POLICE LOG WILL RETURN NEXT WEEK

Retiring Old Glory

By Michele Townsend

The American Flag is the most prominent and notorious symbol that represents the American people. It displays the beauty and pride of our country. It shows where we started and where we are now as a country of United States. We display it, we cherish it, and we protect it. We treat it with respect with actions such as keeping it lit when flown at night, and it in return, cloaks us with pride at places like the Olympic games. We place our hands on our hearts to show our love to our flag and our country when we are reciting the Pledge of Allegiance, or sing the National Anthem. In short, we treat our flag with the respect, that it treats us with.

There are many aspects to the flag, how it is to be displayed, how it is to be handled, and who has the power to make decisions such as when it is to be flown at half-staff. Though there are many “rules”, according to the United States Flag Code, in the proper handling of the American Flag, these rules were decided by the United States Supreme Court, in United States v. Eichman, to be unenforceable due to the conflict of the First Amendment right to freedom of speech. This however, does not keep most Americans from treating the American Flag with the respect that it deserves.

The American Flag represents a living country, and is therefor a living thing. For this reason, the US Flag should be properly retired once it is worn, tattered, or destroyed in any way. The preferred method of doing this is by burning it, though this is potentially hazardous to the environment. Retired Flags may also be donated to a proper Patriotic organization such as a veteran group or the Boy Scouts. It may also be recycled by sending it to a flag recycling service. The only real rule in retiring the American flag is that it be done with respect. Some military or veteran groups have a specific ceremony that they follow. Others have a specific speech given to honor the Flag and the service that it has provided during it's life.

On April 15, 2016 a Flag Retiring Ceremony was held at Riverbank Elementary School in West Sacramento. The ceremony was open to the public. Pallets were placed on the ground so that the flags being retired still did not hit the ground while being laid to rest. The flags were separated into two piles. One pile was the 937 American Flags that were retired, the other was the 150 California, POW, and the flags of the various Military Organizations. As the children from Riverbank filed out to the ceremony and the community members gathered around, the RCHS JROTC and the VFW Riders Association prepared for the ceremony. With everyone standing at attention, and the children were quiet, the ceremony began.

After the singing of the National Anthem and the reciting of the Pledge of Allegiance by the entire crowd, the flags were read a prayer of Thanks for the service they provided. The guns were drawn, and the flags were given a 3 Volley Salute as the flags were set ablaze. While the flags burned Taps was played on the bugle. This 150 year old song is played to express gratitude when words fail, and is to honor the men and women who laid down their lives and paid the ultimate sacrifice for the cause of freedom.

In addition to the children from Riv-erbank Elementary, and the community members, he following groups were present to honor our flag proudly in this ceremony; Veterans of Foreign War (VFW), American Veterans (AMVETS), River City High School JROTC, Ladies Auxillary – VFW, Air Force JROTC, Marine Corps League, American Legion, WUSD, and the West Sacramento Fire Dept.

Flag retirement ceremonies are usually held once a year, locally, but because there were such a large number of flags being retired this time, they are planning the next retirement for October. If you have any flags that are stained, faded or tattered that you would like retired, you may drop them off at any VFW for proper retirement.

What's Brewing in West Sacramento?

By Julia McMichael

“Milk is for babies. When you grow up you have to drink beer.”
Arnold Schwarzenegger

Beer week in Sacramento ended on March 6, but here in West Sacramento, one could say that it never ends. There are three excellent brew pubs in West Sacramento: Jack Rabbit, Yolo Brewing Co. and Bike Dog. Revision Brewing is slated to open in August, 2016 and The Barn event center and restaurant is slated to open sometime in the summer. It will be operated by Lowbrau. In addition, Rubicon is brewed locally but does not operate a West Sacramento outlet.

Jack Rabbit Brewery is a five barrel brewer. They began in 2011 and currently serve fourteen different beers.

Yolo Brewing Company was opened in July, 2011 by Mike Costello. It features oak barrel brewing in small batches. They offer twenty-two beers, kegs and growlers. They also host events on Saturdays for individual brewers to make up their own brews. Their motto is “buy local, drink local.” Their beers are also available at Nugget and Safeway and also on tap at Club Pheasant, Wicked West Pizza and Broderick Road House. “We have a broad range of beer styles. We are the biggest local brewery with greater beer hall space and we have the biggest parking lot,” Costello told me. Mike Costello is very high on the West Sacramento zoning and planning process and he is a local resident. He told me that he chose his location based on the fact that it is so accessible.

Mike Costello has plans to expand with more capacity, more tanks and processing equipment. He designs most of the beer recipes. When asked what his favorite beer is. He said “that would be like choosing a favorite child.” He employs three brewers with nine total employees. Phil de Frank is the head brewer. Mike believes that the opening of The Barn later this year “will draw even more people to the breweries.” Bands are featured at Yolo Brewing on Friday and Saturday nights. They also host community events and fundraisers. “We always want to make and strengthen local connections,” he told me.

Bike Dog Brewing is two and a half years old. It is a destination for bike riders and dog owners. Dogs are allowed in the brewery. Bike Dog Brewing Company is co-founded by four Sacramentans with a love for bikes, dogs and craft beer. The brewers fell in love with the endless flavor profiles available through brewing and the delicate hop profiles only available in incredibly fresh beer and want to share that love with beer drinkers from all over the Sacramento area. City Water Treatment Plant Using Dangerous Chemicals

By Jan Dalske

The chemicals that are currently being used at the City of West Sacramento's (CWS) water treatment plant are dangerous. The storage and use of chlorine gas is currently regulated under the Chemical Facility Anti-Terrorism Standards (CFATS) program.

This program identifies and regulates high-risk chemical facilities to ensure they have security measures in place to reduce the risks associated with these chemicals. It requires covered chemical facilities to prepare security Vulnerability Assessments. They identify facility security weaknesses.

The facility is also required to develop and implement Site Security Plans. Initially authorized by Congress in 2007, and signed into law by President Obama in 2014, the program uses a dynamic multi-tiered risk assessment process and requires facilities identified as high-risk to meet and maintain performance-based security standards appropriate to the facilities and the risks they pose.

Department of Homeland Security (DHS) chemical security inspectors work in all 50 states to help ensure facilities have security measures in place to meet CFATS requirements. Storing chlorine gas and the transportation that is required for the chemical to get to the water plants is a safety concern. Many utilities have switched to alternate disinfection methods.

The CWS currently purchases water treatment plant chemicals under a group contract named the North Bay Chemical Agency Pool. Out of the thirteen members, the CWS is the last one

Obituary

Yaeko Covert

Yaeko Covert, born in 1929, lived to be 86 years old. A wife, mother of three, sister to seven other siblings, she passed quietly on April 6, 2016 while taking a break from traveling.

Growing up on a farm on the west coast of Japan, she received a college education there. A farm worker, pearl diver, tailor, school teacher, factory worker, homemaker were all the jobs she has done. She had traveled to the U.S. with a child in tow and had a great appreciation of gardens of all kinds. Her favorite phrase was “Hurry. Hurry”, because why wait? She loved to be on the go! She learned the love of our Australian Kelpie named Bella who was a fixture of the neighborhood. She enjoyed chattering crows, singing Frank Sinatra songs and Pharrell Williams Happy Dancing. Tons of flowers graced her dining table everyday for over six years. She loved Starbuck’s mochas, sushi, and real Mexican tacos... The others she called cat food. Lunches and dinners on the patio garden were filled with flowers, purple of course. She spent the last part of her life traveling seeing the beautiful country that she was happy to be a citizen.

Love to all who have shown her love. To all who read this we ask that you show love or a kind gesture to someone especially those who are ill, depressed, homeless or in need.

Love and Peace to All!

RCHS student receives tech award

By: Aleia Haith
Special to the News-Ledger
On March 19 at UC Davis, River City High School sophomore Mallory Snarr received an award for Aspirations in Computing for all of Northern California by the National Center for Women and Information Technology (NCWIT) for her merit in communication, knowledge of technology, and encouraging other girls as the President of the C-Stem Club.

“Last November I was given the opportunity by [RCHS Math Teacher] Judy Tan, my mentor, to apply for the NCWIT award of aspirations in computing.” Snarr explained, “I applied thinking that I should take any chance that I am given to further myself in the technology field. I was then contacted by the NCWIT director and was told that I was an Affiliate Award recipient.”

Tan explained that no one from RCHS has ever been recognized for this award, meaning that Snarr is the first recipient at the school.

The NCWIT told her that she was selected for her computing-related aspirations and that she “demonstrated, outstanding aptitude and interest in information technology/computing; solid leadership ability; good academic history; and plans for post-secondary education.” She was one out of over two-thousand women picked for the award.

This award is the culmination of years of hard work that has gotten her to where she is today.

At Bridgeway Lakes Elementary School, Snarr was put in a C++ class taught by Megan Schoelhamer, which is a type of coding and keyword class, because she didn’t need any additional math classes and it was good alternative.

“At first I wasn’t into programming,” Snarr said, “but as the year went on I fell in love with the challenge of figuring out how to make the computer do [things] with only lines of number and words.”

She competed in her first C-Stem Competition as a freshman at UC Davis and started the C-Stem Club last year at RCHS because she wanted to continue programming in high school and show others how fun it could be.

In 2015, RCHS’s C-Stem team won the Perseverance Award at UC Davis, in which Snarr was chosen for the Award of Achievement. “It was around that time last year that I realized that computer programming and robotics was what I want to do in my future,” said Snarr.

Snarr is not only the C-Stem club president, she also participates in other activities. She is a member of Mathletes, a club that participates in math quiz competitions, and Sci High, which is a group of students interested in science that enters science fairs and competitions.

Snarr is also participating in multiple sports for RCHS. She is a varsity Tennis player, who competed on last year’s league championship team that made it to the section finals. She is also a part time starter on defense for the Junior Varsity Soccer team.

RCHS senior Anahi Escobar, who knows and is on the tennis team with Snarr, says that, “Mallory is a very bright individual, [has] great charisma, [and is] extremely friendly and dedicated.”

“[It’s a] struggle at times to handle all of my extracurricular activities and my honors classes,” Snarr said, “but as long as I time manage, it is easier. My family is mainly the reason that I am able to do all of things that I am because they are the ones supporting me and my decisions along the way.”

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
I am enclosing examples of a feature article entitled “Random Acts of Kindness” which appears in a newspaper that my niece, who lives in Pittsburgh, PA sends to me.
May I make a friendly suggestion? Why not give an opportunity for members of our community to express their gratitude for receiving an act of kindness that occurred to them in our community?
We print the “police report”, why not also the “Random Acts of Kindness” people report?
Thanks for your consideration,
William Rogers, West Sacramento

Response:
I think it’s a great idea, William. It would be a great addition to the West Sacramento News-Ledger. We can publish in our papers reminders for readers to submit their stories. If any reader is interested in submitting a similar type of piece to the News-Ledger, he or she can email letters to editor@news-ledger.com or mail to our office address: 1040 W Capitol Ave.

The following are a couple of examples that were published in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, submitted by readers.

Thanks to a stranger, my lost keys came back to me
Last month, after one of our snowstorms, I had the misfortune of losing my house keys. I had done some errands one of which was to shop at the Giant Eagle market in Bethel Park on Route 88. It wasn’t until I got home that I realized I didn’t have my keys to my home. Needless to say, I was beside myself. Luckily, my son had a spare set, but I only got his by the goodness of the maintenance man who let me in his apartment to get it. After about 30 minutes, I finally got into my apartment and lo, and behold, I had a voicemail message on my home phone to call a certain merchant. When I did I was told that a lady had called this business because, on my set of keys, I had some small frequent shopper cards, the ones you give at the registers. It was the only one with a phone number on it, so this kind soul took the time to call to see if I could be notified. She found them in the parking lot of the market. How I didn’t hear them drop I’ll never know. They are heavy and make noise when dropped. Maybe the snow muffled the sound. However, the merchant gave me her phone number and I called her. She was truly an agent of St. Anthony. She even agreed to meet me at a common location to pick them up. When I met her, I quickly asked for her name and address with the intention of repaying her kindness. But she just said, “That’s not necessary,” and politely gave me a hug and drop away!” - Patricia Weber, Bethel Park

Also lost, and then found, at Giant Eagle

On a recent Saturday, I went to the Giant Eagle in West View. I needed a gift card and the young lady at customer service was kind enough to help me find it. I then went on my way to do my weekly grocery shopping. When I was finished, I checked out and headed for home. Halfway home, something made me look on the passenger seat for my purse, but it was not there.

I stopped the car and got out to look in the trunk, but it wasn’t there either. I panicked and quickly headed back to Giant Eagle. As I started down the aisle where I had parked, there was the young lady from customer service walking down. I stopped to ask if anyone had turned in my purse. But before I had a chance to finish my question, she turned around and had my purse in her hand. She saw the gift card and knew it was mine and came out to the parking lot to look for me. Some woman had turned it in. I think my mind has ‘left the building’ because this is the second time I left my purse in the grocery cart. God bless the woman who turned it in and the young lady who came out to search the parking lot for me. May they both be blessed with good luck. -

Goats Help Clear Brush Along West Sacramento's Barge Canal

Photos by Stephen Crowley
Words by city of West Sacramento

Three hundred goats are chomping down vegetation at the Barge Canal as part of fire prevention and open space cleanup. Recent rain followed by sunny weather has rapidly increased fire fuel levels in several West Sacramento locations.

West Sacramento Fire Marshal Bryan Jonson and Parks and Grounds Superintendent Sam Cooney explained the goats are able to clear weeds and grass in hard to access areas.

Goats cleared five acres last week near the Broderick Boat Ramp on the Sacramen-to River. The animals are currently working through six acres at the Barge Canal, before heading to the Sycamore Trail this week.

The goats are based in Red Bluff at Blue Tent Farms, and are in high demand during the springtime.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder’s office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property. NOTICE OF TRUSTEE’S SALE Note: Because the Beneficiary reserves the right to bid less than the total debt owed, it is possible that at the time of the sale the opening bid may be less than the total debt. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit it this Internet Web site <http://www.altisource.com/MortgageServices/DefaultManagement/TrusteeServices.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2015-03053-CA. Treatment:

to purchase chlorine gas, and there is only one supplier in Northern California.

Because of these national concerns, the gas chlorine system currently installed at the City of West Sacramento’s water treatment plant needs to be converted to a liquid hypochlorite system. To accomplish this conversion, the West Sacramento City Council approved the design contract for $462,287 to Carollo Engineers last January. This month, the City Council awarded a construction contract for $1,557,000 to R.E. Smith Contractor, Inc. for the conversion project.

The main source of water for the City of West Sacramento originates from the Sacramento and American Rivers and is treated at the George Kristoff Water Treatment Plant (GKWTP). The plant is located at Bryte Bend, just upstream from the confluence of the rivers. The plant operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and is staffed by state certified Water Treatment Plant Operators.

In 1987, when the CWS was incorporated, a gas chlorine system was installed. It was part of the original plant construction. At that time gaseous chlorine was the most economical way to purchase chlorine. The GKWTP used chlorine for both the pre and post disinfection prior to releasing water for consumption.

The operating costs of using liquid hypochlorite are higher than chlorine gas. This cost is partially offset by the reduced costs of maintaining risk management compliance.

The water treatment plant will continue to operate while the construction of the new system is taking place. A temporary system will be in place until the new one has been built and tested. It will be disassembled when the new configuration is in place. According to Dan Mount, Superintendent of Public Works, the conversion to the safer, new liquid system should be complete by Dec. 1, 2017.

Brewery

ates a 3 barrel brewhouse on site. Brewing small batches allows for the flexibility to mix it up a little with new recipes getting brewed on a regular basis. Bike Dog also distributes to Nugget and Raley’s, however because it is brewed in such small batches, much of the beer will be available only for purchase in the Bike Dog tasting room. This allows customers to see the beer go from grain to glass and hobnob with the brewers who personally nurture the local craft beer community. Owner, A. J. Tendick told me that West Sacramento is already a destination for beer. He is planning to add equipment which will double their capacity.

Food trucks “have been super beneficial to Bike Dog, allowing us to focus on doing what we do best: beer,” said A. J. Tendick. The food trucks are an integral part of the brew pub experience. With Bike Month in May, he expects to be very busy. In spite of the events, he said “the partners work very well together: each of us has a specialty.”

Rubicon beer and Jack Rabbit are distributed by DBI, a locally based distributor. Beer is the most widely consumed and oldest alcoholic beverage. In 2014, craft beer growth was at 17.6 percent. The beer market overall is $101.5 billion. There are 3,500 brew pubs in the United States. The breweries in West Sacramento draw a regional audience and are a vital part of the entertainment scene in the region.
