CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG)

In just a few weeks, members of San Juan High School's Class of 2026 will be the very first seniors to walk onto the newly modernized state-of-the-art football field in McArthur Stadium to receive their diplomas.

McArthur Field was named after the late San Juan High School alumnus and World War II veteran Edwin H. McArthur, who served as a coach, dean of students and principal at the school. Three of his children, including his son Robert and Dick McArthur were in attendance for the dedication of the revamped field.

The recent stadium remodel project broke ground last May and was funded by the San Juan Unified School District's Measure P bond program which was passed by voters in 2016.

Board members of the San Juan Unified School District, students, faculty and staff joined community members, elected officials and alumni to celebrate its completion.

"It's hard to believe that it's been less than a year since we've broken ground," said San Juan High School principal David Levis, welcoming guests, adding that the project represents a significant investment into the school.

He called the new facilities a "game changer" adding that the stadium represents more than just a place for sports.

"It's where students will learn teamwork, discipline, build confidence and memories, and where community will come

SacRT to Expand Wheelchair Accessible Service

SacRT News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) has been awarded $3.76 million in California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) Access for All (AFA) Program funding to continue and expand its current SacRT Flex Microtransit pilot program, which provides on demand wheelchair accessible transportation for seniors, low-income and individuals with disabilities throughout Sacramento County.

SacRT serves as the CPUC designated Local Access Fund Administrator (LAFA) for Sacramento County and administers the Program locally using CPUC's established guidelines, eligibility criteria and scoring requirements.

The SacRT Flex shared-ride neighborhood service earned the highest score based on its demonstrated ability to improve mobility, reduce wait times, and expand equitable access to on demand wheelchair accessible vehicle (WAV) service in Sacramento County.

Pending Board approval on Monday, May 11, SacRT will continue to operate the service in partnership with Nomad Transit, LLC, a subsidiary of Via Transportation.

The three year award will support WAV operations from July 1 through June 30, 2029, and will help SacRT sustain and grow the existing SacRT Flex WAV pilot program, increase WAV vehicle availability and reduce wait times, explore expanded weekend operating hours and enhance curb to curb, on demand service for individuals with disabilities.

"Ensuring equitable access to transportation is central to SacRT's mission," said Henry Li, SacRT General Manager/CEO. "This funding allows us to expand an already successful pilot and better serve community members who rely on WAV transportation for daily mobility and independence."

CPUC allows transit agencies to serve as both the Local Access Fund Administrator and an Access Provider when they meet Program Guidelines and demonstrate community benefit, a structure used by several transit agencies statewide.

SacRT will continue to collaborate closely with disability advocates and community partners, including the Mobility Advisory Council (MAC), to refine and improve accessible on-demand service across the region.

From Pop Flies to High Fives, the Park Goes Yard Northridge Little League's Family Fun Day

By Louie Sosa, Northridge Little League

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG)

Brooktree Park was jam-packed this past Saturday April 25, with the crack of the bat and the sizzle of glizzies from the snack bar. Food trucks hummed and steam wafted into the sky; baseball was in the air.

Players stepped up to the plate for Northridge Little League's annual Hit-A-Thon while volunteers tracked distances and families pledged donations. It's the league's one big fundraiser of the year to keep the lights on, the fields maintained and the game accessible for families.

238 players across 24 teams, from T-Ball through Juniors, turned the sports complex into a full-on community gathering. Between swings, kids jumped in bounce houses, lined up for shaved ice and took turns at the dunk tank, hoping to drop their coach into the freezing hose water (and they definitely succeeded. I'm still wide awake from it).

"This is what Little League is all about. Community, families and a place for kids to play and grow," said Northridge Little League President Jon Kliewer. "Seeing everyone come together like this really shows the impact this league has beyond the field."

The money raised goes right back into the league to support equipment, uniforms and field upkeep.

The project, which was led by architect firm Verde Design, contractor Robert A. Bothman and construction management firm 6D PMCM, in coordination with the District's Facilities, Construction and Modernization team, was completed on schedule.

Levis also took time to thank the school district administration, the construction and design companies and members of the San Juan High School Alumni Association.

The upgraded facility features include a new synthetic track and field, two tennis courts and improved amenities, including a ticket booth, concession area and a restroom building.

Additional improvements include ADA-accessible walkways, updated lighting, enhanced security features and landscaping, creating a safer and more welcoming space for students and the community.

A table chock full of nearly a dozen pairs of commemorative scissors were needed to cut segments of a bright red celebratory ribbon just in front of the 50-yard-line.

Principal David Levis and Board President Tanya Kravchuk each highlighted the importance of community investment and the lasting impact the new stadium will have on future student experiences.

"This moment belongs to all of you," Kravchuk told the crowd which filled the stadium bleachers just in front of her.

"Your support of San Juan Unified's local bond measures makes projects like this possible," she said. "These investments create spaces that inspire learning, build pride and strengthen connections across our schools and neighborhoods."

Building Community Through Parks and Partnerships

By Ormella Rossi

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - What roles do parks and recreation play in shaping a city's growth and sense of community? That question was at the center of discussion Tuesday, April 21 as local leaders and business professionals gathered at the Citrus Heights Event Center for the monthly ACCESS Citrus Heights Luncheon.

Held from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Citrus Heights Event Center, 6300 Fountain Square Drive, the event featured Sunrise Recreation and Park District Administrator Kevin Huntzinger as the guest speaker, with lunch provided by Pancho Villa BBQ and sponsorship by the Rotary Club of Citrus Heights.

According to Chamber Executive Director Sheri Merrick, Huntzinger brings decades of parks and recreation experience, including nearly 20 years with the city of Rocklin. "Kevin has fostered relationships with community groups and local leadership to enhance parks and recreation opportunities on a local and regional level," Merrick said.

Huntzinger, who has led the district for about 2½ years, focused his presentation on the scope of services provided within Citrus Heights and how the district manages public resources.

"The district administrator provides executive leadership to ensure the district delivers high-quality parks, facilities and recreation services aligned with board policy and community needs," Huntzinger said. "What I see my job as is the critical link between board policy and the day-to-day operations, ensuring the visions of our board become results."

The Sunrise Recreation and Park District maintain 17 developed neighborhood parks and 10 open space parks in Citrus Heights, totaling 392 acres. Amenities include 23 playgrounds, 251 picnic tables and 52 sports fields and courts. The district also operates two pools and two community centers.

Huntzinger said the district's approximately $7.7 million operating budget is largely funded through property taxes and recreation program fees, with about $6 million allocated to salaries, benefits, services and supplies.

"We want to make sure everyone in the community can understand what we're doing and how we're doing it," he said. "Transparency and accountability build trust and confidence within the community."

Programs offered by the district serve a wide range of residents, including youth and adult sports camp, aquatics classes and special events. During the 2025-26 season, about 19 sports camps served roughly 1,620 residents, while aquatics programs include swim lessons, public swim opportunities and lifeguard training.

"Our programs deliver health and wellness benefits by improving physical fitness, supporting mental health and fostering social connection," Huntzinger said.

He also emphasized partnerships with local agencies, including police and fire departments, as key to maintaining safety and expanding programming.

Before the keynote address, representatives from the Rotary Club of Citrus Heights, sponsors of the luncheon, highlighted the organization's local and global service efforts. Bill Van Duker, a long-time member of 57 years described Rotary as a "service above self" organization. Notable projects mentioned by Duker included distributing dictionaries to third graders, providing shoes underwear and socks to local students, contributing $100,000 toward a planned veterans memorial and global eradication efforts of polio in partnership with the Gates Foundation and the World Health Organization.

During the luncheon, the Citrus Heights Chamber of Commerce also presented a $2,000 donation to the nonprofit Single Mom Strong. The funds were raised during the March 10 Community Awards Dinner.

The next ACCESS Citrus Heights Luncheon is scheduled for May 19 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Citrus Heights Event Center and will feature Sacramento Metro Fire District Chief Adam House. For more information or tickets, visit <https://chchamber.com/>. ★ as well as funding the Challenger Division, a program designed for children with physical and developmental disabilities. It's currently the only Challenger program in the immediate region.

My 6-year-old son is autistic and nonverbal, so when he joined last year, this was the only place for him to experience sports. He uses an AAC (Augmentative and Alternative Communication) device to communicate and isn't fully potty trained. Sometimes he has tough days where he needs extra time to transition or end early. That's okay here.

My wife, Melissa, and I took over the free program this year. With my coaching experience and her work as a BCBA (Board Certified Behavior Analyst) with a PhD in applied behavior analysis, we felt well suited to carry the torch. Along with the help of parent volunteers and my in-laws joining staff, there's enough support for the kids to receive proper attention.

We all want our kids to have a chance to be on a team, wear a uniform, get dirty and play in their own way. If my son needs to fixate on something or stim for a while, the coaches understand.

As a parent, you sometimes feel like your kid won't get to experience your own favorite childhood memories, and we worry that people are looking at you weird or bothered by your kid's behaviors. This is a place where we are accepted and encouraged to stay.

That mission hits the field this weekend. On Saturday, May 2 at 4 p.m., Northridge will host its first Challenger Division home game in two years, welcoming Peach Bowl Little

Women's Basketball Adds Halie Bergman as Assistant Coach

Sacramento State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - After spending the last three seasons as an assistant coach on the sidelines at Nevada, Central Valley native Halie Bergman was named as an assistant coach with the Sacramento State women's basketball team April 22.

"Halie came highly recommended by many for her relentless work ethic, being a great skill developer, and her ability to recruit," Head Coach Aaron Kallhoff said. "She will be a huge asset to our program going forward and we are excited for Halie to be here at Sacramento State."

One of the nation's top up-and-coming coaches in the women's game, Bergman was a "30 Under 30" honoree by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association and was named one of Silver Waves Media's Top 50 Most Impactful Assistant Coaches in 2024.

Following her playing career with the Wolf Pack, she participated in the WBCA's "So You Want to be a Coach" program that assists female collegiate basketball players who are interested in pursuing a career in coaching women's basketball by providing them with professional development and career advancement through education, skills enhancement, networking and exposure opportunities.

"It's an honor to join the Sacramento State family and a tremendous opportunity to get closer to home where my basketball journey started," Bergman said. "I believe in what Coach Kallhoff is building and I'm excited to help create a championship program that Sacramento can be proud of."

Named as an assistant coach to the Nevada staff prior to the 2023-24 campaign, Bergman helped lead her alma mater to its second top four finish in the Mountain West Conference in the last three seasons while serving as the program's co-recruiting coordinator, directing its domestic and international recruiting strategy.

During those three seasons, she helped mentor a trio of Nevada players to All-Mountain West honors, including last season's conference freshman of the year in Skylar Durlley and a pair of all-conference selections in 2023-24.

Prior to her elevation to assistant coach, Bergman spent five years as the program's graduate assistant coach and director of player development. She had her hands in all aspects of the program's operation, impacting student athletes on the court and in the classroom, assisting with daily operations, working on position-specific skill development, while also directing the program's community service efforts and coordinating academic support.

A three-year letter winner for the Wolf Pack from 2015-18, Bergman spent her freshman season at Pacific near her hometown of Hilmar, CA before joining the Nevada roster. She appeared in 95 career games, including 35 starts in 36 contests as a senior.

That season, she helped the Wolf Pack win 19 games, advance to the Mountain West Tournament championship game as the No. 7 seed (upsetting No. 2 UNLV and No. 3 Wyoming along the way), and reach the semifinals of the Women's Basketball Invitational following victories over UC Irvine and Fresno State.

Bergman prepped at Turlock Christian HS where she graduated as the program's all-time leading scorer (1,761 points) and helped the team to four Southern League championships and a pair of CIF Sac Joaquin Division V runners-up twice.

She graduated from Nevada with a bachelor's degree in business management and a minor in psychology in 2018, then added a master's degree in educational leadership in 2021. ★

Child Support Helps Local Families Thrive

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County's Department of Child Support Services (DCSS) plays an important role in supporting families and promoting the well-being of children across the community. Through a range of services, DCSS helps parents establish and maintain reliable financial support for their children, creating greater stability for families.

"Our goal is to support families in a way that creates stability for children and helps parents navigate the process with confidence," said DCSS Director Dalen Fredrickson.

What DCSS Does

DCSS provides free services to families, including establishing child support orders, locating parents, collecting and distributing payments, modifying orders when circumstances change and helping ensure accurate tracking of support.

These services are available to both parents receiving and paying support, with a focus on fairness, consistency and child well-being.

Nikole Smith work closely with families to make the process as clear and manageable as possible, so they can focus on what matters most – their children.

"I am a mother. I've had times where I've cried on the phone with the individual as they're crying because I can relate to their circumstance. I approach each situation with being empathetic and meeting people where they're at. And I would want someone to treat me the same way," said Smith.

Local Impact

The impact of child support services in Sacramento County is significant. In 2025, DCSS collected $134,436,544, a 4 percent increase from the previous year. "Every dollar collected represents real support for families, helping cover everyday needs like food, clothing and housing," said Fredrickson.

On a monthly basis, the department distributes more than $11 million in child support payments, providing consistent financial support that many families rely on.

Child support is widely recognized as an important tool in improving outcomes for children and families. Research shows that consistent support is associated with greater financial stability, increased parental involvement, improved educational outcomes and reduced family stress.

A Focus on Access and Support

DCSS is committed to making services accessible and easy to navigate. Participation in child support services is voluntary, and staff work closely with families to provide guidance, answer questions and connect them with available resources.

We understand every family's situation is different, and we're here to provide support in a way that is respectful, safe, and responsive to their needs. "We want you to feel safe through the process and know that your information is confidential," said Smith.

The department also prioritizes safety and confidentiality, with protections in place for families experiencing sensitive situations, including family violence.

Looking Ahead

As conversations continue at the state level about ways to improve access to child support services, Sacramento County remains focused on its mission: helping children and families thrive.

Residents interested in learning more about child support services or enrolling can visit the county website or contact DCSS directly for assistance at 1-866-901-3212. ★

Sacramento Regional Transit (SacRT) News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) is reminding riders that its new mobile ticketing app, Transit Connect, is now available and will fully replace the ZipPass app effective Monday, June 15. Transit Connect offers riders a smarter, simpler, and more secure way to purchase, store and activate fare products for SacRT.

To support riders who still have active ZipPass tickets, SacRT is extending the ZipPass retirement date. Riders may continue using ZipPass to redeem any remaining active passes through Monday, June 15. After June 15, ZipPass will be fully retired and no longer available. Riders are encouraged to download Transit Connect now to ensure a smooth transition.

"Transit Connect represents the next generation of fare payment technology for our region," said SacRT General Manager/CEO Henry Li. "By extending the ZipPass end date, we are giving riders ample time to use their existing passes while making the transition to a modern, convenient and integrated system. This upgrade will significantly improve the customer experience and streamline travel across multiple transit providers."

Regional Transit Connect Partners

Transit Connect is being developed to support a seamless, integrated fare experience across multiple Northern California transit providers by fall 2026, further expanding rider convenience and regional mobility. Those transit providers include El Dorado Transit, Placer County Transit, Roseville Transit, Sacramento Regional Transit, South County Transit (SCT Link), Unitrans, Yolobus and Yuba-Sutter Transit. More Enhancements Coming This Fall Phase 2 of Transit Connect launches this fall and will introduce additional rider-focused features, including contactless Tap2Ride validation, fare capping so riders never pay more than the daily maximum, the ability to load cash at SacRT fare vending machines and participating retailers, and the transition of Connect Card users into Transit Connect later this fall.

Discount Fare Riders: Quick and Easy Setup

Transit Connect allows seniors, students, veterans and riders with disabilities to activate discount fare eligibility directly within the app. Riders simply select their discount category to unlock reduced pricing on single-ride, daily and monthly passes.

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

A Top Five Pick?

While it's true that the interest in basketball has dropped a notch with the end of the 2025/2026 season there remains a vibrant group of Sacramento Kings fans that are still very much engaged.

That is perhaps the singular prevailing reason the Kings fought through the potential move of the team to Seattle Washington just a dozen years ago and not only remained in Sacramento but built a state-of-the-art arena to boot.

But exactly where are we today? Are the Kings going through another tepid off season waiting for the inevitable uninspiring beginning of a new season or is something of real substance in the air.

In less than 2 weeks, ping pong balls will once again determine the fate of organizations all over this country, and in truth the Kings stand a better than average chance of grasping one of the top prospects from the college ranks.

From my perspective, with the draft being as deep as has been prognosticated, I believe the Kings will garner one of the top five picks, and if that is the case, there will be players available that can make an immediate impact on this franchise.

At the very least the new arrival will put butts in the seats and provide renewed enthusiasm for what the upcoming season might become.

What the Kings want and what will be actually available are two different things, so be prepared to get a game changer but not necessarily a future all-star.

Assuming A.J. Dybantsa, Cameron Boozer, and Caleb Wilson are already gone, it's quite likely the Kings may have to take a player of smaller stature, and that could be one Darius Acuff Jr.

All that Darius did for the Arkansas Razorback's last season was put up 23.5 points per game, 3.1 rebounds and 6.4 assists with a field goal percentage of 48%.

Unlike experiments of the past, the Kings would be getting what experts and pundits believe is a legitimate blue chipper, a player that by himself can make the needle move in a positive direction.

Playoff teams rarely operate effectively without a true point guard, and since the departure of DeAaron Fox, the Kings have found themselves floundering in that category.

All the best Kings fans! ★

California's Candidates for Governor Must Prioritize Schools' Education Deficits

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

For years, polls about California voter attitudes have found public schools a consistent concern.

In a very recent Public Policy Institute of California poll, responses were mixed about whether the public school system is moving in the right direction, but 89% said it needs to change.

That concern is well founded, given that California's students don't do very well in national tests of academic skills, vis-à-vis those in other states. It's one of California's most vexing — and most important — issues and should be commanding attention from those who hold public office.

Nevertheless, when the six leading candidates for governor responded to questions during a 90-minute televised debate Wednesday night, education came up only once in a question from a viewer, not the debate moderators, and was directed at Republican Steve Hilton.

Asked how he would improve schools, Hilton responded with "learn from what works in other states." It was actually a valid response, because California officials have generally resisted learning about learning from other states that have succeeded in raising test scores — Mississippi on reading, for instance.

Candidates' intentions about the single largest item in the state's budget — $81.3 billion this year — are particularly important because outgoing Gov. Gavin Newsom has proposed to downgrade the state school superintendent's position to that of an advisory role, while vesting primary responsibility for education in whoever succeeds him next January.

Moderators of future debates should make at least an effort to explore the candidates' approaches to education, particularly how they would raise academic achievement that now is mediocre at best.

On the positive side of the public school situation, California has finally embraced phonics as the most effective way of teaching elementary students to read, although it's not yet mandatory. And on Wednesday, a few hours before the televised debate snubbed education, the Senate Education Committee advanced legislation to do something about California's even lower ranking in math skills.

Just 37% of California students perform at grade level in math, and the state ranks 43rd nationally in fourth-grade math proficiency. Moreover, there are distinct gaps between kids from families that struggle to afford living in California and their more privileged classmates.

Senate Bill 1067 would establish a statewide math screening system for kids in kindergarten and 1st and 2nd grades, to identify those who struggle with numbers and need extra help. It's modeled after a similar system to gauge reading skills.

The bill is backed by EdVoice, an education reform advocate, and carried by Sen. Akilah Weber Pierson, a San Diego Democrat and daughter of Secretary of State Shirley Weber, who tirelessly championed educational reform while a state legislator.

"California has already taken an important step forward by identifying and addressing reading challenges early with K-2 universal screening for reading difficulties. SB 1067 applies that same common-sense approach to math," Marshall Tuck, CEO of EdVoice, said in a statement. "Students who struggle with foundational math skills in the early grades continue to fall further behind without timely, targeted intervention. This bill helps prepare students for future success in school, career, and life."

Mastering basic reading and math skills in the early years of school are not only important unto themselves, but they're vital for students to climb the educational ladder as high as their innate intelligences allow and to segue into productive and satisfying careers that support the larger economy.

While California has no shortage of existential issues, none is more vital than doing something about its education deficit. The Legislature at long last seems to be getting the message, but the next governor must get it too.

Social Security Matters

Should I Collect SS Now or Wait Two Years Until Age 70?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I am 67 and 9 months old, collecting a modest SS survivor benefit with plans to collect my own much larger benefit at age 70. I was confident this plan was a good one; but recent turbulent events make me nervous that cuts could come to Social Security at any time without warning. Would it be prudent to file for my own Social Security as soon as possible so that my benefit might be "grandfathered" in before any sudden and drastic cuts occur? I do not generally panic, but these are unprecedented times. I would be quite comfortable with the benefit listed on my 2024 statement for my current age; I was just hoping to maximize the benefit by waiting.

When I go to the Social Security website to view my 2025 annual statement to see the personalized monthly retirement benefit estimates for ages 68, 69, and 70, that section no longer shows. This omission makes me uncomfortable. Can I find out what my current benefit estimate would be for ages 68, 69, and 70? Or should I just rely on the 2024 statement? Signed: Nervous in Portland

Dear Nervous: Please do not be nervous that recent "turbulent events" pose a threat to your future Social Security benefits. Those events do not, in any way, jeopardize your future Social Security benefits, because Social Security is completely separate from all other federal political issues and finances. The primary problem with Social Security became an issue long before the current administration took office.

The Trustees of Social Security have been warning Congress for decades that Social Security's finances require Congressional attention. The fact is that Social Security revenue (as predicted decades ago) became insufficient to pay all benefit obligations in about 2021. Since that time, money from Social Security's reserved funds (Trust Funds) has been used to pay full benefits to all. In 2020, there was nearly $3 trillion in SS reserved funds, but that has now dwindled to about $2.5 trillion as reserves are used to supplement SS payments. And that problem continues. The Trustees of SS now predict that the reserves will be fully depleted in about 2032, at which time — lacking program reform by Congress — Social Security will be forced to pay out only what it receives in revenue. And that would mean an estimated cut of about 23% to everyone's monthly SS benefit. In the unlikely event that happens, wouldn't a 23% reduction to your larger age 70 benefit be better than a 23% cut to your lower age 68 benefit?

No one wants those cuts to happen — least of all politicians — because it would amount to political suicide (seniors are, after all, a very large voting bloc). Thus, we believe that Congress will act to reform Social Security to prevent any general benefit cuts from happening. It will, however, require Congressional bipartisanship because the reforms needed for Social Security are likely unsavory to some. Those reforms may include SS tax increases and changes to the basic structure of the SS program to align it with today's demographic reality. The program needs reform, which Congress has, unfortunately, neglected to provide for many years. And this neglect will likely also continue, at least through the forthcoming mid-term elections. It seems the nature of Congress is to wait until the last possible moment to offer corrective legislation.

Here's what to keep in mind: Congress already knows how to reform Social Security to avoid any future benefit cuts

— they just lack the bipartisanship to accomplish that reform. For our part, the Association of Mature American Citizens (AMAC) has offered to Congress a common-sense reform plan via its "Social Security Guarantee (SSG)." AMAC's proposal has received a positive reception in Congressional circles, and we are optimistic that the proposal will provide financial stability to the program for generations. AMAC continues to advocate for SS reform in Washington, D.C. on a regular basis, even more intensely as the depletion of the SS Trust Funds grows closer.

We do not suggest changing your strategy for claiming Social Security benefits based upon fear the program will cut benefits. That's because it's unlikely that all benefits will be cut because we believe Congress will eventually enact reform. And even in the unlikely event that Congress neglects to reform the program by 2032, the percentage of reduction to a higher monthly SS benefit amount would be better than a similar reduction to a lower benefit amount. In other words, your original plan is still a prudent one.

Regarding your question about your estimated benefits, I expect your most recent SS statement didn't include future benefits because you are already collecting SS survivor benefits. You can contact SSA at 1.800.772.1213 to obtain the future SS retirement estimates you seek.

Yes, of Course, War Settles Things

Countless protest signs have informed us over the years that "war is not the answer." We hear this message, with varying levels of sophistication and differing underlying worldviews, from institutions and people ranging from Code Pink to Pope LEO.

"War does not solve problems," the pontiff said in an Angelus address last year. "On the contrary, it amplifies them and causes deep wounds in the history of peoples -- wounds that take generations to heal."

Now, there are many things that can be said about the tragedy of warfare without crediting the blatantly ahistorical cliché that it is never the answer, or doesn't solve disputed questions, often with a terrible finality.

Warfare can determine international boundaries and the nature of governments. It can decide who will rule and who will not. The relative power of states, the extent of religious faiths and the status of a culture can depend on it.

Wars might be pointless, or fought for prestige, revenge or territorial aggrandizement. That's all true, but it doesn't change the fact that military conflict is, at times, necessary and highly consequential; it can achieve beneficial ends, as well as awful ones.

It mattered for the spread of Christianity, for instance, that Constantine, who would become the first Christian emperor of Rome, won the Battle of Milvian Bridge in 312. Later, Christendom benefited from Ferdinand and Isabella taking back Granada from its Muslim rulers in 1492, and from the Holy Roman Emperor defeating the Ottoman besiegers of Vienna in 1683.

Certainly, it would have been better if all this could have been amiably worked out among the relevant parties, but that's not how the world usually works.

In the early 19th century, Europe had a Napoleon problem -- a world-historical military genius determined to bend the continent to his will through force of arms. After serial failures, the Allies finally solved this problem in the War of the Seventh Coalition. The ensuing diplomatic settlement at the Congress of Vienna forged a peace that lasted nearly a century, but wouldn't have been possible without victory at Waterloo.

In the early 20th century, Europe had a Hitler problem -- a fanatical, race-obsessed militarist who wanted his Third Reich to dominate Europe. This problem, too, was solved by force and led to a lasting peace, although a very tense one during the Cold War. If it's true that war should usually be the last resort, the Allies would have been better off if it had been the first resort against Hitler, checking him when he was relatively weak.

More proachially, the United States wouldn't be what it is today absent two existential wars. When the colonies began agitating for independence, the British weren't simply going to cede what they considered sovereign territories, especially given their economic and strategic value. The American cause -- and all the good that has flowed from it -- depended on prevailing in a grinding eight-year war.

About a hundred years later, it all could have collapsed had the United States not prevailed in the Civil War, an appallingly bloody conflict that extinguished American slavery and preserved the foundation for the nation's gathering greatness.

TITLE: None of this is a warrant for heedless warmongering, or a reason to dismiss, say, the sheer cynical brutishness of the Roman destruction of Carthage in the Third Punic War, or the horrors of Passchendaele. That war is terrible; however, it doesn't mean that it's ineffective.

In our times, Russia invaded Ukraine in 2022 in the erroneous, but not crazy, belief that a sharp, decisive military campaign would topple the Western-oriented government in Kyiv and force the creation of a regime more to the Kremlin's liking. This was a war that never should have been launched, yet Ukraine had no alternative but to fight it.

If Kyiv wants to protect its sovereign territory and eventually get a tolerable diplomatic outcome, war is the answer -- as, sadly, it has been so often throughout human history.

ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF VERNON GUSTAV WITTKOPP CASE NO. 26PR000972

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of Vernon Gustav Wittkopp.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Mark Wittkopp, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Mark Wittkopp be appointed as personal representative(s) to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows May 14, 2026, 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129; Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Citrus Heights Observes Earth Day

A young, new maple tree was then planted in celebration of Earth Day in front of a banner acknowledging the city as Tree City USA.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Overcast morning skies didn't deter both volunteers and members of city of Citrus Heights General Services department from its annual celebration of Earth Day on Wednesday, April 22 at City Hall.

Heavy overnight spring rains let up just before the start of the rain-or-shine community event at 8:30 am. By mid-morning, some rays of sun were beginning to break through.

The annual volunteer "Chip-In" event which revitalized the bark and general landscaping at Citrus Heights City Hall was coordinated by Armando Velasquez of the city's construction and maintenance department. Velasquez provided a general safety brief before the project began.

Over the past three years, the annual Earth Day "Chip In" event has revitalized beds along both sides of the length of Fountain Square Drive, and around the roundabout at Van Maren Park. Last year, volunteers revitalized the beds and grounds surrounding the Citrus Heights Police Station.

"The event is held each year, rain or shine," Velasquez said. "We're always hoping for better weather which encourages more volunteers to take part," he said.

Better weather might have attracted more volunteers to the annual event as in years past, he said.

Many who participated had registered for the annual Earth Day "Chip In" event through the city's online volunteer hub which networks volunteers with opportunities to serve within their community, Velasquez said.

Shovelers soon filled empty wheelbarrows full of rich, brown bark, a special Citrus Heights signature blend, Velasquez said.

There were plenty of small landscaping beds surrounding the fountain at City Hall which each needed a refresh of new bark. Larger beds situated just under the main windows on the Planning Department side of City Hall and in front of City Hall Council Chambers were also attended to.

A young, new maple tree was then planted in celebration of Earth Day in front of a banner acknowledging the city as Tree City USA.

Volunteers teamed up with city staff and General Services personnel to revitalize bark, plant trees and added flowerbeds around City Hall at 6360 Fountain Square Drive. By 12:30 pm much of their work was done, and all those who participated enjoyed a pizza lunch.

Event sponsors for the "Chip In" Earth Day event included Advance America, Sprouts Farmers Market, West Coast Arborists and Republic Services.

The city extended its very special thanks to everyone who braved the periodic drizzling rain and chipped-in to this annual event, said Marisa Brown, city communications officer. ★
