California Capital Airshow News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California Capital Airshow, presented by Sacramento County in partnership with the City of Rancho Cordova, invites community members to sign up as airshow volunteers for the 2024 Airshow. This year's Airshow at Mather Airport on July 13 and 14 features aerial performances by Italian Jet Team Frece Tricolori and the United States Air Force Thunderbirds Jet Demonstration Team. More than 1,000 community members make up the corps of volunteers that help bring the California Capital Airshow to life each year. The Airshow is looking for adults, age 18 and older, to volunteer. "Airshow volunteers play a vital role in supporting California Capital Airshow's mission to inspire the next generation through the wonder of flight," said Darcy Brewer, executive director of the California Capital Airshow. "Their efforts make a huge impact for our nonprofit and they get to build a sense of community while enjoying the behind-the-scenes excitement of producing a truly spectacular event." Volunteers will be fed and provided with water throughout the day, in addition to receiving a commemorative "Airshow Crew" T-shirt, the opportunity to make new friends, and the Airshow team's deepest gratitude for supporting this nonprofit event. Those interested are encouraged to complete volunteer registration at californiacapitalairshow.com/become-a-volunteer. For more about the Airshow, see Page 10. ★

New Asst. Principal Named at St. Francis

St. Francis Catholic High School News Release

EAST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - St. Francis Catholic High School is proud to announce Julie Van Houten as its new assistant principal. Van Houten, who holds a Master of Arts in education, is a member of the executive staff and has been serving as the social studies department chair for the past two years. She will assume her new role effective July 1.

"St. Francis is an amazing school that needs to be celebrated," said Van Houten. "As a current teacher and parent of a St. Francis student, I have a strong understanding of the academic, social and emotional needs of the key stakeholders: students, families and teachers."

"I am excited about the opportunity to continue working and collaborating in an environment where I can contribute to the quality of an all-girls faith-based education," she said. Van Houten started teaching in the Elk Grove Unified School District in 2001 and joined the staff at St. Francis Catholic High School in 2016 as a social studies teacher, including AP U.S. history and AP government and politics.

Van Houten is also an Adjunct Professor at Sacramento State University where she teaches aspiring multiple subject and social science teachers.

"We are excited to have Julie take on this position of leadership at St. Francis," said Principal Elias Mendoza. "Her time as a faculty representative on our executive staff, her innovative approach to curriculum and instructional delivery, and her passion for the mission of St. Francis make her the perfect choice."

St. Francis Catholic High School in East Sacramento has been educating young women since its founding in 1940. St. Francis draws students from more than 100 area schools across five primary counties in the greater Sacramento region. Visit www.stfrancisshs.org for more information. ★

Alice Astafan Shares Her Story

Retired Major General Highlights Achievements (and Challenges) in New Memoir

By Annie Kerr

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Being the first female two-star general in the Air Force Reserves is only one of 85-year-old trailblazer Alice Astafan's many accomplishments. She was also a CEO, worked at the Pentagon, was personally appointed by former Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger and is now a published author. But that's merely scratching the surface. Astafan's memoir, "Lady Leader Leaves Lasting Legacy," takes the reader through a detailed journey of her extraordinary life, leaving inspiration and courage along the way.

Messenger Publishing Group had a recent conversation with Astafan at her Carmichael home. Tucked away in a peaceful neighborhood, the Astafan house is warm and inviting. Astafan is quick-witted, energetic and wildly interesting. "Why do newspaper people care so much about my age?" she laughed when asked. A longtime Carmichael resident, Astafan hails from a farm in rural Alabama, which is obvious when her honey-sweet Southern accent comes out. Born Nora Alice Davidson, she spent her childhood among eight other siblings (seven also served in the military), helping with farmwork and living off the land. Dreaming of a bigger life, she later put herself through the University of Alabama by working various jobs on campus. There she studied biology and chemistry. "Roll Tide!" she said at one point of the newspaper interview, alluding to the Alabama slang. Astafan was first inspired to serve her country when she attended a movie theater at age 19.

She saw a cutout of a woman dressed in an Air Force uniform, advertising women's enrollment in Officer Training School. This piqued her interest, so she joined the Air Force in 1960, where she would become very successful. Little did she know that she would go on to make history as the first female two-star general in the Air Force Reserves. To clarify, a two-star general is

Camp Effie Yeaw Gala is June 9

by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Nature lovers will open their hearts and wallets for the Effie Yeaw Nature Center gala on June 9.

Dubbed Camp Effie Yeaw, the fundraiser has been reinvented as a glamorous camping experience with barbecue feasting and a S'mores buffet.

Supporters of the beloved Carmichael nonprofit organization will wine and dine in plain air and likely see wildlife within yards of their tables. The center's biggest fundraiser last year drew more than 150 guests.

Rio Americana High School musicians will provide a jazzy background as Good Day Sacramento host Molly Reihl emcees. Keith McLane will scare up auction bids. Much of the proceeds will fund programs for schools that could not otherwise afford nature experiences for students.

Gala fundraising includes raise-the-paddle opportunities and art sales. VIP donations this year include works from Carmichael painters Pat Mahony, Tom Sellas and the late Earl Boley. Most items are currently displayed for preview at Sacramento Fine Arts Center in Carmichael.

The auction also offers immersive guided hikes, flight lessons, travel holidays and wildlife interactions. For theater lovers, tickets for the ballet "Dracula" and musicals "Hamilton" and "Tina Turner" will fall to the highest bidders.

Administered by the American River Natural History Association, Effie Yeaw Nature Center annually welcomes more than 100,000 visitors.

The facility, preserve and all its educational programs are supported entirely by public and corporate donations. The nature center is at Ancil Hoffman Park, 2850 San Lorenzo Way

Gala tickets are $180 ($165 for ARNHA members) per person.

Camp Effie Yeaw gala sponsors include

Smoot's Landscaping Bringing Beauty to Homes for 40 Years

By Annie Kerr

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Scott Smoot is no stranger to revitalization. His company, Smoot's Landscaping, has been in business for more than 40 years and Smoot has acquired a long list of accomplishments.

Since its beginning, Smoot's Landscaping has been refurbishing homes, taking the customer's vision and adding touches of elegance in the East Sacramento, Curtis Park, and Land Park areas, but also extends to greater Sacramento.

A customer's yard gets revamped by adding stone pathways.

"I've been doing landscaping ever since I was a kid," Smoot said. "I started out by mowing lawns to installing plants for clients, then I put myself through school and was doing landscaping in the summer."

After putting himself through school, Smoot began his landscaping business, which has been his passion ever since.

Smoot said he is considering a boutique landscaper because a big component of his business is catering toward the very specific ideas and requests of his customers.

"I try to make it a natural environment mostly to keep down the maintenance factor. Many people do not know how to maintain gardens, so we do gardens that require little or no upkeep," Smoot said. "Lately, we've been doing a lot of drip irrigation because of water restrictions."

Smoot's Landscaping services include landscape designs, yard and garden renovation, water features, stone and concrete patio and walkway installations, drip and sprinkler irrigation systems, exterior lighting, and consultations/free estimates.

"Our landscape projects include traditional to modern-contemporary looks to a very natural vibe, depending on the home and client," Smoot said.

For more about Smoot Landscaping, visit smoot-landscaping.com or call Smoot at 916-454-1300. ★

Field Day a Celebration for Ham Radio Enthusiasts

Governor Appoints Three to Superior Court Bench

Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Ham radio operators from the Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts in the Sacramento County area will participate in a national amateur radio exercise from 11 a.m. Saturday, June 22 to 12:59 p.m. on Sunday, June 23.

Hams set up temporary transmitting stations in public places to showcase the science, skill and service of amateur radio. It is an exciting opportunity to learn, connect and demonstrate the capabilities of this hobby. Use the Field Day Locator at www.arrl.org/field-day-locator to find a site near you and join the celebration. The Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts group will set up operations in Diamond Springs.

Hams from throughout North America ordinarily participate in Field Day by establishing temporary ham radio stations in public locations to demonstrate their skill and service. Their use of radio signals, which reach beyond borders, bring people together while providing essential communication in the service of communities. Field Day highlights ham radio's ability to work reliably under any conditions from almost any location and create an independent, wireless communications network.

Hams from the Sacramento, El Dorado and Placer County area will also use radio stations set up in their homes or take to their backyards and other locations to operate individually or with their families. Many hams have portable radio communication capability that includes alternative energy sources such as generators, solar panels and batteries to power their equipment.

Hams have a long history of serving our communities when storms or other disasters damage critical communication infrastructure, including cell towers.

Ham radio functions are completely independent of the internet and phone systems and a station can be set up almost anywhere in minutes.

Hams can quickly raise a wire antenna in a tree or on a mast, connect it to a radio and power source, and communicate effectively with others.

For more information, contact the California Department of Technology Radio Association (N6CDT) at najarzadeh@stateofca.gov or visit the Amateur Radio Club (KF6NNM) Friends & Amateur Radio Communications Enthusiasts page at www.kf6nnm.net. ★

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 8.00%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) If the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $525 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Searching for Faith Isn’t for the Faint of Heart

I’m still on a Baltic Sea cruise this week with Holland America. It’s been good sailing, but I carry motion sickness medication just in case.

I wonder if that medication would have helped me some years ago when I went to my doctor hoping for a simple steroid shot for the bursitis in my shoulder.

(Stop me if I’ve told you this story before because I think I may have.)

As the nurse smeared the injection site with disinfectant and placed a surgical drape over my shoulder, it was clear that this wasn’t going to be a plain old shot.

To mask my anxiety, I started cracking jokes.

“Will this steroid buff me up and help me play amazing baseball?” I asked.

The doctor seemed unamused as she began reciting the list of things that could possibly go wrong. It was simple things such as nerve damage, infections and twitching.

“Don’t worry,” she said as I eyed the door, “we’ve never had a problem.”

Easy for her to say. She was on the giving end of the three-inch needle.

“Do you mind if I sing a hymn?” I asked.

“No, go right ahead,” she said.

I began to hum, “Shall We Gather at the River?” but her glare suggested that I change that tune.

A few moments later, as she began the deep injection, I had a news flash. To be more precise, a hot flash.

“Simple” quickly became complicated. “I think I’m going to faint,” I said. It felt like severe motion sickness.

“Lie down,” the doctor advised, “and don’t forget to breathe.”

Breathing wasn’t my problem at that moment; it was my hearing that felt impaired. I’ve always heard that hearing was the last thing to go before you die.

Then came a muffled question from the nursing assistant. “Do you feel your heart beating faster?”

“I don’t think so,” I whined as I felt her offering her hand. I’d always heard that in a near-death experience, someone will take your hand and walk you through a tunnel toward the light.

“Your pulse is slowing a bit, but don’t worry,” the doctor reported, “I think you’re having a vagal response.”

“What’s a vagal response?” I asked.

I didn’t hear an immediate answer, so I persisted.

“Is that some kind of anaphylactic shock?”

I wanted her to know I knew some medical lingo. Anaphylactic shock is a life-threatening condition where blood pressure becomes too low to sustain life.

I wondered if it might be the kind of thing that often precipitates near-death experiences.

“Lord,” I silently prayed, “if this is going to be a near-death deal, please send me back before my column deadline.”

I was imagining the headline: “Chaplain

Reports Existence of God After Near-death Experience.”

It was definitely Pulitzer-Prize stuff; but as I thought about it, I wasn’t sure I was ready for an exclusive with the Holy. So, I nodded to the doctor and pronounced, “We’re done here.”

Nevertheless, I did learn a few things.

First, I learned that sometimes the best evidence we have of God’s existence is the warm hand of another. Thankfully, this means that God will always have a pulse, even when I don’t.

Second, I think maybe sometimes we need to allow God to find us through the kindness of others. I was looking for God down that tunnel and, while I didn’t see God, I did see someone who showed compassion.

In other words, God

showed up and she was wearing scrubs.

The third thing I learned is the definition of a “vagal response.”

“A vagal response,” my doctor explained as she called me back from the proverbial tunnel of white light, “is pretty much like fainting.”

“We’ll have to try this next week. I’ll get you a prescription for Xanax for your anxiety.”

Wow. I guess searching for faith isn’t for the faint of heart.

Headline: “Chaplain faints again, misses deadline.”

Volunteers Honored with DOVIA Awards

By Ormella Rossi

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The nonprofit Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) honored 23 volunteers from communities throughout Sacramento County and Yolo County at its awards ceremony on May 16.

Since its inception in 1978, DOVIA Sacramento has played a crucial role in connecting professional volunteer managers and leaders. It serves as a hub for exchanging ideas and resources among those who oversee volunteers in different organizations. Additionally, it collaborates with various groups to raise awareness about the importance of volunteering in the community. By fostering communications between member agencies, institutions, and the public, it aims to create a more supportive environment for volunteerism to thrive.

“We are committed to honoring exceptional people in our community and training volunteer program managers from a variety of local service-organizations,” said DOVIA board member Twyla Teitzel.

DOVIA has a variety of agency members ranging from hospices to food banks and local government organizations. It covers Sacramento, Sutter, Yolo, Yuba, El Dorado and Placer counties.

The May 16 reception held at the Girls Scout Heart of California office honored the 23 nominees and winners of the Youth Volunteer of the Year, the Individual Volunteer of the Year and Volunteer Manager of the Year awards.

“The DOVIA executive board focuses on executing events such as this awards ceremony,” said communication chair Jacqueline Ramirez. “Volunteer events broaden the awareness of volunteerism and the critical role volunteers play in helping meet local needs required for the community to function at its best.”

Among the nominees, seven volunteers were nominated for Youth Volunteer of the Year, 13 were nominated for Individual Volunteer of the Year and three volunteer coordinators were nominated for Volunteer Manager of the Year. The evaluation was conducted by a panel of three judges: Barbara Fitzwater, retired volunteer manager at Kaiser Permanente; Tiffany Maese, volunteer coordinator at the Sacramento County Sheriff’s Office; and Janice Wagaman, formerly associated with the Front Street Animal Shelter.

The Margaret Einspahr Youth Volunteer of the Year award acknowledges a youth volunteer under age 21 who has shown exceptional dedication to community service, having contributed a minimum of 25 hours of service between January and December 2023. Recipients of this award receive a $500 scholarship funded by the Margaret Einspahr Memorial Fund to honor Margaret Einspahr’s legacy as a dedicated leader in the field of volunteerism.

The 2024 winner of the Youth Volunteer award was Riya Janardhan, a high school junior, nominated by WEAVE, a nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting safe and healthy relationships and support survivors of sexual assault, domestic violence, and sex trafficking in Sacramento. Janardhan was nominated for her dedication to advocating for women’s rights and gender equality.

“Being a girl myself and having to experience different stereotypes, I don’t want to have to experience this at such a young age,” Janardhan said. “It’s something I strive to want to fix.”

Other nominees for this position included Kevin

The Individual Volunteer of the Year award is presented to a volunteer over age 21, who has dedicated a minimum of 25 hours of service. The award recipient receives a $100 award for their organization.

The winner for this year’s award was Patricia Estopinal, nominated by Court Appointed Special Advocates Sacramento (CASA), an organization focused on ensuring support for children in the foster care system through volunteer advocates.

“This award means so much because for the past 14 years being able to have a relationship with foster youth, to have a relationship where you know that you’re the one constant, no matter what is going on in their lives, it’s just such a meaningful relationship,” Estopinal said.

The nominees for the positions included Beatriz Bueno and Jane Shapiro, nominated by the Sacramento Medical Serve Corps in McClellan; Anne Marie Christian, Daisey Maldonado and Karina Villanueva, nominated by Dignity Health Methodist Hospital in Sacramento; Mary Kay Edson, nominated by the Sacramento Public Library; Ron Hills, nominated by Vitalant in Mather; Marissa Honey-Plate, nominated by the Miss Sacramento County Scholarship Organization in Antelope; Rodney Horton, nominated by the American River Parkway Foundation in Carmichael; Nicky Smolter, nominated by the Lavender Library in Sacramento; Matthew Tran, nominated by the Sacramento Tree Foundation in Folsom; and Kristy Venrick Mardon, nominated by Only Sunshine Sanctuary in Fair Oaks.

Volunteer Manager of the Year honors a volunteer manager who demonstrated outstanding leadership and dedication to supporting volunteers. The winner received a $100 award for their organization, along with a one-year complimentary DOVIA Sacramento organization membership.

The 2024 winner was Marlene von Friedrichs-Fitzwater nominated for her work with Joshua’s House and Health Communication Research Institute in Yolo County.

She has spent the past decade building Joshuas House, a hospice facility for terminally-ill homeless individuals. Von Friedrichs-Fitzwater has raised $2.5 million and created a volunteer organization to provide high-quality care.

Other nominations included Marissa Honey-Plata nominated by Miss Sacramento County Scholarship Organization and Justin Rubio with Sacramento Tree Foundation.

During the ceremony, several guest speakers talked about the importance of volunteering and the work they have done. Lynn Pesely, winner of the 2023 DOVIA Volunteer Manager award, talked about her work with the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps. Helen Dang, Miss Sacramento County, and Nicole Vicks, Miss Capitol City, winners of the Miss Sacramento County Scholarship program, mentioned their work with advocacy and action for the houseless and Stomp Out Bullying respectively.

“One second, one minute, one action can change someone’s life,” Dang said. “All it takes is one good deed to build the foundation of lasting change.” ★

SMUD’s Shine Program Accepting Applications

SMUD News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The SMUD Shine Awards’ application period opened for nonprofit organizations June 1 and runs through July 31. The Shine Awards program is designed to improve and revitalize communities in the Sacramento region.

Proposals should focus on projects that support zero carbon workforce development, environmental justice and equity, inclusive economic development and STEM education. Shine projects align with SMUD’s Clean Energy Vision, which is to eliminate all carbon emissions from the power supply by 2030.

Shine awards range from $5,000 to $100,000 and are very competitive. Any incorporated nonprofit organization within SMUD’s service area is eligible to apply. Shine awards are available at three funding levels: Spark (up to $10,000), Amplifier (up to $50,000) and Transformer (up to $100,000). While SMUD will consider a broad variety of potential projects, it is primarily interested in proposals that promote the 2030 Clean Energy Vision. That includes utilizing clean energy solutions, advancing zero carbon workforce development and training, promoting energy efficiency, energy conservation and greenhouse gas reduction particularly in diverse and under-resourced communities (environmental justice and equity), supporting inclusive economic development and involving clean energy education related to energy efficiency, renewable energy or related Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields.

SMUD will host multiple technical assistance webinar sessions about Shine and the application process. A registration link and application can be found on smud.org/Shine.

This past year, SMUD awarded more than $583,000 in Shine funding to 29 local nonprofits. SMUD received a wide range of applications, and the selected projects were able to successfully demonstrate collaboration and the potential for broad community impact.

Each year, SMUD contributes approximately $3 million in financial support and in-kind services to community-based organizations. SMUD will continue to support healthy, vibrant, and economically sustainable neighborhoods for all customers, with a special focus toward improving equity in the region through SMUD’s Sustainable Communities program.

Disabled Veteran Gets ‘Best Buddy’

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - A four-legged friend has quadrupled happiness for a Mather veteran with PTSD syndrome. Former US Navy electrician Dennis Deutscher (55) recently took delivery of a service-puppy-in-training, golden retriever Lily.

“It’s one of the brighter experiences of my life,” says Deutscher. “For me and Lily, the sky is blue and the sky’s the limit.”

The adoption was made possible by a recent “Ride For Reason” fundraiser for the Carmichael-based Higher Purpose Foundation. Fronted by Tesla rock band singer Jeff Keith, the nonprofit organization sponsored a 400-rider motorbike convoy from Folsom to Roseville.

Although the event collided with a rainstorm, Keith and friends hung tough and raised $24,000. Proceeds will help youth in foster programs and have provided Deutscher with a golden-coated companion.

The veteran and pup introduction brought tears to many eyes. At All Stage Canine Development in Citrus Heights, the 12-week-old golden retriever jumped from a trainer’s arms, bounced past a dozen onlookers and claimed her future master.

“How did she know it was me?” marveled the vet. “It was like someone sprayed me with some magic dust. She was excited and kissing me. I could help but tear up.”

Deutscher’s military career ended in 1992. The aviation electrician serviced F 18 Fighters during Operation Desert Storm. At 19 years old, he was devastated by a 1989 explosion on board the supercarrier USS America.

“I was right by the explosion,” he recalled. “Two of my friends died. My PTSD came mostly from then. I fought things I’d seen, also the stress of long wartime hours. In my generation, we hid our feelings. I didn’t know I had PTSD ’til a couple of years ago. It cost me jobs and ruined relationships. Substance abuse was the only way I could calm my brain.”

After his troubled years and a spell of homelessness, Deutscher is now drug-free and lives in Veterans Village, Mather, where he’s at last being

“From the moment I met her, it’s been awesome,” he said. “I feel my anxiety level has changed. She makes me calm. We go on walks and if people talk to her, she’ll give them a few seconds, then come right back to me. She never leaves my side. she’s my best buddy.”

A Tesla fan since high school in Lodi, Deutscher connected with the Higher Purpose Foundation, a cause his rockstar hero Keith supports, during the motorbike ride fundraiser.

Explained Foundation President Whitney Webb, a Carmichael resident: “We’d decided to use some of our funds for a dog for a veteran. When I met Dennis, we talked and both ended up in tears. I knew right away he was meant to receive this gift.”

Bred by Crème Brulee Golden, Sacramento, the dog’s initial food, veterinary costs and training are covered by the gift. RRUFF Healing Heroes, a Lincoln-based agency that sponsors service dog training for disabled veterans, also contributed $5,000 to training costs.

“I don’t see how Lily could be better than she already is,” Deutscher said. “But we’ll learn skills together. If it makes her a better dog, it’ll make me a better person.”

“I’d wanted a service dog for some time. Because of the cost, it just wasn’t possible. Everyone involved in this gift has shown me love and compassion,” Deutscher said. “It’s truly a God thing that they found me and gave me this fantastic companion.”

The Kitchen Table Serves All

Local Shop is Centerpiece for Foodie Fans

Story and photos by Kristina Rogers

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A delightful neon sign and retro-kitchen display say “Welcome to the Kitchen Table” at the East Sacramento store on 810 Alhambra Blvd. The owner, Susan O’Brien, was busy bringing in products from her car, speaking with staff, and putting the finishing touches on displays. For someone who appears so in charge, it may be surprising to know this is her first experience as a shop owner.

“I was a psychologist and decided it was time to leave, but I couldn’t really retire. We still had kids at home.” She smiles, “My husband encouraged me to get another job, but when I decided to do this, he was surprised.”

As anyone knows, owning a business is not a nine-to-five endeavor. But O’Brien envisioned a kitchen boutique focused on carefully curated cooking tools and community gatherings. It was a niche area she didn’t see represented. She entered the 2017 Calling All Dreamers competition, produced by the Downtown Sacramento Partnership and became a finalist. “I didn’t win, but the learning and support I got through that process encouraged me to move forward independently.”

The Kitchen Table opened in the Fall of 2017, and since then, it has grown into two locations: Land Park and East Sacramento. The East Sac location just moved into a bigger space last March. “This site is three times as big as the old one, which means we can do so much more here,” says O’Brien.

The new, larger East Sacramento store is at 810 Alhambra Blvd.

And she is filling it up fast with eclectic kitchen bowls, high-end cookware, and locally sourced foods and décor.

The Land Park shop at 2665 Riverside Blvd. has been gaining attention since its grand opening in April 2023. The focal point for that store is a giant farm table, the epicenter for seasonal displays of wonderment. I spoke to employee Judy Raglan, who cheerfully walked me around the store. My head was on a swivel, absorbing the whimsical English crockery and eye-catching serving ware. She pointed to a shelf stocked with bright kitchen gadgets, and giggles: “We call these the tools you didn’t know you needed until you saw them!”

However, for serious cooks, the most impressive items are found in products like the Smithie Ironware collection. Hand-forged cookware from North Charleston, South Carolina, The Kitchen Table is the only carrier in the Sacramento region.

There are also beautiful saucepans and pots from Netherpton Foundry, made in Shropshire, Britain (O’Brien’s husband is a Brit, and they toured the foundry themselves). This is “heritage piece” cookware meant to be used and passed down through the family. If you struggle to find the perfect high-end gift for the cook who has everything, this may be the item they’ll brag about to their foodie friends.

But honestly, even if you don’t know how to boil water, the store is incredibly fun.

There’s unique neighborhood home decor, Land Park and East Sac pillows, baby gifts, dog gear, and an assortment of local art. Holidays bring new decorations and retro tchotchkes to freshen up the home. They also keep a regular supply of seasonal specialties. Mocktails are trending; visitors can find a nice array of alcohol-free organic elixirs, cocktail mixers, and recipe books. Glampers will see next level smores supplies and O’Brien is proactive about hosting fundraisers and book drives for Wellspring Women’s Center, a local organization supporting women and children in crises (www.wellspringwomen.org).

The Land Park store also has a bin to donate art supplies. So, if you went on a crafting spree and never got around to those projects, you can do some good and drop them off.

At a time when some local businesses struggle to keep their doors open, the Kitchen Table has found a place in the hearts of Sacramento locals. It could be attributed to Susan O’Brien’s gift of using food as her love language. She said, “I’ve always enjoyed bringing people around the table to eat good food and reconnect.” And her guest list continues to grow.

Alice Astafan Shares Her Story

Continued from Page 1 nominated by the president and confirmed by the Senate. Being one of the only women among thousands of men in the Air Force, it would be safe to assume there was some disadvantage due to the time period. However, Astafan was sure to point out, she didn't face much sexism or prejudice in the military, and if anything, the men she worked with were protective and supportive of her. Astafan reminisced that they recognized her work ethic and loyalty and gave her the promotions she deserved. "Throughout my career, I had 42 male supervisors and they all treated me with great respect," she said. Astafan's military career lasted 38 years, taking her throughout the world. Her duties included developing and finalizing logistics plans, inventorying war readiness material, coordinating and planning support for aircraft and hundreds of personnel, and much more. From Thailand to Austria to England to Africa, she traveled near and far, eventually landing at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City in 1965, where she met her future husband, Peter Astafan, a civilian employee. The pair married in a small ceremony in 1968. "He was perfect," Astafan said. "He didn't have a jealous bone in his body." When Peter was assigned to Fort McClellan in 1973, he and Astafan moved to Carmichael. Shortly after their move, the Astafans welcomed a baby boy named Patrick. He would be their only child. To juggle motherhood and her booming career, Astafan stepped down from her 13-year stint of active duty and joined the Air Force Reserves. This gave her more ability to care for Patrick and still do the job she loved. Impressing all her supervisors, it was only a few years later in 1988 when she was named a general and received her first star. What made Astafan so successful? She said it was all about following the Air Force mission, being a team player and working to the best of her ability. Her grit and determination were recognized and she proved herself capable every single time she was promoted. While continuing her successful career, the unimaginable happened when Patrick was diagnosed with leukemia in 1992. While Patrick was fighting leukemia, Astafan somehow kept rising up the military ladder, traveling and working in logistics at the Pentagon, officially receiving her second star in 1993, while also supporting her son. Unfortunately, Patrick lost his hard-fought battle in 1994 at age 20, which turned Astafan's world upside down. "He was a jewel, he really was," Astafan said. Patrick's legacy has since been honored with a scholarship fund in his name at both Oklahoma Christian University and CSU Sacramento, which has helped fund nearly 200 students' education.

Then in 2021, Peter died from retrograde amnesia, which was another unimaginable loss. "We had been married for 53 years, four months, and nine days. My life will never be the same," Astafan wrote in her memoir. When asked how she kept going after losing both her husband and son, Astafan points to sky, referring to God. She honors both Patrick and Peter in her memoir's Chapter 15, "My Soulmate and My Angel – Love is the Greatest Blessing of All". After retiring from the Air Force in 1998, Astafan immediately dove into a new role as the CEO of the Federal Technology Center, which works with state, federal, and local government contracts. She stayed in that role for 10 years. In addition, she was appointed by former Gov. Schwarzenegger to serve as the chairperson on the California Veterans Board. She served on 20 boards of directors with no compensation, wrote and gave 100 speeches across the country, was the grand marshal of the Sacramento and Elk Grove Veteran's Day parades, and even got her master's in both early childhood education and international affairs from California State University at Sacramento.

Astafan hopes her passion for this country will inspire American youth to serve their country, chase their dreams and believe in themselves. "Quite frankly, the country needs women to serve," Astafan said. "We need good honest people to serve our nation so our way of life can forever be safe and in place. Why do so many people want to come to America? Think about it." She provides words of wisdom to young people: "You do not have to be born with a silver spoon in your mouth. You can dream big, set goals, work honestly and diligently, and become most anything in America. Also, it is not what happens to you along the way, it is how you handle those things. Life is short; it is like a drop of dew on a blade of grass; in the morning it is there but it is soon over. Make your time on this Earth count for something!" There is so much more to her story. Astafan has lived what can only be described as a remarkable life and has changed the lives of others, as well. Devoted to every role she has had, whether it was picking cotton on her childhood farm, being a wife and mother, a mentor, a CEO or a two-star general, Astafan has lived a life full of hard work, selflessness, patriotism and integrity. Leaving no stone unturned, Astafan's book is filled to the brim with her past speeches, every article written about her and a vast array of photos. It is now available to purchase on her website (aliceastafan.com) or on Amazon. ★

Big Day of Giving Big Deal for Nonprofits

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Local nonprofit organizations were big winners in the May 7 Big Day of Giving. Many achieved support that surpassed their hopes.

Choreographed by the Sacramento Region Community Foundation, the 24-hour give-a-thon this year helped 826 organizations and raised record donations. Gifts totaled more than $13.25 million. Since the 2013 inception of this annual appeal, public philanthropy has helped Sacramento, Yolo, El Dorado and Placer County charities to the tune of $100 million.

Administered by the American River Natural History Association, Effie Yeaw Nature Center is funded solely by public support. Big Day of Giving boosted donations by $65,000.

“We had matching funds from two of our strongest supporters,” said staffer Kalee Christensen. “It was an exciting day for us watching our computers and seeing funds come in. They’ll help us enormously.”

Carmichael Library Friends gained a share of almost $98,000 donated to Sacramento Public Library’s Friends organization. Summer reading programs and a scheme that gives free books to hundreds of Carmichael children will be funded.

“We’re so grateful for community generosity,” said local Friends President Barbara Safford. “The lifetimes of many wonderful children will be enriched by reading.”

Carmichael Kiwanis raised $12,500. It also benefited from a $500 booster prize for most donations between 5 and 6 a.m. A random prize from Big Day of Giving organizers brought in another $100.

“I’m always impressed by the generosity of our club members and our community,” said Kiwanian Mike Koerner. “We’re all about helping kids. These donations go a long way toward that aim.”

Carmichael Parks Foundation gained almost $20,000 to boost park beautification and youth programs. This total includes gifts from the Borman family, community benefactor Susan Marszal and former Supervisor Susan Peters.

Current Supervisor Rich Desmond included the Parks Foundation among 24 Big Day of Giving donations.

His choices included Carmichael Kiwanis, Sacramento Fine Arts Center, Fair Oaks Rotary, Carmichael HART and the San Juan Education Foundation.

“I dedicate District 3 discretionary funds, as well as my personal funds,” he said. “I chose organizations that help our most vulnerable residents, care for animals, promote arts and culture, and generally improve quality of life.”

Boosted by Desmond’s donation and a further $20,000 in gifts, Sacramento Fine Arts Center exceeded hopes.

“These donations are vital to keeping the center and our programs going,” said Sacramento Fine Arts Center executive Angelia Gordon. “We’re grateful for so much generosity.”

Nature protectors opened wallets wide across the region. Placer Land Trust yielded nearly $194,000. The American River Conservancy reaped more than $34,000. The American River Parkway Foundation and Save the American River Association gained $21,048 and $18,395, respectively.

Rancho Cordova’s Soil Born Farms, which promotes sustainable food production, harvested almost $21,000.

May 7 also restocked food closets. Donors fed Sacramento Food Bank and Family Services more than $255,000; Sacramento Loaves and Fishes more than $165,000; Yolo Food Bank almost $146,000. Locally, Fair Oaks/Orangevale Food Bank gained more than $33,000. Carmichael’s Homeless Assistance Resources Team was boosted by almost $5,000.

Top regional beneficiaries included Sacramento Philharmonic and Opera with more than $327,000 to sing about. The Salvation Army drummed up more than $322,000; Sacramento SPCA scooped $221,705; ACC Senior Services got $204,957.

Culture was handsomely applauded. B Street Theatre (The Sophia) raised nearly $104,000. The Crocker Art Museum collected more than $92,570. CapRadio beamed in around $94,000. Stage patrons backed Fair Oaks Theater Festival to the tune of $10,000.

In North Highlands, California Aerospace Museum was refueled with more than $26,000.

“Sending kids to programs for hands-on STEM learning would not be possible for some families without this generosity,” said museum director Karen Jones. “Almost 86 per cent of Carmichael Library will benefit from the recent Big Day of Giving. Giving a thumbs-up for almost $98,000 in donations to Friends of the Sacramento Public Library are Sacramento Library staffer Catlin Greenwood, left, and Carmichael Library Friends Barbara Safford, Margot Howard and Sydney Sadler.

Carmichael Kiwanis Club members rejoiced at $12,500 in donations.

our summer campers are on scholarships. These are largely enabled by BDOG.”

Youth charities compelled grown-up generosity. Sacramento Children’s Home collected more than $176,500. Shriners Hospitals brought in $82,677. Kiwanis Family House banked $73,500-plus. Children’s Receiving Home of Sacramento supporters gave more than $59,000.

“Big Day of Giving allows the community to learn about nonprofits,” explained Sacramento Region Community Foundation officer Kelly Siefkin. “Participating organizations also love to build relationships with new donors. This year, we lowered the gift minimum to $10. This made philanthropy more accessible.”

Perhaps $10 doesn’t seem much. But small donations make a huge difference. With average gifts still under $50, they added up to $13.2 million.”

The next Big Day of Giving is May 1, 2025. For more details, visit www.bigdayofgiving.org.
