CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - A gathering of about 100, young and old, relaxed in the late afternoon sunshine on May 10 participating in the city’s first Yoga Fest at Van Maren Park.

Attendees, many of whom were dressed in workout attire and who brought their mats with them, found a shady comfortable place close to the front stage ready to begin. All were warmly invited to meditate, elevate and celebrate, joining their instructors for a day of mindfulness, movement

Keeping Pets Safe in the Heat: Essential Tips for Pet Owners

Sacramento County encourages residents to be aware that hydration is key, so make sure that your pets always have access to fresh, clean water on hot days. Photo courtesy of Sacramento County

Sacramento County
News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Summer is just around the corner and the days are already heating up in Sacramento County.

As temperatures rise, it’s important for pet owners to take precautions to ensure that their furry friends stay safe and comfortable. While we might be able to seek out shade, sip cold drinks or turn on the AC, pets rely on us to protect them from the dangers of extreme heat. Whether you’re heading out for a walk, relaxing in the yard or running errands, here are some must-know tips to help your pets beat the heat.

Never leave pets in parked cars! Even on a seemingly mild day, the inside of a parked car can become dangerously hot within minutes. It’s not only incredibly risky, it’s also illegal in California. Leaving your pet in a vehicle, even with the windows cracked, can be deadly. Always take your pets with you or leave them safely at home.

Hydration is key, so make sure that your pets always have access to fresh, clean water. On hot days, they’ll need to drink more than usual to stay hydrated.

If your pet shows signs of heat-related illness, avoid giving them cold water or submerging them in cold baths, as this can shock their system. Instead, offer cool (not cold) water and contact a veterinarian immediately.

Avoid the heat of the day by scheduling walks and outdoor playtime during the cooler parts of the day, such as early morning or late evening. Pavement and asphalt can get extremely hot and could burn your pet’s paw pads. A good rule of thumb is to place the back of your hand on the

A Survival Story for Memorial Day

Editor's note: This story was recently told to Sandy Evans, a registered nurse and a Citrus Heights Veterans Community Center volunteer, by Skip. Skip is one of thousands of veterans who returned home from war facing challenges in his future. Many nurses returned with the same challenges. In honor of Memorial Day, we're running Skip's story and we are reminding readers to never forget our veterans' courage and sacrifices they made to protect and defend our country.

By Sandy Evans

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - U.S. nurses who served in the Vietnam War from 1965 to 1973 did heroic things that most people have never heard occurred. The war ended with no one wanting to hear what went on in an undeclared war. Thanks to military men in all branches of service, many of the frontline casualties had a chance to survive. One of these men who helped in the cause was Skip, today a Citrus Heights resident. Skip was in the Army, D Troop, 1st Regiment, 1st Squadron of Dragoons, Air Calvary.

He was only 17, eager to serve and, with his parents' permission, enlisted. His training took him to Fort Lewis, Washington; helicopters in Eustis, Virginia and USA Rotor School in Fort Rucker, Alabama.

By 18 years old, Skip was sent to Chun Lai, Vietnam as a Huey mechanic and eventually crew chief.

Like many war-torn vets, he returned with Post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), something nurses saw on a regular basis in Vietnam. Nurses also regularly saw catastrophic injuries and death. The hospitals were temporary with everyone hoping the war would quickly end and all be able to safely return home.

Skip and crew would provide medi-vac operations daily and often multiple times a day. Medics and nurses airlifted in helicopters with door gunners their only protection. Radio communications were a help with safe landing sites but often snipers or hostile ambush occurred.

Medi-vac missions often required "duck and run" tactics running toward the injured on stretchers while the helicopter provided cover fire and held fast until the wounded were aboard.

Skip would watch the nurses do their job with admiration. A nurse could look into a dying man's eyes and hold his hand so he would know he was not alone. It was touching. It was standard practice for the medical staff to use the "patch and save" method until they returned to base. The critical cases were expedited and given top priority.

The helicopter, huge and noisy, would

We are reminding readers to never forget our veterans' courage and sacrifices they made to protect and defend our country. Photo courtesy Pixabay lift off quickly as other helicopters were coming in to do the same work. The helicopter crew hours could be grueling. No time off for months. Special runs for needed supplies, transport surgeons or medical personnel. It was grabbing sleep when they could.

A new offensive required more troops and helicopters. The jungle terrain prohibited trucks or planes.

Skip survived being shot down twice and saw many of his friends die. You learn not to make personal attachments, become numb to the horrors of war. "Do your job," "move forward," "get the job done."

Skip served 23 months before his return to the U.S.

Returning home was disappointing. Lack of respect, being spat on and being called "baby killers" by the general public was debilitating. Family who didn't understand or want to talk about his life-saving endeavors or good work "in country" made it more difficult to cope with returning to the U.S. This all led to depression for him.

He was a young man when he returned home and for the rest of his life, Skip will have to deal with the Vietnam memories.

Many nurses had the same experience. The diagnosis of PTSD was prevalent for returning soldiers. It is real and devastating for most who serve in a war.

PTSD can lead to alcohol abuse, drugs and uncontrolled anger. It has now been determined that suicide is the leading cause of Vietnam veterans' deaths.

The U.S. now accepts Vietnam vets for their service. They have been given a memorial wall and some benefits for what they endured, although not enough. No amount of recognition will heal the scarred lives or the unending anguish of a Vietnam veteran.

Past Legion Commander Receives DAR Award

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Long-time Citrus Heights resident, Paul Reyes, junior past commander of the Citrus Heights American Legion Post 637 and a Marine veteran of the Vietnam War, has been honored by the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) General John A. Sutter Chapter with its 2024 annual Community Service Award.

The award was presented to Reyes by Celeste Cox, DAR chapter regent, at its May 17 meeting at the Sylvan Community Center, 7521 Community Drive, Citrus Heights.

Five new Daughters of the American Revolution chapter members were also installed at the Mother’s Day themed general membership meeting: Alison Guernesny, Cari Schrager, Joanmarie Rose, Rebecca Adams and LeAnn Dickenson. Schrager and Dickenson received their welcoming gifts in person from Celeste Cox, Daughters of the American Revolution Chapter regent.

Cox said that the Daughters of the American Revolution’s annual Community Service Award recognizes individuals who demonstrate exemplary volunteer service to the community, in sharing their time, talent and treasure with others.

In her citation, Cox provided multiple examples of how Reyes continues to actively make a difference in the community in many meaningful ways.

Reyes, a Citrus Heights resident since 1991, is a retired Marine gunnery sergeant and a two-tour Vietnam veteran from 1969 to 1971.

He graciously thanked the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the honor given him, speaking humbly about how his personal belief that helping others has never been about recognition but is “the right thing to do.”

“I’m also grateful for so many wonderful people in the community whom I count on for their continued friendship and support who help make a difference,” Reyes said.

Reyes and fellow Legion Post members have led the city’s annual Memorial Day observance held at Sylvan Cemetery and organized its annual “Battle of the Bands and BBQ” that raises money for veterans helping their fellow veterans.

In 2023, Reyes spearheaded bringing the mobile Vietnam Veterans Memorial “Wall That Heals” to Citrus Heights, which was temporarily erected at Rusch Park.

He also serves on the board of the Citrus Heights Veterans Memorial Project, a nonprofit veteran’s organization that now plans to construct the first permanent 80 percent-replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall on the premises of Calvary Cemetery. The replica of the original wall located in Washington, DC, will be constructed of India Black granite and the names will be engraved, not etched, just as they are on the wall in Washington, D.C.

“This project is not for me, not for my Legon Post but rather for the 58,281 whose names are on that Wall who sacrificed it all,” Reyes told Daughters of the American Revolution members.

Reyes said he’s hopeful that construction (of the memorial) can begin soon and appreciates the generous donations from the public to make the project a reality.

The Citrus Heights Vietnam Memorial Project at CHVMP.org is responsible for raising funds for construction and for an endowment for the memorial’s future maintenance. The anticipated construction costs are estimated to exceed $3.5 million, according to the City of Citrus Heights.

The General John A. Sutter Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (NSDAR or DAR), a nonprofit, nonpolitical organization, meets at the Sylvan Community Center, 7521 Community Drive in Citrus Heights.

Women who are 18 years of age and older and descended from a parent who aided in achieving American independence between April 19, 1775, and Nov. 26, 1783, can apply for Daughters of the American Revolution membership.

supply, water treatment and solid waste systems, public buildings, parks and other structures and facilities essential for our citizens.”

General Services Director Regina Cave accepted the proclamation.

“Our team takes a lot of pride in the services they provide to this wonderful community on a daily basis,” said Cave. “They are very dedicated, very hardworking.”

Councilmember Tim Schaefer thanked the “amazing” general services department for their hard work. Mayor Jayna Karpinski-Costa said Cave is a wonderful leader for the team, which handles so many essential services for the city.

May 11 through 17 is National Police Week, and May 15 is Peace Officer Memorial Day, which Councilmember Schaefer said recognizes officers “who have lost their lives in the line of duty and for the safety and protection of others.”

Schaefer read the proclamation, stating that law enforcement officers safeguard “the rights and freedoms, which are guaranteed by the constitution, in protecting the lives and property of our citizens.”

As members of this “noble profession,” police officers “have tremendous responsibilities, perilous challenges and a great importance to American society,” Schaefer read. He said their work changes lives in many ways by enhancing the security and wellbeing of Citrus Heights citizens.

Special Operations Lt. William Dunning accepted the proclamation on behalf of the Citrus Heights Police Department (CHPD). He thanked the city for coming together to “honor the courage, service and sacrifice of our law enforcement officers.”

“It is a time that we remember the brave men and women who chose to run toward danger while others ran away. To honor those who stood as guardians of peace, protectors of our neighborhoods, and champions of justice. Their service reminds us that freedom, safety and justice often come with a heavy price,” Dunning said. “May we continue our commitment to supporting our officers, building an even stronger relationship between law enforcement and our community, and always remember the brave souls who laid down their life for the safety of others.”

Vice-Mayor Lopez-Taff said that Citrus Heights Police Department officers are “top-notch. I just cannot thank you enough for doing what you do every day.”

Councilmember Schafer said he prays every day that each officer goes home safely to their families and that he deeply admires their willingness to put their lives on the line.

Mayor Karpinski-Costa said that Citrus Heights supports their police department and appreciates the risks they take every day.

During public comment, a written statement was submitted to express concerns about how the Auburn Boulevard beautification project would impact businesses, particularly Riebes Auto Parts, since a proposed center divide would impede the large freight deliveries it receives every day. The comment was forwarded to the staff to follow up with the business owner.

City Council then considered a resolution accepting the 2024 Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant (JAG) funding for the Citrus Heights Police Department in the amount of $21,318. Operations Commander Mike Wells said that these federal funds are used to augment public safety expenditures and the Citrus Heights Police Department will use the funding to purchase and replace outdated portable radios.

The resolution was approved 4-0, with Councilmember Kelsey Nelson absent.

The council then considered a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Sacramento Transportation Authority (STA) regarding coordination of the State Transportation Improvement Program (STIP) funding applications for Sacramento County.

General Services Director Cave explained that this Memorandum of Understanding was the result of seven years of efforts to influence the allocation of State Transportation Improvement Program funding, which has been awarded through the Sacramento Area Council of Governments (SACOG) as part of a competitive grant program.

Under the new Memorandum of Understanding, all jurisdictions within Sacramento County will be able to receive direct allocations in set amounts, in addition to the ability to apply for the competitive funding. Jurisdictions will also be able to loan their allocations to other areas that have shovel-ready projects, which will allow for flexibility while also maximizing the amount available for projects.

The council voted to approve the Memorandum of Understanding.

During City Manager Items, City Manager Ashley Feeney said that Citrus Heights is celebrating seven years as a designated Tree City.

Feeney also announced that the road resurfacing project is starting along Sunrise Boulevard from Madison Avenue to Greenback Avenue, which will take approximately six weeks. He said it will be mostly night work, so there should only be minimal traffic impacts during the day.

The next Citrus Heights City Council meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m. May 28. ★

Memorial Day: All Gave Some, Some Gave All

The American Legion Citrus Heights Post 637

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Memorial Day will be celebrated on May 26 this year. Memorial Day, not to be confused with Veterans Day, is a day of remembering the men and women who died while serving in the United States Armed Forces. Veterans Day on the other hand celebrates the service of all U. S. Military veterans and is on Nov. 11 each year.

Memorial Day, formerly known as Decoration Day, originated in 1868, after the end of the American Civil War, to commemorate the soldiers who died during that war. It was a time to decorate the graves of the fallen. The end of May seemed to be appropriate since many spring flowers are available. By the 20th century, Memorial Day had been extended to honor all Americans who have died in all wars in the past 249 years.

Every year, Sylvan Cemetery in Citrus Heights honors those who gave their lives in the defense of our county. We take time to salute the more than four million men and women who have died in military service defending our country since 1775.

This year, the Memorial Day service is being planned to be held May 26 at 11 a.m. at Sylvan Cemetery, 7401 Auburn Blvd.

As in years past, we are planning a Memorial Day ceremony at Sylvan Cemetery. However, we are not planning on doing the march through the cemetery. At 11 a.m., we will start the one-hour ceremony at the gazebo. The Harmony Express will be in attendance to sing some patriotic songs and the Citrus Heights Police Department will be there as an honor guard to post the colors. ★

Day in the City of Citrus Heights.

The city citation also recognized the occasion as an “opportunity for residents of Citrus Heights and surrounding communities to come together in celebration of health, mindfulness and inner peace through yoga, breathwork, music and cultural expression.”

The event was also described in the public citation as “reflecting the city’s commitment to promoting community wellness, diversity and engagement through meaningful cultural and recreational opportunities.”

Founded in 1981 by Sri Sri Ravi Shankar, the Art of Living Foundation is a humanitarian nonprofit organization operating in more than 155 countries. The foundation’s Happiness Program, with local centers in Folsom, Sacramento and Roseville, teaches rhythmic breathing exercises and deep meditation, along with guided yoga, to help reduce stress and heal the mind and body.

Yoga Fest led off with an introductory gentle yoga session suitable for all levels to ground the body.

A session of breathwork and meditation then followed, inviting attendees to center their minds and calm their senses through examples of powerful guided breathwork and deep meditation techniques.

Hearts quickly got pumping at sunset with a series of traditional Surya Namaskars, 12 yoga poses performed in a flowing sequence, which are synchronized with the breath.

Then it was time to move and feel the rhythm and flow where yoga meets expressive dance in a vibrant celebration of movement.

Yoga Fest concluded with an hour-long sunset music and sound healing journey from 7 to 8 p.m. sending off participants with soothing vibrations to fully uplift the spirit.

Karpinski-Costa told participants that Citrus Heights Yoga Fest, funded in part by a city grant, is expected to return again next year.

Remembering the 1973 Roseville Bomb Explosion

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Can you remember where you were when the bombs went off?

Citrus Heights Historical Society President Larry Fritz during a May 1 presentation somberly took some 70 attendees at a Citrus Heights City Hall conference room back to 8:03 a.m. Saturday April 28, 1973. On that fateful day, 21 Department of Defense (DOD) boxcars loaded with some 7,000 bombs suddenly exploded on a Southern Pacific Yard track in Roseville.

The 70-plus audience members at the May 1 presentation at Citrus Heights City Hall recalled the day quite vividly. Many who were wounded by flying glass were childhood witnesses to the event and evacuated their homes with their families.

The freight train, carrying munitions to the former Concord Naval Weapons Station, hurled chunks of shrapnel high into the sky, causing extensive property damage and injuries to 350 people.

When the explosions were over, the small town of Antelope, right across the tracks from the train yard in Roseville, which would later become a bustling city, was leveled, Fritz said.

The cause of the explosions has never been officially determined, Fritz said.

Fritz, a 1973 graduate of San Juan High School, had just turned 18 years old when the explosions at the Roseville Railyards happened. He still has a copy of the original accident investigation report.

Continuing for hours, the massive explosions sent huge plumes of smoke rising into the air, destroyed buildings, mangled rail sections and left huge craters in the ground. Windows were shattered some three to four miles away.

About 5,500 structures were damaged in varying degrees, including a newly-opened fire station in Antelope. No deaths were reported. Many of the reported injuries were due to broken glass as windows blew out from the blasts, residents recalled.

In the explosion’s aftermath, a helicopter inspection of the railyard showed a mass of craters and twisted debris.

Fritz acknowledged the courage of the many first responders who responded to the disaster and the members of the original Citrus Heights Fire Department that later merged with Sacramento Metro Fire when the city was incorporated.

In one of the slides which Fritz presented, he pointed to and recognized a “Lady in White” wearing white coveralls among first responders on the scene.

The “Ladies in White” provided volunteer emergency-response services throughout the greater Citrus Heights area from 1951 to 1986, pioneering the concept of medical response teams working in conjunction with local fire departments.

In all, about 30,000 people were soon evacuated from the nearby towns of Antelope, Roseville and Citrus Heights, Fritz said.

Nine emergency-service agencies, local, state and federal; responded to the explosions.

The California Army National Guard also maintained a heavy presence within a two-mile radius of the explosions, which extended to Sylvan Corners.

Paul Lucky, then 24, and three months into his career as a Citrus Heights Fire Department firefighter, later wrote an account of his experience that day for his family, “The Day the Trains Stood Still.”

Lucky was assigned to Citrus Heights Fire Station Three, which was three miles away from the sudden explosion. The blast was so loud and strong that it knocked him off his feet. Still wearing his turnout gear, Lucky clung to the back of the fire truck, Engine Nine, which sped to the scene.

“A large piece of a boxcar was stuck in a railroad signal pole about 15 feet up the pole. The piece of metal was about 10 or so feet long, and a foot or so wide, and about an inch thick,”

Lucky wrote. “My jaw dropped, if this explosion is throwing that size and weight of metal around with enough force to stab a telephone pole, I wondered just what I was doing there.”

After the presentation, resident Jeffery Flores held two scarred rings which typically attach to a bomb nose cone which he found and kept that day.

Flores was a young boy at the time, living with his 12 siblings. Injured by flying glass inside his family home which was heavily damaged, Flores and his family soon became evacuees.

Flores vividly recalled the blasts.

“We started seeing rolls of fire going up, then it formed a mushroom,” Flores said. “Then here comes the blast. Boom! Then the sound was terrible; it blew our eardrums out. That wasn’t the worst of it; the scrap metal started coming down, bam, bam, bam, everywhere.”

Citrus Heights resident Bobbie Gibson, then living on Vernon Way in the Country Club Center area in Sacramento County, was finishing classes at Sacramento State University for a teaching credential when the explosions started. She welcomed a friend from Antelope who stayed with her for three days while being evacuated.

“So many of us wanted to help and opened our homes to those in Antelope who needed a place to stay,” Gibson said. “I was glad to do so.”

In the explosion’s aftermath, U.S. Army Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) personnel recovered as much of the shrapnel and unexploded bombs strewn over the disaster area as possible.

Many of the bombs were scattered half a mile from the explosion site. Two were found embedded in a street one and a half miles away.

“A lot of them were just thrown free and without exploding. So I’m sure they cleaned up as many as they could. But, you know, there were so many of them; they didn’t catch them all,” Fritz said in an earlier interview.

The Roseville rail yard, operated then by Southern Pacific Railroad before its merger with the Union Pacific Railroad, was back in operation three days after the initial incident, resuming regular freight traffic.

Southern Pacific eventually paid out $23 million (in 1973 dollars) for the damages. Of the 32 buildings in the town of Antelope that were closest to the blasts, 12 were slightly damaged, 11 received heavy damage and nine were completely destroyed, which included the Citrus Heights Fire Station Six in Antelope.

In October 1997, eight more unexploded bombs were discovered by Union Pacific crews who were grading land at the rail yard north of Sacramento in preparation for new track construction.

Another unexploded bomb was found in the Union Pacific railyard in Roseville in December 2024.

It’s possible that other unexploded bombs or bomb fragments might still be found, according to Fritz.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
DOROTHY ANN HEPBURN
CASE NO. 25PR001405

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Dorothy Ann Hepburn.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Mariann Harris and Chris Andrews, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Mariann Harris be appointed as personal representative(s) to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows May 28, 2025, 1:30 p.m. in Dept 129; Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

CITY OF CITRUS HEIGHTS
NOTICE OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO. 2025-002

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF CITRUS HEIGHTS
AMENDING CITRUS HEIGHTS MUNICIPAL CODE CHAPTER 22 – BUSINESSES, ARTICLE IV. - SHORT-TERM RENTAL BUSINESS LICENSE, SECTION 22-453

The foregoing is a summary of an ordinance proposed to be adopted by the City Council of the City of Citrus Heights at its meeting of May 28, 2025.

The City desires to correct a typographical error recently discovered in a section of the Citrus Heights Municipal Code. Short-term rentals are regulated by two sections of the code: Section 106 (Zoning) and Section 22 (Business License). The eligibility date in Section 22 was incorrectly listed as January 1, 2021, which conflicts with Section 106, which references January 1, 2020. The amendment is being made to correct this discrepancy, updating Section 22-453 to reflect the correct date of January 1, 2020, for consistency. This is strictly an administrative amendment to correct a date, no other amendments are being proposed.

The full text of the proposed ordinance is available in the City Clerk's Office, 6360 Fountain Square Drive, Citrus Heights, CA 95621, (916) 727-4704 or www.citrusheights.net.

Dave Ramsey Says An Ounce of Prevention

Dear Dave,

How much money do you recommend budgeting or setting aside for maintenance and repairs to your home, especially if it's an older home? Our house is in pretty good shape, but you never know when something might go wrong, or how often different things will need to be addressed at this point.

– Brent

Dear Brent,

I love that you're wanting to plan ahead. Some home repairs aren't very expensive, but others can take a huge chunk out of your bank account. Whether you directly budget for things like this, or set up a sinking fund for home maintenance, it's always a good idea to be financially prepared. You've got to protect your home.

Honestly, I don't really have a specific formula to determine this sort of thing. But I'd make sure I always look at it from a realistic point of view. For starters, you might start with a peek at your checkbook over the last few years to see what you've spent on maintenance and repair issues. If you've had a new roof put on in the last few years, that probably won't be an issue for a good, long while. But if it's starting to look worn, that'll be a big expense you'll want to figure into your savings plan.

Taking care of a home is kind of like taking care of a car. A lot will depend on the age and overall condition of the house. If you're driving an older model car, you'd expect to put more money into it over time, right? It's the same principle with houses. The older the structure, the greater the likelihood you're going to have things go wrong. And that, of course, means pumping money into it. A home is the biggest single investment most people make in a lifetime. So, I'd also recommend giving your house a good going over, inside and out, every six months or so. Preventative steps like this will go a long way toward assessing what may be needed now and what might pop up in the future.

Great question!

surface for seven seconds and if it's too hot for you, it's too hot for them.

Provide shade and cool spaces if your pet is outdoors and make sure they have plenty of shade and cool drinking water. Indoors, use fans or keep them in an air-conditioned room to help them stay comfortable. A cooling mat or damp towel on the floor can also help pets beat the heat.

Use pet-safe sunscreen for pets with light-colored fur or exposed skin, especially on the nose and ears, as they can get sunburned. Use a veterinarian-approved pet-safe sunscreen to protect these sensitive areas, especially if they spend time outdoors.

Not all pets are natural swimmers. Always supervise pets around pools or open water and consider using a pet life jacket. Avoid strong currents and cold water, which can cause shock or panic.

Know the signs of heatstroke by recognizing symptoms early, which can save your pet's life. Symptoms include excessive panting or drooling, glazed eyes, a rapid heartbeat, vomiting, lethargy and collapse. If you suspect heatstroke, move your pet to a shaded or cool area immediately and seek emergency veterinary care. Gradual cooling is best; use a damp towel or gently mist them with water while you wait for help.

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 7.875%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal or property evaluation. This cost will be disclosed in your commitment letter and paid at loan closing. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $525 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. State Controller Cohen Responds to May Budget Revision

California State Controller’s Office News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On May 14, Controller Malia M. Cohen issued the following statement on Governor Gavin Newsom’s May Revision:

“When I released my April Cash Report on Friday, I cautioned that although current revenues are exceeding projections and the state has enough reserves to cover expenses this fiscal year, budget forecasts show significant deficits in the years ahead. Addressing these shortfalls will require the governor and legislature to establish clear spending priorities in this budget and upcoming budget cycles.

As the state’s chief fiscal officer, with a clear view of what comes in and out of California’s checking, savings and credit accounts, I know, just like every Californian does, that we must be extremely cautious about new commitments. Proposals for long-term funding of new programs and services must be weighed carefully. The financial uncertainty ahead is too great to make promises we may not be able to keep.

Like all Californians who check their bank accounts to decide whether they can afford gas, groceries, or the commute to work, I see you, and I understand those daily decisions. That’s why I urge all of us to be fiscally prudent. With growing uncertainty around federal funding and other state revenue sources, we must prepare for the possibility of tougher financial times ahead.

I look forward to working with the governor and all members of the legislature to ensure that we have the appropriate cash and reserves to get us through this financially turbulent time so that we can continue to move California forward so that families, individuals, vulnerable populations and businesses can continue to thrive.”

Chief Fiscal Officer of California Controller Cohen independently oversees and manages California’s financial resources with integrity and transparency to build trust. The controller is responsible for accountability and disbursement of the state’s financial resources. Newsom Continues Freefall in 2028 Presidential Candidate Polls

Latest polls give Newsom only 5% support

By Evan Symon, California Globe

Governor Gavin Newsom continued to fall in nationwide 2020 Presidential candidate polling last week, with the most recent Echelon poll giving him only 5% of the vote.

Originally the favorite candidate for the 2028 Presidential Election, Newsom has dramatically fallen in polls in the ensuing months. Issues over Newsom’s response to the January wildfires in L.A., making Democrats angry over the reversal of positions like transgender athletes, federal reversals of pet state projects, and many more have cratered support since the beginning of the year. In January he was second only to Harris. Now he sits at a distant fifth with only 5% support.

Currently, the former Vice President sits at 28% support, 13 points ahead of the next closest candidate, former Secretary of Transportation Pete Buttigieg. Without Harris in the race, Newsom jumps up to third in polling, but only climbs up to 10 percent, well behind Buttigieg and Senator Cory Booker (D-NJ).

And the latest Echelon poll, which was released on Monday isn’t rosy for him either. Harris leads with 32%, followed by Buttigieg with 10%, Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-NY) with 8% and Booker with 6%. Newsom is tied for fifth with 5%, along with Governor Tim Walz (D-MN) and Governor JB Pritzker (D-IL). By contrast, for the GOP side of the poll, Vice President JD Vance sits at 44%, with former South Carolina Governor garnering 8% and Florida Governor Ron DeSantis leveling at 7%.

While polling this early is by no means an indicator who the candidate will be, they do give a good baseline on how Americans, and especially people within their respective parties feel about them. Harris is high right now coming off the 2024 election and constant media attention over speculation that she might run for Governor in 2026. Buttigieg has the same air of mystery around his political future after declining to not run for the Senate in Michigan. Booker has been very outspoken against Trump policies, and thus has seen his star rise amongst Dems since Trump was inaugurated. AOC has been AOC. Newsom though has seemingly done everything possible to sabotage himself this early on, and thus giving other candidates more ammunition against him should he bounce back up.

This is by no means the end for Newsom. He has plenty of time to get back up. If Harris opts to be Governor instead and a few other candidates fall into a tailspin, Newsom could be right back up there. What happens in the 2026 midterms could also influence what Newsom does, or what happens to the other candidates.

But right now, viewing it all at a metric standpoint, Newsom needs to shake things up fast if he wants to get the Democratic slot in 2028. He is rapidly running out of things to tout in California. His electric car policies are swiftly fading, homelessness he is currently taking more drastic measures on, and that’s not even counting all things from his past that would come up in a debate. All candidates would have to likely defend what they did during the COVID pandemic, and as soon as someone mentions the French Laundry incident, Newsom will have to be on the defensive.

There are numerous reasons why Newsom is down right now. And even though primaries are two and a half years away, polling shows that he needs to start doing all he can now. It kind of explains that new homeless ordinance. ★

Rep. Kiley Responds to Medicaid for Illegal Immigrants Proposal

U.S. Rep. Kevin Kiley News Release

WASHINGTON (MPG) - Rep. Kevin Kiley (R-CA), author of the No Medicaid for Illegal Immigrants Act, responded to the Energy & Commerce Committee’s decision to include a provision in the budget reconciliation text reducing the Affordable Care Act (ACA) Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) for states that provide Medicaid to illegal immigrants.

“I have spent the last several months meeting with healthcare providers throughout my district, along with nonprofits, with patient advocates, and many other stakeholders. All of these groups have conveyed to me the importance of protecting Medi-Cal. That is why I have opposed cutting benefits for eligible beneficiaries. But now, thanks to Governor Newsom and the Legislature’s reckless actions, we could lose billions in federal funding, harming the very vulnerable populations I have fought to protect,” Rep. Kiley said.

Kiley also responded to Governor Newsom’s recent proposal to freeze his policy of providing free Medi-Cal to income-eligible undocumented immigrants.

“Gov. Newsom is ending his reckless policy of giving free Medi-Cal to undocumented immigrants. The Governor is finally acknowledging what has long been obvious: this policy is misguided, unsustainable, and should never have been enacted. However, Gov. Newsom has only partially repealed his disastrous policy. It needs to be reversed entirely, or Californians will continue to spend billions on coverage for illegal immigrants and our state will lose an even larger amount in federal Medicaid funding,” Rep. Kiley said. ★

Revised State Budget Draws Fire and Praise from Business Leaders

California Business Roundtable News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On May 14, California Business Roundtable President Rob Lapsley gave a statement in response to Governor Gavin Newsom’s revision to the May budget:

“In 2021, Governor Newsom stood before Californians announcing a $75 billion budget surplus. Four years later, the state faces a $12 billion deficit. The governor attributes this downturn to the so-called ‘Trump Slump,’ but the reality is that the state’s spending problem was created in California and must be solved in California. In his revised May budget proposal, the governor has simply shifted spending. Proposed cuts to the state’s general fund are nearly equal to increased spending in the state’s special funds. This accounting maneuver does nothing to solve the underlying deficit.

We support the governor in his initial efforts to renew market-based climate programs like cap-and-trade while the business community works with the legislature on the details of the reauthorization. We also believe that it is critically important to fund the implementation of Proposition 36 in order to protect communities and businesses.

Importantly, the governor has not proposed new taxes as Californians struggle with the highest cost of living in the country. It is critically important for the governor and the legislature to pass policies that stimulate private sector investment and job creation to ensure the State of California can generate the revenues needed to fund all priority programs and ensure long-term economic stability.”

Established in 1976, California Business Roundtable has brought together top executives from California’s largest companies, providing a platform for collaboration and strategic advocacy on issues critical to the state’s economic health. ★

Gallagher Condemns Newsom’s Budget

Assembly of Republicans News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Assembly Republican Leader James Gallagher (East Nicolaus) responded on May 14 to Governor Gavin Newsom’s May Revision of the 2025 to 2026 state budget. California is now facing a $12 billion deficit, and instead of taking responsibility, Newsom opened his press conference by blaming President Donald Trump.

“Newsom’s finger-pointing on the budget shortfall is the biggest load of crap I’ve ever seen from a politician, and he shovels out a lot of it,” said Gallagher.

“We’re in this mess because of his reckless spending, false promises, and failed leadership... Newsom needs to stop blaming everyone else and own up like a man.”

“He promised free healthcare to illegal immigrants. California can’t afford it, so he’s backpedaling, but still charging taxpayers billions for it over the next year. Meanwhile, our citizens are struggling with the highest costs in a generation, failing infrastructure and underperforming schools.”

Under Governor Newsom, state spending has grown by tens of billions of dollars while outcomes in public safety, education, and affordability have declined. Instead of correcting course, the May revision relies on accounting tricks, reserve raids and delayed payments, without fixing the underlying problems.

Californians are paying more and getting less, and this budget fails to change that. The answer isn’t gimmicks or blame games. It’s living within our means and putting taxpayers first.

Assembly Republican Leader James Gallagher represents California’s 3rd Assembly District, which includes Butte, Glenn, Sutter, Tehama and Yuba counties, and parts of Placer County. ★

Newsom Blames California’s Worsening State Budget Outlook on Trump’s Tariffs

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

As Governor Gavin Newsom unveiled a revised 2025 to 2026 budget on May 14, he blamed a “Trump slump” from President Donald Trump’s tariffs and other economic moves as the major factor in increasing the state’s deficit by another $12 billion.

“California is under assault,” Newsom told reporters at a budget briefing, declaring that Trump’s actions had created “a climate of deep uncertainty.”

The initial budget Newsom proposed in January already had at least an $11 billion gap between income and outgo that he filled with reserves, loans, deferrals, raids on special funds and accounting maneuvers.

State tax receipts were running ahead of expectations during the early part of the year, but after Trump imposed tariffs on imported goods, saying it would spur domestic production, Newsom and his budget staff revised revenue estimates downward, particularly personal income taxes.

“Washington’s imposition of tariffs has driven a downgrade in both the economic and revenue forecasts,” the revised budget declares. “Combined with increased expenditure growth above the governor’s (January) budget, most notably in Medi-Cal, the state must now close an estimated shortfall of $12 billion to balance the budget and provide for a prudent discretionary reserve. This will require difficult but necessary decisions to reduce ongoing expenditure growth to maintain budget resilience and stability for critical state programs.”

The revised budget maintains overall spending at virtually the same level of the January version, $322 billion, but drops general fund expenditures by $2 billion to $226 billion.

As noted, the state also experienced a multibillion-dollar spike in costs for Medi-Cal, the state’s health care system for the poor, which contributed to the $12 billion deficit estimate. Newsom proposed a series of maneuvers to close the new deficit, primarily reductions in Medi-Cal, including a freeze on adult enrollments and $100 per month premiums for Medi-Cal enrollees.

By singling out Medi-Cal as a major driver of state spending and urging reductions, Newsom was doing a 180-degree political pirouette from a year ago, when he was boasting about achieving nearly 100% medical care coverage for Californians with the addition of thousands of undocumented immigrants to the programs rolls.

The latest expansion of California’s chronic budget gap, what fiscal experts deem a “structural deficit,” makes it virtually certain that Newsom’s governorship will end 19 months hence with the state’s finances still unbalanced. The governor’s own budget staff and the Legislature’s nonpartisan budget advisor, Gabe Petek, have both projected multibillion-dollar deficits well into the future. It doesn’t appear that a sudden economic boom will provide fiscal salvation.

The revised budget projects that California’s economy faces a sluggish future, with little overall job growth and unemployment rates, which are now among the nation’s highest, virtually unchanged. Accordingly, state revenues are projected to increase slowly.

The forecasts don’t assume that the national economy will drift into recession, as some economists are predicting due to Trump’s tariffs. If one occurred, it would depress revenues even more.

The budget also does not assess the potential reductions in federal aid to states, particularly in health care, that Trump and Republicans in Congress have proposed. Medi-Cal and other social and medical programs are targets in both Washington and Sacramento because they are among the largest items in both federal and state budgets.

As services are trimmed to close budget gaps, advocates for the poor, public employee labor unions and progressive groups are increasing pressure for tax increases to balance the state’s books.

Newsom has resisted those calls, but if the projected multi-year deficits become reality, the tax increase drumbeat will grow louder. He can and probably will continue to shun tax increases but if he does, the pressure will hit his successor, whom ever that is, immediately upon inauguration.

Dan Walters is one of the most decorated and widely syndicated columnists in California history, authoring a column four times a week that offers his view and analysis of the state’s political, economic, social and demographic trends. ★

Pablo Cruise members got their first taste of stardom when their first hit, the R&B

"It was unbelievable, really. Because bands hadn't been playing the casinos," said Lerios. "It was an amazing weekend, just so much fun and so much energy with these sold-out shows."

“We had not played, not even

Pablo Cruise has played frequently in Northern California, but May 31 will be the first time that the band performs at the Hard Rock Casino Live venue, 3317 Forty Mile Road, Wheatland. Gates will open at 6 p.m. and the opening act at 7 p.m. will be OutOfTheBlue. Show tickets range from $30 to $60 and can be bought at pablocruise.com/shows or at the box office located on the north side of the casino open on show days from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. ★
