SAFE Credit Union News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Matches from Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Greater Sacramento Area experienced the magic of Sacramento Ballet's Nutcracker by invitation of SAFE Credit Union this holiday season.

Continuing in its efforts to support nonprofits and the vibrancy of the downtown area, the credit union sponsored a group of Big Brothers Big Sisters to attend a matinee performance. For many it was the first time attending the ballet including Little A'Royal Keys, 10.

"I thought it was very great. I liked the candy part," says Keys, adding the best part was the dance of Mother Ginger and Her Polichinelles. "It's very awesome and you should really go. (And) there was a lot of dancing and there were surprising parts."

Bigs and Littles in attendance were treated to a special reception with lunch and treats as well as memorabilia before meeting Sacramento Ballet Second Company dancer Abby Burnette.

"I really appreciated how generous SAFE Credit Union was with the seats and the donor's box and all of the extras," says Big Brother and Orangevale resident Steven Herrera, who thought it was important for his Little, A'Royal Keys, to see a

State Stiffens Penalties on Theft

By Cayla Mihalovich

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Californians accused of certain drug and retail theft crimes may already be facing stiffer penalties under an initiative voters passed this year, alongside related bills Gov. Gavin Newsom signed into law.

Voters this November overwhelmingly approved Proposition 36, which both modifies and adds key changes to California law.

That includes prosecutors being able to charge people convicted of various third-time drug offenses with a so-called treatment-mandated felony, which would direct them to substance use disorder or mental health treatment in lieu of up to three years in jail or prison.

Under the new law, courts are also obligated to warn people convicted of selling or providing certain drugs, such as fentanyl, that they could face murder charges for later distributing illegal drugs that kill someone.

And heavier consequences may also extend to petty theft and shoplifting offenses, including the possibility of up to three years in jail or prison if a person has already been twice convicted for certain theft offenses.

Several district attorneys and police departments announced arrests this month that they planned to charge under the new law, including in San Francisco, Solano and Shasta counties.

The measure partially reversed a different initiative voters approved a decade ago, which reduced penalties for certain lower-level drug and petty theft offenses from felonies to misdemeanors.

The initiative, Proposition 47, was intended to develop new public safety strategies and reduce incarceration after the state's prison population exploded due to tough-on-crime policies dating back to the 1980s.

But prosecutors, law enforcement and large retailers who rallied in favor of Prop. 36 said those sentencing reforms went too far and created a revolving door for people to repeatedly commit crimes without being held

Gifts from the Heart Takes Donations All Year

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Santa's helpers are now working year-round in Sacramento County. Gifts from the Heart is expanding to accept donations and volunteer applications throughout the year.

The program has helped make a difference in the lives of thousands of local children, teens and adults for 36 years. Organized by the Department of Child, Family and Adult Services, this program relies on the generosity of volunteers and donors. Since 1988, volunteers and donors have provided gifts to thousands through the program.

"It is amazing. I think the joy of watching the kids open the gifts (before Christmas) is the best experience," said Erika Patterson, Gifts from the Heart volunteer and Department of Child, Family and Adult Services Permanency social worker.

"The kids we work with sometimes have never had a Christmas and are overjoyed when they get a bag full of gifts or a bike."

Patterson started volunteering with Gifts from the Heart five years ago and hasn't stopped.

"If you aren't the best gift wrapper, no worries," Patterson said, because there are plenty of ways to help.

"Donors are always so appreciated because kids all deserve to know what it is like to open gifts on Christmas morning and remember that feeling of happiness playing with their new toys. Department of Child, Family and Adult Services children would not know this feeling without the generous donations of the donors," Patterson said.

If you're interested in volunteering or learning more, email GFTH@sac-county.gov.

X Games News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

On Dec. 12, X Games announced a new three-year partnership with California Dreamin' Entertainment that will bring the renowned actions sports and music festival to Cal Expo in Sacramento each summer from 2025-2027.

California Dreamin' Entertainment is reimagining the former Raging Waters site at the Cal Expo/California State Fairgrounds in Sacramento and is leading the city's partnership with X Games. X Games Sacramento 2025 will bring three days of action sports culture and competitions to the capital city from Aug. 22 through Aug. 24 and will mark the 30th anniversary celebration of X Games.

"Some of the biggest moments in X Games history took place in the San Francisco Bay," said Jeremy Bloom, CEO of X Games. "Twenty-five years later, we're thrilled to bring X Games back to Northern California to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the brand."

With the support of Cal Expo and Visit Sacramento, X Games and California Dreamin' Entertainment are committed to making X Games Sacramento in 2025, 2026 and 2027 the ultimate showcase for action sports and action sports culture, with more competition, more music and more excitement.

X Games Sacramento will include skateboarding, BMX and Moto X and will host more than 100 of the best action sports athletes who will compete for over $1 million in prize money. In addition, it will feature a full lineup of amazing music appearances to be announced in the coming months.

The 30th anniversary of X Games also marks the countdown to X Games League, the brand's new global team-based format, set to kick off in 2026. As part of the new partnership between X Games and California Dreamin' Entertainment, Sacramento is the first event location to be announced as a host for X Games League.

"I grew up right outside of Sacramento, so this really is a dream come true for me," said Bryce Tryon, five-time X Games BMX athlete, in a press conference Dec. 12. "X Games has always been a huge part of my life, so I'm stoked to feel like I'm playing host to a competition that has given me so much over the years and show my hometown the best that action sports have to offer."

General admission and premium tickets will be available soon for X Games Sacramento. ★ accountable.

"It's a clear mandate from the public that we need to take a new approach on public safety issues, specifically hard drugs, retail theft and fentanyl," said Jeff Reisig, Yolo County District those sentencing reforms went too far and created a revolving door for people to repeatedly commit crimes without being held accountable.

"It's a clear mandate from the public that we need to take a new approach on public safety issues, specifically hard drugs, retail theft and fentanyl," said Jeff Reisig, Yolo County District Attorney.

Those who opposed the measure warned that it will worsen homelessness, drug use and crime by cutting funding for treatment programs and increasing court and prison costs in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Behavioral health experts across the state have voiced concern over the efficacy of a treatment-mandated felony, given that most California counties lack the resources needed to provide 'mass treatment' that has been promised by the measure's proponents.

"I believe that (proponents) have also received a mandate to embrace problem solving and supportive services for people who are struggling," said Cristine Soto DeBerry, executive director of the Prosecutors Alliance of California, a nonprofit organization that opposed Prop. 36.

"I don't believe the mandate was (to) put more people in prison. It was not what people believed they were voting for. I hope that people with the discretion to enforce this law will think very carefully about the communities they serve and what they were asking for in this moment," she said.

Gov. Gavin Newsom tried to keep Prop. 36 off of the fall ballot and for a time considered putting a competing crime measure before voters.

Instead, he signed a package of 10 bills in August that will make it easier to prosecute retail and vehicle theft. Those laws go into effect on Jan. 1.

Although Gov. Newsom didn't put any money into fighting Prop. 36, he referred to the initiative as an "unfunded mandate" that will take California back to the war on drugs. Indeed, the measure included no new funding streams.

But supporters like Reisig voiced optimism that funding opportunities already exist in the law, pointing to a $6.4 billion from the mental health bond voters approved in March.

"I hope that lawmakers and the governor embrace the mandate and work collaboratively to make sure that we're successful in delivering the promise of Prop. 36," Reisig said. ★

A Lucky Life Remembered

Sacramento Learns Lessons as Another Generation Goes Silent

Story by Kristina Rogers

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Each New Year's Eve, we take a moment to remember those we lost. We talk about the Baby Boomers and current generations, but little time is spent acknowledging those who came before, like the Silent Generation born from 1928 to 1945. Around 50 million were born, making them one of the smallest groups in the last 100 years.

These Americans lived during the Great Depression and World War II. Some may remember their mothers using ration books to buy sugar, clothing and gas. They are the final group on earth who experienced life before television. Normally one telephone was shared by everyone in the house. People communicated via local papers, radio, in-person gatherings and letter writing.

When looking at the traits of the Silent Generation, also known as the Traditionalist Generation, we find they came from tough times but were resilient. They believed reforming "the system" was better than tearing it down. They began with little, worked hard and remained appreciative of their blessings.

Sacramento citizen Barbara Harsch is one example. She wrote a family book called "My Lucky Life" filled with family stories and wisdom to pass down. Her life is reflected in decades of photos, from 1930s black-and-whites to sun-faded 1960s Polaroids to today's clear digital images.

Her family, the Rohwer's lived in Sacramento from 1935, when she was born. She grew up in a prominent home at 3344 H Street, across from McKinley Park's Rose Garden.

Like many of her peers, Harsch learned the importance of service to others. Her parents devoted plenty of volunteer time to churches and those in need. Neighbors could find Barbara and her mother frequently pruning the rose garden and hosting gardening meetings at their house. Her mother also organized the East Sacramento Home Tours. Barbara's attorney father was heavily involved in the Sutter Club, which continues to cultivate community leaders and successful professionals today.

In her book, Harsch shares how fortunate she was to have her parents. Their wisdom and support lifted her throughout her life. Her father recited a stanza from "If" by Rudyard Kipling: "Or walk with Kings, nor lose the common touch." This is a reminder to have high expectations for yourself while remaining a humble friend to everyone.

Harsch (then Rohwer) married George Harsch in 1956 while completing her degree in foreign relations at UC Berkeley. George was in the Air Force. They spent some time in Dos Palos, California where Barbara taught high school English. Eventually George became General Manager at Sacramento's Ricemill Products Company in West Sacramento. The outdoors and skiing were a passion, so they built a cabin in Truckee, allowing them to enjoy years of waterskiing and snow skiing with family and friends.

After moving to Sacramento, Harsch volunteered with Loaves & Fishes and raised money for Sacramento Children's Home while raising their sons, Fritz and Hans.

Fritz Harsch spoke about his mothers' generous nature, "She had an affection for people that was always reflected back. She was the warm, calming presence in a room, ready to negotiate situations and get things done."

"She was a great negotiator. The kind of personality where you didn't feel challenged by her, but she brought out your best qualities."

Harsch's life had serious challenges too. She contracted Guillain-Barre disease in 1982 and then legionnaires disease, which kept her in the hospital for almost two years at Mercy Hospital. Paralyzed and pronounced clinically dead more than once, she bounced back to the amazement of the hospital staff, with humor intact.

In 1986, after a divorce, Harsch moved back to her parents' home. She obtained her real estate license and became the President of the Sacramento Association of Realtors, collecting awards along the way. Later, the association established a scholarship in Harsch's name, further helping to lift others ready to serve their community.

As her parents slowed down, Harsch became their caretaker. After they passed, she decided to sell the house and move to a smaller home in the Greenhaven area in 2012.

Although Harsch was very active, she mostly remained in the background. In her lifetime she performed many charitable acts only a few knew. She wasn't political. Like most of the Silent Generation, a purposeful life, giving back and time with those she loved were her greatest rewards. Harsch passed away on Nov.14, 2024, at age 89.

Sacramento changed as Harsch's generation aged. It got bigger and, to some, much more impersonal. Maybe a little more self-indulgent too. At the end of the last chapter of her book, there is a Peanuts cartoon where Linus sits next to Charlie Brown and says, "Worrying won't stop the bad stuff from happening; it just stops you from enjoying the good."

During the era of selfies, maybe the Silent Generation and Harsch's life can remind us of the bigger picture in the New Year. ★

State Water Project Allocation Increases

California Department of Water Resources News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - On Dec. 23, the Department of Water Resources (DWR) announced an update to the State Water Project allocation forecast for 2025. The allocation has increased to 15 percent of requested supplies, up from the initial allocation forecast of 5 percent announced in December. The State Water Project provides water to 29 public water agencies that serve 27-million Californians.

Strong storms in late November and early December have helped boost statewide precipitation to just above average for this time of year. Reservoir levels have also increased because of the storms. The initial allocation forecast announced on Dec. 2 had not accounted for these storms because the data was not yet available to water managers. Prior to the second half of November, the start of the water year had been dry and warm.

"The past several weeks has brought welcome rain and snow to Northern California and these improved conditions have allowed the State Water Project to increase the allocation forecast to the benefit of millions of Californians," said Department of Water Resources Director Karla Nemeth. "While we typically wait to provide an update until January, we felt it important to let our state water contractors know of the increase as soon as possible to allow them to better plan their water supply for the year ahead."

State water managers will continue to monitor precipitation and snowpack conditions, as well as account for dry soils that might soak up some of the spring runoff following record heat this past summer. Additionally, Southern California remains very dry and has not benefited from the atmospheric rivers experienced so far this season.

"California is still in the early months of our wet season and as recent history has shown, conditions can change quickly," said Dr. Michael Anderson, state climatologist. "While Northern California has benefitted from early season storms, dry conditions in the new year can leave us with below average totals when warmer weather arrives."

Each year, the Department of Water Resources provides State Water Project allocation forecasts based on available water storage, projected water supply and water demands. Allocations are updated monthly as snowpack, rainfall and runoff information is assessed, with a final allocation typically determined in May or June. As the winter progresses, if California sees an increase in rain and snowfall, the allocation forecast might increase.

The next update will likely come this month and will use information from the season's first snow surveys.

The allocation forecast notice to state water contractors and historical data on State Water Project allocations are available online at water.ca.gov/programs/state-water-project/management/swp-water-contractors. ★ performance live and "in person" instead of just on a video screen. "That was such a great opportunity for RoRo to experience something like that."

A not-for-profit credit union, SAFE shares in the credit union cooperative principle of "people helping people" through community initiatives. Building upon its 25-year, $23 million naming rights commitment and investment in the SAFE Credit Union Convention & Performing Arts District in Sacramento, the event highlights the credit union's investment in Sacramento's economy.

"SAFE was delighted to bring this special matinee performance of the Nutcracker to Biggs and Littles from our communities," says SAFE Credit Union Community Impact Manager Lauren LeBov. "We hope experiencing the show together added to the magic and the memories of attending the Nutcracker and the ballet."

Before the performance and on stage, Sacramento Ballet Artistic/Executive Director Anthony Krutzkamp welcomed and recognized the Biggs and Littles attending the performance.

"Sharing the magic of this holiday tradition with the youth of Sacramento is an incredible opportunity to inspire and ignite a love for the arts," Krutzkamp says. "I can't say thank you enough to SAFE, to buy those tickets. Those were amazing, authentic, wonderful, tickets. I can't say thank you enough."

Big Sister Stephanie Allen of Penryn thought it was wonderful for her Little Sister Saliyah to watch the story of the Nutcracker unfold with no dialogue and through music and movement from the dancers.

"This was Saliyah's first ballet, and I was so grateful for the chance to introduce her to a totally new art form and experience it together," says Allen. "I think meeting the dancer Abby and learning what it takes to be a professional ballerina was the highlight for her."

"Serving my community in the seventh district continues to be the honor of my life," said Congresswoman Matsui. "This is a critical time for the future of our country. My mission is as clear as ever – to advance the interests of our region and make sure Sacramentans continue to thrive despite the challenges we face. My House Democratic colleagues and I will continue to push for progress to improve the economy, lower the cost of living, revitalize our infrastructure, and keep our communities safe."

"As a leader on the Energy and Commerce Committee, I'm privileged to work on issues that have a transformational impact on our country," Matsui continued. "I'll continue to fight for expanded access to health care, a future with a livable planet, and broadband access for everyone. I'll continue to defend our democratic institutions and stand up for communities of color, the unhoused, and the most vulnerable among us. I'm ready to get back to work to tackle the pressing issues facing our neighbors and fellow Americans."

California's 7th Congressional District encompasses the heart of the Sacramento region, including the communities of Sacramento, Elk Grove, West Sacramento, Galt, Rancho Murieta, Wilton, and the Delta communities.

Sac County Public Health Awarded National Accreditation

Sacramento County Public Health News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County Public Health has officially earned national accreditation from the Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB), recognizing its commitment to high-quality public health services that improve the health and well-being of County residents.

"This achievement affirms our commitment to meeting the highest standards in public health," said Sacramento County Public Health Officer Dr. Olivia Kasirye. "It demonstrates our division has the systems, processes and capacity in place to deliver essential public health services that directly benefit our community. It strengthens our ability to address health disparities, respond to emerging public health threats and ensure better health outcomes for all Sacramento County residents."

The accreditation process is a rigorous and voluntary review in which health departments must demonstrate that they meet or exceed national standards of public health service developed by the Public Health Accreditation Board, an organization supported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. These standards are based on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's 10 Essential Public Health Services that guide public health practices across the country.

Sacramento County Public Health's accreditation required a comprehensive review of its systems, policies and procedures, including the submission of over 200 documents and a two-day site visit. The county's accreditation efforts began in 2018, were put on hold during the pandemic and reintiated in 2022.

"The value of becoming nationally accredited through PHAB extends far beyond the walls of the health department," said the Public Health Accreditation Board President and CEO Paul Kuehnert, DNP, RN, FAAN. "People living and working in communities served by these health departments can be assured that their health department is strong and has the capacity to protect and promote their health. Going through the accreditation process itself helps health departments pinpoint the areas that are critical to improving the work they do for their communities."

The Sacramento County Public Health accreditation team developed core accreditation components to meet the Public Health Accreditation Board's requirements, including:

Community Health Assessment (CHA): Completed in October 2023, this assessment identified Sacramento County's key health priorities.

Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP): Built on the Community Health Assessment findings, this plan addresses the pressing health issues through community collaboration.

Strategic Plan: Sacramento County Public Health updated its mission, vision, values and identified strategic priorities to guide its public health efforts.

Workforce Development Plan: This plan ensures Sacramento County Public Health staff have the necessary skills and training to meet public health demands.

Quality Improvement Plan: Focuses on continuous improvement of Public Health's services to achieve better health outcomes.

Emergency Operations Plan: This plan facilitates preparedness for, response to and recovery from public health emergencies.

Health and Racial Equity Action Plan: Published in June 2024, this plan shows Sacramento County Public Health's intentional approach to address factors that contribute to specific populations' higher health risks and poorer health outcomes, or health inequities.

Accreditation strengthens Public Health's capacity to secure funding, improve service delivery and drive innovation. The department will maintain its accreditation for five years, submitting annual reports and preparing for reaccreditation throughout.

This achievement signifies an investment that will bolster the department's ability to respond to evolving community needs. ★

Come Fly With Me or Buy With Me

"spark" in Spanish. Hondurans use the word to describe people with spark or drive.

Chispa has a simple mission: Sponsor children's libraries and equip them with quality books in Spanish by working side by side with Honduran community leaders and educators.

In the 80 schools where Chispa works, they build alliances with communities to design, fund and manage their own libraries. Community members also volunteer in the library project and raise a symbolic portion of the funding that ensures sustainability and ownership.

"What will we do during the volunteer week?" asked another.

"We begin the day after arrival by decorating library spaces that will make children proud of their school. We paint the walls with colorful murals, assemble bookshelves, and stock and catalog an entire library.

"Imagine us working together, rolling two coats of white paint on crumbling walls. The paint provides a bright pallet for those murals intended to inspire future readers.

The children will surround us, chattering the few English words they know. Their smiles go for miles as they read the picture books we bring."

Some in my group gave an empathetic sigh.

Finally, one woman asked the most common question about our trips "Is it dangerous?"

"That's a risk you will have to assess on your own. We safely welcomed volunteers from ages 3 to 83. I can also tell you that that my daughter, Sara, her husband and her two children spent several years in Honduras.

Unsure how many takers I'd persuaded, I added, "While the days are sometimes hot and long, I reward my volunteers with ice-cream cones."

I suggested additional questions might be answered on our website at ChispaProject.org/volunteertrip. "Read the details and fill out the forms," I said. "Watch the five-minute video and e-mail Sara or me with your questions."

And, finally, you know I made one more pitch –

"If you can't fly with me, then "Buy with Me!" ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

What a difference a week makes! Yes, a lot can happen in a week, and the Sacramento Kings are living proof.

Gone is former coach of the year, Mike Brown, and interim head coach Doug Christie not only is riding a season high 4-game winning streak, he's riding a basketball juggernaut as well.

Wins over injury depleted Dallas Mavericks and Philadelphia 76ers were welcome wins, but to handily defeat the Memphis Grizzlies and archrival Golden State Warriors back-to-back was a sign that the Kings were truly on the road to recovery.

A horrid 6-game losing streak was the undoing of Mike Brown, and every pundit, newscaster and fan had a different opinion. The general consensus was that coach Brown had lost the locker room, and after a meltdown loss to the Detroit Pistons in which collectively the Kings and in particular DeAaron Fox guarded no one, the Pistons came away with an improbable 1-point win. 4-point plays to win a game are a rarity, and it's no fun to be on the losing end, but that's precisely where the Kings found themselves.

Whether coach Brown had truly lost his voice with the team is still open to conjecture, but from this writer's perspective, his lack of any consistency as it relates to playing time for players off the bench, led to overall sub-par productivity. Players from Keon Ellis, Alex Len, to Trey Lyles never knew from one game to the next if they would see significant minutes or no minutes at all.

Doug Christie was tapped on the shoulder and asked to take over the head coaching reigns, and so far, he's been a welcome addition to the head seat.

Some players have commented that Christie brings the mindset of a former player to the table, and thus far his voice is being heard. In particular the defensive end of the court has seen significant improvement, and the past four games have featured some of the best defensive basketball that fans have seen in memory.

A wire-to-wire victory over the Golden State Warriors in which Sacramento never allowed the Warriors any breathing room, was a glimpse of what the Sactown boys are capable of, and Malik Monk had perhaps his finest game of the season. Malik matched Steph Curry with 26 points and added a season high 12 assists, but his defense was equally impressive. Domantas Sabonis had his usual stellar performance, adding 22 points and 13 rebounds while playing only three quarters.

Does coaching make a difference? You bet it does. Does that mean that winning four of five games since Mike Brown's departure, the Kings are headed to the playoffs.

Too early to tell Kings fans but take solace in seeing what your hometown boys are capable of doing. Not just playing tough teams and winning, but actually accomplishing blow-out wins.

Keon Ellis has returned to form and did a yeoman's job in filling in for an injured DeAaron Fox in the win over the Warriors. Keon has a big upside, as does Trey Lyles who is also showing signs of looking like his former self, playing solid basketball on both ends of the court.

Say hello to Devin Carter Kings fans, and this young rookie has game! Playing in just his 2nd NBA game, Devin broke into the scoring column with 13 points while adding an impressive seven rebounds. This youngster has been on the sidelines all season recovering from off-season shoulder surgery, and he looks eager to impress his fans and teammates alike. I like what I see in Devin, and his defense in particular on Stephon Curry was impressive to see. His debut has been a long time coming, and it could not have come at a more auspicious time. I look for coach Christie to give him all the playing time he can handle, and with the unfortunate departure of Davion Mitchell, another guard that can play ferocious defense is a welcome sight.

Stay tuned Kings fans and stay away from ugly trade rumors. Trades will invariably come, but let's just hope it doesn't involve the core members we've come to love!

All be best!

Beyond the Call: Supporting Foster Care Services

Quality Management worker Rose Vu has dedicated her career to making a difference in the lives of children and families served by the Department of Child, Family and Adult Services. Photo courtesy of Sacramento County

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

Sacramento County's Department of Child, Family and Adult Services (DCFAS) is celebrating its dedicated staff members. Quality Management worker Rose Vu has dedicated her career to making a difference in the lives of children and families served by the Department of Child, Family and Adult Services. Vu's career is a great example of hard work, innovation and a passion for improving lives.

"I started as a temporary employee and then I became a permanent employee as an assistant," Vu said. "I worked my way up to getting promoted to a clerical supervisor level one and then level two. I was recently promoted to my current position as Human Services Program Specialist."

In her role, Vu acts as a data entry liaison, ensuring critical data is collected and analyzed. This data reflects the care foster children receive and identifies patterns and trends that can drive improvements in outcomes.

"It's important to collect this data because we want to ensure that our foster children are taken care of," Vu explained. "In addition to that, we are always striving to do better."

For Vu, improving

processes and supporting transitional-age foster youth are priorities. By overseeing data entry for programs such as supervised independent living, Vu ensures young adults in extended foster care can access the financial resources they need to thrive.

"Extended foster care is a great opportunity for foster children to be out on their own, learn skills and take them out into the real world so they can take care of themselves," Vu said.

Beyond data and processes, Vu takes pride in developing staff and training new social workers to understand the importance of placement information.

Vu is also an advocate for Sacramento County's PRIDE values: Principal, Respect, Innovation, Diversity and Inclusion, and Excellence. She appreciates how these values shape the work environment and provide opportunities for employees to recognize and celebrate each other's contributions.

"Sometimes, we are just so tunnel-visioned in the work that we do that we don't recognize the great work that we do," Vu said. "Sacramento County gives us that opportunity to recognize each other and to have great values."

Through her dedication, Vu makes a meaningful impact that helps families and children in Sacramento County. Vu is an example of one of Sacramento County's many employees who goes beyond the call. ★

Stand Against Hunger Raises Nearly $630K for Food Banks

ABC10 News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A signature initiative proudly led by ABC10, a Tegna-owned media station, the fifth annual Stand Against Hunger holiday fundraising campaign raised $628,169. The impact of the annual fundraising drive is significant, especially with today's increased grocery prices. Every dollar donated to a food bank helps to address the issue of rising food insecurity taking place throughout the region. In fact, a donation of just $5 equates to 15 meals for those in need.

Through the 2024 Stand Against Hunger initiative, donated funds from the community went to seven participating food bank partners: Emergency Food Bank of Stockton/San Joaquin; Feeding the Foothills (formally known as Placer Food Bank); Food Bank of Contra Costa and Solano; Sacramento Food Bank and Family Services; Second Harvest of the Greater Valley; Yolo County Food Bank; and Yuba-Sutter Food Bank campaign ran for six weeks from Nov. 6 through Dec. 22, and was supported by Wells Fargo, Ashley Law, Bayside Church and Northwest Exteriors. The TEGNA Foundation also donated $25,000 to kick off the program. In addition, Telemundo 33 and KAT Country 103.3 in Stockton joined ABC10 by providing on-air support for the cause.

"Throughout the 2024 Stand Against Hunger initiative, it was heartbreaking to see the increased number of individuals and families in line at local food banks as they struggle with food insecurity," said Risa Omega, president and general manager of ABC10. "I am very pleased that ABC10 and our parent company TEGNA teamed up with nonprofits, along with other community-minded businesses and organizations, to take a Stand Against Hunger. Along with an incredible number of viewers who donated, we are proud to do our part to help put food on the table for so many community members in need."

Expanding Two Behavioral Health Service Programs

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

Sacramento County is kicking off the new year by expanding two Behavioral Health Service programs, combining Access and Substance Use Prevention Treatment (SUPT) services to streamline care, address critical needs and enhance the health and safety of our community.

Behavioral Health Services-Screening and Coordination (BHS-SAC) Call Center

The new Behavioral Health Services-Screening and Coordination Call Center simplifies access to mental health and substance use treatment services by combining multiple phone numbers into one centralized line at 916-875-1055. This new service integrates the Mental Health Access Team and the Substance Use Prevention and Treatment System of Care under one number. By doing so, Sacramento County ensures that individuals in need can receive timely coordination among providers and improve health outcomes for those struggling with mental health and substance use challenges.

"The BHS-SAC Call Center is a game-changer for our community," said Dr. Ryan Quist, the Behavioral Health director. "By centralizing these essential services, we're breaking down barriers to care and simplifying how our community can receive mental health and substance use resources."

Implementation of Senate Bill 43 (SB 43)

Sacramento County will implement the state's modernized law for involuntary psychiatric holds, which expands the definition of

"gravely disabled." This new definition includes individuals unable to care for their basic needs for health and safety due to a severe substance use disorder or a co-occurring mental health disorder and severe substance use disorder.

Senate Bill 43 also broadens the definition of "basic needs" to include a person's ability to obtain necessary medical care, personal safety, food, weather-appropriate clothing and/or shelter.

The updated law will expand access to acute and long-term care for our most vulnerable community members who meet the definition of gravely disabled and are suffering from a severe substance use disorder.

These efforts are part of a broader initiative in California to address homelessness, mental health crises and substance abuse treatment. The efforts implemented reflect the county's dedication to providing comprehensive care and fostering collaboration between health services and community partners. For more information about these programs, visit Sacramento County's Department of Health Services' Behavioral Health website at dhs.saccounty.gov/BHS. ★

Home Heating Expenses Projected to Increase 8.7%

National Energy Assistance Directors Association News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Home heating costs this winter will remain unaffordable for millions of lower income families, according to the National Energy Assistance Directors Association.

The National Energy Assistance Directors Association, representing the state directors of the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, released its end-of-the-year projections of home heating costs for the winter heating season. Prices for home heating this winter on average are estimated to increase by about 8.7% to $941 from last year's winter heating season average of $866, due to expected colder winter weather in the Northeast and Midwest states.

The largest change is for families using electricity to heat their homes increasing by 14.2% from $1,040 to $1,189. Electric prices are increasing due to continued high cost of maintaining and upgrading the grid and colder weather leading to increased consumption. In fact, electricity as reported by the November 2024 Consumer Price Index is rising faster than the overall rate of inflation.

In addition, the National Energy Assistance Directors Association predicts higher prices for natural gas, one of the main fuels used in electricity production, primarily due to increased exports of liquefied natural gas with the average cost increasing from $615 to $634.

For those using heating oil, expenditures are estimated to decrease by 2.7% from $1,560 to $1,518. Households heating with propane can expect a 4.4 % increase in expenditures, from $1,179 last winter to $1,231 this year due to colder temperatures forecasted in the Midwest and Northeast.

County Has Tips for Staying Safe in the Cold

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - With temperatures staying cool this season, it's a great time to review cold weather tips.

Check on elderly family members, friends and neighbors. Seniors and those with serious medical conditions are at risk. Check on community members who might be vulnerable to ensure they are safely keeping warm.

Bring your pets inside when temperatures start to dip near freezing. A dog or cat left outside in severe cold weather can quickly die from exposure. Except for exercise and walks, all dogs and cats are safer indoors during the winter.

Make sure your pets have a warm, draft-free

place indoors with a dry mat or blanket that they can lie on. For additional winter weather tips for animals, check out the Bradshaw Animal Shelter's website at animalcare.sac-county.gov.

Heat your home safely; carbon monoxide is a silent killer. It is not OK to heat the inside of your home with any kind of barbecue, propane heater or any other fuel-fired equipment, due to the risk of carbon monoxide poisoning. Only use heaters installed with your home and those designed to be used indoors. Make sure that your natural gas furnaces and other appliances are in good, clean working order.

Insulate outdoor pipes that lead into your home to prevent freezing. Seal with caulk around the pipes that lead into and out of your home. Inside your home, leave the bathroom and under-sink cabinets open to help warm the water. If your pipes freeze, leave your tap on and call a plumber. You can defrost your pipes using a hair-dryer on a low setting, working your way slowly from the faucet to where your pipe enters the wall. County residents who need to have their water turned off in order to make repairs to their lines can go online or call 311 (or 916-875-4311 if calling from out of the area).

Ensure proper drainage by scooping up leaves and debris. Keeping storm drains clear can prevent street flooding and black ice from forming.

When it is raining, reduce your vehicle speed. Wet roads increase the distance and time needed to stop your vehicle. Be extra cautious on roads, bridges and overpasses when temperatures are 32 degrees or below because of black ice; slow down and give yourself extra spacing between vehicles in front of you.

Watch for tree limbs. As temperatures dip, trees become vulnerable to limbs snapping. For downed trees or branches in the roadway, county residents can go online or call 311 (or 916-875-4311 from out of the area).

Prepare for wind. Secure yard items that could blow around and be prepared for the possibility of loss of power. For downed power lines, stay away and immediately call 9-1-1.

Where to get help: Call 211 in Sacramento or go online for information on emergency shelter services.

When Losing is Still Winning

By Daniel Canfield

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Rio Linda High School alumnus and former Sacramento State Hornet Cam Skattebo gave 110% in the Sun Devils' 39-31 College Football Playoff loss to the Texas Longhorns in the Peach Bowl on New Year's Eve. Skattebo transferred from Sacramento State University to Arizona State University following the 2022 season and just completed his senior year, culminating with the thrilling overtime loss to the Longhorns.

Skattebo's frenetic "never say quit" playing style, he was famous for from his time as a Hornet, carried over to his time as an Arizona State Wildcat and was exemplified by his Peach Bowl performance.

Over four quarters and overtime of the 2024-25 Peach Bowl, the 22-year-old racked up 284 total yards, 143 rushing, 99 receiving, and 42 passing. Skattebo's Peach Bowl performance included two rushing touchdowns, a passing touchdown, and a two-point conversion. A herculean effort from the 5-foot, 11-inch, 215-pound senior running back.

Skattebo's performance was so great that despite being on the losing end of the game, he was named the Offensive Most Valuable Player of the Peach Bowl. It's the first time in 26 years that a member of the losing team has won the game's Offensive Most Valuable Player award.

Prior to the Peach Bowl, Skattebo had foreshadowed his game performance in his media day comments on Dec. 30.

"There's nobody out there that can stop me," Skattebo said. "If they're studying hard, there's a reason. I have full respect for them, because they understand what they're playing against, and that's why I love playing in games like this, because they constantly look at me as a threat, and that's something I've always wanted to be. And if I'm a threat on the football field against an SEC team that was the runner-up to win their conference, then I think I'm in a pretty good position."

In 2024, Skattebo had a breakthrough senior season, rushing for 1,568 yards and 19 touchdowns while catching 37 passes for 506 yards and three touchdowns. Making him the first Big 12 player ever to have at least 1500 rushing yards and 500 receiving yards in the same season and the first FBS player to do it since Christian McCaffrey in 2015. The star running back finished fifth in Heisman Trophy voting.

While Skattebo and the Arizona State University Wildcats would have preferred to beat the Longhorns in the Peach Bowl and advance in the College Football Playoff, the Offensive MVP award is an admirable accomplishment for one of the nation's top running backs. ★

Hornet Sophomore Picked in MLS Draft

Sacramento State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - A spectacular sophomore season has translated into a ticket to the next level for Sacramento State sophomore forward Donovan Sessoms, who was selected with the first pick of the third round (No. 61 overall) by expansion side San Diego FC in the 2025 Major League Soccer (MLS) SuperDraft on Dec. 20.

Sessoms is the first Hornet to be taken in the MLS SuperDraft since Chimdum Mez was taken in the fourth round (66th overall) by the San Jose Earthquakes, and the fifth Sacramento State student-athlete to be drafted by an MLS club in school history along with Brandon Cavitt (1996 College Draft, Dallas Burn), Ernesto Carranza (2011 Supplemental Draft, Chivas USA), and Fernando Cabadas (2011 Supplemental Draft, New England Revolution).

San Diego FC had five selections in the draft, building a roster as the newest of Major League Soccer's 30 clubs that will compete in 2025. The city was awarded a franchise in May of 2023 and will play its first match on Feb. 23 against defending MLS Cup champion LA Galaxy.

An All-Big West first-team selection in 2024, Sessoms put together one of the finest offensive seasons in school history, finishing with a team-high 10 goals and 20 points for the year, both ranking among the top 10 in single-season history. Half of those 10 scored went for game-winning goals, ranking tied for fifth in the nation.

Among his Big West Conference brethren, Sessoms ranked third in the Big West in shot attempts (48) and led the league with 2.67 shots per match. He also finished fifth in the league in points, fourth in points per match (1.11), fourth in goals, and third in goals per match (0.56). ★

"We are grateful for Dave's contributions and leadership over the past eight years. He guided our organization through a period of significant transition, and we sincerely thank him for his unwavering commitment to the team," said A's Owner John Fisher. Kaval, 49, served as the seventh president of the Athletics in the franchise's 123-year history. The franchise was founded in Philadelphia in 1901.
