Medway High School Class of 2025 graduated on June 7

Class included 167 students, majority heading to college or military

BY KATIE MILLER
STUDENT WRITER

The Medway High School Class of 2025 Commencement Ceremony took place on Sat., June 7. The cloudy day did not prevent the seniors from embracing their day of celebration. To start the ceremony, the seniors walked onto Hanlon Field in their caps and gowns, ready to take their seats where they would later flip their tassels. The class of 2025 included 167 students, the majority of whom will be attending a two- or four-year college. There are also nine graduates entering the military.

MHS Class President Teddy MacDonald opened the ceremony by welcoming the seniors as well as the many staff members and families who attended the special day.

In his speech, Teddy reflected on the letter he wrote in eighth grade English class to his future self, a tradition Medway has done for many years. He shared how his younger self saw graduation as so far in the future. Teddy said, "If I could write one response to my past self, I would tell him to 'soak it all in'."

Teddy then shared his experience attending and speaking at the Medway High School Alumni Banquet, moved by the heartfelt interactions between alumni who hadn't seen each other in years, reflecting the relationships and community fostered by Medway High.

Salutatorian Willem Khoo shared a few words with his fellow classmates. He pointed out that the simple number two does not summarize all of the experiences that made up his high school career. "Can the number two really outshine all of the untold stories of the students in the audience; of course not," he said.

William then complimented all of the talents and skills his classmates have to offer the world.

Sofia Mercier, Honorary Essayist [and past Local Town Pages student writer], took the podium next, starting with a heartfelt and genuine thank you to the parents and guardians, teachers, secretaries, lunch ladies, and custodians of Medway High, describing graduation as "a day for everyone." She then asked her class, "Please take a moment and Sofia then proceeded to list a few of these people from her own life, including teachers and staff, who have provided inspiration and acted as mentors in her years at Medway High.

Sophie Heiden delivered the Ivy Address. She highlighted “the importance of finding the good moments of every day.” In her time as a cross country captain, she started asking her teammates what the best part of their day was. When they would struggle to come up with a reply, she would say “It doesn’t have to be a big moment, but a small moment of happiness.”

classmates to find ways to create happiness for themselves, as well as others.

Class Valedictorian Riley Ashok not only thanked all of those who helped her achieve great things but used her love for physics as an analogy for the future. She acknowledged her growth and maturity gained in her years at Medway High and how her experiences have prepared her for the future.

Riley told her classmates to remember their potential and capabilities going into their college and future lives.

In recognition of MHS students entering the military, Judge Richard Eustis shared a short but memorable story about an experience he had with his friend Billy, and how it taught him to appreciate what might seem like an inconvenience, could, in reality, be a privilege. What is this privi-

Eustis explained how “Freedom is everything. But it isn’t free. It’s a gift derived from the service and sacrifice of a long line of men and women in the United States Armed Forces.” He then shared his words of appreciation for the nine graduates who would soon be joining the military after graduation. He thanked them for their sacrifice in the name of prolonging the gift of freedom. Medway wishes these nine individuals the best in their futures, and offers an immense gratitude for their commitment to service.

Every year, graduation day marks a day to be proud of the seniors and all they have accomplished. In addition, it is a reflection of not only the hard work of the students, but the teachers, staff, and parents who have offered their support and encouragement all of these years.

Library.

Residents are invited to submit one or two of their favorite photos of their gardens in an 8"x10" or larger frame, wired for hanging, to the Circulation Desk at the Millis Public Library by Oct. 1, 2025.

Photos will be rotated so all may be included. Residents are also encouraged to upload gar-

Letter to the Editor:

Did you know Medway has free outdoor exercise facilities? These exercise facilities fall under the guise of the Medway Trail System with its miles of trails for walking that pass through most areas of town.

Our town is fortunate to have Open Space put aside specifically for the recreational needs of its residents. The flora and fauna along these trails are not only scenic but also provide ecological benefits. In addition, residents will enjoy a horticultural and historical introduction to the area with descriptive tree name plates and kiosks. The best scenery is usually found from the viewing area from one of the bridges expanding over the wetlands. Benches and picnic facilities also grace the properties and there is parking available at most of the trailheads.

The first trail ever noted was believed to be part of an old Indian Trail that ran from Med-field/Medway to Wrentham.

We hope to provide a snapshot for each of the trails in future editions of the Millis & Medway Local Town Pages. In August, we will feature the High School Trail.

To start exploring the trails today, visit <https://medwayma.gov/departments/information-services/trails-maps/> where trail maps can be downloaded or printed for your walking pleasure.

How to choose a successor for your business

Mark Freeman, CEPA

FINANCIAL FOCUS® Provided by Edward Jones

As a business owner, you've always got a lot to think about today — but what about tomorrow? Have you thought about whom you would like to see as your successor?

If you haven't, you're not alone. Of the business owners who have created a succession plan, about 70% have named a successor for their businesses and have taken measures to train and prepare this successor, according to a survey by Morning Consult, NEXT 360 Partners and Edward Jones. But this means that nearly a third of business owners have not taken this action, leaving a big gap in their succession plans.

So, if you haven't yet named a successor, you may want to start thinking about it. It may be helpful to ask yourself these questions:

- Should I look inside or outside? You could find a successor who's already working for you, or you could find someone from the outside. On one hand, an internal successor would already know how you operate and what you value as you run your business. But on the other hand, an external successor could bring a new point of view and a different set of skills, both of which might prove beneficial. You'll need to weigh both choices carefully.

- How prepared is a potential successor? Whether you decide on an internal or external candidate, you'll want to be sure the person you choose is prepared to take over the business. Do they have management skills? Will they share your commitment to your business's success? Will they be able to build strong relationships with your customers or other employees? Are they enthusiastic about the work involved? You'll want to evaluate all these types of factors in making your selection.

- Are there potential family squabbles? If you would like a family member to become your successor, you may need to be careful about whom you choose and how you communicate your decision to the entire family. Even if it may make sense for one individual to take over the business, perhaps because they're already involved in it and they're interested in taking it over, it doesn't mean hurt feelings won't develop among other family members, who may feel they are somehow being "cheated" out of what they view as their share of a valuable inheritance. So, if you are convinced that you're making the right choice, explain your reasoning to all family members and let them know that you're also exploring other, tangible ways for them to share in your family wealth, possibly by leaving them other financial assets through your estate plans.

- How will my choice of a successor affect my finances? Passing the business to an heir, selling it to an existing employee or selling it to an outside buyer can yield vastly different results for you in terms of your personal finances. You'll need to consider the possible business transfer arrangements, such as a buy-sell agreement, to determine which one is in your best interests. In doing so, you may want to work with your financial advisor or a consultant with experience in selling or transferring a business.

Choosing a successor is one of the most important decisions you'll make — so, take your time, evaluate your options and work to reach a decision that works well for everyone involved.

Your Money, Your Independence

Enjoy Every Sandwicher Moment.

Glenn Brown, CFP

Generation Month, celebrating a generation of people sandwiched between caring for their young children and aging parents at the same time.

I'm a Sandwicher, as are approximately 15% of Americans between ages 40-60 who face the challenges of planning, communicating and executing for 3 generations at once.

After 60 years in their New Hampshire home, my parents were struggling with their health and finding it increasingly difficult to maintain their independence. The stress weighed heavily on my mother, as she was becoming a caregiver and daily living/house routines began to slide. My wife, our daughters (then 5 & 3) and I lived comfortably in our Ashland home. The adults agreed on a Plan B supported by updated financial planning. Sell both homes, buy a new home for 3 generations and live as one household sharing in daily responsibilities.

The urgency was greater than anticipated and not without challenges since our move to Holliston, here's some antidotes for Sandwichers:

Small talks instead of "The Talk". Families don't like to think about declining health and elder care, let alone discuss it. I used single topics tied to a recent story about a friend, asking what they would do. I'd gain small agreements, then change the subject to continue building a framework for a mutual plan.

Bring in outside mediators. My aunt shared with my mom that time is not your friend. She emphasized the positives and encouraged to act now, rather than later, when fewer options are available. Additionally, we consulted with an elder care attorney on understanding MA Health options, current trusts, POAs and proxies before making the move.

Define their plans for wellness. Far too often, adult children tip-toe around aging conversations with parents for fear it may come across as morbid or worse, inheritance focus. These conversations need to focus on their future ideas of wellness. What is it they foresee for a surviving spouse? When they can no longer remain independent? By having these talks when both parents are in good health, it defines their expectations and allows planning a foundation with greater flexibility.

Your spouse's support is critical. Very fortunate to have a spouse that pushed me to see the positives and embraces bringing family in as "you'd want your daughters to treat you the same someday".

Through the eyes of a child. It's not all about you, the girls show the love and benefits of learning by being around grandma and grandpa. And vice versa, as health and activity improved due to the energy and motivation brought daily by our girls.

Sometimes timing is everything. I couldn't imagine the anxiety and ill-advised actions my parents would have faced on their own since fall of 2018. Nor would I have wanted to see my mom on her own this past year and moving forward.

Your parents sacrificed many things to make sure you had it better, including concealing issues to not worry you. Be open with communication and embrace change, the best ways to prevent costly unintended consequences and ensure positive lasting memories.

Once David Letterman had a frequent guest and favorite musician of his, Warren Zevon, on for an entire show. Zevon, who disclosed his terminal cancer, performed and interviewed throughout. Dave at one point asked, "Anything you know now, that I should know?" to which Zevon wittily deadpanned, "Enjoy every sandwich."

Those raising children and helping aging parents often feel rushed and are distracted thinking about what's next, overlooking the beauty of daily, mundane moments.

Your Best Summer Hair Ever

Easy Ways to Keep Your Hair Healthy All Summer Long

By GINA WOELFEL

Feel that sunshine? The longer days and poolside vibes mean summer is in full swing—and it's the perfect time to brighten your blonde with a beachy balayage or lighten up your look. But while you're soaking up the season, your hair might be soaking up something else: UV rays, chlorine, and mineral-heavy water.

The result? Dryness, dullness, and yes—even that dreaded green tint. Don't worry—we've got you covered with easy ways to keep your hair healthy, vibrant, and summer-ready.

Why Does Hair Turn Green in the Summer?

Most people think chlorine is the main culprit, but that's only part of the story. The real issue? Metals in the water—especially copper.

Copper is often found in pool water, particularly those filled with well water or treated with copper-based algacides. When chlorine oxidizes these metals, they bond to the proteins in your hair. The result? A greenish patina—just like an old penny.

And if you think saltwater pools are a safer bet, think again. Saltwater systems still produce chlorine—they just do it differ-ently—so your hair is still exposed to the same oxidizing effects.

The good news? A few proactive steps can go a long way toward protecting your hair from turning green, getting dry, or fading in the sun. Read on for our expert tips.

Pre-Wet and Protect

Dry hair acts like a sponge, quickly soaking up chlorine, salt, and other chemicals. Before you swim, thoroughly saturate your hair with clean, filtered water, then apply a protective hair oil. We recommend favorites like our own b.LUXE BEFORE Oil, Goldwell's STYLESIGN Weightless Shine-Oil, KERASILK's Multi-Benefit Hair Oil, or Oribe's Gold Lust Nourishing Hair Oil. This simple step helps block harsh chemicals and seals in moisture to keep your hair soft, shiny, and protected.

Don't Be Afraid of a Swim Cap

Not just for Olympic athletes anymore, swim caps are a smart (and often cute) option if you swim frequently. Choose one made from silicone or lycra for a more comfortable, hair-friendly fit. Bonus: they keep your blow-out intact longer!

LEARN MORE ABOUT OUR HAIR SERVICES

Ditch Copper-Based Algacides

If you maintain your own pool, check the ingredients in your algacide. Copper-free options are now widely available. You can also test your water's metal content with simple strips from your local pool store and use metal removers or filters as needed.

Start with Healthy Hair

Dry, brittle hair is more prone to damage and discoloration. Invest in regular conditioning treatment like KERASILK's Recovery Mask to strengthen and seal the hair cuticle.

Rinse and Clarify

After swimming, wash your hair as soon as possible to rinse away chlorine, salt, and other impurities. If you swim regularly, we recommend using a clarifying shampoo every 1–2 weeks to deeply cleanse and maintain hair health. We love the Kerasilk shampoo line—all formulas include a chelating agent, which gently removes mineral build-up without stripping essential moisture, leaving your hair clean, soft, and balanced.

Struggling with Hard Water at Home?

Clean, healthy hair starts with clean water. Hard water can dull your color—especially blondes—and cause unwanted discoloration or fading. That's why b.LUXE now carries the Kitsch Water Filter, designed to reduce chlorine and other impurities while being gentle on your hair, skin, and nails. Best of all, it won't affect your shower pressure, so you can enjoy your wash-time ritual without compromise.

Got Green? Here's How to Fix It

Have you noticed a greenish tint in your hair? Don't worry—it's totally fixable. Book a demin-eralizing treatment at b.LUXE, like Malibu C's Crystal Gel Demineralizer, to remove the build-up of metals and impurities that cause discoloration. Your stylist may also recommend a gloss or glaze to rebalance your tone and bring back that healthy shine.

A Little Prep Goes a Long Way

Summer should be all about fun in the sun—not damage control. With just a few extra steps and the right products, you can enjoy the pool, the beach, and everything in between without sacrificing your hair color or health.

Are you setting your summer hair goals? Book a consultation or conditioning treatment with b.LUXE today—we'll help you stay shiny, strong, and green-free all season long.

Call the studio at (508) 321-1624 or book online at bluxe.com.

Summer Eye Safety

Stay Safe This 4th of July

BY: ROGER M. KALDAWY, M.D.
MILFORD FRANKLIN EYE CENTER

We all use sunscreen to protect our skin, but it's important not to forget your eyes. Summer means more time outdoors, and sunlight can be harmful to your eyes just as it is to your skin. Bright sunlight increases the risk of cataracts, macular degeneration, and even eye cancer. This risk is the same when using indoor tanning beds, so protecting your eyes from artificial UV light matters as much as shielding them from natural sunlight. If you're spending time at the beach or pool, be aware that sunlight reflecting off water and sand can cause photokeratitis, a painful condition sometimes called snow blindness.

Everyone, regardless of age or skin color, is vulnerable to UV damage, but children are especially at risk because their eyes absorb more UV rays. People with light-colored eyes may also be more susceptible to certain eye diseases linked to UV exposure, including eye cancer. Additionally, people with eye conditions like retinal dystrophy might be more sensitive to UV damage.

One of the most common eye problems linked to sun exposure is cataracts, which is a clouding of the eye's lens. The lens needs to be clear to focus light properly on the retina for good vision. Years of sun exposure are a major factor in cataract development, which is why cataract surgery is the most frequently performed surgery in the United States.

Despite the risks, many people don't realize how important it is to protect their eyes from UV rays. A survey by the American Academy of Ophthalmology found that only about half of those who wear sunglasses check whether they block UV light. Fortunately, protecting your eyes is simple. Sunglasses should be labeled as providing 100% UV protection or UV400 to block both UV-A and UV-B rays. Choosing wraparound styles helps prevent UV rays from entering around the edges. Even if you wear contact lenses that block UV rays, you still need to wear sunglasses for full protection. Wearing a wide-brimmed hat along with your sunglasses adds extra defense from sunlight.

Children need special care too. It's best to keep them out of direct sunlight during midday when the sun's rays are strongest, and make sure they always wear sunglasses and hats when outside. Many people think clouds block UV rays, but this is not true; the sun's rays can pass through clouds, haze, and fog, causing damage at any time of the year—not just in summer. Be especially cautious when near water, snow, or at high altitudes, where sunlight is more intense because it reflects off these surfaces.

With these simple precautions, you and your family can enjoy the summer safely while protecting your vision.

Fireworks: Enjoy the Celebration Safely

With Independence Day approaching, many people look forward to fireworks. While professional displays are generally safe, backyard fireworks can cause serious injuries. Most firework injuries happen between late June and late July. Each year about 16,000 people go to emergency rooms because of fireworks-related injuries, and there are roughly 18 deaths. The number of minor injuries that don't require ER visits is even higher.

Many people believe those lighting fireworks are at the highest risk, but it's the bystanders who are most often hurt. About 65% of firework-related emergency room visits are by people watching from the sidelines. Injuries most commonly affect hands, fingers, legs, head, face, ears, and arms. Small fireworks and sparklers, often considered safer and used near children, still cause many injuries.

Eye injuries from fireworks can be especially devastating. The eyes are very delicate, and sparks, flames, smoke, or flying debris from fireworks can cause permanent damage. Common eye injuries include scratches on the cornea, detached retinas, ruptured eyeballs, and burns. Any injury to the eye should be treated as a medical emergency. If you suffer an eye injury from fireworks, seek immediate care. To avoid risks, leave fireworks to the professionals and enjoy a safe celebration.

Advances in Cataract Surgery

If the sun caught up with you and you now have cataracts and need surgery, new technology can greatly improve your results.

Bladeless laser cataract surgery is a major advancement that is FDA-approved and widely used by leading ophthalmologists. This method offers greater precision and safety compared to traditional surgery and often allows correction of astigmatism at the same time, resulting in better vision outcomes.

Why Choose Milford Franklin Eye Center?

At Milford Franklin Eye Center, we provide high-quality sunglasses with full UV protection at our optical service. For those needing cataract surgery, Dr. Roger Kaldawy was the first surgeon in the area, and among the first in Massachusetts, to offer bladeless laser-assisted cataract surgery. Dr. Dan Liu in our practice, offers the same services. We use premium lenses that correct vision at all distances, including near, far, and everything in between. Thanks to bladeless laser technology, even patients with astigmatism can now enjoy excellent results.

Our surgeries take place in a certified, accredited surgery center in Milford, where an anesthesiologist is always present to ensure your safety and comfort. This level of care is not typical for all practices; some perform surgery in-office without an anesthesiologist, which is not endorsed by professional societies or Medicare. If you have been offered office-based cataract surgery, call us for a second opinion.

With more than 24 years of experience and tens of thousands of procedures performed, we are proud to offer state-of-the-art medical and surgical eye care to our community. Your vision comes first with us.

Protect your eyes this summer by wearing proper sunglasses, using hats, avoiding direct sun during peak hours, and celebrating holidays safely. If it's time for cataract surgery, advanced options are available to restore your vision better than ever. At Milford Franklin Eye Center, we're here to help you see clearly for many summers to come.

Fire Officials Urge Residents: Leave Fireworks to the Professionals!

Illegal Fireworks Have Caused More Than 500 Fires, 200 Serious Injuries Since 2020

STOW—Fires, explosions, and serious injuries related to illegal fireworks spike each summer in Massachusetts, and fire service leaders are asking residents and visitors to leave those dangerous devices to the professionals.

“Here in Massachusetts, fireworks have caused over 500 fires and explosions, more than 200 emergency department visits, and nearly $1 million in damages over the past five years,” said State Fire Marshal Jon M. Davine. “They are illegal without licensing and certification because they are so dangerous. Please don’t risk a fire, an injury, or a day in court – leave fireworks to the professionals.”

“The weeks around July 4th are extremely busy for your local fire department,” said Westborough Fire Chief Patrick J. Purcell, president of the Fire Chiefs Association of Massachusetts. “Fires and injuries spike as people put themselves, their families, and their neighbors in harm’s way with illegal fireworks. These incidents can draw firefighters and EMTs away from other emergencies in your city or town. If you want to watch a great fireworks show this summer, please check out one of the many safe, permitted displays scheduled in communities across Massachusetts.”

Of the 220 fireworks-related visits to Massachusetts emergency departments from 2020 to 2024, 111 took place during June and July. These months also accounted for 366 of the 559 fires and explosions caused by fireworks during the same five-year period. Both injuries and fires held relatively steady last year and reflect a decline from the historically high numbers in 2020, when 75 ER visits and 187 fires or explosions were reported statewide.

Massachusetts law requires police to seize any illegal fireworks they encounter in the course of their duties. This includes fireworks that were purchased lawfully in another state and transported to Massachusetts. People who use or possess them illegally are also subject to a fine, while the unlawful sale of fireworks is an arrestable offense that carries potential jail time.

The law is effective: the Massachusetts fireworks injury rate is about .5 per 100,000 residents compared with a national rate of 2.89 per 100,000 residents.

The Department of Fire Services posts a list of permitted fireworks displays and updates it each week through the summer. To view the list and to learn more about the dangers of illegal fireworks, visit www.mass.gov/info-details/leave-fireworks-to-the-professionals.

Medway firefighters among latest Firefighting Academy graduates

In May, State Fire Marshal Jon M. Davine and Massachusetts Firefighting Academy leadership celebrated the graduation of Class #330, a group of 34 firefighters from the 50-day Career Recruit Firefighting Training Program.

Among the graduates were Jessica Roberts and Mark MacDonald of Medway. Other fire departments represented included Acton, Falmouth, Gardner, Haverhill, Lynnfield, Mansfield, Middleborough, Natick, Norwell, Provincetown, Salem, Waltham, Wayland, and Wellfleet.

“Massachusetts firefighters are on the frontlines protecting their communities every day, and today’s graduates are needed now more than ever,” said State Fire Marshal Davine. “The hundreds of hours of foundational training they’ve received will provide them with the physical, mental, and technical skills to perform their jobs effectively and safely.”

“Massachusetts Firefighting Academy instructors draw on decades of experience in the fire service to train new recruits,” said Massachusetts Firefighting

Academy Deputy Director Dennis A. Ball. “Through consistent classroom instruction and practical exercises, today’s graduates have developed the tools they’ll need to work seamlessly with veteran firefighters in their home departments and in neighboring communities as mutual aid.”

The MFA provides recruit and in-service training for career, call, and volunteer firefighters at every level of experience, from recruit to chief officer, at campuses in Stow, Springfield, and Bridgewater.

Medway Garden Club announces officers, July program

The Medway Garden Club would like to extend its sincere appreciation to all who came to our Annual Plant Sale and contributed to its success. This is our major fundraiser and will allow us to continue to beautify the areas around Medway such as the police and fire stations, the library, the islands at 109 and Holliston Street, and those lovely planter boxes on Main Street.

At our June meeting, the installation of officers was held, and a delightful meal was enjoyed by all. Nancy Vinton will be returning as our President, as well as Maryalice Kenney as our Treasurer, Kathy Andrews will be our new secretary, and Teresa Schultz-Jones and Susan Bouchard are going to share the functions of correspondence and social media.

Nancy was presented with a thank-you gift from the members in appreciation for all her efforts. A lovely Goatsbeard plant, a flowering perennial native to North America and a member of the rose family, is a perfect addition to Nancy’s shady yard.

In July, the Club will be touring the Old Exit 17 Farm in Franklin.

In September, our regularly scheduled meetings will resume at the Medway Senior Center on the second Tuesday of the month at 5:30 p.m. We are looking forward to new projects and programs, including a flower pot decorating workshop, a flower arranging workshop, and guest speakers for enrichment and entertainment.

The Garden Club encompasses all levels of gardeners, from beginners to Master Gardeners. New members are always welcome and encouraged to reach out to: MedwayGardenClub@gmail.com or on our Facebook page, Medway Garden Club.

Medway High School Girls Lacrosse season dedicated to inspiring heart transplant recipient Emerson Bayse

This year's Medway High School Girls Lacrosse team dedicated its season to fellow Medway resident, 9-year-old Emerson Bayse.

Emerson underwent a heart transplant in January but has been recovering and thriving.

"I allow my senior class each year to decide on our season community service project," said Medway High School's Head Girls Varsity Lacrosse Coach Krystal L. DePaolo.

Coach DePaolo also works for another school district, where her boss has close ties to the Bayse family.

"She would give updates on how Emerson's journey was going, and it made sense to me that we join in on the efforts," said Coach DePaolo. "In one of our leadership meetings, I brought up Emerson's story to the group and the idea of fundraising for the family. Without hesitation, the seniors agreed."

Following visits to their games, and the team's ongoing support, Coach DePaolo hopes Emerson becomes a big fan of the Medway High School Girls Varsity Lacrosse team and will consider playing the sport in the future if she is able.

"It was great having Emerson and her family with us at the game," said Medway Public Schools Athletic Director Jeff Parcels. "We've been collecting donations for Emerson's family at games throughout the season, and the Medway community really stepped up for this strong and inspiring youngster."

"Emerson's courage is inspiring," said Medway Superintendent of Schools Armand Pires. "I'm so glad our Medway High School Girls Varsity Lacrosse team has organized this effort to make her life a little easier after her transplant. That's the sort of kindness and empathy we fully embrace in Medway Public Schools. I wish Emerson all the best as she continues her path to recovery."

Moroney selected as Millis Boys Basketball Coach

By KEN HAMWEY
STAFF SPORTS WRITER

Connor Moroney, who was a varsity assistant the last two seasons at Franklin, is the new boys' basketball coach at Millis High.

Moroney's background has several links to the Hockomock League, which is considered one of the top-notch conferences in the state. The 27-year-old native of Easton played basketball and football at Oliver Ames, he later was an assistant jayvee coach at Oliver Ames before spending three years on the staff at Franklin. He lives in North Attleboro.

Last season, Coach C.J. Neely led Franklin High to the Division 1 state basketball championship by defeating Newton North. Neely's Panthers, who previously had advanced to the finals three times and lost, became the first boys' state hoop champs in Franklin's history.

Moroney was Neely's freshman coach during the 2022-23 season, then served as a varsity aide the last two years.

"I scouted upcoming opponents and helped coach the blue team (Franklin's varsity reserves)," said Moroney. "To be on the staff for the title run was an incredible experience. I'm grateful to have coached with C.J. His teams are unselfish and disciplined, he cares about his players and coaches, and he wants his players to be the best version of themselves. He does everything in a positive way."

There's little doubt that Moroney will incorporate some of Neely's successful methods.

Millis Athletic Director Derek Phinney is upbeat about Moroney joining the Mohawks' program.

"We're thrilled to welcome Connor as our new varsity boys' coach at Millis High," Phinney said. "This is a crucial time in the program, and Coach Moroney brings a tremendous amount of youthful energy and a clear vision to point us in the right direction. We're excited for what the future holds for Millis basketball under his leadership."

Last year, the Mohawks finished 9-13, then split a pair of games in the playoffs. After the season, Coach Paul Adams decided to step down.

Moroney inherits a team that has a mix of youth and experience, and his goals will focus on building team chemistry and realizing potential.

"I want to build positive relationships," said Moroney. "I also want to cultivate a competitive environment and maximize our athletic potential." Moroney's on-court style will emphasize pressure defense, rebounding and playing fast.

Moroney, who was hired in May, met his players later that month and expressed joy and excitement to be their coach. "I let them know that I was thrilled about the opportunity and excited to watch everyone compete," he offered.

Moroney advised his players to focus on improving their skills by competing in summer leagues and working diligently on strength and conditioning. "By Thanksgiving, it's important that they're faster and stronger and confident about their improvement," he noted.

Moroney is acutely aware that competing in the Tri Valley League will be challenging. "It's a strong league and the teams are well-coached," he said. "Every game will bring its own challenge and we'll look forward to competing at a high level."

When pre-season practice gets underway late in November, and concludes early in December, Moroney expects his roster to include "unselfish players who are willing to sacrifice for the good of the team." He also added that he'll strive "to develop players who have high basketball IQs and who are quality student-athletes."

Moroney's coaching philosophy focuses on reaching potential and building strong relationships. "If our players can be the best version of themselves, then winning will be the by-product," he said. "And it's important that they learn valuable life lessons from athletics. Lessons like overcoming adversity, being resilient, being good teammates and leaders, and willing to accept responsibility and be accountable."

At Oliver Ames, Moroney was a league all-star in football, playing linebacker and running back. He also played point guard in basketball and was a captain in both sports his senior year. As a sophomore in football, he competed on a team that finished 10-1 and won the division title. As a junior in basketball, Oliver Ames won the Davenport Division crown.

After graduation, Moroney enrolled at the University of New Hampshire where he majored in health and physical education. After he graduated in 2020, he was hired to teach physical education in the Norwood school system.

Calling his parents (Bill and Eileen) and his older brothers (John and Brian) role models for their support and encouragement, Moroney also is pleased with the support his new athletic director has displayed. "Derek is not only very supportive, but it's clear that he cares about the growth of Millis High and its student-athletes," he emphasized.

Two coaches that Moroney admires and credits for his development as a player are Jim Artz in football and the late Don Byron in basketball. He also lists Neely as a terrific mentor and thanks Franklin High Athletic Director Karrah Ellis for her support.

Franklin High's state title last winter is still fresh in Moroney's thoughts. But, as amazing as it was for him, he's most happy for the players and the other coaches he worked with. "I'm glad for them because they're the ones who battled hard and courageously during the previous seasons," he said.

Moroney also shows appreciation for Millis where he now will work diligently to make the community's basketball program a success.

"I'm very honored to be part of a town that has such pride and tradition in athletics," he said.

Medway's Bedard was a gem on softball diamond

All-star catcher a co-MVP in TVL

By KEN HAMWEY
STAFF SPORTS WRITER

During the last four years, Priya Bedard competed admirably in soccer and softball at Medway High where she played two key positions, goalie and catcher.

What made her so effective at both positions was her consistency - she was consistently good.

Now, the 18-year-old is focused on some intense summer training as she prepares for college life at the University of Hartford where she'll be competing for the catching job.

Chris Reding, who has coached Bedard for the last four years, firmly believes "she has a great opportunity to play as a college freshman." And he has plenty of reasons for his optimism, including: she is passionate about playing a demanding position; her softball statistics and awards are impressive; she's a team-first competitor; and she's a leader on and off the field.

"I started as a freshman at shortstop but was moved to catcher for my last three years at Medway," Bedard noted. "A catcher is often viewed as a coach on the field. There's pressure catching but I like helping my teammates control their emotions and I also like maintaining control of the field."

Reding likes her take-charge style. "She knows how to calm down a nervous pitcher," he noted.

Bedard's senior-year statistics are a testament to her ability and why she was selected for a plethora of honors. They included a .414 batting average, 24 hits, 2 home runs, 19 RBIs, 4 doubles and 3 triples.

The 5-foot-5 Bedard was a three-time Tri Valley League all-star and was co-MVP in the league's Small Division. She was also a Boston Herald and Boston Globe all-star selection.

As far as her style and approach go, her goals were all about her team's welfare. Medway was eliminated in the state tourney in the second round. Her goals for her final softball season were to win the Small Division,

Charting a Confident Financial Future

Every successful journey starts with a roadmap. Whether you're planning for retirement, funding your child's education, protecting your family, or building a legacy, a clear and personalized financial plan is the foundation for achieving your goals with confidence.

At the heart of every strong financial plan is a trusted advisor; someone who can translate your dreams into concrete goals and strategies. Financial planning is not a one-time task, but an ongoing process. As life evolves, so do your priorities. A dedicated advisor helps you adjust your plan to keep pace with life's changes, ensuring that you remain on track.

Why Planning Works

The numbers speak for themselves. Investors who work with financial advisors enjoy an average of up to 5.1% greater returns over time than those who do it alone, in other words a "planning premium."

That difference compounds significantly. For example, if you save $1,000 a month from age 30 to 67 with a 6.25% annual return, you could retire with $1.73 million. Add just 5% more return by working with an advisor, and that grows to over $6.6 million; that's a 280% increase!

Planning can also help promote smarter asset allocation, greater diversification, and increased discipline during market volatility.

A Proven Process

Working with a financial advisor means engaging in a structured, multi-step process that ensures your financial picture is fully understood.

The initial discussion can sometimes seem like the most daunting but this candid conversation about your experiences, goals, and financial mindset will help your advisor assess key areas such as:

- Net worth and cash flow
- Retirement and investment planning
- Education, protection, estate, and business planning
- Executive benefits and charitable gifting*

They will then create a strategy that is aligned with your goals and priorities. Finally, together, you will review, refine, and begin implementing your financial plan with your advisor guiding you every step of the way.

As Warren Buffett said, "Someone's sitting in the shade today because someone planted a tree a long time ago." The sooner you start planning, the brighter your future will be!

qualify for the tourney, and get past the second round. One out of three was the outcome.

Norton won the Small Division title, and Dighton-Rehoboth ousted Medway in the tourney's second round after the Mustangs edged Cardinal Spellman, 5-4, in the opener.

"It's unfortunate we didn't get past the second round," Bedard said. "But we battled to the end, maintained our energy, and did our best."

Bedard's leadership, however, was dynamic. She shined brightly because she embraced any and all responsibilities. She was a two-time captain in softball and when Medway's Youth Softball League and her club team needed help, she assisted at clinics. She also participated in the Relay for Life, a fundraiser at Medway High for cancer research.

"Priya leads by example on and off the field," Reding offered. "She communicates well, she's supportive and very positive. What also makes her so valuable are her high softball IQ, her coachable nature, and her work ethic."

The University of Hartford, which three years ago competed in Division 1, is now in Division

3. In Bedard, they not only have a capable catching prospect, but also an honor student. She compiled a 3.6 GPA.

"I chose Hartford because of its nursing program," she said. "I'll major in nursing in a top-notch program that has amazing facilities. The athletic competition will be strong, the coaches are excellent, and the players seem like they'll be quality teammates."

Bedard is acutely aware that high-level high-school athletes don't always measure up in college. She's working diligently this summer to make her transition as smooth as possible.

"I'm working on my strength and conditioning and making sure I strengthen my throwing arm," she said. "I'm also making sure I can handle the faster pace of college ball. Another key is to fine-tune my skills and I'm willing to learn whatever is needed."

Bedard is always ready to deflect praise by recognizing others, like her coach and teammates.

"Coach Reding is an effective motivator and he prepared us well for key games," she emphasized. "His strategy and game plans are solid. Two teammates who've been great contributors

Bedard has a twin brother (Jason) and they mirrored each other in their athletic venues. Like Priya, he played two sports, ice hockey and baseball. They both were catchers and they both wore No. 14, and both players competed in the spring tournaments and their teams both lost in the second round. Jason will play club hockey in college at Rutgers.

"Jason and I chose to wear 14 because that's the number our father wore when he played baseball," Bedard noted.

Relying on a competitive philosophy of winning, reaching one's potential and having fun, Bedard says she's learned some valuable life lessons from sports. "I've learned how to overcome adversity and to be resilient," she said. "Athletics also teach how to be leaders and good teammates and how to accept responsibility and be accountable."

A native of Boca Raton, Florida, Bedard also lived briefly in Green Bay before arriving in Medway at age three. She definitely found her niche at Med-

STOW—State Fire Marshal Jon M. Davine is asking residents to practice outdoor fire safety in the weeks and months ahead.

“As the weather gets warmer and we start spending more time outside, outdoor fires also start to increase,” State Fire Marshal Davine said. “Unfortunately, many of these fires cause serious injuries and property damage – but almost all of them can be prevented.”

Grilling Safety

About two-thirds of grilling fires in Massachusetts occur between May and August. About 75% take place on residential properties – most often one- and two-family homes. Memorial Day is a leading day for cookouts with family and friends, so stay safe when using your gas or charcoal grill:

- Always grill outdoors, never inside.
- A burning grill should always be attended by an adult.
- Never use a gas or charcoal grill on a porch, balcony, or fire escape.
- Place grills at least 10 feet away from buildings and deck railings. Make sure grills are not under eaves or overhanging branches.
- Gas grills may be used on first floor decks or patios only if there is an outdoor stairway to the ground, or it is at ground level.
- Always keep matches, lighters, and lighter fluid away from children.

- Create a three-foot “circle of safety” around grills. Keep children and pets at least three feet away on all sides.

Fire Pits and Chimineas

Outdoor burning is prohibited in Massachusetts from May 1 to January 15. While regulations allow exceptions for fires that are used for cooking, local fire chiefs and municipalities may prohibit or impose additional restrictions on these fires, including the use of fire pits and chimineas. Even where allowed, an adult must always be present with the tools necessary to extinguish such a fire immediately because of the inherent risk. Brush and structure fires in Agawam, Florida, Goshen, and Haverhill in recent weeks all started with fire pits that were unattended or improperly used. Any burning that creates a nuisance, a condition of air pollution, or hazard to others is always prohibited.

Brush and Wildland Fire Safety

Almost all outdoor fires are caused by human behavior. In the warm, dry weather expected Sunday and Monday, these fires may spread to dangerous sizes quickly and require numerous firefighting resources to contain and extinguish. And because about 50% of Massachusetts homes are in Wildland-Urban Interface or Intermix zones, outdoor fires can easily threaten people and property.

- Practice fire safety with grills, flammable liquids, smoking materials, and power equipment.
 - Before setting up a campfire, be sure it is permitted by checking with the local fire department.
 - Clear away dry leaves and sticks and overhanging low branches and shrubs.
 - Keep campfires small so they are easier to control and attend to them at all times.
 - Always have a hose, bucket of water, or shovel and dirt or sand nearby to put out the fire.
 - Make sure your campfire is out cold before leaving.
 - If using an ATV, dirt bike, or other off-road vehicle, be sure the spark arrestor is properly installed, as required by Massachusetts law.
 - Don’t park a vehicle or power equipment such as a lawnmower on or near dry vegetation. A hot engine or exhaust can ignite dry grass, leaves, or debris.
- “We saw last fall just how quickly brush and wildland fires can grow to sizes that require a large response by local and regional fire departments,” said State Fire Marshal Davine. “These fires strain our resources and make it harder to respond to other emergencies. If you see an outdoor fire, please call 9-1-1 to report it as soon as possible.”
