Bunny Hop Scavenger Hunt Fun

Story and photos
by Teri Saya

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - Along Plumas Street in downtown Yuba City, the Sixth Annual Bunny Hop Scavenger Hunt started out a little slow this year. It was chilly weather and the kids were bundled. But the excitement in their faces as they showed off their baskets full of gathered Easter eggs was priceless.

As the day warmed up, more children showed up to try for prizes and meet the Easter Bunny. This year's Bunny Hop Scavenger Hunt was sponsored by Sopa Thai restaurant, Sutter-Butte Business Services, Cupcake Magic and Twin City Flooring.

Yuba City Downtown Business Association coordinator Cameo Arrasmith explained how the scavenger hunt worked.

"We purchased 4,000 eggs and filled them with candy, stickers and some tickets. The kids get to go up to three different routes," Arrasmith said. "Each time they come back with the eggs gathered from the businesses they visited, they are entered for a chance to win larger prizes such as a bicycle or a gift basket from Cowgirl Boutique, and if they get a yellow ticket in their egg, there are 30 instant prizes where they get to play Plinko and wherever the disc lands is the prize they get."

Plinko is a stand-up board game where a large board with many pegs attached to it has slots at

Live Oak Sheriff Contract Finally Approved

By Sharon Pearce

LIVE OAK, CA (MPG) - Moving the long discussed and debated Sheriff's Contract agreement to the last business item on the March 20 agenda was met with continuous disruption in the live stream during City Council discussion with Sutter County Administrator Steven Smith and Sutter County Sheriff Brandon Barnes. City staff reportedly is working with Granicus to resolve the City Council live streaming problems.

The sheriff succinctly summed up the issues already set out for City Council in June 2023, along with the accommodations made in August 2023. If the contract was approved now, Barnes restated, the parties could meet and cover in an addendum if necessary any data obtained later or details for specific services acquired. After much reiteration, Barnes commended his staff on behalf of their work for Live Oak and ended their participation for the night. The motion to accept the contract was then passed unanimously.

A several-minutes-long teaching from Biblical text to not be "uncompromisingly righteous" was presented by Andrew Berlsein as part of the meeting's invocation.

Sutter County Fire Chief John Shalowitz, assisted by Golden State Fire Apparatus sales representative Brad Hanson, made an informational presentation about purchasing a new fire engine. City Council was told costs for new engines were going up quarterly, the current price being $898,000 with a 48- to 52- month wait time.

Hanson explained that there is a 6,000-engine backup and only 1,500 engines can be built in a year. New emission standards will go into effect in January 2028 and with that an additional $110,000 will be added to the cost. Hanson added another increase in interest to 1 to 1¼% is expected, saying City Council would not be able to obtain longer than a 15-year loan. The city was informed that if it prepays now, the price would be $850,000; if it buys later, $998,000.

When Vice-Mayor Nancy Santana inquired to whom the Fire Department goes for engine repairs, Shalowitz said that the Yuba City Fire Department mechanic is sometimes used and "sometimes they go to Sacramento." Santana asked if the city

Genealogy is also one of the most popular hobbies in the United States, surpassed only by gardening. It's not surprising that both hobbies have common threads, including roots, trees and a lot of digging to be successful, according to John Edmondson at FamilySearch.org.

Quarterly City Update Promises New Business, Residential

By Angela Underwood

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - Yuba City is growing.

That was the message at the March 19 Yuba City Council meeting, where Ashley Potocnik, development liaison, detailed the descriptive new changes since her last report on Development Services, which include building, code enforcement, planning, housing, and community development block grants, as well as public works.

"All of this is part of the You Can City Initiative," says Potocnik, adding that the business support action is meant to facilitate and help commerce and development in town.

Existing and new businesses benefit from the initiative based on the four c's.

"It's kind of dorky," Potocnik said of the acronym. "But it's by prioritizing connection, customer service, communication, and collaboration."

A new significant development includes the Harter Marketplace project, a mixed-use residential/commercial project on the west side of the Walmart center that will have an ARCO gas station, Raising Canes, and Dutch Brothers.

"We recently put up this development banner; maybe some of you have seen it," Potocnik said, adding that another commercial development underway is the Raley's Shopping Center. "I am sure you have seen it since they have been constructing a new façade or front."

According to the development liaison, there is "a lot" of single-family housing being built, with some purchases and occupancy already in place. The four complexes under construction are Harter South, Henson Ranch, Dunn Ranch, and Domain. Johnson Ranch Estates has site work pending.

Multi-family housing includes a small apartment complex on B Street, with 12 units under construction, and "then there is a 24-unit apartment complex under planning review right now along Pluma Street," Potocnik said.

She said that development applications are on the rise, adding, "We are on track to be close to 30 single-family homes in the first quarter, and last year we had 32, so you can see there is development happening."

Another key development is Merriment Village Apartments on Walton Avenue, comprised of 79 income-based units being constructed with $24 million in Homekey grant funds. When it comes to keeping up existing structures, Potocnik said code enforcement is looking good, showing before and after pictures of local improvements.

There are more improvements to be made, with Potocnik asking council members and the public to submit a form on the city website for city officials to record them.

"Or you can get a little mobile app if you are into maps and submit it," Potocnik said.

Other projects under review include a two-story career training center on Harter Parkway, a car wash on the southwest corner of Franklin and Walton, and a Quick-Serve Restaurant in Franklin Plaza on the northwest corner of Franklin and Walton.

Lastly, the public works department has significant infrastructure projects, including $30 million in private and public upgrades in South Yuba City, improving Bogue Road from SR99 to Railroad Ave.

"You might not think they (infrastructure projects) are important, but infrastructure is key in order for business and development to thrive," Potocnik said.

The public works department will remain busy, starting green space projects this summer, beginning with the Sutter Bike Path connecting to Harter Parkway, new bocce ball courts at Sam Brannan Park, and a play structure at Shanghai Garden Park.

Potocnik said the quarterly updates are not only important to let the council know what is going on, but "the big piece is to let the community know what is going on." Potocnik encouraged residents to attend the "Shop Talk" meetings with business owners and developers.

Mayor Shon Harris said t's exciting to see the great things happening in Yuba City.

"The ‘You Can with Yuba City’ initiative is at work to build a thriving community," Mayor Harris said.

The 30 instant prizes were donated by Yuba City sponsors and business owners.

Carly Woods from Oregon was visiting her cousins in Yuba City. She got into the spirit of the day by dressing warmly in a full bunny suit.

“Well, this is actually a unicorn suit and I put bunny ears on it,” she said. Carly was also very happy that the Bunny Hop wasn’t as crowded as last year, which made it easier to visit the businesses along the Plumas Street strip.

Yuba City Commission Members Excited for Future

By Angela Underwood

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - Newly appointed and reappointed Parks & Recreation and Senior Commissioners are passionate about people.

Reappointed Senior Commissioner Tanna Thomas said that he can build relationships and advocate for the older adults in Yuba City as one of five senior commissioners who attend various civic meetings.

"I have served on the Yuba City Senior Commission for ten years and sought to serve another term because I believe the commission's efforts to be visible and engaged with the older adult population in Yuba City continue to be valuable," Thomas said.

Thomas, an Agency on Aging/ Area 4 Advisory Council member for seven counties, said the Senior Commission serves as an advisory board to Yuba City's mayor, council, city manager, and community services department on issues impacting the large older population.

Thomas cites the National Institute on Aging, which states, "There are more Americans ages 65 and older—just over 49 million, according to the U.S. Census—than at any other time in history."

"Those numbers are expected to grow as more Baby Boomers, individuals born between 1946 and 1964, reach retirement age," Thomas said. "Older adults are a valuable part of our community, and those who remain active and socially involved are more likely to enjoy a healthier and better quality of life."

Quality of life is precisely what the Yuba City Senior Center offers, starting with weekly activities, including Friday night bingo and waffle Wednesday. Not to mention, there are frequent bus trips and monthly schedules filled with activities like yoga, body toning, poker, watercolor painting, quilting, and knitting.

Looking forward to another four years, two-term Senior Commissioner Tony Kurlan knows the importance of seniors moving.

Kurlan said.

Also involved in various non-profits, civic-minded groups, and social organizations, Kurlan said one goal of the commission through the city website and social media.

"I want to continue to be a vehicle for seniors to express their needs and to pass those

"Keeping our minds active and using our bodies, even if somewhat diminished by age, helps us stay focused on activities—dancing, card-playing, ceramics, just plain socializing with others," is to open discussions on how best to utilize the Yuba Senior Center for both residents and non-residents. Another goal is to continue publicizing the various activities, trips, and speakers needs along to city department heads and the city council as needed," Kurlan said.

Newly appointed Parks & Recreation Commissioner Pawan Rai said her passion for serving as a member stems from a deep belief in the transformative power of public spaces and recreational activities to enhance community well-being.

"My background in psychology, healthcare, and project management allows for a perspective that promotes mental health and social connection while ensuring projects are completed on time, within budget, and meet the community's needs," Rai said.

According to Rai, the Parks and Recreation Commission plays a critical role, providing oversight, policy guidance, and strategic planning assistance to ensure department initiatives align with the community's needs and values.

As a platform for community members to voice their opinions and suggestions regarding parks and recreation services, Rai said it is the commission's job to ensure public spaces and programs are responsive and tailored to the diverse needs of our residents.

"Involvement in the community's recreation system is vital for residents as it fosters a sense of belonging and collective identity," Rai said. "Parks and recreational activities provide a common ground where individuals from diverse backgrounds can come together, share experiences, and build lasting relationships."

Those relationships begin young with community sports leagues for all ages, recreation classes, and park events that, according to Rai, encourage community engagement while also promoting a culture of engagement and mutual support.

"Through these shared experiences, residents develop a deeper appreciation for their community and a vested interest in its success and sustainability," Rai said.

Whether young or old, Yuba City's newest commission members are sure to keep residents active and connected, all that matters most in a community. ★

Grange Co-op Receives USDA Grant

Grange Co-op News Release

WHITE CITY, OR (MPG) - Grange Cooperative Supply Association ("Grange Co-op"), a leading agricultural cooperative based in White City, Oregon, has been awarded a $1.5 million grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) as part of the Organic Market Development Grant program. The grant aims to support the expansion of processing capacity for organic grain feed, addressing critical needs within the nation's growing organic industry.

With this funding, Grange Co-op plans to significantly enhance its processing capabilities to meet the increasing demand for organic grain feed, particularly in the livestock sector. The project will not only benefit organic producers but also contribute to meeting the rising consumer demand for organic products.

"Grange Co-op is thrilled to receive this grant from USDA, which will allow us to expand our processing capacity and better serve the organic farming community," said Neil Itzen, CEO. "This investment will enable us to meet the growing demand for organic grain feed and contribute to the development of a more resilient and sustainable food system."

The project's objectives include expanding processing capacity to create more market opportunities for organic producers. It also includes executing marketing and promotional activities to build commercial markets for U.S. organic grain feed products.

The expansion of processing capacity will not only support organic producers in meeting market demands but also contribute to reducing the United States' dependence on imported organic grain feed. By investing in infrastructure and marketing efforts, Grange Co-op aims to strengthen the domestic organic grain feed market and foster a more sustainable agricultural landscape.

Grange Co-op expresses gratitude to USDA for its support and reaffirms its commitment to promoting organic agriculture and enhancing market opportunities for organic producers. Grange Co-op also thanks Morrison for its assistance with grant writing. ★

Two Individuals Arrested After Street Racing

Sutter County Sheriff's Office News Release

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - At approximately 10 p.m. on March 24, the Yuba City Police Department was involved in a vehicle pursuit with a Silver Infiniti in the area of Franklin Road. The Infiniti evaded YCPD and the vehicle was not located. Sutter County Deputies were monitoring traffic at Railroad Avenue and Stweart Road when a Silver Infiniti blew through the stop sign at about 100 MPH. The Infiniti then proceeded to the area of Bogue Road and Garden Highway, traveling north bound on Garden Highway at a consistent speed of roughly 100 MPH. Sutter County Deputies attempted to stop the vehicle, but it continued to flee northbound Garden Highway.

After a short pursuit, the Infiniti crashed into a curb at Garden Highway and Epley Drive, colliding with a power pole and the bus stop on Garden Highway. The engine compartment of the vehicle then caught fire due to the collision. Both the passenger and driver were removed from the vehicle. The driver was transported to UC Davis Medical Center with non-life-threatening injuries.

The driver was identified as 24-year-old Jonathan Rangel Ramirez and the passenger was identified as 29-year-old Guillermo Figueroa, both out of Yuba City. Both occupants were highly intoxicated, and alcohol was located in the vehicle. Due to the nature of this incident, a DUI warrant was issued for Ramirez's blood sample. A parole hold was placed on Figueroa and potential charges will be added.

It is believed this vehicle is a result of a Street Racing and Sideshow. At this time, the Sutter County Sheriff's Office and the Yuba City Police Department would like to make a statement regarding Street Racing and Sideshows. We have found this to be problematic in our area and would like to refrain from any further incidents as such. If you see what you believe to be a Street Race or Sideshow, please contact local authorities. ★

Yuba River Endowment Donates $50,000 to Twin Cities Rescue Mission

Yuba River Endowment News Release

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - During a live radio interview, representatives from the Yuba River Endowment surprised the Twin Cities Rescue Mission Executive Director, Aaron Walrath, with a $50,000 donation to assist in facility repairs caused by the recent storms.

"I thought I was going to fall out of my chair," said Walrath. "We are eternally grateful for the generosity of founding local farmers who started the Mission and now we have come full circle, thanking this new group of farmers who gave $50,000 to rebuild it!"

The Twin Cities Rescue Mission was founded in 1958 with $5.00 each from 16 local farmers. Located at 940 14th Street in Marysville, the Mission offers meals, showers, clothes, shelter, and services to local homeless men, and men overcoming addictions. The Mission is funded solely through private donations.

High winds during a recent major storm caused significant roof and internal damage to the Mission's dormitory building. The damage exposed significant additional work that is not covered by insurance, including electrical upgrades, asbestos and lead abatement, structural issues, and more.

"Most of us had no idea the vital role the Mission plays for our local homeless and addicted men," said Yuba River Endowment Board Member, Mike Filice. "Our community is blessed to have Aaron and the dedicated volunteers of the Mission. They are truly our unsung heroes."

The Yuba River Endowment is a non-profit organization created by Yuba County farmers who have a right to water that flows on the Yuba River. In some years the farmers are able to transfer a portion of their water to drought-stricken areas of the state. Proceeds from these transfers provide the funding for the Yuba River Endowment. Since formation in late 2019, the Endowment has donated over $750,000 to support Yuba County ag education, provide food resources, veteran's support, scholarships and more.

"As farmers, we believe in a hand up, not a hand-out," Filice said. "Hearing Aaron's success in turning the Mission's around and helping hundreds of local homeless men get off the streets and rebuild their lives is amazing, and we are honored to be a small part of helping this amazing group."

This Month In Your Garden

BALD MOUNTAIN NURSERY

6195 BALD MOUNTAIN ROAD • BROWNS VALLEY, CA • 530-743-4856

Now is a good time to get your vegetable garden prepped for planting. Watch temperatures closely when getting ready to plant your vegetable garden. April is a good time for it but sometimes early April still brings some very cold nights. Keep in mind that the night time temperatures should be at a consistent 50 degrees to sustain the best growth. Seeds that have been planted should be fine, but small plants can be stunted by cold nights. Many people feel that April is a late start, but, that is an opinion, not a fact. Monitor the night time temperatures for a few nights and make your decision. There are lots of microclimates in our area, depending on whether you are up on the hill or in a valley where the cold is more apt to settle – the difference in temperatures can be significant. Traditionally, the consensus was to wait till May because of the almost inevitable late cold spell that is apt to come along and freeze the small plants making it necessary to start all over again. That has changed over the years and now April is usually when most get their vegetable gardens in, but waiting till May is not too late.

If you planted any fruit trees during bare root season or recently purchased any in containers, this is just a reminder that the tree trunk should be painted with white water based paint from the ground up to the first limbs to protect them from sunburn. Dilute the paint with water by 50%. Sunburn can cause the young, still thin bark to crack creating a possible entrance for pests, and failure of the tree do to splitting between the graft and the trunk of the tree. As we get into the hot weather, the young trees will need a good, deep watering one to two times a week, depending on how hot it is. This is very important to help them develop deep roots to become healthy trees. A quick watering every day or so will develop shallow roots that will not be able to sustain them well as they grow larger. This actually applies to any trees you may plant - especially with the hot weather that we know is coming along. Roots seek the water wherever it is.

Be sure to start spraying roses with a rose fungicide. With as wet as it has been this year, it will be a bad year for black spot and powdery mildew on your roses. Spraying with a fungicide before it starts helps to keep it away. If it gets started it's harder to cure than if you can prevent it.

Now is the time to start fertilizing trees and shrubs. An all-purpose fertilizer works for nearly all the plants in the landscape. Citrus trees need a citrus fertilizer. Roses will benefit from a rose food but all-purpose fertilizer works well on them too. Fertilize roses regularly. They are heavy feeders. You can use a systemic rose food to control aphids as well as feeding them.

Citrus trees are available and have been blooming and soon the very small fruit will be seen in their place. They are probably no longer in need of protection from cold weather, but be ready to protect them should some freezing weather be predicted. Citrus trees should be fertilized regularly to keep them nice and green. If they begin to have yellow leaves with green veins they should be given some chelated iron.

This is a good time to plant a new lawn if that is in your plans. It is much easier to do it now before the daytime temperatures become hot. Seems like the rain is coming to an end after next week and temperatures will warm a bit so the seed should germinate well. It's better to do it now than to wait until it is hot.

$5 Million Grant to Help Citrus Farmers Nourish Healthy Soils

California Farm Bureau News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - A new collaborative effort will provide financial support for healthy-soils conservation management practices for citrus farmers in 11 California counties.

Beginning March 25, citrus growers will be able to enroll in a program that awards up to $200,000 for farm projects to help foster climate resilience and long-term sustainability for California's citrus sector.

The effort was made possible after the California Department of Food and Agriculture awarded $5 million from the Healthy Soils Program Block Grant to the California Bountiful Foundation, the California Citrus Quality Council and Xerces Society. The California Bountiful Foundation, the 501(c)(3) nonprofit science, research, and education arm of the California Farm Bureau, is administering all aspects of the program grant.

Key program activities include webinars, one-on-one technical assistance, translation services and direct financial incentives to support the adoption of healthy-soils management practices such as cover cropping, conservation cover, reduced tillage, whole orchard recycling, nutrient management, and pollinator-friendly hedgerow plants. The program is set to support 20 to 45 projects over three years.

"Our goal at the California Bountiful Foundation is to make it very easy for citrus growers to enter into the program and implement healthy soils management practices," said Dr. Amrith Gunasekara, director of the California Bountiful Foundation. "We see ourselves as a one-stop shop where citrus growers will get a very high degree of service through this program."

A key aspect of the program is its commitment to social equity, with a focus on aiding socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers, women, military veterans, and small-scale farms. Citrus growers in Fresno, Imperial, Kern, Kings, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, Tulare, San Diego, Placer, and Ventura counties are encouraged to enroll.

"In supporting our growers with conservation expertise and financial support, we are setting the stage for sustaining agriculture and building a resilient citrus industry for well into the future," said California Farm Bureau President Shannon Douglass.

For details on how to apply for funding and to register for a March 26 webinar on the program, visit californiabountifulfoundation.com and click on the Healthy Soils Program link. For additional information, contact Margaret Honig at mhonig@cfbf.com or (916)-561-5504.

The California Farm Bureau works to protect family farms and ranches on behalf of more than 26,000 members statewide and as part of a nationwide network of 5.8 million Farm Bureau members. ★

Don't Risk It All

Dear Dave,

My husband is a good, hard-working man, who has been stuck in a job he really doesn't like for almost 10 years. He came to me the other day with an idea to cash out his 401(k) and using the money to open a business. He has always loved the idea of going into business for himself, and I want him to be happy, but I'm not sure this is a good idea. Do you have any advice?

– Renee

Dear Renee,

Yes, I do have some advice. And it can be summed up in one word.

Don't.

I admire your husband's spirit, but the way he wants to approach this turns the entire situation into a trap. Think about it. If his business idea doesn't work out, you guys have lost your retirement savings, and bankruptcy becomes a very real possibility. Diving head-first into opening a new business just because you're bored with your current situation, or tired of answering to others, is not a good idea.

Look, I get it. Lots of folks have an entrepreneurial spirit. And everyone I know like that wants to live their dream. The problem is these dreams can turn into nightmares, for the entrepreneur and everyone around them, if they don't plan wisely and very carefully ahead of time.

In my mind, one definition of a nightmare in business is "going all in." When you're playing cards, this means betting everything on a single hand. You never go "all in" when it comes to business. So, for the moment, the first question he needs to ask himself is this: How can I live my dream without going all in?

For starters, he needs to find something he truly loves doing and can look forward to every single day. To have any chance of success, he'll have to live and breathe that idea. I know you love this guy and want to help. So, the best thing you can do right now is express your concerns about his idea, and offer to help him think about what he could do every day that would make him smile. Once he has the answer to that question, the next step is figuring out how to start that business without putting your entire financial world in danger. In other words, how can he save up some money—and start small—instead of blowing your entire savings or going into debt?

If you have some cash other than your emergency fund or retirement fund, it's okay to use some of that. But never, ever, go into debt to start a business, or pledge every dime you have to something that could be a complete disaster.

It's not an either/or proposition, Renee. He doesn't have to risk it all to get away from a job he hates and live his dream!

– Dave

Stock Option Fun

Investors, especially young ones, always ask me about stock options. In my years of trading, actually decades, I have seen one day losses that would make your hair curl, and one day gains that would buy a new car.

My worst day was the 1987 one day crash that wiped me clean of $180K. Almost half of what I had accumulated as a young trader.

Over the decades, using what took me years to learn (and after many painful and costly lessons) option trading has become something I do daily. On some days I make as many as 20 to 30 trades a day.

But that one day in October, 1987, known as Black Monday, was obviously not a good day nor were the weeks that followed. I was severely depressed for months.

The sting of that day has long since disappeared as my trading strategies and knowledge about how to trade options increased and I matured into a seasoned professional trader.

The lesson I learned from that day however was to always use one strategy what most if not all professional traders' use.

"Let your gains run and cut your losses".

I practice that religiously in my own trading, and in all portfolios and retirement accounts. An interesting side note is I know few if any professional advisors that do this in their clients' accounts. They may be out there but I don't run into them.

Why, I have not a clue, but you'll likely never find a professional trader using their own money or large hedge funds that manage billions that don't cut some if not all of their losses at some point, especially the option traders.

Options are highly leverage bets which can move so fast it can make your head spin. They are definitely not for the young, the inexperienced, traders who don't fully understand how they work, and investors who have no idea what a stop-loss strategy is.

There are hundreds of way to trade options, many with funny names and complex strategies which entail multiple positions and some with very complex math requirements needed in order to access risk and reward. Frankly there are so many, I don't know all of them and am still learning after decades of trading.

I see a fair number of investors that are semi-beginners that dabble in options. Most don't understand much of what options really do, how they work, and what the real risks are. As a result, I do hear stories of how some beginners make money, sometimes a lot of money, but the majority of novice options traders that I run across who dabble in this very volatile market lose. And some lose big time.

It's impossible to describe all the ways one can trade options, as there are so many variations and strategies. Just know they are essentially leveraged bets, where an investor puts up some money, and begins the thrill ride that options provide. Whereas owning a share of stock may yield gains (or losses) of a dollar for each dollar of stock price movement, options can multiply those gains or losses many times over, and it can happen within hours, minutes or even seconds.

A hard fast rule is DON'T TRADE OPTIONS unless you know what you're doing. And knowing what you're doing may take hours, days or even years of study.

A beginning investor enticed by the possibility of the hyper accelerated movement of balances that options may provide should start by a hard study of what options are, the difference between what kind of options are out there, then set up a bogus option account where no actual money is deposited. In other words, you use what I call ghost trading, more commonly known as paper trading, where you don't actually trade but just track how you would have done had you used real money.

There are many platforms you can use that are available for paper trading on the web and as much educational material one would want.

In conclusion, I would avoid buying a service that recommends actual option trades until you understand how options work and the risks they entail.

Now, are we ready for spring? Our days will be getting a little longer, the weather a little warmer. It is time to plant plants that don't freeze: peas, broccoli (and other cole crops), radishes and more. I put pansys in and am watching for the lilacs to bloom. Redbud is pretty and dogwood will be blooming soon. I am glad to be in this area where we can get a good look at nature as the seasons change.

Easter is a bit early this year. There will be one or two egg hunts on March 30. It is a time for families to gather, go to church together and come back to the house (or park) for a gathering and plenty of food. I hope for a beautiful spring day.

Welcome back on the YF Community Services board: Gary Ellis. We also welcome Marshall Lewis. Now to look forward to another year of activities. We are glad to see Clay Thompson has the Blues Festival back on Labor Day Sunday. How can you help? Volunteer! Attend meetings! We meet the second Tuesday of the month at 7 pm downstairs at the community hall. Come get involved, please.

Look back in Time – In 1925 work was progressing at the Beever Resort below Brownsville, on a 15-room hotel, 50 cottages, swimming pool, golf course and dance hall (how long did that resort last).

Hope to see you soon in Brownsville.

California Agrees to Water-Supply Cuts from Colorado River

California has agreed to make long-term cuts to the amount of water the state uses from the Colorado River. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation and seven states in the Colorado River Basin, as well as 30 tribes and Mexico, are negotiating a plan to protect the river after a decades-long megadrought depleted flows and left key reservoirs Lake Mead and Lake Powell in danger of running dry. Under a Lower Basin states' proposal, which would take effect after 2026 and potentially last decades, California would forfeit about 10% of its allocation in most conditions.

With Groundwater Law to Turn 10 in 2024, Challenges Remain for Farmers

California's landmark 2014 Sustainable Groundwater Management Act, which requires local agencies to create a roadmap to protect aquifer supplies for generations to come, turns 10 this year. The law was adopted amid the 2012-2015 drought, when a lack of surface water and depleted groundwater brought agriculture—especially California's citrus belt on the east side of the San Joaquin Valley—to a near halt. SGMA presents a difficult adjustment for agriculture. Researchers say the groundwater law could result in the fallowing of between 500,000 and 1 million acres of farmland.

Spring Planting Means Decision Time for California Farmers

Falling commodity prices, rising production costs and water supply uncertainty are some of the factors weighing on planting decisions for California farmers this season. They say their crop options have narrowed, with canneries needing less acreage of processing tomatoes and a major seed company ending its sunflower seed program in California. Growers who have pulled out permanent crops such as almonds and walnuts in recent years due to lower prices are also looking to plant annual crops on the open ground. Cotton and feed crops, such as corn silage, may be possibilities.

Researchers Study Whether Agave Can Be State's Next Drought-Tolerant Crop

Researchers at the University of California, Davis, are studying agave plants as a potential drought-tolerant option for California farmers. The research is centered on agave genetics, virus susceptibility, pest control, soil management and crop productivity. UC Davis began investigating the crop after farm owners Stuart and Lisa Woolf established a research fund to determine if agave is viable for agriculture in California. Agave, used to produce tequila and mezcal in Mexico, can be distilled into spirits, used as a fiber or converted into a sweetener. ★

Have You Said Thank You?

Sometimes we are most grateful for those people who never let us slide.

Tough love they say is sometimes needed.

I have no doubt I would not be writing without the help I was given along the way.

Of course the main source of help is first and foremost God. He has opened doors and He has provided the initial talent and courage to walk this path.

My earthly encouragers and teachers deserve to be thanked. So Deb Kantrud, Sharon Dietz and Darrel Oech; Thank you. That's a start.

That's just the tip of the iceberg.

I'm a 75 year old woman who has survived this long because of help along the way.

None of us succeed, survive or excel without the help of others.

I've been applauded from time to time for re-inventing myself once widowed.

I deserve no credit. Without the help of God and a whole bevy of people my regrouping of life just would not have happened.

Is there someone you need to thank?

This may be the day to start your list.

Because of the people in my path, life is good today.

YUBA COUNTY PET OF THE WEEK

My Name's Luka

Hey, I'm Luka, a 6 month old, black and tan German Shepherd pup. I am the dog of your dreams. I love going on playdates with other dogs, relaxing on the grass in the sunshine, eating all the treats in the world, playing with my toys, and giving you as many cuddles as I can. I am great with kids and mellow out after I stretch my legs. I am looking for my furever home. I have been at Yuba County Animal Care Services for a couple weeks and I guess my person just hasn't found me yet. I need your help finding the home I deserve and long for. If I sound like the guy for you, please call us at 530-741-6478. A202589 ★

The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale or visit the Internet Website www.nationwideposting.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA07001465-23-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLO-

SURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916.939.0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA07001465-23-1 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. # Yuba County’s Resiliency is Something We All Should Pay Attention To

By Akki Patel

Don’t overlook Yuba County. Situated about two hours each from two Northern California destination spots – San Francisco to the west and Lake Tahoe to the east – the county has plenty to offer to both residents and visitors alike, as evidenced by its steady population increase for more than a decade. That growth is expected to continue in the coming years — and the county is poised to serve as a blueprint for economic and community prosperity for the rest of the state.

The draws are obvious. Yuba County presents the perfect bucolic getaway with its unique and breathtaking natural beauty, scenic rivers, outdoor activities, and rich gold rush history. Tourists can also enjoy themselves at the Hard Rock Hotel & Casino, Marysville Drakes professional baseball games and with top concerts at the Toyota Amphitheatre. But in regions such as Plumas Lake, residents and tourists looking for more amenities and retail and hospitality options must travel outside the area—which is why our company, in partnership with the American Hospitality group, chose this location for our much-anticipated retail development project on NEC Feather River & Chalice Creek.

As communities such as Plumas Lake grow, it’s critical that local and new businesses grow along with it, contributing to its local economy, creating more jobs, and helping the environment by eliminating the need to travel to neighboring and not-so-neighboring cities for retail, dining and lodging choices.

Adding to the community’s diverse choices of activities makes the county a prime spot for growth.

The Yuba County Economic Forecast paints a bright future. The 2022 report is predicting continued steady growth through 2027, mirroring the county’s recent history. Between 2010 and 2022, the county grew by an average of 1.3% per year – with a spike of 4.4% during the pre-pandemic year between 2019 and 2020. Its population now stands at more than 84,000, compared to 72,000 in 2010.

Yuba County proved its resiliency over the last few years. According to the county forecast, “The pandemic lockdowns and business restrictions that characterized much of 2020 and the first half of the 2021 had very little effect on Yuba County. Consequently, the Yuba labor market was one of the first counties in California to recover from the recession.”

The county forecast predicts continued prosperity, with job growth – led by the healthcare sector – averaging 1.6% through 2026. Employment in leisure and hospitality, government, and construction are also expected to be strong.

Despite a 15% increase in home prices in 2021, the median home value of $384,500 in Yuba County is much more affordable than homes in many other parts of California. For example, the typical household spends just 20% of its income on housing costs, whereas in Coastal California, households often spend 35-50% on mortgage payments or rent. It stands to reason that this will continue to attract new residents to the region, which, in turn, will contribute to the economic and population growth of the county.

It’s easy to focus on headlines from major cities across the country that have been struggling to recover from the pandemic. But what many people may be overlooking are the smaller communities, where communities are not only coming back, but are ripe with opportunities for new businesses and industries to serve growing populations and tourists.

Yuba County is one of those places that demands our attention.

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

The Kentucky Derby is right around the corner, but for the Sacramento Kings this is their version of coming down the home stretch. The recent 2-1 road trip is reason for celebration, and the recent nail-biting win over the Orlando Magic should have every fan applauding.

It's hard to imagine any game that our multi-talented 6th man Malik Monk goes 0-11 from the field, and still the Kings pull out a victory. Still, that's what happened, and once again this frenetic squad continues to amaze.

What Domantas Sabonis is doing nightly is awe-inspiring, and I for one believe he will eventually set a new NBA record for consecutive double doubles. Imagine leading the league in rebounds for a second consecutive season, as well as leading the league in triple doubles.

Thirteen games to go, and for any naysayers as it relates to matching or exceeding last years 48 wins, I say shame on you. Dream the dream, and get behind these guys.

I love the way they play together, and when someone hits the hardwood, it's a mad dash to see who is going to help him up first!

The smiles these guys bring nightly are genuine, and if you need any more inspiration, I'd recommend watching the movie Hoosiers one more time. I can feel the magic in this team, and I'm beyond excited to see what the last 13 games will look like.

Every team in the NBA passed on Keon Ellis, and it took the Sacramento Kings to see promise in him. Rising from the depths of the G league, this unlikely prospect is having his own version of a coming out party.

The recent injury to popular Kevin Huerter has given Keon a temporary starting spot, and it appears he would like to make a case for it being permanent. Keon had a career-high 19 points in the gritty win over the Magic, and his defense has been consistent the entire season. Fast feet, quick hands, and stamina give Keon an edge that he takes advantage of every night, and like teammates Domantas Sabonis and De'Aaron Fox, he brings his lunch pail to work every night.

This team is full of unselfish players that not only talk the talk, but walk the walk.

Every year 30 teams begin the season with dreams of a championship, and it takes a grueling 82 games before the playoffs begin. This year the Kings have a real shot at either the 5th or 6th spot, which would avoid the uncertainty of a one game playoff in the new format called the play-in for teams in the 7th thru 10th positions.

Over and over again this season, the Kings have beaten teams that are headed for the playoffs, and currently have a 50% winning percentage over teams they've faced with a winning record.

The Kings face a tough 76er squad Monday night, and then play back-to-back games against the Dallas Mavericks Tuesday and Friday nights.

Dallas has an identical record to the Kings, so this mini home stand looms large in determining who will make the top 6 and avoid the dreaded play-in.

Why am I so optimistic? For one, the Kings have finally found some rhythm from the free-throw line, and although their overall percentage for the season is still abysmal, their recent performances are showing great improvement. Couple that with Keon Ellis's sudden offensive outburst, the yeoman like performances nightly from Sabonis and Fox, and the overall team defense that has suddenly hit their stride: hold onto your seats!

Coach Brown has suddenly been able to win some challenges, and that could not have come at a better time.

Sadly, NBA officiating, in my humble opinion, may be at an all-time low, and without a doubt, the league will need to address much needed changes in the off-season.

With heralded 7th man Trey Lyles sidelined with a knee sprain, it's critical that bench players Alex Len and Davion Mitchell continue to shine. Both players have a big upside, and the extended minutes they are likely to see will undoubtedly pay dividends when the playoffs arrive.

I continue to say that matching or exceeding the 48 wins from last season is not beyond this team's capability, so as fans let's give them all the encouragement we can.

Buckle up, but by all means get excited. This is what basketball is all about, and we have a real team to root for!

Give me your thoughts at vgharriskings-fan@gmail.com.

Enjoy the home stretch!

Huskies Stay Perfect in Sweep over Twelve Bridges

Sutter junior pitcher Jonny Munger (12) tosses a pitch in the Huskies’ 15-2 victory over Twelve Bridges on Tuesday, March 19.

Story and photos by Steven Bryla

SUTTER

SUTTER, CA (MPG) - The Sutter Huskies stayed perfect on the season as they swept the two-game series against Twelve Bridges in 15-2 and 2-1 victories.

On Tuesday, March 19, Sutter blasted Twelve Bridges in the series opener and eventually run-ruled the game in five innings. Sutter junior pitcher Jonny Munger pitched five innings, gave up two hits along with two runs and struck out three.

Huskies senior pitcher/outfielder Rylan Giovannoni and junior outfielder Carson Bishop still lead Sutter in hits on the season, but heading into the San Diego Lions tournament that began on Monday, March 25, the Huskies had a team batting average of over .319.

Sutter junior outfielder Carson Bishop (3) steals a bag in the Huskies’ 15-2 win against Twelve Bridges on Tuesday, March 19

Giovannoni told the Dispatch that he is seeing the ball better off the bat by treating an at-bat like a two-strike approach.

Giovannoni added that they are going to continue giving their best effort every game regardless of the result of the game.

Huskies Head Coach Stewart Peterson told the Dispatch that a lot of the team has done a lot of extra work to fine tune their craft.

In the Sutter 2-1 victory on Thursday, Marcy 21, Huskies senior pitcher Kasey Combo picked up his fourth win on the season, which was the most on the team prior to the beginning of the San Diego tournament.

Combo was utilized as a relief pitcher last season with 11 appearances, and this season he is being utilized as a reliever and a starter.

Combo said to the Dispatch that the only difference between being a starter and having a relief role is the first inning. He added he feels his velocity has gone up and stamina has risen in the past year.

In his 25.1 innings of work prior to the tournament, Combo was 4-0 with a 1.11 earned run average and allowed 15 hits, and struck out 24 opposing hitters.

MARYSVILLE

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - The Marysville Indians baseball team was swept by the Bear River Bruins in both games last week.

The 6-2 loss on March 19 and 5-0 loss on March 21 kept the Indians winless in the Pioneer Valley League, but they did beat the Western Sierra Collegiate Academy of Rocklin on Monday, March 18, 10-3.

Marysville junior infielder Benjamin Barajas and freshman pitcher Julien Johnson are two of the offensive bright spots in the Indians hitting lineup.

The Indians were scheduled to host Florin (Sacramento) on Monday and to continue PVL play this week against Wheatland on Tuesday and Thursday.

Wheatland was a perfect 4-0 going into the PVL series against Marysville as the Pirates swept Twelve Bridges and Colfax in the first two league series.

RIVER VALLEY

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - The River Valley Falcons baseball team split their games last week as they lost to Las Plumas and beat Grant in their first of a two-week break from Capital Valley Conference play.

In the 7-0 loss to Las Plumas on Tuesday, March 19, Las Plumas did their damage in the second inning as a couple of errors and walks contributed to an early 5-0 lead for the Thunderbirds.

A River Valley senior infielder had three hits in the game, including a couple doubles to put himself in scoring position, but was unable to score from there.

The Falcons were unable to complete a minimum number of innings to complete a game against Grant on Friday, March 22, due to the weather conditions as they were able to get three innings complete. River Valley was up 3-0 prior to the game being called a no-contest.

YUBA CITY

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - The Yuba City Honkers baseball team went 1-2 last week in Capital Valley Conference play as they lost two of the three games in a series with Roseville.

Yuba City is currently .500 in the CVC at 3-3 and they were scheduled to play in the El Camino Spring tournament this week.

The starting pitching for the Honkers did a great job of starting the rotation as they all made it into the fifth inning.

Yuba City senior Cameron Johnson hit his second home run of the season during the top of the fifth inning to take a 4-3 lead in the 6-3 victory over Roseville on Friday, March 22.

According to the Honkers schedule, they were scheduled to play Cordova and Grant this past Monday to open the El Camino tournament. ★

RIVER VALLEY

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - The softball matchup between the River Valley Lady Falcons and the Marysville Lady Indians was cut short on Friday, March 22, due to weather conditions, and without being able to complete a minimum requirement of innings, the game couldn’t be recorded.

The game was called in the top of the fourth inning after River Valley had put five runs on the board with no outs in the inning and the wet weather affected some of the play on the field.

At the time the game was called, there was no clarity if the game would be rescheduled.

River Valley lost their Capital Valley Conference opener at Antelope on Tuesday, March 19. The Lady Falcons jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but a couple hits late in the bottom of the sixth inning propelled Antelope for the win.

The only games scheduled for the Lady Falcons this week are scheduled for tomorrow, Saturday, March 30, as they host a double header against Yamhill-Carlton (Oregon), who are on a week-long road trip playing as they played a couple games in Bakersfield, prior to coming to the Yuba-Sutter area.

The second half of the back-to-back River Valley is scheduled to play against Bradshaw Christian (Sacramento).

Marysville was scheduled to continue Pioneer Valley League play against Wheatland on Tuesday, and at Sutter on Thursday.

went 3-0 from March 18-22 with wins over Woodcreek, Antelope and Lincoln.

The 1-0 win against Capital Valley Conference foe Woodcreek was the first win for the Yuba City program since the 2022 season, and Lady Honkers sophomore outfielder Taylorlyn Anderson hit a solo home run in the bottom of the third for the only run of the game.

Yuba City went 2-0 in the CVC as they run-ruled Antelope on Thursday, March 21, in a 10-0 win and on the following day in a 18-5 victory over Lincoln.

Lady Honkers Head Coach Patty Gates told the Dispatch she continues to be amazed and happy with the girls on a daily basis for all of the hard work ethic they bring on a daily basis to one another.

Yuba City had no games scheduled this week and they are scheduled for their next CVC against crosstown rival River Valley on Tuesday, April 2, as they host the Lady Falcons.

Gates told the Dispatch they are going to be focusing on growing as a team and getting focused on health in the break between games.

SUTTER

SUTTER, CA (MPG) - The Sutter Union girls softball team is locked in as they continued their blasting offense into the stratosphere with two more run-ruled games for the ninth time this season.

The Lady Huskies outscored their Pioneer Valley League opponents this week with a margin of 40-1 against Colfax on Tuesday, March 19, and Bear River on Wednesday, March 20.

Sutter was scheduled to play Lindhurst and Marysville in PVL play this week before they are supposed to host Yamhill-Carlton (Oregon) today at 4 p.m.

Yahmhill-Carlton made it to the semifinals of the Oregon State 3A Championships last season, and finished as the 10th ranked team in Oregon at the conclusion of last season, according to MaxPreps.

The Lady Huskies high-powered offensive attack came into the week with hitting over .500 as a team, and like Head Coach Stefanie Danna expressed to the Dispatch in the preseason, the goal is to get ahead of teams early and often.

Following the conclusion of play today, Friday, March 29, Sutter will be traveling toward the southern California area next week as they compete in the Righetti Softball Tournament next weekend. ★
