Accountability Returns to Sacramento

DA Thien Ho outlines fentanyl fight, retail theft crackdown

By Ornella Rossi

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The Citrus Heights Chamber of Commerce welcomed Sacramento County District Attorney Thien Ho for a wide-ranging discussion on public safety, retail theft and the fentanyl crisis during its February ACCESS monthly luncheon.

Held Feb. 17 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Citrus Heights Event Center, the event drew local business owners and community members seeking an update on the direction of the Sacramento County District Attorney's Office. The luncheon was sponsored by Sunrise Marketplace, and food was provided by Caravan Uzbek Cuisine.

Ho opened his remarks with an African proverb: "If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together" emphasizing partnership, particularly with local law enforcement.

"When we talk about partnership, I want to recognize the Citrus Heights Police Chief for the great work he and the rest of his team do," Ho said.

As he travels across the county, Ho said, one concern consistently rises to the top.

"The number one issue is public safety. You really can't thrive as a community, thrive as a business, unless you first take care of public safety," he said.

Ho cited a 252% increase in Sacramento County's homeless population between 2017 and 2022, stating that 8 in 10 chronically homeless individuals suffer from mental health or substance abuse disorders, referencing research from Stanford University.

"It's not safe, it's not humane," Ho said of encampment conditions, noting that overdose is the leading cause of death among the unhoused, followed by blunt force trauma. "We see the impact not only with the people living on the streets, but in the community as well."

To address repeat offenders and quality-of-life crimes, Ho highlighted the county's CORE program.

"We identify individuals who are consistently committing crimes, vandalism, petty theft, trespassing and we stack up their offenses," Ho said.

Those individuals are offered a choice: jail time or treatment.

"If they complete that treatment, we greatly reduce the amount of time they're doing in jail. We allow people an opportunity to get redemption," Ho said.

Girl Scout Cookie Season Begins

Story and photos by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Girl Scout cookie sales started on Friday, Feb. 20 in celebration of National Girl Scout Cookie Weekend with many customers in Citrus Heights craving to try a pink box of trademarked Exploremores, a Rocky Road ice cream-inspired flavor, making its debut this year.

The increased price per box from $6 to $7 didn't deter early shoppers outside the Walmart grocery store on Sunrise Boulevard, eager to buy a selection of their favorites, including Thin Mints, Caramel deLites, Peanut Butter Patties and other classic varieties.

Moms stood with watchful eyes over stacked cartons of cookies behind the sales table, as eager Girl Scouts engaged with their customers, suggested flavors to try and closed their sales.

Each cookie box purchase supports Girl Scouts who make the world a better place, "one box of cookies at a time."

Through the annual Girl Scout Cookie Program, participants develop skills in goal setting, decision-making, money management, people skills and business ethics.

New to the 2026 lineup is Exploremores, a rocky road ice cream-inspired sandwich cookie featuring chocolate, marshmallow and toasted almond-flavored crème.

My sweet tooth couldn't resist a box of Exploremores to accompany the two boxes of Thin Mints I'd been planning to buy since sales were announced.

These rocky road ice cream-inspired sandwich cookies, filled with the yummy flavor of chocolate, marshmallow and toasted almond-flavored crème, reflect the spirit of exploration at the heart of every Girl Scout according to the Girl Scouts of the USA. The rich, chocolatey taste is just as advertised, and I'll be eagerly looking to buy another box before it sells out.

Only registered Girl Scouts can sell Girl Scout Cookies, and their market availability is generally between January and April when Girl Scouts nationally participate in the program through their local council.

San Juan Unified School District News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The gym at Del Campo High School was filled with music, laughter and high-fives as students from across San Juan Unified rotated through games, dancing and fitness activities.

"I really want to help the general education population recognize how amazing our special education students are and how similar they are; the differences are not that great," said Stephanie Jackson, adapted physical education teacher.

That was the goal of the second annual Unified Sports-A-Rama, held on Feb. 6 at Del Campo High School. The event brought students together for an evening of fun, welcoming students of all abilities from across the district to participate side by side and build meaningful connections.

"Unified Sports-A-Rama supports connection and inclusion as we get general education and special education students from all across the district to play and get to know each other and have fun together," said Jackson.

Inspired by Del Campo's long-standing Sports-A-Rama tradition, the Unified Sports-A-Rama offers a more inclusive approach. Rather than organizing competition between classes, the event unites students in collaborative activities designed to promote connection. By prioritizing participation over competition, the event creates an environment where every student can feel comfortable, valued and supported.

Throughout the evening, students rotated through a variety of activities. From games to music and dancing, the event focused on building confidence, friendships and a sense of belonging for everyone involved.

Beyond the physical activities, the event provided opportunities for social growth. Students met peers from other schools, practiced communication skills and engaged in positive social interactions.

"In the future, as Unified Sports-A-Rama grows, I'd love to see the event become larger, with the stands filled with their peers cheering them on, administrators and teachers showing their support and the whole floor filled with participants," shared Jackson.

Unified Sports-A-Rama continues to grow as a meaningful tradition, celebrating inclusion, community and the shared successes of all students. The event reflects San Juan Unified's commitment to creating welcoming, inclusive environments where every student feels valued and connected. ★

Ho also detailed the role of community prosecutors embedded within local police departments. Of the office's approximately 200 attorneys, about a dozen serve in community-based roles focused on quality-of-life crimes.

Last year, the office filed roughly 15,000 criminal cases, 7,000 felonies and 8,000 misdemeanors, he said.

"These are the things that are going to make a difference and have made a difference," Ho said, noting a pilot community prosecution program in Citrus Heights.

A significant portion of Ho's presentation focused on Proposition 36, which he described as a "game changer" for accountability.

He argued that earlier reforms increased the felony theft threshold and reduced certain drug offenses to misdemeanors, weakening deterrence and undermining drug court programs.

"In the aftermath, you had people pulling out a calculator to figure out how much they were stealing," Ho said.

Proposition 36, which he said passed with 70% voter approval, restores the ability to charge certain repeat petty theft and drug possession offenses as felonies. Sacramento County has filed the fifth-most petty theft charges under the measure in the state, Ho said.

For businesses, his advice was direct.

"If you don't report it, it didn't happen," Ho said. "If you don't report it, it doesn't show up in the statistics."

He urged business owners to follow up on online police reports and to identify their "top 10 offenders." The District Attorney's Office also distributed 5,000 Proposition 36 theft-warning stickers to local businesses last year, he said.

Ho also described fentanyl as a crisis eclipsing even gun violence in recent years.

"If I had a packet of sugar worth of fentanyl in my hand right now

Sacramento County District Attorney Thien Ho, left, offered a signed copy of this memoir "The People vs. the Golden State Killer," as a raffle prize won by Quality First Home Improvement Inc. V.P. of Operations Scott Gabaree. Photo by Ornella Rossi that's enough to kill 500 people," he said.

Three years ago, Sacramento County recorded more than 450 fentanyl-related deaths in a single year, more than the total number of gun-related homicides in the county over the previous decade, he said. That figure dropped to fewer than 200 last year.

Ho credited aggressive prosecution and education efforts, including his "One Pill Can Kill" program, which brings fentanyl awareness presentations to high schools and middle schools.

"If you sell fentanyl and somebody dies, you just committed murder," he said, noting that 14 individuals have been charged in fentanyl-related homicide cases since 2022.

He warned that 99% of counterfeit pills sold on the street contain fentanyl, often purchased by teens through social media.

"They're killing our kids, our grandkids, our nephews and our nieces," Ho said.

Ho also reflected on leading the prosecution of the man known as the Golden State Killer, who was arrested in Citrus Heights in 2018. The suspect was linked to 13 murders, more than 60 sexual assaults and over 100 burglaries across California between 1974 and 1986.

The arrest relied on genetic genealogy, a technique that compared crime-scene DNA to publicly available genealogy databases.

"We built this massive family tree that had thousands of names on it," Ho said. Investigators eventually narrowed the list to three potential suspects, including one living in Citrus Heights.

Detectives collected discarded DNA from the suspect's trash, which matched evidence from crime scenes.

Ho detailed the case in his 2025 memoir, "The People vs. the Golden State Killer," and offered a signed copy as a raffle prize at the luncheon.

The chamber's next ACCESS luncheon is scheduled for March 17 at the Citrus Heights Event Center and will feature Sacramento County District 4 Supervisor Rosario Rodriguez. ★

Sunrise Village Grocery Outlet to Open Early April

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The April 2 opening of a new Grocery Outlet store in the Sunrise Village in Citrus Heights comes as welcome news to employees of nearby Amazon Fresh who will be out of work when their store closes to the public on March 13.

Grocery Outlet is accepting applications and resumes for positions at its south Citrus Heights store at 5409 Sunrise Blvd. The franchisees will host an in-person job fair on Thursday, Feb. 26, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in front of the store, inviting applicants who have submitted their resumes to learn more about available openings.

Amazon is officially closing its Amazon Fresh supermarket in the Sunrise Village Shopping Center in Citrus Heights which opened a year and a half ago.

The tech and retail giant publicly announced plans to close all of 60 Amazon Fresh grocery stores in the United States, including its Citrus Heights location, "to prioritize investment in growth areas," in a company blog post on Tuesday, Jan. 27. Three Amazon Fresh supermarkets were located in Northern California.

Once open, the new Grocery Outlet will face competition from two other nearby retail grocers, Smart and Final and a Trader Joes located on opposite sides of the busy Sunrise Boulevard and Madison Avenue corner.

Tilton Pacific Construction, Inc., of Rocklin has overseen the interior and exterior renovation of the former Rite Aid drug store in recent months. A new sidewalk has been added in front of the store, and the overall parking area has been refreshed and restriped.

The white stucco front façade of the new Grocery Outlet has also been refreshed with new paint and marquee signage above the center front retail entrance.

News of the upcoming grand opening was announced on its local social media accounts.

Inside, work crews have removed the existing interior ceiling to its bare structure, which was necessary to meet the higher shelving and storage height which Grocery Outlet requires in its retail stores. Store shelving and front checkout counters are in place, while inventory has yet to arrive.

Multiple Amazon employees said they were aware of Grocery Outlet at the opposite end of the Sunrise Village Plaza now hiring, and said they intended to promptly submit their employment applications.

It remains unclear whether any of the Sacramento's region's existing Amazon Fresh stores, including Citrus Heights, might be converted in the future to a Whole Foods, which is owned by Amazon.

Sunrise Village Plaza at the corner of Madison Avenue and Sunrise Boulevard in Citrus Heights is owned by the San Francisco-based Merlone-Geier investment company. The center has undergone a $15-to-20 million remodeling and expansion project, which included new landscaping and upgraded signage.

Each Grocery Outlet franchise location is individually owned and operated. ★ penses. See what I'm saying? You won't be able to count on an easy $400 in your pocket every month.

Now, I love real estate. I understand the excitement and allure. But what you're really saying is you want to cash out part of your retirement, get hit with a penalty and take on debt, all to buy an investment property. This is not a good plan.

My advice is to save up, and pay cash for one small, decent rental property to see if the landlord game is really for you.

– Dave

The Safest Place?

Dear Dave,

Where is the best place to keep my savings?

– Angie

Dear Angie,

In my mind, when it comes to savings, the idea is to park the money in a safe place—like a money market account or basic savings account—and keep it separate from the rest of your cash, so you don't accidentally spend it on the wrong thing. I'm not really concerned with making money in a savings scenario, so things like setting money aside for an emergency fund or vacations fall into this category.

Investing, on the other hand, is when you're going to leave the money alone for a bare minimum of five to 10 years to grow it. Things like college planning and retirement fall into this category. In these instances, I recommend good, growth-stock mutual funds that have stable track records of at least 10 years.

I hope this helps, Angie!

COMMUNITY CONNECTION

Informing, Empowering and Engaging Readers with Their Community

By Patsy McGavock
JustServe.org

In a quiet corner of the public library, a teenager scrolls through scholarships and job listings while an older man studies his retirement account statement a few tables away. They never speak. Yet both are doing the same math—trying to calculate security in an uncertain economy. One worries about getting started. The other worries about running out. What lingers is not the difference in age, but the shared weight neither can see in the other.

National studies show strain at every life stage: Young adults report the highest levels of anxiety and psychological distress; adults in their 30s and 40s report some of the highest loneliness while balancing careers and caregiving; and older adults face serious risks tied to social isolation, including heart disease, stroke and cognitive decline.

But there's also a more hopeful pattern—the very stage of life that produces strain also produces assets that another stage lacks. If you fit those together like the peaks and valleys of a gear, both move smoothly ahead, even magnified as more gears join the lift.

Older adults carry long-range perspectives, having seen recessions end, cycles turn and movements succeed. That perspective does not dismiss youthful concern; it steadies it—settled into the valley of seasoned experience—while simultaneously reducing seniors' risk of isolation. Whether reading in classrooms, mentoring small-business owners or serving on boards, they remain civic assets rather than sidelined observers.

Where Generations Meet

Part 1: Turing Strain into Strength

Midlife adults often sit at the tightest point in the system—stretched between generations—yet also the most powerful, holding two generations at once. They manage schedules, budgets and institutions with skill, mentoring the young while supporting elders. When connected upward to elders who anchor perspective and downward to youth who represent possibility, they report deeper purpose and life satisfaction, reframing caregiving from isolated obligation to shared meaning and continuity.

Communities that normalize those connections distribute responsibility more evenly: a ride to an appointment, a college application review, a shared meal that becomes a three-generation conversation.

These connections also address a stress shared across life stages—one of America's most urgent and widespread health concerns: loneliness. The difference is visibility. Older adults may be alone in their homes. Teenagers may be alone in plain sight. Midlife adults may be unseen in the caretaking, career-keeping shuffle between the two.

Research shows people thrive beyond their peer group alone: Youth with at least one trusted non-parent adult see stronger academic and life outcomes and engage in less high-risk behavior; midlife adults gain renewed purpose beyond roles of responsibility; and seniors find meaningful contribution.

Yet it is not America's natural pace. Routines, infrastructure, programming and even housing separate us by age, creating divisions that become emotional as well as structural. Surveys show rising perceptions that generations no longer share values or economic realities—“those boomers” vs. “entitled millennials.” Which means generational connection, at least for now, must be intentional and forgiving.

There's a community-level payoff that goes beyond warm stories. Cross-generational relationships strengthen what every town says it wants: trust, mutual responsibility and a sense that “we're in this together.” When a teenager knows the name of the older neighbor on the corner—and that neighbor recognizes the teen as more than a headline about “kids these days”—we reduce fear and increase belonging. Across the entire lifespan.

In a time when civic life can feel brittle, cross-generational ties are one of the few bridges that don't require everyone to agree first. It's an interpersonal invitation.

When the generational gears do not touch, each spins alone, isolated. When they interlock—in classrooms, parks, libraries, faith communities and neighborhood walks or projects—pressure converts into motion.

So, the question isn't whether cross-generational connection is “nice.” It's whether we're willing to make it normal—not a special event or a once-a-semer service hour, but a steady rhythm woven into daily life: Invite someone a generation older or younger into your routine. While there, share a skill, ask a story and build a new, magnified way of being together.

A Message on Community Beautification

By Ash Feeny,
City Manager,

has consistently reinforced those priorities by supporting practical solutions, investing in the right tools and maintaining a focus on follow through.

City staff, working across departments and with community partners, have translated that direction into action in public areas throughout Citrus Heights. Expanded beautification efforts, stronger enforcement tools, and improved coordination have led to visible improvement in public spaces and along key corridors. Residents have noticed. Community feedback shows that sentiment around city management of blight and beautification has shifted from unfavorable to favorable in just two years, confirming that sustained, focused work is delivering results.

As progress in public spaces continues, the City Council has also taken steps to ensure momentum extends to other areas outside of public spaces. Last week, the City Council unanimously approved the Commercial Property Reoccupancy Ordinance. This ordinance establishes a clear and consistent framework for addressing long-term commercial vacancies, and would ensure vacant commercial buildings are safe, well maintained and positioned for reinvestment, while emphasizing collaboration with property owners to support business activation and long-term economic vitality.

These actions serve as building blocks that strengthen our city's foundation and support a strong future. The resulting improvements promote a cleaner environment, enhance quality of life for residents and businesses, and contribute to public safety by maintaining clean, orderly spaces. I am grateful for the City Council's leadership and steady partnership, and for their commitment to setting a clear direction for Citrus Heights. I also want to thank City staff and the residents and businesses who contribute to this work every day. Together, we have made strong progress, and together, we will continue moving Citrus Heights forward.

In your service,
Ashley J. Feeny

Flawed and Unnecessary Cardroom Regulations Put Safety, Community and Economic Vitality at Risk

By Sue Frost, Al Fox and Bill Van Duker

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Attorney General Rob Bonta's newly finalized cardroom regulations impose unnecessary burdens that could destabilize responsible cardrooms, jeopardize local jobs, reduce city revenues and ultimately harm the very communities these policies claim to protect throughout California. These regulations will have major negative impacts on the City of Citrus Heights, which is home to Stones Gambling Hall.

Stones Gambling Hall has become one of Citrus Heights' most recognizable and reliable anchor businesses, elevating the city's profile along the Interstate 80 corridor and contributing meaningfully to our local economy and community life. That is why the California Attorney General's recently finalized cardroom regulations are so concerning, not just for Stones, but for cardrooms and the communities they support across the state.

Like most California cardrooms, Stones Gambling Hall is far more than a place to gamble. It serves as a gathering space for local and regional organizations, hosts community events and fundraisers, supports local nonprofits and offers dining and entertainment options that draw visitors into Citrus Heights. It is also a highly regulated, licensed business that provides substantial tax revenue to the city. That revenue helps fund public safety services and other essential community programs.

Since Citrus Heights was incorporated, the city has worked to define itself as a safe, welcoming place to live, work and explore. When Stones was built, it helped accelerate that progress. Over the past decade, the cardroom has proven itself to be a true community partner, engaged, responsive and invested in the city's success. Stones has consistently shown a willingness to collaborate with city leaders, law enforcement and local organizations to help make Citrus Heights a better place for everyone.

In 2024, Stones Gambling Hall celebrated its 10-year anniversary, a milestone that reflects both its longevity and its commitment to the community. Over those ten years, the cardroom has created hundreds of local jobs and contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars to charitable causes throughout the region, including the National Alliance on Mental Illness, Glass Slipper, the California Partnership to End Domestic Violence, the Sacramento County Sheriff's K-9 Association and Saint John's Program for Real Change.

Given this track record, the question becomes clear: why were additional sweeping regulations adopted for businesses that are already highly regulated and demonstrate consistent efforts to give back and support their communities? Citrus Heights has been home to licensed cardrooms for decades. For more than fifty years, these businesses have operated in compliance with the law and, in turn, provided meaningful economic and community benefits.

Cardrooms in California existed long before tribal gaming. Since tribal casinos entered the California market, these businesses have coexisted, each operating under different regulatory frameworks and serving different roles within the state's gaming landscape. This is not an argument against tribal gaming, which plays an important role in California. It is a concern about regulatory imbalance. Pushing cardrooms out through overregulation risks creating a de facto monopoly, at the expense of cities like Citrus Heights that rely on anchor businesses like Stones for economic vitality, community engagement and public safety support.

As finalized, these regulations increase compliance costs and operational uncertainty in ways that could force responsible cardrooms to reduce jobs, limit services or reconsider long-term investments in the communities they support.

We urge Attorney General Rob Bonta to reconsider and amend these finalized regulations before they cause irreversible harm. Cardrooms deserve a seat at the table and a meaningful dialogue about how to address tribal concerns without dismantling licensed cardroom businesses and the community partners that are doing more than their part.

Citrus Heights knows Stones Gambling Hall not as a problem, but as a partner. Our community values its presence and wants it to remain a part of the city's future. Thoughtful policy should protect communities, not undermine them.

We encourage Citrus Heights residents to speak out and urge Attorney General Rob Bonta to revisit and revise these regulations to protect cardroom communities. Residents can email Attorney General Rob Bonta at rob.bonta@doj.ca.gov.

All bidders must purchase a complete set of contract documents (hard copy or PDF format) from BPX Printing and Graphics to be included on the planholder's list and to receive addenda notifications. It is the responsibility of each prospective bidder to confirm his/her firm is on the planholder's list held at BPX Printing and Graphics to ensure receipt of any subsequent communications, including addenda. Contract Documents are not available directly from the City.

There is no pre-bid meeting for this project. All questions regarding this project are to be submitted in writing by email to generalservices@citrusheights.net with a CC to lblomquist@citrusheights.net by Thursday, March 5, 2026 at 5:00 PM.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 1770 of the Labor Code of the State of California, the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages applicable to the work to be done in accordance with the standards set forth in Section 1773 and which is on-file in the office of the City Clerk.

The successful bidder shall pay not less than the specified prevailing wage rates to all laborers, workers, and mechanics employed in the performance of the work specified herein. The successful bidder will be required to post a copy of the general prevailing rates per diem wages in a conspicuous place at the job site forthwith upon undertaking the public work called for herein. The successful bidder shall also keep an accurate certified payroll record in accordance with requirement set forth in Labor Code Section 1776 and the Contract Documents.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash, cashier's check, certified check or Bidder's Bond made payable to the City of Citrus Heights in the amount of 10% of the total bid amount, such guaranty to be forfeited should the bidder to whom the Contract is awarded fail to enter into the Contract within the time period required by the Contract Documents.

No bid will be accepted unless it is made on a proposal form furnished by the General Services Director and is for the entire work described herein. The bid bonds for the three acceptable lowest bidders shall be retained until the City Council has accepted the successful bidder. All other Bidder's Bonds shall be returned to the bidder five working days after bid opening. The Contract shall be awarded, if an award is made, to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder within sixty calendar days from the date the bids are publicly opened and declared. If the award is not made within that period, all bids submitted are deemed rejected by the City Council and all remaining Bidder's

Bonds shall be returned to the bidder. The successful bidder shall apply for and obtain at its costs any permits required for all work, except as otherwise specified in the Contract Documents.

A bidder may propose one or more "equals" or substitutions for products listed in the Contract Documents by manufacturer name, brand or model number, unless the Contract Documents specify that the product is necessary to match others in use. Complete information for products proposed by a bidder as an equal must be submitted to the General Services Director for review, at least ten (10) working days before the time specified for bid opening in accordance with the instructions to bidders contained in the Contract Documents.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish, prior to the performance of any work hereunder, a payment bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Contract price. The bonds must be approved by the City.

The successful bidder shall also furnish a Warranty Bond, in a form acceptable to the City in an amount of one hundred percent (100%) of the total Contract price plus change orders, to hold good for a period of one year after the completion and acceptance of the work, to protect the City against the results of defective materials, quality of work, and equipment during that time. This bond shall be delivered to the City before the final payment under this Contract will be made. The successful bidder will also be required to furnish insurance as set forth in the Contract Documents.

Pursuant to Public Contract Code section 22300, bidders may substitute securities for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to insure performance. Such securities must be furnished on a form acceptable to the City and by a company, acceptable to the City, that is authorized and licensed by the Insurance Commissioner as an "admitted surety insurer" and which maintains at least one officer in California for conducting business. Prior to such approval, the surety shall provide the documentation required by California Civil Code Section 995.660.

The City of Citrus Heights reserves the right to reject any or all bids or portions thereof, to accept a bid or portion thereof and to waive any minor informality or irregularity.

The license classification required for this project is Class "A": General Engineering, Class "C-8": Concrete, and/or Class "C-12" Earthwork and Paving Contractor issued by the State of California. The license must be active and in good standing as of the date of receipt of bids and must be maintained in good standing throughout the term of the contract. For contracts involving federal funds, the license must be active and in good standing as of the date of the Contract award and must be maintained in good standing throughout the term of the contract.

Each bidder, and any subcontractor listed in a bid proposal pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 4104, must be currently registered with the Department of Industrial Relations and qualified to perform public work consistently with Labor Code section 1725.5, except in limited circumstances as referenced in Labor Code section 1771.1(a).

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

Break the Losing Streak

As previously stated, the Sacramento Kings are setting records, albeit not the ones they want to.

Entering Monday night's game against the Grizzlies on the road, the Kings will try to call a halt to a 16-game losing streak and give the Sacramento fan base a reason for optimism.

Injuries, bad coaching and a front office that still needs to find their way have all contributed to the worst record in the NBA, and few pundits or fans expected to find this team in the NBA cellar.

Allowing Sabonis and Lavine to surgically repair their injuries ending the season for both, makes loads of sense as there remains no possibility of making the playoffs, and having both critical players healthy entering next season will be a welcome relief as the Kings look for a 180-degree turn.

Looking for bright spots is a little like looking for a needle in a haystack, but without question seeing Keegan Murry finally healthy and making a contribution nightly, is a more than welcome sight.

In the most recent game against the Spurs, Keegan led the Kings in scoring 20 points along with DeMar DeRozan, and although not the all-star that the Kings initially thought he might be, Keegan is making noises like he's going to someone to count on as the team continues to shuffle the deck.

What will the upcoming draft bring the cellar dwellers? Anyone's guess, but you can rest assured that GM Scott Perry has his sights set on coming up with a game changer.

We've seen franchises do it before, and you need look no further than the Oklahoma City Thunder or the Detroit Pistons to see the results. Yes, it can happen, and the only caveat is the past experiences in the draft that have been abysmal.

No more Willie Cauly-Stein's or Marvin Bagley's! What the Kings need is a can't miss, blue chipper that will impact this team in a positive way right out of the gate!

Can it be done? Yes, it absolutely can, if Scott Perry and staff are permitted to do their job without interference from the ownership group. Let the people you've hired do their job and stand on the decisions they make.

Another DeAaron Fox or Tyrese Haliburton may be just around the corner, and goodness knows the Kings are overdue for something positive to happen.

Another key will be how they evaluate the talent that already exists. Will the Kings value Domantas Sabonis and realize what a true diamond in the rough they have? At this point no one knows and we can only wait and see what happens.

What everyone agrees on is bringing a 16-game losing streak to a halt and stemming a conversation of challenging the all-time futility record set by the Detroit Pistons. Although 16 is a fall cry from the 28-game losing streak set by the Pistons, it's just better to put that conversation to bed.

1st round draft choices need to be vetted carefully, and the Kings have yet to fully see what Devin Carter brings to the table. Everyone knows he can jump out of the gym, and at times his defense is all-star caliber, but can this 1st round draft choice get enough court time to prove his worth. We'll see, but I take nothing for granted.

Enter Killian Hayes, a 6'4" guard just signed to a 10-day contract. I wasn't aware the Kings needed another guard but here he is, nonetheless. What is interesting about Killian is that he was drafted #7 overall in the 2020 draft by the Detroit Pistons and is still only 24 years of age. Raised in France can he make a splash?

At the same time the Kings signed Patrick Baldwin Jr. to a 2-way contract and at 6'10" Patrick brings some much needed girth to the front line. Baldwin was signed by the Golden State Warriors 28th in the overall 2022 draft so Kings fans have renewed reason to show up for the March 3 contest at Golden One against the Phoenix Suns.

Yes, Scott Perry is trying, and that's better than giving up. Are these guys longshot? They are, and we need to turn out and give them the best we have.

Stay tuned Kings fans and don't lose heart.

All the best! ★

California School Systems Face Red Ink Despite Boosts in Education Spending

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Educating California's nearly 6 million public school students is the state budget's second largest expenditure, and one that has increased sharply during Gavin Newsom's governorship.

The 2026-27 budget that Newsom proposed last month would spend $88.7 billion on students, ranging from transitional kindergartners to high school seniors. When local property taxes and federal aid are included, the total would be nearly $150 billion, an average of $27,418 per pupil.

That's a 61% increase from the $17,014 they were getting when Newsom became governor, but adjusting for 29% inflation during that period would cut the real gain in half.

Comparing California's school support to that of other states is difficult because there's always a lag in data collection. However, the Public Policy Institute of California, using data that are a few years old, reports that the state is no longer in the lower ranks in per pupil spending but is somewhere in the middle, perhaps a few thousand dollars above average.

Education officials constantly press for more state spending, which is governed by complicated formulas in a 1988 ballot measure, Proposition 98. Newsom's budget calculates that the minimum Prop. 98 guarantee in state and local funds would be $125.5 billion, but he wants to delay $5.6 billion in payments to reduce the budget's deficit – essentially a loan from the schools to the state, one of many maneuvers he and the Legislature have used to close the gap between revenue and spending.

"This delay shifts costs to the future when the state must 'settle up' and meet this obligation," the Legislature's fiscal analyst, Gabe Petek, says in his overview of the schools budget, adding, "For the state budget, the settle-up proposal is similar to other forms of borrowing and spending delays – it provides temporary savings in the current year but increases costs in the future."

Calculating what the state is legally obligated to spend on schools, deciding what it will spend, massaging the numbers and framing the political optics is a time-dishonored feature of the annual budget process because it's such a big piece of the puzzle.

Meanwhile, however, school districts throughout the state are having remarkable difficulty in balancing their own budgets this year. They face declining enrollments due to demographic factors such as falling birth rates, lower immigration, population losses to other states, local resistance to school closures and pressure from unions for salary increases for teachers and support staff, to cope with their own inflationary pressures.

The fiscal angst is most obvious in urban school districts, where enrollment declines are most severe and where unions are the strongest, often spending heavily to elect friendly school board members.

San Francisco's school system just underwent a teacher strike that was settled with an agreement that will raise costs by an estimated $180 million-plus, leaving great uncertainty over how it will find the money.

Sacramento's schools have been teetering on the edge of insolvency for years due to outlays that are markedly greater than income. It could be compelled to accept a fiscal overseer if it needs a state bailout.

Los Angeles Unified, the nation's second largest school system, is facing a $191 million deficit, the latest in a string of budget gaps.

Educators and their unions say their problems could be solved if only they had more state aid. But raising per pupil spending by $1,000 would cost nearly $6 billion a year, and increasing it to $30,000-plus to match the top tier of states, such as New York, would cost at least $30 billion.

With the state budget already plagued by chronic deficits in the $20 billion range, just giving schools their constitutional level of financing will fall $5.6 billion short under Newsom's budget.

My Friend is 65; Shouldn't She Be Exempt from Medicare Payroll Taxes?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: My girlfriend is 65 and she just enrolled in Medicare. She is still working full time as a nurse, but they are still deducting Medicare taxes from her paycheck. I thought as soon as you started Medicare, that they would no longer take any Medicare taxes from her paychecks. Is that not correct? Signed: Concerned Friend

Dear Concerned Friend: Your understanding about Medicare payroll tax is, indeed, not correct. Medicare taxes are levied on everyone who works and earns, regardless of whether or not they are currently enrolled in the Medicare program. That is how Medicare has worked since it was first enacted in the mid-1960s and how it still works today.

FYI, everyone who works for an employer must pay "FICA" (Federal Insurance Contributions Act) payroll tax of 7.65%. Most (6.2%) of that payroll tax goes to support Social Security, but 1.45% goes to support Medicare Part A. Self-employed individuals must also pay this tax under the Self-Employed Contributions Act (SECA) which is equivalent to FICA, except the self-employed individual must also pay the employer portion of the payroll tax. The Social Security portion of the FICA/SECA tax has an earnings cap ($184,500 in 2026), but there is no cap on earnings for the Medicare portion of the FICA/SECA payroll tax. FYI, employers pay an equivalent amount of Social Security and Medicare taxes, and the Medicare portion of the payroll tax is paid on all earnings (there is no cap on earnings from which the Medicare payroll tax is withheld).

To ensure understanding, Medicare Part A provides healthcare coverage for inpatient hospitalization services, and Medicare Part B provides coverage for outpatient medical services (doctors, medical tests, etc.). That 1.45% of the FICA (and SECA tax for the self-employed) is paid by those who work to help fund the Medicare Part A program, which is premium-free for most Americans after age 65. For Medicare Part B, there is a separate premium which helps pay for Medicare outpatient healthcare services. The standard Medicare Part B premium for 2026 is $202.90 per month, compared to Medicare Part A which is free to all who are eligible for Social Security benefits. But the 1.45% payroll tax which is being withheld from your girlfriend's paycheck is paid by everyone who has work earnings, even if they are enrolled in Medicare.

The Greatest Sports Story Ever Told

tremely demanding style forged a group of college kids into a historic team. (The Olympics back then were for amateurs, although the Soviets were professional in all but name.)

Brooks was obsessed with Soviet hockey and wanted to turn its insights against it. His team would be physically tough, but would be able to skate and pass too, and be better conditioned than anyone else, giving it better legs in the third period.

The U.S. team compiled an impressive record during the exhibition season. But the Soviets were giants. They'd won the gold at every single Olympics since 1964. During this run, their combined Olympic record was 27-1-1, and they had outscored the opposition 175-44.

The U.S. played an exhibition game against the Soviets at Madison Square Garden right before the Games and got crushed 10-3.

At the Olympics, the U.S. managed a last-minute tie against Sweden and then manhandled a good Czech team, 7-3. As they racked up more wins, they caught the nation's attention, but the Soviets awaited in the medal round.

No one gave the U.S. a chance. Al Michaels says he was just hoping it'd still be close, say, the Soviets up 3-1, in the middle of the game. Brooks delivered a famous pre-game St. Crispin's Day speech to his team: "This moment is yours." The coach's grown children show the documentarians the card that he wrote his notes on -- surely one of the most precious relics in the history of U.S. sports.

The U.S. emerged tied with the Soviets 2-2 after one period, and survived an onslaught in the second, getting outshot 12-2 but trailing only 3-2. Then, magic happened in the third. Team captain Mike Eruzione scored his iconic goal to put the U.S. up 4-3.

Ten minutes of Al Michaels-narrated agony ensued as the U.S. had to protect the lead against an explosive Soviet team. The U.S. still had to beat the Finns for the gold. True to form, Brooks ran his team through punishing drills to prepare, even after they'd become national heroes.

Ordinary sports creates an ersatz nationalism, with fans feeling a deep connection to their own team, to its history, colors and past heroes. When this sports patriotism was combined with the real thing in 1980 -- especially when arrayed against an aggressive, malign rival power -- the effect was explosive.

The documentary shows the U.S. players walking down the street in Lake Placid. Forty-five years later, people still stop them and yell out their thanks. They showed that miracles happen, and did it for the red, white and blue.

SMUD Boosts Rebates for Heat Pumps

Program helps Sacramento customers save energy, improve comfort and cut carbon

SMUD News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - SMUD announced new, increased rebate levels for residential heat pump installations beginning in February. These enhanced rebates represent an increase in existing programs. They're designed to help customers transition to clean, efficient electric heating and cooling technology while offsetting the recent expiration of federal tax credits and state incentive programs.

These rebates include up to $4,000 for gas-to-electric heat pump water heater conversions, up to $3,000 for gas-to-electric heat pump HVAC system conversions and $1,000 for electric-to-electric heat pump water heater and heat pump HVAC upgrades.

"These rebates demonstrate our commitment to making clean energy affordable and accessible for every Sacramento family," said Lora Anguay, Chief Zero Carbon Officer. "Heat pumps are a reliable technology that reduce carbon emissions, boost energy efficiency and deliver about $500 a year in real savings. By increasing our rebates, we're removing cost barriers and helping our community take part in our shared clean energy future."

SMUD's heat pump programs are a cornerstone of our 2030 Zero Carbon Plan and goal to electrify 154,000 homes by 2030. Heat pumps are highly efficient compared to traditional gas systems, providing heating and cooling while cutting energy bills, improving indoor comfort and reducing household carbon footprints. Through SMUD's Advanced Home Solutions program, more than 23,000 gas-fired space and water heating systems have already been replaced with high-efficiency electric heat pumps.

The increased rebates come at a critical time, as recent federal tax credits expired on Dec. 31, 2025, and state incentive programs have run out of funding.

The Problem with California's Proposed Mileage Tax

Josh Hoover

By Assemblyman Josh Hoover

I was disappointed last month when the Assembly passed AB 1421 (Wilson) over strong bipartisan objections. This legislation sets the stage for a new per-mile tax on drivers across our state—a move I opposed for its potential burden on everyday Californians without adequate safeguards.

Advocates for AB 1421 downplay the risks, insisting it's merely a directive to "study" the contours of a mileage-based fee or road user charge. Indeed, the bill's language focuses on preparing research and recommendations for such a system. But let's be candid: In Sacramento, we don't commission studies on policies we have no intention of pursuing. This "study" is a thinly veiled precursor to implementation, and it demands scrutiny.

What concerns me most is the rush to explore this without ironclad protections for taxpayers. That's why I joined my colleagues in pushing ACA 12 (Wallis). This proposed constitutional amendment would mandate a two-thirds vote threshold for any state or local mileage tax, ensuring broad consensus. It would also ban "double taxation" by exempting drivers who already contribute through the gas tax. Regrettably, the supermajority in Sacramento rejected it on the floor, sidelining these essential guardrails.

To gauge public sentiment, I recently surveyed hundreds of constituents in my district. The results were unequivocal: A staggering 96% opposed any per-mile tax lacking protections against double taxation. Even if the gas tax were entirely eliminated, more than 67% would still reject a mileage-based system. However, support shifted modestly when the tax was framed as applying solely to zero-emission vehicles (ZEVs), which currently evade the gas tax: 49% favored it, while about 40% opposed.

This nuance reveals a core inequity. Drivers of traditional gas-powered vehicles bear a disproportionate share of funding our roads through fuel taxes, whereas ZEV owners pay only a marginally higher registration fee. As electric vehicles proliferate—encouraged by state incentives—this imbalance will only worsen, eroding the revenue base for infrastructure maintenance.

Yet AB 1421 fails to confine the tax to ZEVs. Instead, it opens the door to a blanket levy that ignores the realities faced by low-income and rural residents. Many in these communities commute longer distances to work, school, or essential services, meaning they'd shoulder a heavier load under a miles-traveled model. Compounding this, serious privacy issues loom: Accurately tracking every mile driven could invite intrusive surveillance, eroding personal freedoms without clear data protections.

Make no mistake, our roads desperately need investment. California ranks a dismal 46th nationally in road quality, despite imposing the highest gas taxes in the country. As a member of the Assembly Transportation Committee, I've consistently fought against diverting these revenues to non-transportation uses. We must prioritize fixing potholes, streets, and highways with existing funds before inventing new taxes.

Imposing a mileage tax without robust taxpayer safeguards isn't progress, it's a regressive hit on those least able to afford it. In a state already grappling with sky-high living costs, from housing to groceries, this would further strain hardworking families, commuters, and small businesses. As lawmakers, we owe Californians better: a transparent, equitable solution that rebuilds our infrastructure without punishing drivers. Let's demand accountability and reject half-measures like AB 1421. Our roads and our residents deserve no less.

UC Davis Extends Contract for Football Head Coach

UC Davis Athletics News Release

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - Following two seasons of national success, including back-to-back NCAA Division I National Championship Quarterfinal appearances and 20 wins, UC Davis Athletics and Director of Athletics Rocko DeLuca are proud to announce a five-year contract extension for football head coach and UC Davis graduate Tim Plough.

The new extension runs from Feb. 1, 2026, through Jan. 31, 2031, and is a testament to the commitment by Plough to continue his stated goal of bringing a national championship to Davis, Calif., while navigating an ever-changing college football landscape.

“My family and I are excited to continue our journey here at UC Davis. I love Davis, love this program, and I’ve been proud of what we’ve been able to accomplish in the last two seasons,” said Plough. “We will continue to push forward to make this place grow into the championship program that we know it’s capable of.”

Over the past two seasons, the Aggie football program has established a national presence on the field, earning first-round byes and hosting three NCAA Division I playoff games during that span. UC Davis has also remained strong in recruiting, signing back-to-back classes that each ranked among the top five in the Football Championship Subdivision.

During Plough’s tenure, he has been named an Eddie Robinson Award finalist, and under his coaching seven Aggies have earned First Team All-America honors. Rex Connors, David Meyer and Jacob Psyk have all been named Buck Buchanan Award finalists, and on the offensive side of the ball, Lan Larison and Miles Hastings were named Walter Payton Award finalists.

Larison was signed to a National Football League contract, while Hastings saw time in the Canadian Football League. Each received the final push they needed to reach their potential through Plough’s commitment to helping them finish their careers in Davis.

“Tim has done an exceptional job building on the strong foundation of Aggie football and guiding our program into its next phase of growth,” said DeLuca. “Our tradition, leadership and alumni support have long positioned us for success, and Tim has embraced that legacy while elevating our national profile and competitive standard. He has strengthened our culture, sharpened our identity and clearly defined what Aggie football represents on and off the field.

Coach Plough leads with authenticity, invests deeply in relationships and takes tremendous pride in representing UC Davis. This extension reflects our confidence in his vision and our belief that he is the right leader to help us take the next steps toward sustained championship-level success. Tim cares deeply about this university, our student-athletes and the Aggie community, and we are excited to continue building that momentum together.”

In today’s evolving college football landscape, opportunities at the Football Bowl Subdivision level continue to grow. With this extension, DeLuca, the athletic department and Plough have reaffirmed their shared commitment to the long-term success of Aggie football on the national stage.

“I’ve learned and grown a lot in the past two seasons, I know I have not been perfect and made mistakes, but I’m very thankful for the opportunity to learn and grow and become a better coach, mentor and leader for UC Davis Athletics,” Plough added. “We have big goals here and we still need a lot of help to get there. I’m hoping that my commitment to the program will get others to do the same. We are growing, building, working to be something unique in this new world of college athletics. I really believe in the next couple of years if we continue to do that together, there’s nothing that we can’t accomplish.”

A key part of Plough’s impact at UC Davis has been his focus on developing student-athletes for success on the field while attracting transfers who want to finish their careers and pursue another degree. Since arriving in Davis, he has brought in 12 graduate transfers who have made immediate contributions. The program has also maintained one of the highest retention rates in the FCS, reinforcing that once student-athletes come to Davis, they want to stay.

Players such as Cal Poly transfer David Meyer, who set a program record for tackles in a single season, and Harvard transfer Jacob Psyk, who had an All-American 2025 season, showcase the impact Davis has had on the football landscape and what Plough is building.

“I think the fact that Tim is willing to sign an extension reinforces everything he said when he took the job,” said Cal Aggie Athletics Hall of Famer Bob Biggs. “He has a genuine connection to UC Davis, this program and the community, and you can see that in the way he leads and the pride he takes in representing this place. With the university and athletics making this commitment, it speaks volumes about where the program is headed.”

“Tim is a man of his word, and his experience here as a student-athlete helped shape the passion he brings to this role every day,” Biggs continued. “His energy, transparency and commitment to the student-athletes have built strong trust across the program, and I’m excited to see what the future holds for Aggie Football under his leadership.”

UC Davis and its newly extended head coach will begin the 2026 season with a Big Sky showdown at Portland State on

Aug. 29 and over the next three months, the Aggies will battle for a Big Sky Championship. During the season, Plough and his team will host Montana, Eastern Washington, Northern Colorado, Utah Tech and Cal Poly along with visiting Southern Utah, Weber State and Idaho.

The Aggies have contended for the conference title in both seasons since Plough returned to Davis, and with the foundation built over that time and the shared commitment from Plough and the athletic department, that goal remains within reach.

“In the transient world of college athletics right now, it’s hard to find loyalty and consistency,” Plough said. “I was taught by my coach Bob Biggs to live life with humility and integrity. Therefore, I will continue to make my career decisions off of two key factors: (1) who are the people that I’m working with every single day and are they good people that I want to be around and (2) is this a place where I can grow, learn, and become a better coach-teacher-mentor going forward.

“Davis provides both of those things for my family and me because we continue to be surrounded by great people in our administration like Rocko, Chancellor May and Josh Flushman; a great coaching staff that buys into our beliefs and values led by Jeff Bourque; and a supportive Davis community that continues to look out for us and make us feel like part of their family.”

“As much as I want to bring a championship to UC Davis, I equally want to be a good father and husband. Davis allows me the chance to do that.”

Dutch Bros on Auburn Boulevard Nears Completion

Story and photos by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Construction converting a shuttered former Rally's Burger drive-thru at 7911 Auburn Blvd. in Citrus Heights into a new Dutch Bros coffee shop is nearing completion.

The drive-thru is listed as "coming soon" on social media, and an employee recruitment banner to join the Dutch Bros team is placed near the main beverage pick-up window.

The new Citrus Heights Dutch Bros drive-thru at the corner of Twin Oaks Drive and Auburn Boulevard is the first of three which are scheduled to open this year, according to Steve Grubbs, of Grubbs Investment LLC in Roseville, who is the local Dutch Bros operator in the area.

Two other new Dutch Bros drive-thru will open in Orangevale and Fair Oaks.

In the recent remodel, the building was repainted in gray and dark blue to align with the Dutch Bros corporate color scheme. The front façade of the former Rally's which features a boomerang-style roof faces Auburn Boulevard.

Customers will enter and exit the new Dutch Bros quick serve drive-thru from Grand Oaks Boulevard before returning to Auburn Boulevard, which is controlled by a traffic signal.

Construction started in late December and a 60-90-day timeline for completion was originally projected, according to Grubbs.

Landscaping beds surrounding the drive-thru have received a refresh with decorative bark and fresh gravel added.

New curbing separates the Dutch Bros drive-thru from the main parking lot of Steve Cook's Fireside Lanes, a bowling center located nearby.

The parking lot was also painted to wayfinding and directional elements to accommodate the Dutch Bros double drive-thru stack.

Additional traffic improvements to Auburn Boulevard are under construction by the city of Citrus Heights in its Phase 2 of the Auburn Boulevard Complete Streets Project which will place all public utilities underground, building new pedestrian sidewalks, and installing new traffic lights and signals.

A recent walk around the construction project showed final electrical work, including primary menu signage in key positions surrounding the 827-square foot drive-thru still to be installed.

Once open, the new Auburn Boulevard Dutch Bros will hold a total of 22 cars in the waiting queue without impeding traffic exiting from the drive-thru or stacking onto nearby Twin Oaks Drive, Grubbs said in a prior interview.

Two additional Dutch Bros locations are coming soon to Orangevale and Fair Oaks, Grubbs said.

is planned to replace a former Scooters coffee kiosk at 7904 Winding Way, just off Sunrise Boulevard, where retail plaza anchor, Stardust Village Emporium opened in early January.

Grubbs operates Dutch Bros locations at 7445 Madison Ave. in Citrus Heights and at 7853 Lichen Drive in the Raley's-anchored Summer Hills Plaza near Interstate 80 and Antelope Road. ★
