Veterans Day Parade Draws Largest Crowd in More Than a Decade

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - The Veterans Day Parade returned to Marysville on Tuesday (Nov.11) with its biggest turnout in 11 years, according to members of American Legion Steven M. Brammer Post 705. Post Commander Mark Carlson and a dozen fellow veterans waved, saluted and smiled from atop their vintage Vietnam-era “deuce and a half” cargo truck as thousands packed the sidewalks.

“We use this vehicle in basically all the parades,” Carlson said. “As we go we make sure to salute all the other veterans as we see them, and they will salute you back... When you look out at the people, one thing you’re going to notice is you can feel

Three Lockdowns in 48hrs

By Shamaya Sutton

YUBA CITY/ MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - Several Yuba-Sutter campuses experienced unrelated safety incidents this week, prompting lockdowns, police searches and heightened concern among families. While all events were resolved without injuries, the concentrated timing of the incidents raised questions among parents about whether the threats were connected.

Yuba City High School – Threatening Note Found

On Wednesday (Nov. 12) around 11:50 a.m., a student at Yuba City High School discovered a note containing threatening language. School administrators immediately contacted law enforcement and initiated safety protocols while the threat was assessed. No active danger was found, and the investigation remains ongoing.

River Valley High School – Gun Threat Call Leads to Lockdown

The following morning, at approximately 9:40 a.m. Thursday (Nov.13), River Valley High School entered lockdown after Yuba City Police received a report of a possible student with a gun on campus. Officers conducted a full sweep of the school and determined that no credible threat existed. Students and staff were safe throughout the incident.

Yuba College – Separate Lockdown at Marysville Campus

During the same day as the River Valley incident, Yuba College’s Marysville campus went into lockdown at around 2 p.m. while officers checked the grounds in response to a separate safety concern. The college issued an “all clear” shortly afterward, reporting that no threat was located.

District Said High School Incidents Were Not Related

In response to an inquiry about whether the local incidents may have been connected, Yuba City Unified School District Superintendent Dr. Doreen Osumi said the two high school threats were “two separate incidents and are not linked.”

Osumi said the district was in immediate communication with law enforcement and its school resource officers during both events. She also confirmed that the River

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - A historic orchard in south Yuba City will open to the public later this month, inviting the community to experience a new holiday gathering on land rooted in generations of local history.

The Tokuno Farm, in partnership with Be Xtra, Yuba-Sutter-Colusa United Way and the Rotary Clubs of Marysville and Yuba City, will host Elf-Tastic Orchard Evening on Friday, Nov. 28, from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. This free inaugural event will feature an outdoor screening of “Elf,” food vendors, movie snacks, fire pits and a snowball-style “sock fight.” Organizers aim to collect new white socks during the event which will be distributed to those in need during the holiday season.

With the event fast approaching, the Tokunos say they hope the community will feel the same sense of family, simplicity and togetherness that has come to define their corner lot for decades.

Dean Tokuno lives today on the same property where he was born and raised — a farm with deep ties to local Japanese American history.

“It’s a wonderful legacy to come from,” Tokuno said.

During World War II, Dean’s father, Ted Tokuno, was incarcerated at Tule Lake, where he met and married his wife, Lucille. Both families lost property and businesses during their forced relocation, but in their absence an unexpected ally stepped forward.

“The owner and publisher of the Gridley Herald took care of our farms and kept them within the family,” Dean Tokuno said. “They held the deeds, bought them for a dollar and promised to sell them back for a dollar when they got out of camp. And he did — he made good on his word.”

After a career in fashion photography, Dean Tokuno and his wife, Amy, returned to the family farm to raise their children and grow walnuts. Although the walnut trees have since been retired, the memories remain vivid.

“Talk to our kids now and it’s still the same,” Dean Tokuno added. “They’re gonna say their

LIVE OAK, CA (MPG) - River Valley Care Center skilled nursing facility in Live Oak recently went above and beyond to honor their resident veterans and show their respect for service men and women at the Marysville Veterans Day Parade.

River Valley Care Center Ward Clerk Desiree Biscotti organized a special expedition for veterans at the facility, which offers short-term rehab, long-term nursing, and memory care.

The petite, purple-haired dynamo arranged for resident veterans, 2 Marine vets and 1

Army vet, to be featured on a parade float, and with the help of Carlos Beebe, admissions director for River Valley Care Center, the two made it happen.

On Nov. 11, Biscotti, Beebe, and volunteers from the center helped the resident veterans don their red, white and blue garb, veteran's hats and grabbed their flags. The crew set their sights on Marysville and transported the three resident veterans to the scene of the celebration.

Unable to walk the length of the route, River Valley Care Center obtained a truck and trailer so the veterans, whose names are withheld due to Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (H.I.P.P.A.), could load their wheelchairs aboard, riding safely and comfortably during the parade.

As volunteers and family members assisted River Valley Care Center staff and veterans decorating, Biscotti said that the veterans were overjoyed and excited to be a part of the parade.

Biscotti shares with the Territorial Dispatch that throughout her career in healthcare services, she's had the opportunity to work with a multitude of veterans, from Admirals to Pearl Harbor Survivors. Her respect runs deep as she reminisces about the stories these individuals told her regarding their personal service in U.S. wars and skirmishes.

"I love my vets," Biscotti said emphatically. She references her bright hair and spunky attitude. "Because of them I get to talk like a sailor and have purple hair!" she jokes and then turns serious. "These little freedoms I get because of the sacrifices of the vets."

Biscotti references how things often considered insignificant, like hair color or the ability to speak freely, cost lives.

"If they can do this for me, this (organizing participation in a parade) is the least I can do for them," Biscotti said.

Biscotti, Beebe, family members of resident veterans and the River Valley Care Center vets proudly walked and rolled down the Veterans Day Parade Route, waving and handing out candy.

The veterans that participated lit up while at the parade.

"It means a lot to them, that's why I wanted to take them, so they would be honored for their service," said Biscotti.

Beebe said, "It was all due to Desiree Biscotti...She had the idea of the facility participating in the parade. She hit the ground running and got everything organized."

This is the first time that River Valley Care Center and their Veterans have been a part of the Veterans Day Parade, and the hope is that they can participate again in the future.

"We had such a good time, grateful to all who served for our country and representing team River Valley," said Beebe, "We are already planning for next year and hope to make this an annual event." ★

Unhoused Population Decreased

Yuba-Sutter Homeless Consortium Shares Annual Update

By Shamaya Sutton

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - November is Homelessness Awareness Month and, after being recognized with an official proclamation from Sutter County on Nov. 4, the Yuba-Sutter Homeless Consortium held its annual State of Homelessness Summit on Friday, Nov. 7, at Boyd's Hall in Yuba City.

This year, the room carried something rarely heard in local homelessness discussions: cautious optimism.

Consortium Executive Director Johnny Burke announced that the region's 2025 Point-in-Time Count — a HUD-mandated census of sheltered and unsheltered homeless individuals — reflected a 14 percent decrease in homelessness compared to 2023. The drop includes an estimated 20% reduction in Yuba County and a 6% decrease in Sutter County, based on the self-reported survey conducted Jan. 26.

"We haven't had a drop in years — it's just gone up and up — and this is the first time we've had a drop," Burke said.

Burke was careful to note that not all of the decrease reflects a true reduction. Extremely cold temperatures on the night of the count may have driven some typically unsheltered individuals to stay with friends or family, and local agencies reported higher incarceration levels at the time of the tally — factors that can make the unhoused population temporarily harder to locate.

"Those two things probably accounted for maybe an eight percent change,

I think," Burke said. "I really think the rest of the change is a variety of things, one of them being prevention. We have seen a reduction over the last year of people that are new to homelessness, and that means we're using our prevention funds well and keeping people in housing when we can."

Burke also credited expanded medical and CalAIM-aligned supports, as well as employment-focused programs like One Stop that help stabilize people long-term.

Another influence, Burke said, may be Proposition 36, the statewide initiative passed in November 2024 that increases penalties and creates treatment-mandated felony paths for certain theft and drug crimes — a measure he said, in local practice, has served as both carrot and stick for some unhoused individuals.

"People aren't getting tagged for just being homeless — they're being tagged for doing other crimes that are affecting other people," Burke said. "For a long time in our state there was a lot more carrot than stick, if you will, and a lot of people weren't really interested in the carrot. They didn't really feel like they had a reason to change. And now some people are sort of being pushed along a bit more."

He personally noted that he had witnessed a reduction in substance abuse among some of the unhoused population and a renewed motivation among some individuals to reconnect with family or programs.

The 2025 PIT report shows a total of 830 HUD-defined homeless individuals across the two counties — 393 in Sutter and 437 in Yuba.

While overall numbers decreased, some demographic shifts stood out. African American homelessness increased proportionally, while Asian and East Indian/Punjabi homelessness remained nearly nonexistent, something Burke said reflects strong extended-family support systems.

This year's PIT survey added a new question: Where did individuals first become homeless, and where do they consider home? The addition was meant to answer a long-standing debate between cities and counties over jurisdiction and responsibility.

"There used to be this discussion all the time between the counties and the cities as to 'whose issue is it,'" Burke said. "So we thought, 'Let's ask and find out where people became homeless and where they consider home.'"

The results surprised the consortium. While most respondents reported becoming homeless in Yuba City (193 people) or Marysville (121 people), a significantly higher-than-usual number — over 200 people combined across both counties — reported they became homeless in another county. Another 174 respondents declined to answer.

"What I thought was interesting this year was that around 25 percent of the people said they became homeless somewhere else," Burke said. "Month over month, we usually have 15 percent or less of the people becoming homeless for the first time from out of the area.

I'm hoping to look into this a little bit more."

Despite the variables that influenced this year's numbers, Burke emphasized that the local reduction still reflects meaningful progress — particularly in preventing new homelessness and strengthening support systems that keep people housed. The consortium will continue refining its data collection and expanding its outreach, Burke said, but for the first time in several years, the region has measurable evidence that community efforts may be beginning to turn the curve. ★

Loma Rica Foothill Lions Club Places 187 Flags on Veterans' Graves

Loma Rica Foothill Lions Club News Release

BROWNS VALLEY, CA (MPG) - The Loma Rica Foothill Lions Club was able to purchase and place 187 eight-foot flags on the graves of all veterans for Veterans Day at the Peoria Cemetery in Browns Valley on Sunday, Nov. 9.

This fulfilled the club's promise to honor local veterans and to render the cemetery a stirring tribute for their sacrifice and service.

This was a coordinated effort, between the Foothill Lions Club, Loma Rica Fire Department and the Foothill Community. This project has been a long-time dream in the making, developed by Lion Linda Saala. ★ the love of the people looking up and thanking you."

For many of the retired service members, especially Vietnam veterans, that affection carries a deeper weight. Legion members shared memories of being spit on and cursed at during their service or upon returning home.

"The Vietnam conflict was a very political one, for large part because of the draft," said Legion member Ruben Gomez. "But today is a good day for us."

The streets were shoulder-to-shoulder with families waving flags and cheering, and the parade roster was just as full. More than 100 entries — nearly the maximum of the downtown route can accommodate — rolled through the corridor this year.

The ceremony opened with the national anthem performed by Pam Souza, followed by a moment of silence and the playing of Taps by six buglers: Michael Moore, Will Rickey, Manny Serda, Angel Salas, EverLynn Sutton and Brock Bowen.

Afterward, the convoy began heading south down D Street, led by one of the day's most honored guests, Sergeant First Class

Obie Wickersham. A World War II and Korean War veteran and former POW, Wickersham rode in a restored WWII jeep while spectators cheered. His military history spans nearly every major operation of the era, from the beachhead at Anzio and Operation Market Garden to surviving the 500-mile "Death March" to a Chinese POW camp during the Korean War.

This year's grand marshal, T.J. Fetters, followed close behind. Fetters is a retired Air Force master sergeant whose three-decade military career included assignments in Vietnam, Thailand, England, Japan and Beale Air Force Base, earning multiple commendations and meritorious service medals. He has served on the Veterans Day Parade Committee for 20 years.

From there the parade flowed through a long lineup of community groups, marching units, classic vehicles and local agencies. The Lindhurst High School Air Force JROTC Honor Guard led the parade this year, carrying the colors in place of active-duty military units, which were unable to participate due to the federal shutdown.

Youth and school groups were also widely represented. The Mary Covillaud Spirit Team, multiple Cub Scout and Boy Scout packs, Girl Scouts Heart of Central California, the U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps and local 4-H clubs filled the route with students waving flags and greeting veterans. Marching bands from River Valley High School, Marysville Charter Academy for the Arts and Lindhurst High School added music and movement throughout the morning.

Local agencies including the Yuba County Sheriff's Office, Sutter County Sheriff's Office, Marysville Fire Department, Meals on Wheels Yuba-Sutter, Yuba-Sutter Veterans Services and multiple civic organizations also participated.

Classic tractor drivers from across the region showcased a long row of restored Farmalls, John Deeres, Allis Chalmers, Fords and Case models, many pulling patriotic displays or honoring veterans. Businesses, senior groups, pageant royalty, and cultural organizations such as the Friends of the Marysville Bok Kai Temple and the Sons of Norway Snowshoe Thompson Lodge added to the diversity of entries. Even a 937-pound pumpkin made an appearance as the Sons of Norway float moved through the heart of downtown.

Though active-duty military personnel were absent this year because of the federal budget standoff, the size and enthusiasm of the community turnout stood out. Organizers said the crowd was one of the largest in recent memory, and the broad mix of youth groups, veterans organizations, schools and civic agencies served as a testament to the region's long-standing respect for those who have served. ★ favorite times were on that farm doing simple things like a campfire, or mud fights, or running around the orchard."

"It's really the simple things that make the biggest impression," Amy said.

Over the years, the Tokunos have opened their property for birthday parties, music video shoots, a fireworks booth and even a private concert by country artist Tyler Rich. Each event reminded them how powerful a natural space can be in building community.

"That corner has always gotten a lot of attention," Dean Tokuno said. "We'd like to see something positive happen with it and be able to share it more with others."

As the couple explored ideas for the future of the property, they were introduced to Brian Davis of Be Xtra — a local nonprofit that provides direct emergency support to families experiencing hardship.

"It feels like you're out in the country even though you're still within city limits," Davis said when asked about the property. "The place is something you really need to set foot on to truly grasp how special it is."

Davis connected the Tokunos with Yuba-Sutter-Colusa United Way and the Rotary Clubs of both Marysville and Yuba City, ultimately leading to the launch of this month's holiday event.

"We want to see where this goes and get a barometer of the interest," Amy said. "It could go many directions, but the important thing to us is to create an atmosphere that is welcoming."

Amy previously worked with the Franklin School Parents Club, which ran a fireworks booth on the property — a location that Phantom Fireworks later described as the most successful in the region.

"Back then I was doing it on behalf of someone else, but this time it's on behalf of the legacy of the corner," Amy said.

Only a single acre will be used for the upcoming event, but the Tokunos see endless possibilities for the property. From seasonal ice-skating rinks to wedding venues and youth-centered game nights, the couple hopes the space can help fill a gap in local recreational opportunities.

"I personally feel like there just aren't enough things for our youth to do here," Amy said. "And there really is something special about being outside in the air and under the stars."

Tokuno Farm is located at the northeast corner of Franklin Road and George Washington Avenue in Yuba City. Parking will be available on George Washington Avenue. For questions, contact Terry at terry@yscunitedway.org or 530-743-1847. The event is alcohol-free and smoke-free. Guests should bring their own blankets and chairs. ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

November 5 seems like a long time ago, but that's the last time the Sacramento Kings won a basketball game. Since then, it has been a string of defeats that now registers six with an average deficit of 20 points per defeat.

When things are going this badly, it's important to look for a lifeline. A sliver of hope or a whisper of sunlight on a dreary day.

Fans are looking forward to the return of 4th year man Keegan Murray to help right the ship.

While Keegan has not ascended to the level of an all-star, Keegan has made definite strides in particular with regards to his defensive presence and his rebounding.

Domantas Sabonis is off to a slow start due to injuries and is still ranked 4th in the NBA in rebounding, but he needs some help. Drew Eubanks has been a pleasant surprise coming off the bench and keeping the Kings in games, but Jonas Valanciunas has been sorely missed.

Gone are the days when the celebrated big man would come off the bench and give the Kings perhaps the best one-two punch in basketball.

Fans will forever scratch their heads and ask the question why, as the Kings allowed Valanciunas to walk out the back door and sign with the Denver Nuggets. Not surprisingly, the Nuggets are in the top 10 in rebounding while the Kings rank 25th in the league.

But the conundrum is not just the lack of rebounding or even the lack of talent on this Sacramento team. It resides in their inability to work together as a team and play up to their individual ability. Cohesive they are not, and sadly the answer at point guard in Dennis Schrader has been a bust when he's in the starting lineup.

Head coach Doug Christie sent Schrader to the bench when his contribution became almost nonexistent, and surprisingly Dennis responded when 2 stellar games in a row.

Yes, there is talent on this team, but knowing how to place the talent so the team begins to flow has been a mystery.

Ten games back with a 3-11 start is far from what the Kings franchise had expected, and it has prompted pundits and fans alike to begin calling for a complete rebuilding of the team.

What that represents to Kings fans is the likelihood that your favorite player may soon be playing for another franchise, and it's a hard pill to swallow.

For me, over the course of just one year, I saw Davion Mitchell, DeAaron Fox, Trey Lyles, Jonas Valanciunas, and Isaac Jones all cast to the winds, and I believe the Kings would be a much better team with a much better record if they had all 5 of these players back.

Bad decisions simply must stop. Some were made from the Monte McNair administration, but some are from current brain trust with Scott Perry at the helm. Make no mistake about it, Vivek Ranadive has had his hand in many if not all the player fax paus, and if things are going to change for the better, the owner must start letting the GM and coaches have some level of autonomy.

But fans are buying tickets and going to games with expectations. How can the players and coaches turn humbling defeats into victories.

Coaches must start analyzing the talent on this team and putting them in positions to win. That means using the strengths of every player and giving him the opportunity to use those strengths.

The Kings have a player under a guaranteed contract that has played in one game for limited minutes by the name of Doug McDermott. McDermott has a reputation for sinking 3's with great consistency but he has all but been forgotten.

Yes, there are bigger fish to fry than this example, but it starts with the coaching, and getting a maximum effort out of every player every night. Fans need to see that the players care as much as they do.

This team can still win games and even back-to-back games. Let's keep rooting for this squad and see if we can make some noise.

Don't lose heart Kings fans. These players are our extended family, and we need to treat them that way!

All the best!

California is a High-Tax State

Are More Taxes Balm for Its Budget Deficits?

By Dan Walters,
CALMatters.org

California has long had the reputation — backed by copious data — of being a high-tax state, which made Gov. Gavin Newsom's declaration last June, in a prerecorded State of the State address, a bit startling.

"Here's the truth Republicans never tell you: California is not a high-tax state," Newsom said.

Later he clarified his assertion, saying California's taxes on low-income residents are relatively lower than those in red states.

"Catering to big business and the rich is also why red states tax their lowest earners far more than California does. They punish you when you're struggling, but give you a free pass when you're wealthy," the governor said.

There's some truth to that. California's very progressive income tax system, with the nation's highest marginal rate of 13.3%, makes its state budget highly dependent on taxing incomes of its wealthiest residents, while those in low- and moderate-income brackets pay little or no income taxes.

Nevertheless, taxes imposed by state and local governments put California in the highest ranks of the 50 states, not only in total — more than $400 billion a year from all sources — but in per capita terms — more than $10,000 each — and as a percentage of its $3.6 trillion in total personal income.

The Washington-based Tax Foundation ranks Californians' state and local tax burden 48th, one of the highest in the nation, out-taxed only by New York and New Jersey.

"California combines high tax rates with an uncompetitive tax structure, yielding one of the worst rankings on the Index," the Tax Foundation says.

The state's $322 billion 2025-26 budget counts on $297 billion from about a dozen different taxes, while cities, counties, school districts and other local agencies take in another $100 billion or so, primarily from property taxes and local shares of the sales tax.

The budget anticipates $207 billion in general fund revenues. So far revenue is running a bit ahead, but general fund spending is budgeted at $226 billion. Maneuvers to cover the gap include shifting $7.1 billion from emergency reserves, pushing the June 2026 state payroll into the following fiscal year and tapping special funds for loans.

State budget experts call it a "structural deficit" that will continue indefinitely in the absence of either sharp spending reductions or tax increases.

There's little appetite for the former in a Legislature dominated by Democrats but some support for the latter. The California Taxpayers Association recently reported that legislators proposed more than $16 billion in new taxes and fees during the recently concluded 2025 session.

The battle over taxes appears to be headed for the 2026 ballot, with two pro-taxation measures being pushed by public employee unions and other left-leaning groups and one that would create a new hurdle for local tax increases.

One proposal, backed by the California Teachers Association, would make permanent a temporary tax increase on high-income Californians, first approved in 2012 to close a budget deficit and later extended to 2030 via a ballot measure. All of its revenue, as much as $15 billion a year, would go to K-12 schools and community colleges.

A second measure, sponsored mainly by the Service Employees International Union-United Healthcare Workers West, would impose a one-time 5% tax on the wealth of California's billionaires, raising about $100 billion, which would be spent at the rate of $25 billion a year to cover the state's structural deficit and prop up health care services.

The third, sponsored by the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association, would overturn a state Supreme Court ruling and re-impose a two-thirds voter approval requirement on all proposed local taxes designated for particular purposes.

California is a blue state with relatively high taxes now. Do voters want to add more or make it difficult to add more?

Social Security Matters

Did the Obama-era Social Security Tax Cuts Hurt the Program?

By Russell Gloor,
AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I will be retiring early next year but my question to you is: During the Obama administration, payroll taxes that employees pay were cut in half from 6.2% to 3.1%, while the employer's part stayed the same at 6.2%. This continued for around a year I think. This was an attempt at giving people a tax cut, which I think was a bad idea or maybe the wrong way to have done it. How much damage do you think this may have caused to Social Security? Signed: Soon to Retire.

Dear Soon to Retire: FYI, the Obama-era cut in the employee portion of FICA payroll taxes and SECA (self-employment tax) was a temporary measure, which has long since expired. However, the legislation which enabled that cut in employee FICA/SECA taxes also included a provision to replenish the Social Security Trust Funds from the General US Treasury in an amount equal to the estimated loss of tax revenue to the Trust Funds. So, in effect, there was little or no impact on the Social Security Trust Funds.

FYI, the Trustees of Social Security have been projecting for many years that the Social Security reserves would be fully depleted in the mid-2030s, unless Congress takes action to reform the SS program. Unfortunately, Congress has not yet taken any meaningful action to accomplish that reform, and the current projection from the Trustees is that all Social Security reserves will be depleted in about 2033, necessitating an across the board cut of about 21% in everyone's benefit. Time is running short, and we see signs that Congress is finally starting to seriously discuss Social Security reform.

At AMAC, we have developed and submitted to various Congressional Representatives a reform plan which would restore Social Security to full solvency. You can see AMAC's suggested plan at www.amac.us/social-security-guarantee. And AMAC is working every day in Washington, D.C. to promote Social Security reform to avoid future cuts in benefits. We believe and hope that Congress will eventually reform the Social Security program to avoid future benefit cuts but, unfortunately, not until they can muster sufficient bipartisanship to make the hard choices needed. To this end, contacting your Congressional Representative to demand Social Security reform now would be a good thing to do. The longer Congress delays reform, the harder the choices will be.

Yes, Ozempic for All

rect that Americans should eat better and work out more. But our body mass index has been increasing for about 150 years, as we've made calories cheaper and more abundant over time. As it happens, the things that we like to eat or drink that are bad for us -- fast food, soda, chips, cookies -- are cheap, convenient and taste good.

Even if we manage to convince people that they should eat more fruit, vegetables and legumes, while taking a Peloton class every day, not everyone is going to do it as a matter of lifestyle constraints, individual preference or simple lack of willpower.

There's also the fact that once you put on weight, physiological changes make it more difficult to shed it.

About 40% of Americans are obese. Wouldn't it be great for them -- and for American society at large, which spends roughly $170 billion a year on obesity-related medical costs -- if there were a safe, relatively convenient way for them to slim down?

Lo and behold, here it is. The GLP-1s started out as a treatment for diabetes and have exploded in popularity as weight-loss drugs.

Trump's reflex to make it easier for people to obtain Ozempic and the like -- while, not incidentally, boosting his reputation as the nation's foremost deal-maker -- is the correct one. Drug pricing is complicated, but by expanding the sale of the drugs direct to consumers, the companies can reduce prices. Meanwhile, Medicare will do more to cover the drugs, also bringing down their cost.

According to Gallup, about 12% of Americans report having used a GLP-1 drug at some point for weight loss, a stunning increase from about 6% in early 2024. Not coincidentally, Gallup is also now showing a slight dip in obesity. From 2008 -- when the polling organization regularly began asking about weight -- to 2022, the percentage of obese Americans increased by 14 percentage points, to nearly 40%.

Where any number of fashionable diets and continual government exhortations for more physical exertion have failed (before RFK Jr., Michelle Obama was urging, "Let's Move!"), drugs to slow digestion and reduce the urge to eat are working.

The percentage of Americans using GLP-1s will inevitably keep growing, especially if prices continue to go down, if more oral GLP-1s come online in addition to injectables, and if other medical benefits of the drugs emerge. GLP-1s could easily match the saturation level of statins, the cholesterol-reducing drugs.

By all means, we should all eat more arugula. Until then, we have found a pharmaceutical path to alleviating an ongoing health crisis. President Trump and the drug companies are to be congratulated for their creative cooperation to make it available to more Americans.

Valley lockdown may have been the result of a false report.

“Per law enforcement, the incident at River Valley High School is being investigated as a potential hoax and determined to no longer be a credible threat,” Osumi said.

Osumi added that the district is not aware of any continued risk.

“There are no ongoing safety concerns that families should be aware of,” Osumi said.

Osumi emphasized that Yuba City Unified School District takes all threats seriously.

“Student and staff safety is the district’s highest priority and therefore, all threats are taken seriously and investigated,” Osumi said. “Our law enforcement, staff and students are to be commended on how they responded to this potential threat.”

Osumi encouraged students, parents and staff to continue reporting concerns promptly. Officials from Yuba City Police, Yuba College, and the Yuba County Sheriff’s Office did not respond to requests for comment by press time regarding whether the college’s lockdown or other regional safety calls appeared related. ★

Circus of the Absurd

I have written so many articles on government shutdowns, I could (but wouldn’t) just copy the last one, spice it up a bit, and publish, saving me a few hours’ work.

Nah. Sometimes work is just plain fun, and writing repeating articles about the lunacy of U.S. government shutdowns is just that. Fun.

Lunatic fun to be sure, but you have to admit, we go through this exercise every few years, with each party blaming the other that it’s the others fault.

It would actually be comedic if it wasn’t such an ugly display of opposition.

I asked ChatGPT for a word for the opposite of cooperation and it came up with opposition. It also barfed up the word “competition”. Neither seems to fit what we have here when it comes to the government shutdown.

Truth be told, I guess it is somewhat like competition. Each political party vying to score points, or should I say, trying to avoid black marks, for being to blame for the stoppage of everything government.

Being an economic based guy, and a rather Austrian based economist to boot, I lean into U.S. government shutdowns in a certain sense of the word. Austrian economics is sort of an anti-government, reduced spending type of view, that less government is better than more government.

When governments shut down, they do less of what they do, and I am all for that.

Ronald Reagan once said the nine most terrifying words in the English Language are: “I’m from the government and I’m here to help.”

Don’t get me wrong. Every civilized group of humans needs some sort of governing body or else anarchy would reign supreme. The strong would take from the weak and probably kill off a few of them to boot. Lord knows we have seen enough of that type of behavior throughout mankind’s history.

But these repeated circuses of one party fighting against the other for weeks on end while the government paycheck-dependent folks go without is a sad and unnecessary example of how civilized people can act anything but civilized.

It is an interesting note is that when the governing bodies of the U.S. government is split between both parties, stock markets actually like it. The thinking is that little to nothing will get passed when both houses of government are being controlled by a different party. If you don’t know, both houses, the Senate, and the House of Representatives, make up the U.S. Congress, and are the two legislative chambers that handle making our laws.

The markets do indeed lean into less regulation rather than more. Some argue that opens the door for more bad behavior from the greedy capitalists while others believe it makes for more progress in a society that may have too many regulations already

No matter what side of the aisle you stand, one would think two groups of people could reach some sort of agreement, known as a compromise, that would start the money flowing again.

And don’t think this is not about money. It is.

It is said money is the root of all evil. It may not be the root, or maybe it is.

One thing is for sure however. Money has always been, and will always probably be, the root of a government shutdown.

That is until we all get a little more civilized.

Lessons Learned

By Kathy Craigo Harteis

Having just passed my 77th birthday I’ve been reflecting on many things. It’s fascinating when you actually begin remembering the lessons of life. I’ve triumphed in some, stumbled through more and learned from all. Things which were once the biggest challenges evolved into things past and not that big of a deal. High school brought crushes, little teen heart breaks and struggles with social acceptance. Looking back, I know none of that mattered. Instead, the friendships formed that have lasted and become lifelong friends was what was the best accomplishment.

I’ve been a young bride, a mom and a widow and a wife a second time.

Things of true importance were being the best I knew how to be. I have stood by and cared for a dying spouse. I have raised three remarkable kids and fostered one equally good son. Now I’m blessed with remarkable grandchildren. The bonus that they love me. I have fought my kids’ battles when needed. Now I have learned to back away. They are adults and have earned the right to fix things themselves.

Along the way I was given the gift of writing. I consider being given this gift my destiny. Through the written word I have helped the people put in my path. I have connected with famous people, struggling people and folks who just needed me to listen.

My favorite pet name is Ma Craigo. It’s an endearment I earned from the many kids I’ve tried to help along the way.

As I’ve aged I sadly learned that some people I may love unconditionally have outgrown the need to have me around.

As in most things there are lessons to learn even when we are sad.

Not everyone will love us or even like us. The best course of action is to keep loving them anyway.

Live goes on and life is good today.

Farmers Plant Less Cotton in Face of Stagnant Market

With cotton prices around the world continuing to stagnate, California growers planted fewer acres this year than almost any time in the past century. “Upland cotton is at 85 to 90 cents a pound right now. That’s the same darn price as when I started 30 years ago,” said Roger Isom, CEO of the California Cotton Ginners and Growers Association. “It’s tough out there for our farmers.” California farmers planted 91,000 acres of pima cotton and 15,968 acres of upland cotton this year—a 38% drop in pima but a 30% increase in upland from 2024, the CCGA reported. Overall, cotton acreage declined 33%. Kings County continued to lead in plantings, with 47,753 of the state’s 106,968 acres. “Quality is great, but the demand is down,” Merced County farmer Jeff Mancebo said.

Natural Wine Trend Revives Old-Fashioned Methods

A cadre of California grape growers and winemakers crafts wine as it was made hundreds if not thousands of years ago. No filtering, no fining, no additives. Just grapes, wild yeast, a barrel and time. Darek Trowbridge of Old World Winery in Sonoma County farms biodynamically—an organic practice that treats the vineyard as a living system. To make his natural wines, Trowbridge uses a practice called head training, which allows vines to grow freely from the trunk without a trellis. He also mows rather than tills the soil and spreads composted mulch of his own design at the base of the vines to conserve water, boost nutrients and increase yield. “This is a beautiful way to grow a vine on its own,” he said. “Just let it be. Let it do its thing, organically. And it works.”

California Aquaculture Producers Prepare for Holiday Season

California aquaculture producers are getting ready for a busy holiday season, when demand typically rises for freshwater fish and seafood. “Aquaculture producers across California are consistently supplying high-quality seafood and recreational fish. This is especially true during the busy holiday season, as many growers provide products for special occasions and family gatherings,” Butte County aquaculture producer and consultant Tony Vaught told Ag Alert® in a field report. The state produces a diverse range of freshwater fish, including tilapia, channel catfish, trout and steelhead, as well as saltwater fish, oysters, clams and mussels. California also produces most of the nation’s caviar from sturgeon farms. “Demand for these products remains strong due to reduced wild catches and increasing global seafood consumption,” Vaught said. ★

HIGHEST BIDDER, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, that certain property situated in said County, California describing the land therein as: AS MORE FULLY DESCRIBED IN SAID DEED OF TRUST The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 4063 LARNER WAY, OLIVEHURST, CA 95961 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any inaccuracies of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.nationwideposting.com or call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA08000494-25-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. Loma Rica Hall Restored with Community Support

By Shamaya Sutton

LOMA RICA, CA (MPG) - The historic Loma Rica Hall is celebrating a much-needed makeover just in time for the holiday season.

Built “by the community for the community” more than a century ago, the 30-by-60-foot, two-story building has long served as a gathering place for weddings, funerals, town meetings, classes and celebrations of every kind. Also known as Grange Hall No. 802, the venue was constructed in 1923 and officially incorporated as a nonprofit community center in 1948.

Over the years, the hall has been cared for by a succession of local groups — including the Grange, Lions Club, Calvary Chapel, and, most recently, the Yuba County Sheriff’s Women’s Posse, which managed the facility from 2009 to 2024. After the group dissolved, stewardship passed to the newly formed Loma Rica Community Hall Association.

The association is chaired by Anita Baker, a longtime Browns Valley resident and current hall manager, with Cameron Vincent serving as co-chair and Terri Ayers as treasurer and secretary. In 2015, the site was recognized as a historical landmark by the Yuba County Historical Society and the Native Sons of the Golden West.

“Per our bylaws, we are to create enough revenue for the hall to maintain itself,” Baker said. “Unfortunately, the over 100-year-old building was in need of repairs. We reached out to the community along with a few businesses to cover the much-needed exterior paint. Thanks to the Yuba River Endowment, we were given more than requested as they knew we could use more than just exterior paint.”

Recent improvements include a full exterior paint job, new rain gutters, a French drain, five loads of gravel for the parking lot and a new hot water heater in the kitchen. Additional upgrades — including bathroom remodels, interior painting and a new epoxy floor — are planned for spring.

Yuba River Endowment, said the project resonated deeply with many local supporters.

“One of our board members, Steve Springer, actually had his wedding reception at the Loma Rica Hall many moons ago and had a little soft spot for that place,” Martin said in a recent radio interview. “Hopefully, with all the support from volunteers, this will be here for another 100 years for the community.”

Today, the hall is once again buzzing with activity. It hosts In Step Dance classes Monday through Friday, Alcoholics Anonymous meetings on Sunday evenings, and Crossed Star Firearms training on select days. A new art instructor will also begin offering painting classes starting Saturday, Nov. 22.

With a capacity of 50 to 75 people, the venue is available for private rentals. For information or to book an event, contact Anita Baker at 530-701-6571.

Major contributors to the renovation include the Yuba River Endowment, which donated $10,000, followed by PG&E with $5,000, Teichert with $1,500, Loma Rica Pizza Roundup with $1,000, and Effective Measures/Crossed Star Firearms with another $1,000. Many community members also contributed between $50 and $300, helping restore the century-old landmark to its former charm.

The Loma Rica Hall Association can be found on Facebook at Historic Loma Rica Hall. Donations can be made online at zeffy.com or by mail to: Loma Rica Hall, P.O. Box 1776, Marysville, CA 95901.

Directed by Betsy Johnson, the production brings back the beloved characters and heartfelt humor that first delighted audiences in 2021 — this time with an expanded cast and an even bigger community mission.

Performances will be held at the Sutter Theater Center for the Arts, 754 Plumas Street in Yuba City, and are scheduled for Fridays and Saturdays, Nov. 21, 22, 28 and 29 at 7 p.m. and Sundays, Nov. 23 and 30 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $20 and are available at yubasutterarts.org or in the box office, Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Synopsis: The big-hearted women of the Charitable Sisterhood are gearing up for their annual holiday fundraiser when disaster strikes — the Baby Jesus has gone missing from the nativity! Their frantic, funny and heartfelt search sets off a chain of mishaps that challenge their patience and deepen their bond. Full of quick laughs, warm moments and the spirit of giving, The Charitable Sisterhood Christmas Spectacular is a festive comedy about community, compassion and finding joy amidst chaos. The all-star cast includes Janine Clements, Jessy Stein, Wendi Jellsey, Tanda

Phelps, Cassie Fifield, Sydney Mabee and Jeff Graham. Back stage and technical support will be provided by Lori Moye, Sue Justus, Nici Powers, Kati Milani, Jaylynn Shoemaker and honorary “Sisters” Mccai Phelps, Ben Fifield and Joe Moye.

Director Betsy Johnson said, “Having done the Charitable Sisterhood first in 2021 at the Acting Company, as the first live production locally following the COVID pandemic, it brought me such joy and laughter when it was so very needed that we had to bring it back for an encore,” said Director Betsy Johnson. “These ‘sisters’ are once again giving more than they take and my heart is full of love for all of them. At a time in our history with so much division, I think we can all agree that the world needs more love and laughter right now — and we ‘sisters’ are here to share it!”

Betsy added, “That all proceeds from the show will go toward the continued renovation of the Sutter Theater (which has become a second home to many of us) is just the wrapping on the gift! Here’s hoping our community gives for giving’s sake and gets us closer to the ultimate goal of finishing this theater for our community, all while having a few laughs. Come one. Come all ages! Start your holiday off with the hilarity of the ‘Charitable Sisterhood Christmas Spectacular.’

LaMalfa and Garamendi Reintroduce Flood Insurance for Farmers Act

Congressman Doug LaMalfa News Release

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG)

- Congressman Doug LaMalfa (R-Richvale) and Congressman John Garamendi (D-CA), recently reintroduced H.R. 5961, the “Flood Insurance for Farmers Act of 2025,” which ensures agricultural producers are not saddled with thousands of dollars in unnecessary government-imposed fees when obtaining flood insurance and have access to the financial tools they need to expand or conduct business by making reforms to the National Flood Insurance Program.

“Farmers shouldn’t be punished just because their operations happen to be near or in a floodplain,” said Rep. LaMalfa. “The current Federal flood insurance program sticks farmers with unnecessary fees, making already expensive flood insurance even more costly, and can prevent them from getting loans to expand or make repairs. The NFIP can help America’s farmers after floods, but if it’s so expensive and cumbersome that they ultimately receive little or no benefit, then it defeats the purpose of this program. Our bill cuts through NFIP bureaucracy and reduces program costs so farmers can stay competitive and keep producing while helping them manage flood risk.”

Rep. Garamendi added, “For generations, California families have farmed the floodplain, and this legislation ensures that they can continue to do so by keeping agricultural land in production. Our bill protects farmers from hidden fees, unnecessary costs, and excessive paperwork, allowing them to focus on their essential work — producing the food that sustains our communities. As a former Insurance Commissioner and a farmer myself, I am committed to standing up for family farmers and fighting against unfair insurance practices. This legislation fulfills that commitment.”

Under current law, agricultural producers with property located in certain flood areas designated by FEMA are required to purchase flood insurance in order to qualify for a federally backed mortgage. However, National Flood Insurance Program commercial policies charge a $250 surcharge per structure, meaning farmers with multiple barns, sheds or storage facilities can be hit with thousands of dollars in additional costs on top of high insurance premiums.

The “Flood Insurance for Farmers Act” would allow farmers to bundle multiple structures under a single commercial NFIP policy, meaning they would only pay one $250 surcharge instead of being charged per building.

“This is a plain and simple pocketbook issue that will help farmers across the country,” said Marc J. Boomgaard, SBFCA Board Chair & Vice Mayor of Yuba City. “The Sutter Basin may be rich in almonds and peaches, but our farmers need relief from flood insurance policies that view premiums for sheds the same way they view premiums for homes. The Sutter Butte Flood Control Agency is dedicated to reducing flood risks for the community and National Flood Insurance Program is an important component of those efforts. We applaud the commonsense approach that Congressman LaMalfa and Garamendi are working on to help farmers back home.”

The legislation also gives counties flexibility to grant variances from FEMA’s minimum floodplain standards for new or expanded agricultural structures, allowing them to remain in the National Flood Insurance Program while recognizing the practical needs of farmers. Counties could issue variances when elevating or flood-proofing a structure isn’t practical, the variance wouldn’t increase threats to public safety, and no significant flood claims have been made on the property in the past decade.

Together, these reforms reduce government-imposed costs and red tape, helping farmers continue to modernize and operate efficiently while maintaining participation in the federal flood insurance program.

Congressman Doug LaMalfa is Chairman of the Congressional Western Caucus and a lifelong farmer representing California’s First Congressional District, including Butte, Colusa, Glenn, Lassen, Modoc, Shasta, Siskiyou, Sutter, Tehama and Yuba Counties. ★

LaMalfa, Schiff Deliver $22 Million for Beale Air Force Base Modernization Project

Congressman Doug LaMalfa News Release

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG)

- Congressman Doug LaMalfa (R-Richvale) announced that $22 million for Beale Air Force Base has been included in the Military Construction and Veterans Affairs Appropriations bill, secured in coordination with Senator Adam Schiff (D-CA) to ensure the base can continue its vital missions.

“This funding is a needed step to ensure Beale Air Force Base can continue its vital missions well into the future,” said Rep. LaMalfa. “The Multi-Domain Operations Complex will modernize the base’s facilities, improve efficiency and allow Beale to incorporate next generation technology like the new Collaborative Combat Aircraft program while expanding and strengthening its role in high-altitude intelligence and reconnaissance. Working together with Senator Schiff, we made sure this project, which had been identified as an unfunded priority, finally got the support it needs. It keeps Beale at the forefront of our national defense, supporting our airmen, and investing in the capabilities our country needs for national security.”

The funding will construct a new Multi-Domain Operations Complex at Beale Air Force Base. The two-story facility will consolidate aircraft maintenance, training, and operational planning for Beale’s high-altitude intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance mission, as well as support new missions planned for the base.

“As the West Coast remains on the front line of deterring adversaries in the Pacific and the home of the nation’s technological innovation, supporting Beale Air Force Base in Congress remains a bipartisan priority for our California delegation,” said Senator Schiff. “And with the Air Force’s selection in May of Beale for testing of the Collaborative Combat Aircraft, the funding we secured in this year’s budget will reinforce the base’s new mission and support thousands of jobs in Yuba County. I was proud to work with Congressman LaMalfa to support this important funding, and the efforts of the dedicated servicemembers that I had a chance to meet at Beale earlier this year.”

The funding complements Beale’s new role as the preferred location for the Air Force’s Collaborative Combat Aircraft program, a next-generation defense initiative that will integrate advanced autonomous aircraft with existing missions. Together, these efforts solidify Beale’s position as a cornerstone of the Air Force’s modernization strategy.

The project was included in the Air Force’s Fiscal Year 2025 Unfunded Priority List and is authorized in Title XXII, Section 2301(a) of Public Law 118-159. ★

Two Arrested for Walnut Theft

Sutter County Sheriff’s Office News Release

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - On Oct. 26, a Sutter County Sheriff’s Deputy made a traffic stop on Highway-99 near Obanion Road, leading to the arrest of two individuals connected to an agricultural theft incident.

During the traffic stop, deputies contacted 44-year-old Yvonne Desa and 45-year-old Dennis Martinez of Marysville. A records check revealed Martinez to have two out of county warrants.

While speaking with Martinez, deputies observed a large quantity of walnuts in the back seat of the vehicle. Upon further investigation, deputies located over 200 pounds of walnuts, along with walnut rakes and pickers commonly used in harvesting.

Both Desa and Martinez have prior theft convictions.

They were transported and booked into the Sutter County Jail for theft-related charges. Martinez was also booked on his outstanding out of county warrants.

Agricultural theft continues to impact local growers during harvest season. The Sutter County Sheriff’s Office remains committed to protecting the community’s agricultural resources and encourages residents to report suspicious activity in rural areas. ★

Faith Christian Reaches NorCal Final, Sutter Tops Quincy in Semis

By YSBC

YUBA CITY, CA (YSBC) - The Lions Den at Faith Christian had a familiar sound on Saturday, Nov. 15 as the Lions girls' volleyball team once again made history as they clinched a spot in the CIF NorCal Division VI Volleyball Regional Final.

Faith Christian swept the St. Vincent de Paul Mustangs in straight sets (25-20, 25-11, 25-17).

The Lions are unique in the essence that a lot of the players on the Faith Christian roster also are athletes on the girls' basketball team.

The Lions spent Saturday morning competing in scrimmages at Lindhurst as have been doing dual practices.

Faith Christian has continued their best season in program as they eclipsed the 25-win mark against St. Vincent de Paul and it sets up familiarity for the final.

The Lions traveled down to Modesto and took on Big Valley Christian on Tuesday night in the Division VI regional final and was the last volleyball game of the season as Division VI doesn't have a state championship match.

Results of the match were not updated before press time. Both squads previously met in the Sac-Joaquin Section finals on Nov. 8, where BVC won in straight sets.

Faith Christian's girls basketball team opens their 2025-26 campaign as they defend their SJS Division VI and CIF NorCal Division VI title tonight as they host Amador at 7 p.m.

SUTTER, CA (YSBC) - The Sutter Union Huskies volleyball team reached the farthest point of the season in program history on Nov. 13 as they beat the Quincy Trojans in a four-set battle (25-22, 25-16, 16-25, 27-25) in the second round of the CIF State Volleyball Division V Championships.

This was Sutter's first state playoff win since 2006 and punched their ticket to the semifinals of the D-V bracket. This 2025 team made history as the only Huskies team in program history to ever make a state semifinal.

Sutter's energy on the court has been the tale of how their matches have gone this season and against Quincy, the Huskies brought the right energy.

As bodies dove on the floor from both sides for digs, Sutter's strength came at the net as junior opposite hitter A. Brown, junior middle blockers Taylor Palmer and Gwen Ziegenmeyer had a consistent presence at the net.

Sutter and Quincy played one other time in 2025 as they met at the Chico tournament back in August and the Trojans swept the Huskies in straight sets.

Palmer expressed to Yuba Sutter Butte Colusa Sports that Sutter missed some athletes in Chico and she played a different position. She added that they also made adjustments for Quincy.

The Huskies and Trojans traded possessions back-and-forth in the first set, but Sutter was able to use the energy of the home crowd and took the first set.

That positive energy as the Huskies continued the positive energy, but Sutter had a stretch of six-straight points and didn't look back as they took the second by nine points.

Palmer said that the blockers had good angles throughout the night. Palmer had 12 kills, a block and had 11 digs in the win.

Brown led the Huskies with 17 kills, two blocks and four digs in the victory over Quincy.

Sutter junior setter Kalena DeLaCerna told YSBC that the Trojans had a strong middle presence as well and a key adjustment she wanted to accomplish during the match was to move the ball around consistently.

She added the positive attitude could have easily been taken away because of that loss to the Trojans back in August.

"We need to have the mentality that we're going to win," DeLaCerna said.

DeLaCerna served three aces and had 36 assists in the win.

The Trojans came out in the third and owned it, but Sutter didn't fold under pressure and won a grueling battle in the fourth set to win the match.

Sutter had four hitters with double-digit kills.

The Huskies were beaten in five sets on Saturday, Nov. 15 to the Colusa RedHawks (24-26, 16-25, 25-16, 25-23, 10-15) for the opportunity to go to the CIF NorCal Division V Regional Finals.

Sutter went down 2-0 and battled back over the next two sets to set up a winner-take all set. Both teams battled with one another and left it all on the court.

This was the furthest the Huskies have competed in program history. Sutter has a lot to be proud of this season and has a lot to be excited for coming up as there will be a lot of potential returners next season.

Sutter and East Nic Have Dominant Openers and Wheatland is Stuffed by Sonora

By YSBC

YUBA-SUTTER AREA, CA (YSBC) - The CIF Sac-Joaquin Section and the Northern Section opened postseason play on Friday, Nov. 14 and there were three Yuba-Sutter squads that had the opportunity for a blue banner and plaque.

Sac-Joaquin Section Playoffs Sutter 65, Rosemont (Sacramento) 14 - The third seeded Sutter Huskies opened the 2025 postseason with a dominant victory over Rosemont in the SJS Division V playoffs.

Sutter gained almost 500 yards of offense in the victory including 169 rushing yards from junior running back Losi Asiata and 82 from senior running back Max Bringgold.

Asiata and Bringgold each found the end zone once in the win against Rosemont. Huskies senior quarterback Braden Scritchfield had four combined touchdowns on the night and accumulated 105 yards of offense.

Defensively, Sutter reigned supreme as they had 12 tackles for loss and forced five turnovers off interceptions, including a 35-yard pick six by junior safety Deagan Parks.

The Huskies will travel down to the southern part of the section tonight and play at the No. 2 seed Hilmar Yellowjackets with kickoff scheduled for 7.

The winner of this game will move onto the SJS Division V Championship at Sacramento City College on Friday, Nov. 28.

Sonora 49, Wheatland 7 - The Wheatland Pirates were given the hardest first-round game of most of the SJS divisions as they took on the first-seeded Sonora Wildcats.

Sonora had multiple victories over teams in higher divisions throughout the season and won the Trans Valley League, which is the toughest small-school league for football in the entire SJS.

Wheatland head coach Andy Fatten expressed to Yuba Sutter Butte Colusa Sports that the Wildcats are a phenomenal team and could win a section title in a few other divisions throughout the SJS.

Fatten added that when it was 7-7 in the first, the Sonora defense was able to sniff out any trick-play opportunity the Pirates cooked up.

The Wheatland offense was able to move the ball downfield as sophomore quarterback Joe Franklin completed 18 passes for 227 yards in the air.

Franklin found senior wide receivers Braden Zozoya, Kaleb Hill and senior running back Jaylen Brown for 16 receptions and 213 yards passing in the loss.

Fatten told YSBC that he is so proud of this senior class for the dedication to the program throughout their time in the Pirates' program.

"These guys changed the culture of the program and brought it up to where it is today," Fatten said.

Northern Section Playoffs East Nicolaus 35, Trinity (Weaverville) 0 - The East Nicolaus Spartans built a decisive lead early in the first half as they built a three-score lead in the Northern Section Division IV matchup. East Nicolaus senior quarterback Mason Taylor completed six passes for 96 yards in the air and a touchdown pass.

Taylor led the rushing attack with 62 yards on the ground and the Spartans had 10 different rushers throughout the night.

The East Nicolaus defense shut down the Wolves under 100 total yards throughout the game and dominated the front lines.

The Spartans moved onto the semifinals and will play at Hamilton for the opportunity to make another section final.

East Nicolaus is scheduled for a 7 p.m. kickoff tonight against the Braves.

Silver-Smoked Turkey: Jim King's Famous Smokeout Marks 25 Years

By Shamaya Sutton

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - What began as a small backyard favor for friends has officially reached its silver anniversary. Jim King's 25th Annual Famous Turkey Smokeout returns this week, continuing a Yuba City tradition that has fed families, sparked friendships and kicked off the holiday spirit since 2000.

Each year, King opens up his Hillcrest Avenue driveway to anyone wanting a perfectly smoked Thanksgiving bird — and, just as importantly, a dose of community. The all-day, come-and-go event is equal parts potluck, reunion and neighborhood open house. As always, it runs rain or shine, with big tents, fire pits, and King's signature "kick-back, family-style" atmosphere.

"This is a chill, no-drama event — greeting old friends, making new ones, and just being part of this awesome community," King wrote in this year's announcement. "Leave the politics at home and come be part of the fun!"

Organizers ask participants to follow a few simple "turkey rules." Guests should drop off a fully defrosted 12-14 pound turkey in their own cooler, clearly labeled with their name and cell number. Drop-offs begin Tuesday at 3 p.m. and continue through Wednesday morning, no later than 11 a.m., though King notes that bringing birds on Tuesday helps the most. Cash or QR-code donations will be collected for "Be Xtra" with Brian Davis, all funds going to support a local Yuba City family during the holidays.

Attendees are also encouraged to bring something to share, both for the bar and the potluck-style food line. Many people choose to stay and hang out on Wednesday while the birds smoke, but others simply swing back later to pick up their turkey — or return for the after-party once the last birds come off the pit. Turkeys will be available in the designated pickup line when they're done. Those with extra firewood are welcome to drop some off Tuesday as well for the event's fire pits.

The address for drop-off and day-of festivities is 1067 Hillcrest Ave., Yuba City, CA 95991. For questions, King can be reached at 530-788-5452. ★
