Mira Loma Celebrates 65th

Mira Loma High School's Mascot, the caped Matador, is joined by football players, cheerleaders and event organizers at the school's recent 65th reunion.

Story and photos
by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - School colors of scarlet and blue were proudly on parade during recent celebrations for Mira Loma High School's 65th birthday. The school's Mighty Matador mascot strutted among nearly 1,700 alumni and friends.

Mira Loma is one of eight Sacramento-area high schools administered by the San Juan Unified School District. Most were built in the 1960s, in answer to massive population growth in the district.

While the Edison Avenue campus serves Carmichael, North Highlands and Arden Arcade, an international Baccalaureate option has drawn students from more distant areas. Current enrollment is almost 1,700.

Among reunion visitors was Charley Berger, the school's principal from 1985 to 1993, who reunited with former student Rich Nichols. Nicholls became principal in 2011 and served until 2016.

A staffer from opening day, Spanish teacher Barbara Brown (90) shared a quad table with Warner Seargeant (91), who taught English and coached basketball.

"I felt lots of love at the event," Seargeant said, "love among students for each other and for their school.

They sang the fight song with great gusto. The main change I noticed from my time here was how diverse the student body now is."

The school's Asian Club members dazzled with dragon dances; Taiko drumming and fan dances orchestrated the display. Football members led tours of their new stadium. Some alumni arrived in school-year vehicles that closed ranks in a classic car show. Student, staff and alumni musicians performed quad concerts; cheerleaders added high-kicks and pompoms.

The alma mater song rang from hundreds of throats: "We'll ever be

New Home Sales Dip in September

North State Building Industry Association News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - As many prospective homebuyers waited to see what happened with mortgage interest rates, new home sales in the Sacramento region dipped in September but remained above the average number of sales for the month, according to the North State Building Industry Association.

North State Building Industry Association member homebuilders reported selling 430 homes, 5 percent above the average 409 sales during September dating back to 1997. Sales were down 13 percent from August and 19 percent below September 2024. Building Industry Association President and CEO Tim Murphy said that many buyers are hoping that interest rates drop further before pulling the trigger.

"While mortgage rates have dropped to below 6.5 percent, many potential buyers are betting that they will fall even further in the near future," Murphy said. "It is also possible that buyers are waiting to see how soon the government shutdown is resolved. Markets like certainty and homebuyers are no different."

Murphy said that many area builders continue to offer generous incentives to help make home buying more attainable and there is a wide selection of styles and locations in the 197 active new home communities from Yuba City to Galt. And Murphy again called on area governments to streamline the permitting process and reduce the fees that now average more than $100,000 per home.

"Too often, the permitting process takes years between when a new development is proposed and when construction actually begins, and along with high fees and other costs, builders can't meet the demand for housing. Until this gridlock is broken, demand will continue to outstrip supply and housing costs will remain challenging," Murphy said.

In September, Roseville recorded the most sales with 98, followed by 75 in Rancho Cordova, 51 in Sacramento, 50 in Plumas Lake and 36 in Elk Grove. Natomas was sixth with 29 sales, followed by Lincoln (25), Folsom (13), Rocklin (11) and El Dorado Hills (10).

North State Building Industry Association statistics covered 197 new home communities reported by members in Amador, El Dorado, Nevada, Placer, Sacramento, Sutter, Yolo and Yuba counties. ★

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - For more than 10 years, the Crocker Art Museum has offered an event designed particularly for homeschooled students and parents, known as Homeschool Day, and tens of guests visited the museum on Oct. 16 to spectate as well as create their own art.

The museum's director of marketing and communications, Kat Haro, said that each event is tied to a theme, with this session featuring the Black Artists in America exhibit. She said that guests can experience the exhibits through guided tours with docents or explore the more than 150,000 square feet of museum space.

Homeschool Day is one of the museum's 350 public programs, Haro said, allowing students to experience the museum during a drop-in session from noon to 2 p.m. for $5 per person.

faithful to the scarlet and blue... Keep your courage, mighty Matador – let glory and honor live forever more.”

“Everybody had such a good time,” said co-organizer Francie Selby Axtell (73), who taught home economics and business for 22 years. “Many former students recognized me. I wasn’t much older than them when I started teaching there. Some of their kids became Mira Loma students. And some of them now have grandchildren enrolled here.”

Axtell’s memories include fall semesters that could not begin before Labor Day because the school had no cooling system.

“Now there’s air conditioning in most rooms,” the former teacher said. “And there are computers everywhere.”

Recent campus improvements include a state-of-the-art science wing, an aviation classroom and upgraded sport facilities to accommodate Mighty Matador games.

“Good Day Sacramento” anchor Tina

Macuha was among returning alumni. The 1978 graduate recalled the exact location of her locker and wearing blue and red satin as a school mascot.

“I used to yell so hard, my voice got hoarse,” she said. “Coming back and walking through the old buildings took me down memory lane.”

Sixty-five years of alumni confirmed they did not want to wait 10 years for the next reunion.

“It was a wonderful event with activities all day long,” reflected co-organizer Axtell. “People told me they couldn’t wait 10 years for another reunion.”

“I loved seeing my students again. Teachers don’t get gold watches. Our reward is seeing what great citizens our students have become,” Axtell said.

brought one of her three boys, 9-year-old Roubaix Revell, because he is artistically inclined and Roubaix was excited to create art at the interactive exhibits. Kristine Revell said that all three of her boys are autistic and that Roubaix looks at the world differently than most people, saying he is quite communicative.

“(Roubaix) is very passionate about drawing and artwork and expressing himself through different mediums,” Kristine Revell said.

Guests were given a map of the museum’s three levels, correlating with an exhibit or activity to experience. As students made their way through the exhibit, they were encouraged to think about how they might express their life’s story through art. The three levels took patrons through collages, art stations, “Tot Land,” and other exhibits featuring the Black Artists in America theme.

“I definitely want to go to where you can make your own (art) and get involved with creating your own medium,” Kristine Revell said. “So, I think that’s where he’s going to be really excited. He’s super excited about today.”

Julie Powell, the coordinator of strategic initiatives at Horizon Charter School said that Homeschool Days provide opportunities for students who are unhoused or facing other financial challenges that make it difficult to attend field trips.

Homeschooling can be isolating, Powell said, but allowing students to experience and develop an appreciation of art allows youth who aren’t in a traditional classroom environment to actively engage with each other.

Powell said a student’s experience is not only artistic but also cultural, allowing the Homeschool Day event to be woven into a curriculum, program or lesson plan. She said that some students were excited to experience the exhibit but others responded with an unenthusiastic, “because my mom said so,” when asked why they came to the event.

Haro said that students aren’t just looking at the art or having it described to them but creating their own. The docents immerse the students into the experience by having them sit down in front of the artwork

“It’s the best time of year when the kids come in,” Haro said regarding the numerous school programs held at the museum throughout the year.

The museum and the art inside it should reflect the community of Sacramento, Haro said, fostering deeper connections with the communities within Sacramento.

Upcoming events at the Crocker Art Museum include Art Rx, an event for individuals with chronic pain, their loved ones and caregivers on Oct. 25 at 11 a.m.; Trick Art Treat on Oct. 25 at 2 p.m. for themed art-making, storytelling and more; Sketching at the Historic Sacramento City Cemetery on Oct. 26 at 1 p.m. for skill building; and Craftical Magic on Oct. 30 at 6:30 p.m. for a screening of the 1998 film, “Practical Magic.”

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Thanks to green-fingered teenagers, 15 new trees will increase shade and air quality at Maddox Park in Carmichael.

Maddox Park is at 4821 Thor Way.

The recent effort was part of the Carmichael Kiwanis Clubs' Giving Tree Project, which aims to augment Sacramento's green canopy by planting habitat-friendly trees in schools and public places.

With help from Key Club volunteers from local schools, Kiwanis members dug into soil, fortuitously loosened by overnight rain.

SMUD director and environmental champion Heidi Sanborn gave planting and staking tips to 30 helpers from Jesuit, El Camino, Del Campo and Rio Americano High School Key Clubs.

Fixing Sacramento County's Roads

A Straightforward Plan that Works

By Sacramento County Supervisor Rosario Rodriguez

If you've driven anywhere in Sacramento County lately, you've probably noticed the same thing I have: our roads are in rough shape. Potholes, cracks and worn pavement have become the norm instead of the exception. The truth is that the condition of our county's road network has continued to decline and unless we act, it's only going to get worse.

Right now, Sacramento County's average Pavement Condition Index, or PCI, is just 41 out of 100. That is considered poor by engineering standards, meaning many of our roads are approaching the point where simple maintenance is no longer enough. Our backlog of deferred road repairs is now estimated at more than $1 billion, more than double what it was less than a decade ago.

In Sacramento County, we've done what we can with the tools we have. For several years, the County has dedicated about $20 million annually from its General Fund to road repair, a significant commitment that few other counties make. As I've settled into this role and spent time in our communities, I've also seen how Citrus Heights is investing its own General Fund dollars into local road improvements and taking an entrepreneurial approach that stretches every dollar further.

This commitment has delivered real, visible progress in recent years. Still, without a dedicated funding source, both the County and most cities face an uphill battle. Communities with local sales tax measures, such as Elk Grove and Rancho Cordova, are moving ahead more quickly, while others must continue stretching limited resources to keep pace.

Part of the reason we're here is because the gas tax and vehicle fees people already pay are not keeping pace with rising costs and declining state and federal funding. When the most recent state gas tax increase was passed in 2017, it was promoted as the solution that would finally fix our roads. The public messaging was convincing but the actual measure told a different story.

Even before it passed, the previous county supervisor for this district warned that it would only cover a small portion of our road maintenance needs and that our PCI would continue to decline. Unfortunately, that warning proved correct.

The revenues from that gas tax helped slow the decline for a few years but they were never enough to reverse it. Meanwhile, the state's distribution formulas have shifted funding toward statewide priorities and larger metropolitan centers, leaving counties like ours to fend for ourselves. At the same time, construction costs have skyrocketed, and as more residents switch to electric vehicles, gas tax revenues continue to fall.

That's why I've asked county staff to bring forward a proposal for the Board of Supervisors to consider: a small, time-limited sales tax that would be used only to repair existing roads in unincorporated Sacramento County — nothing else. This would likely be a half-cent or smaller increase for up to 10 years, overseen by a citizen advisory committee to ensure every dollar is spent as promised.

Unlike past proposals that spread money across unrelated projects such as buses, bike lanes or light rail, this plan would be narrow, transparent and entirely focused on the issue residents care about most: fixing the roads we already have.

People tell me all the time that they would support a tax if it actually went to fixing the roads. This proposal is exactly that. It would finally allow us to fully address the backlog and restore Sacramento County's roads to a level of quality that residents expect and deserve.

We cannot keep waiting for someone else to fix this. Either we make the investment now or we allow the problem to grow more expensive every year. I believe residents are ready for a straightforward plan they can trust — one that delivers visible, measurable results.

If you'd like to share your thoughts or learn more about this proposal, please reach out to my office at 916-874-5491 or email SupervisorRodriguez@sac-county.gov. Together, we can make sure Sacramento County's roads are safe, reliable and something we can all be proud of again.

Voting in California's 2025 Special Election

How to Make Sure Your Ballot is Secure and Counted

By Shirley N. Weber, Ph.D. California Secretary of State

As voters across the state prepare to make their voices heard on Prop 50 — arguably one of the most important elections in California's history — it's essential their ballots are cast with confidence that their vote will be counted securely and on time.

There has been some misinformation surrounding ballots leading up to the Statewide Special Election on Nov. 4, and voters must understand the safeguards put in place to protect every ballot.

California ballots are designed with multiple layers of security. It is against the law to tamper with a ballot. Whether a voter chooses to vote by mail, drop off a ballot at a secure location, or vote in person, rules and regulations ensure ballots are not tampered with.

How to Vote Securely by Mail

Mail ballots are sent to every registered voter in the state. Each envelope is carefully tracked from the moment it's issued, and every ballot returned undergoes signature verification and inspection. Election officials check for any irregularities, such as damage to the envelope, or other signs it was compromised, before the ballot envelope is opened. If there's a red flag, the voter will be notified and corrective action taken.

To make sure a mail ballot is counted, it must be postmarked on or before Election Day, Nov. 4. In some areas, the U.S. Postal Service may not postmark mail until the following day, so it's recommended to send ballots early. If mailing on Election Day, ask a postal employee at your local post office for a manual postmark to confirm it was mailed on time.

Secure Ballot Drop-Off

When returning a ballot in person, use only official, county-operated locations. Secure ballot drop boxes are constructed with tamper-resistant materials, locked, and anchored in place. Each box is regularly emptied by trained, bipartisan election staff following strict chain-of-custody procedures. Ballots can also be returned at any vote center, polling place, or county elections office, where election workers directly accept and track them through the county's system.

Voting Safely at Polling Places and Voting Centers

Voting in person is another secure and reliable option for California voters. Polling places and vote centers are staffed by trained election workers who follow strict procedures to verify each voter, issue the correct ballot, and ensure every vote is properly recorded.

Ballots cast in person are immediately placed into secure ballot boxes or scanned using approved voting equipment that is tested and certified before every election.

These locations also provide language assistance, replacement ballots if one was lost or damaged, and same-day voter registration when needed.

Still have Questions and Concerns?

Voters who have questions about their ballots or the security of voting should go to a trusted source such as the Secretary of State's office, which offers voter hotlines in multiple languages including Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Spanish, Thai, and more. Another option is to visit your county elections office. A complete list can be found at sos.ca.gov/elections.

Additionally, the state provides tools to check when your ballot is received and counted, giving voters peace of mind and reinforcing the transparency of the process.

By taking the time to plan your vote, verify your registration, and use official information sources, you strengthen both your voice and the integrity of our elections. Make sure your voice is heard on Nov. 4. ★

Judge Dismisses Grand Jury Indictment Against Egghead Vandals

Yolo County District Attorney News Release

YOLO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Judge Sonia Cortés of the Yolo County Superior Court dismissed a grand jury indictment against defendants Nathan Orr, (32), Lysandra Dasilva (32) and Cheyenne Xiong (22), all from Davis, on Oct. 14.

The indictment alleged that on May 24, 2024, conspirators Orr, Dasilva and Xiong spray painted University of California, Davis' famed Egghead statues, as well as many other buildings and signs, as part of a coordinated vandalism attack across the campus. The vandals' messages criticized the Israel-Palestine conflict and UC Davis leadership.

UC Davis Police Department officers captured Dasilva and Xiong fleeing the scene of the crime, according to the District Attorney's office, and the crimes resulted in more than $4,200 in damages. UC Davis police forwarded the case to the District Attorney's Office and requested formal charges.

On July 19, 2024, a criminal Grand Jury of Yolo County citizens indicted Orr, Dasilva and Xiong on charges of felony vandalism and felony conspiracy; both Dasilva and Xiong were additionally indicted on misdemeanor charges of resisting, obstructing or delaying a peace officer.

On Oct. 14, Cortes dismissed the indictment against all defendants, over the objections of the D.A., citing their willingness to pay restitution, their lack of criminal record and 12 hours of community service they had each voluntarily completed.

In addition, an official representative from UC Davis indicated that community service that included an understanding of efforts undertaken to maintain the statutes would be beneficial and that the university did not object to a resolution to the case that fell outside the criminal justice system.

The District Attorney's Office consistently opposed the judge's decision to dismiss the case, arguing that it was an illegal court diversion.

"The judge's decision to entirely dismiss the felony indictment of the grand jury was unprecedented in my experience," District Attorney Jeff Reisig said.

"Judges are not generally authorized to unilaterally divert criminals indicted by the grand jury. We believe that Judge Cortes' decision was improper. "Moreover, the decision by the official UC Davis representative to recommend against a criminal conviction flies in the face of their original request and referral for criminal prosecution and creates a dangerous precedent for future cases of such conduct, suggesting similar criminal behavior at UC Davis will be treated with kid gloves. This outcome is not good for public safety in our communities." ★

Boo-Zilla

It seems like 2025 has created a new Halloween monster called world strife. But the traditions of yesteryear still hold true. Halloween comes between fall and winter with a dire meaning for life and death.

It combines celebration and death which we have already experienced beyond our wildest imagination this year. Halloween is thought to have originated with the Celtic Festival of Samhain. People would light bonfires and wear costumes to ward off roaming ghosts. That was some 2000 years ago in the area that is now Ireland, the United Kingdom and Northern France. Their New Year was November 1 which marked the end of summer with a harvest and the dark cold winter, a time of the year that was associated with human death. Celts believed that on the night before the New Year, the boundary between the worlds of the living and the dead became blurred. That's why they celebrated Samhain on October 31. They feared the roaming ghosts would cause trouble. They also thought the presence of other worldly spirits made it easier for the Druids and Celtic priests to make predictions about the future. Since this was a culture entirely dependent upon the volatile natural world, these prophecies were an important source of comfort and directions during the long and dark winter. Many cultures, including the Roman Empire that conquered the majority of the Celtic territory, combined the festivals of the Celts. So here we are in 2025 facing some of that volatile natural world and feeling helpless to make things go away...at least for now. Funny how history repeats itself in such strange ways.

Anyway, Halloween came to America, but extremely limited in colonial New England by the rigid Protestants. Today's

Halloween

probably dates back to the early All

Soul's Day

parades in England when poor citizens

would beg for food, and families would give them "soul cakes" in return for their promise to pray for the family's dead relatives. The soul cake was encouraged by the church as a way to replace the ancient practice of leaving wine and food for roaming spirits. Combine the different ethnic groups along with Native Americans and America developed its own Halloween. First there were parties as neighbors would share stories of the dead, tell fortunes, dance and sing. Eventually, they added ghost stories and mischief making.

Then, in the second half of the 19th century,

America was flooded with new immigrants because of Ireland's potato famine of 1846.

Now you have a combo of Irish and English traditions. Then came dressing n costumes and going house to house asking for money or food. And so "trick or treat" was born.

Young women believed they could divine the name of their future husband by doing tricks with yarn, apple parings and mirrors.

It's amazing how things change. This year it's not a culture, but war and politics that takes the stage. Please stay safe and pray for a better Halloween for all ages!!

HAPPY BOO-ZILLA DAY!!!

Women's Empowerment Program Celebrates 100th Graduating Class

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Fourteen graduates recently took a determined walk up to the stage amid cheers, applause and, for many, tears.

Tears in their eyes, and in the eyes of the staff, friends and family that have supported them through the hardest years of their life.

Tears of sadness and pain for their past and tears of hope and joy for their future.

As each graduate was introduced, another graduate adorned their neck with a brilliant purple and pink sash, symbolizing their transition into their story's next chapter.

Graduations are largely symbolic but the tangible and real results experienced by these Women's Empowerment program enrollees will shape the rest of their lives. The 14 graduates from the 100th graduating class of the Women's Empowerment program carry the weight of 99 classes before them and hold promise for the countless classes that will come after.

For more than 20 years, Women's Empowerment has equipped women experiencing homelessness by providing education, employment readiness, childcare and community support to help them rebuild their lives and move into independence.

"This 100th graduation is more than a number; it represents hundreds of women who have taken steps toward stability, confidence and a brighter future," said Women's Empowerment Executive Director Lisa Culp. "We are honored to walk alongside them as they reclaim their lives and inspire our entire community with their courage."

Since its founding, Women's Empowerment has graduated more than 1,800 women, many of whom have secured employment, housing and educational opportunities.

The program combines job training, counseling, health services and mentorship to address barriers faced by women experiencing homelessness. Several classes that the graduates said were particularly impactful focused on anger management, budgeting, cooking, parenting, ready to rent and resume building.

The recent ceremony was filled with heartfelt speeches from the graduates about what the program and the support of staff and fellow enrollees meant to them. Stories of addiction, trauma, domestic abuse, pain, disappointment and hopelessness gave way to dreams of self-sufficiency, sobriety, productive futures, sustained employment and permanent housing.

One graduate shared her experience in the budgeting class.

"They are teaching us how to budget if we want a future, not just a paycheck," she said. "We are better now than we were yesterday and we'll be better tomorrow, thanks to the love and support this program has given us."

The ceremony ended with the graduates' children giving them roses, a gesture from the childcare team to show how proud they are of the graduates' accomplishments and a reminder why they are working so hard to change their circumstances.

Another graduate, in closing the ceremony, said, "Breaking generational poverty, addiction and abuse is the most important thing we can do for the next generation. These children have endured trauma as well. Showing our kids that we are strong, resilient and worth more than the life we currently have is priceless. This program gives us the power we need to choose a new life, a new path. I now know that I am important. My voice matters. My story matters. And it's just beginning." ★

Pump Prices Rise Slightly after Southern California Refinery Fire

American Automobile Association News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - As autumn sets in, the national average price for a gallon of regular gasoline has dropped to $3.11 from the $3.15 average two weeks ago, as of Oct. 9.

According to the Energy Information Administration, demand for gasoline has fallen to a four-month low, contributing to the continued decline in pump prices. With the third quarter of 2025 ending in higher gasoline inventories and the seasonal transition from summer-grade to winter-grade fuel, consumers are likely to see even lower prices at the pump in the coming weeks.

Northern California refineries are expected to help cover supply in Southern California following the Chevron refinery fire in El Segundo two weeks ago. The average cost of regular gasoline in California rose two cents per gallon since two weeks ago to $4.66.

"Events that slow or stop gasoline production can prompt increased bidding for available gasoline supplies," said Doug Johnson, spokesperson for American Automobile Association (AAA) Mountain West Group. "Pipeline disruptions, planned or unplanned refinery maintenance or refinery shutdown may cause prices to increase especially the longer they remain offline. However, there is good news around the corner. California switches to the cheaper winter-grade fuel, starting Nov. 1."

AAA reported fuel prices on Oct. 9 as $4.75 in San Francisco, $4.65 in Oakland, $4.60 in San Jose, $4.61 in Sacramento, $4.59 in Fresno and $4.52 in Stockton.

According to Energy Information Administration data, gasoline demand increased from 8.51 million barrels per day two weeks ago to 8.91 million barrels per day. Total domestic gasoline supply decreased from 220.7 million barrels to 219.1 million. Gasoline production increased two weeks ago, averaging 9.8 million barrels per day.

The national average per kilowatt hour of electricity at a public EV charging station stayed the same last week at 36 cents, according to AAA, and California's average was at 38 cents.

The nation's Top 10 most expensive gasoline markets, as of Oct. 9, are California ($4.66), Washington ($4.50), Hawaii ($4.47), Oregon ($4.12), Nevada ($3.90),

The nation's Top 10 most expensive states for public electric charging per kilowatt hour, as of Oct. 9, are West Virginia (53 cents), Alaska (50 cents), Hawaii (46 cents), South Carolina (44 cents), Alabama (43 cents), New Hampshire (43 cents), Arkansas (43 cents), Louisiana (42 cents), Montana (42 cents), and Wisconsin (42 cents).

The nation's Top 10 least expensive states for public electric charging per kilowatt hour, as of Oct. 9, are Kansas (26 cents), Missouri (27 cents), Maryland (28 cents), Nebraska (28 cents), Utah (28 cents), Delaware (32 cents), Vermont (32 cents), North Carolina (32 cents), Iowa (33 cents) and Colorado (33 cents).

Over the last 10 years, California

State University, Sacramento has seen an enrollment increase of 6.7 percent. University officials attribute these increases to innovative and collaborative recruitment efforts.

With strong industry ties and hands-on opportunities, students are choosing Sacramento State to access opportunities that will shape their future well after graduation, according to the university. ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

Well Kings fans, the preseason is behind us, and there is one difference between last year's results and this year. Thanks to a stirring 117-116 win over the Los Angeles Lakers Friday night the Kings will enter the regular season on a winning note.

Fans will remember that one year ago with Mike Brown at the helm, the Kings ran through the preseason without a single win and finished the first 20 games of the regular season with a sorry win/loss record. That tepid beginning would be a catalyst that would eventually lead to the dismissal of coach Brown and bring on Doug Christie as the interim head coach.

Now one win certainly doesn't portend a definite turnaround, but winning never hurts, and what came out of the win over L.A. was very telling.

After a less than stellar beginning for newly acquired point guard Dennis Schroder, the much-traveled guard broke out of a scoring slump with a rousing 25 points to lead all scorers on the Kings team. Moreover, Schroder looked like the veteran NBA point guard he is, and was impressive the way he managed the game and distributed the ball.

Certainly, it's a huge relief for Doug Christie in light of losing forward Keegan Murray for probably the next 6 weeks, and Domantas Sabonis pulling a hamstring that will limit his action entering the upcoming season.

Fortunately, the injury to Sabonis does not appear to be severe, so there is optimism that he will be back sooner rather than later.

The prevailing question going into the Laker game was who will fill the vacated minutes of Keegan Murray, and can the Kings find any kind of a flow as it relates to their offensive schemes? Although the Kings competed from start to finish, that question wasn't completely answered in the one-point win over the hometown Lakers, but we at least got a glimpse of what might be going through the coaches' mind.

Isaac Jones finally got some quality minutes logging 23, and played solidly with 10 points, 3 rebounds, and 2 assists off the bench.

Dario Saric added 10 points of his own and 6 rebounds. Dario played 25 minutes and while not sterling, was solid on both ends of the floor.

Keon Ellis returned to form with a stirring 20 points in 26 minutes of action, and it appears likely that these 3 players will be called upon to fill in for the largest portion of minutes replacing Keegan Murray.

The key question is whether Doug Christie can turn the injury to Keegan Murray into something positive, and that would be using these minutes wisely to bring on players that have the most to give.

I continue to be an advocate of Isaac Jones, largely because he has never been given enough court time to see his full repertoire, and given his size and length, Isaac is difficult for opposing teams to guard around the rim. He is particularly adept at finishing lobbs and has a soft touch in the low post.

Dario Saric has been around longer, and I think the Kings know what they can expect from him, but let's use this time wisely to find out who else we have that can be a key contributor.

Another bright spot was the play of 2nd round draft choice Max Raynaud, who added 9 points and 2 boards in only 16 minutes, and is appearing to be more and more comfortable with every game.

Not be overlooked is the stellar play of Nique Clifford who has become the bastion of consistency. Nique played 33 minutes giving the Kings a much needed 13 points, 5 boards, and 7 big assists. Clifford has played the preseason as a standout on both ends of the floor and is giving everyone notice that this rookie is NBA ready.

Can Kings fans get excited with only one win to show for their preseason endeavors? You bet they can!

Friday night's game was a win over a quality team led by svelte Luca Doncic, and it was accomplished with Sabonis, Murray, and Malik Monk on the sidelines!

Don't underestimate the contribution that this future hall-of-famer, Russell Westbrook, has to offer, and if he can fit in with his new teammates, Westbrook could be the unforeseen x-factor that the Kings so badly need.

All the best!

Social Security Matters

How Do I Navigate the Social Security Maze?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I am a woman, turning 65 this October (2025). It seems that deciding when to claim Social Security is complicated. I would like more information to navigate through this maze. Thank you.

Signed: Ready to Claim
Dear Ready: Deciding when to claim Social Security can be challenging, but we hope to make it a bit easier for you. You can, of course, call us at any time to speak to one of our certified Social Security Advisors, but I'll share some pertinent information here as well.

Be aware that at age 65, you have not yet reached your Social Security (SS) full retirement age (FRA). Born in 1960, your FRA is age 67, and that is when you can get 100% of the SS benefit you've earned from a lifetime of working. If you claim SS at age 65, your monthly amount will be reduced by about 13.3% from your age 67 entitlement (a permanent reduction). If you wait a bit more and claim at age 66 the reduction would be about 6.7%. To get 100% of your "primary insurance amount" you should wait until age 67 to claim. Note you can also wait longer than your FRA and earn Delayed Retirement Credits up to age 70, when your monthly amount would be about 24% more than your FRA entitlement.

If you are still working, at age 65 you will also be subject to Social Security's Annual Earnings Test (AET) which limits how much you can earn when collecting SS benefits before your full retirement age. The earnings limit for 2025 is $23,400 (changes annually) and if you earn more than that, SS will take away $1 in benefits for every $2 you are over the limit. There is also a special rule for the first calendar year you are collecting early benefits, which will result in you not getting benefits for any month your work earnings are more than $1950 after your early benefits start. So, if you claim SS at age 65 and continue to work, you won't get any SS benefits in any 2025 month thereafter that you earn more than the monthly limit (unless your total annual; 2025 earnings are less than the annual limit). FYI, the earnings limit no longer applies once you attain your full retirement age.

In the end, deciding when you should claim Social Security should consider your need for Social Security money, your life expectancy, your plans for working, and your marital status. If you are (or were) married, you might be eligible for a spousal (or ex-spouse) benefit. You may also want to peruse the Social Security Q&A section at our website www.SocialSecurityReport.org. So, as you have already discerned, deciding when to claim Social Security can be confusing, but we are always here to assist you as needed. You can either call us directly at 1.888.750.2622 or email your specific Social Security questions to us at ssadviser@amacfoundation.org. In either case, we will be most happy to help you decide when to claim, based on your unique personal circumstances.

Still No Progress After Newsom's Housing Pledge

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Eight years ago, as he began his campaign for governor, Gavin Newsom described fixing the state's chronic housing shortage as a moral imperative.

"This is a question of who we are," Newsom wrote in 2017. "Housing is a fundamental human need — let's not forget the human face behind the dire statistics."

"Housing instability can cause genuine mental and physical adversity," he added, "and lead to insufferable decisions: no one should have to choose between paying rent or buying groceries. Knowing that too many Californians face this kind of anxiety breaks my heart."

Newsom pledged that as governor he would lead the effort to develop 3.5 million new housing units by 2025, "because our solutions must be as bold as the problem is big."

"I realize building 3.5 million new housing units is an audacious goal," Newsom continued, "but it's achievable. There is no silver bullet to solve this crisis. We need to attack the problem on multiple fronts by generating more funding for affordable housing, implementing regulatory reform and creating new financial incentives for local jurisdictions that produce housing while penalizing those that fall short."

The 3.5 million-unit goal was never anywhere near realistic. It would have required increasing construction from about 100,000 units a year when he made the pledge to more than 400,000, doubling peak production in this century.

That said, Newsom has over the almost seven years of his governorship, pretty much, done what he said he'd do to increase housing. He has signed multiple bills meant to speed up housing permits by eliminating state and local legal impediments, capped by two major measures this year.

Newsom signed Assembly Bill 130, which makes it more difficult to use the California Environmental Quality Act as a tool to block housing projects, and Senate Bill 79, which overrides local government land use authority to authorize multi-family, multi-story housing projects near transit stops.

Meanwhile Newsom's Department of Housing and Community Development has set statewide goals of 180,000 new units a year and 2.5 million units over eight years. It also imposed ambitious quotas on local governments to designate land for residential development and cracked down on communities that impede multi-family projects for low- and moderate-income families.

The latter effort responds to the most acute aspect of California's shortage — housing the nearly 35% of Californians who are living in poverty or near-poverty, mostly due to housing costs that are among the nation's highest.

With the enactment of AB 130 and SB 79, the looming conclusion of Newsom's governorship and the likelihood that he will run for president, it's time to appraise results.

Has the production of housing in California substantially increased? Unfortunately, no.

At the time Newsom made his pledge, about 100,000 units were being built each year, with the net increase substantially lower due to losses by fire or destruction. Eight years later, it's virtually unchanged, no matter which authority one consults.

The Census Bureau reports that between 2019, when Newsom took office, and 2024 new housing permits in California ranged from a high of 120,780 units in 2022 to a low of 101,546 last year. Newsom's own budget agrees with the Census Bureau's data for the same period and projects future construction through 2028 at 100,000 to 104,000 units a year.

Clearly, even though systemic barriers to housing construction have been eased, many developers have been unable to see housing in California as a good investment. The COVID-19 pandemic, which had massive economic impacts, and increases in interest rates to battle inflation also have had an effect.

Housing is far more complicated than Newsom depicted it when he made his promises. He gets a 'B' for effort — and an 'F' for results.

The "ceasefire now" crowd finally got its ceasefire, although not the way it hoped.

Israel and Hamas have agreed to stop the fighting in Gaza, while the terror group will release all Israeli hostages in exchange for Palestinian prisoners held by Israel.

There's always a chance the agreement falls apart. Still, it isn't creating jubilation from all the people who have been braying for Israel to end the war. There are two reasons -- one is that the deal is favorable for Israel, and the other is that the deal's architect is a president of the United States whom, the fiercest advocates of a ceasefire hate.

If it holds, the agreement is the biggest victory yet for Donald Trump's hyperactive, transactional diplomacy.

A lifetime of maneuvering for advantage in the real estate and media worlds in New York City -- searching for and using every ounce of leverage -- was better preparation for high-level international diplomacy than if Trump had spent a lifetime on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Whereas "international opinion" believed we had to isolate and cut off Israel, Trump armed the Jewish state, bombed Iran and squeezed Qatar to bring Hamas to heel -- and it worked. The deal is a tribute to avoiding the well-worn ruts of Middle East diplomacy.

The Gonzo Brilliance of Trump's Gaza Diplomacy

As for Israel, it needed to find a way out of a conflict that had become a PR disaster. Getting the hostages back is an important national goal, even if the exchange is lopsided (these swaps always are). Meanwhile, Israel will pull back to an agreed-upon line, but still hold an estimated 53% of Gaza as a security buffer. Even if things eventually go south again, Israel has bought time by decimating Hamas and significantly diminishing the threats from Iran and Hezbollah.

It is certainly true that Phase 2 of the deal, which is supposed to disarm Hamas and establish a technocratic Palestinian government in Gaza, will be much more difficult to pull off. If it were to come to fruition, though, it would be transformative for Israel's security and for the lives of Gazans.

There will presumably be no speeches at Hollywood awards ceremonies crediting Trump for his peace-making. Among other things, there's too much cognitive dissonance in saying, "I think President Trump is a dangerous fascist -- but appreciate how bound and determined he is to end conflicts around the world."

Trump is a gonzo version of standard U.S. foreign policy. All American presidents want to make peace in the Middle East, and all want, whether they say it or not, to win the Nobel Peace Prize. What's different about Trump is his methods, and his openness about seeking a call from the Nobel committee.

A hallmark of his policymaking at its best is an unwillingness to take "no" for an answer, an unremitting sense of urgency and a creativity that is considered unrealistic or reckless by conventional metrics. We saw it during his first term with his success in securing the border, with the historic achievement of Operation Warp Speed and with the Abraham Accords.

"The reasonable man adapts himself to the world," George Bernard Shaw maintained, "the unreasonable one persists in trying to adapt the world to himself. Therefore, all progress depends on the unreasonable man."

In this sense, Trump is usefully unreasonable. Everyone around the world needs to be a little afraid of him, while he is willing to talk to anyone or consider anything. His optimism can be misplaced (the Ukraine war was a tougher nut than he thought) and his highly personalized diplomacy can misfire (he got unnecessarily crosswise with Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi), but he can also prove all his doubters wrong.

The Washington cliché is that there is no limit to the good you can do if you don't care who gets the credit. Trump shows, to the contrary, that sometimes there is no limit to the good you can do if you want all the credit.

Defendants Convicted of Murder at Crowne Plaza Hotel

Sacramento County District Attorney's Office News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Bertrand Keeton, Cleveland Pratt Jr. and Lafonjany Moultrie were each convicted by a jury of first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

Aggravating factors that the crime was committed with planning, sophistication or professionalism were found true.

Bertrand Keeton was also convicted of felon in possession of a firearm with an allegation that Keeton personally and intentionally discharged a firearm causing death found true.

Lafonjany Moultrie was romantically connected with Cleveland Pratt. On Feb. 28, 2020, Moultrie lured the victim, Lumont Otis, to the Crowne Plaza Hotel under the guise of a "date." Once at the hotel with the victim, Moultrie communicated the victim's location to Pratt on a burner phone that Pratt purchased the day before for the murder. Pratt then used the burner phone to relay information to Bertrand Keeton, who then went to the hotel and waited for the victim to exit the hotel.

When the victim exited the hotel, Keeton shot the victim in the back multiple times, killing him. Pratt was later connected with the .40 caliber firearm used in the shooting.

Allegations that Keeton has a prior strike conviction for shooting at an inhabited dwelling and that Pratt has a prior strike conviction for conspiracy to shoot at an inhabited dwelling will be determined at the sentencing hearing.

Keeton faces a maximum sentence of 75 years to life in prison; Pratt faces a maximum sentence of 50 years to life in prison; and Moultrie faces a maximum sentence of 25 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 19 in Department 32 before the Honorable James Arguelles. ★

American River College Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Joseph "Pey" Brito, a former Beaver infielder from Delta High School, died two weeks ago. Pey redshirted at American River College in 2000 and then played second base for the Beavers baseball team in 2001 and 2002.

In 2002, he helped lead the Beavers to a second-place finish in the Bay Valley East Conference, as he hit .300 with five doubles and 14 RBI (runs batted in) while playing rock solid defense.

"Pey was a really good human being, a great father, friend and teammate," said current American River College head coach Doug Jumelet. "He played the game hard and with passion and had the respect of all of his teammates and coaches. He was a leader on the field and off. He was full of energy and we will all miss that, especially his family."

Former head coach Kevin Higgins when Brito was at American River College, said that he saw Brito at the gym a couple of months ago and Brito was very upbeat and spiritual, although he wasn't in great health due to cancer.

Athletics Director Rocko DeLuca's High Fives

UC Davis Athletics News Release

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - Caden Pinnick racks up weekly awards following a performance against No. 14 Northern Arizona that earned No. 6 UC Davis football a victory on homecoming. The red-shirt freshman quarterback added to his weekly awards being named the FCS Nation Radio National Offensive Player of the Week.

Pinnick was also named the Big Sky Offensive Player of the Week following the win against Northern Arizona, his third-straight such honor which tied a conference record.

The Aggie signal caller became the first Big Sky honoree to earn three-straight offensive player of the week honors since Dalton Sneed (Montana) earned the honor three times in a row in 2019. The difference between the two is that Pinnick has done it against three conference opponents, while Sneed played two conference opponents with his streak starting in the non-conference portion of Montana's 2019 schedule.

Pinnick shined in another Aggie victory throwing for a career-high, 348 passing yards while throwing five touchdowns, the most by an Aggie since 2018. Pinnick was also lights out going 25-for-29 to finish with a completion percentage of 86.2 percent. Over three games, Pinnick has gone 62-for-82, thrown for 949 yards, tossed 10 touchdowns and thrown no interceptions to lead the Aggies to 3-0 start in Big Sky play for the second-straight season.

As of Oct. 15, it was the fifth time this season that Pinnick earned weekly honors and the second time he earned national honors. He was named the Stats Perform National Freshman Player of the Week back in week one and he earned Big Sky Offensive Player of the Week honors after the Aggies knocked off Weber State, following the road win at Cal Poly and after the recent victory on homecoming over Northern Arizona.

Donor Impact – Willett Family

The Willett family's bond with UC Davis Athletics runs deep, rooted in both tradition and personal legacy. Genia Willett, daughter of long-time legendary UC Davis head coach Woody Wilson, and her husband, Jim, were recently recognized as the Champion Aggies Club Donors of the Game during UC Davis football's Big Sky opener against Weber State alongside their daughter and son-in-law, Tom and Kim Windall.

"We support athletics because of the high caliber of the program and the student-athletes." Genia said. "We also like to support athletics to honor my father, Woody Wilson, who put his heart and soul into the track and field program."

Their philanthropy has helped fuel scholarships, facility upgrades, and opportunities that empower student-athletes to excel both on the field and in the classroom. For the Willetts, each donation is a way to celebrate excellence and remember a man who gave everything to elevate the program.

Today, the Willett family's involvement is visible across campus, from the stands at Aggie football and basketball games to the track that bears the late Woody Wilson's name.

Their passion continues to inspire others in the Aggie community, exemplifying how one family's loyalty and love for a university can shape its legacy for generations.

Staff Spotlight – Jason Grace

If something runs smoothly at UC Davis athletics, chances are Jason Grace had a hand in it. As manager of Facilities and Operations, he's the steady presence making sure every field, court and locker room is ready to go, no matter what the day brings.

"My day can consist of stringing a lacrosse goal, setting up for a home game, fixing a locker or hanging a TV in a coach's office," Grace said. "I like not always knowing what my day is going to look like. Game days are the things I take the most pride in. It's not just the game but also the prep before and after the game."

After more than 20 years as a coach, Grace brings that same mindset into his work.

"Even though I'm not the coach, I still want everything set up the way I'd want it to be on game day," he said. "It's also helped me notice when something looks off and make sure it gets fixed so our coaches don't have to worry about it."

"Jason is one of those people who makes everyone around him better," said Director of Athletics Rocko DeLuca. "His commitment, reliability and pride in his work embody what UC Davis athletics stands for. We're incredibly grateful for the difference he makes every day across our department."

Team Spotlight – Volleyball

With wins over UC San Diego and Long Beach State two weekends ago, UC Davis women's volleyball is off to a historic start to their season.

"I think the team is playing with a ton of tenacity and courage, and it's been a ton of fun to watch them play over the start of the season," said head coach Dan Conners. "We're still early in the season and there are a lot of things to grow and get better at but I really like the way we are approaching growth and change and the way we compete."

We compete at a really high level and I really appreciate the team and their effort in that." ★

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Soroptimist International of Rancho Cordova and Gold River News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

- Domestic violence takes place in our nation every minute of every day, occurring just about every 15 seconds. Most Americans do not realize just how real domestic violence is and how many lives are affected by it.

Most of these cases are left behind closed doors. That is why the Domestic Violence Awareness Month was introduced to not only educate and raise that awareness but bring the support and strength that domestic violence victims need.

The Domestic Violence Awareness Month was first introduced back in 1981 by the National Coalition Against Domestic violence. It was created not only to bring more awareness to others but to connect and unify the millions of affected victims that had been battered due to domestic violence. Its hope is to break the chains of violence that currently have such a strong grip on our nation.

Every year, approximately 10 million people become victims of domestic violence, which equates to just about 20 people every minute. Those are startling numbers. It affects not only women but men and children of all different races, status, religions and culture. No one is immune to it.

Domestic violence shows itself in several different forms, whether it is punching, slapping, choking or threatening, manipulating, yelling and many others. No matter the situation,

Soroptimist is an international nonprofit organization that seeks to improve the lives of women and girls through programs leading to social and economic empowerment. Photo courtesy of Soroptimist International of Rancho Cordova domestic violence is never OK.

Huge strides have already taken place ever since 1994 when the Violence Against Women Act was put in place. So many programs, services, and shelters have been made available to domestic violence victims, thanks to the issues that have been addressed to our legislation.

Just between the years of 1993 and 2010, the overall domestic violence rate had dropped dramatically by nearly two-thirds and that is not all. State legislation and laws have been reformed to tackle certain issues such as dating abuse in the workplace, employment discrimination, stalking and more.

Ever since 1987, October has been the month where domestic violence and its victims are observed. The purple ribbon is used for several other important causes but it is also in honor of domestic violence victims and support for the growing awareness.

Domestic violence is usually done in secret but let us shout it from the rooftops. For the whole month of October, we can make a change by informing others and providing our resources to go towards services that help domestic violence victims.

Another alarming statistic for us to look at is that as many as three out of four Americans know of another person that has or is being abused by another individual but a lot of times, nothing is done about it. Action needs to take place, where an advocate is willing to speak up when others cannot.

If you know of someone who is being abused, are you willing to be their voice? It is time to stand up to domestic violence and tell it enough is enough. Especially during the month of October, make sure that you support domestic violence survivors and help get the word out about the destructive threat that domestic violence has on so many homes across America.

Domestic violence is never OK, no matter the circumstances. If you or someone you know is in desperate need of help, contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233 or TTY 1-800-787-3224. Just a
