GALT, CA (MPG) - The Galt area wouldn't be complete without local youth training livestock in preparation for the Sacramento County Fair. From raising rabbits, sheep, swine and cattle, to making baked goods and needle crafts, local youth have worked for months preparing their projects to show at the fair, which started May 23.

The Junior Livestock Auction, on Sunday, May 26, is arguably one of the most exciting days at the fair. Bids are yelled from the stands and deals are made, as exhibitor after exhibitor shows their animal in the ring for the last time and eventually says goodbye.

Galt FFA, Liberty Ranch FFA, Galt 4-H and Herald 4-H all have students showing animals or other projects during the fair.

The Herald recently spoke to members of local FFA and 4-H chapters about their fair projects and hopes for

HS Superintendent Pettis Reflects on Tenure as Retirement Nears

By Matthew Malone News Editor

GALT, CA (MPG) - Lisa Pettis, outgoing superintendent for the Galt Joint Union High School District, is wrapping up a 34-year education career in about a month.

Pettis recently sat down with the Herald to reflect on her overall career and her three years as superintendent. She emphasized achievements in alternative education and discussed the hard decisions of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Pettis noted that she wanted more time for her husband, also recently retired from education; her parents, for whom she is a caregiver; and her adult children.

"I've given 34 years of education, and to education, and (it is) time for me

Pettis' last day as superintendent is June 30, and her successor, Anna Trunnell, will take over on

Then, she shifted to the Galt high school district, working as director of educational options. In this position, she oversaw continuation school, expulsions and applications for Career and Technical Education Grants.

In 2021, following a period as interim superintendent, Pettis was appointed to the permanent position.

Asked about her accomplishments in eight years at the district, Pettis pointed to the revitalization of Estrellita High School, saying it has been a focus of hers since her time in

Police Add Third School Officer

By Matthew Malone News Editor

GALT, CA (MPG) - Sgt. Rod Fisher was introduced on May 15 as Galt Police Department's newest school resource officer (SRO). Chief of Police Brian Kalinowski discussed the expanded SRO program during the Galt Joint Union Elementary School regular meeting, which also included the district's Facilities Master

Fisher is the third officer charged with maintaining safety at school sites in Galt's elementary and high school districts. Kalinowski explained that, as a sergeant, Fisher will oversee the police department's youth programs in addition to performing normal SRO duties. The existing SROs are officers Amanda Juarez and Matthew Walters.

"I've tasked (Fisher) to evaluate what we've been doing in the schools as a police department to serve both districts ... and to give me some ideas about future items that we can look at to enhance our services," Kalinowski said, adding that Fisher's portfolio would include helping with the department's Character Counts initiative and the juvenile diversion program, and assessing broader security concerns for schools.

Cosumnes Fire: Work Continues on Long Hospital Waits

By Matthew Malone News Editor

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - Cosumnes Fire Department officials on May 15 provided an update on the time its ambulance crews spend waiting for hospitals to accept patients. The issue, which can occupy medical personnel for long periods of time, came up at the regular Cosumnes Community Services District board meeting.

Director Peter Sakaris noted that ambulance patient offload time (APOT), or wall time, decreased in April.

According to the fire department's April report, wall time was less than 40 minutes in 90% of the cases in which the agency transported someone to a hospital. In previous months, the wait times were longer; in January, for example, the 90th-percentile wall time was one hour and 40 minutes.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Kasparian said it is normal for wall times to drop in April.

"(The decrease) is pretty consistent with what we've seen for the month of April," Kasparian said. "We typically have a high APOT time January, February, March, which is a result of flu season, with COVID and everything. ... And then, as we've looked at the trending, it's about on par with what we've seen over the past five years."

Wall time had decreased by about two minutes countywide, according to Kasparian. Kaiser Permanente South Sacramento, the destination for half of Cosumnes Fire's hospital transports, cut its wall time from 76 minutes to 52 minutes.

Wall time has been an ongoing concern for Cosumnes Fire and medical first responders across the region. When an ambulance crew takes a patient to the hospital, the crew must wait with the patient until the hospital admits them, reducing the agency's ability to respond to other medical emergencies.

Looking at regional and state attempts to address the issue, Kasparian said Sacramento County recently allowed transport to destinations besides hospitals, such as mental health facilities. Senate Bill 1180, authored by State Sen. Angelique Ashby, D-Sacramento, would allow the department to be reimbursed for transport to alternate destinations.

"With regards to the entire county and the APOT times, I think it's holding pretty steady," Kasparian said. "We're seeing a couple minutes' changes here and there. Some of the hospitals are doing much better than they have in the past, but overall, I think we still have a long way to go."

In other business, the board approved the release of $57,863 in unclaimed checks to the district. The checks, issued by the district as payment for various services, went unclaimed for at least three years, at which point state law allows the district to reclaim the funds. A staff report said the district had given notice of the unclaimed checks starting Feb. 23, with the final deadline to collect the money by April 8.

The board voted 4-0 to reclaim the money. Board President Jim Luttrell was absent. ★ her lamb, named Carl, by walking him 15 minutes a day and by working on bracing, a distinct pose that lamb and goat sellers have their animals take to show off the animals' muscle tone.

Morgado said she attended the fair last year to support a friend who was showing a lamb.

"I thought it was pretty interesting and cool, which is what made me want to show this year," she said.

The process of raising Carl had come with its share of challenges, Morgado said, but she has listened to advice on subjects like the ideal muscle structure for a lamb. She planned to raise lambs in the future in order to improve her skill with the species.

"I found it (raising an animal) pretty difficult over time," Morgado said, "but I think that patience and consistency is what's really going to help me do good at the fair."

Taking New Challenges

Galt FFA student Alaya Gunter said she was seeking a greater challenge for her second year showing at the auction. So the sophomore switched from poultry to a goat.

"Poultry is very easy and simple, and the showmanship is more questions than physical actions. ... It's a lot easier," Gunter said. "And goats, it's definitely a longer process. ... You have to be there almost every day of the almost every day of the week trying to work with your animal and really getting them ready, so it's a lot more work and effort. And you do a lot more in the ring with them during showmanship."

In the run-up to the auction, Gunter said she was concentrating on helping her goat gain weight, as well as practicing bracing and getting the goat used to the halter it would wear in the auction ring.

Gunter said she had learned to prioritize her animal's care and keep an organized schedule. She described the experience of showing an animal at the fair.

"It's definitely nerve-racking to go into the ring, knowing you have multiple other people fighting for the same spot," Gunter said, "but it's overall just a really good experience, and I'd recommend it to anybody because it's so fun, and you meet so many new people.

"And going in to sell, it's definitely sad knowing you're leaving your animal that you've raised for several months, but it's just feeling very accomplished that you did something and you finally made it to the end, what you've been working for."

Getting Crafty

Animals aren't the only projects that students are working on for the county fair. Galt 4-H specializes in various crafts, and students Elia Rodriguez and Addison Washburn described their creations.

"I am entering a Dutch apple pie and chocolate swirl meringues," Washburn said, noting that for the apple pie, she used a recipe that she and her aunt prepare every year.

Asked what the submissions demonstrate for the judges, Washburn said they show "that I love, love, love, love to bake." Washburn, who serves as Galt 4-H's sergeant-atarms, enjoys the science of baking and learning how ingredients interact.

Rodriguez, Galt 4-H president, had a variety of projects planned: a quilt dedicated to her mother; chocolate chip muffins; a photo of a camellia flower; and a science project on osmosis, the movement of liquid into and out of cells.

Rodriguez has submitted a quilt to the fair every year; this year, she took it further and made her own pattern, a heart shape.

The research on osmosis gave Rodriguez insight into the 4-H chapter's gardening project.

"I feel through science you can learn about so much in the environment or just your body in general. Osmosis explains a lot of why dehydration happens, or why plants die because you can overwater or not water enough," Rodriguez said.

Entering the Ring When she spoke to the Herald, Audrey de Melo Gonsalez, Galt FFA president, was taking a break from trimming the hair of her dairy cow, one of five animals she is raising for this auction. She described the time-consuming process.

"Lots and lots of patience is used up. Just trying to get all of the hair off and not leave a line or any clipper marks is honestly just the most stressful thing," she said with a laugh. Besides the cow, de Melo Gonsalez will also show a wether goat and three doe goats: "quite the

In her seventh year showing animals at the fair, de Melo Gonsalez said she took on the additional animals at the encouragement of a local breeder she has worked with.

The Galt High School junior said the participation of auction bidders means a lot to her, not so much for the bid amounts but for "the fact that they are willing to support kids even though they may not know them one-on-one."

"Even inside the ring, you don't know who's bidding on your animal. It's going so fast — putting your sign up, calls from every corner of the ring and then in the end, when you figure out and you get your fair check, you're just kind of amazed. You don't know who bid on it, but vou know it got a higher price, and it's just the support of the community that makes a lot of things great for the fair."

School Bus Driver Sent to Hospital After Crash

By Matthew Malone News Editor

GALT, CA (MPG) - A Galt school bus driver was hospitalized after a May 14 crash with a suspected DUI driver. The middle school students on board the bus were reunited with their families.

Galt Police Department reported being dispatched at 5:25 p.m. to the collision at the intersection of A Street and Oak Avenue. Photographs from the scene showed the pickup truck and bus at the northwest corner of the intersection. The truck appeared to have knocked down a stop sign.

The police reported that the bus had already been evacuated when first responders arrived. Cosumnes Fire Department took the bus driver to a local hospital while the children remained on the scene, with some getting first aid for complaints of pain.

Officials did not report any significant injuries among the students.

Galt Joint Union Elementary School

District Superintendent Lois Yount told the Herald that the bus had been transporting 15 Robert L. McCaffrey Middle School students home following an afterschool program.

In a written statement, she expressed her gratitude to staff who helped reunite students and families, adding that the middle school had communicated with all families and students involved in the California Highway Patrol (CHP) arrested the pickup driver, identified as Alfredo Robles, 66, of Galt on suspicion of driving under the influence.

Sacramento County Sheriff's Department records indicated that Robles was released from jail on May 15.

In Yount's statement, the superintendent described the district's response to the crash.

"Families have been encouraged to seek medical consultation as needed. Counseling services were provided and will continue to be provided by District and Galt Police Department recovery for our bus driver and students involved in this accident," Yount wrote.

"When I first arrived here eight years ago, Estrellita had gone from a school of 250-plus students down to nine students," as well as one teacher. "And I knew from my background in (alternative education) that that didn't look right to me, and that students learn differently. They need different settings to learn, and it was a goal of mine to build that school back up."

She said the school is one position away from being fully staffed, with a capacity of 75 students. The addition of a math teacher will bring the capacity up to 100.

"It's nice to see Estrellita grow to what it once was and to see the number of graduates coming from there, and to see the new programs that our principal (Joe Schallberger) has brought in for those students," Pettis said.

The support of the board and the efforts of district staff made accomplishments like that possible, Pettis emphasized.

A major challenge of Pettis' time as superintendent was the COVID-19 pandemic, which was ongoing at the time she took office. The district faced quarantine, masking and vaccine mandates from the state and pushback against the measures from many parents.

In October 2021, months into Pettis' first school year at the helm, a protest on C Street against mandatory coronavirus vaccines for K-12 students was coupled with parents keeping their children out of school. The following February, some students protested mask requirements.

Pettis recalled that when she had accepted the position of superintendent, a mentor had asked her whether she wanted to be superintendent during the pandemic.

At the time, Pettis said she thought she would be "Coming out of that pandemic was one of the hardest challenges I've ever faced as an administrator," Pettis said. "And looking back, I had no idea how hard it would be.

"And it was trying to do what was best for students and the staff teaching those students, and at the same time following the mandates from the state, and trying to navigate the different beliefs that were out there, all while trying to keep students and staff safe. The hardest challenge out of everything," Pettis continued.

Pettis highlighted the district's actions as in-person instruction resumed, which included the creation of a mental health and substance abuse program to provide counseling for students.

Pettis said another challenge of her tenure was overseeing layoffs, which she said were necessary to bring the district's staffing level back in line with its student numbers.

Pettis said budget troubles caused staff to examine the district's staffto-student ratio for the first time in a long time: "To my surprise, we were overstaffed by a lot."

The district now has a goal of monitoring staffing levels, Pettis said, in order to prevent a similar situation in the future.

Of her philosophy as superintendent, Pettis said she involves herself in multiple aspects of district operations.

"I need to lead by example, but I also feel like leading by example means getting in the trenches with the people that are doing the work," Pettis said. "Yes, I can oversee that work, but in order for me to truly know what the program is about or what is happening at the school sites, I need to be involved in that."

Pettis also said it is important to praise staff for their work.

"I feel like it doesn't matter what position you're in in the district; we're all working for the same common goal, and that's what's best for students. So if that means I get my hands dirty and help in all the planning, so be it. That's my job, and I've loved doing it for 34 vears."

Memorial Day Reminds Communities to Remember

By Ornella Rossi

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - As Memorial Day draws near, communities prepare to honor and commemorate the sacrifices of fallen heroes. Several events will be held throughout the Sacramento area, providing community members with ample opportunities to participate in the celebrations.

Memorial Day, observed on the last Monday in May, honors service members who have died in military service to the nation, according to the Department of Defense. The holiday has roots dating back to the post-Civil War era, when citizens would informally place spring flower memorials on the graves of fallen soldiers.

All Sacramento-area residents are invited to join in the upcoming observances at any of the following locations.

On May 27, community members will also gather at the East Lawn ceremony at 10 a.m., where attendees can gather to honor the fallen heroes of the United States Armed Forces.

The event is being hosted at multiple locations, including 9189 E. Stockton Blvd., Elk Grove; East Lawn Sierra Hills at 5757 Greenback Lane, Sacramento; and East Lawn Memorial Park, 4300 Folsom Blvd., East Sacramento.

The Memorial Day ceremony promises to be a moving tribute where distinguished military speakers such as Bob Hilton and Gilbert Morales will take the stage, along with musician and bagpiper Liz Tubbs. Part of the program will also include the Armed Forces Medley and the POW/MIA (Prisoner of War/Missing in Action) ceremony. Complimentary refreshments will be provided.

Other events include the Memorial Day tribute at Mount Vernon Memorial Park at 11 a.m. May 27 at 8201 Greenback Lane.

Starting at 5:30 a.m. May 27, Boy and Girl Scout troops will raise donated American flags around the park, followed by the fire department hoisting a 50-foot flag at the entrance at 10 a.m.

"On Memorial Day, it is important to stop and reflect on the American patriots who have paid the ultimate sacrifice to keep us free," said Mount Vernon Memorial Park's general manager, Carol Rybolt. "I am grateful for the brave men and women who serve in the military, standing guard to protect our country and our rights. Let us honor and remember them on this Memorial Day and every day."

The event will feature a military band, a keynote speech by a colonel from the California National Guard, and a color guard from the UC Davis ROTC program. A possible flyover, a popular attraction in previous years, is pending confirmation, adding to the day's magic.

The tribute concludes at noon, with the symbolic raising of the American Flag honoring the sacrifices and expressing gratitude to those who have given their lives.

The C o r d o v aCommunity Council proudly presents its Memorial Day event at 10 a.m. May 27 at the Cordova High School Performing Arts Center, 2239 Chase Drive, Rancho Cordova. The theme of tnis year's event is "Their Sacrifice, Our Gratitude," encapsulating the essence of remembrance and appreciation for those who have given their lives in service to their country. At the heart of the ceremony lies a musical tribute, featuring patriotic music performed by the Rancho Cordova River City Concert Band.

This year holds special significance as community members together honor the 21st-Century heroes who witnessed the tragic events of 9/11 and self-lessly rushed to aid those in need, many of whom did not return.

An event highlight will be the presentation by the Non Commissioned Officers Association, showcasing the "Missing Man Table." This symbolic gesture, led by retired Air Force veteran Jim Sullivan, features a dinner table set with an empty chair, representing those who are missing or fallen.

"This is a dignified and beautiful service," said Cordova Community Council executive director Shelly Blanchard. "All gave some and some gave all, and we are honoring that here in Rancho Cordova."

The 25th annual Memorial Day Ceremony at the Fair Oaks Cemetery District will take place from 10 a.m. to noon on May 25, giving special recognition to the women in time of war between the American Revolutionary War and World War II. The cemetery is at 7780 Olive St., Fair Oaks.

Speakers at the Fair Oaks ceremony include Eagle Scout Lily Rodriguez, Congressman Ami Bera and State Sen. Roger Niello. Boy Scouts of America Troop 380 will conduct the flag ceremony; Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6158 and the American Legion Post 383 will conduct the Wreath Laying Ceremony.

Tribute will be paid to Ray Young, who founded the annual Memorial Day Ceremony in 1999. ★

Police Add Third School Officer

The completed Facilities Master Plan lays out potential opportunities for renovation and updated facilities at each of the district's sites.

Madeline Villena of consulting firm 19six Architects called the master plan "a road map to inform future capital improvements, to help prioritize deferred maintenance projects throughout each school site and encourage alignment to modern education facility standards as well as the district's strategic objectives."

Through its outreach

Through its outreach efforts, 19six identified facilities needs shared by multiple schools: outdoor learning spaces, shade structures, building modernization or replacement, gender-neutral restrooms and parking lot reconfiguration.

restrooms and parking lot reconfiguration.

The plan includes diagrams of each campus marked with potential improvements, along with estimates of their probable cost. Villena said the cost estimates are in 2024 dollars and include construction and design among other expenses.

For example, the section on River Oaks Elementary School gives possible locations for two permanent classroom buildings that would replace existing portable classroom buildings. It also includes lighting modernization in one of the buildings and expanded and reconfigured parking lots.

Superintendent Lois Yount said that, if the district were to get the bonds it is considering for the November election, money would go toward updating building interiors and parking, among other things.

"It's a lot of information. I mean, a lot," Trustee Katherine Harper said of the document, which is more than 200 pages. "I think we all kind of side-eyed it when we first saw it, but as I started to work my way through it, it was very digestible. ... I have a really good overview now of what we're looking at in the next 15 to 20 years."

Trustee Wes Cagle said the master plan contains key information for demonstrating the district's facility needs.

"It really stands out for parents and community members to understand these schools; they need upgrading," Cagle said.

At the start of the meeting, the McCaffrey Environmental Club presented about its projects.

The goal of the club is to promote awareness of the local area's ecosystems, said science teacher and club co-adviser Lisa Hegdahl, pointing to the Sacramento-San Joaquin River Delta and Cosumnes River Preserve. Fellow adviser DeAnna Mino thanked the city of Galt and the district for their support of the club.

Club members came forward to speak about their favorite aspects of the club, including learning nature journaling, visiting the preserve and doing activities such as making plastic toys out of milk and vinegar.

Chu Goes Beyond the Call for Adult Protective Services

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - This month, Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services (DCFAS) is celebrating employee, Irene Chu, as part of the video and story series "Beyond the Call: Chronicles of Compassion in Child, Family and Adult Services."

Having started her career with the County in Child Protective Services, Irene eventually transitioned to working with older adults through Adult Protective Services (APS). Irene has over 27 years of experience working for the County. Her background in counseling helps give her a unique perspective,

allowing her to engage with clients and guide them through decision-making processes.

"The mission of Adult Protective Services is to protect the health and safety of older adults and dependent adults in our community in the least restrictive environment," Irene explains. That mission involves a delicate balance of advocating for their well-being while also respecting their autonomy and choices.

Irene wants people to know that APS operates under regulations that encourage employees to respect the rights of older adults while addressing issues such as self-neglect, which is a unique challenge.

"Self-neglect cases require a nuanced approach," Irene said. This is because self-neglect cases highlight the complex nature of ensuring the safety of someone while still honoring their boundaries and individual agency. Self-neglect is when someone doesn't take care of their basic needs like personal hygiene or eating. Selfneglect can have many underlying causes including depression, isolation, or an underlying condition like undiagnosed Alzheimer's disease. Irene said APS workers encourage clients to weigh the pros and cons to decide whether they want help for self-neglect.

"Ultimately, we let them [the client] make the decision. Because ultimately, they have to feel that they own it, they have the ownership of that choice," Irene explains.

As a Program Planner, Irene's job goes far beyond advocating for older and disabled adults. She helps newer staff members as they learn the ropes, provides presentations, runs statistical reports, and writes and monitors contracts. Currently, Irene is also handling a housing project that helps shelter older adults through rehousing and homeless prevention services. The project, called HomeSafe, showcases Irene's commitment to providing innovative solutions to address issues in her community.

Reflecting on her 27 years with the County, Irene says she is grateful for her career. These experiences helped her professionally and allowed her to make a meaningful impact on the lives of those she serves.

As Irene continues her work, she hopes sharing her story will encourage others to seek out a long-lasting career with Sacramento County.

"I really like it so much because I really enjoy all the opportunities that I was given through the years," Irene said.

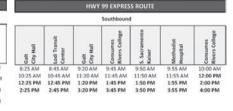

DCFAS is proud of the dedication and passion that Irene and many other employees demonstrate. Irene is a shining example of going beyond the call, and that is why the County is happy to feature her in the ongoing video series "Beyond the Call: Chronicles of Compassion in Child, Family and Adult Services."

Throughout the year, the County will continue to explore different roles within DCFAS and teach people about the ongoing efforts DCFAS makes to serve Sacramento County.

they are protected against measles. Those who have not previously had measles or who have not received the measles immunization might not be protected from the measles virus. They should talk with a health care provider about receiving measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) immunization. Persons needing vaccination should call the Public Health immunization line at 916-875-7468.

Sacramento County Public Health advises residents to notify their health care providers as soon as possible about a potential exposure if they are pregnant, have an infant, have a weakened immune system and/or are not immunized regardless of vaccination history.

Do not go to providers in-person or go to the emergency department for potential exposure.

Exposed individuals should also monitor themselves for illness with fever and/or an unexplained rash from seven to 21 days after their exposure (the time period when symptoms might develop); if symptoms develop, stay at home and immediately call a healthcare provider. If individuals become ill enough that they need medical attention in person, wear a mask and inform the registration staff about possible measles exposure so that appropriate isolation can occur.

UC Davis Medical Center, Sacramento County Public Health and Public Health Departments in surrounding counties are contacting identified patients to assess immunization status. Anyone diagnosed with measles or suspected of having measles should stay home for four days after the onset of the rash. However, infected people without symptoms might still be able to transmit the

Said County Board of Supervisors Chair and Second District Supervisor Patrick Kennedy, "This initiative really reflects our support of the diverse needs in the county. We're not just revitalizing spaces; we're improving safety, connections and dignity in our communities.'

The County Board of Supervisors directed the Office of Economic Development to conduct extensive outreach to develop a comprehensive list of potential projects for the Neighborhood Improvement Initiative. During summer and fall 2023, the Office of Economic Development, with the supervisorial district offices and county Departments of Transportation and Community Development, met with community partners, residents and businesses through community meetings and online engagement to gather feedback and have the public suggest projects.

County staff evaluated project feasibility and community benefits within each supervisorial district for recommendations to receive Neighborhood Improvement Initiative funding. SLOUGHHOUSE RESOURCE CONSERVATION DISTRICT GROUNDWATER SUSTAINABILITY AGENCY NOTICE OF MEETING AND HEARING ON PROPOSED GROUNDWATER SUSTAINABILITY FEE NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Wednesday, June 12, 2024, at the hour of 1 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, the Board of Directors of the Sloughhouse Resource Conservation District, acting as a groundwater sustainability agency in the Cosumnes Subbasin, will hold a public meeting and hearing at the Rancho Murieta Community Service District office, 15160 Jackson Hwy, Rancho Murieta, California. In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, if you need special assistance to participate in this meeting or have concerns about attending the meeting in person, please contact the Clerk of the Board at 916-526-5447 or info@SloughhouseRCD.org to make reasonable arrangements or for call-in information. The Board will consider the following matter: Proposed modification of the existing groundwater sustainability fee established by

RESOLUTION No. 2021.07.14.01 in 2021 (the "Groundwater Sustainability Fee") to fund the costs of a groundwater sustainability program in the Cosumnes Subbasin, including, but not limited to, the implementation of the Cosumnes Subbasin Groundwater Sustainability Plan, fund associated groundwater management activities, and meet the requirements of the Sustainable Groundwater The Sloughhouse Resource Conservation District GSA proposes to levy the Groundwater

Sustainability Fee under its authority granted by California Water Code section 10730 on all irrigated land within the Sloughhouse Resource Conservation District GSA area within the Cosumnes Subbasin

The Groundwater Sustainability Fee would be charged in the amount of $10 per acre irrigated with groundwater with a base fee charge of $35.59 per parcel for persons using groundwater.

The Sloughhouse Resource Conservation District GSA will also impose a fee on de minimis users of water (less than 2-acre feet per year for domestic purposes, see Cal. Water Code sec. 10721 (e) only after the GSA unless the agency has regulated the users pursuant to this part. This Resolution modifies the previous fee to place a fee on de minimis extractors, residential. commercial, irrigated agriculture and public water system using groundwater.

In order to keep pace with inflationary costs of service in carrying out the Agency's purposes for which the Fees are collected, The Agency may apply an annual inflation increase. The initial Annual Adjustments can only be in place for 5-years after approval of this Resolution, but can be extended through further Board action in the future. Each Fee presented above, will be adjusted annually for inflationary increases in the cost of service based on a 12-month period, as measured by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI-U) West All Items (Series Id: CUUR0400SA0) for June through May of each respective year. The Annual Fee Adjustment will be limited to the lower of the actual cost of service increase, or the CPI-U increase, but will not less than zero.

Data upon which the proposed Groundwater Sustainability Fee is based may be obtained from the Sloughhouse Resource Conservation District online at www.SloughhouseRCD.org. All nterested persons are invited to present their views and comments on this matter. Written/emailed statements may be filed with the District Manager of the District at any time prior to the close of the meeting and oral statements may be made at the meeting.

This Summer, Let's Try Not to Fry

According to the Days of the Year resource, today we celebrate Don't Fry Day. Although it might sound more like a dieter's mantra, Don't Fry Day is actually not about eating healthy food. However, it is pretty appropriate for the beginning of the unofficial first three-day weekend of the year. The day is an initiative of the National Council on Skin Cancer Prevention to get sunscreen in everyone's

Since the beginning of time, the sun has been critical for human life on planet Earth. Without the sun, people would literally freeze to death! But, less dramatically, people who do not get enough exposure to sunlight can have health problems such as vitamin D deficiency and decreased serotonin. Lack of sunshine has also been linked to other health issues, such as bone problems, skin problems, weight gain, depression, some cancers and more.

With that in mind, it's important to remember that this day is not about making sure that people don't get any sun exposure at all. The purpose of Don't Fry Day is just what the name says: Be careful not to get a sunburn. The Skin Cancer Foundation, National Council on Skin Cancer Prevention and other important organizations have made it clear that getting a little sun is good, but getting too much sun, or a sunburn, can be dangerous, especially if sunburns are repeated over and over again.

In fact, sunburn is a leading cause of a few different forms of skin cancer, including the deadliest one, melanoma. The great news is that sunburn is completely preventable! And that's why Don't Fry Day was established: to raise awareness for the various actions that can be taken to protect and prevent children and adults from too much exposure to the sun.

And just how do we do that, you ask?

With the days of tanning and basking in the sun all day behind us, the words on everyone's lips these days might be something along the lines of "slip, slop, slap and wrap." This little mantra can be great encouragement for sun worshippers to SLIP on a shirt; SLOP on sunscreen (SPF 30 and above is ideal). SLAP on a hat; and WRAP on sunglasses. And don't be thinking about using that old container of sunscreen. Check the expiration date. Old sunscreen loses its effectiveness. No expiration date? Then it is time for a new container. I used to be in the sun all day, every day during the summer. Not anymore, bad business, I do not look good in melanoma.

Now it is "slip, slop, slap and wrap" for Memorial Day is actually on May 30. It is observed this Monday, May 27, in order to have an extra day off to go camping or to a neighborhood barbecue with family and friends. The original day is a day for memories. Let us remember to fly the United States flag and remember the men and women who gave their lives for our country. Say a special prayer for them and their families. Keep the memories alive for future generations by telling the stories of those loved ones who died serving their country. It is what we do now that will influence our future.

Want to be more involved in Memorial Day and observances?

Look for public services at local cemeteries. Listen to the stories; it will give you a sense of pride in our country.

"First, I'm curious as to what kind of church you are running up there?" asked a caller to my church office.

His was the kind of question I get lately since returning to the pastor role.

Most often, callers are like the young mother of three who told me, "I have three churches I'm considering attending, but first I'm asking the pastors to answer some questions."

She squashed that ordinal number "FIRST," as if drawing a line in the theological sand.

"FIRST, does your church teach tithing?'

I assumed she knew most churches encourage donations, but not wanting to scare her off, I was slow to answer. Was she looking for a discount? Or was she searching for a rich church?

Some people call the church directly

But First, Answer Me This and others find me through my local column. Readers usually leave a voicemail, graciously giving me time to formulate an

I played back a message from a man last week wanting to know how he could donate to Chispa Project. I returned the call, excited to tell him about my upcoming trip to Honduras, but he too began with a question.

FIRST, "I want to know if angels are able to speak to us."

His challenging question made me want to ask, "Can I call a friend? Or ask the audience?" Maybe I should have said, "Yes. The angels are telling you to donate to Chispa Project at Chispaproject.org/ chaplain.'

Another man saw that I had a woman scheduled to preach while I was away.

"FIRST of all, should women really be allowed to preach in church?"

I knew he was referring to 1 Timothy 2:12: "I do not permit a woman to teach or to assume authority over a man; she must be quiet" (NIV). Since I assumed he knew I invited the guest pastor, his question seemed more challenging than inquisitory, intoned much like the political questions I get. "You must FIRST believe that abortion is wrong," suggested a Pro-life advocate.

"Isn't God against homosexuality?" was the message left in a weathered tone. "God FIRST made man and then made woman.'

"We need to FIRST return prayer to the schools," said one visitor who dared attend without first checking my political

"God is on the side of Israel! Shouldn't we all be calling for the destruction of Hamas?" asked one local pastor.

I know that many books have been written about all of these issues by good Christians on both sides. I know sincere believers can disagree about things.

But I try to discourage those seeking a binary faith of yes-and-no answers by sharing first the words from The Message in Matthew 22:36-40.

'When asked what was the FIRST and most important of all of God's laws, Jesus said, Love the Lord your God with all your passion and prayer and intelligence.' This is the most important, the first on any

"But there is a second to set alongside it: 'Love others as well as you love yourself.' These two commands are pegs; everything in God's Law and the Prophets hangs from them."

I know I didn't answer most of my callers as they would have hoped. But perhaps once I've mastered Jesus' list, I'll have better responses to their questions. Finally, my best call began last week, with "FIRST, I think your new picture makes you look like Jean-Luc Picard."

Of course, as a Trek fan, I knew he was referring to Patrick Stewart, the fictional captain of the USS Enterprise-D in "Star Trek: The Next Generation."

I felt a bit affronted as Stewart is totally bald. I'm not - yet.

Should I allow this caller to make the final cut for our church membership? Stay Readers: I return to Honduras next month to help establish the 86th library for Chispa Project. Honestly, we'll need some big last-minute donations to fully fund this library.

GALT, CA (MPG) - The Hawk softball team had a good season, coming in second in league with the championship almost in their grasp. They lost their last game to Union Mine after beating them twice earlier in the season and losing to Rosemont.

The Hawks, ranked eighth in the playoffs, hosted ninth-ranked Oakmont at home May 14, which should have proved to be a close game. They just weren't able to get hits off of Oakview pitcher Emilee Monell, who stuck out eight Hawks and walked none, allowing only four hits. The final score was Oakmont 6, Liberty Ranch 1.

Hawk pitcher Natalie Vigil spent all seven innings on the mound, and it's clear why: She surrendered three earned (and three unearned) runs on 10 hits. She also struck out three batters and only walked one. Vigil hasn't given up more than two walks in three consecutive pitching appearances.

At the plate, Liberty Ranch had three players step up and record at least one hit: Natalie Vigil, Carlie Perez and Shelby Duarte. Duarte went 1-for-2 with an RBI.

With only two seniors, head coach Vince Bunac is already planning for next year.

"We started strong in the beginning of league beating Rosemont and stayed steady till the end of our season when we had some missteps and dropped to second place," said Bunac. "My senior Natalia Vigil was my workhorse for the last three years on the dish. My other senior CiCi Kahm has been our workhorse at the JV level for three years. She couldn't be a better teammate; both seniors have a great future in front of them and they will be missed."

"We ended our season on our first game in playoffs; we just didn't have an answer for their pitching. We are losing only two players this year. We can only get stronger going forward. I am already looking forward to next year."
