallese.

It only took a minute, however, for everything to come undone. A misjudgment by Republic FC defender Dan Casey led to a turnover in the defensive end, and within seconds the ball was on the left foot of Uruguayan international Facundo Torres. His strike from the top of the penalty area was perfectly placed, as was his penalty kick five minutes later that sealed the first trophy for the Lions since they claimed the 2013 USL Championship Final, a victory that arrived nine years prior to the day of Wednesday night’s triumph.

“When you make mistakes like that, they punish you,” Briggs said. “That’s the level they play at. You make mistakes at this level, and you get punished. And that’s what happened tonight.”

As difficult as the ending proved, Sacramento’s run brought pride and a sense of rejuvenation to both the club and the tournament. From the large – and loud – contingent of travelling support that made its presence felt throughout the night at Exploria Stadium to the thousands that attended the club’s watch party back on the west coast, Republic FC not only burnished its reputation with its longtime fans but made new ones both locally and nationally.

“At the end of the day we have to be proud of ourselves, you know?” said Lopez, whose four goals tied him for the tournament lead. “We made history. We did things that no-one thought we could do. Put ourselves in a situation to play a final. That’s something that everyone should hold on to.”

There is more to come for

Republic FC, both this season and in the years to come. The club’s attention will immediately turn to securing a place in the USL Championship Playoffs, where it currently sits fourth in the Western Conference, and pursuing a second USL Championship title in its history.

Then there’s the promise of a new downtown stadium, an Academy program that continues to turn out talented professional prospects and youth internationals, and an ever-growing support base in its city.

“The guys gave a fantastic representation of themselves individually and as a group collectively,” said Briggs. “[They] gave a great representation of the USL Championship. They should be proud of the performance they put out there and hopefully it highlights there are good players in the second division. There are good players that have the potential to move on and play on a stage like they played on tonight, if you take the time to look.”

As it departed Wednesday night’s stage, final handshakes complete, heads held high, Republic FC showed the country what a great club looks and feels like. ★

San Juan Unified School District partners with the Aerospace Museum. As a great illustration of support, girls were bussed from various junior high and high schools to attend the event. The busses were packed with girls representative of the cultural diversity in the Sacramento region. They visited the planes, used program passports to show their viewing of various displays and connected with career mentors. On the lighter side, snacks were enjoyed, pictures with friends were taken, a few stepped into cultural dance steps as the disc jockey played lively and cultural tunes with a beat around and had pictures taken, generally enjoying themselves. The general atmosphere was both entertaining and educational.

Oktoberfest Car and Boat Show is Back

Rio Linda Lions Club News Release

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - The Rio Linda Lions Club will be bringing back an old favorite: A Fall season Car Show rebranded as Oktoberfest Car and Boat Show! We hosted several car shows in the late 1980s and well into the 1990s. Most of our car shows went to benefit, teach and train our club's youth group, the Leos, on how to manage and efficiently get the best BANG for the buck: life skills as an adult.

According to Rio Linda Lions Club President Gene Kypke, "The last time we did a Car Show for one of our local schools, Orchard Elementary, we raised a total of $6,600 dollars at that one event and donated $6,000 to the school because of that show!"

The Rio Linda Lions Club is constantly doing something within the community, and this year's Car Show is just a natural. There are thousands of beautiful cars hidden within our town's garages – legends that really need to be seen. Owners invest thousands, if not hundreds of thousands into these one-off special vehicles – full blown, detailed to the nines and full stock, off the showroom floor beauties. Some vehicles so custom, you cannot identify them: like a Gene Winfield or George Barris custom! Several are called Resto-Mod, meaning the classic look with all new and custom everything under the stock looking sheet metal.

"We have it all within our town to make a spectacular Oktoberfest Car and Boat Show! I have several projects myself!" Kypke said.

Rush Limbaugh use to talk about Jeff Gordon and introduced him to the world of racing thanks to Rio Linda and our passion for cars! Kypke said. "That was at the Rio Linda Quarter Midget track, right here in our town! We have car history!"

"The Rio Linda Lions Club use to have a tremendous Demolition Derby in the early 1990s because of the huge influx of automobile salvage yards – long story short, cars are within our blood," he said.

Now the 71-year strong Rio Linda Lions Club is hosting a very unique event with the Oktoberfest theme for your pleasure! Held at 6852 Dry Creek Road, Rio Linda, California, the property is known as The Dry Creek Ranch House. There will be a local radio personality from ANT-FM.com working magic with tunes, a German band playing and singing in both languages, traditional Oktoberfest music from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

This year's show will also have several different vendors selling their wares: it's never too early to shop for Christmas or Halloween! There may be a town original restored firetruck may make an appearance as well.

Speaking of vendors, the Rio Linda Lodge #786 Masons and Eastern Star Chapter #631 will have a booth set up for Child ID screening! If you have been to any of the Thursday night Farmers Markets here in town, you would have seen both groups actively involved within this community, alive and well (and recruiting)!

The cars roll in around 8 a.m., and the show technically starts at 9 a.m.! Car and Boat Registration is $30 day of the event. We have several raffle prizes to offer: a 50/50 raffle, we will have a Cackelfest at 12 Noon, raffle prize number calling at 1pm, award presentations at 1:30 p.m. and the 50/50 raffle immediately afterwards. A picture spot with an Oktoberfest 'arch' (fitting) will be available for memories, and of course, Oktoberfest libations!

This event being brought to you by the Rio Linda Lions Club is a fundraiser. It is also a toy drive and food drive for our upcoming, 60-plus years in the making, Ruby's Baskets Christmas Program. We reach out to around 125 families within our community and bless them with bountiful food and gifts. You don't have to register a car or boat to bring in any items that we could use! Any donations are happily received, a hearty THANK YOU in advance for that.

We hope that many of you can show your support, have a great time shopping, listen to some 'Oompa' German and Bavarian Band music! Come check out some incredible boats and vehicles, help us out with raffle giveaways, maybe get the kids ID done for FREE!

Limited parking will be available on the street as well as the side lot will with a $3 donation per car load on the marked south end of the property! We welcome you to October!★

Tax-the-Rich Dynamics are Different this Time

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

There's a ditty that captures Californians' attitudes about taxes: "Don't tax you, don't tax me, tax the fellow behind the tree."

It explains why California voters are usually willing to impose new taxes on the state's most affluent residents and why the state has, by far, the highest income tax rates of any state, topping out at 13.3%.

In this century, the syndrome has been evident in three elections, beginning in 2004 when Darrell Steinberg, then a state legislator and now mayor of Sacramento, and mental health advocacy groups proposed boosting the tax rate on incomes over $1 million by one percentage point to expand services to the mentally ill.

Eight years later, in 2012, Gov. Jerry Brown sponsored a ballot measure that added four new tax brackets on incomes over $250,000 for seven years, saying the proceeds, about $6 billion a year, were needed to keep the state budget solvent.

Four years later, a coalition of public employee unions and program advocacy groups backed another measure to extend Brown's temporary increase until 2030.

All were successful, in part because the wealthy people who would pay the additional taxes didn't mount any opposition campaigns.

Once again, California voters are being asked to impose more taxes on high-income taxpayers, but this time, the dynamics are markedly different.

Proposition 30, primarily sponsored by the Lyft ride service company but with support from environmental and health groups, would raise the rate on incomes of $2 million or more by 1.75 percentage points, pushing California's top rate to just over 15%. Proceeds would support climate change resistance efforts.

This time, however, wealthy Californians are donating heavily to a campaign against the measure. At least one reason might be that under a 2017 federal tax overhaul, they can no longer deduct state and local taxes (SALT) over $10,000 on their federal tax returns.

In effect, that means that California's high-income taxpayers now feel the full brunt of state tax increases. The SALT cap also encourages some of the state's wealthy to leave California for low- or no-income tax states such as neighboring Nevada, Texas or Florida – electric car tycoon Elon Musk most spectacularly.

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi and other Democratic politicians have been trying to scrap the SALT deduction limit on behalf of California and other high-tax states, such as New York, but so far have failed.

This week saw another unusual wrinkle in the perpetual efforts to increase taxes on the wealthy: The campaign against Proposition 30 is broadcasting an ad in which Gov. Gavin Newsom denounces the measure, citing Lyft's sponsorship.

"Don't be fooled. Prop 30's been advertised as a climate initiative," Newsom says. "But in reality, it was devised by a single corporation to funnel state income taxes to benefit their company. Put simply, Prop 30 is a trojan horse that puts corporate welfare above the fiscal welfare of our entire state."

It bolsters the opposition campaign's contention that Lyft wants the new money for climate change programs because it would subsidize a state mandate that it and other ride companies convert their fleets to zero emission vehicles.

Newsom's opposition is just one of the strange bedfellows makeup of campaigns for and against Proposition 30. His Democratic Party has endorsed the measure, as have groups that have been Newsom allies on climate change. But the California Teachers Association joins him in opposition, improbably aligned with the state Republican Party and anti-tax groups.

This time around, therefore, one cannot say that raising taxes on the rich will be an easy sell.

ASK THE DMV

The California DMV offers specialized options for seniors over 70 years old

The Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) wants to help you maintain your driving independence for as long as you can drive safely. The DMV offers resources to help you take care of your DMV tasks from the comfort of your home or at your local field office. California drivers, aged 70 years or older, have until the end of 2022 to take advantage of a temporary rule that offers driver's license or identification (ID) card renewal online or by mail, even if a renewal notice states that the driver is required to visit a DMV field office. If you still need to apply for your REAL ID for the first time you will still need to visit a DMV field office to complete the application process. You can shorten your in-person visit at the DMV by starting the REAL ID application online and uploading the required documents before making an appointment at a field office.

Q: Are there other alternatives for DMV services besides online or in-person?

A: The DMV continues to develop innovative approaches to streamline processes and limit the time customers spend in field offices by offering many services online that used to require an office visit. In many instances, the customer starts the process online and then is contacted later by a DMV representative through email to complete the transaction. The DMV also increased the number of items that can be taken care of at a kiosk as well as increased kiosk language options.

Q: I am 70 years old and need to renew my license, but do not feel safe coming to a DMV office. What can I do?

A: Until the end of 2022, eligible senior drivers and REAL ID cardholders can renew noncommercial driver's license and ID cards at dmv.ca.gov/online or by mail, even if your renewal notice states a visit to a DMV office is required.

Q: Once I receive my renewal notice in the mail, how long should I wait to renew my driver's license or ID card?

A: If you choose to take advantage of the DMV's online services to renew, you should try to do so upon receiving your renewal notice in the mail. Keep in mind that driver's licenses and ID cards generally arrive in the mail within two to four weeks following renewal.

By County Supervisor Sue Frost

Through the generosity of the The Rio Linda News, this column serves to provide an update about matters affecting the community of Rio Linda.

In the general election this November, voters will have the opportunity to vote on “Measure A”, a transportation sales tax that would impact not just the unincorporated areas of County of Sacramento, but the seven cities as well. This is on the ballot due to a citizen signature gathering effort, and in order to pass, the measure needs at least 50% of residents to vote in support of it. As the text of this measure is dozens of pages long, I wanted to use this opportunity to explain to you what this measure would actually do if it is passed in an easily understandable fashion.

First, let’s go over the basics of what this measure would require of taxpayers. This tax would last until 2063 (40 years), and would be a ½ cent sales tax, raising around $212,500,000 annually. This tax is in addition to the existing ½ cent transportation sales tax adopted in 2004, which is set to expire in 2039. The tax would not just be for Sacramento County residents, but for any person who happens to be in Sacramento County while buying something.

RIO LINDA COMMUNITY UPDATE

Details of the Local Transportation Tax Measure

Now let’s go over where the money will be spent: 1. 47.25% of the money will go to local street and road repair. This includes, among some other things, pavement maintenance, new/expanded streets, programs to promote walking/bicycling, and freeway interchanges. For the first five years, no less than 90% of this chunk of the money must be spent on “Fix it First” street, road, and bridge preventative maintenance. 2. 25.11% of the money will go to Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) to be used for, among other things, light rail and bus vehicle replacement, operations and maintenance of existing services, and operations and maintenance for new services partially funded through this plan. 3. 22.43% of the money will go to construction of highway, transit, rail, increased bus and light rail service, and expressway expansion and widening projects. 4. 3.05% of the money will go to senior and disabled transportation services. 5. 2.16% of the money will go to the Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District to provide for monitoring, planning, emission reduction, and future mobility programs.

This is the part of the article where I explain all the different specific projects that will be spent in the various communities impacted. Unfortunately, in Rio Linda, the only specific project listed is a road capacity expansion of Elkhorn Blvd between Rio Linda Blvd and I-80.

This is just a snapshot of the much larger picture, but I hope this has been helpful in helping you understand what you are voting on. If you want to read the plan in its entirety, please feel free to e-mail my office and we can send it to you.

Thank you for reading – and as always, if you want to contact me, call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@saccounty.net.

California Gets Green Light for EV Charging Network

Caltrans and CEC Joint News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - California has the green light to start using federal infrastructure funding to expand electric vehicle (EV) charging stations along the state's interstates and highways following the recent federal approval of a joint plan by Caltrans and California Energy Commission.

The U.S. Joint

Office of Energy and Transportation's signoff on the California Deployment Plan for the National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) Program makes an initial $56 million in funding available to install charging stations throughout the state. Funded by the federal Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act of 2021 (IIJA), California expects to receive a total of $384 million for the program over the next five years. The federal funding will build on California's historic $10 billion, multi-year investment to accelerate the transition to zero-emission vehicles by improving affordability and expanding charging infrastructure.

"Thanks to the Biden-Harris Administration's approval of California's NEVI plan, we can start putting historic levels of federal infrastructure funding to work to close gaps in our state highway system's evolving EV charging network and improve availability and reliability for low-income and rural residents," said California Transportation Secretary Toks Omishakin. "Coupled with unprecedented levels of state investments in zero-emission vehicles, this funding will help supercharge California's nation-leading efforts to drastically cut climate-changing pollution from the transportation sector."

The IIJA funds will add to efforts to complete a 6,600-mile statewide charging network and deploy 1.2 million chargers by 2030 to meet the anticipated charging needs of the state's EV fleet.

"With this unprecedented federal investment, California can advance our vision of a unified network of charging stations along the state's busiest corridors," said California Energy Commission Commissioner Patty Monahan. "This new network will increase charging access, particularly in the rural areas of our state, and help EV drivers charge up on long trips."

The state's NEVI plan focuses on construction of fast-charging stations near interstates, U.S. routes and state routes throughout California. These charging stations will increase the availability of charging options, improve the reliability of the charging network and remove barriers to accessing EVs. NEVI funding will also support upgrades to existing infrastructure, charging stations' operation and maintenance costs, community and stakeholder engagement, workforce development, and related mapping and signage.

California surpassed one million zero-emission vehicles (ZEV) sold in 2021 and leads the country in all ZEV market metrics including the highest level of public funding, the largest EV market share percentage, and the most extensive public charging infrastructure. The success of the state's programs has led to ZEVs becoming a top export and has spurred major advances in manufacturing and job creation.

For more information on the NEVI Formula program, visit FHWA's NEVI website and DriveElectric.gov. For the latest developments on California's deployment efforts under the NEVI program, please visit the CEC's NEVI website.

For more information on the state's progress, explore CEC's Zero Emission Vehicle and Infrastructure Statistics dashboards. ★

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF THOMAS ANGELO DEL ZOTTO CASE NO. 34-2022-00323348

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of Thomas Angelo Del Zotto, deceased.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Suzanne Salazar, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Suzanne Salazar be appointed as personal representatives to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows December 22, 2022, 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129; Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. Hornets Roll Past Colorado State, 41-10

News Release

FORT COLLINS, CO (MPG) - Sacramento State set a school record for points against an FBS team and amassed nearly 400 yards of offense in a 41-10 win over Colorado State on Saturday at Canvas Stadium. The win improved the No. 6 ranked Hornets to 3-0 on the season for the first time since 1992 and gave the team its first win over an FBS team since defeating Colorado in 2012. The Hornets have still yet to trail in a game this season and have now won 11 consecutive regular season games dating back to last season. The 31-point margin of victory was the largest by an FCS school over an FBS opponent since Western Illinois beat Coastal Carolina 52-10 in 2017. CSU fell to 0-4. Sacramento State quickly moved down the field on its first drive of the game, covering 74 yards on eight plays. Jake Dunniway competed 4-of-5 passes during the series, including a 32-yard pass to Parker Clayton down the left sideline. Asher O'Hara did the rest with a 6-yard rush around the right end for his fifth rushing touchdown of the year. Colorado State threatened late in the first quarter after a 56-yard pass to Troy Horton took the ball inside the Hornet 10. After the quarter ended, the Sacramento State defense kept the Rams out of the end zone and the team was forced to settle for a 24-yard field goal from Michael Boyle. Sacramento State responded with an 11-play, 75-yard drive to go ahead 14-3. The team capitalized on two defensive penalties on third-down plays to keep the drive alive and capped the series with a 5-yard touchdown pass to Pierre Williams. On the play, the ball was deflected by a Ram defender near the front of the zone and sailed to the backline where Williams won the jump ball for his first TD of the year. The Hornets extended their lead moments later. Marte Mapu recorded a third-down sack to force a punt which was returned 44-yards by Marcus

Mulcher all the way to the CSU 16. Two plays later, O'Hara dumped the ball off the Fulcher who plowed his way up the sideline for the score. The final five minutes of the first half saw a flurry of action. Sacramento State was knocking on the door of another touchdown when Jake Dunniway was intercepted by Jack Howell at the CSU 11. The Rams turned the turnover into seven points with a 52-yard catch and run from Brayden Fowler-Nicolosi to Horton with 1:17 remaining. That drive was kept alive by a 4th-and-3 conversion near midfield. Sacramento State stormed right back with an 8-play drive of its own which ended with a

45-yard field goal from Kyle Sentkowski to give the team at 24-10 lead at halftime. The Hornet defense made the first big play of the second half, stopping Colorado State on 4th-and-1 from their own 32. Eight plays later, O'Hara soared over the line on 3rd-and-goal from the 1 to push the advantage to 31-10 with just under five minutes to play in the third quarter. Sacramento State put a ribbon on the victory with a 47-yard field goal from Kyle Sentkowski 10 seconds into the fourth quarter and then a 16-play drive which ended on a 1-yard touchdown run from Cameron Skattebo which took 10:50 off the clock. The Hornets outgained

CSU, 395-253 and held a nearly eight-minute advantage in time of possession (33:58-26:02). O'Hara was a perfect 10-for-10 for 71 yards and touchdown passing while Dunniway tallied 164 yards and a score on 12-of-23. Jared Gipson led the team with five receptions (50 yards) while Skattebo had a team-high 56 receiving yards to go along with his 67 rushing yards. Defensively, Armon Bailey led Sacramento State with eight tackles while Marte Mapu contributed seven with a sack. Brandon Knott added the other sack for the Hornets. Sacramento will start Big Sky Conference play next Saturday, Oct. 1, at Cal Poly. ★
