Food Bank Named Nonprofit of the Year

Elk Grove Food Bank Services Director Marie Jachino attended the luncheon May 21 at the Capitol to receive this recognition. Jachino was accompanied by Elk Grove Food Bank Services Board Chairperson Dr. Suman Singha and community outreach manager Valerie Erwin.

"To be honored as California Nonprofit of the Year by Assemblymember Stephanie Nguyen is humbling and a great source of pride. This award validates the mission and passion of everyone involved in the organization," said Jachino. "It reflects the hard work and dedication of staff, volunteers and our community of supporters who make our work possible."

Although running a food bank requires time, determination, passion and commitment, there is no greater privilege than giving back to others in the community, according to Jachino.

"It is demanding but deeply rewarding, knowing it makes a crucial difference in the lives of so many, and seeing the smiles on the faces of those who receive assistance. I have been fortunate to have a fulfilling career doing what I love," Jachino said.

According to the California Association of Nonprofits, this is the 10th anniversary of its California Nonprofit of the Year program, which intends to help increase awareness about the critical role nonprofit organizations play in communities throughout the state.

The recognition of Non-Profit of the Year highlights the importance of the work that Elk Grove Bank Food Services does to serve those who are food insecure. Jachino said the food bank has been a source of long-term support in the community that is seeing more people come for their services than ever.

"As we navigate the challenges ahead, we will continue addressing basic human needs. We've been an unwavering source of support in the community for the last 50 years," said Jachino.

"We have a deep commitment to continue providing more than just food; it's about making a positive impact on the lives of those most vulnerable, and a 'serving of hope.'" ★

Taking Faith for a Pivotal Spin

Imagine taking a virtual plane ride today and meeting me in San Francisco. I pick you up outside the terminal and drive you 30 minutes south to Moffett Federal Airfield, formally known as Moffett Navy Air Station. I flash my military ID and we slide easily past the Smokey-Bear-hatted federal guards. Just a quarter mile ahead, we pull curbside and walk across the lawn to the Moffett Chapel. In 2014, the chapel was restored to its original Spanish Colonial Mission church design found throughout California

I'm comfortable here. This is where, in 1994, I assumed my first Air Force active duty chaplain assignment. Three USAF chaplains replaced the Navy chaplains when their branch vacated the base, or in naval terms, "Secured the watch."

Inside, we take a breathless pause before walls of stained-glass windows.

But I nudge you forward into an alcove or recessed altar space. Oddly, I ask you to push on the cubby walls.

You're astonished that it moves.

With my assistance, we rotate what seems like a jumbo version of the lazy Susan contained in your kitchen cabinet.

Suddenly, we're standing in a Catholic church adorned by crucifixes and saint statues.

I push again, and we share a Jewish altar with the Torah.

You say, "This is nice chaplain, but I'm undecided about faith. I suppose I'm spiritual, but not religious."

"No problem," I say. "Give that wall another push."

You do and are relieved to find yourself in neutral space. Nothing on the walls. No religion here.

Why have I brought you for a ride on the "Lazy" Altar?

To illustrate of how one might make a choice for faith.

No, it's not as simple as gyrating the Wheel of Fortune or spinning the theological bottle to determine where your doctrinal affections will lie.

You might begin the journey on one of the traditional altars of our fathers. Or your spin might take you onto an altar aside your spouse. And it's also legitimately OK to spin faith into something that represents our own journey. Or maybe you don't see faith has having finite definitions, so we choose to blend the moving altars.

But whatever you choose, deciding on faith is a serious business that requires us to become comfortable with the tensions that faith presents.

For instance, how does one explain the love of God in the midst of so much tragedy? Can you deal with the discrepancies of faith and the hypocrites that inhabit all faiths and philosophies? Can we repent of the sins of organized religions while at the same time reinforcing the humanitarian good they do?

I believe it's possible to keep the faith of our parents, but we can change out the theological accessories. For me, I follow the protestant faith of my father, but my worship isn't confined to a hymnal or a pew. Moreover, it means, that I accept his faith, but reject the bigotry I've seen sometimes.

For you, it might mean keeping your faith in the Crucified Christ displayed on the crucifix, but soundly rejecting the sins of the Fathers. It might involve rebuilding a place of worship that holds all women in high regard and safely shelters the children.

And if you are rotating the altar in search of generic worship, it doesn't mean that your new faith has to be cold, politically correct, and without feeling and humanity. It might involve a move toward inclusion of the conservative right side of the church aisle.

Finally, if your faith journey ever takes flight toward the San Francisco Bay Area, stop by Moffett Field Chapel and ask the "Smoky Hats" if they will let you take your faith for a spin.

Sacramento's Souper History

New Campbell's Canning Exhibit is 'Mmm, Mmm, Good!'

By Kristina Rogers

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On May 23, the line outside the Sacramento History Museum appeared more like a family reunion than a grand opening. The Campbell's Soup Sacramento exhibit, which spans its full history from 1947 to 2013, will be on display through Sept. 1.

Several generations of Sacramento's Campbell Soup Company Plant workers attended to see their story reflected in the new exhibit, "Sacramento In a Can."

Roy Puthuff and Jim Meeter were among the 175 coworkers at the exhibit's opening who exchanged hugs and hearty handshakes.

Puthuff was a facilities manager for 31 years. Meeter began sweeping floors in 1967 and moved up to warehouse manager until leaving in 2013.

"You get to see people you haven't seen in a while," Meeter said. "It brings back old memories. We had tournaments like golfing, fishing and barbecues. I miss it."

The Sacramento Campbell Soup Company Plant was a family affair for Cindy and Bill Fuentes. Cindy Fuentes handled the filler, soup lids and quality inspection. Bill Fuentes was trained to do whatever was needed, including maintenance, shipping and pest control. Both had parents and siblings working alongside them for more than 30 years.

When the Sacramento History Museum doors opened May 23, the boisterous energy spilled into the rooms. Former employees hugged family and friends and looked at displays and videos.

The crowd's excitement had Richard Acala beaming. Acala, who kicked-started the exhibit, worked at Campbell's for 20 years (his last job was in the Prego Department).

Acala explained how he got the idea for an exhibit.

"I posted things on Facebook and got a lot of responses from the employees," Acala said. "I thought we should honor our employees. After the plant closed in 2013 and then was knocked down, everyone felt lost."

A year and a half ago, Acala said, he reached out to Delta Pick Mello, Sacramento History Museum executive director and CEO. Pick Mello immediately contacted Mary Ellen Burns, a local historian and author, to do the research and write the stories, according to Acala.

Acala got to work, too. "Former employees had meetings, I sent out fliers and we asked for help," Acala said. "I contacted Campbell's Corporate, who donated and matched my contribution. We made it happen."

Employees donated their personal Campbell's memorabilia, of which Acala said, "Every item is very sentimental and will be returned."

Pick Mello explained the area's canning history.

"It was essential to Sacramento's growth in the 1900s. We talk about being a railroad town and capital city, but our incredible farmland makes us vital to the agricultural world as well. Post-WWII, Campbell's found Sacramento to be a great locale."

Neighborhoods sprouted around the plant and small businesses developed at Franklin Boulevard.

"You find out almost everyone from that area is somehow related to others in the canning business,"

Larry Bobiles and Amelia Bobiles were original "Campbell's Kids" growing up with both parents working at the Sacramento Campbell Soup Company Plant. Photo by Kristina Rogers

Pick Mello said. "They had a seasonal or summer job or their grandparents worked in canning."

Employees and children also benefited from the Campbell's culture. Siblings Larry Bobiles and Amelia Bobiles were original "Campbell's Kids," Larry Bobiles said.

"Our mom worked the day shift and dad was on graveyard shift, and that's how they raised us," Larry Bobiles said.

Amelia Bobiles reminisced about the family events hosted by the plant: "We attended Christmas parties at the Memorial Auditorium. It was a big show with Santa and each kid got a gift."

As fun as the company could be, the Bobiles children were expected to aim higher.

"My parents woke us up one morning and told us to put on our 'crummy clothes' and took us out picking in the Woodland tomato fields," Amelia

Bobiles said. "We came home and our dad asked us, 'Do you want to pick tomatoes the rest of your life or go to college?'"

They chose college and Campbell's helped with that, too. Amelia Bobiles earned a Campbell's scholarship, paying for all four years at University of California, Davis in 1969.

"I have to say, if it weren't for that scholarship, then going to UC Davis and meeting my husband..." Amelia Bobiles said. "I owe Campbell's Soup my entire life!"

Like the Bobiles' Filipino parents, many immigrants worked at the Sacramento Campbell Soup Company Plant. The plant had signs in multiple languages, including Portuguese, Italian and Japanese.

Jim Lang, who began working at Sacramento Campbell Soup Company Plant when it opened, was sitting with his former coworker and friend, Mitts Yamamoto, who will be 100 years old in February. They both continue to stay in touch and meet for dinner.

Lang commented about the exhibit: "They did a beautiful job. Campbell's hired so many people; they really helped Sacramento."

During the May 23 exhibit opening, Acala chatted with old friends over a buffet that included cups of tomato soup and small grilled cheese sandwiches, classic Campbell's comfort food that many Sacramento children and adults relished.

"It is amazing when somebody looks at something and says, 'Oh, that's my family; that's my story. I remember that,'" Pick Mello said. "To see them come to see their story in a museum is just a joy to me."

The exhibit is on two floors at the Sacramento History Museum, 101 I St. Museum hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Admission prices are free for Sacramento History Museum members and children up to age 5; $6 for youth ages 6 to 17; and $12 for anyone 18 and over.

Nguyen's Bill to Restore Judicial Discretion Passes Assembly

Assemblymember Stephanie Nguyen News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On May 19, the California State Assembly passed Assembly Bill 46 (AB 46), authored by Assemblymember Stephanie Nguyen (D-Elk Grove), which gives judges the discretion to consider public safety when reviewing mental health diversion requests. The bill now moves to the State Senate.

Under existing law, courts are often required to grant diversion if clinical criteria are met, even when the defendant may pose a serious risk to others. Assembly Bill 46 allows judges to consider factors such as the treatment plan, criminal history and seriousness of the offense before deciding whether to grant diversion.

“I applaud the California Assembly for passing AB 46, which is a critical step forward in protecting public safety and ensuring accountability for violent offenders. I commend Assemblymember Stephanie Nguyen and Speaker Rivas for their commitment to making our justice system both fair and responsible,” said county District Attorney Thien Ho.

“Today’s vote shows that we can support mental health treatment without overlooking legitimate safety concerns,” said Nguyen. “This bill restores balance by giving courts the flexibility to look at the full context of a case.”

Assembly Bill 46 does not remove access to treatment or exclude any diagnoses. It ensures courts have the authority to weigh public safety concerns on a case-by-case basis.

The bill is supported by public safety advocates and victims’ rights organizations and now heads to the Senate for further consideration.

Keeping Our Trails Safe on Wheels, Horseback

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County Regional Parks staff reminds residents and visitors that enjoying the county’s trails safely and respectfully is a shared responsibility.

Whether you’re walking, biking, running or riding horseback, three key groups work behind the scenes, and on the trails, to keep everyone safe and informed.

Sacramento County Regional Parks Rangers serve as the lead law enforcement agency for the trail system. Rangers patrol the American River Parkway, Dry Creek Parkway and other regional parks, enforce trail regulations, respond to emergencies and ensure the safety of all trail users.

Joining the Rangers are two volunteer organizations that help serve as the eyes and ears of the community: the American River Bike Patrol and the American River Equestrian Patrol.

The American River Bike Patrol volunteers use their own bicycles to patrol the paved multi-use trails, offering first aid, assisting with mechanical issues and educating users about trail rules. Their presence provides both reassurance and support, especially in busy areas or during community events.

The American River Equestrian Patrol provides a similar service on horseback. These volunteers patrol designated equestrian trails, assist fellow riders and help ensure that these more natural and sometimes remote areas remain safe and serene for horse and rider.

A growing issue that these groups are seeing is mountain bikers using equestrian-only trails. These trails are designed specifically for horseback riding and are not built to accommodate bicycles. Riding on them not only violates trail rules but it also creates hazards for riders and horses alike.

Sacramento County asks all cyclists to stay on designated paved or multi-use trails and respect posted signs and trail restrictions.

If you would like to ride off-road, a designated off-road cycling trail is available in the Woodlake/Cal-Expo area.

To promote safety and shared enjoyment of the trail system, Sacramento County has established multi-use trail rules and regulations as described below.

Always yield to pedestrians and equestrians.

Pass on the left side and return to the right side after you’ve passed. Don’t forget to call out “passing on your left” so you don’t startle the person you are passing.

Maintain a safe speed, not exceeding 15 mph.

Keep pets on a leash no longer than six feet.

Stay on designated trails and obey posted signage.

Pedestrians should use the left shoulder when it is accessible.

Visit online regionalparks.sacramento.gov/Parks/Pages/Multi-useTrailRulesandRegulations.aspx for the full list of trail rules and regulations.

The county thanks all trail users and the dedicated public safety and volunteer patrol teams for helping to keep the American River Parkway and other Sacramento County trails safe, clean and welcoming for everyone. ★

Sterile Male Mosquitoes Deployed Against Dengue

Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito and Vector Control District News Release

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito and Vector Control District announced the continued spread of the invasive Aedes aegypti mosquito, a species capable of transmitting serious diseases such as dengue, Zika and chikungunya posing a growing health concern.

This year, Aedes aegypti mosquitoes have already been found in neighborhoods within the city of Sacramento including South Natomas, Land Park, and Tahoe Park.

“The ongoing spread of these mosquitoes is very concerning,” said Gary Goodman, District manager. “Their ability to thrive in small hidden containers makes them a persistent problem in residential areas,” emphasized Goodman. First identified within District boundaries in 2019, these small, dark and aggressive mosquitoes are known for biting during the day and laying eggs in flowerpots, bird baths, pet dishes, plant saucers and even bottle caps.

Travel-related dengue cases are detected in our region every year, but in 2023, California saw its first three locally acquired cases. That number rose to 18 in 2024: a troubling trend that highlights the growing public health threat posed by Aedes aegypti mosquitoes and the urgent need for more effective, science-based control methods.

While traditional mosquito control methods have been effective in managing Aedes aegypti populations, the continued expansion of these invasive mosquitoes in California highlights the need to complement current strategies with innovative tools. In response, the District is launching a Sterile Insect Technique (SIT) pilot program in South Natomas beginning in July.

This innovative program involves the weekly release of non-biting male mosquitoes that carry Wolbachia, a naturally occurring bacterium. When these males mate with wild females, the resulting eggs do not hatch, leading to a gradual decline in the mosquito population.

“We’re proud to use innovative, science-based tools like the SIT program to help protect our community,” indicated Goodman. “It’s a targeted way to reduce Aedes aegypti mosquitoes and the diseases they can carry.” Sterile insect techniques are also being used by other mosquito control districts across California as part of a statewide effort to address the rising threat of invasive mosquitoes.

The program will run from July to November in a 100-acre area of South Natomas. While residents may notice more mosquito activity during this period, the released mosquitoes will be males and do not bite.

For more about the SIT Pilot Program in South Natomas or to request a free inspection, visit FIGHTtheBITE.net or call (800) 429-1022. ★

Together. “His commitment to education and strong track record in program innovation make him a natural fit for this next phase of growth.”

Prior to joining Think Together, López served as the director of programs for the 49ers Foundation, leading its S.T.E.A.M. Education and Health and Wellness programs, which reached more than 20,000 students annually across 14 Northern California counties.

López’s previous leadership roles also include seven years at Cristo Rey San José Jesuit High School, where he played a key role in enrollment, community relations, athletics and school business operations.

“My personal and professional connection to youth development has guided much of my career and Think Together’s vision of ensuring all kids get a great education aligns closely with my own vision for improving access to quality education,” said López.

If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case PFI-252149. # 'We are Losing an Entire Generation'

By Seth Henderson

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - According to the Sacramento District Attorney's Office, more than 200 law enforcement members between Yolo, Sacramento, El Dorado, Placer and Yuba counties have participated in multiple operations to seize hundreds of pounds of fentanyl off the streets since 2021.

Cross-departmental partnerships are necessary in the fight against fentanyl and even one death is too many, Attorney General Rob Bonta said during a press conference on May 29. He said the collaboration will not stop until the deaths stop.

"The fentanyl crisis represents a public safety emergency and the poisoning epidemic," Sacramento DA Thien Ho said at the press conference. "We are losing an entire generation."

The death toll in the Sacramento region since 2021 has reached more than 600 individuals, Ho said, which is more than all gun-related homicides within a decade. Ho said that fentanyl does not discriminate and it does not care about the user's background or experience.

Fifty-one felony arrests have been made since 2021, Ho said, citing operations such as "Operation: Folsom Blues 2.0," which saw the seizure of more than 1,000 fentanyl pills and tens of other drugs.

Deaths from fentanyl poisoning have been steadily declining since 2023, Ho said, with 2023 having 404 deaths, 2022 having 267 deaths and as of May, 33 deaths this year.

The Sacramento district attorney said he is in favor of innovative ways to stay ahead of the epidemic with solutions such as a fentanyl murder registry to keep track of individuals convicted of fentanyl poisoning; an impact panel featuring dealers, addicts and victims' families to spread awareness; an overdose alert system powered by artificial intelligence; and the dismantling of online distributors.

"We cannot arrest our way out of this and we cannot educate our way out of it alone," Ho said.

Sacramento County

According to the Sacramento County District Attorney's Office, hundreds of pounds of fentanyl has been seized since 2021 in multi-jurisdictional operations involving more than 200 law enforcement personnel.

Sheriff Jim Cooper said that solutions such as naloxone, the active ingredient in Narcan, have become second nature when dealing with individuals who are hardly conscious or unresponsive. He said it is because "we're so used to it" in schools and workplaces.

Every demographic in the county is affected, Cooper said, and California does not pass the laws necessary to hold fentanyl dealers accountable. He referenced his qualms with Proposition 36. Citing the lack of effort to fund these initiatives, Cooper said, the continued multi-community effort is necessary to combat substance abuse and homelessness.

"Drug court worked and we have to fix that,"

Cooper said.

Cooper said that Proposition 47 removed incentives to place individuals into drug court and that being an addict should not be a crime, unless they are committing crimes. Drug dealers prey on young people, Cooper said, and holding the dealers accountable is what works.

Task forces from multiple agencies were recognized by elected officials at the press conference for their brave and significantly impactful seizures of hard drugs and criminals. Some task forces included the Tri-County Drug Enforcement Narcotics Team (TRIDENT), High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA), the California Multi-Jurisdictional Methamphetamine Enforcement Team (CALMMET), and the Fentanyl Abatement Suppression Team (FAST).

Placer County District Attorney Morgan Gire manages the Tri-County Drug Enforcement Narcotics Team and said he is reminded of each victim's life when prosecuting the criminals charged with taking that life.

Gire said the outreach team talks to thousands of students, teachers and coaches to gain information and spread awareness.

Collaboration happens at all levels of government, Gire said, and operations are happening "day in and day out" to send a message through the region.

"Even if you don't want treatment, we will get you there," Gire said.

Since 2022, more than 15 million pills and more than 6,700 pounds of fentanyl powder have been seized, Bonta said, and more than 500 suspects have been arrested.

"Numbers don't tell the full story," Bonta said. "They are lives saved, they are overdoses prevented, they are families spared from unimaginable grief.

"We're actively working to strengthen border enforcement," Bonta said. "We're collaborating with local and federal law enforcement partners in Southern California and Northern California to stop fentanyl before it ever has a chance to make it up to Sacramento." ★

Sac State's Kade Brown is a National Finalist

California State University, Sacramento News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento State sophomore closer Kade Brown was named as one of 13 finalists for the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association's Stopper of the Year award given to the nation's top reliever in NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Division I baseball.

The award is in its 20th season and this year's winner will be announced via a new conference on June 13, after press time, prior to the College World Series start at Charles Schwab Field in Omaha, Nebraska.

Brown, who was also named a preseason All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and a semi-finalist for the organization's Dick Howser Trophy given to the nation's Player of the Year, becomes the first Hornet reliever to be named an award finalist. Past Sacramento State greats Sutter McLoughlin (2013-14), Tyler Beardsley (2016) and Jack Zalasky (2023) had all been named to the award's midseason list during their careers but were never finalists.

underclassmen on the list of finalists for the 2025 honor, joining Louisiana State University freshman Casan Evans, University of California, Irvine sophomore Ricky Ojeda and Texas freshman Dylan Volantis. Brown joins Ojeda as the only two representatives from the West Coast and the duo is joined by Creighton's Garrett Langrell as the only three finalists not from a "Power 4" conference.

All told, six conferences are represented with finalists, with the Southeastern Conference leading the way with five. The Big 12 Conference (three finalists) and the Atlantic Coast Conference (two finalists) are the other conferences featuring multiple finalists. The Big East Conference, the Big West Conference and the Western Athletic Conference each had one representative. Ten of the 13 finalists were on the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association's Midseason Stopper of the Year watch list.

A first-team All-Western Athletic Conference selection at the end of the regular season, Brown helped lead Sacramento State to a share of the league's regular season title, its third all-time, and the top seed for the conference tournament, finishing the year with a 32-26 overall record and a 15-9 mark in Western Athletic Conference play.

The Hornets won 30 or more games for the 12th time in the last 13 seasons, one of the longest streaks on the West Coast, and their highest overall and conference win totals since 2022.

Brown finished his second year in the green and gold with a 3-2 overall record and a 2.93 ERA, ranking among the Top Three in the nation in saves at the end of the regular season with 14 in 22 appearances on the season. Over 43 innings of work, Brown allowed just 14 earned runs on 32 hits, striking out 49 hitters and holding opposing batters to a .204 average.

In only his second appearance of the season, Brown struck out a career-high eight hitters over 3.1 innings against San Francisco on Feb. 17 and finished with multiple strikeouts in a game 13 times. Brown earned either a save or a victory in each of his first seven appearances of the year and finished 2-0 with seven saves over his final nine appearances.

Brown's 14 saves on the year rank second on the school's all-time list behind only McLoughlin's record of 17 in 2013, while his 22 career saves are currently fourth in program history, 11 back of McLoughlin's record of 33 from 2013 to 2015. ★

UC Davis Celebrates Annual Aggie Awards

University of California, Davis News Release

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - University of California, Davis Athletics celebrated its student athletes with the annual Aggie Awards on June 1. A total of 12 awards, six departmental and six voted on by the student athletes, were given out.

"This was our highest performing year across the board athletically and among the highest GPAs in Aggie history," said Director of Athletics Rocko DeLuca. "I am proud to celebrate all our student-athletes achieved and highlight the importance of the relationships they built between teams, on campus and in the community that will pay off far into their futures."

The Sarah Sumpter Perseverance Award is given to a current student athlete who has overcome a significant obstacle to return to varsity competition.

This year's recipient, Kylie Jacobson, suffered a terrible riding accident last summer. After finishing a great ride, her horse was unexpectedly spooked. When thrown off her horse, Jacobson got caught in the horse's legs and her face was trampled.

Jacobson shattered her upper jaw, orbital bone, nasal spine and lost three teeth. After a week's stay in the hospital and facial reconstructive surgery, Jacobson was sent home with her mouth wired shut for six weeks. At the beginning of the season, Jacobson got back in the saddle, regained her confidence and quickly returned to being a fierce competitor.

Jacobson participated in 10 meets this season and took home five wins. Her season included two ECAC Horsemanship Rider of the Week awards and she was named to the ECAC Horsemanship All-Tournament Team and earned an ECAC All-Academic Honorable Mention.

The W.P. Lindley Award celebrates the best of both worlds by naming the year's outstanding Scholar Athlete who can balance and excel at the classroom and the field. This year's recipient is Niko Rocak (Men's Basketball). Rocak led the Big West in blocks per game and led the Aggies in rebounds as an elected team captain. Rocak is an active member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Team Impact. After completing an undergraduate degree in chemistry, Rocak pursued his MBA through the Graduate School of Management.

The Dr. Hubert Heitman Award is bestowed upon the Aggie Female Athlete of the Year. This year's recipient is Sam Tristan of women's soccer. The Fresno native earned her first career United Soccer Coaches NCAA Division I Women's All-West Region team honors and was the first Aggie to be recognized as the Big West Offensive Player of the Year. Tristan started in all 20 contests for the Aggies in 2024, earning first team All-Big West honors leading the league with 24 points and 26 shots on goal, and becoming one of only two student-athletes to record double-digit scores (10) this season.

The Colby E. "Babe" Slater Award is bestowed upon the Aggie Male Athlete of the Year. This year's recipient is football player Lan Larison, who ended the year among the best in the country in numerous categories. Larison racked up four All-American honors, was named first team All-Big Sky Conference and was named a Walter Payton Award finalist.

Larison finished the year with a national leading and school record setting 2,387 all-purpose yards racking up 1,465 total rushing yards and 874 receiving yards during the season. Larison added 17 rushing touchdowns and six receiving touchdowns and finished ranked nationally second in total touchdowns, third in rushing yards and total scoring per game, sixth in rushing touchdowns and ninth in rushing yards per game. His 874 receiving yards led all running backs in the nation. Larison immediately signed a free agent deal with the National Football League's New England Patriots and is currently a member of their roster.

Best Moment of the Year, given for the most shocking, thrilling and exciting performance, went to Cason Goodman when the men's soccer clinched its spot in the NCAA Men's Soccer Tournament, defeating UC Santa Barbara 2-0 in the Big West Championship Final. Goodman secured the Aggies' advancement to the program's fourth NCAA Division I Tournament, by scoring both goals for the Aggies to win.

Railyards Will Deliver Billions in Economic Output

Sacramento Republic FC News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A new report reveals the Sacramento Railyards project will be one of the most transformative urban infill developments in the nation, with a multi-billion-dollar economic impact, tens of thousands of jobs and long-overdue activity in a district that has sat vacant for more than 50 years.

The comprehensive analysis prepared by Stantec, a global leader in sustainable engineering, architecture and environmental consulting, with data from Economic & Planning Systems, Inc. (EPS), a firm specializing in public infrastructure financing and land use economics, underscores the immense potential of the Sacramento Railyards, one of the nation's largest urban infill projects.

With more than $8.2 billion in one-time construction impact and $4.4 billion in annual economic output projected, the Railyards redevelopment projects will redefine Sacramento's economic future, create thousands of jobs and address critical housing and infrastructure needs, all without burdening city finances. The new analysis will be included in the city's staff report ahead of the June 10 City Council meeting.

"The Railyards are a great economic opportunity for Sacramento. One-hundred-and sixty years ago, the Central Pacific Railroad, located in the Railyards, was the main employer of thousands here in the city of Sacramento," said Sacramento Mayor Kevin McCarty. "We look forward to seeing this fortuitous return of life to the Railyards, bringing jobs, housing and opportunity to a space in the heart of our city that may otherwise remain vacant."

Said Denton Kelley, president and CEO of Downtown Railyard Venture, "The Railyards is more than a development, it's the future heart of the Sacramento region. From new housing and a state-of-the-art Kaiser medical campus to a USL soccer stadium, cultural venues, parks and vibrant retail, The Railyards will offer the kind of amenities and experiences that define world-class cities. These destinations are where our community will gather for experiences that are uniquely Sacramento."

According to the analysis, the project will support nearly 24,000 jobs countywide, including 13,563 direct on-site jobs across healthcare, construction, retail, hospitality and office sectors. These jobs include skilled trades, healthcare workers, retail and managerial roles. Collectively, they generate more than $2.1 billion in annual wages.

"All of the pieces are in place to make our downtown stadium a reality," said The Republic FC President and General Manager. "The vast economic impacts outlined in this report are just the beginning of the community benefits of the stadium and surrounding projects."

In addition to job creation, the Railyards will deliver up to 10,000 new homes, including affordable units, helping address Sacramento's urgent housing crisis by offering walkable, transit-connected living near job centers and services. Currently, nearly 45% of all the housing available in the Railyards now is affordable.

One of the keys to unlocking the incredible potential of the project is the city's role in building roads, sidewalks, public parks, utilities and other public infrastructure. Through the Railyards Enhanced Infrastructure Financing District (EIFD), a mechanism that captures future property tax growth from the project to fund public improvements, these essential elements to allow new construction and create a vibrant neighborhood can be built with immediate effect, while not needing to raise new taxes or create additional stress on the City of Sacramento's General Fund.

The report also details significant one-time impacts, including more than 39,000 construction-related jobs and $3.09 billion in construction wages. Signature components of the development include the Kaiser Permanente Medical Campus, Sacramento Republic FC's new stadium and the adaptive reuse of the historic Central Shops.

This once-in-a-generation project positions Sacramento as a national model for sustainable urban growth, bringing cultural, economic and community vibrancy back to the historic heart of the city. ★
