May Exhibition at YoloArts' Gallery 625 Honors Asian-Pacific American Heritage Month

By Carol Souza Cole

Antique photographs, ancient Chinese opera masks, the Buddha, dragons, and American history inspired the art created for the May exhibition at Gallery 625 in Woodland. The exhibition has been assembled in honor of Asian-Pacific American Heritage month and includes painted screens, brush paintings, photographs, and mixed media art of seven regional artists.

The artists showing their work include Ann Marie Campbell, Yuko Carson, Alan Fishleder, Ron Hall, Irene Leung, Lyla Paakkanan, and Randy Won. The Asian art theme was chosen for May as it is Asian-Pacific American Heritage month. According to the Library of Congress, this nationally recognized heritage month commemorates the immigration of the first Japanese to the United States on May 7, 1843, and marks the anniversary of the completion of the transcontinental railroad on May 10, 1869, as the majority of the workers who laid the tracks were Chinese immigrants.

Some Eastern Inspiration show highlights:

"Through my work, I explore and communicate and heighten what exists already in these fascinating cultures - beauty, strength, hope, and longevity," said Ann Marie Campbell in her artist statement for the show. Campbell's paintings are sparked from antique photographs from Japan and China and her medium is oil, egg tempera, and acrylic paints.

Artist Leung will be exhibiting three works from a series of twelve acrylic paintings called "The Masks." This series on canvas paper draw inspiration from ancient Chinese opera masks, where the colors of the masks are intended to function as a universal language communicating to the audience character, intent, and origin. The masks provide a bridge to the realms of western modern art and ancient Chinese traditions, according to Leung's artist statement.

Paakkanen's dragon screens are the result of her love of dragon lore and fascination with reptiles. She studied herpetology as an undergraduate, and found sea snakes particularly fascinating due to their graceful movement. According to her artist statement, her dragon screens evolved from "my drawings, then paintings of kimonos, then just dragons on large swaths of heavy paper to be hung." She later switched to canvas due to the weight of the paint on paper, and the dragon screens are painted on both sides.

Artist Yuko Carson will be demonstrating brush painting throughout the exhibition's opening reception.

The UC Davis Gamelan Leb-

do Budoyo will perform Indonesian orchestra music featuring bronze gongs, chimes, and other melodic percussion instruments. The university ensemble will be performing from 6 - 6:30 p.m. during the reception.

Eastern Inspiration will run through May 31 at Gallery 625, the public art gallery curated by YoloArts and located in the Erwin Meier Administration Building, 625 Court St. in Woodland. Regular gallery viewing hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. For additional information about the exhibition, call YoloArts at 530-309-6464, or visit the website at yoloarts.org.

Proposed City Charter Will Need Voter Approval

By Jan Dalske

When the City of West Sacramento (CWS) was incorporated in 1987, the city was considered to be a "General Law City" (GLC) as there was no City Charter in place. Cities in California are classified as either a Charter City or a General Law City.

In June of 2015, Mayor Cabaldon, in a letter to the City Council, requested "concurrence with the scheduling of a future agenda item to propose a City Charter to the voters following its development by the City Council, convened as a committee of the whole".

Mayor Cabaldon felt that the "basic structure of city government has served the West Sacramento community well". He does not want to consider any fundamental changes, such as moving from a council-manager form of government to a strong-mayor form, or to a full-time mayor and/or council. He believes that "we should strive to develop a lean charter, but no other matters would be excluded from consideration prior to the council's scoping sessions".

The Charter Adoption Timeline indicates the scheduling of two properly noticed public hearings on the proposed charter in May and June of this year. July 19, 2016 is the expected Yolo County deadline for the CWS to adopt a resolu-

The first no-hitter

A recent article in this publication, titled “River City Pitcher Delivers with a No-Hitter” unfortunately quoted coach Clint Brill, who listed the no-hitter pitchers in the history of River City/Marshall High School. After the story ran, a call was fielded to the Ledger’s office by the first no-hitter in the school’s history, Phillip Cornejo, class of 1984. The game was against Galt and his RC coach at the time was Mr. Marks. Phillip has a video of that game which was taken by his long-time little league coach Ray Meza. “It’s a boring tape to watch but it’s history,” said Phillip last week. “I also had the fewest walks, 11 walks, in 68 innings. I got a medal for that, too.” Referring to the aforementioned article, Cornejo stated, it was brought to his attention by his very own son who now attends River City who said, “They left you out.”

Free boat rides at Lake Washington

Photos by Stephen Crowley

As reported by writer Steve Liddick last week, the Lake Washington Sailing Club provided free boat rides at its annual event on Saturday, April 30. The event also featured sailing demonstrations, knot tying, and inexpensive food. There were different small and several different types of larger “small” sailboats that visitors got to ride in. Shown here is a collection of more photos from that day’s event by talented photographer, Stephen Crowley.

Money Monster

The MPAA has rated this R
Actress and director Jodie Foster opts for time behind the camera, helming this neat little hostage thriller “Money Monster” from TriStar Pictures, a part of SONY and distributed by SONY Pictures Releasing. George Clooney stars as Lee Gates, an on camera financial advisor at a major television network. His style and content very much resembles many of the real life so-called money gurus of TV like Jim Cramer and his show, “Mad Money” on CNBC. Gates makes it through each show with the aid of long-time producer and director Patty Fenn, played by Julia Roberts. She has been withholding from him that she is courting another job at a rival network. They have a past together.
During one broadcast, what appears to be a deliveryman appears in Patty’s view, carrying two large parcels behind one of the stage sets. Not knowing if it is part of the act, she has the camera and sound man move in, and Gates improvises. The delivery man sets the parcels down and pulls a gun out of his back pocket and fires it into the air. He now has the attention of everyone in the studio, yet many watching TV and accustomed to the stunts pulled by Gates, cannot tell if it is a comedy bit or real life drama.

In fact, a hostage situation is in full effect. He threatens Gates’ life unless the cameras remain on for him to address an issue of burning concern. The deliveryman turned gunman is actor Jack O’ Connell. He plays young Kyle Budwell. Bulwell then mounts an explosive vest onto the TV host as his desperation builds. Budwell had risked everything, his entire savings, at the suggestion of one of Gates’ possible money making investments, a company called Ibis. The Ibis representative Diane Lester (Caitriona Balfre) is brought on to the show at once and it seems that Kyle’s great loss was not merely a computer glitch, but more... what is really going on?
The tension mounts with each scene and this is a well-made movie. Jodie Foster as director proves that she has gifts in all aspects of the cinema. The performances are top notch as the situation escalates. Whilst Patty has all of her key staff investigating the details about Ibis, the police department have plans of their own, sneaking in snipers into the studio catwalks at key locations to stand by for action. Actor Giancarlo Esposito is the chief of police, a reasonable man. His deputies want to shoot both men for the safety of others.

You’ll just have to see for yourself how things unravel in this excellently made movie which I am sure will be popular. I found it engaging and with results that may please audiences that have growing distrust of big banks and bankers. Also in the picture; Dominic West plays Walt Camby, the head of Ibis. Actor Lenny Venito is the lone camera man named “Lenny” that follows the unfolding real-life drama with his lens.
Kudos to Jodie Foster for her grand entertainment. Now in wide release across the USA.

Charter:

tion submitting the charter measure to the voters and requesting consolidation of election with Yolo County. Election Day is November 8, 2016. If the City Charter is approved by the voters it will be effective when filed by the Secretary of State.
While operating as a GLC, the CWS is bound by the State of California’s General Law, and has conducted its municipal elections in accordance with CA Elections Code. At-large elections are held and voters vote for any candidate on the ballot. The cities may choose to elect the city council “by” or “from” districts. The Mayor may be elected by the City Council or by a vote of the people. A Charter City (CC) may establish procedures for selecting officers and may hold at-large or district elections.

Charter Cities can establish their own criteria for city offices, provided the city does not violate the U.S. Constitution. Both GLC and CC may provide for term limits. Both forms of cities may establish rules and procedures for adopting, amending or repealing ordinances.
There are benefits for a city to be a Charter City. CWS may transfer some of its functions to Yolo County. This would include tax collection, assessment collection and sale of property for non-payment of taxes and assessments. A Charter City is not required to comply with bidding statutes provided the city charter or a city ordinance exempts the city from such statutes, and the subject matter of the bid constitutes a municipal affair.

Charter cities have not been found by state law prevailing wage requirements as long as the project is a municipal affair, and not funded by state or federal grants. A Charter City may impose real property transfer taxes. Zoning ordinances are not required to be consistent with the general plan unless the city has adopted a consistency requirement by charter or ordinance.

Voters in the CWS will make the decision as to how their city is classified. It is important that they participate in the public hearings so that they can decide how they want their city to be operated, and the procedures that will be established for them and future residents. Sources: League of California Cities, State Law in California affecting Laws and Ordinances, WSCC Workshop: 8/5/15, Meetings: 8/19/15, 10/21/15, 12/16/15,02/17/16,04/6/16

Reporting date and time: May 8 at 5:20 p.m.
Location of incident: Casselman Drive and Andrews Street
The suspect confronted the victim on the block of 500 C Street. The suspect asked the victim if he "banged" – (street slang vernacular for being a member of a criminal street gang). The victim stated that he did not and then let the scene without further interaction with the suspect. At about 5 p.m., the victim was driving with two other victims in his vehicle, southbound on Casselman Street. The victim then observed the suspect driving in his vehicles, westbound on Andrews Street at the intersection with Casselman Street. Both vehicles came to a stop and the passenger of Lopez's vehicle, a second suspect, exited the vehicle and pointed a firearm at the victim's vehicle. This second suspect attempted to fire the gun at the victim but the firearm malfunctioned and he was unsuccessful. The two suspects then followed the victim for a short distance as he fled the scene in his vehicle. The first suspect is on active parole from Sacramento County for assault with a deadly weapon (firearm) and assault with a deadly weapon (other than firearm). The first suspect is a validated member of the Norteno criminal street gang. He was taken into custody a short time later on a high risk traffic stop. The second suspect was also taken into custody.

Reporting date and time: May 8 at 4:52 p.m.
Location of incident: 500 block of Jefferson Boulevard

Reporting date and time: May 7 at 1:13 a.m.
Location of incident: 300 Ballena Bay Road
The witness advised two suspects later identified as two men were loitering in the area and walked up their private driveway and attempted to open their locked car doors. The witness had video surveillance that matched the description of both individuals. Both of them had no lawful reason to be in the area at that time. Just prior to this call two suspects matching their description were seen inside another vehicle that the owner had left the door unlocked in the same area.

The reporting officer contacted both suspects at Suisun Bay Road and Golden Gate moments later as they were walking away from the area. They matched one of the men with the suspect description provided. During a consent search of the suspect, the officer locked a homemade burglary tool that resembled a vehicle key and a flashlight. A records check showed him to be on searchable probation out of Yolo County.

Reporting date and time: May 6 at 5:40 p.m.
Location of incident: 3000 block of Evergreen Circle

The reporting officer was dispatched to the location on a report of a fight between two females. The officer arrived on scene where he located a victim with severe head trauma. The victim stated she was hit in the head multiple times with a baseball bat. The victim had what appeared to be a swollen face and what appeared to be blood all over her face and clothing. The victim stated her attacker was a white female adult with reddish hair, wearing a black hoodie. The victim fell down due to the initial strike of the bat and continued to state the suspect continued to attack her using both fists and the bat. The victim ran away however the suspect ran after her and caught her and continued to attack the victim with her fists. The victim stated the suspect said "I'm going to kill you" multiple times. The victim stated she did not know the female and had never met her. Assisting officers located a female matching the description of the suspect near the location of incident. An independent witness positively identified the suspect as the victim's attacker. Assisting officers also found the baseball bat which was used in the commission of the alleged crime.

These classes are free and open to the public, and coincide with National Foster Care Month. The attachment series will feature local marriage and family therapist Debra Wiegel, who will discuss ways foster and adoptive parents and relative caregivers can facilitate a child's secure attachment — the foundation for positive human interaction and building safety and trust in the world. Wiegel, who has more than two decades experience working with abused and traumatized children and their foster, birth and adoptive families, will give an overview of attachment parenting, discuss how vital a parent's role is to the trust cycle, and look at "emergent resiliency". Some of the topics to be discussed include: Defining attachment, how attachment can become compromised, behaviors associated with insecure or anxious attachment, how grief and loss play into the equation, effective parenting techniques that work with hurt children who don't trust and are striving to control their world. Classes will be conducted at Woodland Community College, 2300 E. Gibson Road in Woodland, in Building 100, Room 109. No parking permit is needed for evening classes on campus, but attendees must still park in designated "Student Park-
