Kids Day Encompasses 'Super Science'

A couple of young children had their faces painted at the 34th Annual Kids Day.

Story by Mitch Barber, photos by Rick Sloan

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The 34th Annual Kids Day at Hagan Community Park in Rancho Cordova last Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. was the place to be.

The event included free giveaways, free activities, and live animals to meet. There was even a bike rodeo, along with food and drink vendors. The event was additionally a health and resources fair which included vision, hearing and dental checks.

The target audience was children 12-years-old and younger, and their parents. The theme was "Super Science" and there was a mad scientist-themed playground.

The special event, which has taken place for more than three decades, was a smashing success, giving children the opportunity to interact with the world of

Commission Approves The Preserve's Major Design Review

By Sharon Pearce

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The short April 24 Rancho Cordova Planning Commission meeting focused on approving the major design review for Lennar Homes' The Preserve. The project is CEQA (California Environmental Quality Act) exempt. Its tentative subdivision map was approved in April 2022.

The Preserve is located north of Edington Drive and west of Raymer Way on 99.9 acres. The property owner is Family Real Property LP., and TDW Enterprises LP, Sacramento.

The development contains 440 finished lots and 12 floor plans. Entrances will run through Raymer Road, Thornburg Way and Eddington Drive.

It was given a low-density designation, 2.1:6 dwellings per acre, according to Chance Finley-Ross, assistant planner. Of the three residential setting styles, the Cion Collection is the smallest of the residences and has 172 lots at 45 feet by 90 feet, and 1,800 to 2,000 square feet. Cobalt, the largest of the residences, has 133 lots at 55 feet by 105 feet and 2,700 to 3,400 square feet. The Azure Collection has 135 parcels at 45 feet by 105 feet and the medium-size lots between 1,700 to 2,600 square feet.

The proposal includes four plan types and three architectural styles for each plan.

Commissioners Leroy Tripette and Surender Devarapalli had questions on two lots in the area designated Lots 80 and two final streets adjacent to other styled housing nearby, asking if those would visually seem "juxtaposed?" Planner Finley-Ross indicated "most likely not" and went over the effects of the heights of the residences and layouts on those streets and indicated there should be no problem with the lot numbers given their locations. Upon Commissioner Robert McGarvey's motion to approve the design review, it unanimously passed with four votes. Commissioner Lee Frechette was absent.

It was reported to the Commission that City Council is anticipated to choose two at-large Planning Commission members at its May 8 meeting. Once sworn in, they can attend Planning

Credit Union SACTOWN Run Raises $216,500

California and Nevada Credit Union Leagues News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The annual Credit Union SACTOWN Run on April 7 in Sacramento raised more than $216,500 for 11 Children's Miracle Network Hospitals (CMN) and helped local kids throughout California and Nevada receive the medical care they need.

More than 2,000 runners participated in this year's run, including 986 credit union employees and credit union members from across California and Nevada. The event, which started and ended on the Capitol Mall in front of the California State Capitol, featured a 10-mile race, 5K run/walk and Miracle Mile.

The run was hosted by the Sacramento Running Association

(SRA), a community-based nonprofit that promotes the sport of running in the greater Sacramento area, including the California International Marathon. It serves as the USA Track and Field's Pacific Association 10-Mile Championship.

"Thanks to incredible partners like the Sacramento Running Association and generous sponsors, runners and volunteers from California and Nevada, we are helping countless children at Children's Miracle Network Hospitals receive critical medical attention," said Diana Dykstra, president and CEO of the California and Nevada Credit Union Leagues (Ontario). "Because of the amazing work of so many credit union movement supporters, we're making a real difference for kids across both states. These funds directly support the CMN Hospital system, ensuring children and their families receive the best possible care and support. Thank you once again for creating even more miracles."

The annual Credit Union SACTOWN Run wouldn't be possible without the tireless efforts of credit union leaders and professionals from across California and Nevada.

Credit Union SACTOWN Run Champions, Race Times and Results

-10-Mile Run Champion (men): Silas Frantz (San Luis Obispo, CA) — 47:44 (time); 4:46 (pace). -10-Mile Run Champion (women): Cali Hauger-Thackery (Flagstaff, AZ) — 52:06 (time); 5:13 (pace).

-5K Run/Walk Champion (men): Anthony Mallory (Folsom, CA) — 16:18 (time); 5:14 (pace).

-5K Run/Walk Champion (women): Sara Wolf (Sacramento, CA) — 19:12 (time); 6:10 (pace).

- 1 0 - M i l e A D A Accommodations Champion: Johnny Comilang (Sacramento, CA) — 1:38:21 (time); 9:50 (pace).

Keep an eye out for Calli Hauger-Thackery at the 2024 Summer Olympics in Paris this August.

CMN 'Champion:' Shine Duby's Story

Each year, CMN Hospitals across the United States identify a "champion" in their local community to represent kids treated at the local children's hospital. This year's champion is Shine Duby, a "miracle baby" who beat all the odds through medical care and support, and who ran this year's Miracle Mile!

His story is living proof of the survivability of individuals with Popliteal Pterygium Syndrome (PPS) — Bartsocas-Papas type. He's a "shining" example of resilience in the face of adversity. Shine wouldn't be where he is without this team at UC Davis Children's Hospital. From the beginning, everyone supported him and always made his mother and family feel like he was cared for with loving attention and treatment. He's now living his best life and representing CMN at UC Davis.

The annual Credit Union SACTOWN Run is for kids such as Shine and so many others across California and Nevada. Thank you to everyone who participated in this year's event. ★

Bring On Spring

We think of springtime as renewal, a time of living life to the fullest. But let's be honest, there's also a thing called spring fever, and we tend to go drifting off into a world of 'I'll do that tomorrow.' According to Dr. Susan Smith-Jones, there are ways to enrich your life in springtime and it can be fun too. Dr Jones has made extraordinary contributions in the fields of holistic health, anti-aging, optimum nutrition, life balance and peaceful living. She travels the world in search of tools to make life positive and has authored some 30 books on lifestyle and good living to make it so. From "The Curative Kitchen and Lifestyle" and "Thrive" along with her latest "Uplifted" 12 minutes to more joy, faith, peace, kindness and vitality. She strives to get you to a better place in any season of the year. Bring on spring with these simple tips.

1. LISTEN TO MUSIC. Music is the food for the soul and an instant way to gain peace of mind. Enjoy your favorite music daily. 2. DEEP BREATHING. Take five long slow, deep breaths. This is a quick and easy way to instantly feel calm. 3. ENJOY NATURE. Too much concrete is never a good thing. Spending time in nature can actually make you feel younger and happier. 4. PLAY WITH A PET. Playing with a pet is a great way to de-stress. Touch is a powerful sense and eases tension and promotes peace. 5. DE-CLUTTER. Have regular clearouts. Clutter can add to feelings of tension and a clean, clear home allows a cleaner, more peaceful mind. 6. SENSE OF HUMOR. Laugh a lot. The world is instantly a better place when you can see the funny side of life. 7. HAVE GOALS. Goals keep us going in the right direction and give us a sense of purpose. Create short term and long term goals. 8. FROLIC. All work and no play will stress anyone out. Make time for things you enjoy. Approach life with a playful attitude. 9. LET IT GO. There are some things you just cannot change, no matter how hard you try. Know when to cut your losses and detach. (Just like Elsa does in the movie "Frozen"). 10. CULTIVATE GRATITUDE. Focusing on all things in our lives that we are grateful for promotes inner calm and reminds us that there are always positives. 11. SLOW DOWN. Why does everything need to be accomplished today? Often, we place unrealistic pressure on ourselves when there is no need to. Challenge your impatience. Be mindful and enjoy life in the moment. 12. BE KIND. It's free and it makes a difference. When we show kindness, it gives us an inner boost too. Live more by the golden rule.

Plug In or Promote from Within?

Dear Dave.

I own a small business with about 20 team members, and we're doing pretty well. Last year, we had revenues of about $1.2 million and profits of $250,000. How do I find leadership within my company that cares about the vision and value of my company enough to help me grow it to the next level? I have two people in mind here who have impressed me a lot in the last two years, and I'd like for one of them to take a step up in the company. I'd like for this person to also challenge me and help me grow as a leader.

- Troy Dear Troy,

I want leaders on my team who aren't afraid to bring things to my attention. If there are things they feel I need to work on, or look at differently, I want them to let me know. I'm not perfect, that's for sure. And I've made plenty of mistakes during my 30-plus years in business. But when it comes right down to it, it's not their job to challenge me and help me grow. As a leader, that's on me. It's my responsibility to make sure I'm constantly challenging myself and growing as a leader and businessman.

Now, developing your team members and getting them to actually care and align with your mission? That is part of your job. You don't want leaders within your organization who aren't aligned with what you're trying to accomplish. When that happens, you've got a leader working a J-O-B. And at that point, they're no longer a leader. They're just a boss. Leaders lead. They show the way, they encourage and they lead by example. A boss just tells people what to do.

Over the years, I've had more luck promoting from within than I have bringing in someone new and plugging them in. Maybe there's someone there who's smart, already showing potential and demonstrating they care about the place and your mission. That's someone you can tap on the shoulder and start to move in a leadership direction. That kind of person is already fired up and wired up, so take the bridle off them and give them a chance to run.

Here's an easy first step: Find a really good small-business and leadership book, buy three copies and start a series of study sessions with you and the two team members you mentioned earlier. Let them know you feel they have real leadership potential, then read through the chapters together and discuss one or two over a lunch each week. Open up the discussions, and just let them talk. After a few weeks of this, it'll start to become clear really fast if either one is suited for a bigger role in the company. It'll become the ultimate interview process.

Great question, Troy. Best of luck to you and your company as you take this next big step!

California Once Led In Government Transparency. It Descended Into Secrecy and Opacity

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

California once was a national leader in making government more transparent, requiring state and local agencies to conduct their business in public meetings and giving Californians easy access to public records.

In recent years, however, transparency has eroded. The Legislature has retreated into semi-secrecy, particularly on the state budget but also on other major legislation. Due to a construction project, legislative offices have been moved from the Capitol to an almost impenetrable building, making in-person contact more difficult.

Behind those well-guarded doors, decisions are made and deals are cut and the outcomes are simply announced and enacted with sometimes little or no meaningful debate. In recent years, governors and legislators have been using budget "trailer bills" to pass major changes in policy with little or no notice.

The descent into secrecy has, for obvious reasons, coincided with the advent of one-party government. The dominant Democrats can ignore media and the larger public because they know their numbers insulate them from accountability.

The increasing opacity of state government decision making is compounded by its having data systems that are clunky and often offer only outdated information. Cal-Access, the system that contains political information, such as campaign contributions and lobbying expenditures, is especially difficult to use and efforts to improve it have themselves been sporadic.

Projects to modernize the state's information technology have been underway for ecades, but have experienced numerous delays and failures despite costing billions of

A poster child for the data shortcomings is the Financial Information System of California, which has the catchy acronym of FI$Cal. It was envisioned many years ago as a comprehensive financial management tool for all state agencies but is only partially operational.

One aspect of FI$Cal's situation is that California is chronically tardy in reporting its financial picture. State Controller Maila Cohen recently released the state's "Comprehensive Financial Report," a nearly 400-page document required by law to be prepared each year. It was a report on the 2021-22 fiscal year that should have been issued a year earlier, but wasn't because FI$Cal and other data systems could not generate timely and accurate numbers.

Cohen acknowledged its tardiness in a cover letter, saying it "will mark the fifth consecutive year that California has published its financial statements well beyond the regulatory deadline of nine months after the fiscal year end," and blamed it on FI$Cal and other technical shortcomings.

The state auditor's office, which is charged with reviewing the annual financial report, has been highly critical of FI$Cal's implementation in a series of audits for the Legislature. Three years ago, the office issued a report saying that FI$Cal's deficiencies were chronically delaying the state's annual economic reports, and noting that delays were hindering the state's ability to borrow money and execute funding agreements.

Obviously little has happened since to rectify that embarrassing failure. The 2022-23 financial report should have been released this month, but it will probably be a year late as well.

California's shortcomings in transparency have not gone unnoticed outside the state. This week, an organization called Truth in Accounting, which monitors financial information management across the nation, issued a 50-state scorecard on transparency and California scored third from the bottom.

States were graded on such issues as the timeliness and accuracy of their financial reports, and their candor or lack of it – in reporting financial obligations such as unfunded liabilities of their public pension systems.

A perfect score would have been 100. New York was rated No. 1 with 86 points, followed by Wyoming and Hawaii. California's score was 48, higher than only Illinois and Georgia.

That's shameful.

Social Security Matters

Minister Wants to Maximize Social Security Benefit

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I want to apply for Social Security, but I want to make sure I get all the benefits I have earned. I am a veteran with a 10% disability rating (not sure if that matters). I am 68 years old. I am a minister and have been exempt from Social Security taxes for most of my income since I was about 30, but I still have the 40 quarters needed. I have also worked off and on in the secular workplace and continued paying Social Security taxes.

One hears a great deal about those who want to "help" us apply for Social Security, but which turn out to be a scam or want a fee. How do I apply and maximize my benefits with my unique situation? Signed: Seeking Answers

Dear Seeking: Don't worry about fees here at the AMAC Foundation – there is never a fee for the services we provide (we are non-profit). And I want to thank you for your military service - you may find the "For Veterans" section at our AMAC Foundation website interesting - www.amacfoundation.org.

To your question: Your VA disability rating does not affect your Social Security benefit. At 68 years old, your Social Security benefit payment has been earning Delayed

Retirement Credits (DRCs) since you reached your full retirement age (FRA) of 66 years and 4 months in July 2022. That means that your benefit, if you claim now, will be about 13% more than it would have been had you claimed at your FRA. FYI, if you continue to delay, your SS benefit will continue to grow (by 8% per additional year you delay), up to the month you turn 70. At that time, your SS benefit will be 29% higher than it would have been at your FRA. Nevertheless, if you wish to claim a smaller amount now, you can do so in a couple of ways:

· You can call Social Security (at 1.800.772.1213, or your local SS office) to request an appointment to apply. They will most likely set a date/time to call you to take your application over the phone (they discourage office visits these days). Once you have applied, it typically takes a month or two to process your application, but they will pay your benefits effective with the month you say you want them to begin. Note, they will likely also offer you six months of retroactive benefits but be aware that if you accept that offer your monthly payment will be permanently reduced by 4%.

• You can apply for your SS retirement benefit online at www.ssa.gov/apply. Applying online is, by far, the most efficient method, as shown in this short video: www.ssa.gov/ hlp/video/iclaim r01.htm.

online account at www.ssa.

gov/myaccount. Once you have your personal online

However, to apply online you will need to first create your personal "my Social Security" account set up, you will be able to see what your SS retirement benefit will be now, and at future ages should you plan to wait longer to claim. Your SS retirement benefit will be based on your lifetime record of earnings from which Social Security FICA taxes were withheld (or self-employment earnings on which SS payroll taxes were levied). In any case, your SS benefit will be based on your lifetime earnings record contributing to Social Security, as well as your age when you claim. You'll get your maximum benefit based on those factors.

Although your situation is somewhat uncommon, it is not exceptionally unique. Your VA disability rating does not affect your Social Security benefit and, because you are a member of the clergy, you are not subject to Social Security's Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) – a rule which reduces SS benefits for those with a pension earned while not contributing to Social Security. In other words, your SS benefit will be based entirely on your lifetime record of earnings from which Social Security payroll taxes were withheld, and your age when your benefit starts. And Another Thing

Something that is Recognized Today is the "Rancho Cordova Youth Center"

By Bob McGarvey

Many things are said on line, and recently someone said that churches are empty today. I know that there are many people we know who are still going to church. Many individuals go to different organizations like the VFW, the Elks Club, and the Rotary Club. What happens today, though, is that many individuals spend quite a bit of their time playing games on computers or watching TV.

I know that in 2007 there was a Child Care Awards Dinner which awarded individuals and organizations for helping and taking care of many children in Rancho Cordova. The 2007 Teacher of the Year was Laura Williams, the 2007 Program Excellence Award winner was the Sierra Nuevo Nursery, and others received awards. I am using that Awards Dinner as an example of the past in which it was easier to interest people to join organizations.

At the dinner I recognized the members of the Cordova Cares Children's Council, the Cordova Community Collaborative, the Sacramento Child Care Coalition, the Sacramento Child Abuse Prevention Council the Cordova Community Council, the Rancho Cordova City Council, the Rancho Cordova Neighbor hood Center and...I know it was almost impossible to recognize all the organizations so I will stop now. Something that is recognized today is the "Rancho Cordova Youth Center" located on Investment Cir. People in Rancho Cordova do many things to help our community's children.

Going on to other things like the general election this coming November, we will have to look at something new in our ballots in the City of Rancho Cordova. All of us in our city haven't had to think of voting for city council candidates in districts, but now Rancho Cordovans have to talk about the new type of election.

Something which will be important for every one of us to do is to make the time to read about everyone who is running for an office. This year's ballot will have presidential candidates, Congressional candidates, a National Senate candidate etc. and also our City Council candidates. There are going to be three city council seats on the ballot in November.

I hope that this time we won't have as many under votes as there were in the last presidential election (2020). There were over 41,700 undervotes in the Rancho Cordova City Council election then. Your ballot will say that you can for three city council candidates on the ballot, and you only vote for two candidates or one candidate, then the votes you did not cast are the under votes.

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and

We were forced to have these districts because of the law suit filed against The City of Citrus Heights, and the City of Folsom were also forced to have districts. Those three city's in Sacramento County received the letter from attorneys. The voters in Rancho Cordova will be voting for someone who lives in their district. Some of our current City Council members live very close to each other, and they live in the same district. We will have to see who will be running for the

see you next time.

Spiritual Care NORRIS BURKES

Do you know anyone whose last name appropriately describes them?

Such names are called an aptronym because their name "aptly" matches their job or personality in a humorous or ironic way.

During the years I served as an Air Force chaplain, I knew a few chaplains fittingly named. For instance, Chaplain Grace was a Universalist minister whose theology extended grace to all. And Chaplain Love was a caring and popular Catholic priest.

But it was 2nd Lieutenant Friend, who tried a little too hard to become his aptronym, that really made an impression. I met him 35 years ago when I began my career as a 1st Lieutenant.

He was a "Chaplain Candidate," a seminary student, who is granted the rank of 2nd Lieutenant for a 90-day trial period. The program provides on-the-job orientation for potential chaplains.

"Just try it," candidates are told by recruiters. "You can quit anytime without further commitment "

But if candidates don't show the aptitude. the USAF can jettison the "butter bar" with little cause. In other words, the candidate can be "fired." (The single gold bar of the 2nd Lieutenant rank resembles a butter bar.)

During his short summer stay, Friend was given the opportunity to preach in the chapel, make ministry visits on a busy flightline (airport) and make hospital calls to sick airmen.

Friend made his aptronym known all over base, introducing himself as a "Friend of Jesus." He was, as vets say, "Living the

Yet with all his responsibilities, he sought more recognition.

One summer day, he approached our boss with a question.

"Is there a way I can earn a medal while

"No, we don't give out medals to candidates," said our Senior Chaplain, a fullbird colonel (the rank below general).

What's In a Name?

The request must have sounded a bit self-centered because the boss asked his chapel staff for feedback on Friend. "He told me that parishioners think he's the best chaplain on base," I said, "and they wish he was preaching every Sunday." Our staff priest volunteered that Friend had interrupted flight line staff meetings with his tardiness.

Finally, the chaplain assistants chimed in. "He thinks chaplains should be able to carry guns like other officers."

"I'll talk to him about that," our boss said. "He should know that the Geneva Convention classifies chaplains as non-combatants so we can neither train with, nor carry, weapons." (Chaplain Assistants remain armed in combat zones to protect their chaplains.)

Sadly, I'm not sure Friend got clarity about the weapons training prohibition. That's because one day, he returned to the chapel office with a blue-yellow-green ribbon on his chest.

"What's that for?" I asked.

"It's a Small Arms Expert Marksmanship Ribbon," Friend boasted. "I stopped by the range, and they invited me to qualify."

Before I could respond, the boss bellowed from his office.

"Lieutenant Friend! Get in here."

I don't know what our boss said. Perhaps he quoted Jesus' words in Luke 14:11, "For all those who exalt themselves will be humbled...." Or maybe he made his point with James 4:10, "Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up."

I can't say, but I do know the boss delivered some not-so-friendly-fire on the candidate's written evaluation. Sometimes the best spiritual lessons don't come in

A few weeks later, the colonel brought that eval to the Base Headquarters for the commander's signature. "Is this report true?" the base commander asked. "Did your candidate really say and do all this?" "Yes, but I think he deserves another chance next summer," said our boss, always full of grace.

"Not on my base," said the commander. And with that final word, our chaplain office became...

Wait for it.

You know I'm going to say it.

Our chapel office became forever Friend-less.

INFORMATION

California law provides that, for purposes of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption. You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property. Publish: April 19, 26, May 3, 10, 2024

Sacramento International Airport Opens Call for Artists

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Two of the most loved visuals at the Sacramento International Airport (SMF) are pieces of public art: "Leap," the giant red rabbit jumping through the glass ceiling of Terminal B and "Samson" the whimsical stacks of luggage located in Terminal A baggage claim.

The County of Sacramento is now inviting artists and artist teams residing in the United States to submit their qualifications for four major public art projects at SMF. This call is for the first four artwork opportunities, with artwork budgets ranging from $500,000 to $1.75 million.

The four projects are part of the $1.3 billion expansion program, collectively known as SMForward, that will reshape SMF to accommodate projected passenger growth. The SMForward expansion represents a historic opportunity to integrate art into the traveler's experience while reinforcing and contributing to the Sacramento region's identity.

"The art on display at our airport is beloved by the millions of travelers we serve,"said Cindy Nichol. Director of Airports. "We are inspired by this historic opportunity to commission new large-scale public art and hope artists will be equally inspired by the possibil-

Three primary opportunities for art will be in the new pedestrian walkway, which will break ground this summer and connect Terminal B and Concourse B.

As travelers make their way between Terminal B ticketing and Concourse B security and gates, the entryways of the pedestrian walkway on either side hold key positions for works of art to welcome guests. As portals to the next stage in a traveler's journey, these sites can use captivating visuals to draw them forward. This call also includes artwork for the exterior of a new garage, a canvas with five potential locations for art. The new garage will have approximately 5,500 parking spaces, be six stories high, and be visible to travelers from nearly a quarter mile away as they approach the Terminal B entrance by car.

Artists may apply for one or more of these projects. The deadline for submissions is May 7.

Applications can be filled out online at https://sacramento.aero/scas/opportunities/smf-artwork-rfq.

its third training event, partnering with California State University Sacramento's School of Nursing faculty, local hospital nurses, nursing honor society members, and student nurses to provide three sessions of the Nurse Disaster Worker Clinical Skills Refresher which began with a classroom lecture followed by lab

"We went through a little bit of dyadic information, as far as taking care of nonobvious emergencies, in shelter situations. They will also be practicing some hands-on skills, basic patient assessments, mobility, how to use some of the equipment, and how to use some of the first aid equipment that's going to be available to some of these nurses," said Laura Cravens-Ray, assistant professor, California State University, Sacramento.

"Something I really wanted to learn, even before this, was wound care. So, I am really glad that we got to learn," said Darya Eslamian, public health nurse II at Sacramento County. "It's very important to have these trainings so when a disaster does happen, we are not trying to scramble and trying to learn everything. We are as prepared as possible."

To learn more about the third part of the nurse disaster training series, which included collaboration efforts with Sacramento State, watch the "Sacramento County Nurses Prepare for Disasters with a Training in Partnership with Sac State" on the County YouTube channel. More information regarding the fourth part of the training series will be provided as it becomes available.

Californians Get Hacked All the Time

Audits have found that California state agencies are unprepared for cyber attacks. The state's top cybersecurity post has been empty for some time. Image by Nikita Belokhonov - Pexels

By Khari Johnson CALMatters.org

You might think the home of Silicon Valley would rush to hire a cybersecurity chief, but you'd be wrong: California has left its top cybersecurity post vacant for nearly two

A spokesperson said there is no current timeline for Gov. Gavin Newsom to appoint anyone for the position, commander for the Cybersecurity Integration Center.

"We are a target," as a tech industry leader, the most populous state in the country, one of the busiest ports in the world, and the fifth largest economy in the world, said former cybersecurity integration center commander Jonathan Nunez in a video posted to YouTube two years ago. He took the helm in June 2020 and was the last commander appointed by Newsom, leaving the position in June 2022.

State officials say the vacancy hasn't hampered the state's ability to respond to threats, but experts outside the state government are concerned that an acting commander is spread thin.

The commander job entails assisting law enforcement agencies with criminal investigations and safeguarding California's economy and critical infrastructure. Other job duties include maintaining a security operation center that disseminates actionable information to all state entities, forming public and private partnerships, and developing state cybersecurity strategy. The commander is paid a salary of up to $187,000 a year. The challenge of a position like cybersecurity commander is it's not a matter of public or media interest until something goes wrong, said Dan Schnur, a former spokesperson for Gov. Pete Wilson who now teaches political communication at the University of Southern California and University of California, Berkeley. There's no set timeline for appointments and depends almost entirely upon the urgency to fill the job and quality of applicants, but in his experience, taking more than a year to appoint is an unusually long amount of time.

"Either they're going through a painstaking process to pick the right person or it slipped through the cracks and there's no way to know which of the two it is," he said. "Unless you find a unicorn who's willing to forego that kind of financial compensation in exchange for public service, you're already starting out with a compromise."

There have been four full-time commanders prior to the current acting commander. Keith Tresh was appointed by former Gov. Jerry Brown and acted as commander from 2016 to 2018. He is now chief information security officer at consultancy firm AMEG. Mario Garcia served as acting commander from 2018 to 2020 and now works as state coordinator for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency. Jonathan Nunez was appointed by Gov. Newsom in 2020 and now works as an analyst at consultancy firm Gartner. David Lane served as acting commander for an unspecified period of time in 2022. Deputy Director of homeland security Tom

Osbone is also the acting commander.

Tresh previously served as chief information security officer for the states of California and Idaho and was the first Cybersecurity Integration Center commander. He said he jumped at the opportunity because the job acts as a second set of eyes for public institutions like city and county governments, not just the state of California.

"We helped school districts and regional transit authorities when they had breaches," he said. "That's why I think it's absolutely a perfect position to continue on."

CalMatters in a statement that finding a new commander has not been

vate sector

Former state cybersecurity employees told CalMatters they think it's difficult for the cybersecurity center to keep commanders because the pay is less than for similar jobs in the private sector. State employees may treat an acting commander who will be in the job temporarily — differently than a commander appointed by Newsom.

A former cybersecurity center employee who spoke to CalMatters on background for fear of professional reprisals said the biggest issue with the position is lack of real authority; the commander has limited capacity to act and hold people accountable.

cybercriminals seeking confidential information or just want to cause panic, said Steven Ward, a cybersecurity fellow at center-right think tank R Street Institute and former digital forensics examiner for law enforcement agencies in Sacramento.

Ward said the vacancy is reflective of a number of trends: First, the cybersecurity threat landscape moves quickly, and public agencies move slowly. Second, it mirrors a larger cybersecurity workforce shortage. California has the second-highest in the U.S., according to a 2022 report by the nonprofit International Information System Security Certification Consortium. Third, public agencies can't compete with pay and benefits offered by private companies. Another 2022 study found that the private sector pays 14% more than government agencies. The pay gap creates a situation in which entry-level employees are responsible for guarding highly sensitive systems. It's hard to say what the consequences of the vacancy are, but since the center develops the state cybersecurity strategy and is a hub for sharing attack threat information and how to patch vulnerabilities, Ward said he's worried that the acting director might be spread too thin. "It definitely needs to be filled," he said. "It's important that this type of work continues without interruptions."
