Celebrating Culture at Tractor Day

By Khushi Salgia

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - On Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16, Rio Lindans gathered at the Dry Creek Ranch House for the 31st annual Tractor Day, an event hosted by the Rio Linda Elverta Historical Society (RLEHS) featuring attractions such as a vintage tractor show, family activities and vendors. This year's Tractor Day was held in the memory of Ralph Leland Hants, the director, mechanic and equipment operator of the RLEHS who passed away last year. Tractor Day was filled with a variety of booths and sights, all of which comprise the unique fingerprint that defines Rio Linda Elverta. The local Girl Scouts chapter, Troop 1565, held a booth to recruit girls from the local area to their troop, which is one of hundreds in the Sacramento area. "Rio Linda is very much overlooked," said Cathy Peters, the leader of Troop 1565 for the past 21 years. The troop has struggled to sell cookies in person since the pandemic, when troops started selling cookies online and in-person sales declined. According to Peters, selling cookies in person teaches girls important social skills and gives them the confidence to talk to strangers, making it a valuable experience for the scouts. Peters said that these activities are important because it "builds them up for the work environment." To address this, Peters went around to local businesses negotiating deals to allow the Girl Scouts to sell in front of stores. As a result, the Rio Linda Girl Scouts now have more opportunities to sell cookies in-person. Peters also campaigned for having in-person outdoor meetings during the pandemic to "pull girls away from sitting

State Water Project Allocation Increases Heading into Summer

California Department of Water Resources News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - May 15, the Department of Water Resources (DWR) announced an increase to the State Water Project (SWP) allocation for 2026. The allocation is now 45% of requested supplies, up from the previous allocation of 30% announced on Jan. 29. The allocation establishes how much water the State plans to deliver to the 29 public water agencies served by the SWP, which provides water to 27 million Californians and 750,000 acres of farmland.

In the spring, SWP allocations are based on current hydrological conditions, existing reservoir storage, and remaining snowpack. While California saw record heat in March and early snowmelt, consistent rainstorms in April provided critical runoff through the system that allowed DWR to capture more water and meet environmental regulations without using stored water. Currently, the SWP's largest reservoir, Lake Oroville, is at 99% of capacity. Statewide, reservoirs are 117% of average for this time of year.

The challenge remains that California's snowpack, the state's frozen reservoir, is essentially gone. As of today, the statewide snowpack is just 12% of average. The snowpack peaked in mid-Feb. and has since melted off.

"California's reservoirs are full, but most snowpack melted off weeks ago. We must use this stored water carefully because there's no backfill until next season," said DWR Director Karla Nemeth.

The SWP utilized real-time operational flexibility to benefit water users and the environment despite the fact that so much of this year's precipitation came as rain instead of snow. Water managers at Lake Oroville coordinated closely with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to capture as much water as possible while still providing flood protection to downstream communities. These flexible operations, coupled with the improved runoff in the system resulted in an additional 400,000 acre-feet of storage in Lake Oroville. This puts the SWP in a better position to provide water supply to contractors this year while maintaining robust carry-over storage to meet water supply and environmental

By MPG Staff

RIO LINDA, CA (MPG) - "The Prince of Egypt" is coming to the stage this May, and among the talented cast members is a familiar face to the Rio Linda community — Kambria Silva, the 2024 Junior Mayor, making her musical theater debut as Miriam. Known throughout the community for her leadership, kindness and her mad barista skills, Silva is stepping into a new spotlight through this powerful production. Performing in the Simcha Cast, she will portray Miriam, the courageous and compassionate sister of Moses in the beloved musical adaptation of "The Prince of Egypt." Presented at Royal Stage Theater in Citrus Heights, the production promises sweeping music, dramatic storytelling, and an unforgettable theatrical experience. The show opened on May 21 at Royal Stage Theater, with additional performances on May 22, 23 and 24. The production will then continue at Bridgeway Church on Industrial

Avenue in Roseville for performances on May 30 and 31. Adding to the local pride surrounding the production, the show is directed by fellow Rio Linda resident Amber Horgan, highlighting the strong connection between the production and the Rio Linda community. The collaboration showcases the creativity and talent emerging from the area, both on stage and behind the scenes. The Prince of Egypt has captivated audiences worldwide with its themes of faith, courage, freedom and family. Kambria's portrayal of Miriam is expected to bring warmth and heart to the stage as she joins a cast dedicated to delivering a meaningful and inspiring performance. Friends, family and community members are encouraged to come out and support Silva during her theatrical debut and celebrate another example of young leadership and talent emerging from the Rio Linda community. ★

Sacramento Region Celebrates Signing of Water Forum 2050 Agreement

Landmark regional agreement advances water reliability and protection of the Lower American River in a changing climate

Sacramento Water Forum News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)- Leaders from across the Sacramento region gathered May 11 at the Sofia Tsakopoulos Center for the Arts to celebrate the signing of the Water Forum 2050 Agreement, marking a major milestone in the region’s long-standing collaborative approach to water management.

The updated agreement builds on the original 2000 Water Forum Agreement and continues the region’s commitment to two coequal objectives: providing a reliable water supply for the region’s economy and communities while protecting the fishery, wildlife, recreational and aesthetic values of the Lower American River.

Representatives from water suppliers, environmental organizations, business groups and public agencies participated in the event, which featured keynote remarks from California Natural Resources Secretary Wade Crowfoot and recognition of the individuals who helped shape both the original agreement and the Water Forum 2050 process.

“Water Forum 2050 demonstrates what is possible when diverse interests stay at the table and work toward shared solutions,” said Water Forum Executive Director Ashlee Casey. “At a time when climate change is placing increasing pressure on California’s water systems and rivers, this agreement reflects a continued regional commitment to collaboration, adaptation and stewardship of the Lower American River.”

The Water Forum process began in the 1990s in response to growing concerns about the health of the Lower American River, water supply reliability and groundwater declines. Since the original agreement was signed in 2000, the region has invested in major water supply and habitat enhancement projects while avoiding the conflicts and litigation that often accompany water management issues in California.

The Water Forum 2050 Agreement updates and extends that collaborative framework in response to new challenges driven by climate change, including hotter temperatures, shrinking snowpack, more intense droughts and floods and increasing pressure on river ecosystems.

“California faces growing water challenges driven by climate change, and the Sacramento region continues to demonstrate the value of collaboration and long-term planning with a multi-benefit approach,” Crowfoot said. “The Water Forum 2050 Agreement reflects the kind of regional leadership and partnership that will be essential to protecting water supplies, supporting healthy rivers and preparing communities for the future.”

A key component of the updated agreement is the American River Climate Adaptation Program (ARCAP), a regional strategy intended to improve water management flexibility and protect cold water in the Lower American River during critically dry periods. ARCAP will strive to connect conservation, groundwater recharge, reservoir operations and regional infrastructure projects into a coordinated system supporting both water supply reliability and environmental stewardship.

“The Water Forum has helped create a foundation of trust and transparency that allows this region to respond to challenges together,” Casey said. “Now the focus turns to implementation — continuing the work needed to strengthen water supply reliability, protect the Lower American River, and prepare the region for a changing climate.”

“Water is at the heart of what makes Sacramento County a great place to live, work, and raise a family — and that means protecting both the tap and the river,” said Sacramento County Supervisor Rosario Rodriguez. “The Water Forum 2050 Agreement ensures we don’t have to choose between a reliable water supply and a healthy American River. After more than two decades of proving that balance is possible, we are proud to renew that commitment.”

“Thirty years ago, this region chose collaboration over conflict and long-term planning over short-term thinking,” said Mayor of Sacramento Kevin McCarty. “The Water Forum 2050 Agreement carries that tradition forward, helping Sacramento prepare for more extreme conditions while continuing to support economic growth, reliable water supplies and a healthy Lower American River.”

“As a proud member of the Water Forum Business Caucus, the Sacramento Metro Chamber recognizes the critical role long-term water reliability plays in the economic vitality and sustainability of the Capital Region,” said Robert Heidt, president & CEO, Sacramento Metro Chamber. “The Water Forum 2050 Agreement reflects years of thoughtful collaboration between business, environmental, civic, and public sector leaders to advance solutions that support both a healthy environment and a thriving regional economy. This agreement is an important step forward in ensuring our region is prepared for future growth, climate challenges, and the evolving needs of our communities.”

“The Lower American River is an ecological treasure that supports wildlife, recreation, and our region’s identity. The Water Forum 2050 Agreement, with the innovative ARCAP, provides the framework we need to protect this vital resource and provide for the region’s needed water supply as climate pressures grow,” said Ted Rauh, water committee lead, Environmental Council of Sacramento.

“Water Forum 2050 shows what’s possible when public agencies collaborate with a broad range of partners to achieve common goals. This agreement strengthens the region’s ability to prepare for climate extremes — from floods to droughts — while safeguarding the health of the Lower American River,” said Gary Bardini, director of planning, Sacramento Area Flood Control Agency (SAFCA).

“Water Forum 2050 is critical for water supply reliability as we move into an uncertain future. It provides the long-range foundation that is needed to adapt to changing conditions and manage our surface and groundwater resources in a sustainable way,” said Mike Grinstead, acting chief of water supply, Sacramento County Water Agency.

on their phones.”

Rio Linda Girl Scouts participate in activities such as camping, building farm equipment and taking field trips to the Capitol to learn how the government works, as well as participating in local service projects. According to Peters, the purpose of Girl Scouts is to give girls “empowerment to be who they want to be.”

Another organization present at Tractor Day was the Rio Linda chapter of national non-profit Quilt Trail Project, founded in 2001 by Donna Sue Groves who painted a quilt block with her friends to memorialize her mother who passed away from breast cancer. These quilt-style paintings caught on in popularity and since then, an imaginary “clothesline” of 5,000 barn-quilts have been painted across the Midwest and Canada.

The manager of the Rio Linda Elverta Quilt Trail Project (RLEQTP), Debra

Crowe, discovered a barn quilt trail while on a hunting trip in Nebraska, and brought the idea back to her hometown and started her own chapter. Now, RLEQTP is a group of nine people who get together to paint quilt blocks in public spaces around the community. Anyone can join, regardless of their artistic background. They get permission from local businesses and other public places to paint a quilt-style mural that fits the theme. The group painted a lion for the Rio Linda Lions Club and, for the Elverta Market, paintings of different kinds of livestock and farm animals.

“It helps people feel better about their town,” Crowe said on why public art is important.

In addition to the RLEQTP, Tractor Day was filled with all kinds of creative people. Mindful Moment Apothecary, a business run by two sisters, Hillary Rounds and Jessica Fraser, sells handmade soap and jewelry. Fraser makes all-natural soap, skincare and body care products and Rounds makes crystal-based jewelry and keychains as well as pins, notepads and crocheted facial cloths to use with Fraser’s skincare products.

The idea for the skincare business started when Fraser’s daughter was diagnosed with eczema as an infant and was prescribed steroid creams. Believing that this was too harsh for a baby, Fraser decided to make her own all-natural skincare products, which led to starting a business. Rounds has always been into accessorizing, ever since she was in fifth grade but since she could never find jewelry that suited her taste, she decided to make her own and as a result started her own jewelry business. She also commissions custom pieces for those who do cosplay. The two sisters decided to combine their businesses, which led to the creation of Mindful Moment Apothecary, a witchy and spiritual brand with tarot cards and crystals everywhere.

“Our grandmother grew up in the Great Depression,” said Rounds.

As a result of their grandmother’s upbringing, Rounds and Fraser were raised to make their own products from scratch rather than buying them.

Also present at the event was the Sonoma branch of the Early Day Gas Engine & Tractor Association (EDGEA). This national organization, formed in 1957, aims to stimulate interest in collecting, restoring, preserving and exhibiting gasoline and oil engines, gas/diesel and steam tractors, power-driven farm machinery and any other industrial technology of historical value.

Some of the items displayed were a gasoline engine, a water pump and a washing machine that date back to around the 1920s. Karl Righetti, the secretary and newsletter of EDGEA’s Sonoma branch, sourced all these pieces and restored them. When he found them, they were so rusty and tarnished that they didn’t even move, so he polished, painted and engineered them back to health, all without an engineering background.

Righetti is an old-technology enthusiast and taught himself how to fix the machines and get them to look as historically accurate as possible. The serial number on the machine often helps to track it down in historical records and trace it back to what year it was manufactured, Righetti said. He often showcases these pieces at museums or at elementary schools to teach kids about the history of the machines they are used to in daily life.

“It shows where we come from,” Righetti said. ★

Helix Electric Joins $390 Million Sacramento Airport Project

Helix Electric News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Helix Electric (Helix), a leading electrical contractor with over 3,000 employees and over $1 billion in annual revenue, joins in the construction of a new six-story, 5,500-space parking garage at Sacramento International Airport (SMF), located west of Terminal B.

The project, part of the airport’s $1.3 billion SMForward capital improvement program, is on track to open in late 2026 and will significantly expand parking capacity for the region’s fastest-growing airport. Helix serves as the managing electrical contractor on the project, working in coordination with general contractor Otto Construction.

“Projects like this don’t happen without the right people and the right partners,” said Casey Long, chief operating officer for Helix Electric. “We are grateful to Otto Construction for bringing their best to this job every single day, and we are confident the workers on this site are building something Sacramento families will rely on for generations of travel ahead.”

The new garage replaces the existing Hourly B Lot and adds 5,500 close-in parking spaces for passengers and visitors at SMF. The structure features a parking guidance system, electric vehicle charging stations on every level, solar panel readiness and public art integrated into its perforated metal panels.

“When Sacramento residents head to the airport, this garage will be part of their experience for decades to come, and that matters to us,” said Matt Liefer, operations manager for Helix Electric. “This project expands what Helix Electric can offer in Northern California and reinforces our commitment to delivering work that leaves a lasting, positive mark on the communities we build in.”

The Terminal B Parking Garage 2 is one of six projects under the SMForward program subject to the county’s CWTB. Otto Construction, a Sacramento-based, woman-owned firm, serves as the design-build general contractor and previously constructed SMF’s Terminal A parking garage in 2004. The total project budget is $390 million.

About Helix Electric, Inc.

Helix Electric, Inc. (Helix) specializes in design-build and highly complex electrical projects as an award-winning electrical contractor. With decades of experience and expertise in nearly every construction field, Helix Electric has established itself as an industry leader. Founded in 1985, Helix ranks as one of the largest and most successful electrical contracting companies in the nation. For more information visit <https://www.helixelectric.com/>. ★

Sacramento Suburban Kiwanis Club News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Suburban Kiwanis Club will host its 68th Art Fiesta on Saturday, June 6 and Sunday, June 7 at the Scottish Rite Masonic Center in Sacramento.

This two-day, family-friendly event is free to attend and features fine art, emerging student talent and a deep commitment to community, all while kicking off summer with a celebration of creativity and connection.

The artists in the juried arts show will be on site.

This year’s Art Fiesta includes an exciting relatively new addition: a student art exhibit showcasing the work of seventh- through 12th-graders from the San Juan Unified School District. These rising artists will have their pieces displayed and some 70 professional painters, photographers, ceramicists, glass and woodworkers, textile artists and jewelers from across the region will offer their work for sale.

The event has supported the Sacramento Suburban Kiwanis Club’s mission since 1952, which is committed to changing lives, one community and one child at a time. The Art Fiesta was held at Town & Country Village for more than 50 years and at The Pavilions for 13 years. This year marks the fourth year indoors at the Scottish Rite Masonic Center.

Every dollar raised through the Kiwanis Art Fiesta goes directly into the nonprofit Sacramento Suburban Kiwanis Foundation. Proceeds from the Art Fiesta help fund Key Clubs (youth leadership programs) and Boys/Girls State, and vital support services, most notably for the Kiwanis Family House, located near UC Davis Medical Center and Shriners Hospital in Sacramento.

Other beneficiaries include River City Food Closet, Stanford House, Opening Doors, Next Move Homeless Services, Sierra Arden Food Closet, Coats for Kids, Crisis Nursery, Wellspring Women’s Center, Process Theatre, Sacramento Children’s Home and

“This event is a perfect blend of art, community and purpose,” said Sacramento Suburban Kiwanis Club President Tom Fleishmann. “By simply showing up, you’re making a difference, supporting students, uplifting local artists and helping families in need. Plus, it’s a great way to kick off the summer with something truly meaningful and beautiful. The artwork makes a wonderful addition to your home or as a valued gift.”

Admission and parking are free for the event, which runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 6 and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, June 7 at the Scottish Rite Masonic Center, 6151 H St., Sacramento.

Food vendors will be on-site both days.

Young Farmers Talk Policies During Capitol Advocacy Visit

Participants of the California Farm Bureau Young Farmers & Ranchers, a program that supports agriculturalists between the ages of 18 and 35, converged in Sacramento last month for a day of advocacy. The YF&R participants spoke with lawmakers and their staff about policy issues such as a proposed tax credit to address unintended consequences of the state’s agricultural overtime law, compensation for cattle ranchers impacted by gray wolves, and regulations limiting the use of self-driving tractors on California farms.

Jennifer Cortez, a Farm Bureau member based in Sacramento County, said it was her first time joining the Calling on the Capitol event. “Throw me on a farm and I know a lot about livestock and animals, but this is where the disconnect happens,” she said. “This is exactly where we need to be in order to have our voices heard.”

USDA Announces $9 Million for Cling Peach Tree Removal

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said it will make available up to $9 million to fund the removal of cling peach orchards by growers whose long-term contracts with Del Monte Foods were voided following the company’s bankruptcy and the closure of its cannery in Modesto. In business for 139 years, Del Monte contracted about 35% of California’s cling peaches last year. The funding from USDA will support the removal of up to 420,000 cling peach trees, or approximately 3,000 acres. “We’re grateful for the swift action taken to protect peach growers, the peach industry, their families and the rural communities that depend on this industry,” Rich Hudgins, president and CEO of the California Canning Peach Association, said in a statement.

Scientists Aim to Reduce Cost of Making Lab-Grown Chocolate

Chocolate remains a favorite treat for Americans. A 2024 report from the National Confectioners Association found that 65% of U.S. consumers eat chocolate, driving $21.4 billion in confectionery sales. But the future of chocolate is under pressure because cacao plants, which produce the cocoa beans used to make chocolate, are struggling in key growing regions. Excessive heat, erratic rainfall, prolonged droughts and flooding have already caused significant cocoa crop failures in Ivory Coast, the world’s leading producer of cocoa beans. Farmers are seeing lower yields, dying trees and in some cases total crop loss. Scientists at the University of California, Davis, are working with California Cultured, a Sacramento-based food-technology company, to develop a new way to source cocoa: growing it directly from plant cells in a lab. With grants from the National Science Foundation and BioMADE, the research team is working to lower production costs and create a more reliable, sustainable source of chocolate. ★ needs should next year be dry.

Each year, DWR provides an initial SWP allocation in December based on available water storage, projected water supply and water demands. Allocations are updated monthly as snowpack, rainfall and runoff data is analyzed, with a final allocation typically determined near the end of the season in May or June. This season, the initial allocation was 10% on Dec. 1, updated to 30% percent on Jan. 29, and increased to 45% today.

You've Voted! What's Next?

Sacramento County
Voter Registration and Elections Office
News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Voters can use the My Voter Portal (MVP) to check the status of their voted ballot. Visit: <https://myvoterportal.saccounty.gov/LookupVoter>.

Why Did I Receive a Notice About My Signature?

If we are unable to confirm that your signature on your pink Vote by Mail return envelope matches your signature on file, we will contact you to ensure your ballot is counted.

California law allows you the opportunity to correct your signature on your pink Vote by Mail return envelope up until two days before the election is certified.

To correct your signature, you may: print, complete, and return a Signature Verification Statement at VRE or any Vote Center; resolve your signature using My Voter Portal (MVP); or complete and return the letter we sent you using the postage-paid envelope.

Without your signature, your ballot will not be counted.

Where are the Election Results?

View the Election Results Schedule so you know when to expect the next update. View the schedule: elections.saccounty.gov/content/vre/us/en/election-information/june-2--2026-statewide-direct-primary-election--election-results.html#gsc.tab=0.

What Happens After Election Day?

Did you know? Depending on the type of election, we have between 28 and 30 days to certify the election. After the polls close at 8 p.m. on Election Day, the work continues as we diligently process, verify and ensure all eligible ballots are counted. Accuracy takes time.

The Official Canvass: Division 15, Chapter 4.

In this phase we audit and account for all ballots that were issued, voted, and those that were not used. This phase includes, but is not limited to, the following tasks:

Reconcile the number of ballots counted, spoiled, canceled or invalidated due to identifying marks, over-votes, or as otherwise provided by statute, with the number of votes recorded, including VBM and provisional ballots, by the vote counting system.

Process and count any valid VBM ballots not included in the semi-final election results. These VBM ballots are returned on Election Day to our office, at a Vote Center, to an Official Ballot Drop Box location or timely via USPS.

Receive, confirm, and process Signature Verification Statements.

Count any valid write-in votes. Duplicate any damaged ballots, if necessary.

Reporting final results to the governing board and the Secretary of State, as required.

Conduct the 1% Manual Tally: Division 15, Chapter 4, Article 5.

The 1% manual tally process validates the tabulation of ballots generated by the electronic voting equipment before certifying election results. Precincts utilized for the 1% manual tally are selected at random by the elections official. For each contest not included in the 1% manual tally, an additional voting precinct with that contest will be selected and tallied. Coming Soon.

Process Conditional Voter Registration (CVR) ballots: California Code of Regulation. Title 2, Division 7, Chapter 1, Article 3.5.

CVR extends the existing 15-day registration deadline in California to eligible voters, allowing them to register and vote provisionally 14 days prior to an election through Election Day. Voters that are not registered must be processed using CVR.

Certify the Election: Division

15, Chapter 4, Article 6.; Division 17.

Once the Official Canvass is complete, we will sign a certificate to certify the election results.

Election materials shall be sealed and retained for 22 months from the date of the election for federal elections and six months from the date of the election for local elections.

Recounts: California Code of Regulation. Title 2, Division 7, Chapter 8.

After we certify the election results, any voter may request for a recount within five (5) calendar days. For more information about recounts, visit: elections.saccounty.gov/content/vre/us/en/recounts.html#gsc.tab=0.

Remote Accessible Voting Available in Sacramento County

Sacramento County Voter Registration and Elections Office
News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Voters can request and receive access to the Remote Accessible Vote by Mail (RAVBM) system. The County of Sacramento has selected Democracy Live to provide this service. The RAVBM system allows voters to download and mark their correct ballot privately and independently using their own assistive technology, print their marked ballot and mail it to the Elections Office to be counted.

Watch the video on the RAVBM system at: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=54-Xbg5Nbg4>.

All registered voters in Sacramento County are eligible to use this system pursuant to California Elections Code section 3016.7.

When

Access the service anytime, day or night, starting 29 days before an election.

How

Go online and enter your information in My Voter Portal to obtain your correct ballot. Visit: myvoterportal.saccounty.gov/LookupVoter.

Voters can vote on any computer with internet access and a printer. Email vbm@saccounty.gov or call (916) 875-6155 for help with the RAVBM system.

Practice On Our Demo Site

Voters can now practice using a DEMO version of the RAVBM system. This DEMO site simulates the RAVBM voting experience, allowing voters to learn how to navigate and use the system in preparation for a real election. Voters can select their language and font size preferences in the top right corner, read and watch instructions on how to mark a ballot, and practice marking and printing a DEMO ballot.

Note: This DEMO version of the RAVBM system is for demonstration purposes only and cannot be used to submit an Official Ballot.

Visit: sites.omniballot.us/06067/demo/app/home?pid=2.

Assistance for Voters with Disabilities

The County of Sacramento Voter Registration and Elections Department has a long-standing commitment to work with voters with disabilities to help them exercise their right to vote. Voters are encouraged to contact the Voter Registration and Elections Office at 916-875-6451 or voterinfo@saccounty.gov with specific requests for assistance. ★

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

How About Ja Morant?

As the June 23 NBA draft approaches, what realistic possibilities are the Sacramento Kings franchise confronted with?

Everyone already knows Sacramento dropped to the 7th overall pick, and although that was disappointing it was not the negative that many Kings fans envisioned it to be. At No. 7 this draft class will have a quality player for Sacramento to add to their roster.

The real question is, will it be a guard as everyone seems to believe it will be? Not necessarily and here is why.

For some time now talk throughout the NBA is the disposition of one Ja Morant. A highly talented point guard that can do it all, but in the past has shown flashes of true immaturity, to the point that the Memphis Grizzlies have all but given up on him.

Twice suspended for his penchant of displaying firearms on social media, Ja has had to learn the hard way. First, suspended for eight games and then again when he didn’t learn his lesson for 25 games the second time.

Can Memphis problem child become something the Sacramento Kings have long been looking for? The possibility is real, and if that possibility becomes reality, this 2nd overall pick in the 2019 draft could become an instant game changer in the Kings lineup.

The question is, can Sacramento satisfy the appetite of the Grizzlies, and will the Sacramento fan base come to the realization that everyone deserves a second chance. Many will say he’s already gotten that chance and blown it, but he’s been with only one organization, and every once in a blue moon, the grass is really greener on the other side.

What a Ja Morant would mean to the Sacramento Kings is opening the floor like never before. Trying to stop his drives to the basket is like trying to rope a whirling dervish.

Morant is almost impossible to guard one-on-one, and that means when other teams double team him, someone is wide open.

Players like Zach Lavine, Keegan Murray and DeMar DeRozan should be licking their lips with the possibilities.

We haven’t even talked about the future hall-of-famer Russell Westbrook who might just be the mentor Ja Morant could benefit from.

There are few point guards in the NBA that can give DeAaron Fox a run for his money when it comes to pure speed, but Ja Morant is right there with him.

How would Domantas Sabonis benefit from this speedster one should ask? Another player with excellent mentoring skills, Domantas, is a nightly example of how to play the game, and if anything, I see his scoring average go up if Morant joins this team.

So. Is this pie in the sky or does this troubled 26-year-old stand a chance at joining the Kings organization? It’s real if Scott Perry wants it to be real, and as they say, the proofs in the pudding.

Currently, the kings have an abundance of point guards, and with the exception of an aging Russell Westbrook, Sacramento does not have an NBA quality starting point guard.

That is not to disparage Nique Clifford or Devin Carter who have shown flashes, but the Kings need a floor leader now, and not a point guard project.

Ja Morant, if through with his prior nonsense, could be the comeback player of the year, and be a reclamation project for the Kings that says, we finally got it right!

I don’t expect every Kings fan to agree with my assessment, but I’m for accelerating what is being called a complete rebuild with a much faster version that doesn’t send all of our players to parts unknown.

No question, Domantas Sabonis is high on Scott Perry’s list as a candidate for trade options, and I do not want to see that happen.

Look instead to resigning Russell Westbrook for perhaps his last season is a stellar NBA career, and perhaps team him with the bad boy of the NBA in Ja Morant.

I have said many times before that this team is steeped in NBA talent, but questionable coaching and torrid injuries decimated the process last year.

Let’s finally assess the talent we have and actually coach it. Maybe teach pros who to shoot free throws.

Like Rosy the Riveter said, we can do it!

All the best Kings fans and keep the faith!All the best! ★

Newsom’s Tightfisted Final Budget Faces a Rough Reception in the Legislature

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Since the turn of the century, California’s state budget has been plagued by a boom-and-bust syndrome rooted in its lopsided revenue system and a lack of political discipline.

The budget became increasingly dependent on taxes paid by the state’s most affluent residents, whose incomes increasingly came from investments rather than salaries.

Thus state revenues would often spike upwards, only to level off or decline. But governors and legislators would make new spending commitments during the spikes that would become liabilities during the downturns.

It was dubbed “volatility” and it reached an apex four years ago when Gov. Gavin Newsom declared that the state had a $97.5 billion surplus, having decided that a post-pandemic revenue spike would be permanent.

His administration later acknowledged a $165 billion error in a four-year revenue projection. But in the meantime he and the Legislature had raised spending, creating deficits that totaled $125 billion over four years, according to the Legislative Analyst Office. The deficits were papered over with a series of short-term fixes, including loans and accounting gimmicks.

On Thursday, Newsom unveiled a revised version of his final budget and, without saying so, indicated he had learned a hard lesson about managing volatility.

Although the state is seeing a new tax spike and his budget sees a $16.5 billion increase in revenues over three years, Newsom’s $349.4 billion 2026-27 budget takes a cautious approach. He says it would not only erase the structural deficit of the past four years, but it would guarantee that his successor would have a balanced first year budget for 2027-28.

“We’re cutting deficits but not cutting corners,” Newsom said.

The $246.6 billion general fund portion of the budget relies not only on new revenues, including a $3.6 billion boost from several relatively minor tax increases, to be balanced, but it is indirectly helped by big reductions in federal aid for healthcare.

Newsom devoted the first minutes of his budget presentation to bragging about California’s $4-trillion-plus economy, saying “we simply have no peers.” He also trolled those with “California derangement syndrome” and denounced President Donald Trump as corrupt and incompetent.

However Trump’s tightened eligibility for federally subsidized healthcare that could affect hundreds of thousands of Californians also has the effect of reducing the state’s healthcare spending, thus helping Newsom draft a balanced budget.

He could have backfilled the lost federal funds, but that probably would have required him to propose a major tax increase of some kind, which, as a likely 2028 presidential candidate, he is unwilling to do.

However his attitude on healthcare and taxes places Newsom at odds with advocates for poor Californians who would be affected and their allies in the Legislature, many of whom want a tax increase.

Graham Knaus, CEO of the California State Association of Counties, immediately declared that “the governor is proposing to do to counties what he accuses the president of doing to California.”

Chris Hoene, of the left-leaning California Budget & Policy Center, which has been beating the drums for tax increases, said, “The governor promoted California’s economic dominance while, in the same breath, making it more difficult for Californians with low incomes to access healthcare by reinstating harmful Medi-Cal asset limits, expanding work requirements and increasing Medi-Cal premiums for certain immigrants.”

With just a few months remaining in his governorship, Newsom’s ability to bend the Legislature to his will is fading, so the question his new budget poses is whether legislators will go along. Or will they insist that the new holes in the state’s safety net be plugged and support raising taxes to pay for it?

Social Security Matters

Social Security’s “First Year Rule” and Withdrawing from SS

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Security benefits (e.g., before your full retirement age or “FRA,” which for you is age 67). What will happen is this: when the IRS provides SSA with your 2026 earnings (in 2027), SSA will review to see if your total 2026 net earnings from self-employment exceeded the 2026 annual limit of $24,480. If not, no further action is necessary. But if you did exceed the full year 2026 earnings limit, SSA will contact you and ask you to provide them with details about your monthly 2026 net earnings. If you have exceeded the monthly limit in any 2026 month after your SS benefit started, you will not be entitled to SS benefits for that month. Essentially, if you have exceeded the annual limit, you cannot exceed the monthly earnings limit in any remaining month during your first year of collecting. If you exceeded the annual limit, and also any monthly limit, SSA will send you an overpayment notice saying you must repay them for the benefits you were not entitled to receive because you exceeded the monthly earnings limit.

2. You can, within 12 months of applying for Social Security, ask SSA to withdraw your application for SS retirement benefits. They will do that for you, but you will also be required to repay them all SS benefits that they have already paid to (or for) you. This essentially would “wipe the slate clean” and enable your SS benefit to continue growing, allowing you to apply for a larger monthly benefit later. But if you wait longer than 12 months after you first apply for SS benefits, you can no longer withdraw your application for Social Security. Thereafter, you would be subject to the annual earnings limit (the monthly earnings limit would no longer apply).

FYI, after you reach your FRA, there is no limit on your earnings, and you could choose to suspend your benefit payments and earn Delayed Retirement Credits (DRCs) to get a higher monthly benefit. Also at your FRA, if SSA withheld any of your benefits because you exceeded the earnings limit before reaching your FRA, you would get time credit for the number of months your benefits were withheld. Essentially, they would advance your benefit-start month by the number of months your benefits were withheld, yielding a slightly higher monthly amount after your FRA.

Finally, it’s important to know that the contributions you made to Social Security from payroll taxes (FICA/SECA) over your lifetime are not what determines your monthly SS benefit amount. Your monthly SS benefit is based on two main factors: a) your average monthly earnings (indexed for inflation) for the highest earning 35 years over your lifetime as reported to the IRS, and b) the age at which you claim your SS benefits. Your contributions to Social Security while working only provide you with eligibility to collect SS benefits; the contributions aren’t put into a separate account for you and are not used to calculate your monthly SS benefit. ★

The call is coming from inside the house. The Supreme Court’s decision in Louisiana v. Callais has made progressives even more determined to delegitimize the Supreme Court, and Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson is among them.

In a dissent involving a post-decision procedural question, Jackson accused the majority of acting out of pure partisanship. Her opinion said that the court “unshackles itself” from all constraint and “dives into the fray” (meaning the partisan fray). In its jurisprudence, “principles give way to power.” It is acting with an “abandon” that is “unwarranted and unwise.”

These harsh charges occasioned a stinging and well-deserved rebuttal from Justice Samuel Alito, but, merits aside, the tenor and substance of the Jackson dissent capture the mindset of a Left that is increasingly determined to destroy the Supreme Court in order to save it.

The technical matter under dispute was whether the Supreme Court would wait 32 days to finalize its decision in Louisiana v. Callais. This is the usual practice under Rule 45.3 of the court; the idea is to allow the losing party time to file a petition for re-hearing. But the rule is flexible, a default “unless the court or a justice shortens or extends the time.”

The winning side in the case asked to get the decision finalized quickly, since time is of the essence. With the state’s scheduled May 16 primaries rapidly approaching (now delayed), Louisiana wants to redraw its maps in keeping with the court’s decision.

Jackson’s dissent quotes a 2019 decision of the court in Rucho v. Common Cause for the proposition that courts should not “risk assuming political ... responsibility for a [partisan map-drawing] process that often produces ill will and distrust.”

But this was a warning against courts involving themselves in minute questions of partisan gerrymandering. Here, the court has set out a bright-line principle that district lines can’t be race-based, but otherwise said that the political authorities are welcome to gerrymander or not.

Jackson also slaps the court for creating “chaos in the State of Louisiana.” This is quite rich given the history.

When Louisiana created a congressional map after the 2020 census with just one majority-minority district, it got sued for not sufficiently taking race into account; a judge ordered it to make a second minority district. When Louisiana complied by manufacturing a monstrosity of a district stretching 250 miles to randomly scoop up black voters, it got sued again -- this time, for taking race too much into account -- and the case made it to the Supreme Court.

It is a sign of how weak the Jackson dissent is that the other progressives haven’t joined it, not even Sonia Sotomayor. It certainly would have been much better if this case had been decided sooner, but Alito drops a suggestive footnote in his rejoinder to Jackson. He notes that the constitutional question was “argued and conferenced nearly seven months ago.” This implies that the case was effectively decided right after oral arguments in October of last year, and that the dissenters slow-walked it.

Now, Jackson wants more delay -- it serves the partisan interests of Democrats to preserve unconstitutional race-based congressional districts as long as possible.

The reaction to Louisiana v. Callais has been so incandescent on the Left because it believes that unless black voters have black representatives, they are disenfranchised. But this is not how representative democracy works. Were white voters in Georgia disenfranchised in the 2022 Senate race when two African-American candidates, Democrat Raphael Warnock and Republican Herschel Walker, ran against each other? Were the voting rights of Christians in New York City crimped in 2025 because a Muslim man won the mayoral election?

All indications are that a commitment to some version of court-packing will be orthodoxy among 2028 Democratic presidential candidates. They will seek to make the highly isolated and wholly unpersuasive Justice Jackson part of a new court majority imposed by political fiat.

UC Davis Men's Golf Trio Earns All-Big West Recognition

UC Davis Athletics
News Release

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - Three UC Davis men's golfers earned 2025-26 All-Big West recognition, the conference announced May 12. Sophomore Lequan Wang was named to the All-Big West Second Team, while juniors Curtis Da Silva and Ryan Firpo each received Honorable Mention.

Wang, a sophomore from San Mateo, CA, posted the lowest scoring average among the Aggies (71.7) across 32 rounds and closed the regular season ranked No. 362 nationally per Clippd, the highest mark on the UC Davis roster. The Aragon High School graduate recorded two top three individual finishes, taking third at the Bridgestone Collegiate Invitational at 15-under 201 (with 19 birdies, second-most in the tournament) and third at the home El Macero Classic at 4-under 212.

Wang closed fall play with a tie for fourth at the Marquette Intercollegiate after a 3-under second-round 69 and opened The Prestige in a tie for second after a 3-under 68 before the third round was canceled by high winds. He played in all 11 stroke-play events for the Aggies during the regular season after earning All-Big West Honorable Mention as a freshman in 2024-25.

Da Silva, a junior from Monterey CA, earned Honorable Mention after competing in all 11 stroke-play events and posting a 72.9 scoring average across 32 rounds. The Robert Louis Stevenson School graduate opened the season with his first career top 10 by finishing 10th at the Ram Masters Invitational at even-par 210, including a 4-under second-round 66 at Fort Collins Country Club. Da Silva fired 70-68-69 at the Amer Ari Invitational at Mauna Lani Resort to take a tie for 38th at 9-under 207 (the only Aggie under par for the event, with three sub-par rounds) and closed the regular season with a 14th-place finish at 1-under 215 at the 2026 Big West Men's Golf Championship at La Quinta Country Club, one of just two Aggies under par at the conference event. He also led UC Davis on Day 1 of The Goodwin at Stanford with a 1-under 69.

Firpo, a junior from Davis, CA, received Honorable Mention in his first season at his hometown school. The Davis Senior High School graduate transferred to UC Davis from Fresno State, where he was named the 2023-24 Mountain West Freshman of the Year as a Bulldog. Firpo led the Aggies at the home El Macero Classic with a tie for 30th at 7-over 223, the same event at which he posted a sixth-place finish as a Fresno State freshman in 2024. He paced UC

Davis at the Windon Memorial Classic with a tie for 55th and an even-par 72 in the final round, opened the spring with a 6-under 66 in round one of the Amer Ari Invitational, and closed at a tie for 35th at the R.E. Lamkin Invitational with a final-round 72 across 10 starts and 28 rounds.

Long Beach State's Alejandro de Castro Piera was named the conference's Golfer of the Year and Cal Poly freshman Rafael Bobo-Lloret was tabbed Freshman of the Year. Long Beach State's Rob Murray earned Coach of the Year honors after leading the 49ers to a record-setting Big West Championship at La Quinta Country Club. Long Beach State placed five golfers on the All-Big West First Team, joined by UC San Diego's Davis McDowell.

The trio of selections capped a 2025-26 campaign that featured the program's first individual victory since 2023, sophomore Louis Grizot's Silver Title at the Gene Miranda Falcon Invitational, and a 3.43 team GPA in the Winter 2026 academic quarter that set a UC Davis men's golf program record and stood as the highest among all UC Davis men's programs. ★

Beavers Run Out of Gas, Fall to Feather River

The 2026 season has come to a close as the American River College baseball team lost in the regional championship game to Feather Rier 19-8 on May 3 in Quincy. Photo courtesy of American River College

News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The 2026 season has come to a close as the American River College baseball team lost in the regional championship game to Feather River 19-8 on May 3 in Quincy. After putting a thumping on the Golden Eagles in the first game, then falling 4-2 in the second game, everything was on the line that morning.

The game was moved up to 10 a.m. to try and beat an incoming thunderstorm. After the Beavers failed to score in the top of the first, Feather River wasted no time jumping on freshman RHP Ayden Dringenberg (Oakmont), who had thrown three innings on Friday to secure the win over Monterey Peninsula College. The Golden Eagles got three runs in the first inning, then one in the second.

The Beavers came back with three runs in the third inning, with 2B Lance Sabatke (River City) driving in a run with a single to center. But the ARC pitchers just couldn't keep Feather River off the board, as the Golden Eagles scored in six of their eight innings at bat, with all but the second inning being multiple run innings. After ARC closed the gap to 4-3, FRC scored four in the third and two in the fourth to go up 10-3.

The Beavers answered back with a run thanks to an RBI double by Sabatke. RHP Nathan Gahn (Bear Creek) held Feather River scoreless in the fifth and the Beavers got two runs in the top of the sixth to make the score 10-6. But Feather River just kept adding on and got the two runs back in the bottom of the sixth. In the seventh ARC clawed back, scoring a pair of runs to make the score 12-8 thanks to a sacrifice fly by 3B Luke Haney (Oak Ridge) and an RBI single by SS Bryce Sabatke (River City). The Beavers threatened in the eighth with runners at first and second with one out but 1B Jose Vega (Highlands) hit into an inning ending double play to squash the threat. It was one of two double plays the Beavers hit into on the day. With the game still within reach going into the bottom of the eight Feather River put the game away for good, scoring seven runs to make the final score 19-8.

The American River College baseball staff would like to thank everyone who supported the team this season and we are looking forward to January and the start of the 2027 season. And a big congratulations to the players on the 2026 team for a fine season, and to the sophomores who will be moving on...thank you for your dedication and hard work. Once a Beaver, always a Beaver! ★

Murillo Sixth Addition to Men's Soccer Roster

Sacramento State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Sacramento State head men's soccer coach Michael Linenberger added a sixth commitment for the 2026 campaign, welcoming local product James Murillo to the roster in time for the upcoming campaign.

"We are excited to add James to our roster," Linenberger said. "We work hard to keep good local talent at home, and James has had a lot of college success already. We expect him to challenge for a starting role in our back line this coming fall."

A native of Elk Grove, CA, Murillo joins the Hornets' sideline after prepping at Elk Grove HS and spending last season at nearby Folsom Lake

College as a center back for the Falcons. In his first collegiate campaign, he was named the team's Defensive Player of the Year, added Big 8 Conference First Team honors, and was selected to the California Community College Athletic Association's all-regional squad.

He appeared in 21 matches as a sophomore at Folsom Lake, helping lead the Falcons to a conference title with an 8-1-1 record (13-6-2 overall) and adding his first career goal — and game-winning score — in a 1-0 victory over Cosumnes River College on Oct. 7. That helped his case for Big 8 Conference Player of the Month honors.

As a true freshman in 2024, he started 17 matches and appeared in 1,453 minutes at Jessup

University, attempting one shot.

Prior to his time at Jessup, Murillo competed with Sacramento United SC from the U9 all the way up to the U19 level, earning a selection to the MLS NEXT All-Star game. He also competed with the Sacramento Gold semi-pro club in the NPSL and with FC Folsom in the UPSL, helping the latter to a spot in the national finals.

Murillo is the latest addition to the Sacramento State roster for 2026, joining previous commitments from defender Mateus Romualdo (Snow College), midfielder Henry Hedden (Monte Vista HS), goalkeeper AJ Bengds (UNC Asheville), forward Jakub Kozlowski (Palomar College) and defender Cameron Martino (Clovis East HS). ★
