sandwiches, burgers, hot dogs, candy, snacks and drinks.

Games started at 11:30 a.m. and ran through 4 p.m., showcasing friendly competition across all age groups. The 6U division featured Bumble Bees vs. Lady Bugs, Lil Angels vs. Lil Wolves, Butterflies vs. Tinkerbells, and Lucky Ladies vs. Lil Princesses. The 8U squads included Angels vs. Lady Ballers, A's vs. Wildcats, Sidewinders vs. Lady Tigers, and Diamonds vs. Marines. In the 10U division, Storms faced Fever, and Blaze took on Dirt Devils. For 12U and Majors, action heated up with Crush vs. RC Magic, Fire & Ice vs. RC Magic, Continued on page 3

Sacramento County Strengthens Weather Preparedness

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County is strengthening its commitment to keeping residents safe during severe weather events. The County's Office of Emergency Services (OES) has officially renewed its StormReady designation through September 2030. StormReady is a recognition from the National Weather Service (NWS) that highlights strong emergency preparedness and communication systems.

The StormReady program helps communities build the infrastructure and coordination needed to protect lives and property before, during and after extreme weather. To earn and maintain this designation, agencies must meet criteria that include 24/7 emergency operations and monitoring, established emergency communication systems and ongoing public education and outreach efforts. Sacramento County OES coordinates closely with regional and federal partners to ensure timely alerts and response strategies. Staff work year-round to prepare for hazards such as flooding, extreme heat and severe storms.

"This recognition reinforces the strength of our emergency systems and our commitment to protecting the community," said Emergency Operations Manager for Sacramento County OES, Jason D'Alessio.

In addition to the StormReady renewal, Sacramento County OES is also recognized as a Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador, a program led by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. This designation highlights the County's role in promoting weather awareness, safety education and community resilience.

Residents are encouraged to stay connected, sign up for local alerts at <https://www.smart911.com/smart911/ref/login.action?pa=sacoes> and make emergency plans to help keep themselves and their families safe.

Meet RCPD's New Assistant Chief, Quis Formoli

City of Rancho Cordova News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Assistant Chief Quis Formoli brings over 26 years of law enforcement experience, with a career spanning patrol, investigations, custody operations, communications and executive leadership.

Formoli has served in specialized investigative assignments including Child Abuse, Homicide and the Special Investigations Bureau, where he managed complex cases involving human trafficking and illicit operations. His leadership experience includes Internal Affairs, as well as oversight of the Main Jail, the county's 9-1-1 Communications Center, patrol and regional public safety and contract services.

Most recently, Formoli led the expansion of the Explosive Detection K9 program at Folsom Dam from two to ten dogs, significantly enhancing security capabilities. He also secured additional funding to expand Regional Transit security services, developing a team of security officers and a dedicated supervisor to strengthen safety and reliability across the transit system. Assistant Chief Formoli holds a bachelor's degree in criminal justice management and a master's degree in organizational leadership, reflecting his commitment to professional excellence and strategic leadership.

Rancho Cordova holds deep personal significance for Formoli. After immigrating from the Middle East, his family established roots in the community, where he was raised and graduated from Rancho Cordova High School.

As Assistant Chief, he is committed to leveraging his experience to support personnel, strengthen community partnerships, and advance public safety for the Rancho Cordova community.

"This community gave my family a place to belong - and that is something I carry with me every day in this role," said Formoli. "I am committed to leading with purpose, supporting those who serve, and standing alongside our community to protect what matters most." ★ development and industry. Their presence gave students valuable insight into careers in public safety, business and community service.

Higher education and technical training were also front and center. Representatives from Stanislaus State, Chamberlain University and Universal Technical Institute were on hand to answer questions about degree programs, certifications and career pathways. The U.S. Army also visited campus, sharing information about career opportunities and the educational benefits available through military service.

Students also explored a library collection of career-focused books and enjoyed teachers' college-themed door displays, sparking conversations about higher education and future careers.

Special thanks to all of the partners, staff and community members who made this week possible. Their investment is helping students envision and prepare for their future success. ★

Celebrating Leadership, Service and Innovation

City of Rancho Cordova News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The city is proud to recognize several outstanding team members whose leadership and service continue to make a lasting impact in Rancho Cordova.

After more than a decade of service, Russ Ducharme has been appointed Director of Neighborhood Services. Russ and his team continue to meet evolving community needs, guiding efforts in code enforcement, homelessness and animal services. His strategic leadership and commitment to staff development continue to support safe, stable and livable neighborhoods.

Michelle Mingay was promoted to Assistant Director of Administrative Services - Finance, recognizing her five years of exemplary service as Finance Manager as well as over 20 years of experience in public sector finance. Michelle has successfully overseen daily finance operations, led the city's annual audits and implemented innovative systems to enhance budget management efficiency. Her professionalism and collaborative leadership make her a trusted partner across the organization.

Brenda Roach was also recently promoted to Assistant Director of Administrative Services - Human Resources. Over the past seven years, Brenda has provided steady leadership while advancing continuous improvement across Human Resources. Her collaborative approach and adaptability have played a key role in supporting organizational goals and strengthening the department's impact.

In addition, Rita Gass, the city's Chief Technology & Innovation Officer, was honored at the Women in Data 10th Anniversary Gala for her leadership in advancing innovation and expanding opportunities for women in technology.

Her work, including pioneering the region's first AI robotics ecosystem, is helping create new pathways into emerging fields. The recognition, held during Women's History Month, reflects the strong partnerships and shared commitment to innovation across our community.

Please join us in congratulating these outstanding team members on their well-deserved achievements and continued service to Rancho Cordova. ★

Coordinated Retail Theft Suspects Apprehended by RCPD and SSO

City of Rancho Cordova News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Recently, Rancho Cordova Police Department (RCPD) officers and Sacramento County Sheriff's Office (SSO) deputies responded to a local department store, after receiving information that three subjects who stole items from the same department store in Citrus Heights, Elk Grove, Davis and Sacramento were possibly headed to Rancho Cordova to commit more retail theft. The subjects were last seen in a white rental van with Arizona license plates.

After combing the area, RCPD and SSO were able to locate the van in the parking lot of a local store. A female exited the van and was detained, while other officers contacted the female driver and a male passenger and detained them as well, pending further investigation. A records check of the detained subjects revealed one of them was on formal searchable probation for prior theft convictions in Sacramento County.

Upon searching the vehicle, numerous stolen items from various department stores in the greater Sacramento region, as well as Rancho Cordova, were located inside the van. The suspects were positively identified by loss prevention and all three of them were arrested and transported to the Sacramento County Main Jail to be booked on a myriad of charges.

Thanks to inter-agency collaboration, and the teamwork between RCPD and SSO, this retail theft crew was stopped before they could victimize any further businesses and our community.

Due to laws passed in the state of California several years ago, arrested subjects are now afforded a "right to privacy", and cannot have their identities revealed, unless there is a continued threat to the public, ongoing investigation, in which their identity may be of assistance in their apprehension and prosecution. As such, we are required by law to conceal their identities. ★

RCPD Awarded $82,000 Grant to Reduce Alcohol-Related Harm

City of Rancho Cordova News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Rancho Cordova Police Department (RCPD) is pleased to announce that it has been awarded an $82,000 grant from the California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) to reduce alcohol-related harm in its community. This is the fourth year in a row that RCPD has partnered with ABC to help keep our community and businesses safe.

The funds will be used to help prevent alcoholic beverage sales to minors and obviously intoxicated patrons, illegal solicitations of alcohol, and other criminal activities, such as the sale and possession of illegal drugs.

This project is part of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control's Minor Decoy/ Shoulder Tap Grant project, funded by the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. ★

 “This was our 61st Opening Day, and the weather couldn’t have been better,” Borba said. “Watching the teams share their enthusiasm and pride for the season was the highlight of my day.”
 This year, CGSL set a participation record with 27 teams and roughly 300 players, ranging in age from 4 to 16. Borba said his favorite moments were seeing the youngest T-ball players lead the parade in costumes and celebrating girls who excelled in the league’s candy sale fundraiser.

 “I took great enjoyment watching these young girls show their pride in that accomplishment,” Borba said.
 The league’s mission goes beyond the scoreboard.

 “Team sports like softball build relationships among players and parents,” Borba explained. “Most importantly, we want the girls to learn the sport and have fun.”
 Looking ahead, Borba is excited about both the growth of the league and the competitive success of its teams. Several squads, including the Cordova Fury, will be vying for spots in national tournaments.

 Fundraising efforts are also making an impact. The league’s candy sale brought in $20,000, helping keep registration costs low.
 “In my 27 years with the league, we’ve only raised registration fees three times,” Borba said. “It was also a fantastic day at the snack bar.”
 Measure H funding from the City of Rancho Cordova has added another layer of support, helping the league install new wayfinding signage around the complex.

 From parades to prizes, tri-tip to tournaments, Bumble Bees to Cordova Fury, this Opening Day set the tone for a season of community, competition and celebration of girls’ sports in Rancho Cordova. ★

Strader Announces First Piece of Coaching Staff with the Addition of JJ Wozniak

Sacramento State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - With nearly two decades of experience as a coach at the Division I level, JJ Wozniak has been named an assistant coach with the Sacramento State women's soccer program beginning with the upcoming 2026 campaign Head Coach Tim Strader announced March 24.

"JJ is someone I've developed a close relationship with—as both a friend and a fellow coach—since his time at UNLV," Strader said. "His ability to connect with student athletes, his strengths as a recruiter with deep ties throughout the Central Valley and Northern California, and his commitment to player development are all qualities I'm excited for our student athletes to experience. "We have big goals as a program to compete for championships and make deep postseason runs, and JJ brings a wealth of experience that will complement the strengths of our coaching staff, both as a former goalkeeper and as a tactician. I'm thrilled to welcome JJ, his wife Carrie, and his son Jacob to our Hornet soccer family."

Wozniak joins the Hornets' sideline after spending five seasons (2021-24) at nearby Pacific, joining the staff as an assistant coach prior to the 2020 campaign, which was delayed until the spring due to the pandemic, before taking over as Co-Head Coach for the final four years.

In July of 2021, he was elevated to the position of Co-Head Coach and made an immediate impact, guiding the Tigers to a 10-6-3 overall record — the program's best in 12 years — including an 8-1-1 non-conference record. The team finished with nine shutouts on the year as junior Brenna Crump was named the West Coast Conference Goalkeeper of the Year and Wozniak was named the WCC Coach of the Year along with Co-Head Coach Danesha Adams.

A year later, Wozniak helped Pacific out to another quick start with a 5-0-6 mark in non-conference play, including a win over perennial power Santa Clara, and finished with 10 points in the WCC standings — an improvement of two points over the previous season and finished 7-3-10 overall.

In all, three of his four seasons as Co-Head Coach ended with records of .500 or better, which included a 9-9-1 mark in 2023. He left Stockton having won 28 matches and drawing 15 more.

Prior to taking the position with the Tigers, Wozniak was the Associate Head Coach at UNLV from 2015-19, helping lead the Rebels to the 2016 Mountain West Conference regular season and conference tournament titles while posting a 57-40-7 overall record during his tenure.

He helped guide UNLV to four consecutive double-digit win seasons while in Las Vegas, including a 16-4-3 record during that championship 2016 campaign en route to an NCAA Tournament berth. While with the Rebels, Wozniak mentored 15 All-Mountain West selections, including the 2016 league offensive (Lily Sender) and defensive (Chidera Akubilo) players of the year, and the program's first-ever All-American in Sender.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Wozniak's collegiate coaching career began as an assistant coach in charge of goalkeepers for the Fresno State men's program from 2000-03, then served three seasons as the top assistant for the men's program at Belmont University from 2011-13.

Outside of his collegiate experience, Wozniak held the title of Director of Coach for Cal Odyssey SC from 2002-2011 and again from 2014-2015. He first started with the program as an Assistant Director of Coaching and Director of Soccer Operations in March of 2002 before being promoted to Director of Coaching in April of 2007. Wozniak's teams saw much success, as California Odyssey was one of the original 63 clubs invited into the US Soccer National Development Academy. The program won five national championships under Wozniak's guidance while having back-to-back Development Academy National Finalists in 2009 and 2010.

He also served as the Director of Coaching for Downtown Las Vegas SC from 2015-2017, while also coaching ECNL and ECRL teams for Heat FC from 2017-2020.

Wozniak played collegiately at Saint Louis and Fresno State, twice earning all-region honors and Mountain Pacific Sports Federation laurels in 1995. He went on to a professional career in Major League Soccer with the LA Galaxy and San Jose Clash (now Earthquakes) as well as time in the USL and USISL where he was named the league's goalkeeper of the year award in 1997 and 2001.

Graduating from Fresno State with a degree in sociology in 2000, Wozniak also holds a National "B" Coaching License from the United States Soccer Federation. ★

Reid Paskey Joins Republic

FC First Team on USL Academy Contract

Sacramento Republic FC News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento Republic FC announced the addition of Academy player Reid Paskey to the club's First Team roster. The defender has signed a USL Academy Contract, pending league and federation approval, and will be eligible for selection immediately.

"We continue to see our academy players benefit from this opportunity, whether it's making an appearance for the First Team or preparing them for the next steps of their soccer journey," said Republic FC Head Coach Neill Collins. "We're confident that Reid will embrace this next step, continue his development and represent the club well."

A Sacramento native, Paskey is set to graduate from C.K. McClatchy High School this spring and has committed to play Division I soccer at Stanford University in 2027. Paskey joined Sacramento's youth development academy in 2024 and was on the academy U17 team that advanced to the semifinals in the MLS Next Cup, the most impressive run of any Republic academy team since 2022 with three victories in the tournament. Before joining Republic FC, he played with regional clubs Davis Legacy and Sacramento Alliance SC.

Paskey joins the ever-growing group of now eight current and former Academy players on this year's First Team roster. Da'vian Kimbrough, Blake Willey, and Chibi Ukaegbu have risen through the ranks and have signed professional contracts with their hometown team, while Rohan Chivukula, Luke Strassburg, Brooks Doolittle and Jackson Montero have signed USL Academy Contracts. USL Academy contracts allow academy players to train and compete with the First Team while maintaining their NCAA eligibility.

Since its inception in 2015, Republic FC's Academy has created a strong, local pipeline of youth players ready for professional-level competition, with over 40 players earning the opportunity to join the First Team on USL Academy contracts and over 25 going on to sign professional contracts with Republic FC or other clubs. In 2025, players from Sacramento's youth academy combined for 80 gameday roster selections, 56 appearances and over 3,000 minutes.

The region's top youth players will have an opportunity to join Republic FC's Academy — the only youth-to-pro pathway in the region — at tryouts on April 30 to May 1. For more information or to register, visit SacRepublicFC.com/Academy. ★

American River College News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The ARC team delivered an impressive performance at the Hawk Invite, highlighted by standout efforts across both diving and swimming events.

Ashley Johnson led the way in diving, claiming first place in both the 1-meter and 3-meter events. Bridget Adams secured a strong third-place finish, while Arie Black and Maddie Warden added depth to the squad by rounding out the top 10.

In the pool, Lydia Vlahos dominated the distance events, turning in the top overall performance in both the 500 and 1650 freestyle. Brooke Boyer also had a breakthrough swim, posting a lifetime best in the 200 breaststroke and breaking the three-minute barrier with a time of 2:56.21.

The meet concluded on a high note for the women's team, who captured the final event with a victory in the 200-freestyle relay. Photo courtesy of American River College

Clara Walker and Mya Thomas also had a strong showing, excelling in the backstroke events (50 and 200) and each recording season-best times in the 50 freestyle.

The meet concluded on a high note for the women's team, who captured the final event with a victory in the 200-freestyle relay. The team of Anabel, Amber, Mya and Sasha combined for a strong finish to secure the win. ★

Gianna Nocetti Earns Second Big West Player of the Week Honor

UC Davis Athletics News Release

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - For the second time in the season and her career, UC Davis senior attacker Gianna Nocetti has been named the Big West Player of the Week following a standout performance that led the No. 16 Aggies to a perfect 3-0 weekend in Southern California.

Nocetti fueled a road trip highlighted by a 12-11 victory over No. 15 UC San Diego—the program's first regulation win over the Tritons since 2022. The senior recorded a hat trick in all three contests against UCSD, Brown and Cal State Fullerton, totaling nine goals, two assists and six steals on the weekend.

A specialist at the start of periods, Nocetti went a perfect 12-for-12 on sprints over the three-game stretch. She currently leads the team in steals (35) and leads the Big West in both sprint wins (62) and sprint win percentage, while ranking No. 6 nationally in total sprint wins.

The finale against Cal State Fullerton served as a career milestone for Nocetti, who recorded her 100th career assist. She now totals 40 goals and 40 assists on the year, making her the only player on the roster to reach the 40-mark in both categories so far this season.

Through six conference games, Nocetti ranks among the Big West leaders in multiple categories, including No. 1 in sprint wins and No. 2 in both steals and field blocks. She also sits at No. 5 in the conference in total points during Big West play and No. 6 in assists per game. ★

Get Ready for California's 2026 Primary

Your Questions About Voting, Answered

By CalMatters Staff
CalMatters.org

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Where do I vote? Am I registered to vote? Does everyone get a ballot in the mail? Get the answers to your election day questions ahead of California's June 2 primary election.

How do I vote? Does everyone get a ballot in the mail? Yes. Under state law, vote-by-mail ballots are sent to every active registered voter.

When will I receive my mail-in-ballot? Counties will begin mailing ballots May 4.

How do I return my mail-in ballot? Mail it to your county elections office; to be counted, ballots have to be postmarked on or before June 2 and received by election offices by June 9. Drop it off at a ballot drop box, vote center or polling location anywhere in the state. Ask someone you trust to do it for you, but that person can't receive payment for doing it.

Can I vote in person? Where is my polling place or vote center? Yes, although mailing your ballot as soon as possible is the best way to get your vote counted fast. You can find out where to vote in the following ways. Visit <https://voterstatus.sos.ca.gov/>, text "VOTE" to GOVOTE (468-8683), call the secretary of state's hotline at (800) 345-VOTE, check your county Voter Information Guide or contact your county elections office

If you live in one of 30 counties, you'll have increased options, including as many as 10 days of in-person early voting.

How do I register to vote? Am I registered to vote? You can check the secretary of state's website (<https://voterstatus.sos.ca.gov/>). You'll need to enter your name, date of birth and either your California driver license, identification card number or the last four digits of your Social Security number. If you don't have those available, contact your county elections office or the secretary of state via email or phone at 800-345-8683.

If you've changed your name since the last time you voted, or if you moved and didn't notify the Department of Motor Vehicles or U.S. Postal Service, you may have to register again. If you haven't voted in several consecutive general elections, your registration may have been canceled.

How do I register? Visit <https://registertovote.ca.gov/>. You'll need the same information as above.

Where do I vote? Am I registered to vote? Does everyone get a ballot in the mail? Get the answers to your election day questions ahead of California's June 2 primary election. Photo courtesy Freepik

If the DMV has your signature on file, you'll be able to complete the process online. If not, you'll need to print, sign and mail your completed application to your county elections office. You can also pick up a paper application at elections offices, any DMV office and at many post offices, public libraries and government offices. You'll be contacted when your application is approved, or if you need to provide more information.

What happens if I miss the voter registration deadline? The last day to register online for the primary election is May 18. If you are registering or re-registering less than 15 days before May 18, you must complete same-day voter registration and request your ballot in person at your county elections office or polling location.

How do I change my political party if I'm already registered? You'll need to re-register to vote.

What if I need help with voting? What if I need voter information in a language other than English? The secretary of state's office has voter instructions in the following languages: Spanish, Hindi, Chinese, Japanese, Khmer, Korean, Tagalog, Thai and Vietnamese. Your county elections office may offer additional languages.

When will I receive my voter guide? The statewide voter information guide will be available online by April and will be mailed to voters later that month.

What am I voting on? The June primary election is the first opportunity for Californians to choose which candidates will appear on the general election ballot in November. Unlike some other states, California's primaries are nonpartisan, so the top two vote-getters in each race will advance to the November election, regardless of political party.

The ballot is packed with state and federal races, most notably the race to succeed Gov. Gavin Newsom, who is term-limited and cannot run for reelection. In addition to the governor's race, voters will be asked to choose candidates for Congress, the state Legislature and a slate of statewide offices including insurance commissioner and treasurer.

Can I leave work to vote? Yes. California requires time off for voting if employees don't have enough time outside work hours. You can take as much time as you need, but employers are only required to pay for a maximum of two hours. Employers may require advance notice. The time off must be at the beginning or the end of your shift. Employers are required to post a notice about this 10 days before a statewide election.

How can I track my ballot?

Visit california.ballottrax.net/voter/ to register for California's BallotTrax tool, where you can check your ballot status and opt in to receive email or text notifications.

Is my ballot safe? Yes, voting by mail or dropping your ballot in an approved drop box is a safe and efficient way to vote. Fraudulent voting is uncommon and incredibly difficult given California's strict voter verification procedures. Mail-in ballots will only be sent to voters whose address and identity have been verified by county election officials. Their vote will only be counted once those officials verify that the voter's signature on the envelope matches the one on file.

You can find more information about California's election and voting process on the secretary of state's website. The office takes any allegations of election fraud seriously. Anyone can submit a complaint using the following form sos.ca.gov/elections/publications-and-resources/voter-complaint.

What if I have special circumstances? What should I do if I marked my ballot wrong, or otherwise messed it up? If you haven't turned it in yet, you can exchange your mail ballot for a new one at an elections office, ask an election official at the polling place for a new ballot, or vote using a provisional ballot. If you have mailed or turned in your ballot, there's no way to fix it. Contact your county elections office for a new ballot.

What if the signature on my ballot doesn't match the one on file? County election officials check the signatures on the return envelope against signatures on your voter registration card to make sure no one tries to improperly cast your ballot. It still remains confidential; the ballot is separated from the envelope before it is counted.

Voters with ballots with missing signatures or ones that don't match are notified and given an opportunity to correct the problem before the election is certified.

What happens if I don't receive my ballot? Contact your county elections office.

Help! I dropped off my ballot to a drop box in the wrong county. Don't worry – the county will pass it on to the correct elections office.

I forgot to detach the stub from my ballot. Can I open the sealed envelope and reseal it myself? You can, but the secretary of state's office recommends contacting your local county elections office. They'll ultimately be processing your ballot, and they can offer the best guidance on whether you should reopen it or just leave the stub attached. ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

The Season is Almost Over

The time has come to reflect on the 2025-26 season for the Sacramento Kings, and without a doubt it was a season of ups and downs.

Injuries are a part of the game, and every team has their fair share, but the Kings were decimated like never before and never recovered from the ubiquitous effect it had on the entire team and its fan base.

After inexplicably trading away Jonas Valanciunas, the Kings decided to roll the dice with rookie Maxime Rayaud, and gamble that he could capably hold down the fort in the event of an injury to Domantas Sabonis; a gamble that was ill conceived and was nothing more than a cost-saving measure that invariably left the Kings shorthanded.

Yes, Maxime had his bright spots, and if nothing else the organization had the opportunity to allow this 7-foot rookie to get his feet wet in the NBA. Baptism by fire it was, and in my book, Maxime proved himself a capable back-up center. As for a starting NBA center, I don't believe that's what the Kings have in their second-round draft choice of a year ago.

Their first-round draft choice Nique Clifford has been praised by many and certainly was given all the playing time he wanted, but like his counterpart, Nique had some glaring holes in his NBA game.

Appearing in 68 games, Clifford averaged nearly 25 minutes per game while scoring just 7.7 points per game. His 31 percent from 3-point land was one of the reasons the Kings rank dead last in 3-point shooting this year, and although his 41 percent from the field is not impressive, it's his 68 percent from the free throw line that is truly glaring.

I expected more from Clifford, and although I'm not giving up on him, no starting point guard in the NBA can put up such numbers and expect to play on a winning team.

So, what does that say about the role of the point guard as it relates to the Sacramento Kings? Are they still looking? I would hope so, because there is no one talking about Russell Westbrook coming back next season, and without him, that leaves Devin Carter to split time with Nique Clifford.

The Kings find themselves in the same position they were in a year ago, when they signed Dennis Schroder to be the starting point guard for the team. It wasn't long before he was replaced by Russell Westbrook in the starting lineup and eventually traded as he never seemed to find any rhythm with the team.

So, as the Kings find themselves in a quandary with regards to their point guard, the question begs, what will they go after in what has been lauded as one of the best draft classes in many years?

Both Dylan Cardwell and Precious Achiuwa have not only acquitted themselves well this season, they have opened eyes all over the NBA. Resigning these young big men will be a source of focus during the off-season, as well as drafting someone that can give the Kings more front court depth.

Domantas Sabonis remains the foundation piece that barring injury, is the one spot on the team that can be counted on day in and day out. Consistency is his middle name, and no team needs consistency more than the Sacramento Kings.

Daequon Plowden and Killian Hayes have been late season bright spots, but both represent solid bench players and not the starters that the Kings need.

Well, Scott Perry, time to put on that GM hat and show this fan base how you can build a team capable of making the playoffs every year.

Time to become the ossified GM that the Kings need. And that doesn't extend to just the players, as the coaching staff remains a mystery.

Free throw shooting remains a source of embarrassment, and that is a direct result of coaching.

It's time to form new habits and build a culture of winning. Easier said than done and staying away from injuries will be constantly on the watch list.

Three games to go Kings fans, but it's likely your hometown ballers will secure a high round draft choice in the upcoming NBA draft.

Keep the faith Sacramento because even just one player can tip the scales and bring light to a team in real need.

All the best!

This isn't a Race for California Governor; It's More Like a Game of Chicken

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Political media habitually use "race" to describe contests for public office. However the word implies movement and therefore would be inaccurate if applied to this year's election of a new governor.

Sixty-one names will be on the June 2 primary ballot, including 10 leaders who profess to be serious about seeking the office.

However, they aren't racing. Rather, the eight top-polling Democrats seem to be in a children's game, sitting in a circle staring at each other, waiting for someone to blink. Meanwhile, the two top Republicans are taking potshots at each other, potentially undermining the GOP's only chance to elect a governor for the first time in two decades.

For weeks voter polls have found that three Democrats are locked in a tie, albeit at a puny level, around 10%, while the other five Democrats are buried in single digits.

California's top-two primary election system has all candidates listed on the same ballot, regardless of party, with the two top finishers then advancing to the November general election.

Given the size of the field, anyone garnering around 20% in June would probably earn a place in the runoff — or about twice what the three Democrats at the top — Katie Porter, Eric Swalwell and Tom Steyer — currently have.

With mail voting set to begin in a month, the calendar is beginning to be a factor. Every ballot that's mailed removes that voter from having his or her mind changed. One should expect, therefore, that those with even semi-realistic chances of making the cut would be waging all-out campaigns by now.

However, the only highly visible campaign is that of billionaire Steyer, who's not only hopping around the state for personal appearances but shelling out millions of his own bucks for television and internet ads.

Much of Steyer's campaign is aimed at Swalwell, who has obtained substantial union support, most prominently from the California Teachers Association. Swalwell also benefits from the threats of Donald Trump's FBI to release files from its investigation of Swalwell's relationship with a supposed Chinese spy.

Steyer and Swalwell seem to be vying for the most left-leaning bloc of Democratic voters, while Porter is coasting on the name identification gained during her losing campaign for the U.S. Senate two years ago and hoping that being the only woman in the trio will lift her into one of the top two finishes.

Democratic Party leaders are openly worried, though, that the two Republicans — Steve Hilton and Chad Bianco — could finish 1-2, thereby ensuring the election of a GOP governor. They would like the five lower-tier Democratic candidates to publicly surrender, thereby enhancing chances that a Democrat would make it to November.

However, members of that Democratic quintet show no signs of quitting, and if they continue to soldier on, despite scant support, the possibility of a 1-2 Republican primary finish continues.

The GOP's only chance of achieving such an upset would be for Hilton and Bianco to operate as a team, pushing their support — 16% and 14% respectively in the latest poll — to the magic 20% level. However, they are campaigning as opponents, even though if just one of them makes the November ballot he would almost certainly lose to whichever Democrat survives the primary.

This static, who-will-blink-first scenario does contain one surprising aspect — the failure of San Jose Mayor Matt Mahan to unleash the blitz he needs to climb into contention, despite having apparently unlimited support from wealthy Silicon Valley figures who want a tech- and business-friendly governor.

On Wednesday, Politico reported there was a shakeup in the Mahan campaign due to what were termed differences over strategy. Maybe that explains why his campaign has been so anemic after his much-ballyhooed late entry. He hasn't been racing much either.

Dan Walters is one of the most decorated and widely syndicated columnists in California history, authoring a column four times a week that offers his view and analysis of the state's political, economic, social and demographic trends. ★

Social Security Matters I'll Be 65 Soon and am Working. Must I enroll in Medicare?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I will be 65 in October and I am working full-time. My goal is to work until age 67, which is my full retirement age, or until age 70. I heard I have to apply for Medicare Part A only. Is this true or will I be penalized? And do I have to go to the Social Security office to do this, or can I do it online? And then will they be still giving me my Medicare through the next five years of working, or do I have to pay for something? I will have my own healthcare insurance. Thank you for your help. Signed: Confused

Dear Confused: There are two things you should be aware of:

1. You do not need to claim Social Security benefits when you enroll in Medicare

2. You do not need to enroll in Medicare at age 65 if you have "creditable" healthcare coverage from your employer ("creditable" is a group plan with at least 20 participants)

Thus, it is perfectly okay for you to delay taking your Social Security benefits until age 67 (your SS full retirement age), or even until age 70 when you will get the maximum SS benefit you are entitled to. And if you now have "creditable" healthcare coverage from your employer, you can delay enrolling in Medicare until such time as your employer's healthcare coverage ends. When you stop working, you will enter a Medicare Special Enrollment Period (SEP), during which you can enroll in Medicare without incurring a Late Enrollment Penalty.

Whenever you decide to enroll in Medicare (or Social Security), you will not need to visit your local SSA office to do so. You can enroll in Medicare either online at www.ssa.gov/medicare/ sign-up or you can call SSA at 1.800.772.1213 to make an appointment to enroll in Medicare on the telephone. Similarly, when you are ready to claim Social Security, you can do so online at www.ssa.gov/apply or you can call 1.800.772.1213 to make an appointment to apply for SS over the phone. To apply online, however, you should first create your personal "my Social Security" online account at www.ssa.gov/myaccount. Creating your online SS account now (at age 65) will facilitate later online enrollment and will also provide you with an estimate of your SS benefit amounts at various ages — e.g., now at age 65, at your FRA of 67, or at age 70. And that should help you decide when it is best for you to claim Social Security.

A few final points:

- You should verify with your employer's health insurance provider that they don't require you to enroll in Medicare at age 65. Most employer plans don't, but some do.
- You don't need to enroll in Medicare Part A or Part B now as long as your employer's coverage is creditable. And it's okay to enroll in Medicare a couple of months prior to your employer's creditable healthcare coverage ending (when you stop working), requesting that your Medicare coverage starts when your employer's healthcare ends. This will ensure that there is no gap in your healthcare coverage. If your employer coverage is creditable, you will not suffer a Medicare Late Enrollment Penalty for enrolling after age 65.

- If you claim Social Security benefits at any time prior to your full retirement age (FRA) and are still working, you will be subject to Social Security's Annual Earnings Test (AET), which limits how much you can earn before they take away some of your benefits. The AET lasts until you reach your FRA (67), after which you can earn as much as you like without your SS benefits being affected.

- Whenever you claim your Social Security benefits, you will be required to take Medicare Part A, which is coverage for inpatient hospitalization services. Medicare Part A is free because you are also eligible for Social Security. But you don't need to enroll in Part A at age 65 unless you also claim Social Security.

- Medicare Part B, which is coverage for outpatient healthcare services (doctors, medical tests, etc.), is optional if you have creditable employer coverage as explained above. You do not need to enroll in Medicare Part B (for which there is a monthly premium of $202.90 in 2026) until your employer's creditable healthcare coverage ends, even if you claim Social Security earlier. ★

It's not just Israel.

One of the least convincing arguments of opponents of the Iran war is that it is a conflict initiated by the Jewish state for its own benefit -- the U.S. is just along for the ride.

This view not only discounts the U.S. interest in defanging Iran but also neglects that there are other countries in the region besides Israel and Iran and that they, too, have a stake in the outcome of this war.

If there's anything that Iran has succeeded in doing over the first month of battle, it is further demonstrating the intolerable threat that it represents to the region.

The so-called Gulf Cooperation Council states -- Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates -- have the misfortune of being located just across the Persian Gulf from Iran, putting them on the front line of the war.

A key element of Iran's strategy has been to impose economic pain on these states to force them to press the United States into staying its hand.

While the effective closure of the Strait of Hormuz is indirectly harming the United States by driving up the global price of crude and other materials, it is a direct blow to the Gulf states, since the Saudis, Kuwaitis and Emiratis send the majority of their oil through the waterway.

The Iranians have struck the Gulf states with missiles and drones by the thousands. The ongoing blitz is damaging energy infrastructure and destroying the reputation of the Gulf states as an oasis of calm and economic development in an otherwise turbulent region.

There's no insurance policy against having a fanatic millenarian state as a neighbor, while nothing quite concentrates the mind like an unprovoked drone attack on one of your luxury hotels -- or your airports, oil fields and data centers.

Iran likes to pretend that it is only striking at military infrastructure, but that's absurd.

As long as Iran is run on its current basis, it is a grave danger to these countries, which, prior to the war, tried to keep their heads down or even get closer to Iran as a way to mitigate the threat.

This is the approach that the Saudis tried after an Iran-backed attack hampered the country's oil production in 2019.

That experiment is now done. According to published reports, the crown prince of Saudi Arabia, Mohammed bin Salman, privately urged Trump to launch the war even as the Saudis talked up diplomacy in public, and now MBS has been telling Trump to go all the way and topple the Iranian government.

The New York Times relates that the Saudi leader "is concerned that if Mr. Trump pulls back now, Saudi Arabia and the rest of the Middle East will be left to confront an emboldened and furious Iran on their own."

The UAE has been a particular Iranian target. Its ambassador to the U.S. wrote in The Wall Street Journal recently, "We need a conclusive outcome that addresses Iran's full range of threats: nuclear capabilities, missiles, drones, terror proxies and blockades of international sea lanes."

One is tempted to conclude that the Gulf states are "all neocons now." That would be overstating it, though. Despite getting hit by Iran, Oman is maintaining its traditional posture as a mediator and Qatar is always a bad actor.

Much depends on how the war ultimately turns out, but it is easy to see the Gulf states looking to the United States for greater security guarantees and warming up further to Israel, which is demonstrating the military might to confront an Iran that has no compunction about lashing out at states that are doing it no harm.

It may be easy for hostile U.S. observers to portray the Iran war as about Israel and only Israel, but the Gulf states unfortunately know better -- and have the battle damage to prove it.

Investing in Our School Facilities Will Shape the Future of Our Students and Community

By Erik Swanson, Superintendent, Folsom Cordova Unified School District

Our schools are one of the reasons families choose to live in Folsom and Rancho Cordova. They are places where students discover their talents, build friendships, and prepare for their futures. Ensuring that our school facilities keep pace with the needs of our growing community is one of the most important responsibilities we share.

In recent months, I've heard many thoughtful questions from families and community members about school construction: When will new schools be built? Why are additional campuses needed? How are facilities funded? And what role might a bond measure play in supporting this work?

These are important questions. School facilities are a complex topic, but they are also central to the success of our students and the long-term strength of our community.

In this month's column, I'd like to begin addressing some of these questions. There is a great deal to discuss, so consider this the start of an ongoing conversation. Today, I'd like to share some of the factors FCUSD and our Board of Education are considering as we plan for both existing facility needs and those on the horizon.

Maintaining Safe and Functional Schools

Over the past two decades, FCUSD has made significant investments in modernizing our campuses and creating learning spaces that support today's students. Across the District, we have improved safety and accessibility, upgraded infrastructure, and built new STEAM labs, Career Technical Education facilities, and performing arts spaces that allow students to explore their interests and prepare for future careers.

At the same time, many of our school buildings are aging. Some campuses were built decades ago and require ongoing modernization to ensure they remain safe, functional, and supportive learning environments. This work includes replacing roofs, updating electrical systems, maintaining heating and cooling equipment, addressing plumbing needs, and making important safety, security, and ADA-accessibility improvements.

Much of this work happens quietly throughout the year. While students and families may not always see it, maintaining our facilities is essential to keeping our schools operating safely and effectively. Like maintaining a home, these are ongoing responsibilities that cannot be deferred without creating larger challenges down the road.

Our Facilities Comprehensive Plan identifies these needs over the next several years to help guide responsible, long-term planning. These are not one-time costs, but part of the continuous investment required to care for dozens of campuses across our District.

Planning for a Growing Community

In addition to maintaining our existing campuses, we must also plan for growth. Over the past 20 years, FCUSD has funded and constructed five new schools to serve our expanding community.

Looking ahead, additional schools will be needed over time to accommodate new housing development and ensure students can attend schools close to home. Planning for future campuses allows us to be proactive - so that when growth occurs, we are ready to serve students without overcrowding existing schools.

As with maintenance, this planning happens over many years. New schools are built in phases, aligned with actual enrollment growth and available funding, not all at once. We currently have seven new schools across FCUSD that are in our long-term plans.

Utilizing Multiple Funding Sources

FCUSD has a long history of fiscal stewardship and responsible planning. Over the past 30 years, the District has relied on a variety of funding sources to support school construction and facility improvements. During that time, we have leveraged $154 million in state matching grants, collected more than $214 million in developer fees, and invested $634 million in voter-approved bonds to improve and build schools.

Each of these funding sources plays an important role, but each also has limitations.

Certain state funding sources, such as Proposition 98 funds, cannot be used for construction or major maintenance. State matching grants are typically reimbursed after projects are completed, which can take years. Developer impact fees are capped by state law, FCUSD currently collects the maximum allowed and those funds alone are not sufficient to build new schools. Bond funds, when approved by voters, are specifically designated for facility improvements and are spent over time on clearly identified projects.

Because of these limitations, Districts must rely on a combination of funding sources and careful, long-term planning. Before considering any future bond measure, our team continues to explore every available option, including phasing projects strategically, applying value engineering to reduce costs, and pursuing additional funding opportunities whenever possible.

A Long-Term, Responsible Approach

When we talk about school facilities, it's easy to focus on construction and costs. But ultimately, this work is about ensuring that students have safe, modern, and well-maintained places to learn, both today and in the future.

The needs identified in our Facilities Comprehensive Plan reflect long-term planning over many years, not immediate or one-time expenditures. They are intended to guide thoughtful decision-making so we can prioritize projects, align funding sources, and remain responsible stewards of community resources.

Folsom and Rancho Cordova have long been communities that value education and invest in their schools. Generations before us made decisions that created the learning environments our students benefit from today. As we look ahead, we have the same opportunity and responsibility to ensure that future students have the facilities they need to succeed.

There is much more to discuss about our District's facilities and the planning ahead. I look forward to continuing this conversation in future columns and out in the community. If you have questions you would like me to address, please feel free to reach out. Your voice is an important part of this process as we plan for the future together. ★

TRUSTEE SALE

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
TS No. CA-22-898813-JB Order No.: FIN-22001446 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST DATED 12/12/2016. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. A public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, or cash equivalent if deemed acceptable to the trustee, cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, check drawn by state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, or savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state, will be held by duly appointed trustee. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust, with interest and late charges thereon, as provided in the note(s), advances, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. BENEFICIARY MAY ELECT TO BID LESS THAN THE TOTAL AMOUNT DUE. Trustor(s): Gabriel Ambriz, an unmarried man Recorded: 12/20/2016 as Book 20161220, Page 1136 of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of SACRAMENTO County, California; Date of Sale: 4/28/2026 at 09:00 AM Place of Sale: At the East Main Entrance of the Gordon D. The legal description of the property secured by the Deed of Trust is more properly set forth and made part of Exhibit "A" as attached hereto. Lot 78, as shown on the "Plat of River Trails Estates", recorded on May 21, 1975 in Book 99, of Maps, Map No. 16, records of said County. All bidders, at the date, time, and place of the scheduled sale, will be required to show satisfactory support to the auctioneer of their ability to pay the amount they intend to bid, unless arrangements have been made with the trustee prior to the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property.

You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website http://www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-22-898813-JB. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 619-645-7711, or visit this internet website http://www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-22-898813-JB to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE OWNER-OCCUPANT: Any prospective owner-occupant as defined in Section 2924m of the California Civil Code who is the last and highest bidder at the trustee's sale shall provide the required affidavit or declaration of eligibility to the auctioneer at the trustee's sale or shall have it delivered to QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION by 5 p.m. on the next business day following the trustee's sale at the address set forth in the below signature block. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE POST-SALE OVER BIDDERS: For post-sale information in accordance with Section 2924m(e) of the California Civil Code, use file number CA-22-898813-JB and call (866) 645-7711 or login to: http://www.qualityloan.com. The above statutorily mandated notices to Tenant, Prospective Owner-Occupant, and Prospective Post-Sale Over Bidders are brief summaries of what may be required under Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. Compliance with all relevant provisions will be required. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right against the real property only. And Another Thing Spring Reflections and Events

By Bob McGarvey

This time of the year is called spring, and there is a holiday during spring. That holiday has been very important for a long time, but it has changed from what it is called now. It has been a holiday that was called Easter Week or Holy Week for quite a few years. Easter week is the most important religious holiday for all Christian denominations. That includes Catholicism, Eastern Orthodox, Protestantism, and quite a few non-denominational churches. All of them talk about Easter and how important that holiday is, and it is said how important it is to them. That holiday is important to some businesses, but it is definitely not as important as Christmas financially. Today that holiday is called spring break. That name is quite a change from what it was in the past, wouldn't you say?

Many things are affecting people in our country, and many families are worried about family members who are serving our country as members of the military. 13 Veterans have been lost in the war of Iran, and the news is still talking about us missing another soldier. We will all have to wait to see if everyone has been rescued and brought home.

On Saturday, April 25, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Hagan Park "Kids Day in the Park" will take place. That was begun 36 years ago by the Cordova Community Council in White Rock Park. It has been moved to Hagan Park because the numbers of people who come and enjoy the variety of activities have increased so much. The kids 12 years and younger, along with their parents, look forward to an enjoyable afternoon. There are also many services that are offered in the park to help the children and their families. This has been going on for over three decades, along with free activities for children. I think they will be very happy when they come to the 36th annual Kids Day in the Park.

I was able to participate in the grand opening of the public pool in Hagan Park about five years ago. I know there will be many people who are able to take advantage of the public swimming pool. I am so glad that our public pool has been improved and is used in Rancho Cordova. I think more and more people will come to cool off when it is very hot this coming summer. Our granddaughter will be swimming on a team at the swimming pool, and we are glad it is there so she can enjoy herself.

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

The Weekly Whistle

When the Chains Came Off

By Jason Harper

Recently, I wrote about locked gates. Saturday mornings. Full fields. Overflowing parking. And empty lots... chained shut. It struck a nerve.

This past weekend, something changed. The chains were gone. All three lots open. Cars filled spaces that, just a week before, were unused. Families parked closer. Kids walked shorter distances. The morning felt... easier. And for a moment, you could feel what it's supposed to feel like when a community works together.

Not perfectly. Not formally. But functionally.

Now, let's be honest. I don't know why it happened. Maybe it was coincidence. Maybe it was timing. Maybe it had nothing to do with anything that was written.

Or maybe... someone listened. And if that's the case, then this matters. Because listening is where change begins. Not statements. Not standoffs. Not lines drawn in the sand. Just the quiet decision to say, "Maybe there's a better way to do this." That kind of decision rarely gets headlines. But it's the difference between a community that operates in silos...and one that starts to move in rhythm.

If that's what happened here—then it deserves to be acknowledged.

So here it is, thank you.

Thank you for seeing it.

Thank you for adjusting.

Thank you for making space.

Space that is literally for families trying to be part of something good. Because that's what this was always about. Not winning an argument or proving a point. But removing friction from something that should be simple:

Kids playing sports. Families showing up. A community gathering without unnecessary barriers. Because when friction is removed, something else shows up in its place.

Patience.

Presence.

Participation.

You could feel it this weekend. Less stress in the parking lot. More attention on the field. Fewer frustrations, and more moments that matter. Now, there's one more part to this.

This weekend is Easter. Schedules change. Priorities shift.

We won't really know yet if this past Saturday was a one-time moment or the start of something better. But here's what I do know. Last weekend showed what's possible. And once you've seen what works, it's hard to go back to what doesn't.

Consistency is what turns a moment into a standard. Because community isn't built in big speeches. It's built in small decisions. Unlocked gates. Open space. A willingness to meet each other halfway. And maybe, just maybe, this wasn't about parking at all. Maybe it was about something bigger. A reminder that even long-standing "no's" aren't always permanent. Sometimes they're just waiting for the right moment... or the right perspective... to become a "yes."

If this past weekend was intentional, then it was the right call. If it wasn't... it should be.

To those who opened their lots this weekend, thank you for making space for the community.

Because when the chains came off, everyone won.

And that, folks, is a first down. ★

Blooming Hope and Raising Spirits

Story and photos by Stephen B. Clazie

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Blooming Hope was a beautiful reminder of what can happen when a community comes together with open hearts. Greenhaven Neighborhood Church hosted the Sunday afternoon gathering in March.

What started as a simple idea, gathering to make bouquets, became something much more meaningful. Moments like these remind us how powerful community can be, especially for families carrying loss.

The Olivia Chan Foundation is a nonprofit corporation organized by her parents, Reina and Mel, along with their family, to create a safe environment where families and children feel supported and understood while navigating grief.

"We understand that each person experiences grief in their own way, and as a result, families and children often struggle to navigate their loss, feeling alone and isolated," Reina said.

"We want to create a supportive community for individuals on their grief journey through peer-facilitated activities, with the hope that one day they can rediscover small moments of happiness," Mel added.

Brewing Hope and Raising Spirits

Blooming Hope also served as an opportunity to promote the third annual Brewing Hope fundraiser taking place Saturday, April 18 at Movement Brewing.

Reina said, "It is more than just a night out; it's a community-powered celebration of healing, hope and compassion."

Featuring local craft beer, live music, a silent auction and inspiring stories, the annual event brings people together to support children and families navigating the pain of grief.

"Every ticket purchased directly funds grief support programs in the Sacramento region," Mel Chan told guests, inviting the community to come together on April 18 to raise a glass, lift spirits and make a lasting impact.

Reina added, "After discovering the Dougy Center, Mel and I flew to Portland to get trained. They're an amazing organization and have been a huge support for us."

Reina and Mel's goal is to bring the Dougy Center model to Sacramento by training all team members and volunteers in its approach. The Olivia Chan Foundation also aims to establish a grief center.

Mel said it would be "a physical place that children and families can visit, where we can implement all these programs free of charge for the community."

The Dougy Center is a nonprofit organization based in Portland,

Ella and Lauren Madeira thank Reina and Mel Chan for turning a simple bouquet-making gathering into a meaningful day of connection, remembrance, and shared hope.

Oregon, that offers support groups and services for grieving children and young adults. Its peer-support model made it the first program of its kind in the United States. The organization serves approximately 400 children and 250 adults from the Portland metropolitan area each month, free of charge.

Founded in 1982 in tribute to Dougy Turno, who died of a brain tumor at age 13, the center has supported more than 20,000 children and their family members since its establishment.

"We're excited to invite you to Brewing Hope 2026 on Saturday, April 18. Doors open at 4:30 p.m. at Movement Brewing, 11151 Trade Center Drive, Suite 104/105, Rancho Cordova," Reina and Mel said.

Tickets are available at oliviachanfoundation.org.

Olivia's Story

We always wanted a family, but after four years of heartbreak, disappointment and failed IVF attempts, we knew having children naturally wasn't in the cards. So, we began the adoption process. In 2008, we brought home our son, Nicholas. In 2012, we welcomed his sister, Olivia.

She weighed just 5.5 pounds but made her presence known from day one. We had nine precious years with her before a rare and aggressive cancer took her from us. "Your daughter is the 1%," the doctors said.

Olivia was joy in human form. She was fun-loving, spunky and quick to laugh; a girly girl and a tomboy all at once. She loved rainbows, unicorns, mermaids and dresses, but also wrestled with her brother and played tackle football with her dad. She loved dancing, hugging and playing everything, bike riding, soccer, Uno, arts and crafts, and video games with Nic. She even taught herself to beat-box and was amazing at it.

Olivia loved making people laugh. She wanted every night to be family night, especially if it meant board games where her competitive spirit could shine. She loved fiercely and deeply, and that love made her a healer, even at nine. She stood up for others, championed the underdog, and offered comfort with a hug and a kind word. She never wanted anyone to hurt. She wrote notes to lift people's spirits, even the lifeguard's.

She simply wanted everyone to be happy.

In her spirit, we created this foundation; to help others in their time of need, to lift them when life feels darkest, and to guide them when the world no longer makes sense.

Olivia was everything; tender, sweet and full of spunk...just like a sprinkle cookie. ★

Help the family of a local hero

"Chief Warrant Officer 3 Robert Marzan. A Husband, Father, brother, Son and most importantly Hero. He lost his life while serving and protecting his country he loved. He was a lifelong member of the military, a family man and loving father. His unexpected and unfortunate passing left many of his family, friends and fellow service members at a loss. This heartbreaking loss is not something the people Robert has touched and left his mark on will ever forget. He lost his life far too young and leaves behind his wonderful wife, and two wonderful children.

The hope for this fund is to help relieve some of the travel and housing expenses associated with this unforeseen tragedy. All funds and donations raised will go directly to the Marzan family. Rest in power Robert and may we meet again."

Dave Ramsey Says Time to Sell a Car?

Dave Ramsey

Dear Dave,

I have two cars. One is paid for, and I owe $23,000 on the other. These are my only vehicles. I'd like to sell the one I still owe money on, but no one wants to pay enough to cover the balance. I make $85,000 a year, and I also have enough money in savings, with plenty left over, to cover the difference on one of the offers. Still, I was wondering if there's a rule of thumb to determine whether or not to sell a car in this kind of situation?

— Jimmy

Dear Jimmy,

If you really love the car, and by really focusing and saving like crazy you can pay off everything else in your life, except your home in 18 to 24 months, I'm okay with you keeping the car. But if you can't? Sorry, It's time to sell.

But I want you to hear this next part loud and clear. It also may be time to sell if the if the total value of all your vehicles—I'm talking cars, trucks, boats, jet skis, and their relatives—is equal to half, or more than half, of your annual income. Why? Because these are all things that depreciate quickly. You don't want half of your income wrapped up in things that are going down in value.

You can probably pay this thing off in less than two years if you really focus on making it happen, and you haven't got a bunch of other debt. But if you don't like the car, or you don't want to work that hard to keep it, then sell the thing and write a check for the difference. I mean, when it's all said and done, it's just a car. And anyway, you said you'd have plenty of cash left over in savings if you went this direction, right?

But remember, if this is your decision, start rebuilding your savings to its previous level right after by putting what would have gone for car payments back into your savings account. You never know when life might throw something unexpected at you!

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - For senior pitcher/infielder Levi Nyberg, being a standout on the Cordova Lancers was always the goal. Since his days playing in Rancho Cordova Little League, Nyberg saw himself one day playing for one of the most storied programs in the area. True to form, Nyberg not only achieved his goal, he knocked it out of the park. Now coming down the stretch of his final season for Big Red, the do-it-all team leader is reflective on his time at Cordova while also keeping his eye on the ball with the Lancers focused on a playoff push.

A four-year varsity player and multi-time All-League performer, Nyberg has earned the reputation as being one of the hardest workers on the team. When your best player is also your hardest worker, that sets a standard for the rest of the team to meet. For Cordova Head Coach Scott Ahlstrom, having Nyberg as the example of what a Lancer is supposed to look like has been great.

"I'm extremely proud of him," Ahlstrom said. "But with him I don't want to say it's expected, but it is just the way he is. I know what I'm getting every day, and I know how he's going to be. I know every day he's a little bit better of a player and a person, which is great to see. It's always an upward trajectory with him."

From the plate, Nyberg has led the Lancers in multiple categories during the past two seasons including batting average, on base percentage, stolen bases and doubles. On the mound, Nyberg recorded a 0.98 ERA (earned run average) in 2024 and a 1.67 ERA in 2025. He has also ranked near the top of the team in strikeouts each season. This spring, Nyberg is second in ERA at 1.99 while leading the team in appearances. Offensively, he ranks in the top three of every major category.

But now with the second half of the Metro League slate set to begin for the Lancers when they go on the road to face McClatchy on Wednesday, April 15, Nyberg is trying to keep his eyes on the prize with a postseason berth within reach in his final season with the team. Even so, he can't fully block out the thoughts of his senior season coming to a close in the coming weeks.

"You try not to think about things that are outside the game," Nyberg said. "But obviously it's still on your mind, you can't forget about that stuff. Definitely want to make your last ride end on a good note."

Nyberg stated that making the playoffs and winning in the postseason is his current focus and short-term goal, but the American River College commit also has a long-term plan involving the game he loves. He intends on playing well at ARC and later transferring to a four-year university, with the dream of playing in the major leagues one day.

"I want to play baseball for as long as I can," Nyberg said. "Baseball is a mindset, it's a job and it's my life. You can make it be what you want it to be if you work hard enough."

According to his coach, if he continues to show the same characteristics that he has displayed in the past four years, Nyberg can achieve whatever he sets his mind to.

"If he keeps grinding the way he grinds and gets better every day as a person and a player, the sky's the limit for him," Ahlstrom said. ★
