

Project Room Key provides shelter for our local homeless population

BY MICHELE TOWNSEND

Several months ago the West Sacramento News Ledger brought you a story about what our city and county were doing for our local homeless population. We reported to you that a task force had been formed to attend to the unique needs that our local homeless community may have. This task force was comprised of a combination of members of the West Sacramento Police Department, and Health and Human Services. At that time, we reported that many services were available, including housing.

When the COVID-19 pandemic hit West Sacramento, Mayor Christopher Cabaldon secured a portion of hotel rooms for the homeless population to help prevent a spread of the virus and ensure a shelter in place for those individuals.

With the leadership of City Councilwoman Martha Guerrero, there was a big push to use those rooms for the homeless community's safety. When the "Shelter in Place" started, Mercy Coalition's Winter Warming Shelter was shut down and DST (Downtown Street Team) was suspended. That put many homeless back onto the streets, forcing many to shelter without a place.

Governor Gavin Newsom visited West Sacramento for the launching of Project

Room Key on Friday, April 3, securing rooms in hotels and motels within certain counties that have a significant homeless population and are also experiencing high concentrations of COVID-19. Currently, out of the 28 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Yolo County, 14 of them are in West Sacramento, including the one death. So far over 60 rooms have been secured for Project Room Key. There are currently 49 individuals that have been housed at various properties around West Sacramento.

Yolobus Implements Rear-Door Only Boarding and No Fare Collections

In response to the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) shelter-in-place order Yolobus continues to make adjustments to help the community and keep Yolobus operators safe. In an effort to comply with social distancing recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, beginning on April 2 until further notice, Yolobus is implementing rear-door boarding and exiting for its fixed-route services for all passengers able to board independently. Only ADA passengers and riders needing assistance will be able to board through the front doors. Due to the fare-box location, all rides will be complimentary at this time. Customers are strongly encouraged to stay or sit 6-feet from other passengers upon boarding. Yolobus salutes its dedicated drivers, no matter the time, day, or conditions, Yolobus drivers are out on the roads daily, making sure customers get where they need to go. Rear-door boarding helps bus operators to maintain social distancing.

In addition to its rider services, during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, Yolobus is actively involved in the delivery of food boxes to over 100 homeless individuals temporarily housed in motels in Woodland, Davis, and West Sacramento under the shelter-in-place order. The effort is in coordination with Yolo Food Bank, Yolo County Emergency Operations Center (EOC), and the Health and Human Services Agency.

During the pandemic, Yolobus Special paratransit services has stepped up to temporarily provide rides to seniors who were using Woodland's Community Care Car, a non-profit transportation provider, which is not operating.

THIS 'n' THAT Hoarding of A Different Sort

BY CAROL BOGART

First it was paper towels and toilet paper. Now, with the 'social distancing' order extended to April 30; some feel panicked about food staples. Staples such as fresh stuff. Like vegetables and eggs.

Personally, I've had zero problem finding fresh fruits and vegetables. It did take me a couple weeks to hit a store just right to find a dozen eggs.

Apparently, nationally, some people who are not farmers are doing a crash course in animal husbandry. Namely, they're buying up chicks as fast as feed stores and grain elevators get them in. To raise them. In hopes their chickens give them eggs.

Others are ripping up their lawns to convert them into gardens. This is not a new idea. During World War II, supply chains focused on the war effort. Americans endured rationing of, for example, sugar; gas.

Today, as we battle a lethal enemy of a different sort, stores are rationing bottled water, paper towels, and toilet paper. One case or package to a customer. And STILL you encounter empty shelves.

'What's next?' we can't help wondering. In response, some are hoarding baby chicks, and copying World War II's Victory Gardens. Reports are, in some areas, you can't find seeds to plant, because seeds are being hoarded, too.

This current war – against a potential lethal viral enemy we cannot see – does require us to think ahead as we endure more weeks of isolation. "Lay in enough food for two weeks' of meals," government officials are advising. Of course, if you can afford it, you can also order in. Maaaaaaany restaurants now deliver or at least do takeout.

If you're thinking of laying in some backyard hens or a brand new garden, I've done both, and will share what I learned when I had chickens. In the interest of brevity, I'll write about backyard gardening another time; next week maybe.

For now, let me tell you about my chickens. From chicks I raised eight hens. The 'girls' gave me so many eggs that I swapped a farmer friend eggs for sweet corn. When a chick turned out to be a rooster, I turned the rooster loose in the barnyard to keep the horse company. A couple hens would probably have meant plenty of eggs for my son and me. With no rooster in the hen house,

Local faith groups react to COVID-19 pandemic

BY STACY GROW

The COVID-19 pandemic presents unique challenges and opportunities to religious communities throughout the country. Many churches and faith groups in the West Sacramento community are rising to the challenge as they respond to the crisis with prayer, fasting, and service.

One group that has turned to prayer and fasting is members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. On March 29, millions of members of the Church throughout the world – including several hundred in West Sacramento - held a special day of Fasting and Mighty Prayer.

According to Public Affairs representative Viola Fong, "The purpose of this fast was three-fold: To ask God to bless and inspire our leaders and their efforts to protect the health and well-being of all people and to find solutions to address the challenges we are facing in all nations; To pray for all those who are suffering the physical, emotional, and economic impact of COVID-19, that they will be blessed according to their needs; To pray for spiritual strength to overcome fear and anxiety, for inspiration to protect ourselves and our families, and for the awareness and ability to minister to those in need."

Those who participated in the fast abstained from food and drink for two meals, then donated the money saved to assist the poor and needy in the community. Cameron Glenn, Bishop of the West Sacramento congregation, participated in the fast.

Alone Together

Closed Facebook support group for mental health issues

BY MONICA STARK

Alone Together, a closed Facebook support group for mental health issues, has been started by Laura Bemis, local photographer and co-founder of “Journey of Hope Exhibit,” the annual collaborative project that pairs writers with local artists to share stories of hope and recovery.

The group is for anyone who experiences a mental health challenge due to the isolation from the novel coronavirus. Bemis said she’s keeping the group by either invitation or special request to ensure some sense of confidentiality. “If somebody wants to get into it, they can get into it. It’s not open to the public so not everyone can sit and browse to read what’s written,” she said.

Bemis said the shelter-in-place ordinances have increased her depression because by helping others, she helps herself. “For me, the reason why I started it was because I have depression as one of my problems to deal with challenges. To keep me so I don’t get depressed I get very involved in the community and I help other people with mental health challenges,” she said.

Social distancing and health mandates can also be triggering for people with obsessive-compulsive disorder. “They are told they are to wash their hands and use sanitizer, that could be very strenuous because they already have that disorder and (the mandate) compounds it.” She also explained that those who suffer from anxiety can be suffering more with all the latest coronavirus apocalyptic news. “A lot of people don’t have anywhere to go or call to talk to somebody about it because it’s such a personal thing and people don’t want to share that they are hurting in that way.”

Bemis started this group and has 12 members so far. Every now and then somebody will ask if they can join.

Each day, Bemis posts a photograph she’s taken as a sort of conversation starter. Topics range from pretty flowers to the five sheep brought in to mow down her grass. As she writes on the page: “Even though we are in isolation we can still find beauty.”

She said the requirements are pretty basic – that you be at least 18 years old, appear to have a lived experience of a mental health challenge, or are a caregiver with serious mental illness and be willing to share and participate in the group. “We’re not asking anyone to prove their mental illness but if want to share this is a safe environment for that,” she said. Bemis hopes to offer a Zoom or FaceTime session where members can login and join in on fun activities like coloring or art. “It’s not group therapy,” she said, “But,

I’m looking for people to lead those things – someone who wants to do a craft or something online.

Tuleyome Lake County Animal Study

Tuleyome, a non-profit conservation organization based in Woodland, purchased the Silver Spur Ranch in 2016, located immediately south of Indian Valley Reservoir along the North Fork of Cache Creek in Lake County. This 1280-acre property is in the heart of the Berryessa Snow Mountain National Monument and is home to oak woodlands, rare plants, and many animals. Mule deer (Odocoileus hemionus), California Quail (Callipepla californica), egrets (Ardea alba, Egretta thula), Great Blue Herons (Ardea herodias), and river otters (Lontra canadensis) have been seen on the property while mountain lions (Puma concolor), bears (Ursus americanus), bobcats (Lynx rufus), and tule elk (Cervus canadensis nannodes) have left evidence. Tuleyome purchased the property with an eye toward opening it up to limited public use including hiking, camping, horseback riding, mountain biking, and naturalist workshops.

In June 2018, the Pawnee Fire burned more than 15,000 acres in Lake County, burning from Highway 20 to the west shore of Indian Valley Reservoir. The fire forced many people to evacuate and burned 22 structures. Included in the burned area was Silver Spur Ranch property. Tuleyome, like everyone else, was relieved to hear that there were very few injuries and saw this as an opportunity to study how wildlife – flora and fauna – respond following a wildfire.

As noted earlier, staff had physical and anecdotal evidence of which animals used the property before the fire and had photos of which plants were present at different times of the year. While no detailed list of all the species was created before the fire, the large species were known – blue oak (Quercus douglasii), chamise (Adenostoma fasciculatum), ceanothus (Ceanothus sp), toyon (Heteromeles arbutifolia), and other associated species. This information provided a pre-fire baseline to which post-fire data could be compared. Noting which species of plants “returned” to the property would be relatively easy, accomplished during visits to the property.

To track the return of fauna, 12 game cameras were purchased via a grant from the Sacramento Zoo and were placed throughout Silver Spur. The hope was to see which animals returned and how long after the fire. Did any species not return? Any new species? Which species were quick to return?

During the first visits to the property post-fire the familiar “Chi-ca-go” of California Quail was heard throughout the property and the males were seen on the burned remnants of the chaparral. Generally, songbirds were the first returners and egrets and herons took advantage of the constant water in the North Fork of Cache Creek flowing out of Indian Valley Reservoir.

The first large mammal captured was a black bear and her cub – which were captured within a month of placing the cameras. Tuleyome staff had assumed that deer would be the first large mammal to return. In fact, a deer was not captured for a couple of months, after some rain encouraged plant regeneration. Initial captures of deer were limited to a single deer per image but soon pairs and trios were captured.

Eventually, coyotes, mountain lions, bobcats, gray foxes, wild boars, raccoons, turkeys, Red-winged Blackbirds, Mourning Doves, and even mice and snakes were captured. Some returned relatively shortly after the fire (coyotes) while others were not seen until more than a year after (turkeys). Why did animals return at different times? We can assume that predators needed their prey to return – why did turkeys take so long to return? Where were the elk?!

The cameras also captured the great wildflower display from spring 2019. A couple of cameras that are placed higher on trees were able to show the change of flowers – a dramatic change can happen in two days!

In the year and a half since the cameras were placed, Tuleyome has obtained nearly 5000 images of animals. Now comes the challenge of going through the images to answer some questions: How many deer, bobcats, coyotes, foxes? Is there more than one mountain lion? Is it the same? Are the coyotes captured on the northern end of the property the same as those captured in the south? There is a lot to learned!

For more information about this project, contact Nate Lillge at nlillge@tuleyome.org.

mento. This includes the people that are living week-to-week in a hotel room now. These individuals will be transferred to Project Room Key where they will be able to stay in safe housing through the duration of the pandemic.

West Sacramento is the first city in the nation to receive approval for 75% cost share reimbursement from FEMA for Project Room Key. This will include the rooms as well as the wraparound services that will be included. These services will include meals, health-care, mental health-care, custodial services, laundry, security and support staff. The Governor also announced a partnership with Chef Jose Andres’s World Central Kitchen to provide three meals a day to select Room Key hotels. With West Sacramento being used as a model, Project Room Key has an initial goal of securing up to 15,000 rooms throughout California.

As part of the service, the government will provide support teams to the counties for assistance in identifying hotels, negotiating and executing operating agreements, record keeping education for the providers to ensure federal reimbursement. However, the local governments (homeless task force) will be responsible for identifying which clients are selected. The priority of the program is to get placements for those homeless that fall into the high-risk category. This includes those that are over 65 years of age, have certain medical conditions and those that are COVID-19 positive and do not require hospitalization.

City councilwoman Quirina Orozco said in a city council meeting, “The homeless do have a lot of advocates, especially on this council, but to a lot of people they are voiceless. I’m proud that we are preventing the spread and addressing the issues that could have put them back on the street.”

Marilyn Best, longest standing Board Member of the Sacramento Youth Symphony

“Her love, dedication, positive outlook, and generosity have had a lasting impact on the Sacramento Youth Symphony and its thousands of students over the course of three decades of service.” – Sacramento Youth Symphony

Marilyn Best, the longest standing Board Member of the Sacramento Youth Symphony (SYS), has served the organization tirelessly with her wisdom and calm presence. Over the years, Marilyn has supported the SYS with her time, experience, counsel, financial support, and has opened up her home for charitable events and meetings. “The SYS musicians are a blessing to the community,” she said. “They are special and doing something good through music.” Her status as a long-standing Board member and generous donor puts her in a unique position to garner support from others. She is a fundraising dynamo! Each year she rallies support from many local businesses to support the goals of the Sacramento Youth Symphony and secure funding for its scholarship program. Marilyn considers it a privilege to support the students who dedicate their time to music education and appreciation.

Marilyn was born to a family with great appreciation for music. Franklin Morris Rowles, her father, was one of the Sacramento Symphony Association’s first presidents. Shortly after, he advocated for a youth symphony in Sacramento and underwrote the first series of concerts called “Symphony Concerts for Young People.” Clare Rowles, Marilyn’s mother served on the Association for many years and received several “Distinguished Service” awards.

As a child Marilyn learned to play the piano and later made sure to foster a love of music in her children. Her son, Glenn, and two daughters, Lonnie and Cindy, all received piano lessons when they were growing up. Glenn plays the clarinet and saxophone for his community orchestra in Germany, and several of her grandchildren play orchestral instruments. Marilyn is a proud grandma. Smiling broadly, she admits she is spoiled by her thirty-four grandchildren and great-grandchildren living in California, Boston and Germany.

In 1960 she and her three young children moved to Geneva, Switzerland, after her husband’s passing. She planned to live there for only a year but ended up staying for twenty-three years. Her children had the opportunity to study at the Geneva Conservatory of Music and she learned to play the pipe organ from one of its teachers. In Geneva, she served as Assistant Committee on Publication for The First Church of Christ, Scientist throughout Switzerland. She was also a substitute organist. Marilyn knew the pastor of the World Council of Churches in Geneva and got to know people from that organization. “Getting to know people from 10 -15 different countries was quite the privilege,” she said.

An active person all her life, Marilyn has enjoyed playing tennis, swimming, and ballroom dancing. She loves the company of people and personifies the perfect community volunteer, giving her time, talent and treasure.

Marilyn is a woman of humility, strong faith in God and is full of love for everyone. She lives a life of service to the community, always believing there is more she can do. For Marilyn, being a Board member “is an opportunity to help young people share their musical talents and focus on a life of giving,” adding that “a life of giving is worthwhile.”

The SYS surprised Marilyn earlier this year by dedicating their winter concerts to her. Marilyn was very surprised by the public recognition of her service, and when invited to say a few words, shifted the attention away from herself, thanking the young musicians, the parents, and the audience. Marilyn later remarked that she was “touched by the recognition of her faithful support to the organization and was truly overwhelmed by all the attention she had received.”

Marilyn Best loves orchestral music. She loves the Sacramento Youth Symphony. And the feeling is mutual. She is widely respected and admired.

Founded in 1956 as a 55-member youth orchestra, the Sacramento Youth Symphony now in its 64th year, has five orchestras/ensembles and serves more than 400 talented young musicians from all over the Sacramento Valley region. SYS offers beginning through advanced orchestral ensembles and presents more than 20 concerts per year under the baton of some of the best music educators and conductors in the region. Marilyn hopes to see more students enrolled in the different ensembles and more community support for the organization.

The Sacramento Youth Symphony could not offer the same level of service without the dedication and support of Board members and volunteers such as Marilyn Best. We are forever grateful to her.

This ‘n’ That no eggs had red spots in them (i.e. were fertilized and thus inedible).

If you want to raise chicks when nights are cold, here’s what you’ll need: An indoor area in which you can place a pen. I put my chicks (and ducklings) in a collapsible kind dog pen.

To keep your chicks warm, sprinkle a thin layer of sawdust on the floor, and then attach a heat lamp to the pen. Tractor Supply carries supplies for chickens. Maybe Wild West Feed (West Capitol and Harbor in West Sac) does, too. Wild West has both chicks and feed. Or did have chicks a couple weeks ago. Might want to call first.

There are special waterers for chicks, and a larger variety for your hens. Don’t use a pan. Chickens like to walk through pans of water with their poopy feet. You’ll weary of changing out the water. Plus chicks have an unhappy habit of drowning in an open pan.

You’ll need a brood box once your chicks are chickens. Mine was a metal thing I got at a farm auction. It had multiple 12x12 walled-but-open spaces for each chicken to make a nest in. These spaces I lined with straw.

Also, because chickens do so love to ‘scratch’, I put a dog door in the outside door to what used to be the milk house. In winter, I could slide the panel down and close the dog door. But in the warm months, I left it open. The chickens went in and out however they pleased.

Outside the door I put a pen around what used to be part of the barnyard and an iris bed. This chicken wire-fenced enclosure gave them a large area where they could peck and scratch. (A happy chicken is a productive chicken.) Didn’t cost much. Here’s how I built it (again, with supplies from Tractor Supply, but I think you can also get pre-cut chicken wire at Lowe’s and Home Depot).

First, I drove farm stakes at each corner, then took my roll of chicken wire and wrapped it around the stakes, stapling each cut end to the building after tightly securing the corners of this fence to the stakes. Also roofed it with chicken wire. It’s tedious, but you can bend bits of wire sticking out to the part you’re adding.

To keep varmints out of my ‘hen house’ – I plugged a floor drain. The milk house had been field tiled to the creek. Rats, weasels, minks use field tiles to come up through drains and steal your eggs. Or kill your chickens.

Before putting up the fence, first I had a 6-inch-deep trench dug outlining the hen’s ‘yard’. Then,

I bent the bottom of the chicken wire fence to line the trench. You angle it in the direction some animal (such as a raccoon) may be digging. Chicken wire hurts their feet and they give up. Save the dirt from the trench. You’ll tamp it down to cover the chicken wire.

(This method also works with canine diggers, but you angle the wire into their enclosure after you’ve attached it to a sturdy fence. Wood. Chain-link. Doesn’t matter. It keeps dogs in.)

As days got shorter, I outfitted the hens’ indoor space with full spectrum daylight bulbs. If you want your hens to keep on laying, you make them think they still have sun.

A trusting hen will let you reach up under her without a squawk and take her eggs. And cluck with pleasure when she hears your voice. By and large, at about 19 months, a hen’s best egg producing days are done, but you want to keep them as a pet. They imprint on you, these little chicks. And think that you’re their mom.

Hobbies are good. They give us something fun to do when times are tough. Carol highly recommends backyard chickens and West Sac allows them. Want brown eggs? Try Rhode Island Red chicks or Plymouth Rock. Questions, comments? Contact Carol at carol@bogartonline.com.

“We have great respect for those in the field of science and medicine working to defeat the virus, but we also know God and his son, Jesus Christ, can help provide strength to those in need who call upon them.”

Other local congregations have also turned to prayer with greater intensity and focus in recent weeks. On Monday, March 23, members of Bryte Church embarked on an intensive two-week period of 24-hour round-the-clock prayer. Each of the 2200 members took a 15-minute time slot during the two weeks to pray for divine assistance regarding the pandemic. According to Bryte Church’s Office Manager Tatiana Kondrashov, “We hope that God will have mercy on our country and the whole world, so that we can celebrate the resurrection of His Son Jesus Christ in April!”

Many Catholics tuned in to a special broadcast on Friday, March 27, as Pope Francis offered a special prayer ceremony from the empty steps of St. Peter’s Basilica in Rome. Many local Catholics have turned not only to prayer but also to volunteerism as a manifestation of their faith. Resident Sonja Craighton is President of the Catholic-run Saint Vincent de Paul Society, which normally operates two food lockers and a clothes closet in our city.

Craighton says the demand for services has grown exponentially since the onset of the pandemic.

WARNING – IMPORTANT INFORMATION

California law provides that, for purposes of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption. You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title of the property.

ADVERTENCIA - INFORMACIÓN IMPORTANTE La ley de California establece que, a los fines de la división de bienes tras la disolución de un matrimonio o sociedad doméstica o tras la separación legal, los bienes adquiridos por las partes durante el matrimonio o sociedad doméstica en forma conjunta se presumen propiedad de la comunidad. Si cualquiera de las partes en esta acción muere antes de que se divida la propiedad comunitaria conjunta, el idioma de la escritura que caracteriza cómo se posee el título (es decir, la tenencia conjunta, los inquilinos en común o la propiedad comunitaria) controlará, y no la comunidad Presunción de propiedad. Debe consultar a su abogado si desea que la presunción de propiedad de la comunidad se escriba en el título registrado de la propiedad. Mar 25 Apr 18 15 nl 2771

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The West Sacramento City Council will conduct a public hearing on April 22, 2020 at 7:00 p.m. to receive comments on the draft 2020 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Annual Action Plan. Pursuant to the Governor's Executive Order N-29-20, members of the West Sacramento City Council and staff will participate in this meeting via a teleconference. To reduce the spread of COVID-19, members of the public are asked to Livestream (<https://www.cityofwestsacramento.org/governmenUmeetings-agendas/city-council>) or watch the meeting via Wave Cable Channel 20 and to submit comments in writing by 7:00 pm on April 22, 2020. To submit a comment in writing, please email clerk@cityofwestsacramento.org and write "Public Comment" in the subject line. In the body of the email, include the item number and/or title of the item as well as your comments. The hearing will be held at the City of West Sacramento Civic Center, second floor, 1110 West Capitol Ave., West Sacramento, California 95691.

The City of West Sacramento receives an annual allocation of CDBG funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The 2020 Annual Action Plan will cover the fifth year of the City's 2016-2020 Consolidated Plan. CDBG funds must be used for projects that meet at least one of the three HUD national objectives: 1) benefiting low- and moderate-income households; 2) addressing slums or blight conditions; or 3) addressing an urgent need such as flood or earthquake damage. The City will receive $467,314 in Entitlement CDBG funding for fiscal year 2020/2021. Additional resources for the 2020 Action Plan will include $30,000 in anticipated program income and $55,000 in prior year resources. The proposed CDBG activities for the 2020 Annual Action Plan do not include programs or projects that displace persons from their homes, businesses, or farms. Recommended goals and estimated amounts for the 2020 CDBG Annual Action Plan include: Consolidated Plan Goal #2: Achieve goals in the HUD Challenge Grant funded Washington Realized: A sustainable Strategy for the Washington neighborhood located in Census Tract 101.01. ($458,852) General administration and planning expenses shall not exceed 20% of the HUD allocation plus program income. ($93,462) Additionally, on March 27, 2020, President Trump signed Senate Bill 3548, the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act, into law, which provides stimulus funds in response to the economic distress caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Among other assistance, the CARES Act authorized a $5 billion allocation to the CDBG Program to address COVID-19 community impacts. The City of West Sacramento will receive an additional allocation of $274,906 for the 2020 CDBG Program Year under the CARES Act, however, at this time HUD has yet to release guidance on the mechanism to incorporate the additional CARES Act funding into the Annual Action Plan process. In an effort to follow social distancing directives due to the COVID-19 pandemic, City Hall is closed to the public. Additional CDBG Information may be obtained by contacting Raul Huerta, Senior Program Manager, at (916) 617-4555 or by email to raulh@cityofwestsacramento.org. Technical assistance is available to groups representing low-income residents that are interested in learning about CDBG funding for programs or projects. Questions or comments may also be directed to Raul Huerta, Senior Program Manager, at (916) 617-4555 or by email to raulh@cityofwestsacramento.org. The City of West Sacramento promotes fair housing and makes all programs available to low- and moderate-income households regardless of age, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual preference, marital status or disability. AVISO DE AUDIENCIA PÚBLICA El Concejo Municipal de West Sacramento llevará a cabo una audiencia pública el 22 de abril del 2020 a las 7:00 p.m. para recibir comentarios sobre la copia preliminar del Plan de Acción Anual 2020 de la Subvención de Subsidios Globales para el Desarrollo Comunitario (CDBG, por sus siglas en inglés). En conformidad con la Orden Ejecutiva N-29-20 del Gobernador, los miembros del Concejo Municipal de West Sacramento y el personal participarán en esta reunión a través de una teleconferencia. Para reducir la propagación de COVID-19, se pide a los miembros del público que transmitan en vivo por internet (<https://www.cityofwestsacramento.org/governmenUmeetings-agendas/city-council>) o vean la reunión a través del Canal 20 de Wave Cable y que envíen comentarios en escrito antes de las 7:00 pm del 22 de abril del 2020. Para enviar un comentario por escrito, envíe un correo electrónico a clerk@cityofwestsacramento.org y escriba "Comentario Público" en la línea de asunto. En el cuerpo del correo electrónico, incluya el número y / o título del artículo, así como sus comentarios. La audiencia se llevará a cabo en el Centro Cívico de la Ciudad de West Sacramento, segundo piso, 1110 West Capitol Ave., West Sacramento, California 95691. La Ciudad de West Sacramento recibe una asignación anual de fondos de CDBG del Departamento de Vivienda y Desarrollo Urbano de los Estados Unidos (HUD, por sus siglas en inglés). El Plan de Acción Anual 2020 cubrirá el quinto año del Plan Consolidado 2016-2020 de la Ciudad. Los fondos de CDBG deben usarse para proyectos que cumplan con al menos uno de los tres objetivos nacionales de HUD: 1) beneficiar a familias de ingresos bajos y moderados; 2) hacer frente a los barrios pobres o condiciones tizón; o 3) hacer frente a una necesidad urgente tal como daños por inundación o terremoto. La Ciudad recibirá $467,314 en fondos de CDBG para el año fiscal 2020/2021. Recursos adicionales para el Plan de Acción 2020 incluirán $30,000 en Ingresos del Programa y $55,000 en recursos del año anterior. Las actividades propuestas de CDBG para el Plan de Acción Anual 2020 no incluyen programas o proyectos que desplacen a personas de sus hogares, negocios o granjas. Los objetivos recomendados y las cantidades estimadas para el Plan de Acción Anual CDBG 2019 incluyen: Objetivo #2 del Plan Consolidado: Lograr los objetivos de la Estrategia Sostenible de la Comunidad de Washington financiada por la Subvención del Desafío de HUD: Una Estrategia Sostenible para el Vecindario de Washington ubicado en la Zona de Censo 101.01. ($458,852) La administración general y los gastos de planificación no deben exceder el 20% de la asignación de HUD más los Ingresos del Programa. ($93,462) Además, el 27 de marzo del 2020, el presidente Trump firmó la Ley 3548 del Senado, Ley de Ayuda, Alivio y Seguridad Económica por el Coronavirus (CARES, por sus siglas en inglés), que proporciona fondos de estímulo en respuesta a la angustia económica causada por el COVID-19. Entre otra asistencia, la Ley CARES autorizó una asignación de $5 billones al Programa CDBG para abordar los impactos a la comunidad por el COVID-19. La Ciudad de West Sacramento recibirá una asignación adicional de $274,906 para el Año del Programa 2020 CDBG bajo la Ley CARES, sin embargo, en este momento HUD aún no ha publicado una guía sobre el mecanismo para incorporar el financiamiento adicional de la Ley CARES en el proceso del Plan de Acción Anual. En un esfuerzo por seguir las directivas de distanciamiento social debido a la pandemia de COVID-19, el Ayuntamiento está cerrado al público. Se puede obtener información adicional sobre CDBG contactando a Raul Huerta, Gerente de Programas, al (916) 617-4555 o por correo electrónico a raulh@cityofwestsacramento.org. Asistencia técnica está disponible para grupos que representan a residentes de bajos ingresos que estén interesados en aprender sobre la financiación de CDBG para programas o proyectos. Preguntas o comentarios también pueden dirigirse a Raul Huerta, Gerente de Programas, al (916) 617-4555 o por correo electrónico a raulh@cityofwestsacramento.org. La Ciudad de West Sacramento promueve la vivienda justa y pone todos los programas a disposición de los hogares de ingresos bajos y moderados, independientemente de su edad, raza, color, religión, sexo, origen nacional, preferencia sexual, estado civil o discapacidad.
