Superior Court Expands Hours of Operation

Sacramento Superior Court News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -In an effort to better serve the public, the Sacramento Superior Court will extend its hours of operation at the Carol Miller Justice Center, starting April 7.

This change is meant to increase accessibility for individuals needing to address traffic, small claims and unlawful detainer cases before the court.

Data shows that most users tend to access court services at the Carol Miller Justice Center earlier in the week, with a line often forming outside before the doors open to the public in the morning.

As part of an 18-month pilot program, the Carol Miller Justice Center will adjust its operating hours to open one hour earlier at 7 a.m. and close one hour later at 5 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays. The courthouse will be closed Fridays.

These expanded hours will provide additional options for those wishing to resolve their cases outside traditional business hours, reducing the need to take time off work, school or other daily obligations. Key changes include:

Court services will be available Monday through Thursday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Traffic arraignment calendars will start at 7 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

Court trial calendars will be added at 7:15 a.m. and 4:15 p.m.

The courthouse will be closed on Fridays.

The expanded hours are anticipated to streamline court processes, reduce wait times and make it easier for Sacramento County residents to address their legal cases. For example, an individual could attend a traffic arraignment at 7 a.m., appear before a judge, and return to their regular daily schedule by 7:30 a.m.

The new hours will only apply to the Carol Miller Justice Center, which processes Traffic, Small Claims, and Unlawful Detainer cases. Other court buildings and divisions of the Sacramento Superior Court will maintain their standard operating hours.

The Carol Miller Justice Center is at 301 Bicentennial Circle, Sacramento.

Beavers Celebrate 60 Years

Carmichael Beavers Swim Team News Release

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - A beloved local institution, the Carmichael Beavers are celebrating a monumental milestone this year, marking 60 years of inspiring youth, building confidence and fostering community through the sport of swimming. Founded in 1965, the team has grown to become a cornerstone of Carmichael's swimming culture, developing young athletes while creating a tight-knit network of families who support each other both in and out of the water.

From its early days at the community pool at Carmichael Park to its current home at Del Campo High School, the Carmichael Beavers have seen their fair share of change and growth.

Throughout these six decades, the organization has remained true to its mission: to teach children, ages 4 to 18, the four competitive strokes of swimming while helping them develop confidence and self-improvement in a friendly yet competitive environment.

The Beavers' influence extends beyond the pool deck, with families supporting swimmers and each other through every twist

and turn of their children's athletic journeys. This spirit of community and dedication to young athletes has solidified the Carmichael Beavers as the heart of the local swim scene.

Celebrating 60 Years: A Birthday Bash to Remember

As part of the 60th anniversary celebration, the Carmichael Beavers will host a Birthday Bash at the Foothill Skate Inn from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 25. The event invites all past, present and future team members, as well as their families, to join together for a night of fun, nostalgia and community spirit. Tickets for the event are available for $10, with proceeds benefiting the Beavers' 2025 season.

Tickets can be purchased online through the event link on our Facebook page CBSwim, and those interested in sponsorship or donation opportunities can contact the Beavers' fundraising team at CBSwimFundraising@ gmail.com.

"This event is not just a celebration of our history but a chance for us to thank everyone who has supported the Beavers over the years," said board President Jenn Pope. "It's the people who make this team so special and we look forward to many more years of success."

Recognizing the Spirit of Carmichael

On Feb. 6, the Carmichael Beavers received a heartwarming recognition when they were awarded the 2025 Spirit of Carmichael Award. Board members, along with a current swimmer, accepted the award on behalf of the entire organization. This honor acknowledges the Beavers' long-standing impact on the community and the heartfelt show of support underscores how deeply the team is woven into the fabric of Carmichael.

"It was an incredible moment to stand in front of the community and receive such an honor," said one of the board members. "It's humbling to see how far we've come and how much the community values our mission."

As the team looks ahead to another exciting season, the Carmichael Beavers are more committed than ever to offering a place where young swimmers can thrive. The Beavers' swim season runs from April to July, and the team encourages families with children aged 4 to 18 to visit and see if the program is the right fit.

"Whether your child is an emerging or a seasoned swimmer, we welcome everyone," Pope said. "Our team is about more than just swimming; it's about creating a sense of belonging and making memories that last a lifetime."

With the support of families and local residents, the Carmichael Beavers look forward to continuing to inspire and develop young athletes for many vears to come.

Kings Korner By V.G. Harris

Close your eyes for just a moment and imagine it's opening night of the 2024/2025 basketball season. The public address announcer introduces the following players for the Kings, Malik Monk, DeMar DeRozan, Keegan Murray, Zach Lavine, and Domantas Sabonis.

Noticeably absent is of course DeAaron Fox, but even so, how did that lineup sound? Oh, did I mention that Jonas Valanciunas is backing up Sabonis, and we added 2nd year man Jake LaRadia, recently acquired from the Memphis Grizzlies.

The starting lineup features three players that have multiple all-star appearances, and the potential scoring power from these five players should wet

On Saturday night against the only team in the NBA that beat the Kings six times in the 2023/2024 campaign, all three of the recent acquisitions were available and playing for the Sactown ballers.

The first quarter was a basketball nightmare as the hometown team went down by 20 points early, and Kings killer Zion Williamson took the Kings to the woodshed. It was not a pretty sight as Williamson and the Pelicans did pretty much whatever they wanted to do.

The Kings drew within 11 points at halftime, but the best was yet to come. As if deciding it was time to show the faithful hometown crowd what this new assembly was capable of, Sacramento rung up 45 points in the third quarter, and astoundingly held the Pelicans to only 22 points.

Fans were treated to show rarely seen, but it couldn't have come at a more prodigious time. The Sactown boys wowed the home crowd with a collection of 3's, fast break scores, frenetic defense, and in general treated the fans to a glimpse of what this new iteration of players are capable of.

In the end the Pelicans made a game of it, but even after briefly taking the lead in the 4th quarter, the Kings bore down and played solid down the stretch, putting this contest in the win column by the score of

What a relief to break the Pelicans winning streak over the Kings, but more importantly, it was eye opener to see what these players are capable of doing

Keep your eyes on Zach Lavine, as he is getting better every game. He is known for being a high percentage 3-point shooter, and although that has yet to be seen in his new uniform, I am looking for him to break out soon.

The real question that every fan is asking themselves, is can this team make the playoffs this year?

Players need to play, and coaches need to coach, but the short answer is yes.

I will say again, coach Christie needs to pay close attention to who is on the bench, and I'm particularly talking about Isaac Jones. Isaac makes his presence felt every time he's on the court, and with his length is constantly getting his hands on the ball.

The Kings have a real NBA defender in Keon Ellis, and I believe Isaac Jones can compliment that defensive effort. He has a nice touch around the rim, can rebound, and in general looks like he belongs when given the chance.

6'9" rookies with game are a hard commodity to find, and he's already signed to a contract, and showing up for

Just as Mike Brown brought Keon Ellis along last year, and he's paying dividends now, so can Isaac Jones find ways to make the Kings a better team. True, the Pelicans did not have a good win-loss record, but the win on Saturday night was more than that. If you want to get excited, go back and watch the 3rd quarter again and then sit back and imagine what might be. The Sactown boys hit the road for three games, starting with the Dallas Mavericks Monday, and then on to New Orleans for back-to-back games on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

These three games will give fans a better glimpse into the new team chemistry, and in the tightly packed western conference, just one four- or five-game winning streak can catapult a team into playoff

Hold onto your seats Kings fans, because the best is yet to come!

Social Security Matters

Why was Social Security Money Moved to the General Treasury?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: Why were the Social Security funds moved from the Social Security account to the General Fund with the government? Is it not then called a tax making it an entitlement? That then gives the government control of our retirement. Most of us feel that someone should be in charge and use the Social Security fund with investments that grow our savings.

I invested my 401K and savings, and the original amount made me money during the Trump years, and I'm now trying to catch up. I make this statement because I draw more from my investments than I receive from Social Security. Signed: Questioning Senior Citizen

Dear Questioning Senior: I'm afraid I must inform you that no Social Security funds have ever been moved from the Social Security account to the government's General Fund - this is a pervasive myth which we have refuted many times over the years. For information, here is one of many articles I have published on this topic, which I hope you find interesting: https:// socialsecurityreport.org/ ask-rusty-about-repaying-social-security-money-taken-by-politicians/. Someone actually is charged with monitoring our Social Security funds – a board of Social Security Trustees consisting of the Secretaries of Treasury, Labor, and Health & Human Services, as well as the Commissioner of Social Security plus two Public Trustees. Each year the Social Security Trustees do a complete analysis of the Social Security program, especially its financial status and outlook for the future. If you have interest in the Trustee's latest annual report, here is a link to the 2024 analysis: https:// socialsecurityreport.org/ wp-content/uploads/2024/05/ tr24summary.pdf.

What you will find in the Trustees' report is that Social Security will run out of reserved funds in about 2033, necessitating an across the board cut of about 21% for everyone, unless Congress acts soon to reform the program and restore it to fiscal solvency. The Trustees have warned Congress about this problem for many years, but Congress has yet to find the bipartisan cooperation needed to fix the problem. AMAC (the Association of Mature American Citizens) has steadfastly offered proposals to Congress which would restore Social Security to solvency and will continue to do so with the new 119th Congress, which convened on January 3, 2025.

Please know that we appreciate your feedback and commend you for the wise use of your 401k investments, something that many of our members find necessary to supplement their Social Security. Remember, Social Security was never intended to provide all your retirement income, so earlier saving to supplement your retirement financial needs was a very wise move on your part.

California Schools Continue to Struggle with Test Scores in Reading and Math

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

When Gov. Gavin Newsom issues one of his periodic boasts about California's superiority vis-a-vis other states — particularly those with conservative politics such as Texas and Florida he conveniently omits aspects that are less than admirable. The exclusions include California's levels of poverty, homelessness, unemployment, utility bills and housing costs that are the nation's highest, or close to it.

One of California's starkest and most important — letdowns is the consistent failure to help elementary and middle school students achieve higher national test scores in basic educational skills, such as reading and math.

Simply put, California's education system is not only behind most other states, but even trails those that Newsom and other Californians consider to be culturally backward. Moreover, California schools have not yet recovered from the educational losses suffered during the COVID-19 pandemic.

This harsh reality is revealed in the latest round of academic testing by the federal National Assessment of Educational Progress. The data are voluminous and difficult to parse, but EdSource, a nonprofit news outlet devoted to charting California education trends, has thankfully done it for the rest of us.

"The latest scores show mostly no progress," EdSource reported last week. "Scores in fourth and eighth grade reading fell again, leaving California 9 points and the nation 8 points below 2017. Math was mixed — up in fourth grade, but not enough to catch 2019, with eighth grade taking another dip."

EdSource further found that average scores "mask widening disparities between the highest and lowest-performing students. On fourth grade reading, student scores at the 90th achievement percentile fell 1 point between 2019 and 2024, and scores at the 75th percentile fell 3 points. However, scores for students in the 10th percentile fell 10 points, and for students in the 25th percentile, they fell 8 points."

Stubbornly low levels of reading and mathematics skills among elementary and middle school students are particularly worrisome because they are tools that must be mastered to successfully navigate high school and post-graduation college classes or job training. The lapses not only affect the students' chances to become successful adults but the state's needs for an educated workforce and voting public.

Current data underscore that negative effect. While California has a huge homeless population and more than a million members of its labor force are jobless, employers are also finding it very difficult to fill job vacancies with workers who are either skilled or can be trained. This isn't a new issue. California has been lagging behind other states for decades and has a chronic

"achievement gap" between poor or English-learner students and those from more privileged circumstances. More than a decade ago, then-Gov. Jerry Brown and the Legislature overhauled school finance to provide additional funds to schools with large numbers of students at risk of failure. While countless billions of dollars have been rerouted, the outcomes have improved only fractionally at best. Money is certainly a factor in the quality of instruction. The state has sharply boosted spending on schools in recent years and they would have nearly $25,000 per student in Newsom's proposed 2025-26 budget. Newsom has fostered additional state aid for kindergarten and pre-kindergarten, the state is now providing universally free lunches, and has implemented early screening to detect reading deficiencies.

Those are potentially positive steps to close achievement gaps, but money is not the only factor. EdSource notes that "some states whose scores exceeded California's on fourth-grade reading, including Mississippi, Connecticut and Colorado, adopted comprehensive reading plans grounded in the science of reading.'

That's the current term for phonics, which California's education establishment has often resisted despite ample evidence that it improves kids' ability to read. .Dan Walters is one of most decorated and widely syndicated columnists in California history, authoring a column four times a week that offers his view and analysis of the state's political, economic, social and demographic trends. ★

Dave Ramsey

Dear Dave,

How do I get my employees to buy-in to the company mission, and really get onboard with what I want to accomplish and the steps toward making it happen? I feel like I have a lot of good people working for me, but I'm not sure I'm getting the message across in terms what I expect and what it will take for them and the business to succeed.

- Franklin

Dear Franklin,

It's a no-brainer that employee buy-in is great, even essential, for your business. But actually getting buy-in? That can be tough. But here are four steps I believe are essential to setting the stage for winning employees over and gaining their trust, their loyalty and their respect.

First, evaluate your leadership. Ask yourself, Would I follow the leader

Dave Ramsey Says

The Importance of Employee Buy-In

I am today? Great leaders are open to feedback, humble and willing to grow. They lead by serving. And most teams will follow a good example, so lead with confidence, focus and transparency.

Next, define your mission, vision and values. Your mission describes what you do and why it matters. Your vision paints a picture of what the future will look like when your mission is lived out, and your values declare what your company stands for and guide how you make decisions. Share these often, and be very clear when you do. If these principles aren't firmly in place and understood, you're asking your team to navigate without a map.

Also, communicate consistently and clearly. Your team members aren't a bunch of mind readers. Share all your expectations and goals frequently, along with the why behind your plans. Make time for questions and mentoring, too. Your ability to communicate well goes a long way toward determining team satisfaction and retention, along with the quality of your relationships and the level of trust you earn.

Finally, have a solid strategic plan. Don't just relay a vague outline your company's destination. map out a clear path of how to get there with all your leaders. A strategic plan with actionable steps shows your team what winning looks like and what it'll take to succeed.

And when the plan is specific and achievable, your team will rally around it.

Crabs, Community and Champions

Del Campo's Annual Feed Supports Student Athletes

Story and photos by Ornella Rossi

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - The Del Campo High School Booster Club hosted its 37th Annual Crab Feed on Feb. 8, bringing together families, alumni and local businesses to support the school's athletic programs. The event, which ran from 5 to 10 p.m., was the biggest of the year, featuring music, a selection of raffles, silent auctions, a dessert auction, and a grazing table stocked with food and drinks.

"We are working hard at getting the large gym updated with all of the championship pendants displayed," said a Del Campo Booster Club staff member. "We continue to fundraise to be able to give back to all of the programs at Del Campo. We are working especially hard this year because of the break-in we experienced over winter break. It caused a loss of $2,800 in Cougar wear."

The event, organized by the Del Campo Athletic Booster Club and the Crab Feed Committee, aimed to raise funds for athletic programs, equipment and facility improvements. The Booster Club, which supports not only sports but also band, cheer, dance, AVID and PFO, works to provide resources that help students thrive.

"Our mission is to assist the Del Campo High School athletic community by providing financial, advisory, and volunteer resources to assist in the improvement of athletic programs, equipment, and facilities," said the Del Campo Booster Club staff member. "We market and promote Del Campo High School athletic programs in which the lifelong values of sportsmanship, teamwork, integrity, honesty, and commitment are emphasized. We support school spirit and participation, which enriches the mental, physical, and emotional well-being of students."

Del Campo student athletes were heavily involved in the evening's activities, from serving guests to sharing their personal connections to the event. CB, a junior on the water polo team, reflected on her love for the sport.

"I really like water polo. I don't really like running that much, so the pool is my happy place," CB said. "I started water polo my first year of high school and have stuck with it ever since. From this event, I would love to see things that would help the team.

also attended the event, expressing his appreciation for the sense of community it fostered.

"I like this event because it brings the community together," Nelson said. "It gives a chance for all the coaches to be around parents and for them to see we are just people too. Every athletic program is pretty much selffunded, so the boosters funnel the money back for jerseys and equipment for every sport, and that's nice because it's divided up for all programs."

The support from the Del Campo community was also evident to Spencer Cady, a senior on the baseball team.

"I really appreciate playing for Del Campo because we have a very strong culture and I'm really happy to be playing this year," Cady said. "I just love the sport. It's great to see how much community members support our team and all these people that are willing to spend their money on us."

Football coach Matt Costa added that the involvement of students in the event was crucial.

New Regulations for Sidewalk Vendors

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors voted on Feb. 4 to approve new ordinances to better regulate sidewalk vending in the unincorporated parts of the county, aiming to enhance public health, safety and compliance. These rules will take effect in March.

These ordinances were introduced in response to the significant rise in sidewalk vending following the enactment of Senate Bill 946 in 2019 and Senate Bill 972 in 2023. While these state laws decriminalized sidewalk vending and eased compliance requirements for mobile food vendors, Sacramento County has faced increasing challenges related to vendor compliance and enforcement.

The newly-adopted ordinances introduce specific permitting and operational guidelines. The Department of Finance will oversee the issuance of sidewalk vending business licenses in the county's unincorporated areas and will work with other county departments to ensure that vendors adhere to business licensing requirements, and avoid restricted locations such as school zones, bike paths and emergency facilities. Vendors must also comply with federal Americans with Disabilities Act regulations and local health codes. A one-year sidewalk

Additionally, the Environmental Management Department has set new standards for compact mobile food operations, including permitting, sanitation, temperature control and approved commissary use. These regulations will apply countywide, including in the incorporated cities. It's important to note that these rules

These new regulations do not apply to vending on private property. However, the county is looking into ordinances that address this issue.

In Sacramento County Regional Parks, sidewalk vending will be restricted to designated areas and times to preserve public access to natural and recreational resources. A Request for Proposal process is being developed for concession agreements for stationary vending. Stationary vending will be limited in parks where exclusive concession agreements exist. Park Rangers will be authorized to enforce these regulations, ensuring vendors operate in compliance with

To ease the transition, the county will initially focus on education, partnering with the Office of Economic Development, Code Enforcement, Park Rangers and the Sheriff's Office to inform vendors about the new rules. Two public information sessions were held in January to educate vendors and stakeholders on the upcoming

As these new regulations take effect in March, Sacramento County aims to create a balanced approach that supports small businesses while maintaining public safety and order.
