CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Thursday, April 2, was not a typical morning for shoppers in Sunrise Village. Music pulsed throughout the shopping center, while vendors offering snack and drink samples, prize wheels and coffee lined the pedestrian path to Citrus Heights' newest Grocery Outlet location.

Shoppers entered the grocery store through an archway of yellow, red, and orange balloons. Grocery Outlet employees personally greeted customers, ensuring each received a shopping cart and that it was collected on the way out.

Outside, excitement radiated throughout the parking lot as employees, family members, public officials and community members gathered for the store's ribbon-cutting, hosted by the Citrus Heights Chamber of Commerce. Vendors present included Electrolit, Yerba Madre, Takis, Novamex and Old

Soul Coffee Co.

Stephanie and Greg Ashworth, owners of the South Citrus Heights Grocery Outlet, shared their excitement and pride in operating not just any store, but a Grocery Outlet, with the crowd.

"Sometimes I feel like there's certain times in life (that are) the right time for the right things," Greg Ashworth said. "Things happen for a reason."

The couple expressed their gratitude to Grocery Outlet for a smooth journey that began a year ago, and to the Citrus Heights community for its support and warm welcome.

Sacramento County Strengthens Weather Preparedness

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County is strengthening its commitment to keeping residents safe during severe weather events. The County's Office of Emergency Services (OES) has officially renewed its StormReady designation through September 2030. StormReady is a recognition from the National Weather Service (NWS) that highlights strong emergency preparedness and communication systems.

The StormReady program helps communities build the infrastructure and coordination needed to protect lives and property before, during and after extreme weather. To earn and maintain this designation, agencies must meet criteria that include 24/7 emergency operations and monitoring, established emergency communication systems and ongoing public education and outreach efforts.

Sacramento County OES coordinates closely with regional and federal partners to ensure timely alerts and response strategies. Staff work year-round to prepare for hazards such as flooding, extreme heat and severe storms.

"This recognition reinforces the strength of our emergency systems and our commitment to protecting the community," said Emergency Operations Manager for Sacramento County OES, Jason D'Alessio.

In addition to the StormReady renewal, Sacramento County OES is also recognized as a Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador, a program led by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. This designation highlights the County's role in promoting weather awareness, safety education and community resilience.

Residents are encouraged to stay connected, sign up for local alerts at <https://www.smart911.com/smart911/ref/login.action?pa=sacoe> and make emergency plans to help keep themselves and their families safe.

A 'Meow-velous' Evening

Comedy Night Fuels New Low-Cost Cat Clinic

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - It was a "meow-velous" time to "laugh your tail off" for a good cause on Saturday, April 4, during an evening of comedy which benefited FieldHaven Feline Center.

The low-cost veterinary facility located at 7555 Old Auburn Road in Citrus Heights is looking to open later this summer, said Makenna Gwatney, its executive director.

On stage, and just before the first of six comedians were introduced, Gwatney took time to thank all the partners, supporters and participating sponsors who contributed to help make the sold-out event a success.

Ticket proceeds from the sold-out event and a silent auction will be used to support the purchase of operating room equipment for the new building, Gwatney said.

An estimate of total funds raised from the special evening event was not yet available, she said.

Guests had the opportunity to purchase either general admission or VIP tickets which offered a considerable measure of "cuddle time" with some very adorable young kittens who are almost ready for adoption.

Headliners Sydney Stigerts and Shaheen Khal from the Punchline Comedy Club in Sacramento volunteered their time for the cause, using the center's backyard gazebo as their main performance stage. The laughs were plentiful throughout the evening as each of the six featured comedians worked an appreciative audience to full effect.

The audience included a who's who in the local

New Vision for Sunrise Mall Emerges

A recently uploaded brochure by Retail Pacific describes the location of the planned 13.75-acre Sunrise Sports Center facing Greenback Lane, and two other available parcels now designated for multi-family residential, and mixed retail or restaurant use. By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The first steps towards marketing specific commercial parcels of Sunrise Mall has now started with prominent billboard-size signage posted by Retail Pacific, Inc. along Sunrise Boulevard and Greenback Lane.

A third sign has been placed by Retail Pacific in front of the shuttered former Elephant Bar Restaurant which faces Sunrise Boulevard.

Retail Pacific has posted a marketing brochure for Sunrise Mall, titled "Sunrise Tomorrow - Reimagine the Heart of Citrus Heights" on its website, retailpacific.com.

This recently uploaded brochure describes the location of the planned 13.75-acre Sunrise Sports Center facing Greenback Lane, and two other available parcels now designated for multi-family residential, mixed retail or restaurant use.

The brochure also describes the future Sunrise Mall property as a "regional destination and community heart with a vibrant mix of uses, amenities and gathering spaces."

Two portions of a combined 23.98-acre parcel at 6063 Sunrise Blvd. facing the MarketPlace at Birdcage which are currently used for parking located south of the US Bank from the intersection of Greenback Lane are identified by Retail Pacific as available for ground lease.

Another parcel, the former 8,000-square-foot location of the shuttered Elephant Bar Restaurant which faces the MarketPlace at Birdcage, is also listed for ground lease.

Namdar Realty Group

The Sunrise Mall property spans nearly 100 acres in Citrus Heights and is currently divided into seven separate parcels owned by five different entities.

The largest stake had belonged to Namdar Realty Group, which purchased the majority of the Sunrise Mall property in 2019 for $25.6 million.

Tallen is currently in escrow to buy about 50 acres of Sunrise Mall owned by the Namdar Realty Group, with plans to then sell about 14 acres of that to Mettle Shop for the Sunrise Sports Complex to be built facing Greenback Lane.

The cost of redeveloping Sunrise Mall will depend on how much land Tallen Capital actually ends up owning, he said in an earlier interview. He put the cost conservatively at about $400 million, he told the Sacramento Business Journal.

The Mettle Shop will then acquire the necessary land to construct the new sports center, anchoring the development and serving as a catalyst for sustained activity, growth and future regional investment.

The Sunrise Sports Center will introduce a state-of-the-art, 160,000-square-foot sports facility on an 11-acre site. At its core is a 4,000-seat multi-use arena designed to host sporting events, concerts and more. The center will feature two NHL-sized ice sheets and multi-use turf fields, establishing a premier destination for athletes, families and visitors, and offering a wide range of recreational and entertainment opportunities.

In earlier interviews, Tallen said he's seeing Mettle Shop's Sunrise Sports Center as an anchor tenant for the mall, with development such as restaurants and apartments planned as well.

The remaining portions of the Sunrise Mall property are controlled by Ethan Conrad Properties, JCPenney, Red Robin and Antioch Street LP. Ethan Conrad Properties bought the former Sears site in 2022. JCPenney is the last remaining anchor store in Sunrise Mall and owns 18 acres.

A 2.8-acre parcel at the prominent corner of Sunrise Boulevard and Greenback Lane, owned by Antioch Street LP, has been subdivided to allow for a future hotel. ★ currently owns the 25-acre parcel where the core Sunrise Mall building stands and two 12-acre parcels home to Goodyear Tires, and the buildings which formerly housed Macy's Men's and Macy's Women's.

Retail Pacific and Tallen Capital Partners, LLC list between 82,000 to 172,000 square feet of the former combined Macy's retail stores in Sunrise Mall area also available for redevelopment in the brochure.

Carol Therien, identified as the listing broker of Sunrise Mall for Retail Pacific in the billboard signage, responded by phone, and referred all further questions to Tallen.

Tallen in response, said, "Carol is not authorized by me to speak with the media for this project as all media related communications must be vetted by and come through my office and our media consultant, Rowcliffe Communications."

Tallen did not further respond to a request for further comment concerning where the process of escrow stands at this time, or how Retail Pacific's marketing efforts for Sunrise Mall will now proceed.

Last month, the City of Citrus Heights announced a landmark partnership with The Mettle Shop and Tallen Capital Partners, LLC to bring the Sunrise Sports Center to Sunrise Mall, launching the first major development under the Sunrise Tomorrow Specific Plan.

In this collaboration, Tallen Capital Partners, LLC will acquire the portion of Sunrise Mall currently owned by Namdar Realty Group and will assume the role of majority owner and developer for the project. ★

10th Annual Veterans Family Picnic Approaches

A banner welcomed veterans and their families to the annual picnic at a previous year's gathering.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The Citrus Heights American Legion Post 637's new partners, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) and the GFWC Citrus Heights Women's Club are collaborating to host the 10th Veterans Family Picnic on April 18.

The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Rusch Park Gazebo Pavilion Picnic Area at 7801 Auburn Blvd. All Citrus Heights active and retired veterans and their families are invited to attend.

Lunch will be the traditional hot dog and hamburger barbeque by Wade's BBQ with all the fixings. An assortment of desserts will be served. Many resources for veterans will be available for attendees to visit. Purple Pageant Princesses will be creating their well-known face painting artwork for kids and adults alike.

Look for games, activities and projects for all provided by the DAR General John A. Sutter Chapter. The Citrus Heights Women's Club will be handing out children's fun-filled goodie bags to each family.

Scheduled information and resource booths include Gold Star Moms, Citrus Heights Veterans Center Readjustment Counseling, Jakes Journey Home Community Assist

Center, Stars and Stripes Dog Rescue & Training Center, Learning to Thrive empowerment program, Juan Unified School District Transitional Kindergarten (TK) program, Walmart and other local community businesses and non-profits providing services to the military. A Gold Star presentation is planned.

Keynote speaker will be Carol Spiker, co-ordinator of the first picnic. In the spring of 2010 Spiker, then president of the Citrus Heights Women's Club and others realized the veterans of their city had no "home of their own", especially the younger returning men and women. There was no established place where they could meet to talk with others who understand their unique concerns.

Although that dream was not realized this event continues to bring veterans and their families together once a year for good food and fun for the kids, camaraderie and many veterans resources.

Special thanks to Sunrise Marketplace for their support and donations towards the event.

Mark your calendar for the American Legion's Battle of the Bands and BBQ fundraiser event on Sept. 12. All proceeds go to the American Legion Vets Helping Vets program. ★

"This is here for the community...for all of you," Stephanie Ashworth said.

In celebration of the store opening, the Ashworth's presented a $1,000 check to Citrus Heights Police Activities League (PAL), a nonprofit organization focused on creating positive relationships between youth in the community and officers in the Citrus Heights Police Department. They care about reducing juvenile crime by encouraging kids to make better choices and to stay away from drugs and alcohol.

"We strive to bridge the gap (between youth and law enforcement) and mentor, develop, train and educate," said Chris Bryan, CHPD Special Services Division Commander and president of the Police Activities League, who accepted the check on behalf of PAL alongside PAL Coordinator Rachel Turcott.

"Every single time I've come into Grocery Outlet, I've been amazed at the professionalism and service that I see in the associates," Bryan said.

Following the presentation of the check, the ribbon-cutting was led by Citrus Heights Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Sheri Merrick. Public service officials presented the new owners with certificates of recognition from their respective offices including Assemblyman Josh Hoover, Sacramento County Supervisor Rosario Rodriguez, Congressman Ami Bera and Senator Roger Niello.

The presenters emphasized the importance of affordability during a time when grocery prices have skyrocketed. Grocery Outlet sells name-brand items for up to 60 percent off, according to its website. Grocery Outlet locations are stocked with produce, meat, dairy, pantry stable item, frozen foods and alcohol including beer and wine.

Grocery Outlet, located at 5409 Sunrise Blvd., will be open daily from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. ★ community including Citrus Heights Mayor Marijane Lopez-Taff and past Mayor Dr. Jayna Karpinski-Costa.

The new Citrus Heights clinic will help make sure every family and every pet has access to the high-quality, low-cost veterinary services they need, Gwatney said.

She also led the tour of the center, which still has much of the dragon-themed artwork on its inside walls and much of the smaller-scale furniture from its earlier use as a childcare center.

"We're hoping to make use of the existing furnishings as possible, and we'd love to carry on the original dragon-themed artwork that generations of families remember," she said.

Interior renovations should start soon. Gwatney is hopeful that the work won't take long to complete.

"We're waiting for the city of Citrus Heights to approve our construction permits and we hope that is soon," she said.

Once construction begins, existing carpeting will soon be removed and the existing concrete floor will be refurbished, she said. The build out of both office and surgical spaces and construction of an Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) compliant bathroom will then need to be completed, she said.

The property on Old Auburn Road was previously well known for its metal sculpture of a playful dragon on the roof and was once the home to Citrus Heights Preschool for decades until it closed abruptly in the spring of 2024. The City of Citrus Heights finalized the purchase of the property at the end of October 2024.

In August, the Citrus Heights City Council approved a temporary 18-month pilot phase lease agreement with the Lincoln-based FieldHaven Feline Center at the cost of one dollar to open a local clinic.

Once open, the clinic will offer affordable spay/neuter surgeries, low-cost vaccines and microchipping to help keep pets safe.

The need is substantial as the city of Citrus Heights has a substantial feral cat population, and the new FieldHaven Feline Center which will offer low-cost spay/neuter services will open just in time for kitten season when the population increases, Gwatney said.

FieldHaven Feline Center is a non-profit organization dedicated to the rescue, rehabilitation and adoption of cats and kittens throughout Placer and Sacramento County.

Pricing for spaying and neutering is $65 for feral cats and $150 for owned cats, including vaccines and microchipping, according to FieldHaven's website.

Through innovative programs and community partnerships, FieldHaven works to ensure every cat can live a safe, healthy and loved life, according to its website.

"Spike", the rooftop dragon will remain on the top of the building but may look a little more cat-like when building renovations are completed, Gwatney said.

Gwatney also recognized the support of community partners which include Berkeley Humane Society, UC Davis Veterinary Teaching Hospital, UC Davis Koret Shelter Medicine Program, Citrus Heights Pet Hospital, Placer County Animal Services, Front Street Animal Shelter and many others who have provided critical donations of operating room equipment.

"We're also looking for general volunteers and trained medical staff once we're open to join us. Veterinary students and techs who want to gain surgical and field experience will also be welcome in to help assisting in the day-to-day operations of the clinic," Gwatney said.

For more information about adoption, volunteering or supporting FieldHaven, visit fieldhaven.com or call: 916-434-6022. ★

Strader Announces First Piece of Coaching Staff with the Addition of JJ Wozniak

Sacramento State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - With nearly two decades of experience as a coach at the Division I level, JJ Wozniak has been named an assistant coach with the Sacramento State women's soccer program beginning with the upcoming 2026 campaign Head Coach Tim Strader announced March 24.

"JJ is someone I've developed a close relationship with—as both a friend and a fellow coach—since his time at UNLV," Strader said. "His ability to connect with student athletes, his strengths as a recruiter with deep ties throughout the Central Valley and Northern California, and his commitment to player development are all qualities I'm excited for our student athletes to experience. "We have big goals as a program to compete for championships and make deep postseason runs, and JJ brings a wealth of experience that will complement the strengths of our coaching staff, both as a former goalkeeper and as a tactician. I'm thrilled to welcome JJ, his wife Carrie, and his son Jacob to our Hornet soccer family."

Wozniak joins the Hornets' sideline after spending five seasons (2021-24) at nearby Pacific, joining the staff as an assistant coach prior to the 2020 campaign, which was delayed until the spring due to the pandemic, before taking over as Co-Head Coach for the final four years.

In July of 2021, he was elevated to the position of Co-Head Coach and made an immediate impact, guiding the Tigers to a 10-6-3 overall record — the program's best in 12 years — including an 8-1-1 non-conference record. The team finished with nine shutouts on the year as junior Brenna Crump was named the West Coast Conference Goalkeeper of the Year and Wozniak was named the WCC Coach of the Year along with Co-Head Coach Danesha Adams.

A year later, Wozniak helped Pacific out to another quick start with a 5-0-6 mark in non-conference play, including a win over perennial power Santa Clara, and finished with 10 points in the WCC standings — an improvement of two points over the previous season and finished 7-3-10 overall.

In all, three of his four seasons as Co-Head Coach ended with records of .500 or better, which included a 9-9-1 mark in 2023. He left Stockton having won 28 matches and drawing 15 more.

Prior to taking the position with the Tigers, Wozniak was the Associate Head Coach at UNLV from 2015-19, helping lead the Rebels to the 2016 Mountain West Conference regular season and conference tournament titles while posting a 57-40-7 overall record during his tenure.

He helped guide UNLV to four consecutive double-digit win seasons while in Las Vegas, including a 16-4-3 record during that championship 2016 campaign en route to an NCAA Tournament berth. While with the Rebels, Wozniak mentored 15 All-Mountain West selections, including the 2016 league offensive (Lily Sender) and defensive (Chidera Akubilo) players of the year, and the program's first-ever All-American in Sender.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Wozniak's collegiate coaching career began as an assistant coach in charge of goalkeepers for the Fresno State men's program from 2000-03, then served three seasons as the top assistant for the men's program at Belmont University from 2011-13.

Outside of his collegiate experience, Wozniak held the title of Director of Coach for Cal Odyssey SC from 2002-2011 and again from 2014-2015. He first started with the program as an Assistant Director of Coaching and Director of Soccer Operations in March of 2002 before being promoted to Director of Coaching in April of 2007. Wozniak's teams saw much success, as California Odyssey was one of the original 63 clubs invited into the US Soccer National Development Academy. The program won five national championships under Wozniak's guidance while having back-to-back Development Academy National Finalists in 2009 and 2010.

He also served as the Director of Coaching for Downtown Las Vegas SC from 2015-2017, while also coaching ECNL and ECRL teams for Heat FC from 2017-2020.

Wozniak played collegiately at Saint Louis and Fresno State, twice earning all-region honors and Mountain Pacific Sports Federation laurels in 1995. He went on to a professional career in Major League Soccer with the LA Galaxy and San Jose Clash (now Earthquakes) as well as time in the USL and USISL where he was named the league's goalkeeper of the year award in 1997 and 2001.

Graduating from Fresno State with a degree in sociology in 2000, Wozniak also holds a National "B" Coaching License from the United States Soccer Federation. ★

Reid Paskey Joins Republic FC First Team on USL Academy Contract

Sacramento Republic FC News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento Republic FC announced the addition of Academy player Reid Paskey to the club's First Team roster. The defender has signed a USL Academy Contract, pending league and federation approval, and will be eligible for selection immediately.

"We continue to see our academy players benefit from this opportunity, whether it's making an appearance for the First Team or preparing them for the next steps of their soccer journey," said Republic FC Head Coach Neill Collins. "We're confident that Reid will embrace this next step, continue his development and represent the club well."

A Sacramento native, Paskey is set to graduate from C.K. McClatchy High School this spring and has committed to play Division 1 soccer at Stanford University in 2027. Paskey joined Sacramento's youth development academy in 2024 and was on the academy U17 team that advanced to the semifinals in the MLS Next Cup, the most impressive run of any Republic academy team since 2022 with three victories in the tournament. Before joining Republic FC, he played with regional clubs Davis Legacy and Sacramento Alliance SC.

Paskey joins the ever-growing group of now eight current and former Academy players on this year's First Team roster. Da'vian Kimbrough, Blake Willey, and Chibi Ukaegbu have risen through the ranks and have signed professional contracts with their hometown team, while Rohan Chivukula, Luke Strassburg, Brooks Doolittle and Jackson Montero have signed USL Academy Contracts. USL Academy contracts allow academy players to train and compete with the First Team while maintaining their NCAA eligibility.

Since its inception in 2015, Republic FC's Academy has created a strong, local pipeline of youth players ready for professional-level competition, with over 40 players earning the opportunity to join the First Team on USL Academy contracts and over 25 going on to sign professional contracts with Republic FC or other clubs. In 2025, players from Sacramento's youth academy combined for 80 gameday roster selections, 56 appearances and over 3,000 minutes.

The region's top youth players will have an opportunity to join Republic FC's Academy — the only youth-to-pro pathway in the region — at tryouts on April 30 to May 1. For more information or to register, visit SacRepublicFC.com/Academy. ★

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - For the second time in the season and her career, UC Davis senior attacker Gianna Nocetti has been named the Big West Player of the Week following a standout performance that led the No. 16 Aggies to a perfect 3-0 weekend in Southern California.

Nocetti fueled a road trip highlighted by a 12-11 victory over No. 15 UC San Diego—the program's first regulation win over the Tritons since 2022. The senior recorded a hat trick in all three contests against UCSD, Brown and Cal State Fullerton, totaling nine goals, two assists and six steals on the weekend.

Through six conference games, Nocetti ranks among the Big West leaders in multiple categories, including No. 1 in sprint wins and No. 2 in both steals and field blocks. She also sits at No. 5 in the conference in total points during Big West play and No. 6 in assists per game. ★

Get Ready for California's 2026 Primary

Your Questions About Voting, Answered

By CalMatters Staff
CalMatters.org

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Where do I vote? Am I registered to vote? Does everyone get a ballot in the mail? Get the answers to your election day questions ahead of California's June 2 primary election.

How do I vote? Does everyone get a ballot in the mail? Yes. Under state law, vote-by-mail ballots are sent to every active registered voter.

When will I receive my mail-in-ballot? Counties will begin mailing ballots May 4.

How do I return my mail-in ballot? Mail it to your county elections office; to be counted, ballots have to be postmarked on or before June 2 and received by election offices by June 9. Drop it off at a ballot drop box, vote center or polling location anywhere in the state. Ask someone you trust to do it for you, but that person can't receive payment for doing it.

Can I vote in person? Where is my polling place or vote center? Yes, although mailing your ballot as soon as possible is the best way to get your vote counted fast. You can find out where to vote in the following ways. Visit <https://voterstatus.sos.ca.gov/>, text "VOTE" to GOVOTE (468-8683), call the secretary of state's hotline at (800) 345-VOTE, check your county Voter Information Guide or contact your county elections office.

If you live in one of 30 counties, you'll have increased options, including as many as 10 days of in-person early voting.

How do I register to vote? Am I registered to vote? You can check the secretary of state's website (<https://voterstatus.sos.ca.gov/>). You'll need to enter your name, date of birth and either your California driver license, identification card number or the last four digits of your Social Security number. If you don't have those available, contact your county elections office or the secretary of state via email or phone at 800-345-8683.

If you've changed your name since the last time you voted, or if you moved and didn't notify the Department of Motor Vehicles or U.S. Postal Service, you may have to register again. If you haven't voted in several consecutive general elections, your registration may have been canceled.

How do I register? Visit <https://registertovote.ca.gov/>. You'll need the same information as above.

If the DMV has your signature on file, you'll be able to complete the process online. If not, you'll need to print, sign and mail your completed application to your county elections office. You can also pick up a paper application at elections offices, any DMV office and at many post offices, public libraries and government offices. You'll be contacted when your application is approved, or if you need to provide more information.

What happens if I miss the voter registration deadline? The last day to register online for the primary election is May 18. If you are registering or re-registering less than 15 days before May 18, you must complete same-day voter registration and request your ballot in person at your county elections office or polling location.

How do I change my political party if I'm already registered? You'll need to re-register to vote.

What if I need help with voting? What if I need voter information in a language other than English? The secretary of state's office has voter instructions in the following languages: Spanish, Hindi, Chinese, Japanese, Khmer, Korean, Tagalog, Thai and Vietnamese. Your county elections office may offer additional languages.

When will I receive my voter guide? The statewide voter information guide will be available online by April and will be mailed to voters later that month.

What am I voting on? The June primary election is the first opportunity for Californians to choose which candidates will appear on the general election ballot in November. Unlike some other states, California's primaries are nonpartisan, so the top two vote-getters in each race will advance to the November election, regardless of political party.

The ballot is packed with state and federal races, most notably the race to succeed Gov. Gavin Newsom, who is term-limited and cannot run for reelection. In addition to the governor's race, voters will be asked to choose candidates for Congress, the state Legislature and a slate of statewide offices including insurance commissioner and treasurer.

Can I leave work to vote? Yes. California requires time off for voting if employees don't have enough time outside work hours. You can take as much time as you need, but employers are only required to pay for a maximum of two hours. Employers may require advance notice. The time off must be at the beginning or the end of your shift. Employers are required to post a notice about this 10 days before a statewide election.

How can I track my ballot?

Visit california.ballottrax.net/voter/ to register for California's BallotTrax tool, where you can check your ballot status and opt in to receive email or text notifications.

Is my ballot safe? Yes, voting by mail or dropping your ballot in an approved drop box is a safe and efficient way to vote. Fraudulent voting is uncommon and incredibly difficult given California's strict voter verification procedures. Mail-in ballots will only be sent to voters whose address and identity have been verified by county election officials. Their vote will only be counted once those officials verify that the voter's signature on the envelope matches the one on file.

You can find more information about California's election and voting process on the secretary of state's website. The office takes any allegations of election fraud seriously. Anyone can submit a complaint using the following form sos.ca.gov/elections/publications-and-resources/voter-complaint.

What if I have special circumstances? What should I do if I marked my ballot wrong, or otherwise messed it up? If you haven't turned it in yet, you can exchange your mail ballot for a new one at an elections office, ask an election official at the polling place for a new ballot, or vote using a provisional ballot. If you have mailed or turned in your ballot, there's no way to fix it. Contact your county elections office for a new ballot.

What if the signature on my ballot doesn't match the one on file? County election officials check the signatures on the return envelope against signatures on your voter registration card to make sure no one tries to improperly cast your ballot. It still remains confidential; the ballot is separated from the envelope before it is counted.

Voters with ballots with missing signatures or ones that don't match are notified and given an opportunity to correct the problem before the election is certified.

What happens if I don't receive my ballot? Contact your county elections office.

Help! I dropped off my ballot to a drop box in the wrong county. Don't worry – the county will pass it on to the correct elections office.

I forgot to detach the stub from my ballot. Can I open the sealed envelope and reseal it myself? You can, but the secretary of state's office recommends contacting your local county elections office. They'll ultimately be processing your ballot, and they can offer the best guidance on whether you should reopen it or just leave the stub attached. ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

The Season is Almost Over

The time has come to reflect on the 2025-26 season for the Sacramento Kings, and without a doubt it was a season of ups and downs.

Injuries are a part of the game, and every team has their fair share, but the Kings were decimated like never before and never recovered from the ubiquitous effect it had on the entire team and its fan base.

After inexplicably trading away Jonas Valanciunas, the Kings decided to roll the dice with rookie Maxime Rayaud, and gamble that he could capably hold down the fort in the event of an injury to Domantas Sabonis; a gamble that was ill conceived and was nothing more than a cost-saving measure that invariably left the Kings shorthanded.

Yes, Maxime had his bright spots, and if nothing else the organization had the opportunity to allow this 7-foot rookie to get his feet wet in the NBA. Baptism by fire it was, and in my book, Maxime proved himself a capable back-up center. As for a starting NBA center, I don't believe that's what the Kings have in their second-round draft choice of a year ago.

Their first-round draft choice Nique Clifford has been praised by many and certainly was given all the playing time he wanted, but like his counterpart, Nique had some glaring holes in his NBA game.

Appearing in 68 games, Clifford averaged nearly 25 minutes per game while scoring just 7.7 points per game. His 31 percent from 3-point land was one of the reasons the Kings rank dead last in 3-point shooting this year, and although his 41 percent from the field is not impressive, it's his 68 percent from the free throw line that is truly glaring.

I expected more from Clifford, and although I'm not giving up on him, no starting point guard in the NBA can put up such numbers and expect to play on a winning team.

So, what does that say about the role of the point guard as it relates to the Sacramento Kings? Are they still looking? I would hope so, because there is no one talking about Russell Westbrook coming back next season, and without him, that leaves Devin Carter to split time with Nique Clifford.

The Kings find themselves in the same position they were in a year ago, when they signed Dennis Schroder to be the starting point guard for the team. It wasn't long before he was replaced by Russell Westbrook in the starting lineup and eventually traded as he never seemed to find any rhythm with the team.

So, as the Kings find themselves in a quandary with regards to their point guard, the question begs, what will they go after in what has been lauded as one of the best draft classes in many years?

Both Dylan Cardwell and Precious Achiuwa have not only acquitted themselves well this season, they have opened eyes all over the NBA. Resigning these young big men will be a source of focus during the off-season, as well as drafting someone that can give the Kings more front court depth.

Domantas Sabonis remains the foundation piece that barring injury, is the one spot on the team that can be counted on day in and day out. Consistency is his middle name, and no team needs consistency more than the Sacramento Kings.

Daequon Plowden and Killian Hayes have been late season bright spots, but both represent solid bench players and not the starters that the Kings need.

Well, Scott Perry, time to put on that GM hat and show this fan base how you can build a team capable of making the playoffs every year.

Time to become the ossified GM that the Kings need. And that doesn't extend to just the players, as the coaching staff remains a mystery.

Free throw shooting remains a source of embarrassment, and that is a direct result of coaching.

It's time to form new habits and build a culture of winning. Easier said than done and staying away from injuries will be constantly on the watch list.

Three games to go Kings fans, but it's likely your hometown ballers will secure a high round draft choice in the upcoming NBA draft.

Keep the faith Sacramento because even just one player can tip the scales and bring light to a team in real need.

All the best! ★

This isn't a Race for California Governor; It's More Like a Game of Chicken

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Political media habitually use "race" to describe contests for public office. However the word implies movement and therefore would be inaccurate if applied to this year's election of a new governor.

Sixty-one names will be on the June 2 primary ballot, including 10 leaders who profess to be serious about seeking the office.

However, they aren't racing. Rather, the eight top-polling Democrats seem to be in a children's game, sitting in a circle staring at each other, waiting for someone to blink. Meanwhile, the two top Republicans are taking potshots at each other, potentially undermining the GOP's only chance to elect a governor for the first time in two decades.

For weeks voter polls have found that three Democrats are locked in a tie, albeit at a puny level, around 10%, while the other five Democrats are buried in single digits.

California's top-two primary election system has all candidates listed on the same ballot, regardless of party, with the two top finishers then advancing to the November general election.

Given the size of the field, anyone garnering around 20% in June would probably earn a place in the runoff — or about twice what the three Democrats at the top — Katie Porter, Eric Swalwell and Tom Steyer — currently have.

With mail voting set to begin in a month, the calendar is beginning to be a factor. Every ballot that's mailed removes that voter from having his or her mind changed. One should expect, therefore, that those with even semi-realistic chances of making the cut would be waging all-out campaigns by now.

However, the only highly visible campaign is that of billionaire Steyer, who's not only hopping around the state for personal appearances but shelling out millions of his own bucks for television and internet ads.

Much of Steyer's campaign is aimed at Swalwell, who has obtained substantial union support, most prominently from the California Teachers Association. Swalwell also benefits from the threats of Donald Trump's FBI to release files from its investigation of Swalwell's relationship with a supposed Chinese spy.

Steyer and Swalwell seem to be vying for the most left-leaning bloc of Democratic voters, while Porter is coasting on the name identification gained during her losing campaign for the U.S. Senate two years ago and hoping that being the only woman in the trio will lift her into one of the top two finishes.

Democratic Party leaders are openly worried, though, that the two Republicans — Steve Hilton and Chad Bianco — could finish 1-2, thereby ensuring the election of a GOP governor. They would like the five lower-tier Democratic candidates to publicly surrender, thereby enhancing chances that a Democrat would make it to November.

However, members of that Democratic quintet show no signs of quitting, and if they continue to soldier on, despite scant support, the possibility of a 1-2 Republican primary finish continues.

The GOP's only chance of achieving such an upset would be for Hilton and Bianco to operate as a team, pushing their support — 16% and 14% respectively in the latest poll — to the magic 20% level. However, they are campaigning as opponents, even though if just one of them makes the November ballot he would almost certainly lose to whichever Democrat survives the primary.

This static, who-will-blink-first scenario does contain one surprising aspect — the failure of San Jose Mayor Matt Mahan to unleash the blitz he needs to climb into contention, despite having apparently unlimited support from wealthy Silicon Valley figures who want a tech- and business-friendly governor.

On Wednesday, Politico reported there was a shakeup in the Mahan campaign due to what were termed differences over strategy. Maybe that explains why his campaign has been so anemic after his much-ballyhooed late entry. He hasn't been racing much either.

Social Security Matters I'll Be 65 Soon and am Working. Must I enroll in Medicare?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I will be 65 in October and I am working full-time. My goal is to work until age 67, which is my full retirement age, or until age 70. I heard I have to apply for Medicare Part A only. Is this true or will I be penalized? And do I have to go to the Social Security office to do this, or can I do it online? And then will they be still giving me my Medicare through the next five years of working, or do I have to pay for something? I will have my own healthcare insurance. Thank you for your help. Signed: Confused

Dear Confused: There are two things you should be aware of:

1. You do not need to claim Social Security benefits when you enroll in Medicare

2. You do not need to enroll in Medicare at age 65 if you have "creditable" healthcare coverage from your employer ("creditable" is a group plan with at least 20 participants)

Thus, it is perfectly okay for you to delay taking your Social Security benefits until age 67 (your SS full retirement age), or even until age 70 when you will get the maximum SS benefit you are entitled to. And if you now have "creditable" healthcare coverage from your employer, you can delay enrolling in Medicare until such time as your employer's healthcare coverage ends. When you stop working, you will enter a Medicare Special Enrollment Period (SEP), during which you can enroll in Medicare without incurring a Late Enrollment Penalty.

Whenever you decide to enroll in Medicare (or Social Security), you will not need to visit your local SSA office to do so. You can enroll in Medicare either online at www.ssa.gov/medicare/ sign-up or you can call SSA at 1.800.772.1213 to make an appointment to enroll in Medicare on the telephone. Similarly, when you are ready to claim Social Security, you can do so online at www.ssa.gov/apply or you can call 1.800.772.1213 to make an appointment to apply for SS over the phone. To apply online, however, you should first create your personal "my Social Security" online account at www.ssa.gov/myaccount. Creating your online SS account now (at age 65) will facilitate later online enrollment and will also provide you with an estimate of your SS benefit amounts at various ages — e.g., now at age 65, at your FRA of 67, or at age 70. And that should help you decide when it is best for you to claim Social Security.

A few final points:

- You should verify with your employer's health insurance provider that they don't require you to enroll in Medicare at age 65. Most employer plans don't, but some do.

- You don't need to enroll in Medicare Part A or Part B now as long as your employer's coverage is creditable. And it's okay to enroll in Medicare a couple of months prior to your employer's creditable healthcare coverage ending (when you stop working), requesting that your Medicare coverage starts when your employer's healthcare ends. This will ensure that there is no gap in your healthcare coverage. If your employer coverage is creditable, you will not suffer a Medicare Late Enrollment Penalty for enrolling after age 65.

- If you claim Social Security benefits at any time prior to your full retirement age (FRA) and are still working, you will be subject to Social Security's Annual Earnings Test (AET), which limits how much you can earn before they take away some of your benefits. The AET lasts until you reach your FRA (67), after which you can earn as much as you like without your SS benefits being affected.

- Whenever you claim your Social Security benefits, you will be required to take Medicare Part A, which is coverage for inpatient hospitalization services. Medicare Part A is free because you are also eligible for Social Security. But you don't need to enroll in Part A at age 65 unless you also claim Social Security.

- Medicare Part B, which is coverage for outpatient healthcare services (doctors, medical tests, etc.), is optional if you have creditable employer coverage as explained above. You do not need to enroll in Medicare Part B (for which there is a monthly premium of $202.90 in 2026) until your employer's creditable healthcare coverage ends, even if you claim Social Security earlier. ★

It's not just Israel.

One of the least convincing arguments of opponents of the Iran war is that it is a conflict initiated by the Jewish state for its own benefit -- the U.S. is just along for the ride.

This view not only discounts the U.S. interest in defanging Iran but also neglects that there are other countries in the region besides Israel and Iran and that they, too, have a stake in the outcome of this war.

If there's anything that Iran has succeeded in doing over the first month of battle, it is further demonstrating the intolerable threat that it represents to the region.

The so-called Gulf Cooperation Council states -- Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates -- have the misfortune of being located just across the Persian Gulf from Iran, putting them on the front line of the war.

A key element of Iran's strategy has been to impose economic pain on these states to force them to press the United States into staying its hand.

While the effective closure of the Strait of Hormuz is indirectly harming the United States by driving up the global price of crude and other materials, it is a direct blow to the Gulf states, since the Saudis, Kuwaitis and Emiratis send the majority of their oil through the waterway.

The Iranians have struck the Gulf states with missiles and drones by the thousands. The ongoing blitz is damaging energy infrastructure and destroying the reputation of the Gulf states as an oasis of calm and economic development in an otherwise turbulent region.

There's no insurance policy against having a fanatic millenarian state as a neighbor, while nothing quite concentrates the mind like an unprovoked drone attack on one of your luxury hotels -- or your airports, oil fields and data centers.

Iran likes to pretend that it is only striking at military infrastructure, but that's absurd.

As long as Iran is run on its current basis, it is a grave danger to these countries, which, prior to the war, tried to keep their heads down or even get closer to Iran as a way to mitigate the threat.

This is the approach that the Saudis tried after an Iran-backed attack hampered the country's oil production in 2019.

That experiment is now done. According to published reports, the crown prince of Saudi Arabia, Mohammed bin Salman, privately urged Trump to launch the war even as the Saudis talked up diplomacy in public, and now MBS has been telling Trump to go all the way and topple the Iranian government.

The New York Times relates that the Saudi leader "is concerned that if Mr. Trump pulls back now, Saudi Arabia and the rest of the Middle East will be left to confront an emboldened and furious Iran on their own."

The UAE has been a particular Iranian target. Its ambassador to the U.S. wrote in The Wall Street Journal recently, "We need a conclusive outcome that addresses Iran's full range of threats: nuclear capabilities, missiles, drones, terror proxies and blockades of international sea lanes."

One is tempted to conclude that the Gulf states are "all neocons now." That would be overstating it, though. Despite getting hit by Iran, Oman is maintaining its traditional posture as a mediator and Qatar is always a bad actor.

Much depends on how the war ultimately turns out, but it is easy to see the Gulf states looking to the United States for greater security guarantees and warming up further to Israel, which is demonstrating the military might to confront an Iran that has no compunction about lashing out at states that are doing it no harm.

It may be easy for hostile U.S. observers to portray the Iran war as about Israel and only Israel, but the Gulf states unfortunately know better -- and have the battle damage to prove it.

Dave Ramsey Says Time to Sell a Car?

home in 18 to 24 months, I'm okay with you keeping the car. But if you can't? Sorry, It's time to sell.

But I want you to hear this next part loud and clear. It also may be time to sell if the if the total value of all your vehicles—I'm talking cars, trucks, boats, jet skis, and their relatives—is equal to half, or more than half, of your annual income. Why? Because these are all things that depreciate quickly. You don't want half of your income wrapped up in things that are going down in value.

You can probably pay this thing off in less than two years if you really focus on making it happen, and you haven't got a bunch of other debt. But if you don't like the car, or you don't want to work that hard to keep it, then sell the thing and write a check for the difference. I mean, when it's all said and done, it's just a car. And anyway, you said you'd have plenty of cash left over in savings if you went this direction, right?

But remember, if this is your decision, start rebuilding your savings to its previous level right after by putting what would have gone for car payments back into your savings account. You never know when life might throw something unexpected at you!

Dear Dave,

I have two cars. One is paid for, and I owe $23,000 on the other. These are my only vehicles. I'd like to sell the one I still owe money on, but no one wants to pay enough to cover the balance. I make $85,000 a year, and I also have enough money in savings, with plenty left over, to cover the difference on one of the offers. Still, I was wondering if there's a rule of thumb to determine whether or not to sell a car in this kind of situation?

— Jimmy

Dear Jimmy,

If you really love the car, and by really focusing and saving like crazy you can pay off everything else in your life, except your

Citrus Heights Police Department News Release

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - During the month of April, the Citrus Heights Police Department will conduct an enforcement operation focused on drivers suspected of violating the hands-free cell phone law.

Under current law, drivers are not allowed to hold a phone or electronic communications device while operating a vehicle. This includes talking, texting or using an app. Using a handheld cell phone while driving is punishable by a fine. Violating the hands-free law for a second time within 36 months of a prior conviction for the same offense will result in a point being added to a driver's record.

"A driver's focus should be on the road, not their phone," Sergeant Kane Kissam said. "That text, phone call, email or social media post is not worth the risk to yourself and other people on the road."

If you have an important phone call or need to program directions, pull over to a safe parking spot. Before driving, either silence your phone or put it somewhere you can't reach.

Funding for this program is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. ★
