Sutter Health Park News Release

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento was chosen as one of the select cities to host Enchant, the world's largest holiday-themed light event, with opening day set for Black Friday (Nov. 25).

One of Sacramento's must-visit summer locations, Sutter Health Park, is taking over the winter with a holiday event sure to spark joy for all ages.

"We are so honored to be one of the nine venues across the U.S. hosting Enchant in 2022," said Brittney Nizuk, director of events and entertainment at Sutter Health Park. "This experience is going to be one that kids and grownups alike will never forget. Sutter Health Park will be transformed into a true immersive winter wonderland right before your eyes. Magical is the only way to describe it – you must see it to believe it."

Enchant features a mesmerizing walk-thru light maze on the field with over four million lights, a 100-foot holiday tree, visits with Santa Claus, an ice-skating trail, live entertainment, and a village/marketplace with crafts, gifts, as well as holiday treats and cocktails.

In addition to partnering with Sutter Health Park, Enchant has partnered with the Hallmark Channel, the event's first national sponsor.

"Hallmark Channel's 'Countdown to Christmas' is synonymous with the holidays, bringing warmth, connection and happiness to millions of viewers," said Lara Richardson, chief marketing officer, Hallmark Media. "Lights are such an integral part of Christmas magic, whether they be displayed on your house; strung throughout your favorite hometown spots; or featured in grand, eye-opening light displays like Enchant, this partnership creates a new way to spread Hallmark Christmas joy."

The supplemental perks with the Hallmark Channel partnership include a "Hallmark Cozy Christmas" lounge, photo opportunities, and a chance for fans to win a set visit to an in-production Hallmark movie.

Sutter Health Park is also expanding its ballpark family during this special season and will be looking for support in roles like guest services, security, parking, concessions, etc. ★

California Faces $25 Billion Budget Shortfall

Commentary
by Tim Anaya

When I last wrote about California's state budget picture, Gov. Newsom was warning in his September veto messages about the state facing lower-than-expected tax revenues in the first months of the new fiscal year, and urging lawmakers to "remain discipline when it comes to spending."

With ongoing inflation and economic problems, the state's budget problem is growing worse by the day. The Department of Finance's most recent Finance Bulletin, released in October, pegged the current deficit at $6.967 billion through September.

Personal income tax cash receipts in September came in 22.9 percent lower than projected for the month, while estimated tax payments for the month were 42.3 percent lower. The Department notes that "September is a significant month of personal income tax receipts as many taxpayers pay their third quarter estimated payments."

While the Governor's budget won't be released until January 10, we get a sneak preview of the budget debate every November when the non-partisan Legislative Analyst's office releases their annual fiscal outlook for the year ahead. This year's outlook, which was released on Wednesday, is pretty dire.

According to the LAO report, the state faces a $25 billion budget shortfall in the 2023-24 fiscal year, which is primarily the result of lower revenue estimates than projected in the 2022-23 state budget. Over the three year budget period (2021-22 through 2023-24), the LAO estimates $41 billion in lower revenue than projected in the enacted state budget. If the state enters a recession, which many economists believe is nearly upon us, the LAO says "revenues could be $30 billion to $50 billion below" their current estimates. The LAO also forecasts multi-billion-dollar deficits each year through the 2026-27 fiscal year.

Rising inflation makes the state's budget problem even worse. The LAO estimates that the Legislature

City Council Makes Decision about Bridge Design

By Michele Townsend

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The City of West Sacramento and the City of Sacramento held a community meeting on Monday, November 14, 2022, at the City Hall Galleria to discuss updated plans for the I Street Bridge Replacement Project. The West Sacramento News Ledger recently brought you the story of a family that was looking at the very real possibility of losing their home and land due to the project. A home that has been in their family for generations, and one that is very historically significant to the community.

Mike Sanchez was alerted by a neighbor who works for the City of Sacramento, according to a map that Sacramento had posted online, that his house was scheduled to be destroyed to make way for an alley way to access the land near the West Sacramento side of the upcoming I Street Bridge. He frantically went to both cities looking for answers and clarification.

Mike was essentially told that these plan designs had already been decided and that there was nothing that he could do to change what was coming.

He was also told that he had his chance to speak on the topic and design on past occasions during several advertised community meetings. The problem was that even though the family got general invites from the City to attend community meetings, these notifications/invitations never mentioned anything indicating that there was a possibility of these plans affecting their family home or land. Therefore, they had no way of knowing how important it was that they be included. The family was never individually notified. Mike and his family have since learned that the City cannot legally notify individuals in this position until the project is in the stage in which the easement process has begun. At that point, it really is too late.

The Sanchez family is a fairly good-sized family and family members from throughout the community attended City Council meetings and recent Community meetings to express their resistance of giving up the family home. With the extensive list of reasons why this house should not be taken or destroyed, the Sanchez family began gathering

Feeding a Country During War

By Michele Townsend

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - We all see on TV news about the war in the Ukraine. Most of us feel compassion towards what the citizens in that country are going through, but we really have very little idea of what it's really like. One local man, who is a baker by trade (specializing in making bread) decided that he wanted to do something to help them. For safety purposes, we will use only his first name - Shawn.

"Sometimes charity takes more than writing a check or waving a flag," said Shawn. He joined a group out of Washington DC called World Central Kitchen. This organization is strictly a humanitarian organization with no political influence or agenda. They simply go where they are needed to help get food to those who need it. In fact, neither the organization nor the government supplied any support, of any kind, in the mission.

Shawn explained that even though the Ukraine usually has a good wheat production, other countries are sending them wheat now, but they didn't really know what to do with it. Businesses like bakeries are shut down or bombed. Those that aren't cannot follow their regular baking schedule because they are under martial law. No one is allowed outside from 10pm to 6am, except for military. Shawn knew he could help.

Shawn and three others went to the war-ravaged Ukraine this summer to do what they could to feed the Ukrainian people. Told ahead of time to bring a flak jacket and a Kevlar helmet, Shawn wasn't sure what he was getting into. He just knew that they needed help and this was something he could do. He didn't bring a jacket and helmet

"It was an amazing experience. They were very grateful that we were there, and I would love to go back," Shawn said. Photo by Tatsiana Kalasouskaya Dreamstime.com because he thought it would raise questions in both our airports and theirs. Once he was there, he wished he would have.

"You can't go into a war zone armed unless you are part of the local militant system," Shawn said, "I just went in looking like a normal American tourist." Shawn and his friends arrived in the Ukraine with only their carry-on luggage. They were questioned why they were there. Any electronic devices were gone through thoroughly, including all text messages, photos, etc. Burner phones were purchased for the minimal communication that would be used. Russian spies and Pro-Russian Ukrainians had devices that lifted cell phone numbers when they crossed into the country. Those numbers were closely monitored while they were there. Photos were not permitted.

They traveled in different modes while there, but no matter how they were traveling, they were regularly stopped (about every kilometer) and questioned by Ukrainian Security about why they were there and what they were doing. They especially focused on Americans. Men would board trains, buses, etc. armed with machine guns and AK47's to question passengers on their purpose of travel. Every time they focused a lot of attention on Shawn, often being the only American.

Ukrainian soldiers don't have many supplies on the frontline, so it was standard practice for people to take an SUV or some other vehicle and fill it with gasoline, food, socks and other supplies. They would then take these vehicles to the frontline and just leave them there. One of these vehicles was one of the modes of transportation that Shawn's group used to get to the next area.

Shawn and his group would arrive in a city and pull together whatever they could to set up. They would gather supplies from grocery stores that had been bombed, or restaurants that had been destroyed and occasionally they might get some food from suppliers. They would use whatever they could, often an oil drum to cook on. In one city they even used a burnt out tank to turn into a stove. They would gather big pots and set them on their make shift stoves to make soup or stew. Sometimes they made sandwiches. Occasionally they had bags of groceries to hand out.

When the air raid sirens go off, they go off across the country so you never know where the missiles were headed. Many people began to ignore them. Others would run for cover, taking safety in the underground bunkers that are under most public buildings there (left over from WWII). There were missile strikes all around them, the closest being just a few blocks away. It was so close they could feel the rumble of the ground as the bomb exploded. In one town there was a missile that had hit the ground and was sticking out of the ground but had not detonated.

In the more rural areas, such as villages, people hid in their root cellars (a cellar that is designed for storage of potatoes and other produce). They would come out sheepishly at first, until they got to know them, then more people would come out. Sometimes the same people would make multiple trips to the same bunker. This was especially true in areas that were under heavy bombardment.

As people got to know the group, more people would come out to help. There was even a 15-year-old girl in a flak jacket and Kevlar helmet delivering bread. The group would come across schools being taught in bunkers because their school had been bombed. Shawn and his friends did what they could to get these kids school supplies.

"The hardest thing was the language barrier," Shawn said, "But we brought a bunch of little hot wheels cars and John Deer tractors and handed those out. It was a great ice breaker, as many of them were farmers." Shawn and his group spent three and a half weeks there and he spent around $5000 out of his own pocket to fund the trip and supplies. They fed roughly 1500 people a day from their mobile kitchens, mostly women and children.

"It was an amazing experience. They were very grateful that we were there, and I would love to go back" Shawn said. ★

2,000 Children Receive New Winter Coats from YCCA

YCCA News Release

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Saturday, November 19, the Yolo County Children's Alliance (YCCA) hosted their 17th annual Community Giveaway Day event at their Family Resource Center in West Sacramento. This event served 657 families in need, providing them with turkeys, Thanksgiving meal kits, winter resources, and coats for every child who came through the gate. As a region, Yolo County has seen an increase in families facing food insecurity and homelessness, and an influx in refugees arriving with limited support and basic resources. The increase in need this year was expected, and thanks to community partners, YCCA was able to provide support and celebration to the most families ever in the history of this event.

Community Giveaway Day is more than just a resource event: it's an opportunity to empower the community and support their resilience. The families who attend Community Giveaway Day often are a part of Yolo County's most underserved communities, facing increased economic and sociocultural stressors. YCCA's mission for this event remains focused on creating a celebratory event that empowers families and brings the community together.

"Access to essential resources, like food, clothing, baby supplies and healthcare, reduces stress in a household, increasing the capacity for families to create safe and nurturing homes. Community Giveaway Day, thanks to our partners and funders, is a catalyst for YCCA to provide those concrete supports to those who need it most in our community," said Jeneba Lahai, Executive Director of the Yolo County Children's Alliance. "Community Giveaway Day is a one-of-a-kind event, and it's because of the hours of preparation the YCCA team puts into it, and the dollars and supplies collected from funders and partners. This event truly emulates the passion behind our mission as a premier non-profit in Yolo County: to strengthen and empower families in our community." The efforts brought to the community by YCCA make a positive impact on the lives of so many families. YCCA is focused on strengthening and empowering communities in the region and providing concrete resources in times of need is a tangible way to make a difference in the lives of so many.

For the 2022 Community Giveaway Day event, the Yolo County Children's Alliance was able to convene more partners and organizations than ever before. Thank you to our community leaders committed to supporting families in Yolo County: the County of Yolo, the City of West Sacramento and their Police Department, Yolo County Office of Education, Washington Unified School District, the Yolo Food Bank, Waste Management, the Walmart Foundation, Nugget Markets, Sutter Health, Kaiser, First 5 Yolo, PG&E, Union Pacific, Yolo Federal Credit Union, Five Star Bank, Bogle Wines, Hawkins Home Loans, Project Linus of Yolo County, and the many businesses and local non-profits who hosted coat drives for this event.

With the holidays just beginning, YCCA is looking forward to enthusiastic support from the community for our annual Holiday Toy Distribution event on December 17, 2022, where West Sacramento families can receive non-perishable food, household items, winter supplies, and toys for children. YCCA is in need of new toys for all ages and is looking for support from the community to bring more than 900 children holiday joy! City Council Makes Decision about Bridge Design signatures, making phone calls, meeting with city officials and emailing City Council about their concerns.

At first, they felt shuffled to the side and unheard. However, they began to build a team of supporters from throughout the city and county. Suddenly, meetings that were planned for discussion next year, got moved up to be included in the next City Council meeting. The Mayor and some of the City Councilmembers toured the area to see what the uproar was about.

Jason McCoy, MST, AICP, Transportation and Mobility Division Manager at City of West Sacramento, in the Community Development Department got involved. As supervising transportation planner, Jason McCoy performs a variety of managerial, professional and technical works to strategically recommend, pursue, and implement programs related to the City Council's transportation and mobility policy goals. Jason quickly began to design an alternate design to achieve the goals of the original design, but in a way that people in the area would not lose their homes. It was this revised plan that was the topic of Monday's meeting. The room was full and the presentation short, but the new plan made everyone that has been working so hard to save the Sanchez home breathe a sigh of relief. The final decision wasn't actually made until Wednesday's City Council meeting when the Council voted to accept the new plan design.

"The City listened to concerns of property owners and we're happy the new design will have minimal impact on homes in the neighborhood," said Paul Hosley, Public Information Officer for the City of West Sacramento. Mayor Guerrero even introduced Mike Sanchez at Wednesday's meeting and asked him to step up as a special guest and lead the attendees in the Pledge of Allegiance to start off the public portion of the Council meeting.

"My family and I were excited to see an alternate plan. It has brought us much peace and relief to know our home and history are safe to continue on. We are grateful to the City Council and staff for hearing our concerns and working hard to implement change," said Mike Sanchez. He continued with "We are also grateful to the West Sacramento community who sprang into action to lend us support. Moving forward, I hope the West Sacramento City government carefully considers alternatives to occupied homes for future development. This is a small town, we have to look out for each other and value our historic locations and families." ★

Being Hounded Isn't the Issue

Dear Dave,

I lost my job a couple of years ago. As a result, I ended up in about $25,000 of debt through credit cards and a consolidation loan. Now I have a great job making more than I've ever made before, plus a car loan for about $13,000. The older debts went to collections, but I'm not being hounded by collectors at this point. I want to get control of my money and do things the right way, so how should I handle things?

—Mike

Dear Mike,

Well, being hounded isn't the issue. Morally, you owe the money. You took money under agreements that you'd pay it back, and that means you need to pay it—both the old and new debts.

Dave Ramsey Says

I'd start by running two debt snowballs. Let's do one for the car and any other active debts you have first since the collectors aren't after you about the old, dead debt. Then, smallest to largest, start knocking out the debt that's in collections. When it comes to these guys, reach out and get an agreement in writing detailing exactly how much you owe and the monthly payment amounts. Remember, do not give any of these folks direct access to your bank accounts.

There's no upside to not paying what you owe. It's an integrity issue, it's a legal issue, and it's a credit issue. Did I mention it's an integrity issue, Mike?

You want this stuff out of your life. If you don't take care of it, I guarantee it'll come back to haunt you somewhere down the road!

Social Security Matters
When Is My Wife Eligible for Full Survivor Benefits?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I heard my spouse will get 100% of my Social Security when I pass if she is at her full retirement age (FRA), which is 66 years and 8 months. But I also heard that full widow benefits for those born in 1958 are available at 66 years and 4 months. Which is correct? Signed: Planning Ahead

Then I heard that her getting 100% of my social security is NOT the case because I started social security at 70. I heard this is because widow benefits are based on my benefit at my full retirement age. So, will my wife get 100% of my Social Security if she starts it at her FRA, or will she get my smaller FRA amount?

My wife is now getting spousal benefits and I also heard that for those getting spousal benefits, Social Security automatically changes that to widow benefits when the other spouse passes. If I die before my wife reaches her FRA, can she tell Social Security to NOT give her widow benefits at that time? Can she wait until she is at her FRA and then start widow benefits to get 100% of mine? Signed: Concerned Husband be happy to clear all this up for you. There are two "full retirement age" numbers which will be in effect for your wife if you pass first – 1) her "normal" full retirement age (FRA), and 2) her "widow's full retirement age."

Dear Concerned: I'll

Your wife's "normal FRA" is 66 years and 8 months and that is when her personal SS retirement benefit can be claimed without reduction, and when she will no longer be subject to Social Security's earnings test if she is still working. Your wife's "widow's FRA" is determined by subtracting two years from her birth year and the FRA number for that year becomes her "widows FRA," which is the age at which she becomes eligible for unreduced survivor benefits. In your wife's case her "widow's FRA" is 4 months earlier than her normal FRA, or 66 years and 4 months.

The confusion about whether your wife's survivor benefit will be based on your FRA entitlement, or your age 70 amount usually stems from the fact that a spouse's benefit while both partners are living is based on FRA amounts, whereas your wife's benefit as your surviving spouse is based on the full amount you were receiving when you died. Thus, your wife's current benefit as your spouse is based on your age 66 amount, but her benefit as your widow will be based on your age 70 amount. If you predeceased her, your wife's benefit as your survivor (if she has reached her "widow's FRA" of 66 plus 4 months) will be 100% of your age 70 amount (including any cost of living adjustments subsequently awarded), and that will replace the smaller benefit she is now receiving as your spouse.

Whether your wife's survivor benefit will be automatically awarded depends on whether her current benefit consists of her own Social Security retirement benefit from her own lifetime work record plus a spousal boost from your record. If that is the case, then her survivor benefit will not be awarded until she claims it. If, however, your wife's current benefit is based solely on your record, when Social Security receives notification of your death, they will automatically award your wife's benefit as your surviving widow. If she has already reached her "widow's FRA" when that happens, her new benefit amount will be the same as you were receiving when you died. But if your wife hasn't yet reached her widow's FRA, her survivor benefit will be awarded at that time but reduced by .396% for each month earlier than her FRA. So, if her current benefit is based solely on your Social Security earnings record, your wife will not have the option to delay her survivor benefit until her widow's FRA.

The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.AUCTION.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 101453-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 101453-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. The Thanksgiving season is one of the busiest travel times of the year. The DMV wants to make sure that you are prepared for busy airports so you can catch your flight with ease. Your travels will be easier when you take advantage of DMV online services to get your REAL ID.

Q: I am planning to fly home to visit my family this holiday season. Do I need a REAL ID to board domestic flights?

A: While you will not need a REAL ID to board domestic flights or to enter federal facilities this holiday season, you will next year. The enforcement date is May 3, 2023. We highly encourage all Californians to give themselves the gift of a REAL ID this holiday season! REAL ID appointments are available, and you can also check DMV Office wait times online if you do not have an appointment. Before you go, complete your REAL ID application online and simply finish the transaction in person at a DMV Office. View a full list of acceptable documents and start your application online here.

Q: I lost my driver's license and need to replace it before flying home for Thanksgiving. Can I request a replacement online?

A: Yes, if your driver's license (DL) has been lost, stolen, damaged or mutilated, a replacement DL can be requested online by following these steps:

- Create an online account (if you haven't previously).
- If you've submitted a Change of Address (COA) confirm that the change has been processed and wait 14 days before requesting a replacement DL. (Confirmation can be done in the COA system.)
- Be prepared to pay a fee for your replacement driver's license.

You should receive your new DL card in the mail within two to four weeks. If you have not received your DL card after 60 days, call 1-800-777-0133 to check the status.

Q: My car registration is out of date, and I don't have time to visit the DMV before the holidays. Can I renew my registration online?

A: Yes! Skip the line this holiday season and renew your vehicle registration online. The DMV offers a variety of online services that make completing your DMV business easy and efficient, from renewing vehicle registration to changing your address, or driver's license renewal – and much more! You can find a list of online services at dmv.ca.gov/portal/dmv-online/. Stop the Clog!
A message from the City of West Sacramento
Think that can go down the drain? Think again.

Remember that bacon grease you poured down the drain this morning? Or last night's oily melted cheese you tossed in the sink? Sure, it seemed harmless. But fats, oils, and grease (FOG) create a huge problem for sewer pipes. In fact, FOG combined with roots in the sewer system can create massive clogs that cause more than half our sewer backups and overflows! This can result in costly repairs and environmental impacts.

What should you do? For residents, it's easy: The majority of sewer backups and overflows caused by fats, oils, and grease (FOG) originate in residential areas. You can help prevent clogs by learning about FOG and how to dispose of it. Some common sources of FOG include: Meat, Fatty food scraps, Lard, Salad dressings, Creamy or oily sauces, Marinades, Milk and dairy products, Shortening, Butter or margarine and Peanut Butter. ★

Another Step Toward Agreement on California's Water

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

For at least a decade, off and on, state water managers and local water agencies have pursued the holy grail of a master agreement to improve the environmental health of the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta by increasing its water flows.

At any given moment, California's water supply is a zero sum game. Therefore, increasing flows through the Delta to improve habitat for salmon and other species would require local water agencies, particularly those serving farmers, to take less from the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and their tributaries.

That's not only a hard sell, but also could interfere with water rights, some of which stretch back to the 19th century. State officials have hoped that so-called "voluntary agreements" would forestall direct action that could touch off a legal donnybrook over those rights.

However, many environmental groups have pushed for direct and mandatory restrictions on water diversions, saying they don't trust agreements that lack the force of law and believe that water rights need to be reconfigured to match 21st century conditions, including the likelihood of semi-perpetual drought.

The pressure for agreements ramped up in 2018 when the state Water Resources Control Board published its draft of new regulations to protect the Delta, indicating that roughly 40% of natural river flows should make it to the Delta, and most into San Francisco Bay and the Pacific Ocean.

Reaching that figure would require steep reductions in water diversions from rivers for farms and municipal users.

A few months later, newly inaugurated Gov. Gavin Newsom stressed the urgency of the situation in his first State of the State address, saying, "Our first task is to cross the finish line on real agreements to save the Sacramento-San Joaquin Bay Delta. We must get this done — for the resilience of our mighty rivers, the stability of our agriculture sector, and the millions who depend on this water every day."

Later that year, he vetoed a bill that would have adopted, wholesale, all of the environmental laws that existed in the federal government prior to Donald Trump's election as president because the Trump administration had loosened up on water diversions. Had the bill become law, Newsom was warned, it would have short-circuited the drive for voluntary water agreements.

In 2020, Newsom's Resources Agency released a framework for such agreements and earlier this year announced initial agreements with some major water interests that would forestall a legal clash.

However, there were hold-outs, particularly agencies that draw water from the Tuolumne River, including the City and County of San Francisco, which owns Hetch Hetchy Dam on the Tuolumne and transports its water to the city via pipelines. Tuolumne water diverters filed a lawsuit challenging the water board's right to impose diversion restriction and their offers for voluntary cutbacks were rejected as insufficient.

Last week, there was a breakthrough. San Francisco and two agricultural water agencies, the Modesto and Turlock irrigation districts, forged an agreement with the state to increase Tuolumne flows and enhance habitat.

"This collaborative approach holds the promise to do that (work) more quickly and holistically, while improving water reliability to communities, farms and businesses," the state resources secretary, Wade Crowfoot, said in a statement.

Does that mean that the Delta water war is over? Not necessarily.

Environmentalists still don't like the voluntary agreement approach and there still is another unresolved Delta issue: A Newsom-backed tunnel beneath the Delta to carry Sacramento River water to the head of the California Aqueduct near Tracy.

Tunnel opponents believe the flow-enhancing agreements are being sought merely to make the project, which would divert water from the Delta, more environmentally acceptable.

can meet the requirements of the voter-approved Proposition 98 minimum funding guarantee for education and provide an 8.38 percent cost-of-living adjustment. However, inflation adjustment isn't built into the rest of the budget. As a result the LAO notes that, "our estimate of a $25 billion budget problem understates the actual budget problem in inflation-adjusted terms."

In one bit of good news, the state has amassed a significant rainy day fund reserve in recent year. The rainy day fund reserve, which became law in 2014 thanks to the efforts of then-Assembly Republican Leader Connie Conway, has required the state to save money in good times to blunt the impact of a massive budget shortfall like the state is facing this year. But the amount saved in the reserve — about $22 billion — is roughly the same as the state's current shortfall.

Now that incoming lawmakers and the Governor have received the bad news, it's up to them to figure out how to respond. You can expect Newsom will propose a January budget that sounds fiscally conservative — suspending new programs, making cuts where they won't conflict with liberal priorities, and focusing on addressing the state's unfunded obligations, and cautioning lawmakers to focus on one-time spending.

What is unclear is how the Legislature will respond. Keep in mind that one-third of the Legislature is newly elected, and the new Democratic members are generally more liberal than the members they are replacing by any objective measure.

How will they respond if Newsom wants to suspend or repeal some of the new ongoing spending they have enacted in recent years? The LAO notes that recently enacted ongoing spending will grow to $12 billion in new annual spending by the 2025-26 budget year and is a prime target for being suspended or cut.

Signaling a potential budget fight with Newsom, Senate President Pro Tem Toni Atkins, D-San Diego, said in a statement that, "we are prepared to hold onto the gains we've made and continue where we left off once our economy and revenues rebound."

Consider that the opening salvo in what will surely be one of the most challenging budget debates in Sacramento in more than a decade.

First Northern Community Bancorp Reports 3rd Quarter 2022 Earnings

First Northern Bank News Release

DIXON, CA (MPG) - First Northern Community Bancorp (the “Company”, OTCQB: FNRN), holding company for First Northern Bank (“First Northern” or the “Bank”), today reported net income of $11.2 million, or $0.80 per diluted share, for the nine months ended September 30, 2022, up 1.5% compared to net income of $11.0 million, or $0.77 per diluted share, for the nine months ended September 30, 2021.

Net income for the quarter ended September 30, 2022 was $4.6 million, or $0.33 per diluted share, up 1.3% compared to net income of $4.5 million, or $0.32 per diluted share, for the quarter ended September 30, 2021.

Total assets as of September 30, 2022 were $1.93 billion, an increase of $8.2 million, or 0.4%, compared to September 30, 2021. Total deposits as of September 30, 2022 were $1.80 billion, an increase of $49.9 million, or 2.9%, compared to September 30, 2021. Total net loans (including loans totaling $0.5 million made under the SBA’s Paycheck Protection Program (PPP)) as of September 30, 2022 were $971.2 million, an increase of $145.6 million, or 17.6%, compared to total net loans (including loans held-for-sale and loans totaling $72.0 million made under the SBA’s PPP) of $825.6 million as of September 30, 2021. The increase in net loans was primarily driven by originations of commercial real estate, agriculture, and residential mortgage loans, which was partially offset by payoffs, and the forgiveness and SBA reimbursement on loans made under the SBA’s PPP.

Excluding PPP loans, net loan growth as of September 30, 2022 was $217.10 million, or 28.8%, compared to September 30, 2021. The Company continued to be “well capitalized” under regulatory definitions, exceeding the 10% total risk-based capital ratio threshold as of September 30, 2022.

Commenting on the Company’s financial results, President & Chief Executive Officer Louise Walker stated, “We remain focused on executing our strategic initiatives and are closely monitoring risks related to the continued impact of high inflation on both consumer and business clients. Given our strong capital, consistent earnings, solid credit portfolio and excellent liquidity, we believe that we are well positioned to help our clients navigate the challenging economic environment.”★

The requirements of California Civil Code Section 2923.5(b)/2923.55(c) were fulfilled when the Notice of Default was recorded. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder’s office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call or visit this Internet Web site www.ndscorp.com/sales, using the file number assigned to this case 20-00384-MS-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT*: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an “eligible tenant buyer,” you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an “eligible bidder,” you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 888-264-4010, or visit this internet website www.ndscorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 20-00384-MS-CA to find the date on which the trustee’s sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee’s sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee’s sale. If you think you may qualify as an “eligible tenant buyer” or “eligible bidder,” you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. *Pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code, the potential rights described herein shall apply only to public auctions taking place on or after January 1, 2021, through December 31, 2025, unless later extended. Riley Reviews

HOLIDAY FILMS ON CBS;
UPLIFTING CHRISTMAS MOVIES ON UPtv

A Film and TV Review by Tim Riley

THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT COMES TO CBS

The Hallmark Channel may not be alone in the holiday spirit but even network television can't compete with as many Christmas-themed specials. However, CBS makes an effort with its own foray into the jolly season.

Airing on November 29th, "Reindeer in Here," a one-hour animated holiday special, is based on the award-winning Christmas book and plush set created by acclaimed author Adam Reed and written for the screen by Greg Erb and Jason Oremland.

This is the heartwarming story of how Blizz, a young reindeer living at the North Pole who has an unusual trait — one antler that is significantly smaller than the other — and his unique group of friends band together to save the future of Christmas.

Blizz just wants to show Santa that his original inventions can make Christmas even better. Theo, a lonely 10-year-old boy, is the new kid in town who longs to make friends.

When a mysterious villain swipes the magical snow globe that holds the wishes of every child in the world, these two unlikely heroes become Santa's only hope to save Christmas.

Blizz and Theo can't save Christmas all on their own, so they enlist the help of their trustworthy friends, including Candy, the over-sharing Snowgirl; Pinky, the only entirely pink reindeer at the North Pole; and the dimwitted mohawked polar bear Hawk.

Joining the group to help out is the big-toothed nervous-nelly reindeer Bucky, and the adorable and hilarious Smiley the elf who has served as Santa's harried Head of Holiday Operations for the past 500 years.

Amanda Kloots ("The Talk" co-host) stars in and executive produces "Fit for Christmas," the tale of Audrey, an enthusiastic Christmas-obsessed fitness instructor at a beloved, financially beleaguered community center in quaint Mistletoe, Montana.

Audrey begins a holiday romance with a charming, mysterious businessman (Paul Greene), complicating his plans to turn the center into a more financially profitable resort property. "Fit for Christmas" airs on December 4th.

Mark Amato, who has created a dozen holiday-themed films, including last season's CBS original movie "A Christmas Proposal," as well as "A Kiss Before Christmas," is the writer of "Most Love Christmas," the holiday special to air on December 11th.

A renowned romance novelist (Liza Lapira of "The Equalizer") famous for her Christmas-themed books finds herself snowbound in the charming town of Cranberry Falls.

Stuck in this village, the novelist unexpectedly becomes involved in a love triangle between her childhood crush (Nathan Witte) and a reporter (Neal Bledsoe) determined to interview her to save his dying magazine.

Award-winning singer-songwriter Sheryl Crow executive produces and writes the title song for "When Christmas Was Young," a Nashville music-themed movie from a script by bestselling novelist Robert Tate Miller ("Hope at Christmas").

The story follows a headstrong music manager (actor/musician Tyler Hilton) in desperate need of a hit song for his last remaining client, who finds himself falling for a gifted singer-songwriter (Karen David).

While the singer may have abandoned dreams of making it big, Hilton's music manager attempts to secure the rights to a Christmas song she wrote years ago. "When Christmas Was Young" debuts on December 18th.

UPTV's MERRY HOLIDAY OFFERING

UPTV, the television home for uplifting entertainment, may be outdoing everyone else in the holiday cheer department, with 17 original movies celebrating the Christmas spirit.

Let's take a look at a few of the offerings. On December 3rd, "Christmas on the Slopes" is the story of a celebrity chef (Soma Chhaya) taking her first real Christmas vacation and ends up wandering into the kitchen of a luxury resort.

The handsome but grouchy head chef (Olivier Renaud) mistakes her for the sous chef, and their chemistry sparks a holiday romance. But will everything blow up when the head chef learns the truth about her?

"Santa's Got Style," debuting on December 11th, finds department store executive Madison (Kathryn Davis) charged with coming up with a fresh idea for the holiday season. She decides that instead of a classic Santa, this year they would hire a young Santa with fashionable style.

But when she has difficulty finding the perfect model, her long-time best friend Ethan (Franco Lo Presti), who has been in love with her for years, throws on a beard and disguises himself as the Santa of her dreams.

The weekend before Christmas delivers "Sappy Holiday," with Vanessa Sears' Joy stranded in a small town after her car breaks down. She meets the charming James (Jon McLaren), a local trying to save his family's maple farm.

Christmas weekend brings a double bill for Saturday and Sunday, with "The Snowball Effect" being the tale of rival meteorologists (Anjali Khurana and Landon Moss) tracking a huge snowstorm in the town of Mistletoe and having to work together to get home in time for Christmas.

Christmas Day brings "Christmas in Wolf Creek" where a runaway reindeer threatens the annual Christmas play and a struggling couple (Nola Martin and Tim Rozon) must work together to save Christmas for the town and each other. ★

Big Sky Champs! Sac State Finishes Regular Season 11-0 with Win in Causeway Classic

Sac State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento State finished the regular season with a 27-21 win over No. 24 UC Davis to cap the first undefeated regular season in school history on Saturday in front of a school record 23,073 fans at Hornet Stadium in the 68th Causeway Classic.

The second-ranked Hornets earned their third consecutive Big Sky Conference title, completing the year with an 8-0 league record while winning their 19th consecutive conference game. The team earned the Big Sky's automatic berth into the NCAA FCS Playoffs and will find out its seed during the selection show on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. PT on ESPN.

Asher O'Hara rushed for two scores and threw another during the game to lead the offense. Sacramento State never trailed in the contest but saw its lead trimmed to 24-21 with 4:41 remaining following a 75-yard touchdown pass from Miles Hastings to Josh Gale.

Following the score, Sacramento State was able to drain nearly four minutes off the clock before Kyle Sentkowski made a 44-yard field goal. Needing a touchdown with only 32 seconds remaining and no timeouts, UC Davis quickly moved down the field with three completions to C.J. Hutton to move the ball the Hornet 45. Hastings then found Trent Tompkins who was kept in bounds at the 33 as time expired.

Sacramento State scored the game's first points by driving 75 yards on a 10-play opening drive which was capped by a 2-yard shovel pass from O'Hara to Marcus Fulcher. UC Davis immediately answered with a 37-yard field goal from Isaiah Gomez and the Hornets closed the first quarter scoring with a 23-yard field goal from Sentkowski.

After both defenses dug in to start the second quarter, O'Hara scored his first touchdown of the game with a 19-yard rush up the middle. The Hornets needed only three plays during the series to cover 50 yards and move ahead 17-3. However, UC Davis had an answer with Ulonzo Gilliam finding the end zone on a 1-yard rush with just 18 seconds left in the half.

Both defenses came up with interceptions in the third quarter but neither offense could convert the turnovers into points. The only points in the period came from Gomez who made a 37-yard field goal with 9:39 showing.

Sacramento State again turned to O'Hara for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter. The quarterback cartwheeled his way into the end zone on an 8-yard rush to make the score 24-13. The drive was kept alive by a 20-yard run on a fake punt from Cal McGough.

The final stats were nearly identical as the Hornets finished with 426 yards of total offense and the Aggies compiling 420. Sacramento State had 190 yards on the ground and 236 through the air. Cameron Skattebo had a game-high 97 rushing yards while O'Hara added 50.

Protect Yourself from Respiratory Viruses this Winter

Yolo County News Release

WOODLAND, CA (MPG) - As we enter the winter and holiday season, the Yolo County Health and Human Services Agency urges Yolo County residents to protect themselves and their families against many circulating viruses, including the flu, COVID-19, and respiratory syncytial virus (RSV).

"We are seeing higher than usual influenza and RSV activity for this time of year," said Yolo County Health Officer Dr. Aimee Sisson. "We are also seeing an increase in COVID-19 cases. I encourage everybody in Yolo County to take actions to protect themselves and others from what looks to be a rough respiratory virus season ahead by washing their hands often, getting vaccinated and boosted against flu and COVID-19, wearing a mask indoors, covering their cough, and staying home when sick."

RSV activity is especially high this year, with hospitals across California strained to care for large numbers of ill children. RSV is a common respiratory virus that usually causes mild, cold-like symptoms. Most people recover in 1-2 weeks without treatment. However, RSV can be serious, especially in infants and older adults, causing pneumonia (lung infection) and bronchiolitis (inflammation of the small airways in the lung) in children under 1 year of age.

Respiratory viruses like RSV, influenza virus, SARS-CoV-2 (which causes COVID-19), and viruses that cause the common cold spread through respiratory droplets. Contact with respiratory droplets can occur when an infected person coughs or sneezes and you get droplets in your eyes, nose, or mouth, or when you touch a surface with the virus on it, like a doorknob, and then touch your face before washing your hands. COVID-19 can also be transmitted through smaller particles called aerosols that stay in the air for extended periods of time and travel over long distances before being breathed in.

The symptoms of RSV, influenza, COVID-19, and the common cold overlap significantly, and only healthcare provider testing can definitively tell these infections apart. Home COVID-19 tests are a valuable tool to detect COVID-19, but they are unable to detect other viral infections. A person with a negative COVID test could still have influenza, RSV, or another viral infection. Persons with cold-like symptoms should stay home until their fever is gone and their symptoms are improving, even with a negative COVID-19 test.

To protect yourself and others from respiratory viruses this season, please consider doing the following:

Get Vaccinated, Boosted (and Treated) – Flu and COVID-19 vaccines are the best defense against severe illness, and you can get both vaccines at the same time. Visit myturn.ca.gov to find a vaccine clinic near you. If you test positive for COVID-19, contact your doctor or a test-to-treat site immediately to seek treatment. Treatments work best when started right after symptoms begin.

Wear a Mask – Wearing a mask in indoor public places is an excellent way to limit the spread of respiratory viruses. N95, KN95, and KF94 masks are the most protective. Wash Your Hands – Frequent handwashing, with soap and warm water for at least 20 seconds, is an easy way to prevent getting sick and spreading germs. Use alcohol-based hand sanitizer when soap and water aren't available.

Stay Home if You're Sick! – It's crucial to stay home if you are feeling ill. Avoid close contact with others to protect them, and take the time you need to heal.

Cover Your Cough or Sneeze – Remember to cough or sneeze into your elbow, your arm, or a tissue to help prevent the spread of winter viruses. Make sure to dispose of your tissue after, then wash your hands or use hand sanitizer. ★
