RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova hosted its inaugural Cicladova on Saturday, Oct. 12, transforming Coloma Road from McGregor Drive to Cordova Lane into a car-free zone from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The street welcomed more than 400 participants, including cyclists, skaters, and pedestrians, filled with community spirit.

Attendees enjoyed a variety of activities, such as yoga, dancing, a bicycle cruise slow roll, food trucks, a craft beer garden, bike repairs, and spin art, plus a ride to the event with an arborist.

Sacramento Area Bicycle Advocates (SABA) hosted the event in partnership with Bicycling Advocates Rancho Cordova (BARC) with support from the City's Community Enhancement and Investment Fund. Industry Association
News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - New home sales in the greater Sacramento area continued at a brisk pace in September with the North State Building Industry Association reporting its members sold 530 homes in the seven-county region during the month.

That total was down 12% from August's 605 sales, but August was a five-week month. Year over year, sales climbed 9% from 485 in September 2023 and were 25% higher than the monthly average of 530.

North State President and CEO Tim Murphy said the much better-than-average sales figures reflect the continued strong demand for homes in the region.

"While existing-home listings in the region are creeping upward, they're still well below normal levels," Murphy said. "With more than 180 active new home communities in the region, buyers have a wide range of home styles, locations and pricing to choose from and builders ready and able to start construction on a buyer's new home."

Murphy added that while mortgage interest rates have leveled off and even ticked upward since the Federal Reserve reduced the Fed Funds rate last month, he pointed out that many builders are continuing to offer incentives that make purchasing a new home even more affordable.

Sales remain strongest in Sacramento County, driven by the fact that numerous new home communities have come online in recent months. Sales totaled 319 in Sacramento County and cities, followed by 127 in Placer County, 36 in Yuba County and 28 in Yolo County. (Note that not every builder reported sales by county this month, so total sales for the region were eight more than the number reported by county.)

Rancho Cordova again saw the most sales of any sub-market with 91, followed by Roseville with 82, Sacramento with 78, Elk Grove with 57 and Folsom with 46.

BIA statistics include sales by members in Amador, El Dorado, Placer, Sutter, Yolo and Yuba counties. ★

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County is making tremendous progress in its goal to achieve a shorter ambulance patient offload time (APOT), according to county officials.

APOT is defined as "the time between when an ambulance arrives at a hospital and when the patient is transferred to an emergency department for care. The time does not stop recording until the emergency department fully assumes responsibility of care for the patient," according to Sacramento County Public Health officials.

On Oct. 3, Sacramento County Public Health hosted the second Ambulance Patient Offload Time Summit, following the first summit on Feb. 13.

The reason for these meetings is the 2023 passage of Assembly Bill 40, which stated that local emergency medical services (EMS) agencies needed to establish an offload threshold that did not exceed 30 minutes and required a report to the California Emergency Medical Services Authority by July 1 of this year. Additionally, the bill mandated that hospitals submit ambulance patient offload time plans to the authority by Sept. 1 of this year.

The Oct. 3 meeting highlighted the region's overall performance, celebrated the successes of the county, showed status reports and enhancements, and included presentations from regional hospital representatives who explained how they were making the changes and improvements.

According to Sacramento County public information officer Casey Camacho, Sacramento County entered 2024 with a 64-minute offload time, which was the worst in the state. Sacramento County managed to decrease that to 39 minutes halfway through September. The California Emergency Medical Services Commission received a county progress report on Sept. 19, which highlighted Sacramento County as having the most improved APOT times statewide.

The summit opened and closed with remarks from Greg Kann MD, the Sacramento County Emergency Medical Services Agency (CEMSA) Medical Director.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - This fall, the Cordova Recreation & Park District (CRPD) used their Annual Staff Appreciation gathering as an opportunity to further support the local community through their Community Engagement Program.

In a continued effort to support Folsom Cordova Unified School District's (FCUSD) Families in Transition (FIT) Services program, Cordova Recreation & Park District Board Members and staff collected essential self-care items for families in the school district facing housing instability and other challenges.

Donations included clothing items such as socks, underwear and t-shirts, as well as vital toiletry items like toothbrushes, toothpaste, soap, feminine products, razors, brushes and deodorant. In total, Cordova Recreation & Park District gathered more than 500 items to donate to the Families in Transition Services program.

The Cordova Recreation & Park District has demonstrated a continued commitment to supporting the families of Folsom Cordova Unified School District, as exemplified by their last staff donation drive in which they collected over 700 items for students returning to school in the fall. Cordova Recreation & Park District hopes to continue to support the Families in Transition Services Program and Folsom Cordova Unified School District in uplifting and supporting the families of Rancho Cordova.

Though the Families in Transition Services program accepts essential supplies, monetary donations also allow the program to better support the community and continue to provide an essential array of resources to families in need. the county has made a “phenomenal change” in the decrease in its offload times. He noted that the number of patients has stayed consistent, even with the changes in the way the hospitals are operating.

“Our hospital partners are doing the things they need to do,” Kann said.

Beyond decreasing offload time, Kann said, Sacramento County is working to use telemedicine to “offload low acuity patient volumes,” meaning telemedicine could help the less-severe medical cases, taking down the volume of ambulance offloads.

“The folks down in Elk Grove and Galt have really doubled down on their commitment to making telemedicine work,” Kann said.

Next, Sac Metro Fire EMS Director Jon Rudnicki spoke primarily about how the patient is always the priority. Rudnicki showed two videos of two different patients whose lives were saved due to the speed and timing of the process of Sacramento emergency medical services, one being a toddler who was revived.

Rudnicki ended with a challenge to his fellow emergency medical services workers: “Why would we not aim for greater? Why should we settle for the benchmark?”

Following Rudnicki were presentations from both Mercy San Juan officials and Kaiser Roseville officials, who spoke about effective changes they made to bring their ambulance patient offload time down.

Kimberly Adams and Chris Britton of Kaiser Roseville highlighted their strategy, which included creating an APOT task force and utilizing hospital hallways to serve patients. According to Britton, Kaiser Roseville is the second busiest emergency room in the state, and they see around 144,000 patients in a year, with 10-15,000 seen each month. Adams referred to APOT as a “team sport,” and Britton cited “such good collaboration” as one of their successes.

Amelia Hart of Mercy San Juan was inspired by what Kaiser Roseville was doing and said her team took similar steps. According to Hart, Mercy San Juan receives the most ambulances in Sacramento County, so it was a large effort to bring ambulance patient offload time down.

“Everyone is aligned and invested in this,” Hart said.

District 5 Supervisor Pat Hume briefly spoke about the progress that the county is making and applauded the dramatic change in ambulance patient offload time.

“The energy in this room is palpable compared to where we were in February,” Hume said, stressing the “magnitude, the importance, the impact” of what emergency medical services workers are doing.

Next, Sacramento State

assistant professor Dale Ainsworth, PhD, gave insight into how changes in processes, especially in an organization, can be difficult and gave tips on how to make them “stick.”

Sacramento County Behavioral Health Director Ryan Quist touched on more changes the county is facing regarding Senate Bill 43, which changes who can be on involuntary hold in an emergency room, another factor in determining ambulance patient offload time.

Ending the summit were speakers from the Growth Factory, an innovation team helping Sacramento County find creative ways to make changes to ambulance patient offload time. Monique Brown of the Growth Factory said they are working on a database called At Orchid, which will boost hospitals’ ability to track data and timing of emergency room patients.

Kann reiterated a final point: “patient safety is our Number One priority.”

Interactive Database Reports if Agencies Fiscally Healthy

California Policy Center News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California Policy Center released a Local Fiscal Health Dashboard on Oct. 4 that tracks the financial health of California cities, counties and school districts. The interactive database allows users to track how elected officials are managing local budgets, support ongoing budget decision-making and identify financial red flags.

The new dashboard is especially timely for California voters who have local tax and bond measures on their November ballots. Each city, county and school district has been awarded a fiscal health score and letter grade from A to F, depending on how well they have managed their finances. Government entities are also identified and color-coded as low, moderate or high-risk for fiscal distress.

"We're excited to be able to offer local officials and voters this important tool for tracking their city's fiscal performance," said Lance Christensen, vice-president of government affairs at the California Policy Center. "Today, many local governments are asking taxpayers for more money to fund lower-quality services. Californians have the right to know where their hard-earned dollars are being effectively used and where they are not."

Sacramento-area cities had mixed results, from an "A" for Elk Grove while Folsom flunked the test. The grades for several cities in the region, listed alphabetically, include Citrus Heights, B; Colusa, C; Dixon, B; Elk Grove, A; Galt, B; Gridley,

B; Lincoln, B; Live Oak, C; Marysville, C; Rancho Cordova, B; Sacramento, D; West Sacramento, B; and Yuba City, D.

The Local Fiscal Health Dashboard fills a void in government transparency data left after the California State Auditor's Office unexpectedly discontinued its popular Local Government High-Risk Dashboard in October 2023. California Policy Center's new dashboard was created to replace and expand on that data to ensure local governments maintain transparency and accountability when it comes to their budgets.

California Policy Center's dashboard uses public data from Annual Comprehensive Financial Reports (ACFR) that local governments are required to submit every year to get access to federal funds. The dashboard provides key financial metrics to allow local elected officials, analysts, reporters and citizens to understand how cities are performing overall and in comparison to other cities, and spotlight concerning financial trends.

"The public should have access to the tools necessary to ensure government budgets are transparent and government officials are held accountable," Christensen said. "Californians can't allow government officials to sweep bad fiscal news under the rug."

Tracking local financial metrics, such as liabilities and revenue trends, is crucial. California has more than $1.6 trillion in unfunded liabilities (debt) at both state and local levels. Many cities have potentially catastrophic unfunded pension liabilities. Other municipalities are making budget decisions based on incomplete, missing or delayed financial reports.

Cities are required to file their Annual Comprehensive Financial Reports, often referred to as annual audits, every year. Most municipalities submit the financial reports within nine months of fiscal year end (as required by the federal and state governments) but many others are routinely and egregiously late in filing their required annual financial reports, according to the California Policy Center. That means local officials are left to make budgeting decisions without current fiscal information.

Out of 482 cities, 86 (or 17.8%) received an "A" grade; 21 (4.4%) received an "F" grade, indicating they are at high-risk of fiscal catastrophe and 70 cities (14.52%) are delinquent in submitting their 2023 Annual Comprehensive Financial Report. (Sixteen cities are exempt from reporting.)

But 189 cities, counties and school districts have still not submitted Annual Comprehensive Financial Reports for 2023. Twenty-six of those cities, counties and school districts that are missing their 2023 Annual Comprehensive Financial Report are asking voters to OK a local tax increase on the November ballot and/or approve new bonds totaling $534.6 million in new borrowing.

"When cities don't turn in their fiscal reports on time, city officials have to make important budget decisions without the data they need," Christensen said. "Even worse, many of the cities that aren't on top of their financial reports are proposing tax increases and putting local bond measures on the ballot."

Based on the dashboard data, California Policy Center has identified 10 of the best and worst performing cities statewide when it comes to financial health. The dashboard designates the level of financial risk as low, moderate or high.

This financial risk determination is achieved by evaluating each entity on 10 key fiscal metrics: General Fund Reserves, Debt Burden, Liquidity, Revenue Trends, Pension Costs, Pension Funding, Pension Obligations, Other Post Employment Benefit Obligations, Other Post Employment Benefit

Funding, and Net Worth.

The 10 cities earning the highest fiscal health scores and an "A" grade are Eastvale (Riverside County), Indian Wells (Riverside County), Danville (Contra Costa County), Rancho Mirage (Riverside County), Lake Forest (Orange County), La Quinta (Riverside County), Laguna Woods (Orange County), Dublin (Alameda County), La Mirada (Los Angeles County) and Jurupa Valley (Riverside County).

Ten of the worst performing cities are considered high-risk for fiscal stress, including the ability of the city to pay its bills in the short and long term.

Cities earning the lowest fiscal health scores and an "F" grade are Ukiah (Mendocino County), West Covina (Los Angeles County), Richmond (Contra Costa County), Calexico (Imperial County), San Gabriel (Los Angeles County), Oakland (Alameda County), Orange (Orange County), Pinole (Contra Costa County), Atwater (Merced County) and Escondido (San Diego County).

Other cities that received an "F" include San Buenaventura/Ventura, Grover Beach, Banning, Lake Elsinore, Folsom, Costa Mesa, Montebello, Downey, Monrovia, Hayward and Lindsay. With many cities having yet to file Annual Comprehensive Financial Reports for Fiscal Year 2023 and in some cases, Fiscal Year 2022, this list of worst cities is subject to change. Some cities with poor financial metrics are often late filers.

Information about California cities, counties and school districts can be found at californiapolicycenter.org/fiscal-health-dashboard. ★

Stop Criminals, Drugs, Theft

By John McGinness

California voters will have several very important decisions to make as they complete their November 2024 ballots. One that has the potential to reverse a decade of deterioration of the state's criminal justice system is Proposition 36.

To adequately analyze the merits of Proposition 36, a quick review of history is in order. Ten years ago, voters approved Proposition 47 based upon assurance that it would improve public safety. The voters were deceived – Proposition 47 eliminated compounding consequences for several theft and possession and use of dangerous drugs. Many crimes were reduced from felonies to misdemeanors, eliminating the deterrent value of discipline.

The results have been devastating for the state of California. Urban, suburban, and even rural areas once used for recreation have been taken over by critically addicted people living like walking zombies. Retail businesses have become so frequently victimized by "smash and grab" thieves that merchants have been forced to lock up much of their merchandise out of reach, inconveniencing legitimate costumers and staff. Fentanyl poisoning has become the leading cause of death for Americans 18-45-years-of-age. On average, over 200 deaths by fentanyl poisoning occur in the United States every day. Consider the tolerance society would have in an environment in which 200 people were killed in a commercial airline crash every day – public outcry would be extreme and warranted; change would be mandated by an outraged public. Yet persons in positions of leadership seem oblivious or apathetic to the plight of our youth.

Proposition 36 will restore the ability of the criminal justice system to impose compounding consequences on chronic habitual offenders for the sake of discouraging unacceptable behavior. Specifically, offenders convicted not once, but twice of possession of hard and dangerous drugs will be eligible for felony prosecution or completion of a court-supervised treatment for addiction. This course of action was common before the passage of Proposition 47, when drug court was a viable option for those first charged with felony drug possession. The impetus for treatment is now gone by virtue of chronic drug offenders suffering through addiction and only being cited for misdemeanor violations of law. That means no time in custody in California, and no incentive to participate in court supervised treatment. Those cited typically ignore their citations, fail to appear in court and continue to live their destructive lifestyle, wreaking havoc on the streets, parks and public facilities throughout the state. Proposition consequences be brought against those who habitually violate the law for the sake of discouraging habitual lawlessness.

Critics have asserted that Proposition 36 represents a reversion to days of mass incarceration. It does not!

Proposition 36 is a bipartisan concept created by elected distract attorneys of diverse political and philosophical affiliation, supported by big city mayors from California's diverse communities, to provide incentive for treatment for those chronically addicted to dangerous drugs, as well as common sense solutions to those who habitually break the law and diminish the quality of life for law abiding Californians.

If concern for law abiding citizens and those seeking to safely pursue their dreams in this state is insufficient to motivate voters to support this thoughtful proposition, consider the wellbeing of the people directly adversely impacted by the results of the horrific current state of law. Since 2014, when Proposition 47 passed, the number of chronically addicted people living on the streets of California has exploded. Failing to recognize the wellbeing of those 36 will give incentive to those who badly need treatment. Those who complete the treatment and graduate from the program will have the opportunity to have their record expunged and avoid incarceration, liberating them to live rich full lives.

Proposition 36 will also reclassify fentanyl as a hard drug, and provide enhanced penalties on those who possess fentanyl while armed with a firearm.

As or thieves, Proposition 36 will impose the potential for felony consequences for persons twice convicted of petty theft and charged with a subsequent theft case. It simply demands that

By Bob McGarvey

Our best plans for different things, like ceremony’s for Veterans Day, don’t come through like we want. Veterans Day this year will not have the ceremony I hoped for. There are some teenager volunteers who are putting up our country’s flags on Folsom Blvd, and there is a blood drive at city hall, and some veteran volunteers are doing something on Veterans Day too. I hope my plans for Memorial Day and Veterans Day will both work out like they have in the past. I know we have had some wonderful speakers in the past on both Veterans Day and Memorial Day. I spoke in the past about some ceremonies which will celebrate our country’s 250 years as the most wonderful ceremony that was ever created on the world. No one has heard of any ritual observances or any procedures to be performed at grand occasions like there were in 1976. That was when we celebrated our bicentennial. I am sure there are such plans, but nothing has been said of them next. If anyone has heard of such plans, passing them on would be appreciated very much.

It finally seems to be fall, and the trees are beginning to drop their leaves. Something which is appreciated every year is when we can see children, like those in kindergarten, who begin to see the colors of the falling leaves. Children pick them up and them try to draw leaves on papers. I am one of many who really appreciate those colors, and also appreciate the cooler temperature so it feels like fall has finally fallen. I hope we no longer have temperatures over 100 degrees.

And Another Thing

It Finally Seems to be Fall

Today, many people are looking at the upcoming election with great concern: concerns about the costs we are being asked to shoulder as we look at the propositions that are on the ballot, concerns about the hired public servants who will be placed in job that are extremely important both locally and nationally. Who will be the president after election? Get out and vote.

There are concerns about our national security and the numbers of our military today. All branches are depending on volunteers to fill their needed numbers to at least cover the minimum number of people we need so we can respond to unknown threats from overseas or borders. I am trying to read as much as I can about the people first, and then read the propositions so I can feel better educated about them. None of us can depend on the money spent online or on TV to get your vote for or against the propositions. Read them yourself, and good luck to us all.

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

Is there panic in Sactown? I certainly hope not, but there is concern. The concern emanates from three straight preseason losses and a disappointing 20-point loss to the Portland Trailblazers on the Kings home court.

The new starting lineup has been looking good but had an off night with the Trailblazers. My concern, however, is not with the starters, but rather with the caliber of the Kings bench.

The problem the Kings are initially facing is that the blue-chip bench players, that is to say the seventh and eighth players off the bench, are injured and have yet to play a single minute of basketball. I’m talking about Trey Lyles and Kevin Huerter, who are legitimate NBA players that could arguably be starters on many teams.

Coach Brown has already made his intentions known as it relates to fan favorite Malik Monk, and he apparently is about to resume his role on the team as the consummate sixth man.

I can’t say I agree with this decision, but it is the coaches to make, and the fans must wait and see if he’s right or wrong.

I’m high on Keon Ellis, and I can certainly see why coach Brown is high on him as well, but whether he should be occupying the sixth man role or not, is a question that we may or may not ever have the chance to see.

At the moment, I just want to see some solid basketball and avoid losing every preseason game going into the regular season. Losing can be contagious, and I would like to see the Kings put up a solid ‘W’ on Oct. 15, against the Utah Jazz. Follow that up with a crisp performance against the Clippers, and the home opener against the Timberwolves on Oct. 24, will feel like a playoff game.

I would be much more comfortable seeing Trey Lyles coming off the bench instead of Skal Labissiere. Obviously a project, Labissiere looks like a fish out of water on the court, and although I embrace his rags to riches story, this traveled 28-year-old from Haiti needs much more seasoning before he’s ready for prime time.

If ever there is a story every fan would love to embrace it would certainly be Skal Labissiere, but playing NBA basketball is all about confidence, and watching Skal on the court right now is not a picture of confidence.

Would I give up on Skal? No! But I would play his legs off in the G-league and I would do everything imaginable to build his confidence.

Never give up on a potential late-bloomer, and Labissiere could be a true late-bloomer.

One of the smartest moves the NBA has ever made is the creation of the G-league, and already the league is replete with success stories. I would love to see Skal become one of those success stories, and it’s entirely possible that could happen.

Not to make too much of one loss, the Portland game shed light on what happens when the Kings don’t shoot their threes. On Sunday Sacramento shot a disappointing 17% from beyond the arc, and for this team that portends disaster. They don’t have to shoot 45%, but something north of 38% is imperative if the Kings hope to have a better season than last year.

I believe the Kings will prove to be a solid three-point shooting team, as there is simply too much talent on this team for the outcome to be otherwise.

Monk, Huerter, and Lyles are all proven three-point shooters, so at this point with a small sample size to look at, it’s time to take a deep breath, have faith and just work on seeing improvement every game.

If there was any bright spot in the Blazer game it was Alex Len’s 13 points off the bench, and if Sacramento is going to have the successful season all Kings fans want to see, Len will need to make a nightly contribution on both ends of the court. At times Len looks like the rim protector the Kings desperately need, and I for one am hoping he can double down on this aspect of his game.

On another positive note, it was a shot in the arm to watch DeMar DeRozan carve up the Warriors in the preseason opener. Hitting all six of his field goals, he truly played the part of the six-time all-star we had all hoped to see.

The season opener looms ahead, and a quick start will erase any memory of poor preseason performances.

Let’s get our bench players healthy and see what the full contingent looks like.

Keep the faith Kings fans. Wins are right around the corner!!

Social Security Matters

About Retroactive Social Security Benefits

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: Both my wife and I are 67 1/2, i.e., past our full retirement age of 66 years and 6 months. Neither of us have yet filed for SS retirement benefits. My wife is entitled to about $1,000/month based on her work history, and I plan to wait until age 70 to file. I was entitled to $3,700 at my full retirement age date and am eligible to receive $4,800 at age 70. Thus, my wife's spousal benefit, which she can get when I start taking my SS, is another $850 (a total of $1,850), which is 50% of my full retirement age amount. We just recently became aware that my wife should have claimed her own smaller benefit earlier and taken her higher spousal benefit later when I claim. But has she lost Social Security benefits because she waited until now to claim? Signed: Trying Hard to Understand

Dear Trying: Yes, I am afraid your wife has lost some of her SS retirement benefit by waiting too long to claim. In your specific circumstances (where your wife is eligible for a higher monthly amount as your spouse) it is important to know that her spousal benefit amount reached maximum when she attained her full retirement age (FRA) of age 66 and 6 months. Even though she cannot collect as your spouse until you later claim, her eventual spousal amount does not increase because she is now past her FRA. Thus, waiting the extra year after her FRA did not enhance her spousal benefit amount, meaning she could have been collecting her own smaller SS retirement benefit starting at her FRA. The good news, however, is not all those past benefits are lost.

Once someone has passed their full retirement age, it is possible to claim up to six months of retroactive benefits. Full retirement age is the cutoff point because your wife cannot get retroactive benefits before her FRA but, since she is about a year past, she can claim her full six months of retroactive benefits. Thus, she will lose only about six months of her SS retirement benefit by claiming her benefits to start at age 67 (vs. now at 67 1/2), which at least mitigates the loss. And instead of her FRA amount of $1000, her initial SS retirement benefit will be about 3% higher because she is claiming past her FRA. But, nevertheless, your wife's eventual spousal amount (when you claim) will still be limited to 50% of your full retirement age entitlement.

The important thing to keep in mind is that retroactive benefits can only be claimed after someone has reached their full retirement age, and only up to six months of retroactive benefits can normally be claimed. So, in your wife's case, her eventual spousal benefit from you will still be limited to 50% of your FRA amount even though she waited for a year past her own FRA to claim. But she can claim six months of retroactive SS retirement benefits now to soften the financial blow.

Vote-By-Mail Ballots Now Being Sent to California Voters

California Secretary of State News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - California county elections officials have begun mailing vote-by-mail ballots to each active registered voter. California voters can expect to see their ballots arriving in the coming days.

"Voting by mail offers California voters a convenient way to participate in our elections," Secretary of State Shirley N. Weber, Ph.D. said. "As ballots begin to arrive, Californians should make a plan for how they will cast their ballot. Voting by mail allows California voters to complete their ballots in the comfort of their own homes and saves a trip to the polls on Election Day."

California provides many options to vote including voting by mail, dropping ballots at drop-box locations, and voting at polling places or vote centers. "I encourage all active, eligible voters to make a voting plan so they can ensure their voice is heard," added Weber.

The vote-by-mail ballot voting period begins as soon as ballots are in the mail. Voting by mail is easy. Voters can follow these five easy steps to vote their vote-by-mail ballot:

- Complete it. Mark their choices on their vote-by-mail ballot.
- Seal it. Secure their ballot inside the vote-by-mail ballot return envelope.
- Sign it. Sign the outside of their vote-by-mail ballot return envelope.
- Each voter should make sure their signature matches the one on their California driver's license/state ID or the signature they provided when they registered to vote. County elections officials will compare the signatures before ballots are counted.
- Return it. There are three ways voters can return a vote-by-mail ballot in the General Election:

- By drop box—Drop off the completed vote-by-mail ballot at a secure official drop box in their county or anywhere in the state at any time between Oct. 8 through 8 p.m. on Nov. 5.
- By mail—Place the completed vote-by-mail ballot into a mailbox. Ballots must be postmarked by Nov. 5. No stamp is needed.
- In person—Drop off the completed vote-by-mail ballot at any polling place, vote center, or county elections office in the state by 8 p.m. on Nov. 5. Voting locations will be available in all counties before Election Day. Voting locations offer voter registration, replacement ballots, accessible voting machines, and language assistance.

Track it. Sign up to receive updates on the status of their vote-by-mail ballot. Voters can track a ballot they have mailed or dropped off at a polling place, vote center or drop box by signing up at: wheresmyballot.sos.ca.gov to receive text, email, or voice status alerts.

California voters can register to vote or update their voter registration online at: registerto-vote.ca.gov.

Voters who are unsure of their voter registration status can quickly check it online at: voterstatus.sos.ca.gov.

NOTE: The Secretary of State's office does not issue, receive or count ballots. Elections officials in each of California's 58 counties print, process and count ballots.

Information about county elections offices can be found at sos.ca.gov/elections/voting-resources/county-elections-offices.

Notice To Potential Bidders: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. Notice To Property Owner: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (877) 440-4460 or visit this Internet Website <https://www.mkconsultantsinc.com>, using the file number assigned to this case 48148045. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice To Tenant: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you may call (877) 440-4460 or visit this Internet Website <https://www.mkconsultantsinc.com>, using the file number assigned to this case 48148045 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. The Notice to Tenant pertains to sales occurring after January 1, 2021. Rep. Ami Bera Urges Passage of the Bipartisan HERO Act

Office of Rep. Ami Bera
News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - On Oct. 12, Representative Ami Bera, M.D. (CA-06) held a press conference alongside Sacramento County Sheriff Jim Cooper, Sacramento Metro Fire Chief Adam House and Sacramento Area Firefighters Local 522 President Trevor Jamison urging the passage of the bipartisan Helping Emergency Responders Overcome (HERO) Act.

First introduced by Representative Bera in 2018, this legislation will bolster essential mental health resources to our nation’s first responders and health care providers who are at an elevated risk of suicide compared to other professions. Since its initial introduction, the bill has passed the House of Representatives on three separate occasions but has stalled in the Senate.

Representative Bera remains determined to get this bill across the finish line and provide our first responders with the assistance they rightfully deserve. That’s why he introduced the HERO Act again in the 118th Congress and continues to be a leading voice on this important issue.

The HERO Act will direct the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to report annually on first responder suicide rates and develop best practices for post-traumatic stress prevention and treatment. Additionally, the bill establishes grant programs to provide mental health training and support for both first responders and health care workers.

The HERO Act has earned the endorsement of the International Association of Fire Fighters (IAFF), American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, American Association of Suicidology, the Firefighter Behavioral Health Alliance, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, and the National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians.

“We passed [the HERO Act] unanimously out of the house three times. We have asked the White House to put a little pressure on the Senate to bring this bill up. We think now’s the right time with President Biden— who’s been such a strong supporter of first responders— let’s get it to his desk before he leaves office,” said Representative Ami Bera, M.D. (CA-06). “These are heroes that keep us safe every day, and we ought to do the same thing and make sure we’re giving them the resources to keep them safe.”

“These men and women respond to the drop of a hat and will sacrifice their lives for the public, for someone they don’t know. So, we want to make sure our firefighters and our officers and deputies are okay,” said Sacramento County Sheriff Jim Cooper. “[The HERO Act] goes a long way in doing that, and we can’t thank Congressman Bera enough for having the foresight to bring this forward, and hopefully it gets funded this year. We’re excited about it, and it really makes a difference.”

“While suicide is the 11th leading cause of death in the United States, one study concluded that in 2017, both police officers and fire fighters ‘were more likely to die by suicide, than in the line of duty.’ The same study showed that there was a direct link between a higher exposure to critical incidents, and an increase in mental health issues,” said Sacramento Metro Fire Chief Adam House. “As these troubling statistics emerge, it is vital that we remember that these are not just numbers; these are names, and individuals with families who oftentimes suffer as a result of the trauma experienced as well... Through collaborative efforts between Federal, State, and Local entities, we can help those who so selflessly help our communities.”

“As the president of the local firefighters here, we have about 1,800 members, and it’s abundantly clear to us, day in and day out, the struggles our members face. You’ve heard about the calls with first responders, difficult car crashes, fires, shootings for police... We have found ways to address issues with our members, but we need more help. Because as we become more comfortable talking about these things, it creates more people that need help,” said Sacramento Area Firefighters Local 522 President Trevor Jamison. “I’m very happy to stand here with Congressman Bera because he has continued to be a champion for first responders in this region and the entire country, because this is a federal piece of legislation that will help everyone.” ★

Superior Court and Lincoln Law School Implement Guardianship Assistance Program

Sacramento Superior Court
News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento Superior Court has partnered with Lincoln Law School of Sacramento to provide in-person courtroom assistance to individuals representing themselves in guardianship cases.

“This endeavor improves the public’s access to justice while providing law students with valuable hands-on experience,” said Presiding Judge Bunmi O. Awoniyi.

A guardianship is a legal arrangement in which a court appoints a family member or other interested person to make decisions for a minor whose parents have passed away or are unable or unwilling to care for the minor. A guardianship may also be to obtain legal status in the United States for an immigrant under 21.

In these cases, the person being cared for is called the ward, and the person appointed to care for them is the guardian.

Guardianship can involve making decisions about housing, medical care, legal issues, financial issues and services, and education. There are two types of guardianships:

Guardian of the person: The guardian has the right to make legal decisions in the ward’s life, such as where the child goes to school and their medical care.

Guardian of the estate: The guardian manages the ward’s resources.

In California, guardianship suspends a parent’s rights but does not terminate them. The guardianship continues until the ward is emancipated, adopted, turns 18 (excluding legal status for immigrants), passes away, or until further court order.

Each Friday, Lincoln Law School student volunteers are available in Department 129 in the Probate Division at the William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse to help litigants representing themselves complete the required forms to obtain the orders they need on the same day as their hearing. This allows parties to leave with orders in hand rather than having their hearings continued.

This new partnership between Sacramento Superior Court and Lincoln Law School of Sacramento has resulted in fewer delays for the litigants and children needing care and support, has reduced the caseload for the Court, and has provided law students with an opportunity to gain valuable experience. ★

Third Possible Human Case of Bird Flu Detected in California

California Department of Public Health News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) reports that a third possible human case of bird flu has been identified in California. The case was identified in a Central Valley individual who had contact with infected dairy cattle. Specimens are being sent to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to undergo confirmatory testing.

There is no known link or contact between this and the first two cases reported yesterday, suggesting only animal-to-human spread of the virus in California. All three individuals had contact with animals at three different farms. Like the first two cases, this individual also experienced mild symptoms, including eye redness or discharge (conjunctivitis). None of the individuals have been hospitalized.

Additional Information on Bird Flu

Risk Remains Low: The risk to the general public remains low, but people who interact with infected animals, like dairy or poultry farm workers, are at higher risk of getting bird flu. The California Department of Public Health recommends that personal protective equipment, or PPE, such as respirators (N95 masks), eye protection (face shields or safety goggles), and gloves be worn by anyone working with animals or materials that are infected or potentially infected with the bird flu virus. Wearing PPE helps prevent infection.

Pasteurized milk and dairy products continue to be safe to consume, as pasteurization is fully effective at inactivating the bird flu virus. As an added precaution, and according to longstanding state and federal requirements, milk from sick cows is not permitted in the public milk supply.

What the California Department of Public Health is Doing

The California Department of Public Health has helped coordinate and support outreach to dairy producers and farm workers on preventive measures that have helped keep human cases low in other states with bird flu outbreaks. The California Department of Public Health continues to support local health departments in distributing PPE from state and federal stockpiles directly to affected dairy farms, farmworker organizations, poultry farm workers, those who handle raw dairy products, and slaughterhouse workers. To protect California farm workers from bird flu, during the last four months California

Department of Public Health has distributed more than 340,000 respirators, 1.3 million gloves, 160,000 goggles and face shields, and 168,000 bouffant caps.

In addition, the California Department of Public Health is working closely with local public health laboratories and local health departments to provide health checks for exposed individuals and ensure testing and treatment are available when needed. As one of the 14 states with infected dairy herds, California also received 5,000 additional doses of seasonal flu vaccine for farm workers from the CDC. The California Department of Public Health is working to distribute the doses to local health departments with the highest number of dairy farms.

California Department of Public Health has been tracking bird flu and making preparations for a possible human infection since the state’s first detection in poultry in 2022. California Department of Public Health partners closely with the California Department of Food & Agriculture (CDFA) on a broad approach to protect human and animal health. California Department of Public Health and the CDC use both human and wastewater surveillance tools to detect and monitor for bird flu, and work closely with local health departments to prepare, prevent, and lessen its impact on human health.

What Californians Can Do

People exposed to infected animals should monitor for the following symptoms for 10 days after their last exposure: eye redness (conjunctivitis), cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, diarrhea, vomiting, muscle or body aches, headaches, fatigue, trouble breathing, and fever. If they start to feel sick, they should immediately isolate, notify their local public health department, and work with public health and health care providers to get timely testing and treatment.

The California Department of Public Health recommends that all Californians - especially workers at risk for exposure to bird flu - receive a seasonal flu vaccine. Although the seasonal flu vaccine will not protect against bird flu, it can decrease the risk of being infected with both viruses at the same time and reduce the chance of severe illness from seasonal flu.

SacRT Launches Survey

Sacramento Regional Transit
News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - As part of a state-wide initiative to improve public transit safety, the Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) is launching a comprehensive customer survey to better understand and address the safety concerns of transit riders. This effort is part of California’s commitment to creating safer and more inclusive public transportation systems.

The survey, developed by the Mineta Transportation Institute at San Jose State University, was mandated by California Senate Bill 1161 (2022) to gather detailed information on the prevalence, locations, and characteristics of street harassment faced by public transit passengers. In addition, California Senate Bill 434 (2023) requires the state’s 10 largest transit agencies, including SacRT, to use this tool to specifically engage riders from underrepresented communities, whose experiences may have been historically overlooked, and collect their insights on transit safety.

“Understanding the rider experience is essential to ensuring that all SacRT passengers feel safe when using public transportation,” said Henry Li, SacRT General Manager/CEO. “This survey will help us take action where it matters most to improve the overall transit experience for everyone.”

The survey will focus on various aspects of transit safety, such as the types and frequency of street harassment, how perceptions of safety influence riders’ decisions to use transit, and other related topics. The collected data will help SacRT and other transit agencies develop strategies and implement measures to create a safer environment across the entire transit network.

SacRT will conduct the survey throughout October 2024, with outreach at stations, on buses and light rail trains and via an online survey platform. All transit riders are encouraged to participate.

As an incentive, riders who complete the survey will receive a $10 credit applied to their Connect Card or ZipPass account.

Lancers Second Half Rally Falls Short

Story by James Darnell and photos by Rick Sloan

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Lancers were dealt their second road loss of the season following a 31-14 defeat at Antelope this past Friday, Oct. 11.

Seven first-half turnovers from the Lancers (5-2 overall, 2-2 Metro League) put Cordova in a hole they were unable to dig themselves out of, despite leading 0-6 after the first quarter, thanks to a one-yard keeper from Cordova sophomore quarterback Trey Wallace. Four interceptions and three lost fumbles by Cordova allowed the Titans (2-5 overall, 2-1 Metro League) to remain in the contest early and gave Antelope the number of possessions necessary to score 17 unanswered points in the second quarter enroute to a 17-6 halftime lead, despite four first half turnovers of their own.

Cordova would try to rally in the second half, as Wallace connected with sophomore wide receiver Terryn "TK" King from eight yards out to score on their first possession in the third quarter, followed up with a two-point conversion run by Wallace to bring the game within three points at 17-14. In what was a hard-nosed and physical game, head coach JP Dolliver was pleased to see his team keep fighting after a lackluster first half output.

"I loved it," he said of his team's resilience in the second half. "I was excited to see that. There were some really good things that happened. We were way more composed in this game than we were against West Park."

The score would hold up until the fourth quarter when Titans' freshman wide receiver Deante Gray Jr. would rip off a 46-yard run on a reverse that backed the Lancers up against their own endzone. Antelope would score on a one-yard keeper from junior quarterback Jaden Fletcher, who used his six-foot-six frame to topple into the endzone and widen the Titans' lead to 10 points.

The Lancers would lose their quarterback for the remainder of the game late in the fourth quarter after Wallace hit his head on the turf. That would be compounded by Gray Jr. breaking off a 39-yard touchdown run late, giving Antelope their final points of the contest.

"I don't want to take away anything from another football team because Antelope had some good stands and had a good scheme against us," Dolliver said. "They had some pretty good pressure that we didn't have answers for, but I also want to put it in perspective. We gave the ball to them a lot. We played pretty poorly today on offense."

Cordova will look to bounce back on Friday, Oct. 18, after press time, when they host Destiny Christian Academy. Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m. inside Lancer Stadium. ★
