Indomitable. The fall of a nesting tree, then the loss of two hatchling eaglets spurs an American River bald eagle couple to regroup and rebuild for the future.

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - For the bald eagle family I have been documenting for a decade, America's big anniversary year has been traumatic. Yet, like the nation they symbolize, Mama and Papa Bald have soared above tragedy.

I first discovered the couple in 2016. The Balds' presence on the American River was the nearest to Sacramento in recorded history for their species, so they caused a regional sensation.

From below a leaning bluff tree I watched their nest take shape. The massive eyrie became a riverside landmark. Over 10 seasons, 19 eaglets would take flight from this pine.

Hauling lumber and grasses from across the American River in spring, the bald eagles build and abandon two eyries before settling on a more secluded nesting tree by summer.

Success contributed to the eyrie's downfall. With each storm, the old tree bent further. Its roots loosened by rain and branches whipping, a gigantic sodden nest was a final sentence. Just after New Year, Mama and Papa clung to a neighboring tree and witnessed their world - as it finally cracked and tumbled.

Though unharmed, the couple faced a huge challenge. The 2026 breeding season was starting; their ten-year nursery had to be quickly replaced.

Locations in their territory were limited. A rare tree can support a cart-wheel-sized nest that weighs up to a ton. After several false starts, the Balds settled on another bluff-side pine.

Keep Your Pets Safe This Fourth of July

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - For many people, the Fourth of July is a time to celebrate with family, friends and fireworks. For pets, it's often one of the scariest nights of the year.

Every year, animal shelters see a sharp increase in lost pets as frightened dogs and cats panic at the sound of fireworks, escape yards, slip out open doors or bolt from leashes. The good news? A few simple steps can help keep your pets safe.

Keep pets indoors before celebrations begin and create a safe, quiet space with their favorite bed, toys and water. Closing windows, curtains and playing calming music or the TV can help drown out loud noises.

Double-check identification. Make sure your pet is wearing a collar with current ID tags, and if they're microchipped, verify that your contact information is up to date. A microchip is one of the best ways to help your pet find their way home.

If your pet becomes anxious during fireworks, talk to your veterinarian before the holiday about medications or other options that can help reduce stress. Take dogs for a walk earlier in the day before fireworks begin, keep them on a secure leash and leave them home during fireworks shows and crowded celebrations.

Watch the doors. Guests coming and going can create opportunities for pets to slip outside. Never leave pets in the yard during fireworks, even if it's fenced.

To help reunite lost pets with their families, Sacramento County's Bradshaw Animal Shelter is waiving owner redemption fees from June 27 through July 11. The fee waiver applies to all redeemable animals except those involved in ongoing investigations or animals that have been confiscated or placed under quarantine.

If your pet goes missing, don't wait. Visit Bradshaw Animal Shelter at 3839 Bradshaw Road as soon as possible. The shelter is open Tuesday, Thursday, Continued on page 9

A dubious choice. The site was overlooked by a public trail and, as the miracle of construction began, the eyrie became a tourist spot. Ignoring streams of observers and desperate to breed, the eagles delivered talon-loads of lumber.

Two weeks later than in previous years, Mama and Papa produced eggs. Seven weeks of incubation began.

Eaglets number 22 and 23 hatched in early April. Two bobbing heads were soon visible. That was all we would see of the kids. On a cold May afternoon, with no parent feeding or warming the vulnerable fluffballs, a friend and I concluded the nest no longer contained living offspring.

The dismal parents sat in near darkness below. By the next day, they had abandoned this ill-fated eyrie.

Nature can seem cruel: infant mortality is common among wild animals. But our national bird is a resilient creature. The species regenerated from near extinction after the 1970s. Our parents were now hauling lumber to new locations. Though it seemed late in the season for another clutch, their nesting drive was undiminished.

Brief bliss in the 2026 nursery. The bald eagles' 22nd and 23rd eaglets would both perish from causes unknown.

Perhaps desperate after back-to-back tragedies, they made desperate decisions. I found them furiously working on nest #3 above a boat-ramp parking area. The phenomenon of giant raptors carrying branches is hard to miss; gaping crowds were already assembling. After a week and ton of hauling, the couple abandoned another ill-considered site.

Weeks later, I spotted winged industry a mile downstream. At last, the Balds had found a more concealed tree near abundant fishing waters. This home is now solidly established. As always, in ten years of nest-watching, I have not identified the new location.

For now, it's an empty nest. But the Balds face the future undaunted. They exist to be free, to be happy – and to provide future generations to do the same.

Like the nation their species has represented for 250 years, Mama and Papa have eagle eyes on the future. God Bless these beautiful American River parents. And God Bless America! ★

Legislators Honor Nature Center

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Effie Yeaw Nature Center supporters recently gathered for cake and congratulations to mark the facility's 50th anniversary. The June 18 celebration included presentations from Senator Roger Niello, Assemblyman Josh Hoover and County Supervisor Rich Desmond.

Desmond recalled growing up just streets from Ancil Hoffman Park, where the center is located. "Coming here was a huge part of my childhood," he said.

"Adventures in the Effie Yeaw Preserve gave me, my friends – and three generations of my family – valuable experiences with nature. I hope families will have the same opportunities for at least another 50 years."

Named for Carmichael teacher and conservationist Effie Yeaw, the center is a treasured Sacramento County resource. Nature-viewing experiences abound in its 100-acre park, visited by almost 100,000 people annually.

The center's educational programs are subsidized by American River Natural History Association fundraising. Public donations – and helpful dispensations from Sacramento County – keep the center, its programs and park operating.

"It's a place of wonder in our community," American River Natural History Association President Greg Dewey told supporters. "And with the community's support, we'll have many more years of wonder ahead."

'Garden of Beauty' Reimagines Fashion and Body Types

Story and photos by Khushi Salgia

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - "Think of our world as a magnificent garden ... with a multitude of unique and gorgeous flowers ... all individual but beautiful in their own way."

This is the philosophy that guides Jill Widmann, creator and owner of the original Garden of Beauty. Widmann unveiled a new kind of body-typing system at a fashion show titled "Creativity, Beauty, & Compassion," held June 27 at Sacramento Fine Arts Center.

"I wanted women to feel beautiful just as they are," said Widmann.

While clothing comes in various sizes, they are all the same shape. Widmann noticed that most retailers don't account for the different body types that women have. As a result, the clothes don't fit as well as they could, even if they are the right size. The idea is for clothes to be created for the body rather than people trying to change their body to fit into their clothes.

"A size two and a size 22 could still be the same shape," said Karen Howk, a friend of Widmann's who participated in the fashion show. "There is no need for women to try to attain a shape or size they are not."

Widmann's mother was a model in the 1940s, which sparked Widmann's interest in fashion from a young age. One day, she went shopping with friends and that night she dreamt up the whole concept. For the past 20 years she has been working on a sizing guide that rejects traditional industry terms.

Widmann noted that classic shape-identifying terms such as "pear" or "hourglass" can carry a "demeaning" subtext for women. Furthermore, she pointed out that traditional body-typing charts

The models, including creator Jill Widmann (third from the left) take a picture together after the Garden of Beauty fashion show.

Ericka Carvin, Widmann's friend who gave a speech at the beginning and walked in the show, carried an Angel Heart.

Allie Claire, Widmann's ex-sister-in-law, walked in the fashion show holding a Blue Bird. "It's a labor of love," she said of Widmann's project.

shapes or food comparisons, Garden of Beauty encourages women to find their corresponding flower, using clothing as a guide to balance and enhance natural attributes.

The new framework maps traditional silhouettes to elegant floral counterparts, including Guinevere

(Rectangle) for those whose hips, bust and shoulders are close to the same size with a less-defined waistline; Angel Heart (Hourglass) for figures with a well-defined waist, where the hips, bust and shoulders are closely balanced; Yellow Bell (Triangle) for shapes where the hips are larger than the bust or shoulders; Blue Bird (Diamond) for profiles where the waistline is larger than the hips, bust or shoulders; and Tiger Lily (Inverted Triangle) for figures where the hips are smaller than the bust or shoulders.

The fashion show brought this supportive philosophy to life using real women wearing clothing from their personal wardrobes, showcasing how standard apparel can be customized to honor unique individual frames. As they walked down the runway, they held the corresponding flower to indicate their body shape.

"It's the start of something wonderful for the fashion industry," said Allie Claire, who walked in the fashion show.

Widmann stated that this shaping guide has garnered interest from retailers such as Bloomingdale's and Macy's, and she is hoping to foster a collaboration that offers various shapes of clothing. Her current project is to license the system and put her custom floral tags directly onto clothing retail racks worldwide.

"It's the very first of its kind," said Ericka Carvin, Widmann's friend who walked in the fashion show. "No fitting system has ever come from a place of beauty. It makes shopping easier for women."

As the fashion industry slowly tilts toward inclusivity, Widmann's approach offers a refreshing, gentle path forward. After all, as her philosophy reminds us: "Flowers don't compete; they grow just as they are, where they are." ★

Exclusive Company: The Medal of Honor

By Sal Arrigo, Jr.

The Medal of Honor is the United States' highest award for military valor in action.....a distinguished award presented only to the deserving; the Medal tells a story of its own. – Congressional Medal of Honor Society

I volunteer at the Charles H. Coolidge Medal of Honor Heritage Center in Chattanooga, Tennessee, the birthplace of the Medal of Honor. There are two other Medal of Honor Museums in the United States: Arlington, Texas and Charleston, South Carolina.

What got me interested in volunteering was to honor my dad, Sal Sr., who served in World War II, and to continue my interest in learning more about the military personnel and the stories that are attached to each veteran at the center. There are stories about individuals and caring for those around them. The stories are not about war, but about character.

To give some context to this story, there have been approximately 41 million men and women who have served in the United States Armed Forces. Presently, 3,555 Medals of Honor have been awarded, with nineteen individuals receiving the award twice. There are 65 living Recipients.

As I guide visitors throughout the Center, people are interested in knowing why Chattanooga is the birthplace of the Medal of Honor. Well, during the Civil War in 1862, a group of mainly Union soldiers that eventually became known as "Andrews' Raiders" pulled off a daring heist of a train known as "The General" from a Confederate base near Atlanta, Georgia. Chattanooga is called the "birthplace of the Medal of Honor" because the first medals awarded in 1863 were to six members of Andrews' Raiders; other medals were awarded for Civil War actions in and around the city.

In the state of California, there have been 138 Medal of Honor Recipients. As I learned more of the information presented at the Medal of Honor Center in Chattanooga, I found that one of the notable Recipients there is Maximo Yabes, who was born in Lodi, California in 1932.

According to his son, Greg Filter, 1st Sergeant Yabes was "all military." "Dad was compassionate and that's what he was all about." Greg noted that to get the Medal of Honor, a person had to have compassion and to care about other soldiers first; Medal of Honor Recipients share six common traits – commitment, courage, citizenship, integrity, patriotism and sacrifice. He emphasized his point by mentioning his dad "jumped into a river to save a friend." He was "just that kind of guy," Greg continued.

When 1st Sergeant Yabes entered service, the United States was already involved in the Vietnam War. A member of Company A, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry, 25th Infantry Division,

1st Sergeant Yabes Medal of Honor Action date was February 26, 1967. Greg was a high school senior when word came his dad had been killed in action.

The citation for 1st Sergeant Maximo Yabes reads as follows:

For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty. First Sgt. Yabes distinguished himself with Company A, which was providing security for a land-clearing operation. Early in the morning the company suddenly came under intense automatic-weapons and mortar fire followed by a battalion-sized assault from three sides. Penetrating the defensive perimeter, the enemy advanced on the company command post bunker. The command post received increasingly heavy fire and was in danger of being overwhelmed. When several enemy grenades landed within the command post, 1st Sgt. Yabes shouted a warning and used his body as a shield to protect others in the bunker. Although painfully wounded by numerous grenade fragments, and despite the vicious enemy fire on the bunker, he remained there to provide covering fire and enable the others in the command group to relocate. When the command group had reached a new position, 1st Sgt. Yabes moved through a withering hail of enemy fire to another bunker 50 meters away. There he secured a grenade launcher from a fallen comrade and fired point-blank into the attacking Viet Cong, stopping further penetration of the perimeter. Noting two wounded men helpless in the fire-swept area, he moved them to a safer position where they could be given medical treatment. He resumed his accurate and effective fire, killing several enemy soldiers and forcing others to withdraw from the vicinity of the command post. As the battle continued, he observed an enemy machine gun within the perimeter which threatened the whole position. On his own, he dashed across the exposed area, assaulted the machine gun, killed the crew, destroyed the weapon, and fell mortally wounded. First

Sgt. Yabes' valiant and selfless actions saved the lives of many of his fellow soldiers and inspired his comrades to effectively repel the enemy assault. His extraordinary courage, and intrepidity at the cost of his life are in the highest military traditions and reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of his country.

I encourage individuals to research on their own to discover the sacrifices that have been made by our armed forces personnel and their families and come to appreciate what makes our military second to none.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF STEPHANIE KAY WATSON
CASE NO. 26PR001446

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of Stephanie Kay Watson.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by James J. Espinoza, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting James J. Espinoza be appointed as personal representative(s) to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows July 28, 2026, 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129; Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

Declaration of Independence

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, —That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

For Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences:

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

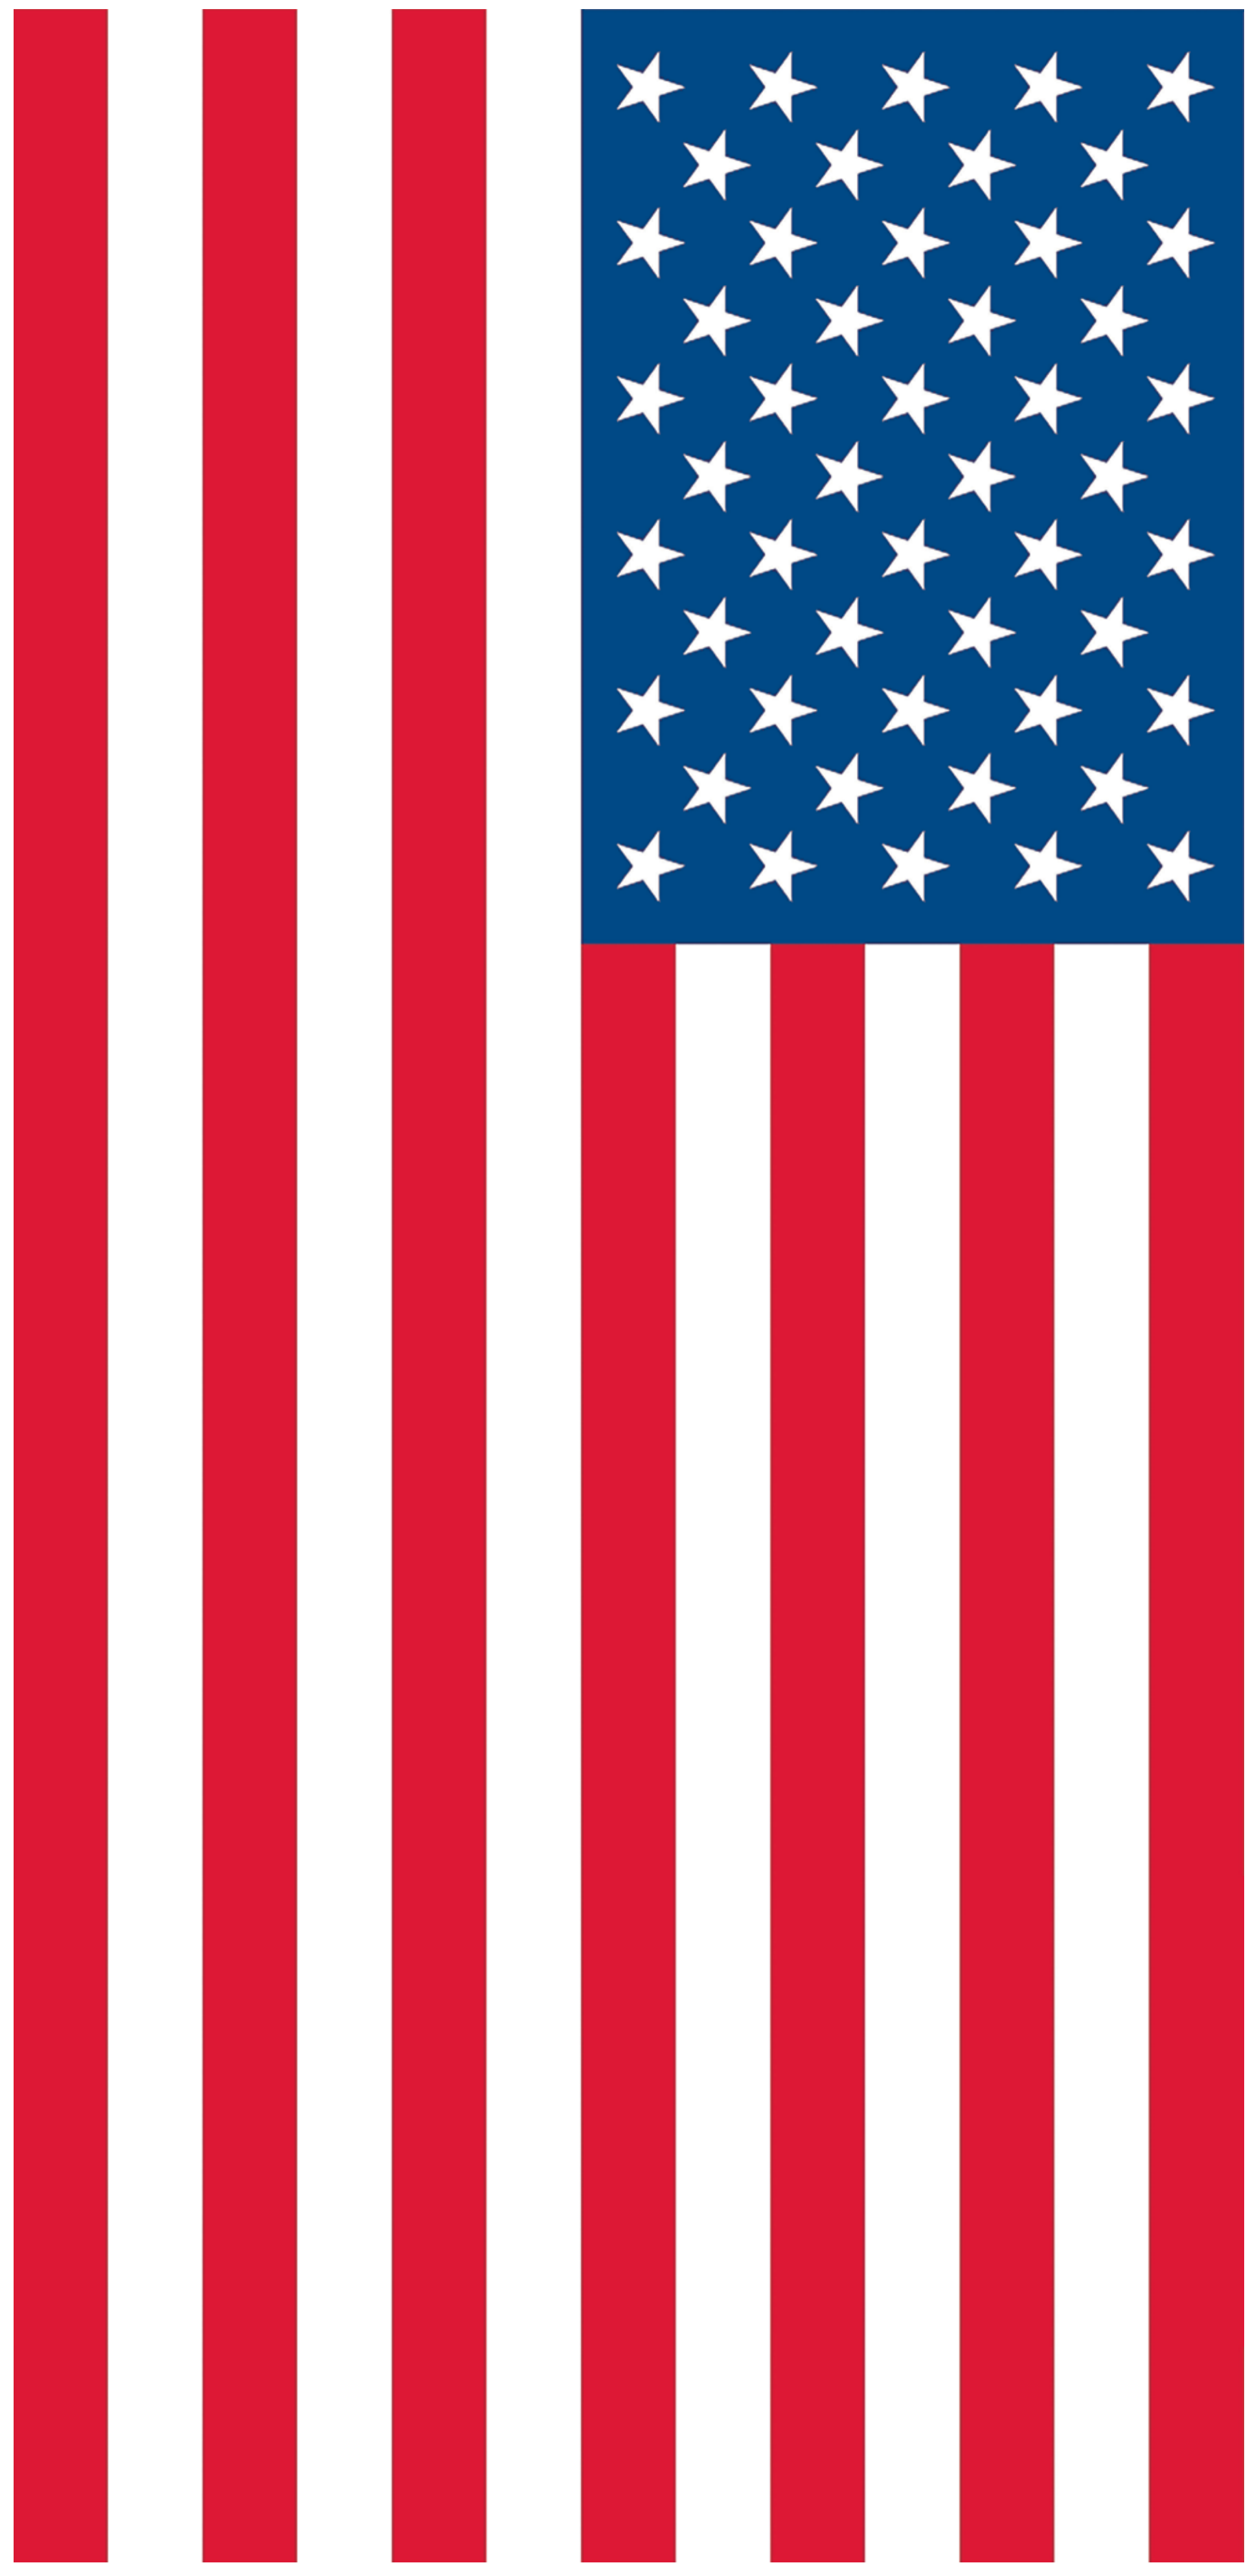

He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our Brittish brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.
