Sacramento Steps Forward Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento Steps Forward issued a call for an estimated 500 volunteers to help do a physical count of individuals living outdoors throughout Sacramento County on Feb. 23 and 24.

The count, previously set for January 26 and 27, was rescheduled based on a review of the public health order issued Thursday by Sacramento County's Health Officer related to the rapid spread of the COVID 19 omicron variant as well as federal guidance on the "Point in Time" census of unsheltered residents.

SSF, a 501(c) (3) nonprofit serving the Sacramento region, is the lead agency for the Sacramento Continuum of Care (CoC), the regional planning body that coordinates housing and services for homeless families and individuals in the Sacramento area. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development requires all CoCs to conduct the count at a specified time every other year in order to qualify for federal funding for homeless services programs.

"While every other January is when we are required to do this, COVID has gotten in the way. But like other organizations, we must approach our work with public health safety first. That is why we are going to move up the date by a month," said Lisa Bates, SSF Executive Director. "This year's count is more important than ever, because it will give us hard data on the state of

Sacramento County Deals Major Blow to Big Tobacco

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - With a strong vote of 3 to 1, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors passed the biggest hurdle in advancing an ordinance, authored by Supervisor Patrick Kennedy (District 2), that squarely rejects Big Tobacco's deeply deceptive sales practice of hiding highly addictive nicotine behind candy flavors that appeal to kids. After returning for a final vote in 2 weeks the policy will take effect in 6 months. Beginning July 2022, the new law requires stores across Sacramento County to end the sale of candy-flavored e-cigarettes and hookah tobacco, menthol cigarettes, and cheap sweet cigars.

With this vote, Sacramento County becomes the latest jurisdiction to join more than 100+ municipalities across California that have already acted to take candy-flavored tobacco off store shelves. It marks a significant loss for Big Tobacco companies currently gearing up to spend millions of dollars in a bid to overturn California's bipartisan and overwhelmingly popular statewide law that ended the sale of most candy-flavored tobacco products. Voters won't have a chance to weigh in until late 2022, making this ordinance an important step towards protecting kids from getting hooked on nicotine in the interim.

"In this battle between California and Big Tobacco over the health of our children, Sacramento County is proudly on the frontlines taking action right now to get candy flavored nicotine off store shelves for good," said Supervisor Patrick Kennedy. "We are listening to the scientists who say that nicotine is a substance that harms brain development. We trust data that says 90% of Sacramento County kids who use tobacco, use a flavored product. We see the addiction, disease, and death Big Tobacco has brought to our neighborhoods; and we are saying enough is enough. I am grateful to my colleagues for standing on the right side of history by taking action to protect the next generation from Big Tobacco."

"Today we sent a clear message to tobacco companies: Sacramento County puts the health and wellbeing of our children and our communities first," said First District Supervisor Phil Serna. "More specifically, with the adoption

CAL FIRE Gets Training Tower

By Kathy Ziprik,
Ziprik Consulting

CAMERON PARK, CA (MPG) - Fire Captain/Paramedic Jonah Winger possesses a specific skill that has served him well during his 27 years in the fire service: patience. In 2011 Winger started the process of requesting funding for a fire training structure for the Cameron Park (Calif.) Fire Department. Finally, after many starts and stops, a new Firefighter training structure is now in place.

“The process took us 10 years to complete, but it’s so worth it,” says Winger, with the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection (CAL FIRE), the Amador-El Dorado Unit out of Cameron Park. “Fire Facilities was patient to continually update us on costs and information as we worked to get the tower approved over the years. They were easy to work with on choosing, designing, and receiving estimates for the structure we desired.

“Having the three-story Firefighter tower readily available has changed everything. Now we can train any day or time at a moment’s notice.”

Training is critical for firefighters across the country, but especially in wildfire-prone California. So far in 2021, CAL FIRE has assisted with numerous wildfires, including the explosive 67-day Caldor fire that burned 221,835 acres. CAL FIRE teams are constantly on-call to control all aspects of wildfire suppression in the 1,786 square miles of El Dorado County.

“The Firefighter tower can be used for wildland urban interface structure triage and wildland drill scenarios,” says Winger. “Previously we had to train on local business buildings and at our fire stations. Now we are training daily on a tower more suited for our needs. While wildfires are extensive in our area, we use The Firefighter tower almost exclusively for structural firefighting and rescue training.”

CAL FIRE/Cameron Park Fire Department has already started including other stations in training for multi-company drills. The height and features of The Firefighter allow replication training for one- to three-story scenarios of multi-family residential units, single-family residences, commercial structures and health care facilities. The crews are also training on internal and external staircases, fire protections systems, flat commercial roofs, parapets, attics, FDC, sprinklers and standpipes.

To enhance training experiences, several custom elements were added to The Firefighter for CAL FIRE.

“We chose to add the rappelling anchors, FDC, sprinkler system, burn crib, and roof hatch so we could use the tower for a variety of training scenarios,” says Winger. “Every drill we place certain features ‘in or out’ of play to create a specific atmosphere and training objective.”

So, how did CAL FIRE finally get its customized tower? According to Sherry Moranz, Assistant Chief, Central Division Operations for CAL FIRE, the need finally matched up with the funding availability.

“We presented the project concept, the plan, the cost, the justification, and the benefit to the Cameron Park Community Services District Board and to the El Dorado County Board of Supervisors,” says

Moranz, who is located at the Amador-El Dorado Unit. “We used Development Impact Mitigation Fees to fund this training tower at an estimated cost of $450,000, and a final actual cost of $586,663. This training structure will benefit not just Cameron Park residents, but residents across all of El Dorado County.”

Now located adjacent to Fire Station 89 in Cameron Park, The Firefighter is ready for action. Winger believes more than 100 people will train on the structure regularly.

“The tower and burn room annex are ideal for both fire and EMS scenarios,” says Winger. “We anticipate the entire CAL FIRE Amador-El Dorado Unit will train here. This includes our personnel, fire interns, fire explores, fire academies, class and other El Dorado County fire cooperators.

“We waited a long 10 years to get this terrific training tower. Now we plan to use it constantly to hone our skills and prepare even harder to serve residents in our area.”

Fire Facilities, Inc. (FFI), an ISFSI corporate sponsor, manufactures a full line of steel fire training structures engineered to withstand real-life firefighting conditions. From mobile units to burn rooms to high-rise towers, FFI training models are available in a multitude of configurations. Our parent company, Trachte Building Systems, is one of the largest and oldest manufacturers of steel self-storage systems in the industry. Volunteers Needed to Assist homelessness, particularly how the effects of the pandemic over the last two years have affected the rate of homelessness.” Its benefits will affect how future strategies to end homelessness will be shaped.

“The critical data this count will give our community is indispensable in assessing progress in decreasing homelessness, identifying strengths and gaps in our assistance programs, all of which forms the basis for future programs and services,” she added.

The scheduled count for 2020 was cancelled due to COVID. The last count was done in 2019. Using a largely volunteer workforce, it identified 5,570 persons experiencing homelessness on a given night, an increase of 19 percent countywide over the previous two-year period.

The PIT count identifies the number of unhoused individuals, families, or unaccompanied youth under age 18; the length of time being homeless; age; marital status; ethnicity and establishes the number of those who are veterans or disabled. Unsheltered residents will also be asked about their health, wellbeing, and vaccination status.

Volunteers will have more choices about where they can help. New in 2022 is the addition of more PIT deployment centers throughout the region. The central deployment center will be located on the CSU Sacramento main campus. Satellite deployment sites will also be located in the cities of Citrus Heights, Elk Grove, Folsom, and Rancho Cordova. Extensive preparation for the event includes the pre-mapping of locations where there is a reasonable probability of people living outside, important to ensuring that volunteer canvassers’ time is put to efficient use.

Bates said a volunteer sign up portal is now available on the SSF website. “Past volunteers tell us it is a great way to learn about homelessness and make an impact. Some do it to earn volunteer hours or course credit, have a joint activity with friends or colleagues, or simply to accomplish something unique and meaningful. Whatever their reason, we welcome their participation and involvement,” she said.

There are two ways volunteers can help. “We will be putting together small teams of canvassers who will use a survey tool we developed, record the count and distribute gift cards to survey participants. And there are a variety of essential support functions that a volunteer can sign up for,” she said.

These include such support functions as being a volunteers’ concierge who distributes packets to canvassers and addresses canvassing questions; serving as check-in and check-out station attendants, health screeners, or helping distribute food and beverages to volunteers.

To be a canvasser, volunteers must be at least 18 years of age, be willing to travel by foot or car, attend all required trainings and be willing to bring their own flashlight, smartphone or other personal supplies.

“We are making every effort to ensure our volunteers will have a well-organized, supported and safe experience,” Bates said.

All volunteers must show proof of being fully vaccinated against COVID-19 by having at least 2 shots of Pfizer or Moderna, or 1 shot of Johnson and Johnson vaccine, and of course, anyone with active symptoms of a cold, flu or COVID-19 will not be able to participate.

of this ordinance we finally end Big Tobacco’s practice of targeting African American neighborhoods, deliberately hooking generations of Black youth on minty-menthol cigarettes and other flavored tobacco products. I was proud to vote YES today.”

“When 80% of kids who have used tobacco say they started with a flavored product, that’s a huge red flag that it’s time to make sure these products aren’t sold in our neighborhoods,” said Kimberly Bankston-Lee, Senior Program Director, The SOL Project. “Tobacco companies have long manipulated flavors to get smokers hooked; masking the harsh taste of tobacco behind minty menthols is the reason 85% of black smokers use menthols. Candy-coated flavors are the tobacco companies’ latest page from this same playbook, putting youth users at even greater risk of addiction. That’s why the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors passed this historic ordinance to take the candy-flavored nicotine Big Tobacco uses to hook kids off store shelves and out of our communities.”

“As the global pandemic rages on, the very last thing we need in our schools and neighborhoods is Big Tobacco using candy flavors to lure kids like me into getting hooked on nicotine,” said Milton Nguyen, Youth Advocate, 2021 Tobacco-Free Kids’ National Advocate of the Year. “Nicotine is especially harmful to young people, capable of harming adolescent brain development and impacting their attention, mood, and impulse control. We need to be doing everything within our power to keep nicotine products out of the hands of kids and this ordinance is a strong step forward.” ★

Ask Toni

Using GoodRX With Medicare Part D?

Toni King

Toni:

I am a weekly follower of the Toni Says® Medicare column and have had a wonderful Medicare experience which helped to save me from getting in the Donut hole with an expensive generic prescription.

I received a generic prescription for my Parkinson’s disease. When I went to my Plan D preferred Walgreens pharmacy and was informed that specific generic was not in my Part D plans formulary and would cost $460 per month. I then went to Kroger and was told the retail price was $199 per month.

When I discussed my experience to a friend, she told me about a web site “GoodRX.com.” What a blessing this was! GoodRX.com gave me a printout of drug stores which sell the drug at a discounted price by entering my zip code with no strings attached

I went to Wal-Mart with the GoodRX coupon in hand. Wal-Mart’s cost for one-month drug supply was only $43.00.

How can the price of a generic drug range in price from $43to $460? Something is wrong with our American prescription drug system.

Tell your readers not to give up if they get an outrageous price for a drug. There are several web sites like GoodRX which provide a similar service. Just do your homework!

~ Julia from Arizona

Julia:

Thank you for sending the Toni Says® Medicare team this information on GoodRX. America needs to be aware that one can use “cost saving prescription drug plans” like GoodRX or a prescription drug discount program to help one control the cost of one’s Medicare prescription drug. By not placing these on your Part D plan can keep one from not “getting in the Donut Hole” as fast.

I had a generic antibiotic and allergy medication prescribed last week and when I went to pick them up, they were over $120 for generics. I remembered Julia’s email about GoodRX.com.

I looked online at GoodRX to check the cost at HEB, and the savings was over $68. The antibiotic was $30 and allergy med were $28. Other pharmacies would have saved more money so Next time, I will go to the GoodRX.com site and do research on which pharmacy has the lowest price.

For a fantastic way to start 2022 is to visit www.goodrx.com/medicare and search their Medicare section to help make the cost of expensive and common prescriptions whether generic or brand name affordable. This way one might avoid or delay the famous “Donut Hole.”

The GoodRX Medicare site will search Part D drug prices at pharmacies in your zip code that may be less than your Part D co-pay – especially if a drug is not covered by your Part D plan. GoodRX is 100% free and no personal information is required.

2022 Medicare Part D costs are below:

- Initial Deductible: $480
- Initial Coverage Limit: $4,430 for 2022 where the 2022 “Donut Hole” begins.
- Out of Pocket Costs: You will spend 25% of the brand name drug, the Drug company will spend 70% and the chosen Part D plan will spend 5% until the total spend of your prescriptions is $7,050.
- Catastrophic Coverage: Once the $7,050 has been spent, you will enter Catastrophic Coverage phase where your “covered” generic prescription drugs co pays are $3.95 or 5% of the “covered” generic prescriptions above $79 cost or for “covered” brand name prescriptions the co pays are $9.85 or 5% of the “covered” brand name prescription drugs above $197 cost.

Please email the Toni Says® Medicare team at info@tonisays.com or call 832.519-8664 regarding how using GoodRX can help control your Medicare Part D costs or for Medicare questions.

Nielsen Cautions on Projected Surplus

Office of Senator Jim Nielsen

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Senator Jim Nielsen, R-Red Bluff, issued the following statement in response to Governor Newsom’s proposed 2022-23 State Budget:

“Governor Newsom needs to wake up on water storage. There is an urgent need to fully-fund and immediately build large above-ground water storage projects like Sites Reservoir, and his proposed budget falls billions of dollars short. Groundwater recharge and conservation, while important, simply aren’t enough.

“As the state continues to face devastating wildfires that destroy lives, property and wildlife, the governor’s budget proposes $1.2 billion for forest health and fire prevention. Republicans have advocated for these efforts for decades. I’m glad that the Governor is slowly coming around on prevention, though much more needs to be done.

“Dangerous people are not in custody and the people of California don’t feel safe. This budget proposal takes a few steps but doesn’t sufficiently address the need to support law enforcement.

“The state budget has a $21 billion surplus, so there’s no reason to not provide enough money to fund these critical priorities.”

NRA Files Suit to Defend Gun Owners’ Privacy

National Rifle Association Press Release

FAIRFAX, VA (MPG) - The National Rifle Association Institute for Legislative Action (NRA-ILA) filed a lawsuit against California on Wednesday challenging a law that allows the state to disclose sensitive personal information about law-abiding gun owners to universities and any “bona fide research institute.”

“California must be held accountable for its near-constant, unconstitutional assaults on law-abiding gun owners and the Second Amendment,” said Jason Ouimet, executive director, NRA-ILA. “This law strips privacy rights from anyone who has ever purchased a firearm, transferred a firearm, purchased ammunition, or obtained a concealed-carry license. This is an outright violation of our rights and must be reversed.”

The bill, Assembly Bill 173, allows for the disclosure of highly sensitive information, including a gun owner’s name, address, place of birth, phone number, occupation, driver’s license or ID number, race, sex, height, weight, hair color, eye color, and even their social security number and types of firearms that they own. This information was gathered from law-abiding gun owners with the understanding that it would only be used for legitimate law enforcement purposes.

“This information is a person’s identity. And it’s being handed over to organizations that have no duty to safeguard it. This will do nothing to prevent crime — it will only serve to put law-abiding gun owners at risk,” Ouimet said. “Gun owners are entitled to the same privacy rights as all law-abiding citizens. They should not be ‘doxxed’ for exercising their rights.”

This is only one of the cases that NRA-ILA has filed in recent years to curtail California’s efforts to burden the Second Amendment. NRA-ILA is also challenging California’s draconian restrictions on ammunition purchases and transfers, magazine bans, and the closure of gun shops and ranges. NRA-ILA will continue opposing California as long as it continues to infringe upon the Second Amendment.

Newsom Bases Budget on Rosy Economic Scenario

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

The early passages in a 400-page “summary” of Gov. Gavin Newsom’s new budget describe the presumably wonderful ways he intends to spend nearly $300 billion in the 2022-23 fiscal year.

They include what he clearly hopes will make a re-election year splash and become one of his legacies – extending state medical coverage to 100% of California’s nearly 40 million residents by folding in undocumented immigrants ineligible for federally financed care.

During a nearly three-hour news conference in which he showed off his prodigious memory of data, Newsom also touted new spending on five “existential threats” to California, including climate change, COVID-19, homelessness, the cost of living and crime.

New commitments are doable, he said, because of tens of billions of unanticipated tax dollars, largely from the state’s highest-income taxpayers, who are seeing huge profits on stocks and other investments.

The back pages of the budget summary explain why Newsom believes that the overall economy, and particularly the personal finances of the wealthy, will continue to pump billions into the state treasury for at least a few more years.

The rosy scenario begins with an assumption that the COVID-19 pandemic, despite the sharp surge by its omicron strain, will diminish.

“The public health situation is the linchpin of the economic forecast,” the budget declares. “The forecast does not assume the emergence of a disruptive variant, which could lead to a delayed return to pre-pandemic labor force participation, persistent high inflation, and continued supply chain bottlenecks.”

The budget “projects continued real GDP growth throughout the forecast period and recovery to pre-pandemic levels of nonfarm employment by the end of 2022,” but adds, “Structural (non-pandemic) downside risks to the forecast remain, including the challenges of an aging population, declining migration flows, lower fertility rates, higher housing and living costs, increasing inequality, and stock market volatility.”

That last caveat, “stock market volatility,” is the real potential kicker. The top 1% of California taxpayers are providing at least 50% of the state’s income tax revenues and their taxable incomes are largely tied to the stock market, which has surged recently, thanks largely to the Federal Reserve System’s very low interest rates.

Were interest rates to be raised significantly to battle inflation, it would have an adverse effect on the stock market and, in turn, on California’s income tax revenues.

With California having such a narrow revenue base in a relative handful of high-income taxpayers and their taxable incomes being rooted in stocks and other investments subject to wide swings of value, any long-term revenue estimates are educated guesses at best.

It’s called “volatility,” a syndrome that has backfired on California’s budget more than once.

“No one is naïve about the volatility of the tax system,” Newsom said Monday, contending that careful spending and building reserves guard against the boom-and-bust conditions that have afflicted the state in past years.

His budget declares that “the state’s budget resilience is stronger than ever: the result of building reserves, eliminating budgetary debt, reducing retirement liabilities, and focusing on one-time spending over ongoing investments to maintain structurally balanced budgets over the long term.”

The budget’s $34.6 billion in projected reserves sound impressive, but a truly serious and prolonged recession, such as the one that struck 15 years ago, could quickly deplete them.

There’s been an ongoing debate over whether revenue volatility should be tamed by reducing the state’s dependence on taxing the rich or by building big reserves. Under Newsom’s predecessor, Jerry Brown, the state opted for the “rainy day fund” approach but it has yet to face a serious challenge.

How Do I Get Back Benefits Withheld Due to the Earnings Limit?

By Russell Gloor,
AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: If I work and take Social Security before my full retirement age, how can I find out how I will be paid back the money withheld after I pass the earnings limit? Signed: Returning to Work

Dear Returning: What you’re referring to is that Social Security limits how much you can earn while collecting early benefits (before your full retirement age, or “FRA”). The earnings limit for 2022 is $19,560 and if your earnings exceed that while collecting early SS benefits, you’ll be required to pay back some of your benefits.

Except during the year in which you attain your

FRA, you’ll have to give SS back benefits equal to $1 for every $2 you are over the limit, which can be done either by having your benefits withheld for a time or repaying what is owed in a lump sum. In the year you reach your FRA, the limit goes up by about 2.5 times and the amount you need to pay back is less, and after you reach your full retirement age there is no longer a limit to how much you can earn. But if you have benefits withheld because you exceeded the limit while collecting early benefits, you will get some of that withheld money back after you have reached your full retirement age.

When you reach your FRA, Social Security will automatically adjust (increase) your benefit to reflect the number of months your benefits were withheld. So, for example, if you originally claimed Social Security at age 63 but were still working and, over time, you had benefits withheld for 12 months because you exceeded the earnings limit, they’ll recompute your benefit at your FRA as though you applied 12 months later than you actually did. That will happen automatically and will slightly increase your monthly benefit amount starting at your full retirement age. So, you don’t get all withheld money back in a lump sum – rather they increase your benefit a bit at your FRA so that eventually, over time, you may recover what was withheld because you exceeded the limit.
