California's Education Department released student test scores showing a statewide decline that nearly wiped out the academic progress made since the state overhauled how it funds education in 2014.

The gist of the scores, the most extensive measure so far of the COVID-19 pandemic's impact on student achievement: The percentage of California students meeting state math standards plummeted 7 percentage points to 33%, and the percentage meeting English language standards dropped 4 percentage points, to 47%.

CHP Receives Grant to Reduce Teen Distracted Driving

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -The California Highway Patrol (CHP) announced today that it received a grant from the Office of Traffic Safety (OTS) to help promote safe driving behaviors for teens.

The Teen Distracted Driving (TDD) II grant announcement coincides with National Teen Driver Safety Week October 16-22. The number one killer of teens in America is car crashes. Using cell phones, eating, drinking, changing the music, or simply talking with friends are all activities teens engage in every day, but these activities become life-threatening hazards while driving. Distracted or inattentive driving presents a significant danger to all motorists.

The grant-funded Teen Distracted Driving campaign consists of an education component that will allow CHP officers and traffic safety partners to make appearances at schools and community events throughout the state. Distracted driving enforcement operations will be conducted during National Teen Driver Safety Week in October and National Distracted Driving Awareness Month in April.

According to the California Department of Motor Vehicles, there are nearly 792,970 licensed teenage drivers in California, which increased by 6 percent since last year. Data from the CHP's Statewide Integrated Traffic Records System indicated that in 2020 there were 6,644 fatal and injury crashes involving teen drivers between 15 and 19 years of age. This age group has the largest proportion of drivers who were distracted at the time of the fatal crashes.

"The combination of inattention and inexperience behind the wheel can lead to tragedy," said CHP Commissioner Amanda Ray. "This grant will assist our officers in keeping California's roads safe, while addressing California's distracted driving crisis among the state's teens."

Funding for this program was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

City of West Sacramento Release

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - At the October 19, 2022 West Sacramento City Council meeting three Proclamations were awarded.

The first Proclamation was awarded to Jeff Savage of the Sacramento River Cats, with the following background:

"In 1998, the Savage family purchased a minor league baseball franchise with a vision to move the team from Vancouver to West Sacramento. In 2000, that vision became a reality as the Savages successfully partnered with the City, as well as, Yolo and Sacramento Counties to finance and construct Sutter Health Park (then Raley Field) in the City's Bridge District. On this site, the Sacramento River Cats have taken the field for the past two decades. Sutter Health Park served as a catalyst for further development in the Bridge District and has helped the City realize its vision of an active and vibrant riverfront. Over the years, thousands of fans have enjoyed great baseball, a family-friendly atmosphere, and fantastic views of the West Sacramento-Sacramento skyline from the park's friendly

"Mr. Savage served the River Cats in a management capacity for many years as President and Chief Operating Officer, most recently taking over as Chief Executive Officer. In addition to success on the field, the River Cats have been a strong community partner and, through the River Cats Foundation, distributed millions of dollars in donations to worthy charitable groups. Mr. Savage has been an invaluable partner to the City throughout his tenure, working with staff across departments on issues ranging from baseball games to concerts, charity events, and more. With the recent purchase of the River Cats by the Sacramento Kings, Mr. Savage announced his intent to step away from the organization and pursue new ventures. This proclamation is to recognize his service and wish him well in his future endeavors."

The second award was presented to Senator Richard Pan. The following background was provided in the Council's agenda for reason of the award:

"Dr. Richard Pan is a pediatrician, former UC Davis educator, and community leader who was first elected to the State Assembly in 2010. Subsequently elected to the 6th State Senate District in 2014, Dr. Pan has represented the people of West Sacramento for the last eight years. During that time, Dr. Pan emerged as a leader in public health and healthcare policy and has received accolades for his work as Chair of the Senate Committee on Health. He also serves as Chair of the Senate Select Committee on Asian Pacific Islander Affairs and the Asian Pacific Islander Legislative

Throughout his years in the Legislature, Dr. Pan has been a staunch ally of local governments, providing resources during the COVID-19 pandemic and partnering with police and fire departments throughout the region to support public safety. His commitment to the community does not stop with his official duties, as Dr. Pan has contributed a great deal of his personal volunteer time to important causes such as founding Healthy Kids Healthy Future, which provides health, dental, and vision coverage for over 65,000 children in the greater Sacramento area.

"Dr. Pan's representation of West Sacramento has benefited the city greatly. For instance, in 2021 he partnered with Assemblymember Kevin McCarty to secure $1.5 million in funding through the state budget to make improvements as part of the Master Plan for Bryte Park.

"Most recently, Dr. Pan secured passage and enactment of the City/ WSAFCA-sponsored Senate Bill (SB) 901. This bill will provide planning certainty for the citywide flood protection project by updating its state authorization and confirming the state's participation in construction. The legislation also allows the state to consider dissolving Maintenance Area 4 in the northern part of the City and consolidating its services with Reclamation District 900. Finally, the bill extends the deadline to achieve the required 200-year level of flood protection from 2025 to

"Dr. Pan will reach his term limit in the State Senate at the end of this calendar year and will leave the Legislature with a long list of accomplishments."

The third Proclamation was recognizing October as Domestic Violence Awareness Month. The background is as follows:

"In 2021 there were 164,608 domestic violence related calls for assistance in California. Domestic violence is the third leading cause of homelessness among families in the United States and one in four women and one in seven men have been victims of severe physical violence (e.g., beating, burning, strangling) by an intimate partner in their lifetime.

"Domestic violence affects people of all genders, sexual orientations, ages, and racial, ethnic, cultural, social, religious, and economic groups in the United States. The marginalization of certain groups in society, including undocumented individuals, transgender individuals, and people living with disabilities, increases their vulnerability to domestic violence. Children exposed to domestic violence can experience long-term consequences, including difficulty at school, substance abuse, behavioral problems in adolescence and serious adult health problems.

"Recognizing the need standing the complexity of violence perpetuated within communities and against communities and the fear of many survivors to report domestic violence to law enforcement. Locally, Empower Yolo has a mission to promote safe, healthy and resilient communities by providing twenty-four-hour crisis intervention, emergency shelter, confidential counseling, training, legal assistance, and other services for individuals and families affected by domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, human trafficking and child abuse.

"Empower Yolo has a 24-hour emergency shelter for adults and children escaping domestic violence, which offers safe refuge, a comprehensive empowerment program, therapeutic services and case management to the residents as well as provides transitional housing to help qualified individuals with short term assistance to escape violence in their lives."

'Don't Light Tonight' Season Begins This Month

Yolo-Solano Air Quality Management District

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - The 'Don't' Light Tonight' season officially began on November 1 and will run through the end of February. This voluntary program asks Yolo-Solano Air Quality Management District (District) residents to refrain from burning wood to help lower particulate matter in the air on days when the District issues advisories.

The District will issue advisories asking residents not to use their wood stoves or fireplaces, unless it is the only source of heat, on days when fine particulate matter (PM2.5) is forecast to reach 25 micrograms or higher. These advisories include residents within Yolo County and the northeastern portion of Solano County, including the cities of Vacaville, Dixon and Rio Vista.

During winter months, the air can become stagnant and cooler temperatures help trap air pollutants including PM2.5 closer to the ground, affecting the air we breathe. Wood smoke contains several toxic air pollutants including PM2.5, benzene, formaldehyde, and carbon monoxide. PM2.5 is especially unsafe because its small size allows it to bypass the body's natural defenses and travel to the heart, lungs and respiratory systems. Breathing PM2.5 can trigger short term health effects like coughing and watery eyes, and can exacerbate existing conditions such as asthma. Wood smoke can affect anyone, but those most at risk for serious health problems include young children, older adults and those with heart or respiratory problems.

To help reduce wood smoke in their community, District residents are encouraged to participate in the Woodsmoke Reduction Program. This program provides incentives to help change out older woodstoves or open-hearth fireplaces to cleaner EPA certified heating devices. Learn more and check eligibility at www. ysaqmd.org/woodstoves.

Residents can check the status of and view 'Don't Light Tonight' advisories by: Following the District's Facebook or Twitter accounts (@YoloSolanoAir); Signing up to receive an email or text at www.ysaqmd.enviroflash.info; Visiting the District's website at www.ysaqmd.org; Calling (530) 757-3787 for the daily 'Don't Light Tonight' status, updated by noon when an advisory is issued.

the Project's boundary beyond 12th Street and more than doubling the 20-30 trees that the Recirculated Draft Environmental Impact Report (RDEIR) represented would be removed, revealing that the project would affect an estimated 133 trees. DGS and JRC failed to prove how expanding the Project's boundary and doubling the number of trees to be removed from the historic Capitol Park would not exacerbate a significant environmental impact, in violation of CEQA.

"Because the changes to the project scope include new and/or exacerbating impacts and a new unstudied alternative that would reduce impacts to historic resources, additional review by the decisionmakers and the public of the EIR was required. Yet, DGS and JRC did not recirculate the EIR, instead choosing to deprive the public and responsible agencies of their right to review and comment on the Project's true impacts to the Capitol Complex.

"As stated in our appeal, there is no urgency to proceed with the unvetted Capitol Annex Project which disregards CEQA's requirement of transparency and its protections for the public interest."

A hearing on the case before the Third Appellate District is scheduled for November 14, 2022.

Student Test Scores Plunge

Continued from page 1 and those from low-income households dropped less dramatically than their counterparts, an indication that the state's funding formula, which sends more money to high-needs districts, worked to soften the blow of two years of disrupted learning.

As if to prove that pandemic learning loss is not just a California problem, officials released the state data to the public on the same day that results of a different test, nicknamed the Nation's Report Card, revealed an unprecedented score dive among a sampling of students nationwide.

Gov. Gavin Newsom swiftly issued a press release headlined "California outperforms most states in minimizing learning loss...." Various state officials credited the state's investments in summer school and other recovery efforts for minimizing the blow to pupils. Yet the national test, in contradiction to the state test, indicated that the achievement gap among students of color widened in California.

"California focused on the pandemic," Newsom said in a statement, "while making record investments to mitigate learning loss and transforming our education system."

The test upon which the Nation's Report Card is based is older and was given to only about 4.000 California students, while the state's Smarter Balanced tests are administered every spring to virtually all Californians in grades three through eight and grade eleven. The states set those tests, prompting some criticism that they encourage "teaching to the test". The goal of those Smarter Balanced tests: to measure how well students have mastered the state's Common Core standards.

The initial reluctance of state officials to promptly share the Smarter Balanced test data raised questions about whether elected state schools superintendent Tony Thurmond and others were trying to minimize the impact of bad news landing before voters cast November ballots.

"Democrat policies get keeping kids safe during an F," Senate GOP leader Scott Wilk of Lancaster declared in a statement. "It is no wonder these scores were kept under lock and key. They are a clear referendum on the failed policies advocated by the governor, legislative leaders, and the state superintendent of public instruction for years - not just during the pandemic. After shuttering schools for the better part of two years, student failure is on steroids."

> In spring of 2020, the first year of the pandemic, the state canceled its testing. In 2021, only one in four eligible students took the tests because not all students were back on campuses. In 2022, nearly all eligible students participated, making these results a key data point for understanding widespread pandemic-triggered learning loss in California.

There had been concern that the pandemic would completely undercut California's efforts to close a persistent achievement gap among certain groups of students. The results show that all students and economically disadvantaged students dropped the same 4 percentage points in English language arts, although that leaves economically disadvantaged students lagging their peers, with just 35% meeting standards. The rates for English learners and students with disabilities both dropped less than a single percentage point, from 12.8% to 12.5% and 16% to 15% respectively.

For math, rates for economically disadvantaged students actually dropped slightly less than the average drop for all students, falling 6 percentage points but still resulting in an abysmal 21% meeting standards. English learners went from 13% to 10%. Students with disabilities went from 13%

When separated by grade level, third-grade students saw the largest drops in both subjects. In 2019, 48.5% of third graders met English language arts standards. Compare that to 42.2% in 2022, a 6.4 percentage-point decline. For math, the rate for third graders meeting standards dropped by 6.7 percentage

Megan Bacigalupi is the executive director of CA Parent Power, a parent advocacy group that rallied parents to fight for school reopenings earlier in the pandemic. She said these scores aren't just the reckoning for prolonged school closures but a wake-up call for parents. California's test scores were always abysmal, and they couldn't afford to sink any lower, she said.

"We're not a state that's performing well, so for kids to backslide ... We were never in a good place," Bacigalupi said. "What I hope is eye-opening to parents is that, guess what, prior to all this, our kids weren't doing that well."

The Local Control Funding Formula gives additional money to school districts and charter schools for their English learners, foster children and students from low-income households. Districts with high percentages of students who fall into at least one of these student groups get an additional pot of money called a "concentration grant."

The state's funding model also gives districts more control over how they spend their money. Lance Christensen, who's running against incumbent state superintendent Tony Thurmond, said the state needs to play an even smaller role.

"The state has done enough to destroy our kids' education," he said. "I think the state needs fewer education programs and more getting out of the way."

But this surge of funding won't last forever. And the recent increases to state education funding might not be enough to make up for the disappearance of the federal Bacigalupi, the parent advocate, said there's been little explanation to parents when it comes to how districts are spending this money. She said the lack of transparency has been an alarming trend throughout the pandemic, from the rationale behind prolonged school closures, to even the release of these test scores.

"It's a pattern that parents are very aware of when it comes to public education," Bacigalupi said.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

November 17, 2022

Pursuant to Government Code Section 66018, the West Sacramento Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on Thursday November 17, 2022, at the West Sacramento Civic Center, City Council Chambers, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California, at 6:00 PM or as soon thereafter as possible on the item(s) listed below.

Members of the public are welcome to watch the meeting Livestream (https://www. cityofwestsacramento.org/government/meetings-agendas/planning-commission), or on Astound Broadband Channel 20 and to submit comments in writing by 4:00 PM on November 17, 2022.

To submit a comment in writing, please email tanyaf@cityofwestsacramento.org and write "Public Comment" in the subject line. In the body of the email, include the item number and/or title of the item as well as your comments. All comments received by 5:00 PM will be provided to the Planning Commission and posted on the City's website. The comments submitted shall become part of the record of the meeting.

6:00 p.m.

REGULAR AGENDA

1. Public Hearing Regarding Proposed Municipal Code Changes Pertaining to Retail Cannabis Sales and Microbusinesses (Tilley)

In a public hearing the Planning Commission will consider Resolution 22-4PC, which would recommend that the City Council approve Ordinance 23-1. This Ordinance would amend Titles 5 and 17 of the West Sacramento Municipal Code to effectuate retail cannabis sales and microbusinesses in various commercial areas of the city. Retail cannabis businesses (storefront and non-storefront) would require discretionary approvals and an administrative cannabis license to be able to open. A hybrid selection process (merit/lottery) would be employed for storefront retail. The project is categorically exempt from further environmental review pursuant to Class 5. Section 15305 of the State CEQA Guidelines. APPLICANT: City of West Sacramento, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA 95691.

David Tilley

David W. Tilley, Secretary West Sacramento Planning Commission

If you disagree with the decision of the Planning Commission, you have a right of appeal. Only persons who participated in the review process by submitting written testimony or oral testimony at the public hearing, may appeal. Appeals are limited to those issues raised at the Planning Commission meeting. If you challenge any of the above items in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City of West Sacramento at, or prior to, the public hearing.

PG&E Offers Customers 1,500 Energy-Saving Trees

PG&E News Release

YOLO COUNTY, CA (MPG) -Starting Monday, October 24, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) is providing 1,500 free trees for eligible customers across its service territory, including customers in all of Yolo County, through the Energy-Saving Trees program. The trees will be delivered directly to the customer's address.

Arbor Day Foundation and PG&E are partnering to locate and provide available native California trees and distribute them, as well as offering knowledge of where best to plant them. Customers in eligible areas can sign up and reserve a tree at www.arborday.org/ pge. There, you can insert your address to learn about the most beneficial location to plant the tree. PG&E's "Right Tree, Right Place" resources provide guidelines to anyone planting any tree to ensure they do not interfere with overhead or underground electric or gas lines.

"There are many long-term benefits to planting trees in our communities, where we all live and work; including reducing your electric bill, sustaining our planet by providing cleaner air, reducing carbon emissions, and improving mental health," said Michael Seitz, Vice President of PG&E Vegetation Management. "An online mapping tool calculates and shares the tree's contributions to those annual energy savings, reduced carbon emissions and cleaner air, based on the most strategic location."

Each household can reserve up to one tree through the website until all 1,500 trees are reserved. Customers can select one type of several tree choices, and it will be delivered directly to the customer's address via mail at an ideal time for planting.

These are the type of trees choices available: Japanese Lilac, Kousa Dogwood, Little Leaf Linden, or Service Berry.

"This program enables utility providers, like PG&E, an opportunity to become directly involved with their communities," said Kristen Bousquet, program manager at the Arbor Day Foundation. "This unique program benefits utility providers, their customers, and the communities they serve by finding natural ways to conserve energy. The right trees in the right place provide shade to communities, reducing the urban heat island effect which could lead to a household's reduction in energy use by up to thirty percent."

To see how the program works, watch this 2-minute video here. For more information on the online mapping tool's environmental calculations, visit https://energysavingtrees. arborday.org/#About

Founded in 1972, the Arbor Day Foundation has grown to become the largest nonprofit membership organization dedicated to planting trees, with more than one million members, supporters and valued partners. Since 1972, almost 500 million Arbor Day Foundation trees have been planted in neighborhoods, communities, cities and forests throughout the world. Our vision is to lead toward a world where trees are used to solve issues critical to survival.

Veterans and Suicide

Commentary by Scott Knight

Veterans Day, November 11th, is an important day for every American and is intended to honor America's veterans for their patriotism, love for their country, and willingness to serve and sacrifice for the common good. This day of remembrance celebrates the service of all U.S. military veterans. Communities across the country plan events to honor those who have served and are currently serving. As we celebrate and recognize these brave men and women, we should also consider the struggles that they go through with men-

Suicide is a national problem in the U.S. and a major concern for active-duty service members and military veterans. Members of the military may experience a variety of difficult and traumatic events including combat, natural disasters, and physical assault. According to the 2022 National Veteran Suicide Prevention Annual Report, there were 6,146 Veteran suicide deaths in 2020. That is 31.7 deaths per 100,000. During that year, suicide was the second leading cause of death among Veterans under age 45. The suicide rate for Veterans was 57.3% greater than for non-Veteran U.S. adults.

Veterans can come home from service carrying a weight they did not go in with. Without the right help, that weight can seem like too much, leading some Veterans to consider, or carry out, suicide. Some of the warning signs that Veterans exhibit include feelings of hopelessness, acting agitated, struggling with anxiety, insomnia, outburst of anger or rage, an increase in substance use or abuse, and isolating themselves from the people close to them. Other factors related to the higher risk of suicide among Veterans are related to undiagnosed or untreated conditions, such as PTSD or mood disorders, which can increase a person's overall risk of suicide.

The VA offers a wide range of treatment programs for Veterans and their families. Also, "Vets for Warriors" is a peer support network with Veterans answering the phone for those in need. The number is 1-855-838-8255. Veterans may also use the Veterans Crisis Line Number where there is 24/7 crisis support. Dial 988, then press 1.

The Jason Foundation is another valuable resource for those struggling with suicidal ideation. Many times, a Veteran will exhibit clear warning signs prior to an attempt. By knowing the warning signs, and knowing how to help, you could save a life. Visit The Jason Foundation's website to learn more about suicide, the warning signs, and how you can help make a difference. You can find the website at www.jasonfoundation.com.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: SANJAR SALOUR AKA SANJAR SALOOR

CASE NO. PR2022-0218 To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of SANJAR SALOUR AKA SANJAR SALOOR.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by SHADI SHAM-SAVARI in the Superior Court of California, County of YOLO.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that SHADI SHAMSA-VARI be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 11/23/22 at 9:00AM in Dept. 10 located at 1000 MAIN STREET, WOODLAND, CA 95695

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your obiections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner

property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 758-8052 or visit this Internet Web site WWW. HOMESEARCH.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 103773-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder." you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp. com, using the file number assigned to this case 103773-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. # California DAs to CDCR: Explain Early Release of Violent Criminals

CDAA News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The California District Attorneys Association (CDAA) wants the prison system (CDCR) to explain why it is releasing violent prisoners who haven't earned sufficient rehabilitation credits early from prison. In some cases, they have re-offended and committed even more serious crimes

To qualify for release, prisoners are supposed to earn credits for good behavior under Prop 57, but that often does not appear to be the case. In a series of reports, Julie Watts of CBS News revealed the process by which CDCR is releasing prisoners is hidden from the public, arbitrary, and dangerous.

"They're doing it in secret because they don't want to be called out," El Dorado County District Attorney Vern Pierson told CBS.

"The public has a right to know what these people are doing to rehabilitate themselves," said Yolo County District Attorney Jeff Reisig.

Watts reported that Sacramento mass shooting suspect Smiley Martin had earlier been denied parole after a fight with a fellow inmate and other criminal activity while behind bars. Yet because his domestic violence conviction did not qualify as a violent crime, the CDCR deemed him qualified for early release. A year after he was denied parole, police said Smiley was caught on camera opening fire into a crowd of gang rivals near the state capitol.

"CDAA calls upon CDCR officials to immediately explain the system for releasing violent criminals – especially those who have not fully engaged in rehabilitation programs." said Greg Totten, CDAA Chief Executive Officer. "It needs to stop now. This is not reform. This is an anti-transparent experiment that is gambling with public safety."

SB 1391, a separate piece of legislation related to Prop 57, also frees prisoners, specifically those who were juveniles convicted of crimes as adults.

One possible beneficiary is convicted murderer Daniel Marsh who said he got "an exhilarating feeling" after he stabbed an elderly Davis couple 120 times to death. He may now be eligible for early release, according to the Davis Enterprise.

Marsh was just days shy of his 16th birthday at the time of the double homicide. He was sentenced to 52 years to life in prison, but he could get out after only serving 10 years. The case is being heard by the Third District Court of Appeal in Sacramento.

The California District Attorneys Association is a statewide training and advocacy organization representing elected district attorneys, city attorneys with criminal divisions, and more than 3,500 prosecutives.

California's Chronic Housing Shortage Explained

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

At its best, journalism sheds light on important issues in hopes that a more informed public will press officialdom to confront and resolve them.

California's chronic shortage of housing is one such issue and two very recent articles, one in the Los Angeles Times and the other in the New York Times, delve into how the crisis developed and why dealing with it is extraordinarily difficult.

The Los Angeles Times details its city's history of encouraging sprawling single-family neighborhoods while packing the poor into confined neighborhoods, where deadly diseases such as COVID-19 run rampant.

It begins with the death of Leonardo Miranda, "who rented a shed and shared the kitchen, bathroom and dining room in the main house."

After COVID-19 attacked Miranda, "it spread to a man who slept on three red cushions in the laundry room. Then to a grandfather and grandson who wedged two mattresses into one room. By the time COVID-19 was finished with the three-bedroom home, shared by eight, Miranda and the grandfather were dead."

The article continued, "More homes are overcrowded in Los Angeles than in any other large U.S. county, a Times analysis of census data found — a situation that has endured for three decades, with no sign of abating.

"In places like the Pico-Union neighborhood, where Miranda lived, generations of families squeeze into tiny apartments. Construction workers, seamstresses and dishwashers live in close quarters. Day laborers bunk with half a dozen or more strangers in living spaces intended for one or two people.

"Within these confines, COVID-19 advanced without mercy: orphaning children, killing breadwinners and shattering families."

One of the article's most poignant passages describes how the city's "leaders bulldozed Mexican neighborhoods in Chavez Ravine, forcing out thousands with the promise of new, low-cost, public housing to meet the needs of a city exploding in population after World War II. Then real estate interests exploited the communist paranoia of the Red Scare to defeat the housing projects, and instead, the city gave the land to the Dodgers for a stadium to entice the team's move from Brooklyn."

By happenstance, the New York Times article by Ezra Klein picks up where the Los Angeles Times' article ends. Klein lays out in detail why current state and local government policies make it so infuriatingly difficult to build the low-income housing that would relieve deadly overcrowding and the homelessness it spawns.

In 2016, Klein notes, Los Angeles voters approved a $1.2 billion ballot measure to build 10,000 new apartments for the homeless and Mayor Eric Garcetti boasted, "The voters of Los Angeles have radically reshaped our future, giving us a mandate to end street homelessness over the next decade."

However, "Six years later, neither the mandate nor the money has proved to be nearly enough. In 2016, Los Angeles had about 28,000 homeless residents, of whom around 21,000 were unsheltered (that is, living on the street). The current count is closer to 42,000 homeless residents, with 28,000 unsheltered."

The 2016 ballot measure produced just 3,357 units "and the most recent audit found the average cost was $596,846 for units under construction — more than the median sale price for a home in Denver. Some units under construction have cost more than $700,000 to build."

Klein details the impediments to building cost-effective housing and concludes, "This is the paradox of housing development in Los Angeles and so many other cities. The politics of the affordable housing crisis are terrible. The politics of what you'd need to do to solve it are even worse."

Both articles should be mandatory reading in the Capitol.

TICKET TO PARADISE' THRIVES ON CHEMISTRY AND SCENIC BEAUTY

A Film and TV Review by Tim Riley

"TICKET TO PARADISE" RATED PG-13

A date night movie sounds like a great idea for a couple to enjoy an evening's entertainment, and the romantic comedy of "Ticket to Paradise" starring George Clooney and Julia Roberts as exes on a mission to thwart their daughter's matrimony is an interesting premise.

In recent years, romantic comedies from a major studio have become increasingly scarce. Dating as far back as the 1930s with the then-called "screwball comedy," the genre continued to evolve and flourish through the start of the century.

It's not like romantic comedies have disappeared altogether, considering how Netflix showcases more films than one can humanly consume or that the genre has veered away from the conventional Film director Ol Parker had a feeling that our global collective experience over the last couple of years during the pandemic had left audiences yearning for the rebirth of romantic comedy.

In the press notes for "Ticket to Paradise," Parker realized that "romantic comedies bring a large audience together to collectively laugh with each other, and after a few tough years, that seemed like a beautiful thing to bring to the big screen."

Clooney and Roberts have been a screen couple before as Danny and Tess Ocean in "Ocean's Eleven" and "Ocean's Twelve," and though those films are not romantic, the stars did trade barbs and insults which look like practice for their reunion here.

With their cinematic history, Clooney and Roberts were obvious choices as the long-divorced couple of David and Georgia who despise each other because this premise is only going to work when the actors have the chemistry required to eventually break down the barrier of bitterness.

David and Georgia were married for only five years, but he says it felt more like nineteen, and the split was hardly amicable. They only come together in a most uncomfortable way to attend their daughter Lily's graduation.

Fresh out of law school with a job waiting for her at a prestigious law firm, Lily (Kaitlyn Dever) takes off on a vacation to scenic Bali with her friend and college roommate Wren (Billie Lourd) as a last thrill before the daily grind of work.

Lily's professional plans get derailed when she falls for handsome seaweed farmer Gede (Maxime Bouttier), and after a rather brief courtship becomes engaged with apparent little thought to her future.

News of the impending nuptials doesn't sit well with David and Georgia, who then embark on a shared clandestine mission to show up as supportive parents with a hidden agenda of undermining the wedding while struggling to conceal their mutual

A romantic comedy always has plot contrivances that are usually easy to spot. What's not so readily discerned is figuring out the history of a couple that would rather endure root canal or some other unpleasantry than be in the same room

We have to accept it on faith that Georgia, an art gallery owner, and David, an architect, are so filled with acrimony and blame that they will bicker like schoolkids during the graduation ceremony

The backbiting continues for Georgia and David when they inadvertently become seatmates on the long flight and end up trading barbs that provide some of the humor one was hoping for from two charismatic characters.

An interesting twist to the international flight is the coincidence of Georgia's younger boyfriend Paul (Lucas Bravo), a commercial airline pilot, just happening to be on duty. You can expect he will show up again at an unexpected moment. An alcohol-fueled evening of overly exuberant dancing and beer pong competition by the parents leads to the inevitable waking up the next day to a situation that should surprise no one.

Filming the beautiful tropical lifestyle of Bali also captures and respects the Balinese people and culture, with Gede's father (Agung Pindha) displaying a sense of humor that rivals that of the most practiced professional actor.

The script for "Ticket to Paradise" may be wafer-thin only because so much is predictable, and despite any drawbacks of serviceable tropes, the film benefits from the sunny, vibrant Indonesian location filled with glistening beaches and gorgeous sunsets.

More than the exquisite scenery of Bali is desired to turn this romantic vehicle into a winning film, unless you think Clooney and Roberts are all the backdrop necessary.

Punching a "Ticket to Paradise" is an overall enjoyable experience, if not completely memorable. This is a one-off romantic comedy that's good enough in the moment but not likely worthy of a return engagement.

For now, "Ticket to Paradise" is a theatrical release but since this film is a Universal picture it's set for release on Peacock in early December.

The Science, The History and a new James Patterson Read

Lights, Camera, Witchcraft: A Critical History of Witches in American Film and Television

by Heather Greene From the late 1800s to today, witches have taken a commanding presence in film, but why are they so profoundly featured, feared, and adored? Witches have historically made their presence known in the film, whether through retelling old stories, fairytales, fantasy, witch trials, or even the occult. Lights, Camera, Witchcraft: A Critical History of Witchcraft in American Film and Television will take readers on a journey throughout the decades exploring how witches in film have created stereotypes while also single-handedly sparking debates, religion, critical theory, gender studies, and a deeper look at spirituality.

Through iconic films such as The Wizard of Oz, The Addams Family, The Witches of Eastwick, and The Craft, and even hit TV shows such as Bewitched, Charmed, and Sabrina the Teenage Witch, almost every generation has had its own iconic witch. As films evolve and adapt to the times, these films are seen crossing over into a new narrative of teen witches, children's shows, and even a new level of horror.

Heavily researched and informative, this book is a go-to guide that will quickly become one to reference for any study, whether personal or academic. Heather Greene elevates the history of witchcraft, lending every reader a new insight into the film industry's influence on society and the evolution of how witches are seen and viewed.

Nightmare Fuel; The Science of Horror Films

by Nina Nesseth "Do you like scary movies?" This famous movie line has ricocheted through the decades, delivering an iconic movie reference while asking the all-important question. Nina Nesseth delves deep inside the science and the mind, answering what makes horror movies invoke unimaginable fear in their viewers, only to have them returning for more.

Nesseth tears apart the fabric of our minds, analyzing jump scares, movie monsters, slashers, gore, and even audio effects, explaining the science, the myth, the art, and the fascination. Whether you are a horror movie fan, a dabbler, or just curious about the science of mind. Nightmare Fuel lends readers the perfectly created science behind the body, the mind, and the reason viewers come back for more. With discussions, interviews, scare spotlights, and a survival guide, this book is the perfect companion and celebration of horror in

The Girl In the Castle by James Patterson and Emily Raymond

When Hannah Dory is found half-a naked screaming in the street, she is instantly whisked to Belman Memorial Psychiatric Hospital. No one believes that Hannah is really from 1347 and she must return in order to save her family. Caught between the present day and the knowledge that she needs to get back, Hannah needs one person to believe her, and the new intern might just be the answer. Every second matters as Hannah get pulled back and forth, and her connection to this world begins to fade.

In a high-stakes thriller, The Girl In The Castle, will have readers flying through the story trying to uncover the truth.

Hornets Thrill Homecoming Crowd in Win

Sac State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - For the second consecutive week, Sacramento State football left fans at Hornet Stadium on the edge of their seats before prevailing with a dramatic victory. On Saturday, Asher O'Hara spun over the goal line with 1:46 remaining and the defense got the stop it needed in the Hornets' 31-28 win over Idaho in front of 17,241 Homecoming fans.

The victory improved No. 2 Sacramento State to 8-0 overall and 5-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The No. 14 Vandals dropped to 5-3 overall and suffered their first conference loss (4-1).

After Idaho erased a 17-point deficit, Sacramento State got the ball back with just over six minutes to play, trailing 28-24. The Hornets turned to their ground game where quarterback Asher O'Hara and running backs Cameron Skattebo and Marcus Fulcher accounted for all 75 yards on the way to the game-winning touchdown. O'Hara had the first three runs during the drive to take the ball to the Vandal 45. Skattebo then had rushes of 5, 3 and 8 yards. O'Hara converted a 3rd-and-2 and after Fulcher rushed for 8 yards, O'Hara set up 1st-andgoal at the 8 with a 5-yard rush.

Skattebo received the carry on first down and was ankle tackled at the 2-yard line. The team turned back to the sophomore on second down, but he was met at the line of scrimmage. After Idaho used its final timeout, O'Hara kept it himself with a 360-degree spinning leap into the end zone for his 14th rushing touchdown of the game.

Idaho had 1:48 remaining with a chance to tie the contest with a field goal or win with a touchdown. The Vandals picked up 18 yards on first down with a pass from Gevani McCoy to Jermaine

Jackson. Sacramento State stuffed a run for a 1-yard loss on the ensuing play and the second and third down passes landed incomplete. Facing 4th-and-11, McCoy was strip sacked by Armon Bailey and the ball was recovered by Ayodele Adeoye to secure the win.

Sacramento State finished the game with 299 rushing yards against an Idaho defense which had allowed only 78 rushing yards per game against FCS teams this season. Skattebo tallied 137 on 17 carries (7.9 ypc) to earn his fourth-straight 100yard game and O'Hara added 129 yards. The team's passing game had its lowest output of the year, finishing 8-of-19 for 92 yards and two touchdowns with two interceptions.

Sacramento State jumped out to a quick lead, taking the opening drive and marching 80 yards for a touchdown. The points came on a 31-yard strike from Jake Dunniway to Chris Miller for his first receiving score of the year. Those points were the only ones in the first quarter and the Hornets added to their advantage with a 26-yard field goal from Kyle Sentkowski early in the second period.

Idaho got on the board with a 16-yard rush from Elisha Cummings to cut the deficit to 10-7 but Sacramento State answered with a 13-play, 75-yard drive with 1:36 left in the half to take a 17-7 lead into halftime after a 7-yard run from Fulcher.

The Hornets tacked on seven points midway through the third quarter when O'Hara scrambled and then threaded an 8-yard pass to Pierre Williams in the back of the end zone.

Idaho quickly erased the 17-point deficit with three unanswered touchdown passes all of which were caught by Havden Hatten. The first came with 2:54 left in the third quarter on an 11-yard pass from McCoy. The Sacramento State defense recorded a huge third-down sack on the last play of the third quarter, but the offense turned it over on its first play of the fourth auarter.

The Vandals methodically drove 67 yards on 12 plays with Hatten catching a 4-yard pass in the middle of the end zone. Sacramento State started its next drive with a pass over the middle of the field that was juggled by the receiver and intercepted by Idaho. The team then needed just four plays to travel 45 yards and take the lead with an over-the shoulder pass from McCoy to Hatten.

McCoy completed 18-of-33 passes for 207 yards and three scores with Hatten leading all players with seven receptions for 113 yards and three scores. The Vandals used a balanced run game which pounded out 144 yards led by Anthony Woods and Cummings who each had Bailey matched his career high with nine tackles, including a career best three sacks. He became the first Hornet to have three sacks in a game since George Obinna had three at Idaho in 2017.

Sacramento State will next play at Weber State on Saturday, Nov. 5, at 12 p.m. PT. The Wildcats defeated Montana on Saturday and are now 7-1 overall and 4-1 in league games. ★
