Murder Victims' Families Embrace Hope

Story and photos by Kristina Rogers

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A life cut short at the hands of another brings a unique type of suffering. Murder victims' families must navigate the justice system while grief stricken and readjusting their lives. On a breezy spring afternoon in April at William Chorley Park, next to Bing Maloney Golf Course, survivors of violent crimes came out to share resources, support others, and honor their loved ones.

Joyce Tuhn lost her daughter, Lacy, to a drunk driver in January 1999. The convicted juvenile served 11 months at a boys' camp. Tuhn was a tough Stockton ironworker, yet the tragedy broke her steely exterior.

"I was a very angry person," she said.

Tuhn connected with the D.A.'s office and founded Victims of Violent Crimes. She has made it their mission to support other families of homicide and support them through the justice system.

"When victims' families go to court, they don't understand the laws. We explain it to them," Tuhn said. "We make sure they have transportation to and from court and that they get lunch."

Tuhn sleeps with her phone at her bedside because she never knows when someone needs an ear.

New Asst. Principal Named at St. Francis

St. Francis Catholic High School News Release

EAST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - St. Francis Catholic High School is proud to announce Julie Van Houten as its new assistant principal.

Van Houten, who holds a Master of Arts in education, is a member of the executive staff and has been serving as the social studies department chair for the past two years. She will assume her new role effective July 1.

"St. Francis is an amazing school that needs to be celebrated," said Van Houten. "As a current teacher and parent of a St. Francis student, I have a strong understanding of the academic, social and emotional needs of the key stakeholders: students, families and teachers."

"I am excited about the opportunity to continue working and collaborating in an environment where I can contribute to the quality of an all-girls faith-based education," she said.

Van Houten started teaching in the Elk Grove Unified School District in 2001 and joined the staff at St. Francis Catholic High School in 2016 as a social studies teacher, including AP U.S. history and AP government and politics.

Van Houten is also an Adjunct Professor at Sacramento State University where she teaches aspiring multiple subject and social science teachers.

"We are excited to have Julie take on this position of leadership at St. Francis," said Principal Elias Mendoza. "Her time as a faculty representative on our executive staff, her innovative approach to curriculum and instructional delivery, and her passion for the mission of St. Francis make her the perfect choice." ★

DAR Community Service Awards Honors Three

Story and photos by Thomas J. Sullivan

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Three community leaders were honored for their community service by members of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) General John A. Sutter Citrus Heights Chapter on May 11 for their many volunteer contributions to the local community.

Lorie Rheams, a resident of Orangevale and an active member of the Orangevale Rotary Club with her husband, Russ, were recognized for two volunteer activities in which they both made a difference in their community.

For the past 17 years, the Rheams have volunteered to distribute Christmas baskets to local families in need at Divine Savior Catholic Church in Orangevale. Some 43 such baskets were distributed at Divine Savior in December 2023.

"There's such an incredible need and so many ways in which all of us can help our community," she said modestly. Rheams acknowledged the support of her husband who is "always by my side," fellow church members at Divine Savior and her fellow Orangevale Rotarians in being able to "model and live a full life of service to others."

Rheams was also cited for leading a clothing collection program for the nonprofit Underground Clothing Connection store in the Citrus Heights Sunrise Mall for young adults and children in need.

"What the Underground needs now, besides clothing donations, is consistent volunteer support hours helping out in the store to better help it thrive," she said. "It's an important resource for so many people it serves," she said.

The free clothing store, exclusively for students and their families of San Juan Unified School District, by school referral only, is the product of a community partnership between the Citrus Heights Homeless Assistance Resource Team (HART), Sunrise Mall, San Juan Unified School District (SJUSD) and Sunrise MarketPlace (SMP).

To volunteer or make a clothing donation to the Underground Clothing Connection, call 916-952-9797 or email TheUnderground444@gmail.com.

The couple also own and operate Orangevale Copy Center at 9267 Greenback Lane, Suite C5, Orangevale, since February 1990.

Here are Dianne Poppert, Citrus Heights Daughters of the American Revolution Community Service Award chairperson, Lorie Rheams, and Sacramento County Supervisor Sue Frost.

Kaye Lynn and David Peterson of Sacramento were recognized for volunteering their time leading a non-partisan U.S. Constitution Discussion Group (CDG), which meets at Epic Bible College at 4330 Auburn Boulevard in Sacramento. Both received an award for their outstanding service to the community.

The couple lead a free eight-week course on the U.S. Constitution through

Aug. 29 from 6 to 8 p.m. hosted at Epic Bible College with discussion topics including state sovereignty, nullification and taxation, unconstitutional powers, the Electoral College, and the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution prohibiting unreasonable search and seizures.

"We the people, no longer understand our relationship to, and our responsibilities under the Constitution," Kaye Lynn Peterson told the Daughters of the American Revolution members. "Our purpose is to help adults review, re-learn and discuss what a Constitutional Republic is, and review the documents left to us by the Founding Fathers of our nation."

The Sacramento U.S. Constitution Discussion Group, running for the past three years, is conducted in a seminar-style presentation, with instruction followed by open discussion and questions. Kaye Lynn is the moderator and searches for material to cover, while David runs the video equipment used to present audio-visual materials.

The couple said a "thorough understanding and refresh of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship under the U.S. Constitution are an important part of an active civics education."

The General John A. Sutter Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, a nonprofit, non-political organization, meets at the Sylvan Community Center, 7521 Community Drive in Citrus Heights.

Women who are 18 years of age and older and descended from a parent who aided in achieving American independence between April 19, 1775, and Nov. 26, 1783, can apply for Daughters of the American Revolution membership. ★

The Kitchen Table Serves All

Local Shop is Centerpiece for Foodie Fans

Story and photos by Kristina Rogers

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A delightful neon sign and retro-kitchen display say “Welcome to the Kitchen Table” at the East Sacramento store on 810 Alhambra Blvd. The owner, Susan O’Brien, was busy bringing in products from her car, speaking with staff, and putting the finishing touches on displays. For someone who appears so in charge, it may be surprising to know this is her first experience as a shop owner.

“I was a psychologist and decided it was time to leave, but I couldn’t really retire. We still had kids at home.” She smiles, “My husband encouraged me to get another job, but when I decided to do this, he was surprised.”

As anyone knows, owning a business is not a nine-to-five endeavor. But O’Brien envisioned a kitchen boutique focused on carefully curated cooking tools and community gatherings. It was a niche area she didn’t see represented. She entered the 2017 Calling All Dreamers competition, produced by the Downtown Sacramento Partnership and became a finalist. “I didn’t win, but the learning and support I got through that process encouraged me to move forward independently.”

The Kitchen Table opened in the Fall of 2017, and since then, it has grown into two locations: Land Park and East Sacramento. The East Sac location just moved into a bigger space last March.

The new, larger East Sacramento store is at 810 Alhambra Blvd.

“This site is three times as big as the old one, which means we can do so much more here,” says O’Brien. And she is filling it up fast with eclectic kitchen bowls, high-end cookware, and locally sourced foods and décor.

The Land Park shop at 2665 Riverside Blvd. has been gaining attention since its grand opening in April 2023. The focal point for that store is a giant farm table, the epicenter for seasonal displays of wonderment. I spoke to employee Judy Raglan, who cheerfully walked me around the store. My head was on a swivel, absorbing the whimsical English crockery and eye-catching serving ware. She pointed to a shelf stocked with bright kitchen gadgets, and giggles: “We call these the tools you didn’t know you needed until you saw them!”

However, for serious cooks, the most impressive items are found in products like the Smithie Ironware collection. Hand-forged cookware from North Charleston, South Carolina, The Kitchen Table is the only carrier in the Sacramento region. There are also beautiful saucepans and pots from Netherton Foundry, made in Shropshire, Britain (O’Brien’s husband is a Brit, and they toured the foundry themselves). This is “heritage piece” cookware meant to be used and passed down through the family. If you struggle to find the perfect high-end gift for the cook who has everything, this may be the item they’ll brag about to their foodie friends.

But honestly, even if you don’t know how to boil water, the store is incredibly fun. There’s unique neighborhood home decor,

Judy Raglan holds a sign at the Land Park store.

Land Park and East Sac pillows, baby gifts, dog gear, and an assortment of local art. Holidays bring new decorations and retro tchotchkes to freshen up the home. They also keep a regular supply of seasonal specialties. Mocktails are trending; visitors can find a nice array of alcohol-free organic elixirs, cocktail mixers, and recipe books. Glampers will see next level smores supplies and barbecue sauces for their summer adventures.

Both shops have their own personalities, which are reflected in the different types of events.

The Land Park location is focused on craft nights like calligraphy and succulent arrangements. Once the kitchen space is completed, the East Sacramento store will focus on cooking demonstrations and classes. And both stores offer knife sharpening days, usually on the third Thursday of the month.

Since O’Brien’s is a woman-owned shop, she believes in spreading the love. She works with SacVendorConnect to host pop-ups in her parking lots. Local family businesses offer goods such as spices, baked treats, hand-made cutting boards, and home-grown pickled green beans.

O’Brien is proactive about hosting fundraisers and book drives for Wellspring Women’s Center, a local organization supporting women and children in crises (www.wellspringwomen.org).

The Land Park store also has a bin to donate art supplies. So, if you went on a crafting spree and never got around to those projects, you can do some good and drop them off.

At a time when some local businesses struggle to keep their doors open, the Kitchen Table has found a place in the hearts of Sacramento locals. It could be attributed to Susan O’Brien’s gift of using food as her love language. She said, “I’ve always enjoyed bringing people around the table to eat good food and reconnect.” And her guest list continues to grow.

Families of Murder Victims Embrace Hope

Rachel Benavidez receives an award for her advocacy from District 5 Councilmember Caity Maple.

Photos and artwork are displayed at Chorley Park’s first community resources fair to remember murder victims.

Tuhn and her co-founder, Kaysie Biagini, help victims’ families talk, cry, rant and heal.

Leticia Galvan and Tuhn know each other as grieving mothers and through their advocacy. Galvan founded the Rewards for Justice organization. In 2016, her son, Luis, was murdered in Lodi. His killer was sentenced to nine years in state prison. Galvan wanted to help other families get justice, too.

“We work with Crime Stoppers to increase rewards for unsolved homicides, hoping they will lead to an arrest,” Galvan said.

Her fundraising boosted a reward to $10,000 for a 2018 cold case, according to Galvan.

With the support of a private donor, billboard trucks display victims’ information and the rewards offered.

“When the truck drives around, someone knows about those homicides; we are hoping and praying they come forward,” Galvan said.

Donald Vaughn, chief deputy DA Special Operations in Stockton, stops to hug Tuhn, who said, “If I have any questions, I can always call Donald. The D.A.’s office is like family. They care.”

Vaughn is grateful for what these organizations do.

“What victims go through needs to be brought to light. I was a homicide prosecutor and got to know families for two to three years,” Vaughn said. “We do our part to ensure justice but I have to move on once the case is finished. Victimization doesn’t end when the case is over. People like Joyce provide the long-term support these families need.”

Justice reform is a popular topic these days. Vaughn said that “some good has come out of it but people should question” how it has served the victims and their families.

“When I first started, I could say how long the murderer was going to prison,” Vaughn said. “Now, with the changes in the law, I have to tell them I don’t know.”

In California, voters passed Proposition 57 in 2016 to stop prison overcrowding and support early release. In 2014, Prop. 47 passed. Some justice system professionals say the legislation has done more harm than good. Because of these changes, previously completed cases are going back to court. When a prisoner is up for early parole, some families’ emotional wounds are reopened and the trauma continues.

If the public wants to help victims’ families, Tuhn said, they can pay attention when voting.

“A law can sound good, but read the fine print before you vote,” Tuhn said. “They make it sound like it’s something it’s not.”

And one of the biggest concerns of families is their loved ones will be forgotten.

Paula Gardner and Rachel Benavidez continue to seek justice while supporting others. They founded Survivors’ Way, which raises funds to create memory murals in public spaces.

“The murals give families a space to breathe,” Gardner said.

Michelle Benavidez, Benavidez’s daughter, was brutally raped and murdered while waiting at the Florin light rail station on May 14, 2021. Benavidez’s memory mural is at the corner of Arden Way and Del Paso Boulevard in Sacramento.

“I think people believe this only happens in bad areas, but it happens in every area,” said Michelle’s aunt, Paula Gardner. “For us, it was tragic; we didn’t know how to proceed with life. It took our family eight months to get any information about Michelle’s murder.”

Gardner said her organization provides “guidance through the process and keep families from feeling stuck like we did.”

Searching for Faith Isn't for the Faint of Heart

I'm still on a Baltic Sea cruise this week with Holland America. It's been good sailing, but I carry motion sickness medication just in case.

I wonder if that medication would have helped me some years ago when I went to my doctor hoping for a simple steroid shot for the bursitis in my shoulder.

(Stop me if I've told you this story before because I think I may have.)

As the nurse smeared the injection site with disinfectant and placed a surgical drape over my shoulder, it was clear that this wasn't going to be a plain old shot.

To mask my anxiety, I started cracking jokes.

"Will this steroid buff me up and help me play amazing baseball?" I asked.

The doctor seemed unamused as she began reciting the list of things that could possibly go wrong. It was simple things such as nerve damage, infections and twitching.

BY NORRIS BURKES

"Don't worry," she said as I eyed the door, "we've never had a problem."

Easy for her to say. She was on the giving end of the three-inch needle.

"Do you mind if I sing a hymn?" I asked.

"No, go right ahead," she said.

I began to hum, "Shall We Gather at the River?" but her glare suggested that I change that tune.

A few moments later, as she began the deep injection, I had a news flash. To be more precise, a hot flash.

"Simple" quickly became complicated. "I think I'm going to faint," I said. I felt like severe motion sickness.

"Lie down," the doctor advised, "and don't forget to breathe."

Breathing wasn't my problem at that moment; it was my hearing that felt impaired. I've always heard that hearing was the last thing to go before you die.

Then came a muffled question from the nursing assistant. "Do you feel your heart beating faster?"

"I don't think so," I whined as I felt her offering her hand. I'd always heard that in a near-death experience, someone will take your hand and walk you through a tunnel toward the light.

"Your pulse is slowing a bit, but don't worry," the doctor reported, "I think you're having a vagal response."

"What's a vagal response?" I asked.

I didn't hear an immediate answer, so I persisted.

"Is that some kind of anaphylactic shock?"

I wanted her to know I knew some medical lingo. Anaphylactic shock is a life-threatening condition where blood pressure becomes too low to sustain life.

I wondered if it might be the kind of thing that often precipitates near-death experiences.

"Lord," I silently prayed, "if this is going to be a near-death deal, please send me back before my column deadline."

I was imagining the headline: "Chaplain Reports Existence of God After Near-death Experience."

It was definitely Pulitzer-Prize stuff; but as I thought about it, I wasn't sure I was ready for an exclusive with the Holy. So, I nodded to the doctor and pronounced, "We're done here."

Nevertheless, I did learn a few things.

First, I learned that sometimes the best evidence we have of God's existence is the warm hand of another. Thankfully, this means that God will always have a pulse, even when I don't.

Second, I think maybe sometimes we need to allow God to find us through the kindness of others. I was looking for God down that tunnel and, while I didn't see God, I did see someone who showed compassion.

In other words, God showed up and she was wearing scrubs.

The third thing I learned is the definition of a "vagal response."

"A vagal response," my doctor explained as she called me back from the proverbial tunnel of white light, "is pretty much like fainting."

"We'll have to try this next week. I'll get you a prescription for Xanax for your anxiety."

Wow. I guess searching for faith isn't for the faint of heart.

Headline: "Chaplain faints again, misses deadline."

Four-Legged Seasonal Help Brought in To Fight Flooding

Sacramento County Department of Water Resources News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Department of Water Resources (DWR) is continuing its annual eco-friendly program to combat overgrowth in detention basins to prevent the potential for flooding in the unincorporated parts of the County.

Starting on May 21, Billy Goat Gruff and hundreds of his hungriest friends will converge on five separate locations over the next five weeks to help reduce the flood threat from overgrown grass and weeds.

Most of the County's flood prevention efforts occur during the spring and summer months before the rains fall again. Left unattended overgrowth could block water flow from heavy rains, resulting in street flooding.

This is the twelfth year these contractors have been utilized as an effective force to ensure the creeks and detention basins are clear for the upcoming storm season. This year, 300 goats and sheep will be casually dining as they rotate through five different locations.

The areas chosen for the contractor's dining experience will include Arcade Creek at Evergreen Estates: Winding Way at Auburn Blvd - 4.4 Acres, Arcade Creek at Kenneth Avenue: N/O Burl Way - 3.4 Acres, Arcade Creek at White Fir Way: E/O Garfield Ave - 2 Acres, Ottoman Hills Detention Basin: Main Avenue at Wiltshire Way - .7 Acres, and Strawberry Creek at Calvine Road: East & West of Auberry Drive - 7.7 Acres.

Residents near the projects received postcards letting them know about the cost-effective approach to flood prevention work. An onsite herder and trained dogs accompany the dining party 24 hours a day to ensure they are cared for, kept on task, don't wander off, and offer Thousand Island or Blue Cheese, if requested. ★

SMUD's Shine Program Accepting Applications

SMUD News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The SMUD Shine Awards' application period opened for nonprofit organizations June 1 and runs through July 31. The Shine Awards program is designed to improve and revitalize communities in the Sacramento region.

Proposals should focus on projects that support zero carbon workforce development, environmental justice and equity, inclusive economic development and STEM education. Shine projects align with SMUD's Clean Energy Vision, which is to eliminate all carbon emissions from the power supply by 2030.

Shine awards range from $5,000 to $100,000 and are very competitive. Any incorporated nonprofit organization within SMUD's service area is eligible to apply. Shine awards are available at three funding levels: Spark (up to $10,000), Amplifier (up to $50,000) and Transformer (up to $100,000). Applications will be accepted through July 31.

While SMUD will consider a broad variety of potential projects, it is primarily interested in proposals that promote the 2030 Clean Energy Vision. That includes utilizing clean energy solutions, advancing zero carbon workforce development and training, promoting energy efficiency, energy conservation and greenhouse gas reduction particularly in diverse and under-resourced communities (environmental justice and equity), supporting inclusive economic development and involving clean energy education related to energy efficiency, renewable energy or related Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields.

SMUD will host multiple technical assistance webinar sessions about Shine and the application process. A registration link and application can be found on smud.org/Shine.

This past year, SMUD awarded more than $583,000 in Shine funding to 29 local nonprofits. SMUD received a wide range of applications, and the selected projects were able to successfully demonstrate collaboration and the potential for broad community impact.

Each year, SMUD contributes approximately $3 million in financial support and in-kind services to community-based organizations. SMUD will continue to support healthy, vibrant, and economically sustainable neighborhoods for all customers, with a special focus toward improving equity in the region through SMUD's Sustainable Communities program.

New State Ballot Measure Restricts Spending by Health Care Providers

California Secretary of State News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Secretary of State Shirley N. Weber, Ph.D. announced that an initiative became eligible for the Nov. 5 General Election ballot on May 21.

To become eligible for the ballot, the initiative needed 546,651 valid petition signatures, which is equal to five percent of the total votes cast for governor in the November 2022 General Election.

A measure can become eligible via random sampling of petition signatures if the sampling projects that the number of valid signatures is greater than 110 percent of the required number.

The initiative needed at least 601,317 projected valid signatures to become eligible by random sampling, and it exceeded that threshold.

On June 27, the Secretary of State will certify the initiative as qualified for the Nov. 5 General Election ballot, unless it is withdrawn by the proponent prior to certification pursuant to Elections Code section 9604(b).

The Attorney General's official title and summary of the measure is as follows:

Restricts spending by health care providers meeting specified criteria. Initiative statute. Requires certain health care providers to spend 98% of revenues from the federal discount prescription drug program on direct patient care. Applies only to health care providers that: spent over $100,000,000 in any ten-year period on anything other than direct patient care; and operated multifamily housing with over 500 high-severity health and safety violations. Penalizes non-compliance by revoking health care licenses and tax-exempt status.

Permanently authorizes state to negotiate

Medi-Cal drug prices on statewide basis. Summary of estimate by Legislative Analyst and Director of Finance of fiscal impact on state and local governments: Increased costs to state government, potentially up to the millions of dollars annually, to review entities' compliance with the measure and enforce the measure's provisions. These costs would be paid for by fees created under the measure. Uncertain fiscal impacts to state and local government health programs, depending on how the affected entities respond to the measure's requirements. (23-0021A1.)

The Secretary of State's tracking number for this measure is 1963 and the Attorney General's tracking number is 23-0021A1.

Volunteers Honored with DOVIA Awards

By Ornella Rossi

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The nonprofit Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) honored 23 volunteers from communities throughout Sacramento County and Yolo County at its awards ceremony on May 16.

Since its inception in 1978, DOVIA Sacramento has played a crucial role in connecting professional volunteer managers and leaders. It serves as a hub for exchanging ideas and resources among those who oversee volunteers in different organizations. Additionally, it collaborates with various groups to raise awareness about the importance of volunteering in the community. By fostering communications between member agencies, institutions, and the public, it aims to create a more supportive environment for volunteerism to thrive.

"We are committed to honoring exceptional people in our community and training volunteer program managers from a variety of local service-organizations," said DOVIA board member Twyla Teitzel.

DOVIA has a variety of agency members ranging from hospices to food banks and local government organizations. It covers Sacramento, Sutter, Yolo, Yuba, El Dorado and Placer counties.

The May 16 reception held at the Girls Scout Heart of California office honored the 23 nominees and winners of the Youth Volunteer of the Year, the Individual Volunteer of the Year and Volunteer Manager of the Year awards.

"The DOVIA executive board focuses on executing events such as this awards ceremony," said communication chair

Jacqueline Ramirez. "Volunteer events broaden the awareness of volunteerism and the critical role volunteers play in helping meet local needs required for the community to function at its best."

Among the nominees, seven volunteers were nominated for Youth Volunteer of the Year, 13 were nominated for Individual Volunteer of the Year and three volunteer coordinators were nominated for Volunteer Manager of the Year. The evaluation was conducted by a panel of three judges: Barbara Fitzwater, retired volunteer manager at Kaiser Permanente; Tiffany Maese, volunteer coordinator at the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office; and Janice Wagaman, formerly associated with the Front Street Animal Shelter.

The Margaret Einspahr Youth Volunteer of the Year award acknowledges a youth volunteer under age 21 who has shown exceptional dedication to community service, having contributed a minimum of 25 hours of service between January and December 2023. Recipients of this award receive a $500 scholarship funded by the Margaret Einspahr Memorial Fund to honor Margaret Einspahr's legacy as a dedicated leader in the field of volunteerism.

The 2024 winner of the Youth Volunteer award was Riya Janardhan, a high school junior, nominated by WEAVE, a nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting safe and healthy relationships and support survivors of sexual assault, domestic violence, and sex trafficking in Sacramento. Janardhan was nominated for her dedication to advocating for women's rights and gender equality.

"Being a girl myself and having to experience different stereotypes, I don't want to have to experience this at such a young age," Janardhan said. "It's something I strive to want to fix."

Other nominees for this position included Kevin Leach, nominated by Meristem in Fair Oaks; Kai Nakaoka, nominated by Scouting America in Sacramento; Maximum Truong, nominated by the Sacramento Tree Foundation; and Kristy Yu, Flynn Ng, and Cara Taylor, nominated by the Sacramento Public Library

The Individual Volunteer of the Year award is presented to a volunteer over age 21, who has dedicated a minimum of 25 hours of service. The award recipient receives a $100 award for their organization.

The winner for this year's award was Patricia Estopinal, nominated by Court Appointed Special Advocates Sacramento (CASA), an organization focused on ensuring support for children in the foster care system through volunteer advocates.

"This award means so much because for the past 14 years being able to have a relationship with foster youth, to have a relationship where you know that you're the one constant, no matter what is going on in their lives, it's just such a meaningful relationship," Estopinal said.

The nominees for the positions included Beatriz Bueno and Jane Shapiro, nominated by the Sacramento Medical Serve Corps in McClellan; Anne Marie Christian, Daisey Maldonado and Karina Villanueva, nominated by Dignity Health Methodist Hospital in Sacramento; Mary Kay Edson, nominated by the Sacramento Public Library; Ron Hills, nominated by Vitalant in Mather; Marissa Honey-Plate, nominated by the Miss Sacramento County Scholarship Organization in Antelope; Rodney Horton, nominated by the American River Parkway Foundation in Carmichael; Nicky Smolter, nominated by the Lavender Library in Sacramento; Matthew Tran, nominated by the Sacramento Tree Foundation in Folsom; and Kristy Venrick Mardon, nominated by Only Sunshine Sanctuary in Fair Oaks.

Volunteer Manager of the Year honors a volunteer manager who demonstrated outstanding leadership and dedication to supporting volunteers. The winner received a $100 award for their organization, along with a one-year complimentary DOVIA Sacramento organization membership.

The 2024 winner was Marlene von Friederichs-Fitzwater nominated for her work with Joshua's House and Health Communication Research Institute located in Yolo County.

She has spent the past decade building Joshua's House, a hospice facility for terminally-ill homeless individuals. Von Friederichs-Fitzwater has raised $2.5 million and created a volunteer organization to provide high-quality care.

Other nominations included Marissa Honey-Plata nominated by Miss Sacramento County Scholarship Organization and Justin Rubio with Sacramento Tree Foundation.

During the ceremony, several guest speakers talked about the importance of volunteering and the work they have done throughout the years. Lynn Pesely, winner of the 2023 DOVIA Volunteer Manager award, talked about her work with the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps. Helen Dang, Miss Sacramento County, and Nicole Vicks, Miss Capitol City, winners of the Miss Sacramento County Scholarship program, mentioned their work with advocacy and action for the houseless and Stomp Out Bullying respectively.

"One second, one minute, one action can change someone's life," Dang said. "All it takes is one good deed to build the foundation of lasting change." ★

Field Day a Celebration for Ham Radio Enthusiasts

Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Ham radio operators from the Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts in the Sacramento County area will participate in a national amateur radio exercise from 11 a.m. Saturday, June 22 to 12:59 p.m. on Sunday, June 23.

Hams set up temporary transmitting stations in public places to showcase the science, skill and service of amateur radio. It is an exciting opportunity to learn, connect and demonstrate the capabilities of this hobby. Use the Field Day Locator at www.arrl.org/field-day-locator to find a site near you and join the celebration. The Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts group will set up operations in Diamond Springs.

Hams from throughout North America ordinarily participate in Field Day by establishing temporary ham radio stations in public locations to demonstrate their skill and service. Their use of radio signals, which reach beyond borders, bring people together while providing essential communication in the service of communities. Field Day highlights ham radio's ability to work reliably under any conditions from almost any location and create an independent, wireless communications network.

Hams from the Sacramento, El Dorado and Placer County area will also use radio stations set up in their homes or take to their backyards and other locations to operate individually or with their families. Many hams have portable radio communication capability that includes alternative energy sources such as generators, solar panels and batteries to power their equipment.

Hams have a long history of serving our communities when storms or other disasters damage critical communication infrastructure, including cell towers.

Ham radio functions are completely independent of the internet and phone systems and a station can be set up almost anywhere in minutes.

Hams can quickly raise a wire antenna in a tree or on a mast, connect it to a radio and power source, and communicate effectively with others.

For more information, contact the California Department of Technology Radio Association (N6CDT) at soudabeh.najarzadeh@stateofca.gov or visit the Amateur Radio Club (KF6NNM) Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts page at www.kf6nnm.net.

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 8.00%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $25 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Alice Astafan Shares Her Story

Retired Major General Highlights Achievements (and Challenges) in New Memoir

By Annie Kerr

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Being the first female two-star general in the Air Force Reserves is only one of 85-year-old trailblazer Alice Astafan's many accomplishments. She was also a CEO, worked at the Pentagon, was personally appointed by former Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger and is now a published author.

But that's merely scratching the surface. Astafan's memoir, "Lady Leader Leaves Lasting Legacy," takes the reader through a detailed journey of her extraordinary life, leaving inspiration and courage along the way.

Messenger Publishing Group had a recent conversation with Astafan at her Carmichael home. Tucked away in a peaceful neighborhood, the Astafan house is warm and inviting. Astafan is quick-witted, energetic and wildly interesting. "Why do newspaper people care so much about my age?" she laughed when asked.

A longtime Carmichael resident, Astafan hails from a farm in rural Alabama, which is obvious when her honey-sweet Southern accent comes out. Born Nora Alice Davidson, she spent her childhood among eight other siblings (seven also served in the military), helping with farmwork and living off the land.

Dreaming of a bigger life, she later put herself through the University of Alabama by working various jobs on campus. There she studied biology and chemistry. "Roll Tide!" she said at one point of the newspaper interview, alluding to the Alabama slang.

Astafan was first inspired to serve her country when she attended a movie theater at age 19. She saw a cutout of a woman dressed in an Air Force uniform, advertising women's enrollment in Officer Training School. This piqued her interest, so she joined the Air Force in 1960, where she would become very successful. Little did she know that she would go on to make history as the first female two-star general in the Air Force Reserves. To clarify, a two-star general is nominated by the president and confirmed by the Senate.

Being one of the only women among thousands of men in the Air Force, it would be safe to assume there was some disadvantage due to the time period. However, Astafan was sure to point out, she didn't face much sexism or prejudice in the military, and if anything, the men she worked with were protective and supportive of her. Astafan reminisced that they recognized her work ethic and loyalty and gave her the promotions she deserved.

"Throughout my career, I had 42 male supervisors and they all treated me with great respect," she said.

Astafan's military career lasted 38 years, taking her throughout the world. Her duties included developing and finalizing logistics plans, inventorying war readiness material, coordinating and planning support for aircraft and hundreds of personnel, and much more.

From Thailand to Austria to England to Africa, she traveled near and far, eventually landing at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City in 1965, where she met her future husband, Peter Astafan, a civilian employee. The pair married in a small ceremony in 1968.

"He was perfect," Astafan said. "He didn't have a jealous bone in his body."

When Peter was assigned to Fort McClellan in 1973, he and Astafan moved to Carmichael. Shortly after their move, the Astafans welcomed a baby boy named Patrick. He would be their only child. To juggle motherhood and her booming career, Astafan stepped down from her 13-year stint of active duty and joined the Air Force Reserves. This gave her more ability to care for Patrick and still do the job she loved. Impressing all her supervisors, it was only a few years later in 1988 when she was named a general and received her first star.

What made Astafan so successful? She said it was all about following the Air Force mission, being a team player and working to the best of her ability. Her grit and determination were recognized and she proved herself capable every single time she was promoted.

While continuing her successful career, the unimaginable happened when Patrick was diagnosed with leukemia in 1992. While Patrick was fighting leukemia, Astafan somehow kept rising up the military ladder, traveling and working in logistics at the Pentagon, officially receiving her second star in 1993, while also supporting her son.

Unfortunately, Patrick lost his hard-fought battle in 1994 at age 20, which turned Astafan's world upside down.

"He was a jewel, he really was," Astafan said. Patrick's legacy has since been honored with a scholarship fund in his name at both Oklahoma Christian University and California State University, Sacramento (CSUS), which has helped fund nearly 200 students' education.

Then in 2021, Peter died from retrograde amnesia, which was another unimaginable loss.

"We had been married for 53 years, four months, and nine days. My life will never be the same," Astafan wrote in her memoir.

When asked how she kept going after losing both her husband and son, Astafan points to sky, referring to God. She honors both Patrick and Peter in her memoir's Chapter 15, "My Soulmate and My Angel - Love is the Greatest Blessing of All".

After retiring from the Air Force in 1998, Astafan immediately dove into a new role as the CEO of the Federal Technology Center, which works with state, federal, and local government contracts. She stayed in that role for 10 years. In addition, she was appointed by former Gov. Schwarzenegger to serve as the chairperson on the California Veterans Board. She served on 20 boards of directors with no compensation, wrote and gave 100 speeches across the country, was the grand marshal of the Sacramento and Elk Grove Veteran's Day parades, and even got her master's in both early childhood education and international affairs from California State University at Sacramento.

Astafan hopes her passion for this country will inspire American youth to serve their country, chase their dreams and believe in themselves.

"Quite frankly, the country needs women to serve," Astafan said. "We need good honest people to serve our nation so our way of life can forever be safe and in place. Why do so many people want to come to America? Think about it."

She provides words of wisdom to young people: "You do not have to be born with a silver spoon in your mouth. You can dream big, set goals, work honestly and diligently, and become most anything in America. Also, it is not what happens to you along the way, it is how you handle those things. Life is short; it is like a drop of dew on a blade of grass; in the morning it is there but it is soon over. Make your time on this Earth count for something!"

There is so much more to her story. Astafan has lived what can only be described as a remarkable life and has changed the lives of others, as well. Devoted to every role she has had, whether it was picking cotton on her childhood farm, being a wife and mother, a mentor, a CEO or a two-star general, Astafan has lived a life full of hard work, selflessness, patriotism and integrity.

Leaving no stone unturned, Astafan's book is filled to the brim with her past speeches, every article written about her and a vast array of photos. It is now available to purchase on her website (aliceastafan.com) or on Amazon. ★

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Carmichael's Vietnam Monument was last weekend central to Memorial Day commemorations. Flags, flowers, and memories were shared by more than 100 visitors.

US Army Brigadier General Don Currier (retired) gave the address. "The vast amount of this country's success has come because of sacrifices made so we could have our freedoms," considered Currier. "This great nation did not happen in a day; it took more than 200 years -- and the blood and toil of those who came before us.

Disabled Veteran Gets 'Best Buddy'

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - A four-legged friend has quadrupled happiness for a Mather veteran with PTSD syndrome. Former US Navy electrician Dennis Deutscher (55) recently took delivery of a service-puppy-in-training, golden retriever Lily.

"It's one of the brighter experiences of my life," says Deutscher. "For me and Lily, the sky is blue and the sky's the limit."

The adoption was made possible by a recent "Ride For Reason" fundraiser for the Carmichael-based Higher Purpose Foundation. Fronted by Tesla rock band singer Jeff Keith, the nonprofit organization sponsored a 400-rider motorbike convoy from Folsom to Roseville.

Although the event collided with a rainstorm, Keith and friends hung tough and raised $24,000. Proceeds will help youth in foster programs and have provided Deutscher with a golden-coated companion.

The veteran and pup introduction brought tears to many eyes. At All Stage Canine Development in Citrus Heights, the 12-week-old golden retriever jumped from a trainer's arms, bounced past a dozen onlookers and claimed her future master.

"How did she know it was me?" marveled the vet. "It was like someone sprayed me with some magic dust. She was excited and kissing me. I could help but tear up."

Deutscher's military career ended in 1992. The aviation electrician serviced F 18 Fighters during Operation Desert Storm. At 19 years old, he was devastated by a 1989 explosion on board the supercarrier USS America.

"I was right by the explosion," he recalled. "Two of my friends died. My PTSD came mostly from then. I fought things I'd seen, also the stress of long wartime hours. In my generation, we hid our feelings. I didn't know I had PTSD 'til a couple of years ago. It cost me jobs and ruined relationships. Substance abuse was the only way I could calm my brain."

After his troubled years and a spell of homelessness, Deutscher is now drug-free and lives in Veterans Village, Mather, where he's at last being

"Lily is a game-changer," he said of his new friend. "I had dogs growing up. I knew a service dog would brighten my days and be a huge support for me."

Lily has not disappointed.

move 'til I wake up. Then she puts her arms on my shoulders and kisses me to say good morning.

"From the moment I met her, it's been awesome," he said. "I feel my anxiety level has changed. She makes me calm. We go on walks and if people talk to her, she'll give them a few seconds, then come right back to me. She never leaves my side. she's my best buddy."

A Tesla fan since high school in Lodi, Deutscher connected with the Higher Purpose Foundation, a cause his rockstar hero Keith supports, during the motorbike ride fundraiser.

Explained Foundation President Whitney Webb, a Carmichael resident: "We'd decided to use some of our funds for a dog for a veteran. When I met Dennis, we talked and both ended up in tears. I knew right away he was meant to receive this gift."

Bred by Crème Brulee Golden, Sacramento, the dog's initial food, veterinary costs and training are covered by the gift. RRUFF Healing Heroes, a Lincoln-based agency that sponsors service dog training for disabled veterans, also contributed $5,000 to training costs.

"I don't see how Lily could be better than she already is," Deutscher said. "But we'll learn skills together. If it makes her a better dog, it'll make me a better person."

"I'd wanted a service dog for some time. Because of the cost, it just wasn't possible. Everyone involved in this gift has shown me love and compassion," Deutscher said. "It's truly a God thing that they found me and gave me this fantastic companion."
