CCA Special Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -The California Capital Airshow (CCA), presented by Sacramento County in partnership with the City of Rancho Cordova, are ready to launch another amazing show for 2022.

The popular aviation festival returns to the skies September 30th through October 2nd at Mather Airport in Sacramento, featuring a multi-national salute commemorating the 75th Anniversary of the United States Air Force. Attendees will experience the world's most talented pilots and capable aircraft both in the air and on the ground, including the long-awaited return of the F-22 Raptor, the Royal Canadian Air Force CF-18 Hornet, an extensive list of exhilarating military jet performances, historic warbirds, and activities that will inspire the next generation.

CCA has planned two unique options to enjoy the 16th annual show; Saturday, October 1st, and Sunday, October 2nd will feature an Airshow and massive festival with aircraft displays, attractions, music, food, and interactive STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) experiences along the airport ramp from 9:00 am-5:00 pm each day. But that's not all; buckle up for a wild and loud third day of Airshow excitement on Friday afternoon, September 30th from 4:00 pm-7:00 pm as the Afterburnin' Drive-In Airshow & Tailgate Party makes a comeback for a second year.

"Wow, what a show we have planned this year!" said Darcy Brewer, executive director of the California Capital Airshow. "We are thrilled to offer a unique family-friendly aviation festival along the ramp and the hottest flying performances in the air. This year's event will be EPIC and will inspire attendees of all ages throughout the weekend."

Tickets are on sale to the general public via the Airshow website. With limited capacities for 2022, the Airshow expects a sell-out, and no tickets will be available onsite Airshow weekend.

Bill Signed to Crack Down on Street Racing and Illegal Sideshows

From the Office of Jesse Gabriel

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Monday, September 19, Gov. Gavin Newsom signed Assembly Bill (AB) 2000, which will prohibit street racing and sideshows from occurring in parking lots across the state.

The bipartisan measure, authored by Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel (D - Woodland Hills), aims to crack down on dangerous driving – including street racing, "sideshows," and street takeovers – which continue to cause injuries and fatalities across California.

"Far too frequently, street racing and illegal sideshows devastate families, harm innocent bystanders, and cut short young lives," said Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel. "Communities in the San Fernando Valley and across California are sick and tired of this reckless behavior. I'm grateful for Governor Newsom's leadership on cracking down on this dangerous activity and signing this commonsense measure that will save lives across our state."

"AB 2000 will help us save lives and prevent further crashes and drivers going to prison for manslaughter," said Lili Trujillo, Founder and Executive Director of Street Racing Kills, a non-profit created in 2014 after Trujillo's 16-year-old daughter, Valentina, was killed in a street racing incident. "An exhibition of speed in a parking lot is way too common now and people are being hurt and killed, AB 2000 is definitely a great tool to help us save lives."

Rio Linda Fun and Free Faire

Story and photos
by Ruth N. Morse

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - The Rio Linda-Elverta Country Faire and EXPO celebrated its 9th annual free family fun event on Saturday, September 17th. This very entertaining community celebration was held at 6730 Depot Park in Rio Linda and included multiple venues.

The committee overseeing the Country Faire and EXPO hopes to make the annual event a "showcasing [of] the skills and talents of the Rio Linda-Elverta Community." The concept was to make it an old-time, free country fair and included categories from arts, floriculture, crafts, foods, needle arts and weaving, among others.

Community Center were exhibits highlighting contributions exclusively from the Rio Linda and Elverta areas. The Rio Linda

Elverta Grange #403 and the Country Faire cooperated with the event, displaying items varied, colorful, imaginative that showed off local skills.

In addition to the EXPO at the Community Center, the area boasted over one hundred vendor booths, food trucks, a stage with live entertainment, and an area for 4-H animal judging. In the 4-H section, each animal had its own competition and time slot. This included swine, rabbit, poultry and miniature horses.

Between the EXPO and 4-H areas were the popular, free hayrides pulled by tractor courtesy of H and K Family Farms out of Gibson Ranch connecting the Community Center and library parking lot. The Faire was large enough that a ride was a welcome respite for families with young children, people working the event and those just looking for the responded to more than 25,000 calls involving illegal street racing activity statewide, an alarming increase of more than 3,500 calls from the year before. In Southern California, street racing and sideshows have become extremely popular. In August and October of 2021, respectively, a Calabasas teen was among three people killed by apparent street racers in a three-vehicle collision in Burbank caused by street racing, and a Woodland Hills woman was killed and seven others were injured after a driver lost control while racing. Just last week, police arrested three dozen people at several illegal street take-overs in and around Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley. Statewide law enforcement groups have identified driver’s license suspensions as an effective tool for the deterrence of illegal street racing activity. Expanding on AB 3, which was signed into law last year, AB 2000 allows courts to issue a driver’s license suspension for the exhibition of motor vehicle speed during a sideshow taking place in a parking lot – an area not currently covered under the law – and thereby helps to further deter individuals from engaging in these dangerous activities. Jesse Gabriel proudly represents the West San Fernando Valley in the California State Legislature. ★

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Assistance to the Homeless — A Caveat

Two articles on homelessness in the August 19 edition of The Rio Linda News support one another nicely. The first one titled, “Two Ordinances to Prohibit Camping Approved,” outlines the substance of the two new ordinances and explains some of their legal consequences, while the second column by County supervisor Sue Frost gives her rationale in favor of these measures. Growing up hitchhiking put me in many homeless encampments, known then as hobo jungles. Weeklong trips like from California to Alaska tested my survival skills and now I do have a degree of empathy for those who have moved from their home to their relatives’ home to their friends’ home to a day-by-day hotel (room) to a trailer with no wheels to a trailer with wheels to an automobile to a tent to a bus stop cover. This list is not comprehensive: the main thing missing is the key to the ordinances, the most controversial alternative—the mental health “assistance.” Most analysts will attribute the increase in the homeless population to the closing of the mental health institutions which had been the source of an incredible misuse of governmental authority. Watch

“The Snakepit” (1948) to get a glimpse of the unimaginable conditions that actually existed in most of the mental health ‘alternatives.’ So the public forced the closing and the outlawing of involuntarily imprisoning people in one of these warehouses even if they were clearly nuts. Not having any reason to do educate myself on this issue, I am unsure whether the words ‘are a danger to self or others’ can justify involuntarily keeping someone in a mental health facility against (his) will. But the gradual reformation of this type of mental health ‘assistance’ is precisely the thing that can make or break the potential good work that well-meaning ordinances such as these can supply. Having seen our society with and without this ingredient for solving this huge problem, I personally support Supervisor Frost and these ordinances with the caveat that we have to be very careful not to repeat the horrors of history. A careful reading of this, i.e., frontal lobotomies, can help steer toward a middle route that protects society without destroying the individual who may not agree with your definition of ‘help.’ Russ Hood added ambiance of a hayride.

H and K Family Farms was founded in 2013 by Maceo Hart-Kapic. It was originally located on the historical Gibson Ranch County Park and now is on three main farm sites. Maceo informed everyone that Gibson Ranch will have a pumpkin patch from October 1-31, 2022, on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.
Also, there is an Oktoberfest car and boat show at Dry Creek Ranch House on October 1, 2022, from 9 am to 2 pm sponsored by the Rio Linda Elverta Lions Club.

Another very active member of the local Lions Club is Gene Kypke. Along with Kris McCandless-Ford, he is a member of the committee that puts the annual Faire event together. Gene was exhibiting his hobby which included dressing in medieval garb as part of the Rogues of the Golden Coast.
They delighted the attendees with displays of live cannon shots with three cannons, one personally made by one of the women at the event. Rogues of the Golden Coast is “a blast from the past” and is a cannon troop based out of Sacramento with over a decade of Black Powder experience.

A safe distance from the shooting cannons was the area with rides, bounce houses, games and a climbing wall. Children like siblings Jackson and Addison waited in line for the bucking bull ride after they had visited the free face painting area. They enjoyed themselves and their parents were particularly glad that everything offered was free. After being bucked off the popular bull ride, they went to the climbing wall. Adding to the fun were also two bungee swings that brought great excitement to the rides.

One of the promised attractions not disappointing was a stilt-walker named appropriately Mezzanine Beecomb. She walked the area interacting with the kids, bending down to high five the young ones. Based out of Sausalito, she has been walking on stilts for more than fifteen years through her company Circus Modern. Her act “is a nouveau cirque performance collective and talent agency, transform[ing] events with fearless cirque and fire entertainment.”

Kris McCandless-Ford was found near the hayrides also joining those getting their faces painted. As the chair of the board that puts the large event together each year, McCandless-Ford and is excited about next year’s faire. It is a major undertaking for so many different parts of the faire and the committee works closely with local groups such as the Lions Club, the Grange, and 4-H.

Rio Linda Elverta Country Faire helps to celebrate Rio Linda and Elverta’s once rural roots while encouraging and valuing family and small-town community in the larger metropolis of Sacramento.

Regional San Recognized Again as a Utility of the Future Today

Regional San News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - For a third time, the Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District (Regional San) has been recognized as a Utility of the Future Today. Along with 34 other forward-thinking utilities worldwide, Regional San was acknowledged as a utility that is recovering resources from wastewater, engaging communities, forming unique partnerships, and building an internal culture of innovation.

“At Regional San, we’re committed to incorporating sustainable principles and effective resource management into our daily business practices,” said Christoph Dobson, Regional San’s General Manager. “We’re honored to be recognized once again as a Utility of the Future Today, which speaks to how we’re supporting the social, economic, and environmental sustainability of the communities we’re privileged to serve.”

Regional San’s landmark recycled water program—Harvest Water—demonstrates our ongoing commitment to environmental stewardship by increasing the use of recycled water in the Sacramento region. Harvest Water will be one of the largest water recycling projects in California and will deliver up to 16.2 billion gallons per year of recycled water to an estimated 16,000 acres of farm and habitat lands in southern Sacramento County. The program will also increase groundwater levels and groundwater storage capacity, support habitat improvement efforts, and advance regional water sustainability.

The Utility of the Future Today

Recognition Program was launched in 2016 by a partnership of water sector organizations, including the National Association of Clean Water Agencies, the Water Environment Federation, the Water Research Foundation, and the WateReuse Association. Input was also provided from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The goal of the program is to guide utilities of all sizes toward smarter, more efficient operations and resource recovery.

The program applauds the achievements of utilities that focus on resource recovery such as energy, nutrients, and recycled water; community partnering; and leadership in social, economic, and environmental sustainability. Applications for the program are reviewed by a selection committee consisting of peer utility general managers and executives. Since its inception, the program has honored 228 utilities from across the U.S. and in Australia, Canada, Denmark, and New Zealand.

COVID-19 School Closures Undermined Learning

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Whether California’s schools should remain open or be closed was a hot issue when the COVID-19 pandemic was raging in 2020 and 2021.

Although medical authorities quickly concluded that children had a much smaller risk of being infected or experiencing severe effects if infected, California schools were mostly closed, in large measure because teachers and their powerful unions insisted on it.

With schools closed, local administrators scrambled to provide on-line classes, what became known as “zoom school,” but they were poor substitutes for the real thing — especially for English-learner students and those from poor families.

Those children — roughly 60% of the state’s nearly 6 million public school students — were already trailing their more privileged contemporaries academically when the pandemic hit. The closures made it worse, for obvious reasons.

They tended to lack internet access and proper equipment for on-line classes. Their parents were often compelled to work outside the home to make ends meet, so kids were often left to fend for themselves. Absenteeism from on-line classes was widespread.

Affluent parents, particularly those who could easily work from home during the pandemic, made certain that their kids attended on-line classes, helped them with their school work, formed informal collaboration groups and/or hired tutors. Thus, the ill effects of closures were mitigated. And, of course, private schools, such as the one Gov. Gavin Newsom’s kids attend, either remained open or minimized closures.

For months, politicians from Newsom downward quarreled over how the schools should function and angry parents formed the core of a movement to recall him from office. Newsom survived the recall, but the educations of millions of kids did not, as new data confirm.

While the state Department of Education has not released 2022 academic test data that would allow comparisons with pre-pandemic results, individual school districts are doing so and the numbers from the state’s largest school district, Los Angeles Unified, are stunning.

About 72% of the district’s students are not meeting state standards in math and 58% are behind in English, essentially wiping out five years of progress that it had recorded prior to the pandemic.

“The pandemic deeply impacted the performance of our students,” LAUSD Supt. Alberto Carvalho said. “Particularly kids who were at risk, in a fragile condition, prior to the pandemic, as we expected, were the ones who have lost the most ground.”

While the district released gross data, it did not break down the test results by ethnic or economic subgroups. The Los Angeles Times, however, gleaned the detail from a school board document marked “not for public release.”

Why the secrecy? Apparently, it was to mask the particularly disturbing data about Black and Latino kids.

“About 81% of 11th-graders did not meet grade-level standards in math. About 83% of Black students, 78% of Latino students and 77% of economically disadvantaged students did not meet the math standards,” the Times reported.

We won’t know how the state as a whole fared until — and unless — the Department of Education finally releases 2022 complete “Smarter Balance” test results. But there’s no reason to believe that what happened — or, more accurately, what didn’t happen — in Los Angeles isn’t also true of other systems, particularly those with large numbers of at-risk students.

The educational deprivation that California inflicted on its kids is not only shameful, but will reverberate for decades. Children who fail to master the basics of education in lower grades will be ill-prepared for high school and post-high school training and education. If they are not prepared to take their place in the work force, the state’s economy will suffer.

Flood Insurance Industry Undergoing Massive Regulatory Change

Commentary by Mac Armstrong

In this age of extreme weather and worsening natural disasters, it is crucial that we refresh and modernize our approach to disaster mitigation and recovery. A good place to start would be floods, which cost our nation approximately $17 billion in damages each year.

Californians who live in a ‘mandatory’ flood zone as defined by FEMA are required by lenders to obtain flood insurance before purchasing their home. Residents in such zones must acquire flood insurance as a condition of the home purchase, and they have historically purchased insurance from the federal government through the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). Pending regulatory changes would allow private insurers to better compete with government insurance, but for the moment the NFIP enjoys an effective monopoly in mandatory zones. However, it’s important to understand that damaging floods occur outside these ‘mandatory’ zones every year. Approximately 20% of NFIP claims, for example, come from flood events in FEMA’s ‘moderate’ and ‘low’ risk zones, where residents are not required to purchase flood insurance. According to the NFIP’s own flood calculator, just one inch of standing water due to flooding can cause $25,000 dollars of damage to a home.

Consumers deserve choice, especially considering government-mandated changes to NFIP that will dramatically increase the cost of government flood insurance to cover program losses. How big a change? According to analysis by Redfin, 81% of the NFIP flood policyholders are seeing an increase in their premium as of April 1 of this year. In California, 79% of NFIP policyholders are now paying more for their government insurance. The NFIP price hike impacts all types of communities but is most pronounced in majority-Hispanic neighborhoods, where 84% of residents have seen their premiums increase.

The combination of under-insurance and price hikes raises troubling questions about our collective resilience to flood damage. According to the First Street Foundation, our country’s annual losses from flood – currently at $17 billion – could grow to $32 billion by the year 2051. Of course, this figure does not include the cumulative cost of tornadoes, hurricanes and other wind events, fires, and earthquakes. Over the past five years, the average annual cost for all natural disasters in the United States was $51 billion. If policyholders facing premium hikes discontinue NFIP coverage, the costs of uninsured losses will be borne by American communities and threaten the ability of government entities at all levels to finance needed repairs and recovery efforts.

In short, we need to stop depending solely on government to restore our communities after disaster strikes. We envision a chain of community resilience where government, NGOs, community leaders and insurers work seamlessly to maximize available resources in support of Americans in need. A property that lacks adequate protection against flood or other events creates costs that are shifted to other links in the chain of resilience – government aid, or NGOs and philanthropies. In an era of tightening budgets and worsening weather, this is not sustainable.

The urgent order of business is to ensure that Californians are aware of their risk from flood damage and have multiple affordable options to protect their families. Private flood insurance is now an even more attractive alternative for California families and businesses, especially in an age of higher prices for everything from gasoline to housing. It’s crucial that Californians educate themselves about their options and potential alternatives to the NFIP. Above all, it’s crucial that vulnerable homes and businesses obtain coverage so that costs of recovery are not transferred to the federal government or to NGOs. The time to update our approach to disaster response is here, and we must seize the moment.

Rio Linda Crash Kills Unborn Baby, Leaves Six Injured

A 17-year-old Livermore native led police on a high-speed chase that ultimately killed her unborn baby. Photos courtesy of the Sacramento Metropolitan Fire District

By Shaun Holkko,
assistant editor

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - Six people were injured and a fetus was left dead on Friday night in Rio Linda following a vehicle crash, according to the North Sacramento California Highway Patrol.

Law enforcement officials received calls around 9:11 p.m. on September 16 about a sideshow taking place. The location was in Sacramento County at the intersection of Elverta Road at Dutch Haven Boulevard, the CHP said.

At the behest of the CHP, Over 100 people attending the sideshow quickly dispersed after blocking the intersection.

The CHP attempted to conduct a traffic stop with a pregnant 17-year-old who was driving a Honda Accord with two adults and a juvenile as passengers.

According to the CHP, the Livermore native refused to stop, leading to the high-speed chase. An innocent bystander in a Honda Civic was driving east-bound through the Dry Creek Road and Elkhorn Boulevard intersection when they collided with the Accord who ran a red light, causing the crash.

The 17-year-old driver, who was pregnant, suffered major injuries that killed the fetus. The three other passengers in the Accord were also taken to the hospital for medical treatment. One of the six victims was trapped in their vehicle and were extricated.

The east Bay Area driver was medically cleared and booked into the Sacramento County Juvenile Hall on multiple charges. According to police, drugs and alcohol were not present on the scene and do not appear to have factored in the collision. ★

Stake Your Claim at the Samoyed Nationals

By Mary Jane Popp

NORTHERN CA (MPG) - You are invited to Stake Your Claim at the Samoyed Club of America's 90th Anniversary National Specialty 2022 ... Gold Country style...October 4-8 at the Butte County Fairgrounds in Gridley, California.

This is your chance to discover the wonder of these Arctic dogs, one of the oldest breeds that originated in Siberia. They were bred to herd Reindeer, and then sleep with their people in their huts to keep them warm. It is said that it would take three dogs to nestle with their people in the dead cold of winter, and that the famous group "Three Dog Night" took their name from that connection of dogs and their people, so they say.

So, what's more fun than a flurry of white fur at the Samoyed Club of America 2022 Nationals? It's been some 26 years since the National has come to Northern California. Who knows when or if it will come back?

Every day will be filled with competitions in so many different categories from pups to seniors. You'll be delighted to a display of tricks, weight pulling, fun pee wee showmanship with the little folk and their adorable pups, even a rescue parade and the parade of title holders too. Proud Samoyed owners will gather from around the country and even around the world from as far as Australia for this epic event. From little white flurry fluffs to seasoned pros, they will strut their stuff with that great Sammy smile and their sheer desire to please for this special week.

The event is a truly unique opportunity to get acquainted with all the quirks of the Sammies, and maybe you'll decide to have one too! They are great family dogs. I should know; I have two of these wonderful critters, one is a rescue and got to be a champion. We share so much love with them. You can check out everything you would like to know from the owners who will be more than happy to share their experience with these dogs, and have they got stories to tell.

There will be a slew of vendors with just about anything you need for whatever kind of canine you have. From doggie stuff to some beautiful jewelry and so much more. And never fear, you can take your sweet time to peruse all that will be on display because there will be lots of great treats to satisfy your appetite. And the events will keep you and the whole family busy and put smiles on your face every single day. As a matter of fact, you might want to come back because there's so much to see and do.

Opening ceremony will commence Tuesday, October 4 at 9 AM and everyone is invited. There might be some surprises with Gold Country reenactments of days gone by, lots of Sammies to see with a meet and greet, and some super entertainment. But you can Stake Your Claim for fun every day from 8 AM-5 PM and here's the best part, it's FREE FREE FREE!

That's the Butte County Fairgrounds, 199 E. Hazel St in Gridley, California. Bring the whole family for lots of furry fun. If you want to know what's going on each day, go to www.SCA2022.com. If you have any questions, you can give a call to the Chairwoman of the event

Judy Davis at 650-759-3574.

It will be dogs, dogs and more dogs, fun events, good eats, and a super time for the whole family. It's a one-time spectacle you don't want to miss. It's a historic 90th Anniversary and did I mention it's FREE! You'll have a WOOFING GOOD TIME!!! ★
