And Pops Makes Three

SMUD Director Heidi Sanborn and husband Brad have immersed Heidi's octogenarian dad, Dr. Alexander Clark Kahn III, in their lives.

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Wither Heidi or Brad Sanborn goest, Pops goes, too.

Heidi Sanborn is an elected SMUD director; husband Brad Sanborn is a real estate broker and community leader.

The high-profile couple has set an example for elder inclusion. Eight years ago, they brought Heidi's dad to Carmichael from Kalamazoo MI and immersed the 88-year-old in their busy community lives.

Retired scientist and company-owner Dr. Alexander Clark Kahn III has become almost as ubiquitous as his daughter in SMUD's Ward 7. Carmichael Chamber of Commerce members call him 'Pops.'

"If Dad's with us, people flock to him," said Heidi Sanborn (63). "When we're at civic events, I have to move around and meet others. That's when friends give Dad the best chair in the room and sit and talk with him. They bring him food and make sure he's comfortable. He always feels at the center of things. That connection is great for any senior."

Because Heidi Sanborn is often on the road, husband Brad (64) is Pop's frequent minder.

"Dad goes everywhere with me," noted the realtor and Chamber of Commerce director. "He's fun. We watch football together. He loves my cooking. And he enjoys our local restaurants. I just say: Dad, let's do sushi today. And off we go for lunch."

"He's up for anything. He doesn't treat me like an in-law, I feel more like his son."

Pops' big move West was achieved with careful finagling. "My brother Alex and his wife Susan were a great support to dad in Michigan," explained Heidi. "But we all worried about him, living alone in his big house with a staircase. His mobility wasn't good. He'd insist he was fine, but we worried about falls, especially with the ice and snow in winter."

"Eventually, my brother and I exchanged the baton. We agreed I'd look after dad in California."

Dr. Kahn ran a Kalamazoo environmental consultancy with ten employees. "Moving to California meant selling my house and closing down the business," explained the scientist. "It was a big decision."

The move was planned strategically. "Brad and I brought dad out here for increasingly longer stretches," recalled his daughter. "We

New Liquor License Authorizations for Sacramento Region

Alcoholic Beverage Control News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Paul Tupy, director of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC), announced authorization for the issuance of new on-sale general and off-sale general licenses and authorization for the intercounty transfer of on-sale general and off-sale general licenses for the following counties in the Sacramento region: El Dorado, Placer, Sacramento and Yolo.

From Sept. 14 through Sept.

25, applications for new original on-sale general and off-sale general licenses will be accepted at local ABC offices. During the same period, priority applications will be accepted for the intercounty transfer of on-sale general and off-sale general licenses, as authorized.

Only one priority application will be accepted from any one applicant per county for each type of license. A fee of $19,840 is to be paid when filing an application for a new original general license and a fee of $7,515 is to be paid when filing a priority application for the intercounty transfer of a general license. If the number of applicants within a county for a particular type of license/transaction is equal to or less than the number of licenses available, all applicants will be notified that they have 90 days to complete a formal application for their specific premises.

If the department receives more applications than there are licenses available, a virtual drawing will be held. To participate in such a drawing, an applicant must have been a resident of California for at least 90 days prior to the date of the scheduled drawing. Successful drawing participants will be notified that they have 90 days to complete a formal application for their specific premises.

Applicants are encouraged to file their applications early in the filing period to avoid a lengthy wait.

In the coming weeks, additional information and instructions regarding applications for original and intercounty transfer of general licenses will be made available on ABC's website.

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 8.25%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal or property evaluation, which typically range from $100 to $1,000. This cost will be disclosed in your commitment letter and paid at loan closing. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $525 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Income-Qualified Homeowners Among Those Eligible to Access Remaining State Solar and Battery Funds

Haven Energy is helping eligible California homeowners across participating publicly owned utilities access state funding that can cover the cost of home battery systems

Haven Energy, the No. 1 SGIP developer in California, is working to connect income-qualified California homeowners with nearly $8.7 million in remaining state funding that can provide households with home battery systems at no cost.

The funding is part of California's Self-Generation Incentive Program (SGIP) Residential Solar and Storage Equity program, which was created to expand access to solar and battery storage for lower-income households.

Haven Energy News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Haven Energy, the No. 1 SGIP developer in California, is working to connect income-qualified California homeowners with nearly $8.7 million in remaining state funding that can provide households with home battery systems at no cost. Haven has identified the Sacramento area as a key market for the program, with a high concentration of potentially eligible households served by participating public utilities including SMUD.

The funding is part of California's Self-Generation Incentive Program (SGIP) Residential Solar and Storage Equity program, which was created to expand access to solar and battery storage for lower-income households. Haven has already deployed more than 1,000 residential batteries through SGIP, giving the company deep experience helping homeowners navigate the program from application through installation.

Available to customers of participating publicly owned utilities, the program can cover the cost of a home battery system, as well as solar, and includes installation. Eligibility is based on factors including household income – which varies according to county and household size – and utility provider. For single-family homeowners, households earning at or below 80% of Area Median Income may qualify. Homeowners do not need to already have solar panels to participate.

For more information or to determine eligibility, visit havenenergy.com/sgip.

Despite the available funding, awareness remains one of the biggest barriers to participation. Many households that may qualify have never heard of the program or do not know how to navigate the application process.

“For qualifying Sacramento homeowners, the SGIP program can be a gamechanger, offering families access to a home battery system for zero out-of-pocket and opening the door to long-term energy savings and outage protection,” said Vinnie Campo, co-founder and CEO of Haven Energy. “We’ve helped Californians across the state navigate SGIP, and right now we’re actively working to reach as many low-income homeowners as possible, to help them understand what they qualify for, and to submit their applications while funding is still available.”

Haven manages the entire process for participating homeowners, including determining eligibility, submitting applications and program paperwork, coordinating installation and managing the energy system after it is installed.

The benefits extend beyond individual homes. When electricity demand is high, networks of residential batteries can contribute stored energy to the grid, helping utilities manage peak demand and improve grid reliability for entire communities. During an outage, the battery will also provide direct backup electricity to the home.

Haven has built a proven model for expanding access to home energy storage. Since launching in California in 2022, the company has built more than 10 MW of installed battery capacity, with more than 50 MW of additional capacity in development. Haven also works with utilities, nonprofits, and other community partners to aggregate distributed batteries into virtual power plants that can strengthen the grid.

About Haven Energy

Haven is on a mission to transform the electric grid through the deployment and aggregation of battery storage and solar. Through strategic partnerships with utilities, non-profits, EPCs and government agencies, Haven deploys distributed energy resources at residential and small C&I sites to build virtual power plants (VPPs) at scale. ★

County Superintendent Seeks Viable SCUSD Fiscal Recovery Plan

Sacramento County Office of Education News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools (County Superintendent) sent letters on Aug. 27 to Sacramento City Unified School District (SCUSD) Superintendent Cancy McArn and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond outlining the continued Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) approach to addressing SCUSD's immediate cash needs and ongoing structural deficit.

The letters follow the Aug. 10 decision by the state superintendent and the executive director of the state board of education to deny SCUSD's appeal of the SCOE-appointed fiscal advisor's rescission of the district's memorandum of understanding (MOU) with the Sacramento City Teachers Association (SCTA).

In its letter to SCUSD, the county superintendent states that because the MOU has been rescinded, the district is expected to cancel its request for CalPERS to transfer funds from the district's health benefit trust and return any transferred funds to the trust. It also encouraged the district to amend the MOU by removing parts which could add costs while retaining provisions that produce savings.

SCUSD currently projects a $221.8 million unrestricted general fund deficit and a negative $283.6 million unrestricted general fund balance in the current fiscal year. In the 2027-28 fiscal year, district projections show the deficit growing to $226.9 million and the unrestricted general fund balance falling to negative $510.5 million. In the letter, it is emphasized that a short-term infusion of cash, without sufficient ongoing savings, would postpone rather than solve the district's financial crisis.

“The issue is not simply whether the district can get through the next few months, but whether it can remain financially healthy in the years ahead,” Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools Dave Gordon said. “We will continue working cooperatively with SCUSD and the Fiscal Crisis and Management Team (FCMAT) on any viable plan that provides sufficient cash to address the immediate crisis and ongoing savings to put the district on a sustainable financial path.”

SCUSD's board of education and superintendent remain responsible for the district's fiscal condition and for making the decisions needed to return the district to fiscal health. The county superintendent's objective is to help SCUSD make the decisions necessary to restore its financial health while protecting students, families, employees and educational programs. If the district runs out of cash, it will be unable to pay its employees and vendors, which would endanger its schools and educational programs.

SCOE has provided fiscal, educational program and human resources experts, as well as an executive coach, to support the district. Also, Superintendent Dave Gordon and Associate Superintendent Nick Schweizer meet biweekly, and the fiscal advisor meets more often with district leaders to monitor cash flow, provide feedback on budgets, proposed savings, and the costs and impacts of labor agreements.

Gordon reiterated, “Our priority remains helping SCUSD protect students and educational programs and fully restore its financial health so that it is able to remain locally controlled.”

Homeless Services: Progress, Challenges and the Work Ahead

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - On Tuesday, Aug. 25, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors heard a comprehensive and meaningful update on the outcomes of key homeless shelters and service programs from fiscal year 25/26. Emily Halcon, the Director of Homeless Services and Housing (DHS) for Sacramento County, provided a historical lookback at Board policy investment and direction as far back as 2016 that has set investment priorities, project focus and the strategic housing first model staff have focused on the last decade.

The Board also heard from Director of Finance, Chad Rinde, on the process of a forensic audit on countywide spending on homelessness. This audit helps to determine if adequate internal controls exist to evaluate fiscal compliance with contracts and adhere to state and federal standards and ensure that departments are good stewards of public funds.

With the creation of the Department of Homeless Service and Housing in 2023, the County has increased its programs serving the homeless community, increased its full-time employees managing homeless services and the number of people served annually in County-funded programs.

In this coming fiscal year, DHS will contract more than $65 million dollars into community-based organizations to operate shelters, outreach and programs that are serving the homeless community in Sacramento County. Many of those partners were in chambers – supporting the work already being done. Several stood at the lectern to provide positive feedback on the County's investment and partnerships into the community and how valuable the County's leadership on regional collaboration has been as the homelessness has grown in the last decade.

Data pulled from the Homeless Management Information System (HMIS) from DHS funded homeless programs and select Behavioral Health Services (BHS) and Department of Child, Family, and Adult Services (DCFAS) shelter programs shows that in Fiscal Year 2025–26, 6,662 unduplicated people were served across outreach, shelter, rehousing, prevention, and transitional housing programs. Despite significant housing barriers, 43% of participants who exited programs transitioned to permanent housing. Prevention and rehousing programs achieved particularly strong permanent housing exit rates of 77% and 78%, respectively.

These outcomes are especially meaningful given the significant vulnerabilities of the people served. Among participant heads of household, 61% were identified as highly vulnerable, meaning they self-reported at least four County-identified vulnerability factors. In addition, 50% of participants reported having no income, while an additional 36% reported annual income below $20,000 a year.

The County also continued to make strong use of its shelter resources – with overall utilization for shelters running the full year at approximately 86%.

Perhaps the most compelling testimony was that of the providers and provider staff. The CEOs of Community Health Works, First Step Communities, CityNet and Brilliant Corners each spoke about the meaningful work their organizations do, specifically with the County, the populations they serve and the trends and outcomes the work the do in Sacramento in experiencing. The passion they all have for the work, the people they serve and for solutions was evident in their voices and the conviction in which they stood with pride and said, “We stand with the County – we’re here as partners.” ★

The Starting Lineup

By V.G. Harris

The official start of the NBA season is less than 60 days away, so do the Sacramento Kings have any idea what their starting lineup will look like?

After thoroughly disrespecting both Zach Lavine and Domantas Sabonis by constantly telling the listening world that neither of these players can play defense, and attempting to trade both to any team interested, it looks likely that both will be announced in the starting lineup opening night.

I have stated my disgust with the organization’s rhetoric as it relates to what either of these past all stars can’t do, and it’s about time to start beating the drum and telling the Sacramento faithful what they can do.

For starters, both Sabonis and Lavine are talented enough to start on 90% of the NBA teams today, and as for playing defense, it’s high time the coaching staff stood up and took a bow. Defense just doesn’t automatically happen, it has to be taught, and it appears that this coaching staff is short on teachers as to how NBA defense should be played.

The knock on Sabonis is largely without foundation, and although not a rim protector, Sabonis is a more than an adequate defender.

Bottom line is that Lavine has been thrown under the bus and never has Sacramento Kings fans stood for that type of coaching. Time to change the game plan, start appreciating what you have, and start coaching what you want to have.

As for the rest of the starting lineup, it would appear that alongside Sabonis and Lavine will be fifth year starter Keegan Murray, this year’s first round draft choice Darius Acuff Jr., and a player that the Sacramento fan base probably doesn’t recognize. His name is De’Andre Hunter and sadly played in only two games last season, after coming to the Kings by way of the Cleveland Cavaliers. Hunter sustained an eye injury that required surgery and sidelined him for the remainder of the 2025-26 season.

The good news is that Hunter has been reasonably durable over his career and played his first five seasons plus with the Atlanta Hawks. A career 14 per game scorer in the NBA, Hunter was awarded the NABC defensive player of the year in his sophomore season with the Virginia Cavaliers while in college. That bodes well for a Kings team begging for defensive help.

The fourth pick overall in the 2019 draft, Hunter may have slightly underachieved his draft status thus far, but he is no stranger to the starting lineup, and Kings fans won’t get any deer in the headlights looks from newcomer De’Andre Hunter.

If in fact the starting lineup presents itself to be Sabonis, Lavine, Murray, Acuff and Hunter, there remain a couple of significant questions.

Number one can the Kings find a chemistry early with these five players and avoid injuries while they are learning to play together?

Does this coaching staff have the acumen to teach the defensive strategies that they are so good at giving lip service to? So far, I’ve nothing to lead me to believe coach Christie knows how to coach NBA defense but I’m open to being wrong and glad if I am.

Lastly, can the coaching staff develop an aggressive bench? This is not an insignificant thing. First and foremost, know the talent sitting on the bench and develop it!

Play Malik Monk and start giving him the respect he deserves.

After Monk my No. 1 concern is finding minutes for second round draft choice Emanuel Sharpe, who drafted 45th overall was an absolute steal in this year’s draft.

Leaving a stellar college career behind, Sharpe set the record for the Houston Cougar’s in three pointers made and was highly acclaimed for his high intensity defense and attack style offense. Play him!

Find minutes for first round draft choice Alex Karaban. Don’t waste valuable draft choices and send them to the G league.

Don’t look now but Ben Simmons was just in town for a workout, and I for one have absolutely no interest in an injury ridden player with a highly questionable interest in playing basketball. Please, take a pass on this guy and let’s pay more attention to the draft class that just entered the building.

Stay tuned Kings fans because anything can change between now and Oct. 20.

All the best!

California’s Budget Is So Convoluted That Even Experts Are Perplexed at What It Contains

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

There was a time, not too many years ago, when drafting and enacting California’s budgets was a fairly transparent and straightforward process.

The governor and legislators would agree on what revenues the state’s tax systems were likely to produce in the coming year and then dicker over how the money would be spent. There were disagreements, of course, particularly when Republicans had enough legislative seats to have a say in the outcome. But in the main, the voting public would have an understanding, through news coverage, of how their tax dollars were being spent.

It’s difficult to pinpoint exactly when the process became opaque and the budget became a hodgepodge of phantom revenues, accounting gimmicks and off-the-books loans. However, there has been a quantum leap in opacity and complexity during Gavin Newsom’s governorship, a consequence of having one political party so dominant that it’s completely insulated from accountability.

Newsom and legislators can – and do – spend billions of dollars more than revenues cover. They paper over the gaps with what they call “solutions,” then brag that their budgets are balanced.

The 2026-27 budget that was enacted in June, said to be $351.7 billion (plus $188 billion in federal funds), is the latest example. It’s so convoluted that the Legislature’s own budget adviser, Legislative Analyst Gabe Petek, and his staff of fiscal experts, are somewhat perplexed about what Newsom and legislators wrought.

Petek says as much in a new breakdown of the budget. “In most years, we would describe the size of the budget problem (or budget surplus) the Legislature addressed (or allocated) and the mix of choices that make up that total. This year, neither framing fits the budget package as neatly,” Petek says.

He goes on to describe elements of the budget that seem contradictory, such as increasing spending that overshoots historically high revenues and depending on reserves and loans to cover the outgo while also placing more money into a new “surplus holding account.”

Although the budget package includes some traditional budget solutions, “taken altogether, this makes the budget condition difficult to describe concisely,” Petek says. To rationalize the budget’s contents, Petek divides his analysis into “budget choices on both sides of the ledger,” one covering the spending side and the other on how the gap between income and outgo was closed.

Petek calculates that the budget “includes about $14 billion in budget solutions” to close the gap, primarily tapping reserves and borrowing. The loan is accomplished by withholding $3.9 billion in aid to local school systems mandated by the state constitution, money that must be eventually paid.

However, Petek points out that that $14 billion in “solutions” is less than the $18.5 billion operating deficit Newsom’s administration estimates during the fiscal year, thus continuing the deficit spending that has marked all of Newsom’s second term budgets.

They stem from Newsom’s 2022 declaration that the state had a $97.5 surplus, due to mushrooming income tax revenues. That led to a sharp increase in spending, but the surplus turned out to be a mirage and the administration eventually acknowledged it overestimated revenues over four years by $165 billion.

Petek’s analysis notes that the state has not maintained a cumulative account of how much money it owes from five years of covering operational deficits, but his staff has calculated the “wall of debt” at $29.2 billion, including the $3.9 billion in school aid being withheld this year.

A jaundiced view of the ongoing deficits and the debt that’s been amassed to cover them might be that they are Newsom’s training to become president, given the federal governments chronic deficits and its $40 trillion national debt.

Social Security Matters

Will Social Security Run Out of Money Soon?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I’m concerned about Social Security running out of funding, since I rely on it for my income and I’m at an age where my having to go back to work is not an option I can consider. The job market for people my age is slim. I’ve been reading reports and it doesn’t sound reassuring. Your thoughts?
Signed: Concerned Senior

Dear Concerned Senior: Thanks for sharing your concerns. This topic is a fairly complicated one, but I’ll do my best to explain it.

Social Security income (from payroll taxes, interest on reserves, and income tax on SS benefits) has been insufficient to pay 100% of SS benefit obligations since about 2020. Since that time, SS has been drawing money from the Social Security Trust Fund reserves to pay full monthly benefits to everyone. In 2020, there was nearly $3 trillion in SS reserves held in the SS Trust Funds, but as of the end of 2025, those reserves have dwindled to about $2.56 trillion because they are being used to pay full SS benefits to all. Without program reform, the SS trust funds will be fully depleted in 2032, which would result in an across-the-board cut of about 22% to everyone’s monthly SS payment. And that would be devastating to millions of Americans!

However, Congress is acutely aware of this issue; they have been for years but have largely ignored previous warnings. Now, however, those predicted benefit cuts are dangerously close to becoming a reality. As a result, we are beginning to see serious (even bipartisan) discussions in Congress about reforming Social Security to restore it to solvency to avoid future benefit cuts.

For our part, AMAC and the AMAC Foundation have been working on a proposal to restore SS to full solvency for generations, and we have offered our proposal to various Congressional Representatives and to the SSA Commissioner and his executive staff. Our proposal has been well received, and we are very optimistic that Congress will finally take real action to restore SS to solvency to avoid any benefit cuts. Frankly, doing otherwise would amount to political suicide!

At AMAC, we are closely monitoring this situation and are very proactive in Washington, D.C. to ensure that benefits are not cut in 2032, and we will continue our vigorous efforts and our vigilance to avoid Social Security insolvency. We are confident that Congress will act in time to avoid any reduction in SS benefits, and you can stay informed of our efforts by watching our AMAC Social Security information website – www.socialsecurityreport.org.

We have met the enemy -- and it is watching us. There’s a growing backlash against Flock cameras, the automated license plate readers that have become ubiquitous across the country.

The cameras take images of license plates, which are then stored in a searchable database that police departments can query in the course of investigations. Opponents of the cameras consider them an instrument of Big Brother, who’s not only watching, but constantly recording and tracking. Vandals have disabled and stolen the Flock cameras and even shot them. There’s a movement to get jurisdictions to cancel their contracts with Flock (the leading such company, but not the only one), and it has met with some success.

Los Angeles just let its contract with Flock lapse, citing “serious concerns around civil liberties and civil rights issues.” There’s a reason, though, that police departments so rapidly adopted the cameras -- they are an extremely useful investigative tool.

It is certainly true that the technology, like any power we give the police, can be misused. According to The Washington Post, “Authorities have charged or accused at least 50 law-enforcement officers of using license-plate readers for unauthorized purposes, including to stalk their exes.” The Post calls the abuse “rampant,” but 50 documented cases isn’t a large number given the widespread use of these devices: There are 120,000 Flock cameras across the United States scanning license plates 20 billion times a month.

It is understandable that people don’t like the idea that they are, in effect, living in a panopticon. But license plate readers aren’t the only offender. There are all sorts of other surveillance cameras, many of them privately owned and operated, that the police access during investigations. We let our mobile phones and various apps track us all day long. And something like 60 million households have Ring or other security cameras that record what’s happening on their property and often in the immediate surroundings.

The only reliable way to ensure that you aren’t being recorded is to stay inside -- and draw the curtains. Officers who abuse the license-plate readers deserve to be fired and, if appropriate, charged with crimes, which is often what happens. Strict rules around what constitutes a legitimate query of the system and routine audits should make it harder for rogue officers to use the cameras for nefarious purposes.

The police officials who are advocating for Flock aren’t doing it so the cops can track the average person’s trip to the grocery store or yoga studio. The cameras routinely aid in the identification and apprehension of the perpetrators of serious crimes, the location of missing persons and the recovery of stolen cars.

According to the Jacksonville, Florida, sheriff’s office, since 2024, the cameras have “helped solve 15 murders, 17 kidnappings, six forcible sex offenses, nearly 100 shootings and 172 missing-persons cases.”

A website set up by Charles Lehman of the Manhattan Institute is tracking news items about Flock contributing to successful police work. There are such stories every day, all over the country. Two recent entries related the arrest of an armed robbery suspect in Grass Valley, California, and the rescue of two kidnapped teenage girls in Bulloch County, Georgia. After getting a tip, the authorities used Flock to find the suspect in the Brown University shooting last year.

Perhaps these crimes would get solved anyway, but if even a fraction of them didn’t, Flock would be making a meaningful contribution to public safety. It used to be that America had, in effect, ungoverned spaces where malefactors could hide in plain sight. To use an extreme example, the Symbionese Liberation Army operated for a couple of years out of various safe houses in the San Francisco Bay area during the 1970s, something almost unimaginable in our technologically advanced age of constant information sharing.

Rolling back Flock won’t reverse this tectonic change that’s been decades in the making, but it will deny law enforcement a valuable asset.

Finding Capacity and Resilience

Exploring Somatic Therapy and Dream Work with Nicole Lemaster, LFMT, SEP

By Abbey Wicks

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Nicole Lemaster considers herself to be more than just a therapist. She considers herself a healer.

With more than a decade of experience, Lemaster is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist (LMFT) and a Somatic Experiencing Practitioner (SEP).

As a somatic therapist, she takes a body-centered approach in helping clients find relief from trauma stored in the body. Stored trauma might show up as chronic pain, difficulty sleeping or not being able to enjoy the present moment. Her work guides her clients to nervous system regulation and finding a state of homeostasis.

Lemaster’s journey to becoming a somatic therapist stemmed from her own lived trauma. She identifies with the wounded healer archetype, or a person whose personal trauma and pain becomes their source of helping others.

She specializes in patients with PTSD, complex PTSD and shock trauma. Anxiety and depression usually end up in the cluster with those other diagnoses, Lemaster said.

However, this type of therapy can benefit clients who aren’t experiencing these disorders.

“The nervous system work is profound, and it can literally support people who haven’t had these types of shock traumas or complex traumas from their developmental years,” Lemaster said.

Working with nervous systems led Lemaster to start her own dream coaching business, Moonbeam Dream, where she offers sessions such as DreamSphere, a five-week program and Auralis, a nine-week program.

“The same nervous system work that helps you get over symptoms also supports you having the capacity to tolerate visibility or have courage,” Lemaster said.

Lemaster said somatic therapy might be considered by patients who are feeling stuck and not benefiting from traditional talk therapy or continue to engage in patterns or habits that they know are harmful.

“There’s like on lay of guilt and shame for being able to see it, but their system still doesn’t have the capacity to do it different,” Lemaster said this same idea applies to fear around pursuing a dream.

According to an article from

Nicole Lemaster with her book “WTF Am I Even Doing: A Nervous System Workbook To Support Mind Body Alignment.”

Harvard Health, “Typical talk therapies such as CBT engage only the mind, not the body, encouraging people to become aware of disturbing thoughts and behavior patterns and work to change them. But in somatic therapy, the body is the starting point to achieve healing.”

Lemaster explained the survive, even if that is not its true state of homeostasis. This creates tension stored in the body.

Somatic therapy involves showing your nervous system that it can reset, that it is safe.

According to Lemaster, a supported nervous system looks like capacity and resilience. The buzzword concept of being “zenned out” oversimplifies the work that is being done within the nervous system, Lemaster said.

“It is being able to go to that space,” Lemaster said. “But an actual nervous system that is regulated is like ‘Oh, there’s some high charge stress I know how to activate, and after it’s done, I’m able to deactivate.’”

Lemaster explained the process of a somatic therapy session as mirroring back to her clients what she sees in their body language.

“My whole hope is to build safe enough, self-trust, self-love, self-intimacy, self-empowerment and it has nothing to do with me because I’m just mirroring back what your body’s already doing,” Lemaster said. “I’m just helping you know it’s there and trust yourself.”

It’s building a well of resources to pull from and a safe space to pendulate back to. “So often when people are hurting, they can’t locate pleasure as easily or what’s good.”

According to Lemaster, it’s very common for people to experience microdoses of regulation, like taking a deep breath or noticing something beautiful in nature. Somatic therapy can help people become fully conscious of that regulation.

Nervous system regulation plays a significant role in pursuing dreams, something Lemaster realized throughout her work as a therapist.

“To create your dream, you need to be in alignment and authentic and vulnerable,” Lemaster said.

An unregulated nervous system might shut down to keep you safe from experiencing that vulnerability, LeMaster said. Building resilience lends itself to pursuing dreams with courage.

“Because dreams are precious,” Lemaster said.

Lemaster’s book “WTF Am I Even Doing: A Nervous System Workbook To Support Mind Body Alignment” is available on Amazon. She can be found on social media @interconnectedheart and @coleyology. ★

Prop. 5 Gutting a 100-Year-Old Corruption Reform

By Josh Cook

The recall was never meant to hand power to politicians — it was meant to take power away from them and the railroads that controlled them.

California voters wrote the recall into the Constitution in 1911 as part of Hiram Johnson’s Progressive reforms, aimed at breaking the Southern Pacific Railroad’s grip and the machines that treated public office as private property. It passed with 76.8 percent of the vote. The tool has always been used sparingly. Of roughly 180 attempts to recall state officials since 1911, only eleven reached the ballot, and only six succeeded — including Gray Davis in 2003 and Josh Newman in 2018.

Proposition 5 was written by that same Josh Newman, the Democrat voters recalled over a gas-tax vote. That history makes Prop 5 look less like reform and more like payback against a system that held him accountable— Lieutenant Governor Eleni Kounalakis, and the state Democratic Party back it. The case for it seems to be lacking a real reason to act.

Supporters say a crowded replacement field can let someone win with a mere plurality, that the two-question ballot confuses voters, and that recalls invite partisan shortcuts. But a plurality winner is just how multi-candidate races work — the fix isn’t stripping the choice from voters and handing it to succession rules or a later process controlled by the same political class Progressives sought to restrain. Ballot confusion is a design problem, not a reason to erase one of the two core decisions.

Facts matter - with only six successes out of 180 attempts, frivolous recalls aren’t the epidemic supporters claim; running a recall is already its own deterrent. The 2003 Davis recall shows the system working: voters fired a governor and chose his replacement on the same ballot. Prop 5 would have turned that into a vacancy filled by the lieutenant governor — then Democrat Cruz Bustamante — or a separate election under different rules.

The recall exists because voters didn’t trust politicians to police themselves; Prop 5 shifts power back toward those same institutions. Most other states fill vacancies by succession. California chose differently on purpose — to give voters, not the existing order, the last word.

When the painter is bad, you should get to fire him and hire the one you want, not his brother. Vote no on Prop 5. Keep replacements in voters’ hands.

And Pops Makes Three

took him everywhere with us. Soon, our community knew him. By the time he agreed to live with us permanently, he had dozens of friends here.”

In the couple’s two-story home, Dr Kahn has a ground-floor suite and scoots about with the aid of a walker.

“They made me an offer I couldn’t refuse,” beamed the scientist. “A new life, with people I love. It’s the best decision I ever made. My son and his family can visit us from Michigan, any time they like.”

For the Sanborns, Pops is a domestic asset. “He gives good advice,” said Brad Sanborn. “If a disagreement occurs, he never takes sides. He loves us both. He supports our marriage.”

Kahn’s humor is also a balm for a two-profession household. “Dad’s a pun-meister – he makes us laugh,” reported his daughter. “He’s always in a good mood. He says happiness is a choice and he chooses to be happy. He’s showing us how to age gratefully.”

At events casual or formal, Pops is an essential part of the Sanborn entourage. Invitations include him. The senior is generous to causes; he recently donated a mobile phone to replace the Chamber of Commerce’s worn-out model. He’s an easy mark for fundraiser raffle sellers – usually eschewing single tickets to shell out for the whole card.

“Wherever we bring him,” marveled Heidi, “Dad’s immediately surrounded, like he’s holding court. If he doesn’t arrive with us, people want to know where he is.”

The Sanborns consider bringing up Pops a privilege best shared. “They say it takes a village to raise a child” says Heidi Sanborn. “It’s the same with caring for our elders. It takes us all.” ★
