Water Lantern Festival Lights Up

Launching your lantern with the crowds waiting to do the same.

Story and photos by Cecilia Feser

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - A festival with all the music, food trucks, and families, but with a twist at the end. It was called the Water Lantern Festival of 2022. It was a celebration of life and the love of family and kindness. You parked, entered the festival and exchanged your ticket for a backpack. In the backpack was all you needed to make a floating lantern. A light came with it, but had a small battery, no fire anywhere. You also got a four-sided square of paper you could write anything you wanted before floating it at sunset.

I talked to Coshae Reid who was trying to blow up an inflatable lounge chair she purchased once she got there. You don't blow into it, you have to run around catching the air in the chair with enough speed to fill the chair up and seal it. All day people were running trying to catch air. A fun part of the festival. Coshae told me she had tickets for this very event for two years!! Yep, Covid cancelled it until finally, this year the festival could go on. "Well worth the wait," she told me.

Ryan Gilman was the on-the-scene EMT. Band aids are what he has given out so far and he hoped it stayed that way. Food trucks, I found Alyssa Jones and Jada Williams both eating a huge ice cream cone. "We're just glad it is not boiling hot," they agreed. As I walked, I saw Irene Aguilar dancing around while waving a colorful flag. I flashed back to the '70s.

Ms. Hannah Brooks was the live guest singer. She started with Adele's, 'Easy on Me' and slammed it!! That is a hard song, but she did it well and sang many more songs just as good. Lastly, I heard a lot of screaming, in fun tones, and found children and adults being buckled into a huge bungie type thing. You sure got your $12 worth as you bounced for a good 10 minutes. Each person had a worker that helped make sure you got way up high by helping pull on your elastic straps.

Finally, it was getting dusk. All the people brought their lit lanterns to the edge of the water to cast them off. Amazing!! One after another everyone started floating out their personal messages. Lots of smiles. Lots of food being eaten and much dancing. I am pretty sure it was a big success. Dance when you can, especially when no one is watching. ★

Board of Supervisors Pass Homeless Action Plan

By Janna Haynes, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - On Tuesday, June 14, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors approved the Local Homeless Action Plan, which was created by the County of Sacramento, the City of Sacramento and Sacramento Steps Forward – the lead agency for the local Continuum of Care (CoC).

Background on State funding for homeless response – On July 19, 2021, the Governor signed Assembly Bill 140 (Chapter 111, Statutes of 2021), which allocated $2 billion over two years in Homeless, Housing, Assistance And Prevention (HHAP) Round 3 (HHAP-3) and HHAP Round 4 (HHAP-4) grant funding. In HHAP-3, Sacramento County is eligible for $7,768,228 in funding.

As a condition of receiving HHAP-3 funding, jurisdictions and CoCs must develop and formally approve a Local Homeless Action Plan (LHAP) that reflects strategies to address State developed Outcome Goals. Sacramento County worked collaboratively with the CoC and the City of Sacramento to develop the Action Plan. This plan reflects strategies that align with best practices to prevent and end homelessness, and are intended to help address gaps in the local homelessness system of care over time.

In addition to ensuring that Sacramento County can draw down these critical State funds, the LHAP also serves as a strategic framework for future investments and reflects best practices in preventing and ending homelessness. Guided by a local gaps analysis that quantified the estimated needs in prevention, sheltering and housing, the LHAP is oriented around five broad strategies:

Build and scale a countywide Coordinated Access System; Ensure sheltering programs are focused on re-housing; Increase permanent housing opportunities; Expand prevention and diversion resources; Invest in community capacity building and training.

The LHAP also stresses the need to identify and mitigate racial disparities within the homelessness programs and system. While persons identifying as Black only represent 11% of the population in our CoC's geographic area, they represent approximately 39% of individuals who are

Opportunity Awaits to 'Join the CHP 1,000'

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Highway Patrol (CHP) is embarking on a multiyear recruiting campaign to fill 1,000 vacant officer positions by hiring qualified individuals from California's diverse communities.

The "Join the CHP 1,000" campaign is the Department's attempt to appeal to a wide array of prospective applicants who may not be aware of the life-changing opportunity that awaits with a career with the CHP.

"To meet the increasing demand for our services throughout the state, over the next few years our law enforcement family will be growing exponentially," said CHP Commissioner Amanda Ray. "We are excited to welcome new members to the team so that the CHP can continue to provide the level of service the public has come to expect."

To qualify as a CHP cadet, applicants must be a United States citizen or a permanent resident who has applied for citizenship, be between the ages of 20 and 35, possess a high school diploma or equivalent, be able to pass a physical abilities test and written exam, and complete a thorough background check with no felony convictions on record.

"It requires a special kind of character and special brand of bravery to be a California Highway Patrol Officer," said Governor Gavin Newsom. "Our entire way of life – our freedoms, our peace, our pursuit of happiness – depends on those fearless, faithful few determined to protect it. I look forward to welcoming the next set of officers committing to serve California."

A career with the CHP includes paid training. Cadets earn a salary of $5,563 each month throughout their 26 weeks at the CHP Academy in West Sacramento. After graduation, new officers are assigned to communities throughout California and can expect to earn more than $100,000 in their first year with the Department.

"Anyone who may be wondering if they have what it takes to become a CHP officer, let me be the first to tell you that you do," added Commissioner Ray. "If you are compassionate, driven to serve, and have a desire to learn, the CHP provides some of the best law enforcement training in the world and we will do all we can to ensure your success."

Joining the CHP family is an opportunity to be the change and make a difference in the community and the lives of those you serve. For more information about the "Join the CHP 1,000" or to apply, visit www.chpcareers.com or call the statewide Recruitment Unit at (916) 843-4300 today.

3 CHP Officers Honored for Heroic Actions

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Three California Highway Patrol (CHP) officers received the Public Safety Officer Medal of Valor during a ceremony hosted by the U.S. Department of Justice on May 16 in Washington, D.C.

The award presented to CHP Officers Ryan Smith, Vince Mendoza and retired CHP Officer Robert Paul is considered the highest national award for valor by a public safety officer.

“Our entire way of life – our freedoms, our peace, our pursuit of happiness – depends on the rule of law and those fearless, faithful few willing to stand watch,” said Governor Gavin Newsom. “I applaud the bravery and selflessness of these California Highway Patrol officers as they are recognized nationally for their heroism. They exemplify California values and represent the very best of our state’s law enforcement.”

On August 12, 2019, Officer Paul was assisting CHP Officer Andre Moye Jr. with an enforcement stop and vehicle impound near Interstate 215 in Riverside when the suspect suddenly retrieved a rifle from his car and opened fire without warning. Officer Moye was struck and killed, and Officer Paul immediately drew his weapon and engaged the suspect before radioing “Officer down.” Additional Riverside Area CHP units immediately responded along with units from the Riverside Police Department and Riverside County Sheriff’s Department.

Officer Paul was shot multiple times in his legs and, despite the life-threatening injuries, held off the suspect until backup arrived. Officer Smith arrived after several minutes, and his patrol vehicle immediately took rounds from the suspect. Officer Smith exited his vehicle and returned fire and pulled Officer Paul to safety as he was wounded in both legs. Officer Mendoza then arrived and shot at the suspect with a rifle, drawing fire away from Officers Smith and Paul. With the assistance of allied agencies, the gun battle continued for more than 12 minutes until the suspect was fatally shot.

“The actions of these men that day were noble, courageous, and crucial to getting another officer to safety,” said CHP Commissioner Amanda Ray. “I am incredibly proud of these officers for their teamwork and the numerous acts of bravery which took place during this horrific incident.

While we tragically lost one of our own that day, countless other lives were saved because of their heroism.”

Sworn to serve and protect the people of California, CHP officers vow to “assist those in peril or distress, and, if necessary, lay down their [my] life rather than swerve from the path of duty.”

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

CHP Graduates Pave the Way for Future Applicants

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Highway Patrol’s (CHP) 128 newest officers graduated from the CHP Academy in West Sacramento on Friday, June 10 after completing 27 weeks of training.

Cadets crossed the stage to receive their badge and assignment at one of the CHP’s 103 Area offices throughout the state, as family and friends packed the gymnasium in support of the new officers.

“Completing Academy training is a tremendous achievement,” said CHP Commissioner Amanda Ray. “These women and men are not just starting a new job, they are embarking on a lifelong career that requires extreme dedication and a passion for service.”

At the CHP Academy, cadet training starts with nobility in policing, leadership, professionalism and ethics, and cultural diversity. Cadets receive instruction on mental illness response and crisis intervention techniques. The training covers vehicle patrol, crash investigation, first aid, and the apprehension of suspected violators, including drivers under the influence of alcohol or drugs. The cadets receive training in traffic control, report writing, recovery of stolen vehicles, assisting the motoring public, issuing citations, emergency scene management, and knowledge of the California vehicle code, penal code, and health and safety code.

The CHP’s newest officers join the ranks of the more than 6,700 uniformed personnel serving in communities throughout the state.

A new cadet class is scheduled to begin training at the CHP Academy on June 20. Another class of more than 100 cadets is expected to complete training and graduate in early August.

On Thursday, the CHP launched a multiyear recruiting campaign to fill 1,000 vacant officer positions by hiring qualified individuals from diverse communities. For more information about the “Join the CHP 1,000” campaign, or to apply, visit <https://recruitment.chp.ca.gov/> or call the state-wide Recruitment Unit at (916) 843-4300.

“Joining the CHP family is an opportunity to be the change and make a difference in the community and the lives of those we serve,” added Commissioner Ray.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

Sally McGrath, Librarian, Moving on, Not Away

Sally cutting cake with Caleb.

Friends of Sally's watch her cut the cake.

Story and photos by Cecilia Feser

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - The well-loved and well-known Sally McGrath had her good-bye party a few days ago. For the past 10 years she has been the cheery face, our Librarian. There was a beautiful cake made by I & C Mexican Bakery by the Rio Linda Arches. The icing was so fluffy, lots of edible multi-colored roses on top. Placed all around the cake were real, fragrant roses, from the 'Mott Ranch.' Sally told us all, "I am just moving down the road to the South Natomas Library, where I will be the new Branch Supervisor. Please come by and say hello." Many of her well-wishers had known her when they first came to the library and now bring their children and grandchildren to this library. Such was the case with Becca Perez who brought her daughter Vienna Perez, 5 years old, to say goodbye. Ms. McGrath was a big help during Covid when the military set up in the library parking lot to give out free covid shots to Rio Lindans and surrounding towns who wanted to get their shot. She also started a 'seed' packet giveaway at the Library. There are still seeds available for planting. Flowers and vegetables. Also, as part of the Friends of the Library, they try to get others to know how valuable the library can be. There are even computers you can use while there. Sally will be missed, but not gone and will be around to support her Rio Linda. She was telling me about a quilt trail project coming up for the Rio Linda area. Ann Marie Tomlinson can be asked all about this project and all the quilts you see on the sides of buildings. I will find out more about this quilt project and often wondered about the quilts I have seen around town. I will let you know all about it over the summer. Breath, smile, laugh when you can. ★

'Speak on It,' Mike Brown is 'Here to Win'

by Shaun Holkko, sports editor

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Hours after parading through the streets of San Francisco to celebrate the Golden State Warriors' fourth championship in eight years, Mike Brown was formally introduced Tuesday afternoon as the new coach of the Sacramento Kings.

Brown is the 20th head coach in Sacramento franchise history and the 12th since Rick Adelman departed the organization in 2006. Adelman is currently the only Sacramento coach to lead the team to a winning record. The Basketball Hall of Famer had a (.633) regular season winning percentage along with eight playoff appearances in eight years.

"I'm excited about being here," Brown said at his introductory press conference. "The fan base is tremendous. I remember back in the day, them damn cowbells just use to ring in my ear and use to drive me crazy. I hope we get back to that point because now I'd love to hear them cowbells every game."

"I'd be the first one raising the roof and telling everybody to get up and ring those things all day long. The fans, they're extremely passionate, they're knowledgeable and I'm just looking forward to being around them."

Brown has been as an NBA head coach on three separate occasions, with the Los Angeles Lakers (2011-12) and twice with the Cleveland Cavaliers (2005-10 & 13-14). In seven full seasons as the leading man, Brown has led his teams to the playoffs six times, without a single first round elimination. Brown was named the NBA Coach of the Year in 2009 after leading Cleveland to a 66-16 record and a trip to the Eastern Conference Finals.

"We conducted a very robust, thorough, comprehensive process and we wanted to ensure that we found the right coach," said Kings general manager Monte McNair. "We did a lot of research, and it came down to really three key things for us: experience, successful head coaching experience; relationships, the ability to build relationships across the organization; and leadership, as a head coach and leadership for everything that we're trying to do here."

During seven plus seasons as a head coach in the league, Brown has a winning record in both the regular season (.616) and playoffs (.566). The 52-year-old spent the last six seasons as an assistant coach with the Warriors, adding three rings to the one he earned as an assistant with the San Antonio Spurs in 2003.

"We gotta get one for the thumb, I only got four!" Brown said to a media member while pounding the table with a laugh and a smile.

Brown expressed three areas of focus as he enters his new role: 1. An alignment of trusts within the organization. 2. A set of values upheld by leadership. 3. An embracement of your role.

"I was brought here to bring some leadership in a lot of different areas," Brown said. "I've been with a lot of different teams in my 30 years, and I've experienced what I believe is something that can get organizations over the top, not just in one year, but year in and year out, and that's having a winning culture. Every organization out there in my opinion has a soul. A strong soul in my opinion equates to a winning culture."

It's well chronicled that the Kings' active playoff drought is the longest in NBA history at 16 seasons. Some new coaches may try and avoid questions about it, but not Brown.

"There ain't no elephant in the room, you can speak on it," Brown said. "We're going to embrace that. I'm not coming here to 'have fun and be excited enjoying the area.' I'm coming here to win!" ★

Supreme Court Gives Business a 'Tort Wars' Win

By Dan Walters
CALMatters.org

"Tort wars" is the term Capitol insiders apply to the perennial political conflict over the rules governing personal injury lawsuits.

Lawyers who file such suits seek to expand opportunities for litigation, often in concert with other interests, such as unions and environmental activists.

Business and employer groups and their insurers resist such expansion and occasionally propose ways to reduce exposure.

The conflict plays out in the Legislature, in the courts and in ballot measures with countless billions of dollars at stake in outcomes. Earlier this year, a 44-year-long dispute over medical malpractice compensation was resolved in a compromise that averted a ballot measure battle.

However, there are many other fronts in tort wars, including one that resulted in a U.S. Supreme Court ruling last week.

In 2003, just four days after California voters decided to remove him from office, then-Gov. Gray Davis handed personal injury lawyers and unions a major victory by signing legislation called the Private Attorneys General Act (PAGA). It enabled workers who had disputes with their employers to file class action lawsuits even if they had signed pre-employment agreements to submit such disputes to arbitration.

Advocates said it was needed to protect workers' rights and make up for the state labor department's inability to keep up with disputes over wages and other working conditions. Business and employer groups said it gave greedy lawyers a license to demand big settlements of cases and earn big contingency fees.

Ultimately, business interests spent millions of dollars to qualify a ballot measure that would gut PAGA. The initiative petitions have been submitted for signature-counting, but probably too late for the 2022 ballot. Most likely it will go to voters in 2024.

Meanwhile, a case challenging PAGA's provisions has been winding through state and federal courts and the U.S. Supreme Court last week declared that some important features are void because they conflict with the Federal Arbitration Act, which encourages civil disputes to be arbitrated rather than litigated.

The case involved Viking River Cruises and one of its employees, former sales representative Angie Moriana. Essentially, the Supreme Court declared that California's Supreme Court had erred in a previous PAGA case and state courts had applied that erroneous decision, involving the division of individual and class action complaints, to Moriana's case.

The decision was not unexpected, given the tenor of oral arguments, but surprisingly did not reflect the court's much-discussed 6-3 ideological split. The vote was 8-1 with only the court's most conservative member, Clarence Thomas, fully dissenting, saying state issues should be left to state legislatures and courts.

Predictably, even a Supreme Court decision does not end the battle over PAGA because it was decided on technical legal points rather than the broader issue.

Unions, lawyers and their political allies immediately pledged to write new legislation to get around the Supreme Court decree. Sen. Dave Cortese, a San Jose Democrat who chairs the state Senate's labor committee, said the ruling "has provided a roadmap as to how we can create for employees a new pathway to legal standing as well as safeguard the protections that state law puts in place for our workers."

Because the Supreme Court did not strike down all of PAGA, the business coalition backing the ballot measure, dubbed the California Fair Pay and Employer Accountability Act, pledged to continue its campaign. "Even with the SCOTUS ruling on Viking River Cruises, PAGA will still be an avenue for shakedown claims against businesses where trial attorneys take a huge portion of the recovery, leaving employees with a reduced amount," it said.

Dan Walters has been a journalist for nearly 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★ experiencing homelessness and approximately 39% of families with children experiencing homelessness have a Black head of household. Additionally, local data reflecting persons identifying as American Indian/Alaskan Native are not accessing homeless services in proportion to the number of people believed to be experiencing homelessness from that community.

Through the County budget and the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funding, the County has made significant investments in programs that align with these strategies. The LHAP will serve as the countywide strategic plan, reflecting the collective efforts of the County, City of Sacramento, the CoC and other collaborative partners.

What happens now?

With this approval, the Department of Human Assistance (DHA) will submit an application for the County allocation of HHAP-3 funding on or before June 30, 2022. Notification of award is expected by Sept. 28, 2022. Efforts under HHAP are intended to be invested in evidence-based solutions that resolve or prevent homelessness and which align with the LHAP. The plan document will be updated over time with measurable action steps as County, CoC, and City investments are made and new projects and programs are implemented, including those funded under HHAP-3.

Defendant Sentenced for Human Trafficking, Pimping/Pandering

Sac County DA News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Honorable Ernest Sawtelle sentenced Johnnie Cokley to 55 years and eight months in prison.

On May 11, 2022, a jury convicted Cokley of assault with a deadly weapon, human trafficking, pimping, pandering, kidnapping, two counts of felony evasion and being a felon in possession of ammunition. The jury found true four allegations that Cokley caused great bodily injury. An allegation that Cokley has a prior strike conviction for carjacking was also found true.

On March 22, 2020, a female with a life-threatening stab wound to her stomach appeared at a Sacramento Fire Department firehouse. The victim was transported to a hospital, where she reported to a sheriff's deputy that Johnnie Cokley had stabbed her. The victim later explained that she had been trafficked by Cokley for almost one year and was trying to get away from him when she was stabbed. An arrest warrant was issued for Cokley. On April 9, 2020, detectives attempted to stop Cokley while he was driving his car. Cokley fled and sped through a residential area until he abandoned his car and fled on foot, evading arrest. Deputies located multiple boxes of firearm ammunition in Cokley's car. Two days later, Cokley was located again and fled from deputies by car. Cokley drove erratically onto the freeway before leaving that car in a community center parking lot and fleeing on foot. Cokley was found in a nearby apartment complex and taken into custody.

A lengthy investigation uncovered contacts the victim and Cokley had with law enforcement in California and Phoenix, Arizona from June 2019 to March 2020, all related to prostitution. The Phoenix investigation revealed a surveillance video of Cokley beating the victim to the point of unconsciousness at a convenience store and leaving her there. This investigation helped to establish a timeline of the relationship and Cokley was engaging in a continuing course of pimping, pandering and human trafficking over an extended period of time. The victim testified that Cokley stabbed her and that they had a pimp/prostitute relationship. She also testified that Cokley kidnapped her in a shopping center parking lot in an attempt to get her back under his control.

Cokley has prior convictions for vehicle theft, resisting officers, domestic violence and felon in possession of a firearm. ★

Defendant Convicted of Killing Homeless Man

Sac County DA News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Deante Whitaker was convicted by a jury of the first-degree murder of George Kouklis. The jury also found true a use of deadly weapon allegation.

On August 24, 2019, Whitaker was driving on North 16th Street by Capitol Casino when the victim, a local homeless man, walked in front of his car. Whitaker stopped and the victim yelled at him. Whitaker then drove around the victim and proceeded to drive around the block. When Whitaker saw the victim standing at the same intersection, he drove right into him. The victim was launched across several lanes of traffic, suffered blunt force trauma and died the next day. Whitaker was arrested a little over a week later after calling to report his license plates were stolen.

Whitaker faces a maximum sentence of 26 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for August 5, 2022, in Department 12 before the Honorable Maryanne Gilliard. ★

Defendant Sentenced for Child Sexual Assault

Sac County DA News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Honorable Laurel White sentenced David Belmares to 68 years to life in prison.

On April 29, 2022, a jury convicted David Belmares of 9 counts of child sexual assault and his brother, Jared Belmares, was convicted of 4 counts of child sexual assault.

A family member of the defendants operated a foster care and daycare out of her home. Over a period of years between 2011 – 2013, the defendants molested children who were in the daycare. At the time of the abuse, the defendants were adults and the children were all under the age of 10 years old. Both defendants had previously molested several young girls who were in foster care at the home from 2008-2011, but information about the daycare abuse did not come to light until later disclosures by the children.

Jared Belmares faces a maximum sentence of 40 years in prison. He will be sentenced on July 15, 2022, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 33 before the Honorable Laurel White. ★

Defendant Convicted of Sexually Assaulting 4 Children in Daycare

Sac County DA News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Miguel Orozco pled to sexual penetration or oral copulation of a child under 10 years of age and multiple counts of lewd and lascivious acts with a child under 14 years of age.

Orozco's girlfriend was running a daycare out of her apartment. Between 2006 and 2012, Orozco sexually assaulted four children he had access to through his girlfriend's daycare. Two of the victims were 4 years old when the abuse started, the third victim was 5 years old and the fourth victim was 7 years old.

Orozco faces a maximum sentence of 22 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for July 13, at 1:35 p.m. in Department 63 before the Honorable Carlton Davis. ★

Flights of Independence

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Flips, fumbles – even a 24-hour missing eaglet alert – punctuated maiden flights for 2022 bald eaglet twins Phoenix and Flame. (Note: these names were coined by this observer. Scientific observers identify the two females hatched close to Sacramento as eaglets 12 and 13.)

Built in 2016, their parents’ eyrie was considered the closest to Sacramento in recorded history. The fact that bald eagles were nesting in unaccustomed territory underscored a comeback for the species that was near extinction in the 1970s. The American River nest has since accommodated 13 babies.

Eaglets fledge at around 12 weeks after hatching. To reach adult size in less than three months, babies are fed nonstop. They must also be sheltered from cold and parching canyon heat and predators. This year, the parents routed a bobcat that climbed almost to nursery level.

Mama and papa worked in relays to deliver prey. The hatchlings were delicately beak-fed at first. Later, as eaglet instinct developed, beaks and talons tore at prey. Fish and waterfowl provided most of their nutrition. Older by at least four days, Phoenix was the first to scramble outside the nursery and begin the process of branching. Flapping and building flight muscle, she moved around the nesting tree.

One windy June morning, she ventured a jump; missed her footing and fell. A soft landing on bluff grasses prevented injury. But solid ground was a whole new deal. Tripping over clown-sized feet, Phoenix stomped about her new domain. She tumbled down a bank. Odds favored survival but achieving first flight from ground level seemed a big ask.

Phoenix found a low, horizontal branch. Leaping up, she gained two feet of height and paused to consider. Her papa watched from the nest. Fifty yards away, mama perched in another bluff pine. Phoenix flapped and flawlessly rose. In 50 yards, she gained 50 feet of elevation and landed (20 feet above her mama) in a tangle of talons and slapping wings. Here the juvenile perched all day. A maiden flight is a leap of faith at the best of times; accidental fledging perhaps requires recovery time. One or both parents sat below her for most of her first day out of the nest.

A week later, sibling Flame’s debut flight and unobserved landing was another drama. Volunteers combed creation for her. The eaglet’s exit from the nest aimed for a distant bluff tree where sibling Phoenix was being fed. Flame belted to her goal; missed her landing; snatched at a limb and hung upside down before falling below the bluff. Then she disappeared. A day-long volunteer search in triple-digit heat could not locate the juvenile.

Disoriented fledgers are wise to lay low and stay silent. By daybreak, a recovered Flame ignited. I photographed her dusky profile in a waterside pine, not far from her botched landing. An oddity I’d observed during the previous day’s search suddenly made sense: Flame’s parents had alighted on a mid-river island and sat shoulder-to-shoulder for 30 minutes. Their perch was in view of where Flame eventually materialized. At no point did her parents seem agitated. They evidently knew where she was and had faith in her return.

At dawn, the debutante beheld sister Phoenix awaiting a feed on the feeding branch that lured the previous day’s fledgling. Hungry and motivated, she launched a mile-long journey to gain 120 feet of height needed for breakfast approach. Her trajectory included crossing the American River. After resting on the opposite bank, Flame barreled back, wingtips slicing the dark mill pond. The juvenile landed brilliantly near papa on the feeding branch. Her sibling had already breakfasted and regained the eyrie.

Mama approached with a second fish and the prodigal screamed welcome. By devious ploy, the huntress wafted over the outraged tyke and baited the way home. Flame shot off in a piebald blur and soon slam-dunked the nursery. Her food-frenzy screams reached me from half a mile away.

Hindsight: For almost 24 hours, fledgling Flame was merely invisible to the searchers.

Nature cloaked her. Wariness kept her silent. Vigilant parents kept her in sight. Instinct guided her flawless homecoming strategy. She was never lost. It’s we who were lost without her.

Thanks to everyone who searched, prayed, and became even more aware that this American River family is part of our hearts. ★
