

Testing Site in West Sacramento Extended to June 27th

Recently, we have received many inquiries from the community about our police department and whether our policies are consistent with recommendations and advocacy being put forth by police reform initiatives. We have re-examined and will continue to evaluate our policies and approaches

We have created this web page to provide information related to these topics with openness and transparency, and to facilitate dialogue with the West Sacramento community we so proudly serve. On this site you will find information about our department relative to police reform initiatives, use of force statistics, demographics, and training. Links to relevant

Initially slated to end June 20, the Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19) testing site in West Sacramento, run by OptumServe in conjunction with the State of California, will be extended an additional week to June 27 to allow for additional residents to be tested in Yolo County.

The site recently moved to West Sacramento on June 2 after concluding four weeks of testing in Woodland from May 5 – 30. Yolo County was selected as one of 80 community testing sites for COVID-19 across the state focused on underserved communities. To date, more than 2,400 tests have been taken in Yolo County through OptumServe.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear folks with heart and compassion,

Remember three years ago when “Black Lives Matter” was a radical chant that was “poorly named and divisive” and now it is on your Netflix home screen and your mayor is saying it in speeches?

Remember when all you wanted was “Don’t ask, don’t tell” and thanks to tireless work we have marriage equality?

Don’t squander this moment. The movement to defund is morally just. The abolitionists are right. Don’t be the cringey “but what about” moderate who would settle for “nicer masters” and thinks civil rights is “too much too fast” and queer folks should “just keep that to themselves.” To use Lamar J. Pringle’s example: Don’t be the folks in 1852 trying to balance new slave states and free states. You never look good in the history books. In fact, you’ve never been right in American history.

Besides, if enough of us say “defund,” you moderates will get the reforms you’re already willing to settle for. After all, none of you would go into a car dealership asking for the price you want. You’d anchor low to get there. It is called strategy.

Now is not the time to be the white moderate of yesteryear --or the brown faces of white moderation. Stop complaining that the “messaging is bad.” It really isn’t. Now mainstream media is covering defunding the police, actual policy change is happening with police in schools and police budgets, and we have traction in part because of the financial impact of COVID on municipal budgets.

Now is the time to ask for more, not less. Say it with your chest! Don’t fumble the pass.

But whatever you do, don’t condescend the people who gave you this platform by doing decades of research and advocacy ground work. The words you’re looking for are: Thank you!

Sincerely, Flojaune Cofer

This ‘n’ That

ple ahead of him, it took about 15 minutes.

The state’s requiring widespread testing if counties want a ‘variance’ (exemption) to the California Stay Home order. The testing’s goal: what percentage of the total tests are positive. Is the virus in Yolo waning, holding steady – or is it spiking, as it is across the river. There, health officials blame family gatherings.

The only thing you have to do to qualify for West Sac’s free test is make an appointment (assuming it’s still being offered by the time this publishes. Check the city’s website: www.city-ofwestsacramento.org).

Frankly, I’m not too excited about waiting in line with someone who may not yet have symptoms but can give me the virus just by talking. Even WITH a face covering and standing six feet away, Covid-infected droplets still escape. (The World Health Organization says 10 feet apart is safer.)

I’ll tell you what, though: You’re seeing mostly covered faces at West Sac’s Walmart these days. Want to enter? Face coverings are required, even on kids 2 years old and older.

Walmart is one of my three weekly ‘outings’. The other two: Petco and Raley’s. Wild West, I’m very sad to report, has gone out of business. Gus the Mar-caw has been adopted. (If the employee who wants buy the store can get a loan, Gus will again be Wild West’s mascot.)

In any case, when I do go out, I’m super careful, plus constantly wash my hands thoroughly with soap and water. A friend, older and equally conscientious, bemoaned: “My hands are so dry!” I said, “I know! I’m just glad I don’t pay for water!” (It’s included in my rent, so, I suppose I do, but I don’t notice.)

She said she misses hugging people. I do, too. And I miss delivering for Meals On Wheels. How are those elderly/disabled people doing? I miss church and choir practice.

But, the pets are happy to have me home so much, and I have more time to peruse social media. I loved a June 8 post on Nextdoor. The “Old West Sac” poster did a slide show of wild turkey babies – about a dozen of them – with their mother. After stopping in a couple yards, they were walking down the sidewalk near 16th and Alabama. She’d posted to caution drivers in the area to watch out for them. In a mostly nice straight line, they’d decided to cross the street.

From my own experience, I have to say that turkeys aren’t the smartest. I had four as pets when I had my farm: Two domestic white ones I bid on at a farm auction, and two wild. I bought those two as chicks at the grain elevator.

I named the white turkeys Gobble 1 and Gobble 2; the wild ones, Dinner 1 and Dinner 2 (a joke). I’d tell them: “Don’t worry, I don’t mean it.” Turkeys tend to worry.

One fall, after harvest, 32 wild turkeys showed up in the corn field near the barn. A lot of gobbling ensued. They gobbled at the Dinners. the Dinners gobbled back. Silly things, the turkeys.

Sweet, though. I’m serious. They really are. They liked it when I stroked their wattles. By the time I sold the farm to move to California, I had just one turkey left. I rehomed Dinner 1 and the ‘girls’ (my eight chickens) to a farm family who planned to watch them pecking around the barnyard. I gave all involved a chance to settle in, then called to check on them.

All was well, they said, adding, “The turkey moped for three days, but he’s OK now.” As you might imagine, seeing photos of those West Sac wild turkeys reminded me of the Dinners. A couple factoids: Did you know the wild turkey almost was our national symbol, not the Bald Eagle? And that a gang of turkeys is called a ‘rafter’ (kind of like a gang of geese is called a gaggle). The things you learn, doing research for a column.

Also exciting: The HUGE police presence – Yolo County Sheriff and West Sac PD – Sunday June 7 not a block from my apartment complex. WSPD’s chopper was up; the K9 unit was represented; a neighborhood man told me two officers on the ground were searching bushes behind his house. Driving Kegle toward Lighthouse, I saw streets blocked off by police vehicles. LOTS of police vehicles.

CBS 13 news reported that maybe an hour? earlier, as demonstrators were, I think, marching peacefully along Sac Ave. near Jefferson (Jefferson turns into Kegle); shots were being fired into a house near Kegle and Anna. Three shooters. Police got two of them. One took off running. With two in custody, police were confident they’d track down the third who escaped on foot, the 13’s reporter said. Reportedly, no one in the house was injured. As of now, I’ve not heard what that was all about or whether there was any connection to initial protests. Before the curfews, there was vandalism here. River Walk was damaged. Tower Bridge, graffitied. Target closed early, fearing violence. Some downtown damage, as I recall.

So, I’ll tell you this. I am grateful for all police officers who put their lives at risk to protect the rest of us. I hope they know how much they’re valued by the law abiding. As I was unloading groceries, that chopper was overhead – its sweeps getting wider, and growing closer. I didn’t know then who they were looking for or what had happened, but with that level of police activity, I knew whatever it was was serious. I went inside, locked my door and stayed there.

“Unfund police departments” – really? I don’t think so. And if you know anything about that shooting, our police department would like to hear from you.

Community Read for Yolo County

Area residents are invited to join a free Community Read and July 15 online Zoom discussion of the book Unrigged: How Americans Are Battling Back to Save Democracy, by journalist Dave Daley.

“This book tells stories of success using the tools we put into practice right here in Yolo County,” said Claire Black Slotton, coordinator of the event, a joint effort by Indivisible Yolo and Sister District CA-3 to include area residents in important conversations. “These are amazing and inspiring stories from across the country of how people like us are taking action for democracy by recruiting their neighbors to bring about the change they want to see.”

Daley is a national expert on partisan gerrymandering whose reporting on redistricting and gerrymandering has appeared in the New Yorker, the Atlantic, the Washington Post and other national media. The former editor of Salon.com, Daley is a senior fellow at FairVote, a nonpartisan champion of election reforms. He is the author of the best-seller, *Ratf*ked: Why Your Vote Doesn't Count*.

Stephanie L. Mudge, UC Davis associate professor of sociology and author of Leftism Reinvented: Western Parties from Socialism to NeoLiberalism, will be a guest speaker for the online discussion, according to Black Slotton.

To register for the free event, please go to bit.ly/unrigged.

For a full calendar of Indivisible Yolo and Sister District CA-3 events and activities, or for further information about the work of the organizations, please visit indivisibleyolo.org or sisterdistrictca3.org.

requirement is unreasonable. As of June 10, 2020, the department has suspended the use of carotid holds to allow for further evaluation of this policy and in consideration of pending State legislation to disallow their use.

View Policy 300.3.5: Carotid Control Hold

Require de-escalation – De-escalation is interwoven into the department’s operations and is included in the department’s Use of Force policy. De-escalation techniques are also included in various continued professional training topics. California law (SB 230) requires that “officers utilize de-escalation techniques, crisis intervention tactics, and other alternatives to force when feasible.” SB 230 also mandates each policy require officers to conduct all duties in a manner that is fair and unbiased. Additionally, SB 230 requires all officers be trained in alternatives to deadly force and de-escalation techniques. The West Sacramento Police Department adheres to these requirements.

View Policy 300.1: Use of Force and Policy 300.3.3: De-Escalation

Require warning before shooting – California law (AB 392) states: “where feasible, a peace officer shall, prior to the use of force, make reasonable efforts to identify themselves as a peace officer and to warn that deadly force may be used, unless the officer has objectively reasonable grounds to believe the person is aware of those facts.” This requirement is also consistent with federal case law. The West Sacramento Police Department adheres to these requirements.

Exhaust all other means before shooting – Our policy requires officers to evaluate the use of other reasonably available resources and techniques when determining whether to use deadly force, and deadly force is only used when there is an imminent threat of death or serious injury to the officer or another person.

Duty to intervene and stop excessive force by other officers – Our policy mandates a duty to intercede if any officer observes another officer using force that is unreasonable. California law (SB 230) also sets forth a “requirement that an officer intercede when present and observing another officer using force that is clearly beyond that which is necessary, as determined by an objectively reasonable officer under the circumstances.” This provision is consistent with federal law as well.

Ban shooting at moving vehicles – While our policy does not ban shooting at moving vehicles, it is only allowed when the driver poses a deadly threat. Outright prohibitions in all circumstances does not account for situations where the driver of a vehicle may be threatening death or great bodily injury to others. California law (SB 230) requires “Comprehensive and specific guidelines for the application of deadly force,” which should include guidance on the limited situations that would warrant shooting at moving vehicles. Our policy includes this guidance.

Require use-of-force continuum – Law enforcement agencies vary whether they incorporate a use-of-force continuum. The West Sacramento Police Department has not formally adopted a use-of-force continuum, but our policies require officers to use only the amount of force that reasonably appears necessary given the facts and totality of the circumstances. AB 392 and SB 230, signed into law in 2019, substantially changed California law to require that police officers may use deadly force “only when necessary in defense of human life.”

Require comprehensive reporting each time an officer uses forces or threatens to do so – All uses of force are documented and reviewed. The department provides data regarding all officer-involved shootings and incidents involving use of force resulting in serious bodily injury to the California Department of Justice. The department recognizes and respects the value of all human life and dignity without prejudice to anyone. Vesting officers with the authority to use reasonable force and to protect the public welfare requires monitoring, evaluation, and a careful balancing of all interests.

Use of Force Statistics:

In 2019, the West Sacramento Police Department responded to a total of 64,920 calls for service. Only 31 of those calls (0.05% of total calls) resulted in a use of force by responding officers. No use of force instances resulted in major injuries or fatalities.

Demographics:

Our aim is to have a department that is diverse and reflective of those who call West Sacramento home. While we work to achieve that goal in our ongoing recruiting efforts, we are also working to develop interest in law enforcement as a career among the youth in our community.

According to the most recent data, the following is a breakdown of ethnicity for West Sacramento’s population and for the West Sacramento Police Department.

West Sacramento population demographics (According to the 2016 American Community Survey):
White: 47%

Hispanic or Latino (of any race): 31%
Asian: 11%
Two or More Races: 6%
Black or African American: 4%
Native Hawaiian & Other Pacific Islander: 1%

Following his release on $0 bail, Nelson was again arrested and cited on May 9, 2020 for misdemeanor burglary and on May 19, 2020 for petty theft. Misdemeanor charges have been filed alleging misdemeanor burglary and petty theft. Nelson was arrested and again released on May 30, 2020, for obstructing a business. A complaint has been filed alleging a misdemeanor violation of obstructing a business and trespass. At the time Nelson was arrested for these crimes, he was on Mandatory Supervision following a vandalism conviction which resulted in him being sentenced to County Prison on December 9, 2019. As a result of these recent arrests, the Yolo County Probation Department filed a petition to revoke his Mandatory Supervision on May 28, 2020.

Thirty-year-old Woodland man, Clifford Garrison, was arrested on May 22, 2020, for negligent discharge of a firearm and was released on $0 bail. He was subsequently arrested by the Woodland Police Department on May 31, 2020, for felony evading a peace officer with reckless disregard and driving under the influence. He was released again on $0 bail. The Yolo County District Attorney’s Office filed two complaints. The first alleging the negligent discharge of a firearm; the second alleges felony evading with reckless disregard and driving under the influence. Due to the court setting dates out 4-5 months out, Garrison’s arraignment is set on November 3, 2020.

West Sacramento Residents Sought for Community Review Board

(Woodland, CA) - The Yolo County Probation Department is seeking community members to serve on a Community Review Board in West Sacramento.

The goal of Community Review Board is to divert low-level offenders, currently under supervision but in violation of their probation terms and conditions, from further incarceration by providing them an array of community-based services with the ultimate objective of preventing repeat offenses. The Probation Department is recruiting members dedicated to community reinvestment and prevention to serve on a Community Review Board in West Sacramento. The time commitment to serve is one evening a month.

“A positive benefit for our clients and our communities is realized when community-based resources are provided to low-risk level probationers,” said Yolo County Chief Probation Officer Dan Fruchtenicht. “I encourage West Sacramento residents interested in creating a second-chance opportunity to consider serving on a Community Review Board.”

Those interested in serving on the Community Review Board should visit: www.yolocounty.org/law-justice/probation/community-review-boards and complete an application. For more information, e-mail: Craig.Seelig@yolocounty.org.

Graduation

a postsecondary certificate or degree is reinforcing the notion that they’ll be going to college throughout their K-12 years,” said Mayor Cabaldon. “Automatic acceptance is one more way to remove any doubt from their minds that going to college is an attainable goal, and this additional scholarship will emphasize that they have the support of their community to reach the promise of postsecondary education. “Students will begin receiving emails today confirming that they have been accepted into SCC. Hard copy letters will arrive over the summer as students make their plans for the fall semester.

“We are delighted to be able to offer the graduating class of 2020 this additional benefit and are excited about their promising future,” said WUSD Superintendent Linda Luna. “We know that this can be a daunting time in a young adult’s life, so we hope these measures make it a little easier for our students to achieve their goals.”

allows for counties to consolidate voting locations, requiring one voting location per 10,000 registered voters. Currently, Yolo County has 119,289 registered voters, which equates to approximately 12 locations. Additionally, counties are required to provide three days of in-person early voting starting the Saturday before Election Day and ballot drop-box locations must be available between October 6 and November 3.

“My office continues to work with leadership groups within the county and local jurisdictions to prepare for the upcoming election. We plan to secure optimal in-person voting locations and ample ballot drop-off locations to make returning Vote by Mail ballots as effortless as possible. Similar to the March 2020 Primary Election, return postage will be paid, so no stamp will be required to mail back your Vote by Mail ballot,” says Salinas.

We encourage Yolo County residents to connect with Yolo County ACE – Assessor/Clerk-Recorder/Elections on Facebook: @YoloACE, Instagram: @YoloCoACE, and Twitter: @YoloCoACE to receive the most up to date information about the upcoming election and live election night results.

Yolo Land Trust Announces a Virtual Celebration for the 2020 A Day in the Country

Yolo Land Trust announces its 2020 A Day in the Country will be held virtually on September 13, 2020. The original event was to be held at River Garden Farms.

Lynnel Pollock, President of the Board of Directors, stated, "Given the uncertainty of hosting a large gathering in early September, we have decided to make this year's A Day in the Country a virtual event and fundraiser. We will miss celebrating the bounty of our farmland with our friends and family in the country, and look forward to another joyous in-person gathering in 2021."

"While it will look a little different this year, we are excited for our 2020 A Day in the Country," said Michele Clark, Executive Director. "Please save the date

- Sunday, September 13, 2020 - and join us virtually as we celebrate our local farms, ranches, restaurants, wineries, breweries and sponsors who believe farmland is essential to our wellbeing and shared way of life."

Event details will be posted on the Yolo Land Trust website, theyololandtrust.org/, and social media channels, including Facebook and Instagram, in the coming weeks.

Training Topics:

The department invests heavily in training and maintains a standard well above the minimum California Peace Officer Standard and Training (POST) requirements and in alignment with CALEA Accreditation Standards. View information about our department's CALEA Accreditation.

Our officers train consistently on topics such as the appropriate use of tools and tactics, legal updates, and a variety of other skills, including anti-bias training, de-escalation efforts, and more. Our Training Committee continuously evaluates training procedures to ensure that they remain in line with national best practices. De-escalation is one of our core philosophies and has been incorporated into multiple training topics.

Recently, the State of California has required law enforcement to post their policy, procedures, and training on their websites. As part of our Advanced Law Enforcement Accreditation with CALEA and our commitment to transparency, our Policy Manual has been posted publicly on our website since 2017. The department has already completed the California legislative mandate related to training that further defines the use of deadly force only needed to defend against an imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury to officers or bystanders. This legislation, called the California Act to Save Lives, is setting a standard for law enforcement across the nation. View information about the California Act to Save Lives.
