'Get Cheeky' and Stay Sweet

Story and photos
by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG)
- My cheeks were flushed. It started as an ordinary day, just an ordinary news assignment.

I was to meet a representative of the Get Cheeky Police Department and meet with a representative of the Organized Crumbs Division. The alleged crimes: "felony snack and run, aggravated craving, premeditated dessert consumption and organized crumb distribution."

I read the witness statement.

"At approximately 7:42 pm, witnesses reported a fresh batch emerging from the oven. Within minutes, multiple victims admitted they "only planned to eat one." The suspects vanished shortly thereafter."

The case was filed by C. Bakewell.

I accepted a black rectangular box from the "Syndicate," complete with a confidential dossier case file inside and soon began my investigation.

At 5 inches and weighing in at more than eight ounces, I was told that Get Cheeky cookies don't tend to stay in custody for very long before they're gobbled up and then disappear.

The dossier file was filled with six "Red Flag" known troublemakers, elements of the chocolate gang which I was warned to approach with extreme caution.

I was told by my source that the box contains "pure chaos, unreal flavor, zero self-control and a reason to smile."

I also kept a close eye on six "Sweet Talkers" who were exceptionally smooth operators.

And I couldn't ignore the "Usual Suspects," six classic cookie flavors with long rap sheets.

Would I be tripped up by

Sacramento Selected as New Sample Area for the Consumer Price Index

United States
Department of Labor
News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)
- The United States Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) will begin collecting data for the Consumer Price Index (CPI) in the Sacramento area in October.

According to Regional Commissioner Chris Rosenlund the communities of El Dorado, Placer, Sacramento and Yolo Counties make up one of six new areas in which CPI data will be collected beginning this year, the first addition of new areas to the CPI sample since its 2018 revision.

Data collected in the Sacramento area will be included in the following geographic area indexes: U.S. City Average, West Region, West Size Class B/C and Pacific Division.

The Consumer Price Index is one of the nation's most important economic indicators. It is a principal gauge of inflation used widely in the formulation and evaluation of economic policy; adjusting cost of living payments (COLA) under many government programs including payments to Social Security beneficiaries, retired military and federal civil service employees and survivors; adjusting agreements including rentals/leases, collective bargaining and wages and pensions.

It is a measure of the average change in prices paid by urban consumers for a fixed market basket of goods and services. It is an estimate based on a group of representative prices paid for items including food, clothing, shelter, fuels, transportation, medical services and other goods and services people buy for day-to-day living.

The Consumer Price Index periodically updates the geographic areas across the country in which prices are collected. The last time the areas were updated was in 2018 based on the 2010 Census of Population. The new design reflects shifts in the U.S. population based on the 2020 Decennial Census. During this time, 14 new areas will be added and work in 14

Community Observes National Night Out

Story and photos
by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Neighborhoods throughout the city of Citrus Heights came together Tuesday, Aug. 4 for National Night Out.

CHPD Police Chief Alex Turcotte and Citrus Heights Mayor Mari-Jane Lopez Taff enjoyed the music of the Citrus Heights Community Marching Band and a refreshing snow cone in the back patio area of the Foundation Christian Church on Wonder Street, celebrating the strong sense of community which makes the city of Citrus Heights a special place to live.

"We want to extend our sincere appreciation to everyone who participated in this year's National Night Out," CHPD wrote on a social media post after the event.

"National Night Out (NNO) is more than just a neighborhood gathering — it's an opportunity to strengthen relationships, build trust and work together to keep our community safe. These meaningful interactions reflect the Citrus Heights Police Department's commitment to our core fundamental of Community-Oriented Policing."

National Night Out was introduced in August of 1984 through an already established network of law enforcement agencies, neighborhood watch groups, civic groups, state and regional crime prevention associations, and volunteers across the nation as an annual community-building event to promote and build police-community six “Scene Stealers” who were certainly attention getters?

Anything could happen and the cookie crumbs could lead just about anywhere. And If I wasn’t careful the “evidence” would soon be all over my face.

Lisa Gschweng, the “top cookie” at Get Cheeky, a new home-based bakery in Orangevale said new suspects arrive weekly, and some don’t stick around for long.

Her signature, giant over-the-top cookies, apparel, and collectible “merch” feature a rotating lineup of suspects every week available for local pickup in Orangevale.

Several hundred cookies into her caper, Gschweng is preparing for a grand opening launch across the communities of Orangevale, Fair Oaks and Citrus Heights.

Gschweng left an executive position in an area non-profit sector last year and decided to follow her passion to create her own custom cookie start up.

In time, she obtained necessary license as a home-based, cottage kitchen and began testing recipes. Cookies are made from a mix of low-gluten all-purpose flour and bread flour. All Get Cheeky Cookies are baked without regret and made with dangerous levels of love, she said.

She also cautions customers with food allergies that her cottage kitchen handles wheat, dairy, eggs, soy, peanuts, tree nuts and coconut.

“It took time in research and development to refine the recipe for each cookie and its finished look,” she said.

The crime-themed marketing program is a collaborative effort with her husband Shane and inspired by her son who is a police officer.

One by one, each suspect cookie recipe which was developed in Gschweng’s home kitchen and added to Get Cheeky’s classified flavor files developed a rap sheet and a back story.

Get Cheeky aren’t just cookies. “It’s a varied lineup of suspects with very distinct personalities and questionable judgment,” Gschweng explained.

“Captain Chaos”, the suspected cookie ringleader, best known for red hot cinnamon heat, tart blue raspberry stripes, and smooth cream cheese glaze has his own sticker and merchandise.

So too does “Road Rage”, a rich dark chocolate suspect with almonds and marshmallow that is well known to be a troublemaker.

Twenty-seven different cookie flavors have been developed so far, and more seasonal varieties are planned, she said.

Cookies can be ordered in groups of two, four and six. Delivery is free within 15 miles of Orangevale.

Sudden side effects of eating a Get Cheeky Cookie could include sudden happiness, cheeky behavior and poor decisions, she warned.

I took a second look at the classified flavor files. They were a crumbly bunch I’d love to get my fingers on.

Maybe “Birthday Suit,” tasting of vanilla-almond cake flavor with cake crunch and a “Nut Job”, known to feature peanut butter, peanuts and toffee had already made their getaway.

Perhaps they were hanging out with “Dirty Doodle,” caught red-handed in an alluring whiff of Espresso, cream cheese flavor and chocolate drizzle “Chunky Cheeks” with chocolate, walnuts, pretzels, and butterscotch chips couldn’t get very far so long as “Chunky Dunker” made with a mix of Espresso, malt balls, biscotti and Graham crackers planned their getaway.

Today, I lowered my defenses and curled up next to one of “Granny’s Cheeks” – known to lower anyone’s defenses with the home style flavors of apple pie, streusel and apple drizzle.

My resistance was rapidly crumbling and next time I’d have to take the heat of a “Hot Mess,” a Cheeky cookie built like cornbread, who is known to behave like trouble.

I’m lucky my suspect today wasn’t just “Hot and Bothered,” especially known for raising temperatures everywhere it goes.

A thick mango-pineapple cheeky loaded with tropical fruit and chamoy, crowned with a glowing jewel of mango-pineapple chamoy at its center just might have raised my blood pressure a bit more than I can handle.

The greater Orangevale, Fair Oaks and Citrus Heights community is invited to join the Cheeky community for new flavor drops, merchandise and exclusive content at getcheekycookies.com. ★ partnerships and neighborhood camaraderie.

Neighborhoods typically host block parties, festivals, parades, cookouts and various other community events with safety demonstrations, seminars, youth events and visits from police emergency personnel.

The first annual National Night Out involved 2.5 million neighbors across 400 communities in 23 states.

In Citrus Heights,

multiple National Night Out (NNO) events were held including Foundation Christian Church at Wonder Street, sponsored by CHASEN, which represents neighborhood areas 7, 8 and 9 in the city.

Participating sponsors included Leatherby’s Family Ice Cream, the Galaxy Game Café which provided family games at Foundation Christian Church, and Grocery Outlet.

Activities included indoor and outdoor games and activities, a jump house for kids and a performance from the Citrus Heights Community Marching Band. Hot dogs, cotton candy and snow cones were also provided.

Neighborhood Areas 2 and 6 hosted their third annual National Night Out event at Ascension Lutheran Church at 7607 Garden Gate Drive with games for all ages, face painting, music and family fun.

Sylvan Old Auburn Road neighborhood Area 10 (SOAR) partnered with the members of American Legion Post 637 and the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) for their National Night Out event at the Sylvan Community Center.

Citrus Heights Police Activities League (PAL) also partnered with Sunrise Point Apartments to host its National Night Out event at the apartment complex, with the goal of encouraging community and connection with law enforcement.

“We believe that strong partnerships with our residents are the foundation of a safer, stronger community,” wrote CHPD in a social media post following the event.

CHPD extended its thanks to all of the neighborhood hosts, volunteers and residents who opened their streets, parks and homes to its officers during the event.

“We appreciate the warm welcome and the opportunity to spend the evening with you. We look forward to continuing these conversations and seeing everyone again next year.”

Participating sponsors included Leatherby’s Family Ice Cream, the Galaxy Game Café which provided family games at Foundation Christian Church, and Grocery Outlet. ★

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 8.125%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal or property evaluation, which typically range from $100 to $1,000. This cost will be disclosed in your commitment letter and paid at loan closing. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $525 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Back to School, Ready to Serve

MariJane Lopez Taff
By MariJane Lopez Taff
Mayor,
City of Citrus Heights

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - As Citrus Heights students head back to school, it is a timely reminder that one of the most important ways we can serve the next generation is by listening to them.

Earlier this year, the City partnered with San Juan Unified School District to survey students in grades 6 through 12. We wanted to learn what helps them feel connected to their community, what prevents them from participating and where they see opportunities to make Citrus Heights even better.

We distributed 2,500 survey invitations across six local schools, and one-third of students responded. Their feedback offered valuable insight into what matters most to our young people.

Students told us they want more safe and welcoming places to gather, affordable activities designed for teens and cleaner, well-maintained public spaces. They also want better information about programs and events, greater support for their well-being and more opportunities to share their ideas. Cost and transportation were among the most common barriers to participating, and schools emerged as one of the best places to connect students with community opportunities.

To make the survey a little more fun, we promised ice cream parties to the grade levels with the highest participation. Congratulations to the sixth- and seventh-grade students at Kingswood K-8 and Sylvan Middle School! Thank you to every student who participated and to the administrators, teachers and San Juan Unified staff who helped us reach them.

Listening is an important act of service, but what we do with that information matters most.

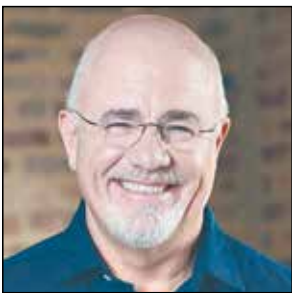

One next step is the City's new Youth Advisory Commission for students in grades 8 through 12. The commission will give young people an ongoing opportunity to advise City leaders, develop leadership skills and serve their community. It will also help reinforce an important message: young people do not have to wait until adulthood to make a difference. For more information or to help a student apply, visit www.citrusheights.net/youthadvisorycommission.

The survey results also highlight opportunities where residents, schools, nonprofits and businesses to step forward. That might mean volunteering with a youth-serving organization, mentoring or coaching a student, sponsoring an activity, helping address a barrier to participation or simply connecting young people with opportunities already available.

If these results spark an idea for a program, partnership or volunteer effort, I would like to hear from you. Share your idea with me at mlopeztaff@citrusheights.net. The City can help bring the right people together, and the strongest solutions will come from a community ready to listen, collaborate and serve.

As a new school year begins, let's show Citrus Heights students that their voices matter and that their community is ready to help them thrive. ★

Dave Ramsey

Dear Dave,

I've spent most of my marriage not being involved in our family finances. To be honest, I've not been a very good husband. After being introduced to your show and your books by a friend, I realized how irresponsible I've been. When I talked to my wife about it and apologized, I heard for the first time that we have about $100,000 in debt, plus $55,000 in debt on a new car and motorcycle I did know about. Of course, we also have a mortgage on our home. She apologized for making a mess of things, but I know it wasn't all her fault. She hadn't been sneaking around spending and taking out debt, she just made mistakes and was afraid to tell me. Together, we make about $150,000 a year. Do you have any advice for us?

– Calab

Dear Caleb,

Brother, I am so proud of you. You made some mistakes, sure. But now you've made the decision to man up. And that's a huge step in the right direction for you and your marriage.

To me, what you described is a lot different than her lying and hiding stuff. The truth is you weren't plugged in. Maybe she wasn't doing a great job, but then, she didn't have anyone to talk to about it, did she? Things got worse, and she probably felt ashamed about how ugly it got and didn't want to tell anyone.

Now you're at the point where you've got to look at all this, and figure out how to fix it with a $150,000 income. It's going to mean beans and rice, rice and beans. It's going to mean a scorched-earth lifestyle and living on a budget, which also means you're not going out to eat, and you're not going on vacations.

I'd sell the car and the motorcycle. Get into a couple of very basic, inexpensive cars, and spend about two years being crazy intense to pay off everything but your home. You can clean this up, but you're basically going to have no life during that time.

The two of you also have some relationship work to do. It sounds like you've already gotten a good start on that, with you owning your part and her owning hers. The thing is not to point fingers. From this point forward you need to always sit down together, and make all your decisions—financial and otherwise—together. I want you to hug on each other a lot, too.

If you're both willing, you can heal the math problem, the debt problem and the marriage problem all at the same time. God bless you both!

– Dave

CARE Program Teacher Lisa Saenz Named SCOE Teacher of the Year

Sacramento County Office of Education News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Teachers play a vital role in helping students learn, grow and thrive. Through expertise, creativity, resilience and compassion, they create safe and inclusive learning environments where students feel connected, valued and empowered to succeed.

Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) teachers often serve students with diverse and specialized needs, including students who have experienced challenges in traditional educational settings. The annual SCOE Teacher of the Year Program recognizes educators whose skill, dedication and professionalism make a meaningful and lasting difference in students’ lives.

Celebrating SCOE’s 2027 Teacher of the Year

As SCOE begins a new school year, it is fitting to recognize an educator who represents the dedication, compassion and commitment SCOE teachers bring to students each day.

Following a competitive application and interview process, a selection panel chose Lisa Saenz in late May as the SCOE 2027 Teacher of the Year. Saenz is an alternative education teacher for SCOE’s CARE Intervention Program at W. E. Mitchell Middle School.

Saenz is a dedicated, compassionate and accomplished educator whose work exemplifies SCOE’s commitment to supporting students with diverse needs. Her previous work in the juvenile justice system shaped her belief in education’s power to change lives. Seeing daily opportunities to reach incarcerated youth inspired her to become a teacher and help students beyond the walls of the juvenile justice system.

“My motivation is to challenge my students to do their best, to see the good, and to never give up,” Saenz said. “My desire to help teach future citizens of the community is my passion.”

Saenz creates a safe, structured and relationship-centered classroom grounded in clear routines, consistent expectations and positive reinforcement. She builds a sense of family in her classroom, so students feel respected, valued and motivated to learn.

Drawing on her special education background, Saenz uses individualized support, collaboration and project-based learning to engage students with different strengths and needs. She helps students recognize their abilities, build confidence and experience academic and personal success.

The selection panel also recognized Saenz’s professionalism, composure and leadership. During the 2025–26 school year, she served as an administration designee, expanding her ability to support students throughout the school community. In that role, she consistently demonstrated positive energy, sound judgment and a deep commitment to student success.

Education and Experience

Saenz began her education career in 2012 as a special education teacher at Capital Academy. She joined SCOE’s CARE Intervention Program in 2017.

She earned a bachelor’s degree in psychology and an Education Specialist Credential from Sacramento State and a master’s degree in educational leadership from Concordia University. She also completed the SCOE Leadership Institute and earned a Preliminary Administrative Services Credential in 2018.

Her previous honors include SCOE Employee of the Month recognition and the Above and Beyond Principal’s Award in May 2026.

Saenz credits her young daughter with inspiring her each day. Outside the classroom, she enjoys traveling, attending live sporting events, trying new restaurants, and dancing and singing with her daughter.

Saenz will represent SCOE in the Sacramento County Teacher of the Year competition.

Celebrating Sacramento County’s 2027 District Teachers of the Year

Congratulations to Lisa Saenz and all sixteen 2027 District Teachers of the Year from across Sacramento County who represent charter schools and the 13 local school districts. The teachers will be recognized at an annual ceremony being held later this month, where the two Sacramento County Teachers of the Year 2027 will be announced. ★

Shaping the Future of Commercial Corridors

“Our commercial corridors are where people shop, eat, work and do business every day,” said Crystal Bethke, director of Sacramento County’s Office of Economic Development. Photo courtesy of Sacramento County

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County has released a Request for Proposals (RFP) for an Investment and Revitalization Strategy that will deliver an actionable plan to guide future investment in commercial corridors throughout the unincorporated County.

Interested applicants should review the RFP and submission requirements at: procurement.opengov.com/portal/saccounty/projects/283816

“Our commercial corridors are where people shop, eat, work and do business

every day,” said Crystal Bethke, director of Sacramento County’s Office of Economic Development. “We want to understand what each area needs to attract more investment and create places that better serve the people and businesses who rely on them.”

The effort is led by county’s Office of Economic Development in partnership with the Department of Community Development. It will create a practical roadmap to identify redevelopment opportunities, prioritize public and private investment, and recommend specific actions that support stronger neighborhood business districts, housing opportunities where appropriate and long-term economic growth.

“Revitalizing our commercial corridors is about creating communities that are resilient, connected and built for the future,” said Troy Givans, Sacramento County’s community development director. “This effort will help us shape places that support housing, local businesses and public investment while ensuring redevelopment reflects the unique needs and identity of each corridor.”

The selected consultant will evaluate 15 commercial corridors, assess market conditions and redevelopment potential, identify priority opportunity sites and their highest and best uses, recommend policy and infrastructure improvements and develop implementation plans for pilot corridors. The strategy will build on previous county planning efforts and focus on market-driven actions that are realistic and reflect the opportunities and needs of each corridor.

Consultant proposals are due by Sept. 4. The county anticipates beginning the project later this year, following evaluation and approval by the Board of Supervisors. ★

Sacramento Superior Court Expands eCourt with Launch of Criminal Case Access

Superior Court of California News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Superior Court announced Aug. 3 the launch of criminal case information on its eCourt platform, marking another milestone in the court’s efforts to improve access to court information.

As of Aug. 10, criminal case information will be available through eCourt, the court’s electronic case management system developed by Journal Technologies. The implementation replaces the court’s Public Case Access System, which has supported case management for many years.

“The launch of criminal case information on eCourt is the result of years of planning, collaboration, and dedication by court staff and our justice partners,” said Court Executive Officer Kelly Sullivan. “This milestone represents an effort that will streamline court operations and management of criminal case information.”

The court first implemented eCourt in May 2023 with the launch of civil and probate case information. Small claims and unlawful detainer case information were added in June 2024, and Juvenile case information followed in July 2024. The addition of criminal case information represents the latest phase of the court’s transition to a newer, unified electronic case management system.

Users will be able to search for criminal case information in eCourt using several search options, including a party’s first and last name, last name and first initial, or case number. Available case information includes case numbers, hearing dates and calendar information, such as upcoming court appearances. The portal will also enable the electronic submission of some documents in criminal cases.

Individuals seeking to view publicly available criminal case information may use public kiosks on the second floor of the Tani G. Cantil-Sakauye Courthouse. Legacy paper case files that have not yet been digitized will remain available for in-person review upon request, subject to record availability.

“The court is continually looking for ways to improve the experience of those who interact with our justice system while preserving the protections required for confidential and sensitive information,” said Sullivan. “The addition of criminal case information to eCourt provides the public, attorneys and justice partners with a more efficient way to access important case information and reflects our commitment to a modern and accessible court system.” ★

No Kid Hungry Urges Families to Apply for SUN Bucks

No Kid Hungry News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Don’t miss out! California’s Summer EBT program, known as SUN Bucks, is back. This summer food program provides families $120 per eligible child in grocery benefits when school is out for summer and children do not have access to school meals.

While most children who qualify are automatically enrolled to receive SUN Bucks grocery benefits, some children will need to apply by the Aug. 31 deadline.

Parents and guardians whose children did not yet receive a 2026 SUN Bucks card in the mail can check their child’s eligibility by visiting www.summerebt.org/states/california.

To apply, parents and guardians can simply ask their child’s school for a Universal Benefits Application (UBA). Complete and return the form to their child’s school by the Aug. 31 deadline. The form will be evaluated to determine if their child is eligible for SUN Bucks.

“SUN Bucks helps connect kids with important nutrition, so they can return to school happy, healthy and ready to learn,” said Kathy Saile, director of No Kid Hungry California. “We’re thankful for the many state and community partners who have worked hard to sustain and promote SUN Bucks this summer. It is important that families know about this opportunity and apply by August 31st.”

It’s also important for families to use SUN Bucks benefits before they expire. Benefits expire 122 days after they are issued. Any unspent benefits will expire after this time and cannot be reloaded.

Additional information about the SUN Bucks program, including eligibility criteria and frequently asked questions, can be found at cdss.ca.gov/sun-bucks. Families can also call the SUN Bucks helpline at 877-328-9677. Live agents are available Monday through Friday, 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. ★

Rate the Referees

By V.G. Harris

With the upcoming season looming less than three months away, my thoughts turn to the state of the league as it relates to NBA officiating.

Ironically, the NBA decided to release the best and the worst ratings for NBA referees for the first time recently and they broke it down into three categories. Three tiers from excellent being tier one, good or solid representing tier two, and finally needs improvement in tier three.

Although I don't often write about the officiating because it does little good, I have long believed the NCAA has somehow ferreted out a better class of officials than the NBA currently enjoys. I don't believe the NBA officials are sordid or lacking in officiating acumen as much as I simply understand that no two officials are ever going to be the same.

Today's officials are employed year-round, and at times I wonder what training classes are you attending, because it often appears the crowd gets the call right more than the officials do.

Obviously, the NBA realized they had a problem, or coaches challenges would not have been implemented in 2019-20. Did it make a difference? Only to the extent that games were won and lost because of a coach's ability to question a call made by a referee.

I heartily applaud the NBA's decision to implement this critical element to ensure a fairer outcome, but I'm all for taking it to the next level. For my money, as long as a coach wins a challenge that coach should continue to have a challenge available to him. Simply being given a number of challenges that runs out and potentially leaves that team wanting during crunch time, makes no sense when the object is simply to get it right.

So, with the release of this critical information what did it reveal?

411 NBA players from all 30 teams participated in the voting or analysis of the current NBA referees, and a total of 20 referees found themselves in the bottom category.

You may or may not find that acceptable, but I do not. That number represents nearly 30% of the referees in the NBA and that number is far too high for me.

The fact the NBA saw fit to finally release the ratings of their current referees speaks volumes, and it tells me the commissioner's office recognizes a problem.

I've already cited one potential remedy and there are certainly more, so let's not let any grass grow under our feet Adam Sliver, and start making some cogent tweaks to the existing system.

On a sad note, I would be remiss if I didn't mention the passing of basketball legend Don Nelson who at one time was the winningest basketball coach in NBA history. Currently ranked second all-time with 1,335 wins, Don Nelson was a basketball maverick in a good way and was responsible for the first point forward as it relates to running an unconventional offense.

Steph Curry cites Nelson as one of the key factors in him being drafted by the Golden State Warriors, and although Curry played just one season for the legendary coach, Don Nelson made an indelible mark on Curry that he never forgot.

Always an entertaining interview Nelson would undoubtedly have some pointed thoughts on the current state of affairs with NBA refereeing and was an ardent supporter of the value of free throw shooting.

In 150 playoff games as a player, Nelson shot 50% from the field and 82% from the line.

At one time tormented by his inability to shoot free throws at a high percentage, Nelson pioneered the one-handed shot-put version that propelled his career and made him an asset at the line as opposed to a liability.

Rest in peace Don Nelson and thank you for the many years of competitive greatness as you won five NBA championships with the Boston Celtics.

His No. 19 jersey was retired by the Celtics, and although he was never inducted by the hall-of-fame as a player, the Celtics acknowledged his contributions with the retiring of his jersey.

Nelson would reach the Hall of Fame as a coach inductee in 2012, and it was so well deserved.

Would that the Sacramento Kings could have this intrepid inventor back for just a day to give some guidance to a young squad in need.

All the best Kings fans!

All the best!

Pension Boosts for California Police, Firefighters Could Spur Increases for Other Workers

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

It may be just a coincidence, but when California's public employee pension system touted very high earnings on its investments last month, it was a political windfall for unions seeking to increase retirement benefits.

They could argue that the California Public Employees Retirement System's report of a 14.8% gain during the 2025-26 fiscal year indicated that California could afford to boost pensions for police and firefighters with little or no impact on taxpayers.

Conversely, the CalPERS report was a setback for local governments that oppose the pension boost, contending it would open the door to higher pensions for other categories of public workers and would exacerbate budget shortfalls.

Opponents of the pension increase proposed in Assembly Bill 1383 appear to face an uphill battle. The legislation passed the Assembly with an overwhelming bipartisan vote prior to the Legislature's summer recess and could gain Senate approval before adjournment in a few weeks.

The situation is similar to what happened 27 years ago, shortly after Gray Davis was inaugurated as governor. Davis had survived a bruising primary battle in 1998 against two wealthy, self-financed opponents and a tough duel with Republican Attorney General Dan Lungren, thanks largely to big donations from public employee unions.

Davis repaid his political debt to the unions by sponsoring two benefit increases, one in unemployment benefits, the other in pensions. He and the unions contended the pension boost could be covered without new taxes because CalPERS said as much.

However, investment earnings cratered during the Great Recession a few years later. Local governments struggled to pay the increased contributions that law requires them to make when pension fund investments falter.

Local officials argued that the mandatory increases in contributions to cover the pension system's weak earnings were diverting money that otherwise would support vital and popular services, including police and fire protection.

Eventually that led to a major overhaul of pension benefits and the contributions to finance them in 2012 — changes that AB 1383 would partially undo. Among other things, the reforms didn't affect pensions of current retirees or employees, but reduced them for future hires.

The 2012 reforms would, it was believed, slow the increase in pension costs as workers retired and replacements were hired with lower pension guarantees. However, the impacts of the Davis-era increases continued to affect local budgets.

It was common for California cities to pay 50 cents into the pension fund for every dollar in salary for their police officers and only slightly less for firefighters. Lodi's city manager at the time, Steve Schwabauer, told CalPERS trustees at a meeting, "I have the unfortunate obligation to tell you that Lodi is on a slow, inexorable slide toward insolvency if you maintain your present course."

Three California cities — Vallejo, Stockton and San Bernardino — declared bankruptcy, with fast-rising pension costs as major factors. During Stockton's bankruptcy, the presiding federal judge, Christopher Klein, declared the city could reduce pension benefits to improve its financial position, touching off a brief but fiery debate. However, none of the three cities acted on Klein's advice.

Back to AB 1383. Sweetening the pensions of public safety employees would increase costs for the state and local governments by $4.8 billion, an analysis by CalPERS actuaries estimates, with contributions by employers rising by $233 million a year.

That's a hefty number. The true impact of passing AB 1383 could be much higher, because once the pension limits on police and firefighters hired since 2012 are breached, unions representing other categories of workers will demand parity. And a Legislature dominated by union-friendly Democrats will be hard-pressed to refuse.

Social Security Matters

Is the Medicare Part B Premium a Percentage of our Social Security Amount?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I have a simple question: Is the amount we pay for Medicare Part B premium a percent of our Social Security amount we receive? Signed: Curious

Dear Curious: Your Medicare Part B premium is not based on a percentage of your monthly Social Security benefit amount. Medicare Part B premiums are set in October of each year by CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services) and are based upon anticipated total costs of the Medicare program in the forthcoming year. Generally speaking, Medicare Part B enrollee premiums are expected to offset about 25% of CMS' anticipated total Medicare Part B costs; the rest is borne by the Federal Government. So, when CMS estimates Medicare program costs for the upcoming year, they also look at the number of anticipated Part B enrollees. They then divide 25% of total anticipated Part B program costs by the number of expected Part B enrollees, resulting in the "standard" Medicare Part B premium for next year. For 2026, the standard Part B premium amount is $202.90. The standard premium for 2027 will be announced in October 2026 and will likely be different.

It's important to understand also that not everyone pays the "standard" Part B premium. Some lower income seniors may pay less because of the so-called "hold harmless provision," and some higher income folks may pay more than the "standard" monthly Part B premium because of a provision called "IRMAA."

The "hold harmless provision" says that monthly Social Security benefits cannot decrease as a result of a Medicare premium increase, so if the annual SS COLA (cost of living adjustment) is insufficient to offset any increase to the standard Part B premium, then the SS beneficiary may pay a smaller Part B premium amount so that their SS benefit doesn't decrease (note there are exceptions to this rule).

Conversely, those with a higher "provisional income" (an IRS definition), may pay more than the standard Medicare Part B premium. That's because of a provision known as "IRMAA" (Income-Related Monthly Adjustment Amount), which adds a supplemental amount on top of the standard Medicare Part B premium. IRMAA supplemental amounts are determined using a sliding scale to define the required higher Part B premium for each income level category, and IRMAA will cause the Part B premium to be more than the standard premium amount. For those with exceptionally high incomes, the Part B premium can be as much as $690 per month.

FYI, income reported to the IRS two years ago is used to determine if an individual is subject to IRMAA for the forthcoming year. The reason for this is timing: when next year's Part B premium is determined in October of each current year, the IRS has processed all tax returns for the preceding year but doesn't yet have individual income for the current year. Thus, they must use a person's income from October of the preceding year to determine who will pay the standard Part B premium next year, and who will pay a higher IRMAA amount.

And just to complete this picture, you should be aware that IRMAA also applies to Medicare Part D premiums. And that means that those with higher incomes who are affected by IRMAA for Part B will also pay a higher Medicare Part D premium. (Medicare Part D is private insurance coverage for prescription drugs). But none of this is related to your Social Security benefit amount.

An Iran war that was supposed to be brief, and then was supposed to be over, is imposing an increasing price on Donald Trump's presidency.

We've seen a second term of a Republican administration go this way before. There are distinct echoes of George W. Bush's Iraq War -- the conflict that Trump has long excoriated -- in the president's predicament.

Now, the Iran War is different from Iraq. There is no ground invasion, no regime change, no occupation, no counterinsurgency. The casualties aren't close to the same scale, and Donald Trump has been fighting Iran for months, whereas George W. Bush was embroiled in Iraq for years (and so were his successors).

Yet, the political trajectory looks similar. Then, as now, an unpopular conflict is putting downward pressure on a Republican president's approval rating.

Mainstream pollsters routinely have Trump's approval rating below 40%, and some put it below 35%; Fox News has him at 39%, while CNN (34%) and AP (33%) are lower. At this juncture of Bush's second term, his average approval rating was a roughly comparable 38%, although he had further to fall as the war continued and the financial crisis hit.

If the Iran War is not exacting nearly the same price in blood and treasure as the Iraq War, it is inflicting a direct economic cost on Americans that wasn't present during the Iraq war.

The Iran War is Eating Trump's Presidency

It was often said of violent clashes in the streets of the U.S. in the 1960s, "The Vietnam War has come home." Well, the Iran War came home the first time the average price per gallon of gasoline went above $4. Trump would have much more leeway to engage in a protracted operation to bring Iran to heel if the public could, in effect, forget about the war for a while, but there's a reminder every day of what's happening in the Strait of Hormuz on gas prices. These issues are related. Trump wants his presidency to matter. So, rather than being content with doing whatever he could at the margins to lower prices, he went for big, legacy-defining initiatives -- tariffs and the Iran War -- that raised prices. In so doing, he forfeited his signature issue of economic stewardship. In the latest Fox News poll, 33% approve of his handling of the economy and 67% disapprove.

When the memorandum of understanding with Iran was signed, Trump boasted about how, by reopening the strait, it would avoid greater economic distress; he said he didn't want to be another Herbert Hoover. Now, the strait is basically closed again. Absent another deal, he's faced with the choice of escalation or an ongoing low-level conflict, neither of which is going to be palatable to the public.

The CNN poll found that nearly three-quarters of Americans think Trump hasn't paid enough attention to the country's most pressing problems. The fact is that Iran wasn't a priority for the public and there was no attempt by the White House to make it one until after it had already launched the war.

Just as Bush's success in toppling the Taliban created the predicate for the Iraq War, Trump's stunning capture of Nicolas Maduro made it easier to believe that the Iran war would be a cakewalk. The idealistic establishment Republican and the "America First" populist both got lured into overestimating the efficacy of American military power.

We still don't know how the Iran war will end. Perhaps Trump will manage a satisfactory conclusion, and he has more room to bounce back up again politically than Bush did after years of the Iraq War. Still, the next Republican president would be well served to be more prudent and mindful of worst-case scenarios when launching major military operations than either of his two, otherwise very different, GOP predecessors.

Sacramento Selected as New Sample Area for the Consumer Price Index

current areas will be discontinued, and the counties covered in other areas may change as well based on updated information from the Office of Management and Budget.

Employees from the CPI will make personal visits to explain the survey to retail establishments selected from surveys conducted that asked local residents where they bought various goods and services. They will also visit housing units chosen using statistical methods to represent the local housing market. The interviews are brief and no one will be asked to fill out any forms. Data collected from businesses and households by BLS are held in strict confidence and used for statistical purposes only. Representatives will carry official identification and are U.S. Department of Labor employees. Local staff members will be part-time Economic Assistants who will be trained to collect data in person and by telephone using portable tablet computers. Job announcements for Economic Assistant positions can be found soon on usajobs.gov. ★

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GARY M. LANDRUM, JR
CASE NO. 26PR002106

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of Gary M. Landrum, Jr.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Juliana Landrum, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Juliana Landrum be appointed as personal representative(s) to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows September 8, 2026, 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129; Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the Attorney for Petitioner is: John R. Quiring, 9296 Madison Avenue, Orangevale, CA 95662; 916-794-6279

CITATION TO APPEAR

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA
THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SACRAMENTO Case

No.: 25ad00212 CITATION REGARDING PETITION TO DECLARE CHILD FREED FROM PARENTAL CUSTODY AND CONTROL [Family Code §§ 7880, 7881] In Re the Matter of The Adoption Petition of CLIFTON VAN BOVEN, Adopting Parent. THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA TO: KEVIN ALAN LELEU (parent of minor child), by order of this court, you are hereby advised that you may appear in the Superior Court of the State of California, County of Sacramento, located at 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826 in Department 124 on September 29, 2026, at 1:30 p.m. to show cause, if you have any reason why the minor child, ISAAC ROBERT BRIGGS, should not be declared free from your custody and control The Petition to declare ISAAC ROBERT BRIGGS free from the custody and control of a parent has been filed for the purpose of freeing the minor child for adoption. The following information concerns rights and procedures that relate to this proceeding for the termination of custody and control of minor child, ISAAC ROBERT BRIGGS, as set forth in Family Code § 7860 et seq.: 1.If you fail to appear at the time and place stated above, the court may terminate your parental rights to custody and control of the child and proceed with the adoption of the child. 2. At the beginning of the proceeding, the court will consider whether the interests of the minor child require the appointment of counsel to represent the child. If the court finds that the child's interests require such protection, the court will appoint counsel for the child, regardless of the child's ability to pay. The child will not be present in court unless the child requests it and the court so orders. 3.You, as the parent, have a right to be represented by counsel. If you appear without counsel and are unable to afford counsel, the court shall, upon your request, appoint counsel to represent you. 4.Private counsel appointed by the court shall receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which shall be determined by the court. The amount so determined shall be paid by the real parties in interest, other than the child, in proportions the court deems just. However, if the court finds that any of the real parties in interest are unable to afford counsel, the amount shall be paid out of the general fund of the county. 5.The court may continue the proceeding for not more than thirty (30) days as necessary to appoint counsel and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case. ## You'll Keep Paying for Wildfires on Your Electric Bill Until California Fixes Its Forests

By Josh Cook

If you live in California, you've probably seen the ads: "Home insurance rates skyrocket." "The FAIR Plan is broken." They urge you to call your legislator and demand a fix. What they don't mention is who paid for them — Pacific Gas & Electric, Southern California Edison and San Diego Gas & Electric shareholders, through a campaign called Wildfire Victims First.

Despite the name, not one wildfire survivors group supports it.

Meanwhile, the Governor's staff has been quietly negotiating a wildfire package with lawmakers' staff. No bill text has been released. The Legislature returned from recess on August 3 and adjourns at the end of the month — the exact window for a "gut-and-amend," where lawmakers strip an existing bill, drop in new language, and fast-track it to get something done.

Eaton Fire survivors and Consumer Watchdog say the package would cap payments for pain and suffering, block insurers from recovering costs from utilities, and limit attorneys' fees, making it harder for survivors to find lawyers. Insurance companies agree — and when insurers and fire victims end up on the same side, that's worth noticing.

Here's the part almost nobody in this fight is discussing: none of it addresses why the fires get so big, and the answer is not just "climate change". That is a cop out for years of systematic mismanagement.

Roughly 46% of California is federally owned — national forests, BLM land, parks, refuges. Much of the state's highest-risk landscape sits on those federal acres. A century of aggressive fire suppression and reduced logging let fuel pile up. Many California forests are far denser today than they were historically, which turns ordinary ignitions into fast-moving infernos. Scientists point to fire exclusion, drought, insect die-off, and a warming climate working together — with excess vegetation driving how these fires behave. Remember, even as our forests burn down, we are importing timber from foreign countries. Bad policy in action.

Fuel loads are measured in tons per acre and vary by forest type. But in overstocked Sierra Nevada forests, they run well above historic levels; they remain a "tinder box". That's why mechanical thinning and prescribed burns are so widely recommended. On another note, properly managed forests also get more water in the streams; more on that in a future column.

The problem is pace and political will power. Fuels accumulate faster than crews can treat them; the idea that logging is a bad thing just won't go away. Tree lovers are loving the forests to death. The Native people actively managed the forests much better than the Federal Government does. Congressional research finds millions of acres still at high hazard, with treatment backlogs growing because new growth outruns current work.

So CA lawmakers continue to argue over who writes the check. Until forests get thinned and maintained, the answer stays the same: you do, every month, on your power bill.
