WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The City of West Sacramento broke ground at Heritage Oaks Park on Aug. 28 to begin a "long-awaited" $7.8-million project on Lake Washington Boulevard, aimed at revitalizing recreational amenities and honoring the park's history.

West Sacramento Mayor Martha Guerrero, Parks and Recreation Director Kate Smith, Councilwoman Verna Sulpizio-Hull and Congresswoman Doris Matsui gave remarks during the ceremony, sharing what the project is expected to do for the community and how it was developed.

Smith thanked the many city, business and tribal partners that participated in the project.

"A special thanks also goes out to our former parks and recreation director, Traci Michel, who had the initial vision of the park design and was successful in securing the land and water conservation fund," Smith said during the ceremony's opening remarks.

More than 50 individuals were at Heritage Oaks Park to celebrate the ground-breaking ceremony as well as the opening of a new cafe, located within the park, Emile's Cafe, which opened in July. Attendees were treated with complimentary coffee, pastries and parfaits from the cafe during the ceremony. Emile's is run by the same family responsible for Whitey's Jolly Kone, a local staple in West Sacramento since 1963.

Guerrero read off a list of upgrades that will enhance the park's accessibility, recreation and community engagement, while still honoring the land's cultural heritage. She said that a key amenity included ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act)-accessible equipment on playgrounds with poured-in place rubber surfaces.

The mayor said other amenities featured "a river-themed spray ground; a central gathering area with a restroom, picnic tables and shade trees; an outdoor amphitheater; a health and wellness path; a walking trail with fitness stations and bench

International Overdose Awareness Day

By Seth Henderson

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Yolo County Board of Supervisors adopted Resolution No. 25-95 on Aug. 26, declaring Aug. 31 as International Overdose Awareness Day.

According to provisional data from the Center for Disease Control, 114,000 fewer overdoses took place between October 2023 and September 2024, totaling 87,000 overdoses, which was the fewest recorded figure during a 12-month period since June 2020.

Twenty-six individuals succumbed to opiate overdoses during the same reporting period, compared to 30 individuals the previous year.

A leading cause of death for Americans aged 18 to 44 is overdose, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Yolo County officials and agencies "collectively support the concept of harm reduction and treatment where appropriate, rather than incarceration for those suffering from Substance Use Disorders (SUD)," according to a document from the board of supervisors.

To strengthen connectivity and relationships between service providers and community members, an organization known as the Yolo County Opioid Coalition was formed and is comprised of multiple departments, including corrections, behavioral health, health and human services and non-county health partners. The coalition exists to support communities impacted by opioid use and addiction.

The coalition sponsored and staffed a booth at the Yolo County Fair, offering education, resources and giveaways for those affected by substance use disorders. Since the international day's inception in 2001, more than 1,000 events have been held internationally in support of bringing an end to overdose, according to the Yolo County Board of Supervisors.

seating; an elevated boardwalk that winds through the heritage oak tree grove; and a multiuse turf area.”

Other additions to the park include a BMX skills course with integrated features for skateboarders, additional picnic tables and drinking fountains, and an expanded parking lot with 29 additional spaces.

Three million of the $7.8 million was provided through the land and water conservation fund, according to the City of West Sacramento. Conditionally, because of that allocation, the Heritage Oaks Park site must remain dedicated as a public park, in perpetuity.

Guerrero said the park project is part of the City Council’s vision for West Sacramento as one of the region’s premier cities.

The Yocha Dehe Wintun Nation, in partnership with the Shingle Springs Rancheria and Wilton Rancheria, are providing cultural training in addition to monitoring the construction project. Smith said their partnership helped inform the park’s design and cultural theme.

“We look forward to this park becoming a place where all visitors can enjoy beauty and tranquility, reflect on the rich history of the land, recognize the resilience of indigenous communities, and consider their own connections to the land and its original caretakers, past, present and future,” Sulpizio-Hull said.

Sulpizio-Hull, who is also the vice-mayor, said Heritage Oaks Park is her home park and that it holds significant meaning for her. She is often there with her two sons.

“I still remember pushing my now 5-year-old when he was a baby on the swings that sat right over there and this is the same place where he learned to do a backflip,” Sulpizio-Hull said.

Matsui spoke about her admiration for the park’s old and historic oak trees, complimenting West Sacramento’s natural beauty. She said that the West Sacramento community is always so involved and invested in their city.

“Whenever I come here, the people here, Martha, the City Council, the staff are always ready to work,” Matsui said. “And that is so important here because you are a newer city.”

Matsui said it was an important opportunity for her to participate in securing the $3 million in funding for the park project to build a park that is open for all.

Kevin Ericson and his sister, Jennifer Havson, are the owners of Emile’s Cafe and the grandchildren of Whitey’s Jolly Kone owner Emile “Whitey” Boisclair Park. The cafe is named after their grandfather, Ericson said.

Excited to be a third-generation small-business owner in West Sacramento, Ericson said he has been anticipating the park’s construction. Ericson said he talks regularly with the neighbors surrounding his business and hears how much Heritage Oaks Park

Kate Smith, the parks and recreation director for West Sacramento, speaks at the podium during the groundbreaking ceremony on Aug. 28 for Heritage Oaks Park on Lake Washington Boulevard. means to the community.

Ericson said Emile’s is bridging the gap between his family’s business across town and the Heritage Oaks neighborhood. He watched how his family ran Whitey’s and how the establishment “grew up” with the community and anticipates building similar relationships at Emile’s Cafe.

“It will evolve over time as far as hosting events, once the park is completed, engaging with the city to make sure the space and the cafe are available to the community,” Ericson said.

Emile’s is focused more on breakfast and lunch, Ericson said, and customers won’t find the traditional burgers and ice cream but rather an entirely different atmosphere and ambiance.

Ericson said he has received a warm welcome from the community, meeting new faces and reconnecting with familiar ones.

“I’m excited to be partnering with the city and we are excited to support them throughout this process of construction and for many years to come,” Ericson said. “It’s really being stewards and caretakers of the park.” ★

“When we invest in a child’s imagination, we invest in their future,” said Dr. Dawnté Early, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region. “Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library is more than books. This program is about opening doors, sparking dreams and imagination, and making sure every child, no matter their zip code, has access to books from an early age.”

Celebrating its 30th anniversary this year, Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library began in Sevier County, Tenn., where Parton grew up, and has since expanded internationally. In California, the Imagination Library is also supported by a 50% state match, administered through the California State Library.

Since launching in 1995, Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library has become the pre-eminent early childhood book-gifting program in the world. The flagship program of The Dollywood Foundation, a nonprofit organization, has gifted more than 280 million free books in the United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Australia and The Republic of Ireland.

This is achieved through funding shared by The Dollywood Foundation and local community partners. The Imagination Library mails more than 3 million high-quality, age-appropriate books directly to children’s homes each month. Each child enrolled in the program receives one book per month from birth to age 5 at no cost to families.

Parton envisioned creating a lifelong love of reading and inspiring children to dream more, learn more, care more and be more. The program’s impact has been widely researched, and results demonstrate its positive impact on early childhood development and literacy skills. Penguin Random House is the exclusive publisher of Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library. For more information: <https://imaginationlibrary.com/>.

Suicide Prevention Awareness Month

The Jason Foundation News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - September is recognized as Suicide Prevention Awareness Month, a time to confront a subject often shrouded in silence and stigma.

Many fear that simply discussing suicide could incite thoughts of self-harm in those they care about. However, this misconception couldn't be further from the truth.

World Suicide Prevention Day, observed on Sept. 10, serves as a powerful reminder that open conversations about suicide and suicidal ideation can break down barriers and diminish stigma. These discussions pave the way for critical dialogues on mental health, potentially saving lives.

In California, suicide tragically stands as the second leading cause of death among young people aged 10 to 24. Yet, it remains a profoundly preventable tragedy. Those contemplating suicide often show subtle warning signs, whether through their words, actions or changes in behavior. By familiarizing ourselves with these warning signs and understanding how to respond, we can collectively make a life-saving difference.

Now is the time to come together in the fight against this crisis. Reach out to those who have been impacted by suicide, amplify awareness, and help connect individuals grappling with suicidal thoughts to professional counselors and treatment services that can provide vital support.

If you know someone carrying the heavy burden of depression or contemplating suicide, it's crucial to seek help immediately. The 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline is a beacon of hope, providing free, 24/7 support for anyone in emotional distress or crisis. Trained counselors and mental health professionals are available around the clock to lend an empathetic ear and guidance to anyone in need.

Another invaluable resource is The Jason Foundation (JFI), a national leader in suicide prevention year-round, not just in September. The foundation is dedicated to raising awareness and providing educational programs aimed at equipping youth, parents, educators, and communities with the knowledge and tools necessary to identify and support at-risk youth.

Their commitment is profound; The Jason Foundation has never charged a school, community or individual for its programs or resources. Visit The Jason Foundation's website to dive deeper into the issues surrounding youth suicide, recognize the warning signs, and discover how you can be part of a solution that makes a real difference. ELIZABETH RUZICH • 1946 - 07/31/2025

Elizabeth Ruzich passed away peacefully at Memorial Hospital in Sacramento on July 31, 2025, at the age of 79.

She was born in County Tipperary, Ireland in 1946. She is survived by two sisters, Kitty and Johana in Ireland, her husband of 58 years Ken Ruzich, 3 children Alan, Jennifer, and Gary, 3 grandchildren Dylan, Jared, and Kayla, and great-granddaughter Caitlin. She was a resident of West Sacramento for 50 years. She loved spending time and talking with her family and friends and was involved in many community activities. Her caring and outgoing manner will be missed by all who knew her.

Almond Markets Jolted by Large Crop Forecast

After farming at a loss for as many as five consecutive years, California almond growers watched prices climb for much of the past year, promising a return to profitability. Then, right before harvest, the U.S. Department of Agriculture released an unexpectedly high crop forecast of 3 billion pounds. “That shocked the market,” said Ali Amin, owner of Primex International Trading, a major nut exporter based in Los Angeles. Anticipating a glut, buyers pulled back, causing almond prices to drop nearly 20% overnight. The reaction erased roughly a billion dollars from the total crop value, and it eliminated the profit margin for many farmers. “You wake up at 5 in the morning and work until 10 at night, and you can’t break even,” said Jasbir Sidhu, who began harvesting almonds in Fresno and Madera counties the first week of August.

High Beef Prices Keep U.S. Cattle Numbers Low

The supply of cattle in the U.S. is historically low, and market dynamics for ranchers could sustain the trend for some time. With their animals earning record-high prices, ranchers are more inclined to sell calves for cash rather than keep them for breeding, growing the nation’s herd. After drought annihilated their herds, many cow-calf operators are “finally getting out of the red a little bit,” Calaveras County rancher Michael David Fischer said, and with current cattle prices “going absolutely crazy, it encourages them to sell.” Abbi Prins, an industry analyst for CoBank in Minnesota, said she expects the size of the nation’s beef cowherd won’t start to see signs of expansion until 2027 because it takes nearly two years for heifer calves born this year to produce their own calves.

Water Quality Panel Focuses on Agricultural Nitrogen Use

As California water officials consider new rules, farmer advocates are pushing back against strict limits on how much nitrogen farmers can apply to their crops. Kari Fisher, senior counsel and director of legal advocacy for the California Farm Bureau, said it is too soon to adopt nitrogen limits, as the industry is still gathering and evaluating data to develop realistic targets. “We have found that the one-size-fits-all nitrogen and application reporting requirements don’t necessarily fit with how agriculture is grown in the state because of differences related to commodity type, where crops are grown and reliance on surface water versus groundwater and the like,” Fisher said.

Report Examines How Farms Cope with Labor Shortages

Farm labor scarcity is a growing challenge for farmers, particularly in light of the Trump administration’s goals for mass deportations. A new report from the University of California Giannini Foundation of Agricultural Economics suggests that labor shortages may force some California farmers to alter how they grow crops and manage workers by raising wages, changing cultivation practices, implementing labor-saving technologies and using farm labor contractors. If immigration enforcement targets undocumented farmworkers, California farmers are expected to adopt similar strategies, the report said. ★

Austin

Dear Austin,

I can tell you’re excited about the idea of getting out of debt. And that’s a good thing! But I don’t want you to get ahead of yourself when it comes to gaining control of your finances.

Here’s my Baby Steps plan. The first thing you should do is set aside a beginner emergency fund of $1,000. That’s Baby Step 1. Next comes Baby Step 2, which means paying off all your debt, except for your house. This would include your car. During this time, you should temporarily stop any kind of investing and retirement contributions, so you can attack your debt with a vengeance.

Once your mortgage is the only debt you have, it’s on to Baby Step 3. This means you start saving money to grow your beginner emergency fund into a fully-funded emergency fund of three to six months of expenses. After that, it’s on to Baby Step 4, which is investing 15 percent of your pre-tax income for retirement. In your case, that would mean re-starting contributions to your 401(k).

The rest of the plan goes like this. Baby Step 5 is putting money into your kids’ college funds, if you have kids. Baby Step 6 is focusing on paying off the house early, and then comes the real fun. Baby Step 7 is where you build wealth and give like crazy.

It may take a little time in some cases, but there are millions of people out there who will tell you this—following the Baby Steps works!

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address https://www.servicelinkauction.com/ or call ServiceLink Auction | Hudson and Marshall at (866) 539-4173 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA06000061-25-1. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (855) 313-3319 or visit this Internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 079232-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 079232-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. # Mikus Losbergs Elevated to Head Coach

Sacramento State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Mikus Losbergs, a big part of the program as both a player and assistant coach, has been elevated to head men's tennis coach, athletics director Mark Orr said Aug. 27.

Losbergs will take over for Kevin Kurtz, who recently retired after eight seasons as head coach.

Losbergs has been on campus, either as a player or assistant coach, each of the last 10 years. That includes four highly successful seasons as a player for the Hornets (2015-19), followed by six years as an assistant coach (2019 to 2025).

"We are thrilled to see Mikus take the next step in his journey with Sacramento State as the head men's tennis coach," Orr said. "As a former standout player and dedicated assistant coach, Mikus embodies the values of our program: hard work, passion and a commitment to excellence both on and off the court. His deep connection to the Hornet family makes him the ideal leader to guide our student-athletes and continue the proud tradition of Sacramento State men's tennis."

As assistant coach, Losbergs had an array of duties with the program, including recruiting, on-court coaching, scheduling, travel, budget and equipment.

Losbergs helped Sacramento State better its record each of the first five seasons of his coaching tenure. That included a 2024 season in which Losbergs helped guide the team to a 17-7 overall record, 7-1 conference mark, Big Sky regular season and tournament crowns, and an NCAA Tournament appearance. That magical season also saw the team post a seven-match winning streak (longest since 2010) and an eight-match winning streak versus Big Sky opposition (longest since 2011). A program-record six Hornets were named all-Big Sky, including conference MVP Mark Keki.

"First, I want to thank Mark Orr for giving me this incredible opportunity," Losbergs said. "I'm truly honored and it's a great privilege to be part of a university with such a rich athletic history. I'm energized by the chance to lead a group of talented and dedicated student-athletes who are hungry to grow, compete and succeed."

"This role is more than just a coaching position; it's an opportunity to build something special. My vision is to create a culture rooted in hard work, accountability and relentless pursuit of excellence, both on and off the court. We'll focus on developing not only strong tennis players but strong young men who represent Sac State with pride in everything they do. I can't wait to get started and bring new energy and vision to this program."

In 2023, Losbergs helped the Hornets finish 12-7 overall, 5-2 in the Big Sky Conference and 9-1 at home. Sacramento State was the No. 2 seed at the Big Sky Tournament, had a pair of winning streaks at least four matches long, won its first nine home matches of the season and won the doubles point in 13 of the team's 19 matches.

Losbergs had a major hand in Sacramento State's recruiting class being ranked ninth in the nation among all mid-major institutions in 2020. One of those recruits, Keki, became the first player in program history to be named first team all-Big Sky in both singles and doubles play during all four seasons of his career.

As a player, Losbergs was a four-time all-Big Sky Conference selection, including twice named to the first team (2017, 2019), and twice named to the second team (2016, 2018). He became the first Sacramento State player to receive all-league recognition four times since Kiryl Harbatsiuk accomplished the feat from 2008 to 2011.

Losbergs finished his career 47-39 in dual singles play and 29-14 in Big Sky matches. He played at No. 1 in the team's singles lineup in all but one of those contests. In addition, Losbergs posted a 49-33 record in dual doubles play to go along with a 28-12 league mark with each of those matches coming at the No. 1 spot in the lineup. At one point during the 2015-16 season, Losbergs and partner Kasparas Zemaiteles were ranked as the 30th-best doubles team in the nation.

Academically, Losbergs was a four-time Big Sky all-academic selection, a three-time ITA Scholar-Athlete award winner, and graduated from Sacramento State with a communication studies degree in spring 2019. ★

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento River Cats, proud affiliate of the San Francisco Giants, have announced their 150-game schedule for the upcoming 2026 season and are offering a limited time opportunity to be the first to secure tickets for next season.

Fans who purchase tickets to remaining contests in 2025 will receive an equal number of tickets for the 2026 season. Fans can visit rivercats.com for more information.

There will be a total of 13 series hosted by the River Cats at Sutter Health Park, opening with a three-game set against the El Paso Chihuahuas (San Diego Padres) from March 27 to 29.

Three of Sacramento's first five series at home will see teams from the Pacific Coast League East Division, as the River Cats host the Albuquerque Isotopes (Colorado Rockies) from March 21 to 26 before facing the Sugar Land Space Cowboys (Houston Astros) from May 19-24. In between are series against the Las Vegas Aviators (Athletics) from April 7-12 and the Reno Aces (Arizona Diamondbacks) from May 5 to 10.

The River Cats travel twice to face off against the Salt Lake Bees (Los Angeles Angels) in the first weeks of action, spending six games in the Beehive State from March 31 to April 5 before returning from April 28 to May 3. Salt Lake visits Sacramento twice in 2026, starting from July 7 to 12 before coming back from Sept. 1 to 6.

Both the Tacoma Rainiers (Seattle Mariners) and Reno Aces make a pair of trips to Sacramento for six-game sets, as the Aces come back to West Sacramento to play the River Cats in the last week of the season from Sept. 15-20. Tacoma first visits Sacramento in the summer from June 2 to 7, while their final visit takes place from Aug. 18 to 23.

While every Pacific Coast League team visits Sutter Health Park at least once, the Oklahoma City Comets (Los Angeles Dodgers) and Round Rock Express (Texas Rangers) will only make one trip. The Giants-Dodgers organizational rivalry renews from July 21 to 26, not long after their battle in Oklahoma City as the second half of Sacramento's only 12-game road trip from June 16 to 21. Round Rock rolls into Sacramento from Aug. 4 to 9 and hosts the River Cats from May 12 to 17.

Sacramento will take the field only once on a holiday next season, facing off against the Reno Aces on Mother's Day, May 10. The River Cats will play a total of 39 weekend home games, with 13 each on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. Meanwhile, Sacramento will play 36 weekday home games with 12 games each on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Due to the six-game series format, the River Cats will not play on Mondays.

The full 150-game schedule can be viewed here. Game times for all 150 contests, 2026 membership information, and a full 2026 promotions schedule are to be announced. First access to single game tickets for the 2026 season are available for a limited time here. ★
