By Elizabeth Aguilera,
CALMatters.org

Although more than three-quarters of California adults are vaccinated against COVID-19, opinions are more divided when it comes to vaccinating children. That sentiment played out Thursday (April 14, 2022) when first, the author of a bill that would have mandated vaccines for all children pulled the legislation, and then again when state health officials pushed back the date of their student vaccine mandate.

It was a striking shift for a state that had been the nation's first to announce a planned K-12 COVID-19 mandate.

The bill by Sen. Richard Pan, a Sacramento Democrat who chairs the Senate Health Committee, would have granted no personal belief exceptions to the requirement that all children get the COVID vaccine to attend school or childcare. In sidelining his own bill, Pan said the focus needs to be on making sure families can access the vaccine for their children.

Within hours, the California Department of Public Health announced it will not begin the process of adding the COVID-19 vaccine to the list of mandated childhood vaccines for K-12 public and private school students because it has not been approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration. Previously the state had intended to require it for the upcoming 2022-23 school year, but now that won't happen until at least July 1, 2023.

The health department said in a statement that even after COVID vaccines for kids receive full approval, it would also consider the recommendations of a Centers for Disease Control vaccine advisory committee and the American Academy of Pediatrics and American Academy of Family Physicians before issuing a school vaccine requirement.

Support for Pan's bill has been wavering for several weeks. Last month, another member of the Senate Health Committee, Democratic Sen. Connie Leyva of Chino, told the group Stand Up Ontario, in the Inland Empire, that she was not going to vote for the bill.

She said she told Pan, "I just don't think it's the right time. We are too divided in the community," she said. "I think this bill is too divisive."

GOP political consultant Mike Madrid said legislators pull bills for many reasons, including a lack of support or because there is another way to reach the same goal.

"If a better way to solve it is access without the acrimony of mandate that is fine," he said. "The point isn't to disagree, it's to get to a point where we have public health protections."

Pan's bill was one of eight

Caltrans News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Caltrans announced it is awarding $34.7 million in state and federal funds to cities, counties, tribes and transit agencies throughout California – including $25 million funded by Senate Bill (SB) 1, the Road Repair and Accountability Act of 2017 – to plan sustainable transportation projects that reduce greenhouse gas emissions, improve the state highway system, enhance access to safe walkways and bike paths, and increase natural disaster preparedness.

"These grants are funding the planning for sustainable and more resilient transportation projects that will prepare the state for rising sea levels, wildfires and other climate related impacts," said Caltrans Interim Director Steven Keck. "By collaborating with local communities, we are working together to achieve both our climate goals and an equitable transportation infrastructure for people who rely on transit and intercity bus service."

In total, Caltrans will allocate:

$18.4 million in Sustainable Communities Competitive and Technical Grants to 57 local, regional, tribal and transit agencies for climate change adaptation, transportation and land use planning, and natural disaster preparedness. This includes more than $4.5 million to fund planning for 14 projects that improve safety and access for people who walk and bike; $3.8 million in federally funded Strategic Partnership Grants to 10 projects that will plan for zero-emission medium- and heavy-duty vehicles, sustainable goods movement, wildlife connectivity, intercity bus systems and other sustainability initiatives;

$12.5 million – all from SB 1 – in Sustainable Communities Formula Grants to metropolitan planning organizations to further regional transportation plans and sustainable community strategies. This grant will be awarded later this spring.

Caltrans awards transportation planning grants each year through a competitive process to encourage local and regional projects. Applications are evaluated on how they further state transportation goals by identifying and addressing statewide, interregional, or regional transportation now be held here. Mostly, this public pool will benefit the local hotels, restaurants and shopping centers.

The complex has sets of official starting blocks for competitive meets. Two diving boards can be slid in and out due to the needs of the competing diver. The longer the board, the more the spring if you're doing multiple flips! It is 13 feet under the diving boards. Right next to the diving boards, a large, covered bleacher area for watching the competitions.

"The complex is hoping to host the Special Olympics," said Jackie Beecham.

This pool is fitted with under-water and overhead lighting for night events.

"It is really something to see (it) all light up," said Elmer Haynes who is in a wheelchair after a stroke.

Elmer began pointing out the two chairlifts so those like him can get in and walk around. His smile at just the thought, was huge.

"You're free in the water" Haynes said.

Haynes was a competitive swimmer back in his college days at UC Berkley.

"This pool complex is big time and has an actual competition pool," Haynes said.

Elmer Haynes, who uses a wheelchair after a stroke, is excited about the handicap sling available at the new North Natomas Aquatics Complex.

The new North Natomas Aquatics Center has a water slide that is fun for the whole family.

Haynes went on to explain how now they can hold national, regional and high school meets at the North Natomas Aquatic Complex and everyone in the area benefits from the gorgeous facility.

The Sacramento Masters have been swimming since starting in 1970, offering friendly competition and swimming for fitness. This group is open for those 18 years and up.

"U.S. Masters Swimming is a national membership-operated nonprofit that provides membership benefits to nearly 65,000 Masters swimmers across the country," the organization's website states.

Another group, the DART swimming club offers competitive and recreational youth swim team programming. Billy Doughty is the DART coach and was very enthusiastic at his information booth Saturday. He spoke about DART swimmer, Luca Urlando, an American recorder-holder who is under his tutoring.

"If you dream of

Lastly, I met Derrick, his wife Rochelle and Jayne Annis representing the growing sport of water polo.

"This is a pool big and deep enough to have a water polo

FFA Hosts Car Show and Craft Sale

A view of the competing cars at this weekend's show.

Story and photos by Cecilia Feser

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - FFA to me meant showing animals. That barely touched what the Future Farmers of American offers I found out by attending the FFA sponsored Car Show/Craft Sale, held in the parking lot of Rio Linda High School parking lot this past Saturday.

I met Malissa Stites, President of the Alumni, as I walked up to the tent with the FFA banner expressing their message. “We, the alumni, support our students and teachers to get students to a show or a State Conference. We also offer many types of Scholarships to our students in the High School program. Once the students complete the HS courses and graduate, they then can become alumni like myself, and we hope they do continue this great way for a child to grow up. This coming weekend we will be holding a ‘mock’ show to help students practice showing their animals, I hope to see you there.”

I was then introduced to Elysiah Boldridge. She is this year’s Senior FFA

President. She’s full of excitement and knowledge of the FFA program. This is when I learned it is animals, but it is also, Ag mechanics, which entails Wood Working, Plumbing, Electrical, and Metal working. This she told me is who made the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies we are giving out at the end of the Car Show. The trophies are hand welded using ‘real car parts!’ The FFA is also about growing and sustainability. I want to make our community aware that they can contact Andrea, Sawyer@twinriversUSD.org and have the flower section of this group make wedding bouquets, anniversary, funeral and just get well floral arrangements. We have done several weddings already and it was really fun. For prices just contact Andrea. There is so much more to the FFA, please go to the website at riolindaffa.org and join us in keeping agriculture in the forefront of rural Rio Linda.

There were some beautiful cars on display for the Car Show. All were shined up and ready to be talked about. Their owners setting up folding chairs to sit next to their baby. Enjoy your day! ★ aggressive COVID-19-related bills introduced as part of a slate from the Legislature's vaccine working group, made up of Democratic legislators. Among the bills still alive in the Legislature are proposals that would punish doctors who share misinformation, require schools to continue regular COVID testing and change how the state's vaccination registry works. Also still in play: a bill that would allow 12- to 17-year-olds to get vaccinated without parental consent.

The COVID vaccine is fully authorized for those older than 16 and can be given to children as young as 5 under an emergency authorization. It has been available since last year, but the uptake has been slow. About two-thirds of 12- to 17-year-olds have been vaccinated, but the numbers are much lower for kids 5 to 11, with only about one-third vaccinated.

Citing the low COVID vaccination rate among children, Pan said a mandate is not a priority until the state can make the vaccine more accessible. He said that in his experience, as a pediatrician, when parents ask about vaccinations they want to see their child's doctor. But most doctor's offices don't offer the vaccine for COVID-19 and are referring families to drug stores or vaccination sites that are not child-centric.

“The challenge is that we are not getting vaccines into essentially the places where people normally get vaccines for their children,” he said, referring to pediatricians' offices. “We still have a long way to go.”

A Berkeley IGS poll released in late February found that two-thirds of California voters supported requiring the COVID-19 vaccine for K-12 students. But there is a big split along party lines: Democrats and liberals overwhelmingly support a mandate while only about a quarter of conservatives and Republicans do.

Among parents, two-thirds said they felt having their kids vaccinated was essential or important, while 26% percent said it was “either not too or not at all important.” This question did not address the mandate.

Pan's was the second of the working group's bills to be sidelined by its author. A proposal to require all people who work, including contractors, to be vaccinated was also pulled.

Critics have been pushing back, arguing that the bills are burdensome and infringe on health and privacy rights – and no bill was more controversial than Pan's. Many parents who opposed it said that parents should get to choose whether to vaccinate their children, especially when the vaccine does not fully prevent transmission and it's still unclear how long it is effective.

“We did not feel it was the appropriate policy for children with respect to COVID-19 at this time,” said Christina Hildebrand, head of A Voice for Choice. The group advocates for parental choice and has worked since 2015 to keep personal belief exemptions for various vaccines in place. She points to the low rate of COVID vaccination among 5- to 11-year-olds as a reason to hold off on a mandate.

“Those parents have had ample opportunity to get their children vaccinated but the parents are hesitant,” she said.

Pan said it's difficult to require something that two-thirds of young children have yet to receive. “Mandates are good at getting you to that final bit when we are at 80 percent and have to get to 90, not when you are below half,” he said. “If you are that far behind there's a reason. Some of it is people have questions and want to get them answered, and they want to hear from the person they have been going to for a long time to get vaccinated.”

Madrid said the bills signal the possibility of future vaccine mandates as the world becomes more globalized and pandemics happen more frequently.

“There is an appetite to have more protection for public health and not less,” he said. “You give it a year and study how you can make it work if you are going to pass legislation this broad and sweeping. You have to make sure you get it right the first time.”

Pan said the mandate is not dead. He intends to watch the vaccination rates and said it could be something he brings back later. ★

Sacramento County Project Roomkey Houses Hundreds

By Janna Haynes,
Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Project Roomkey (PRK) was launched in Sacramento County in April 2020 in response to the growing concern of vulnerability to COVID-19 our unhoused population was facing. PRK was introduced as a statewide solution to an emergency situation and the County, City of Sacramento and Sacramento Steps Forward pooled their resources to bring it to fruition.

The program was intended to be short-term, to allow for the COVID-19 virus to run its course and then ramp down the sheltering efforts as community efforts lessened. As we now know, the program has been running for nearly two years and has served more than 2,000 people – having provided isolation for persons who contracted the virus and private units for people to safely shelter in place. As a result, of these efforts, hundreds of people have exited to stable and safe locations.

Due to the unexpected duration of COVID response, state and federal dollars were made available for use to extend local PRK efforts. With state and federal funding running out, the threat of COVID-19 waning due to increased vaccination rates and lower transmission rates, Sacramento County and its many partners are ramping down the prevention and isolation units and working closely with community providers to transition PRK participants into long-term housing solutions.

The PRK program was never intended as a long-term solution to homelessness and is not a sustainable sheltering model as the program is incredibly expensive – more than $4000 per person a month and relies on resources that were only available due to the community-wide shutdown. Hotels that offered up their space need to resume their place in tourism, and Goodwill employees reimagined as shelter staff need to return to their chosen field of work.

Project Room Key by the Numbers through January 2022:

Total sheltered: 2,051; Total exited to stable housing: 425; Total exited to temporary housing or emergency housing: 361; Still in PRK motels: 335; Average length of stay: 7.5 months; 88% have been there for more than a month; 63% have been there more than 3 months; 27% have been there over 6 months; 21% have been there over a year.

For a full report on the demographics, numbers and exits from the PRK program through January, read the latest report on the Sacramento Steps Forward website.

PRK Program ends at La Quinta

The PRK program at La Quinta closed on March 15 and all participants were provided shelter or housing options; with many having received many options over the course of their stay. While the County has taken the lead on managing operations and funding the shelter components, re-housing involves many public and private partners.

Over the last month, housing efforts have intensified across PRK to ensure connectivity to community-based programs that will carry them well beyond their time at PRK. With the closure of the first site, County staff and partners have ensured all participants had a safe place to transition to. At the February presentation of the ramp-down plan there were 121 participants at La Quinta, of those: 55 participants have moved to the two remaining PRK motels; 53 participants will receive 21-day motel vouchers (which will be extended when housing has been identified and participants have continued to work on next steps with their community-based housing provider); 6 have moved into housing; 2 chose to exit voluntarily; 5 were exited for egregious program rule violations.

Federal Reimbursement Funding Extension

DHA was recently informed that FEMA's non-congregate shelter reimbursement will be extended until June 30, 2022 (formally scheduled to end March 31, 2022), and the CA Department of Social Services has also confirmed that Counties can request additional Emergency Solutions Grant funding for continued PRK efforts. As such, DHA will be reevaluating the closure dates of the final two motel locations in concert with our partners from the City, Sacramento Steps Forward and SHRA, who provide critical re-housing supports for those in PRK, and will determine how best to use the funding options now accessible for this purpose.

Shelters and housing programs

The programs, services and funding offered through the County of Sacramento is dynamic, but below is a partial list of the programs the County funds to help shelter, house and care for our community members experiencing homelessness. The programs are often a collaboration between many County departments, including Human Assistance; Health Services; and Child, Family and Adult Services.

Sheltering (Capacity per night)

Emergency Family Shelters: 40 families; Mather Interim Shelter: 140 individuals; North A Street Shelter: 80 adults; Scattered Site Shelters: 115 people; Domestic Violence Shelter: 162 women/children.

Transitional Housing (Capacity per night)

Adolfo Transitional Housing for Foster Youth: 68 youth households; Mather Family Transitional Housing: 25 families; Youth Transitional Housing: 12 Youth.

Permanent Housing (Yearly Capacity)
Flexible Housing Program: 300 households; Flexible Supportive Rehousing: 250 households; MHSA Built Permanent Supportive Housing Units: 221 households.

Transportation Tax Initiative

Commentary
by Bruce Lee

If you saw my last column ... “More Tax Please”, you are aware of the recent court opinions which are now allowing politicians to take dusty, previously failed tax proposals and repack-age them as new “citizen initiatives”. And, by doing so, local government is bypassing the constitutional requirement for a two-thirds voter approval, and letting a “citizen initiative” for a new tax pass by only a simple majority vote requirement. SO MUCH EASIER TO PASS NEW TAXES!!

And also with this new method, local governments do not even have to bother with those pesky things like public hearings, keeping the public informed, and having reasonable public debate!! That darn public, don’t they know the political elites know what is best for them? (sarcasm)

As I said before, now any special interest group with enough cash can push taxes that benefit themselves. If I can convince the bare majority to tax others for some “feel good” topic, then I’m the winner and feel no pain. I can tax business or the perceived wealthy for whatever issue has the emotional attention of the majority. All I have to do is pay enough signature gatherers!

And, so it is with a half percent, 40 year, transportation sales tax hike for Sacramento County. First proposed in 2016 and voted down; then resurfaced in 2020 to be pulled off the ballot at the last moment when the Sacramento Transportation Authority realized it would again miss the two-thirds threshold for passage.

Their consultant said the tax increase would not pass if there was any organized opposition to it. At that time, the Sacramento Taxpayers Association (SacTax) led the community wide coalition to oppose that proposal. The coalition consisted of business, agriculture, social groups and others - including the NAACP and the National Action Network; and the reasons to oppose the tax hike have not changed too much in the past two years.

First, it is still a bad time to propose a new tax. Although the pandemic appears to be subsidizing, the county’s economy is still weak. One third of SMUD customers are either behind or have stopped paying their bills altogether. And small family businesses are still closing their doors. Inflation is raging. The cost of food and fuel is way up! This proposal has been kicking around for years, but county leaders seemingly cannot read the room that homeowners, renters and businesses are struggling.

Second, while we likely need roadway improvements because of age and deterioration, local governments, and especially Sacramento, have a history of neglecting infrastructure and instead fund fancy new projects or programs until roads, sidewalks, and other infrastructure start to fall into disrepair. It is only then they run to taxpayers for more money. We believe that historic neglect and lack of prioritization shouldn’t be rewarded.

Third, this is a highly regressive tax falling disproportionately on the shoulders of the working poor and the middle class, hence the historic opposition by the NAACP and NAN.

As a concluding comment, the proponents of this half-percent tax increase are well aware of the broad spectrum of community concern and opposition of over the past years ago. Yet, as President of the Sacramento Taxpayers Association, nobody has reached out to us to even discuss digging up this sad proposal from the grave. That just gives the impression that the powers at hand simply scoff at the community at large, and simply want to take the easier path for themselves by holding out their hand for more money from us with the hope that they can beguile the public most of the time.

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - In an effort to expand COVID-19 vaccine access for youth, the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) is offering $10 million in grant funding through the newly launched KidsVaxGrant. This makes healthcare providers enrolled in the state’s Vaccines for Children (VFC) program eligible to receive funding of up to $25,000 per site to expand operating hours.

“Vaccines are the most powerful tool we have to protect our children and our communities from the dangers of COVID-19,” said Secretary of the California Health and Human Services Agency, Dr. Mark Ghaly. “This grant program will make COVID-19 vaccines more accessible to children and their families by recruiting new providers and supporting existing providers by expanding operating hours. As a father and a pediatrician, I assure you COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. Please make an appointment to get your family vaccinated today.”

Since its inception in 1995, the state’s VFC Program has played an essential role in vaccinating youth by supplying providers with vaccines for children at no additional cost to parents or guardians who may be unable to afford them. The state aims to increase access to the COVID-19 vaccine by recruiting additional providers into the California COVID-19 Vaccination Program and by helping providers expand their operating hours to make vaccinations more convenient for families. Longer hours CDPH has contracted with Physicians for a Healthy California to administer the KidsVaxGrant program statewide.

Newly enrolled VFC providers that are part of the California COVID-19 Vaccination Program could be eligible for $10,000 in KidVaxGrant funds per site to establish COVID-19 vaccination services. VFC providers already enrolled are also eligible to apply and could be awarded $15,000 grant per site. The deadline to apply is May 27, 2022.

To be considered, providers must expand their operating hours. Expanding the capacity of providers to open their doors beyond normal business hours allows for additional vaccination options for working families. Operating hours must be increased by a minimum of 15 hours outside of standard operating hours during a 60-day period.

For healthcare providers interested in enrolling, please visit the myCAVax website and select “Enrollment Kit” to learn more about enrollment requirements. To learn more and to complete a grant application, go to Physicians for a Healthy California and click on “Apply Now!” ★

Kaiser Donates $25K to Help Secure Jobs for Unhoused Women

By Kristin Thébaud, Thébaud Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Women's Empowerment recently received $25,000 from Kaiser Permanente to empower women experiencing homelessness in Sacramento with the tools to secure a stable job that leads to a livable wage so they can provide a healthy home for their families during the pandemic. Funding will support Women's Empowerment's employment-readiness program, including mental health assistance as well as domestic violence and substance use support groups.

"Kaiser Permanente has been a longtime funder of our programs, and we are honored that they continue to support our comprehensive work to ensure women and children can rise from homelessness during the pandemic and prolonged housing crisis," said Lisa Culp, executive director, Women's Empowerment.

Women's Empowerment provides a two-month employment-readiness and empowerment program, paid job training, childcare and support services so all women and their children can break the cycle of homelessness. Women's Empowerment offers the most comprehensive job-readiness program in the Sacramento area designed specifically for women experiencing homelessness, and their children. On average, 70% of women in the program find housing during the ongoing housing crisis. Last year, 142 job placements were achieved by Women's Empowerment graduates. Since its founding in 2001, the award-winning organization has graduated 1,740 women and their 3,864 children. Women's Empowerment is funded through private donations from the community and grants. To make a donation, visit WomensEmpowerment.org.

"At Kaiser Permanente, we believe everyone deserves a safe and healthy place to live. Stable housing is critical to health," said Trish Rodriguez, senior vice president and area manager for Kaiser Permanente South Sacramento. "We are proud to support the work of organizations like Women's Empowerment so they can provide resources for women to have a healthy home, stable employment and support for their overall well-being." ★

World's Most Extreme Pro-Abortion Bill Signed as World Recoils

Commentary by Richard Harris

CHRISTOPHER, HARRIET, ÁNGEL, HOLLY, AND PHOENIX

Those are the names given to five children allegedly killed by an abortionist near or at term – whose remains were recently recovered in the Washington, DC, area by pro-life activists. The five were among 115 babies' bodies allegedly discarded by an abortion clinic and scheduled to be incinerated at a Maryland power plant.

The extremely graphic, gruesome, and deeply disturbing images of those five children have now been made public.

The Progressive Anti-Abortion Uprising organization, whose members turned the remains over to authorities, said in a press release, "Their late gestational ages as well as their apparent sustained injuries potentially show violations of the Partial Birth Abortion Act as well as the Born Alive Infants Protection Act which are federal crimes."

Pro-life activists and members of Congress are calling for full investigations. In contrast, Democrat lawmakers in states across America are working to rapidly pass laws granting immunity for the slaughter of babies in the womb up to birth, and in some cases after birth up to 28 days!

Democrats are feeling the pressure to enshrine radical abortion rights now out of fear that the U.S. Supreme Court decision in the pending case of Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization will reverse its infamous 1973 pro-abortion decision of Roe v. Wade. Since Roe, abortion has taken the lives of at least 63 million children in America and has been the number one cause of death worldwide for many years.

In Colorado, only three days after news broke about the 115 aborted baby corpses in Washington, progressive Democrat Gov. Jared Polis brazenly signed into law North America's most extreme pro-abortion law, all the while celebrating the new law's grant of absolute unrestricted freedom to kill innocent babies.

Among the disturbing provisions of new Colorado law (deceptively called the "Reproductive Health Equity Act"):

Unborn babies are explicitly stripped of any rights under state law.

All babies can be aborted at any time up to birth with no civil or criminal legal consequences for anyone.

Minors are empowered to obtain unlimited abortions with no parental notification.

While a number of Republican-led states have passed laws protecting the unborn in anticipation of Roe's reversal, Democrat led states are following Colorado's lead. California and Maryland are even considering measures allowing babies to be killed after birth – outright legalizing infanticide. It's a strategy to create abortion 'sanctuary' states ahead of the possible overturn of Roe.

Children are a gift from God (Psalm 127: 3), and shedding innocent blood is an abomination to Him (Prov. 6:16-19).

In the Bible, Israel was forbidden from worshipping the false god Molech (Lev. 18:21), a practice which involved child sacrifice.

Biblical scholars believe Molech's priests would place live infants into the outstretched arms of the idol, which had been superheated by fire, cooking the child to death. The sacrifice was committed to earn prosperity from the false god.

How different are Colorado and other Democrat-controlled states these days from the cult of Molech? In just 50 years, activists have gone from claiming a "right" of abortion (not found in the U.S. Constitution), to demanding taxpayer funding and enthusiastically supporting the death of babies up to and well after birth.

Is the outright butchery exposed in images of aborted children in Washington any different than the detestable ritual of child sacrifice to Molech? Consider recent reports of women happily taking abortion pills on the Supreme Court steps while taunting pro-life activists – all for the attention of the adoring left-wing media.

The overturn of Roe is far from certain. But even if it is ultimately retracted by the High Court, states under Democrat control (like Colorado) will still be abortion havens. Americans who value the sanctity of life and want unborn babies protected must continue to stand for truth, insist that lawmakers protect life, work for the election of genuinely pro-life candidates, and resist all attempts to legalize the barbaric practice of child sacrifice.
