'Harvest Party at Camp Two'

Documentary Explores the History of Yuba City's Punjabi-Sikh Farmworkers

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - A documentary exploring the lives of Punjabi-Sikh farmworkers in Yuba City during the 1980s will screen Friday, Nov. 6 at the Sutter Theater Center for the Arts, followed by a discussion with the filmmakers.

Yuba Sutter Arts & Culture will present "Harvest Party at Camp Two," a 16-minute documentary that examines the experiences of young Punjabi-Sikh farmworkers who spent their days working in peach orchards and their evenings finding ways to socialize despite cultural barriers and discrimination.

Co-directed by Rajan Gill and Reaa Puri, the film focuses on the harvest parties that became a tradition among young farmworkers who could not attend local high school proms and homecoming dances.

The gatherings provided opportunities for young people from different backgrounds to socialize, dance and build friendships while navigating the challenges of growing up in an agricultural community.

The documentary originated with a photograph of Gill's father, Kashmir "Kash" Gill, attending one of the harvest parties. The photograph prompted Gill to investigate stories he had heard about his father's youth and the experiences of Punjabi-Sikh families in Yuba City.

Through archival footage, family photographs, interviews and reenactments, the filmmakers examine the gatherings and the people who attended them.

The documentary features Kash

Gill and Karm Bains, whose experiences reflect the contributions of Punjabi-Sikh families to the region's agricultural industry and community life.

Beyond the harvest parties, the film addresses the challenges young Punjabi-Sikh farmworkers faced, including racism, family responsibilities and the difficulties of balancing cultural expectations with their desire to participate in American teenage traditions.

State Grant
Advances
Olivehurst
Veterans Housing

By Susan Meeker

YUBA COUNTY, CA (MPG) - A $5.6 million state grant is bringing 12 permanent homes for veterans closer to reality in Olivehurst.

Innovation Housing Estates, at 1829 Turpen St., will provide residences for veterans experiencing or at risk of homelessness, along with an on-site manager's unit. Habitat for Humanity Yuba/Sutter will own and operate the property, offering supportive services intended to help residents maintain housing stability, county officials said.

The Yuba County Board of Supervisors approved a funding agreement Oct. 13 after pulling the item from its consent agenda for separate consideration.

Kevin Perkins, assistant director of the county's Community Development and Services Agency, presented the proposal and explained that corrections were needed to the payment schedule. Supervisors approved the agreement with those changes, with one abstention.

The California Department of Housing and Community Development awarded the money through its Homekey+ program following joint applications submitted by the county and Habitat in 2025 and 2026.

Of the $5.6 million, $3.9 million is designated for capital expenses, about $1.4 million for operating costs and $360,000 for veteran-assisted units. County officials said the development will include common areas, furnishings and infrastructure needed to accommodate residents and provide access to services.

Under the arrangement, Habitat will oversee construction by US Off Site and verify that each phase has been completed before paying the contractor. Yuba County will transfer funds as they are received from the state. The non-profit must also submit quarterly progress reports documenting construction milestones, expenditures, cost overruns and delays. County representatives may inspect the site and review financial records to ensure the work follows approved plans, officials said.

The contract establishes requirements for insurance, financial accountability and compliance with Homekey+. It also outlines remedies for violations

Tri-Counties to Celebrate Grand Reopening with Free Community BBQ

by Shamaya Sutton

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - After months of construction and community support, the Tri-Counties Community Center is preparing to unveil its newly renovated exterior with a free community barbecue Saturday, Nov. 7, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The celebration will mark the completion of the first phase of a major renovation project while inviting residents, businesses and community partners to help bring the next phase to life.

Located at 1830 B St. in Marysville, the nonprofit community center has served generations of local residents through recreational activities, educational programs and affordable community events. However, years of deferred maintenance and storm-related damage had threatened the future of the aging facility. Earlier this year, Marysville-based Nor-Cal Siders, led by co-owners Armando Chavez and Victor Ybarra, stepped forward to spearhead an ambitious renovation through its Nor-Cal Step Up community initiative.

“At the end of the day, this is about more than renovating a building,” said Ybarra. “It’s about investing in our community and creating something future generations can enjoy and be proud of.”

The newly completed exterior improvements include a replacement roof, new siding, select exterior doors, ADA-accessible sidewalks and entryways, and updated lighting beneath the building’s outdoor overhang. Now, organizers are inviting the community to see the results firsthand and learn what’s planned for the building’s interior.

Nor-Cal Siders will provide barbecue tacos with toppings during the Nov. 7 celebration, while free hot dogs and hamburgers will also be available. Throughout the afternoon, Workers put the finishing touches on the exterior of the Tri-Counties Community Center in Marysville as part of a major renovation project that includes a new roof, siding and accessible entryways.

The newly renovated exterior of the Tri-Counties Community Center marks the completion of the first phase of improvements. The center will celebrate with a free community barbecue Nov. 7 while seeking support for its next phase of interior renovations.

visitors can enjoy demonstrations from several of the center’s programs, including archery, gymnastics, fencing, improv and roller skating.

Both guided and self-guided tours will offer guests an opportunity to explore the facility and envision its future. Signs created by Sapphire Marketing will help illustrate planned improvements throughout the building, including a new commercial kitchen, a second ballroom and event space, and a more streamlined entrance. The proposed interior improvements are intended not only to modernize the facility but also to create additional revenue opportunities that could help sustain its free and low-cost community programming.

While the exterior renovation represents a significant milestone, organizers emphasize that the project is far from finished. Ybarra, who recently joined the community center’s board of directors, said the project holds both personal and professional significance.

“As one of the co-owners of Nor-Cal Siders alongside my amazing partner, Armando Chavez, we’re proud to contribute to a project that means so much to our community,” Ybarra said. “Now, as a new board member, being involved carries an even greater meaning for me. It’s about having a voice in the center’s future and helping create something that will make a lasting difference.”

Ybarra said he hopes the upcoming barbecue will encourage residents and businesses to recognize the center’s potential and become involved in the next phase of improvements. Fellow new board member Luis Cordero, a local data analyst who also helps lead the center’s improv program, shares that enthusiasm for the facility’s future.

“I’m hoping for this project to be a boost for this center, so the community has a beautiful, fun, and inclusive space for the youth and family to spend their evenings,” Cordero said. “This place has a lot of potential.”

The center is now seeking additional sponsors, donors and community partnerships to support the second phase of construction, which will focus on interior improvements. Beyond renovations, board members are also exploring long-term sustainability measures, including solar power, to help offset the facility’s ongoing operating expenses. The nonprofit is also actively recruiting new board and advisory members interested in helping guide the center’s future and expand its community impact.

The community barbecue is free and open to the public. Businesses and individuals interested in supporting the next phase of renovations can learn more about available sponsorship opportunities at tricmarysville.com/sponsorship-levels. ★

Marysville High Honors Hall of Fame Inductees

Fred Oliver - Business and Professional

Oliver, a decorated Vietnam War veteran and accomplished businessman, was recognized for his professional achievements and commitment to community service. While attending MHS, Oliver served as senior class president, football co-captain and president of the Block M Club. Following graduation, he attended the University of Arizona and later served three years in the U.S. Army, earning a Combat Infantryman Badge and two Bronze Stars with “V” devices for valor.

His subsequent business career included real estate development and property management through Asset Property Group, with ventures ranging from commercial properties and hotels to residential developments and wineries.

Oliver has also devoted time to youth athletics, community organizations and educational causes. In 2023, he received the University of Arizona College of Agriculture and Life Sciences’ Eugene G. Sander Lifetime Achievement Award.

In the induction program, Oliver described his selection as “a humbling honor,” emphasizing the lasting friendships and opportunities he gained at Marysville High School.

played a significant role in local recreation and community events. He founded Music in the Park, which brought weekly concerts to Marysville for a decade, and served as music director of the Marysville Peach Festival for more than 10 years.

He also coached youth baseball for 12 years, served on the Marysville Planning Commission and was elected to the Marysville City Council, where he has served as vice mayor. His community service has included work on recreational facility improvements, support for the Marysville Skate Plaza and involvement in regional public agencies.

According to the induction program, Buttacavoli considers his Hall of Fame recognition among his most meaningful honors, having watched fellow alumni receive the distinction over the years.

Honoring the Past, Inspiring the Future

The evening’s celebration also recognized the next generation of Marysville High School leaders, with eight current students participating in the program. Proceeds from the event benefit the MHS Booster Club, supporting student co-curricular and extracurricular activities.

The Hall of Fame continues to accept nominations recognizing alumni whose professional achievements, service and contributions have brought distinction to Marysville High School.

CNA Training Center Coming to Gridley

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - A new training center in downtown Gridley will soon offer residents an opportunity to enter the healthcare field without paying tuition, while helping two area skilled nursing facilities develop their workforce.

West Harbor Healthcare plans to open the West Harbor Training Center at 891 Hazel St., with its first certified nurse assistant (CNA) class scheduled to begin Jan. 4, 2027. The program will provide classroom instruction, hands-on training and clinical experience for students interested in pursuing healthcare careers.

The center plans to accept approximately 15 students per class and offer four classes annually, with the possibility of a fifth as the program develops. At full capacity, the center could train 60 to 75 students each year.

Mollie Openshaw, a licensed vocational nurse and the center’s co-director and lead CNA instructor, said the program aims to help individuals who might otherwise struggle to afford healthcare training.

“There are people right here in Gridley and the surrounding communities who may have always wanted to work in healthcare but haven’t known where to start or how to afford the training,” Openshaw said. “We want to help open that door.”

The program will provide tuition sponsorship to selected applicants who agree to work at a West Harbor Healthcare facility for 12 months. Students will sign an employment commitment agreement before enrollment.

Openshaw said applicants will receive information about the agreement and any additional expenses, including uniforms, screenings, supplies or certification fees, before committing to the program.

The training center will serve as a workforce development program for Gridley Post Acute in Gridley and Bridgeview Health Care in Yuba City, both operated under West Harbor Healthcare.

Students will complete their clinical training at those facilities, gaining experience assisting residents with daily activities, including meals, dressing, grooming, mobility and personal care.

Openshaw said skilled nursing facilities care for a broader range of patients than many people realize. In addition to elderly residents requiring long-term care, facilities serve younger patients recovering from surgery, accidents and other medical conditions.

“We are actually taking care of a broad group of people,” Openshaw said. “There are some people that are there that call it their home, but also some short stays too.”

The center expects to offer an eight-week training program, pending final approval of its instructional schedule under California Department of Public Health requirements.

Coursework will cover human anatomy, patient rights, personal care, healthcare procedures and the responsibilities of nursing assistants. Students will also learn about different levels of patient care and the roles of other healthcare professionals.

Openshaw said the classroom instruction will help prepare students for their clinical assignments, where they will put those skills into practice while working with residents and nursing staff.

The center will accept applicants from Gridley and surrounding communities, including Oroville, Chico, Paradise, Marysville, Yuba City and Colusa County.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old and meet applicable state requirements.

Previous healthcare experience is not required.

Prospective students will complete an application and interview with Openshaw and representatives from the facilities’ human resources departments. The selection process will consider applicants’ commitment to completing the program and their interest in working for West Harbor Healthcare.

Openshaw said interviews could begin in November, with the center expecting to select its first class by mid-December.

While graduates may pursue employment at Gridley Post Acute or Bridgeview Health Care, opportunities will depend on staffing needs and successful completion of training and certification requirements.

Matt Maylin, administrator of Gridley Post Acute, has supported the development of the training center and its goal of removing financial barriers for people interested in healthcare careers.

Maylin sad the program will give qualified residents an opportunity to receive sponsored training while helping West Harbor Healthcare develop caregivers for its facilities. He also views the center as a way for the organization to contribute to the Gridley community.

For Openshaw, the program represents an opportunity to introduce others to a profession she entered as a teenager.

She began working as a CNA in Chico at age 15, carrying a work permit and gaining experience that would lead to a nursing career spanning more than 45 years.

Openshaw graduated from nursing school in 1989 and has worked in hospitals, infusion services, long-term care, consulting and staff education.

She said her early experience as a nursing assistant continues to influence her approach to teaching.

“It was one of the most rewarding and memorable experiences of my life, and I haven’t forgotten what it feels like to take those first steps,” Openshaw said.

Openshaw said the center is intended for more than recent high school graduates or those beginning their careers. She hopes to reach people looking for a career change, as well as individuals interested in using CNA certification as a starting point for additional healthcare education.

Some students may continue toward nursing or other medical professions, while others may choose to remain CNAs throughout their careers.

The decision to establish the center in downtown Gridley also reflects the organization’s connection to its local facilities.

Openshaw said the Hazel Street location places students within a short distance of Gridley Post Acute, where they will complete some of their clinical training.

She also hopes the center will become a lasting part of the downtown community.

“We chose Gridley just because it’s a perfect fit,” Openshaw said.

The training center’s motto, “Train Here. Work Here. Grow Here,” reflects the organization’s plans to connect education with employment and career development.

Openshaw encouraged interested residents to apply, even if they have never worked in healthcare.

“Don’t be afraid to apply,” she said. “At least, the very least, make a phone call to me or an email to me.”

Applications are available at gridley-postacute.com. Prospective students can contact Openshaw at 530-975-4040 or mopenshaw@westharborhc.com for information about the program and enrollment requirements. ★

This Month In Your Garden

BALD MOUNTAIN NURSERY

6195 BALD MOUNTAIN ROAD • BROWNS VALLEY, CA • 530-743-4856

The weather in October begins consistently cooling for fall, usually, hopefully. Colder nights help the leaves change to fall colors. Days become noticeably shorter, nights are nice and cool. Perhaps there is a little precipitation too. Time will tell, but it definitely truly becomes fall in October.
October is the very best time of the year to plant trees and large shrubs, plus other things. There is a very good, common sense reason for this. We have long, hot summers that warm the soil enough for it to stay warm into early winter. The weather is beginning to cool down so you are not planting into more hot weather, making it easier for the newly planted item to adapt. It is going into its dormant season making the demands on the developing root system much fewer. The deciduous plants take even more strain off the root system by dropping all of their leaves. Roots will continue to grow fairly quickly in the warm soil, slowing down only when the soil becomes cold, and even then will expand slowly. The rain will come to help keep the plant watered, and it can rest all winter and be ready to leaf out (and bloom if it is a flowering tree or plant) in the spring. It will be about a year ahead of any tree or shrub planted in the spring that is trying to establish itself at the same time it is putting on new leaves and possibly flowering plus facing much hotter weather soon. If the summer sun let you know just where a shade (or just decorative) tree is needed in your yard, this is the time to plant it. It also is a good time to choose trees for fall color. If we do not have a cold fall season the fall colors will be less intense, which can be disappointing, but not a reason for not shopping for the right tree. The next year you’ll have a much bigger tree and maybe, with cooperative weather, a much prettier show.

October is also a good time for planting other things. If you plan to do a winter vegetable garden, but haven’t completed it – do it as soon as you can. Winter veggies include cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, kale, Swiss chard, and spinach. Beets, carrots, radishes and turnips can be grown from seeds, as well. Winter annuals can still be planted, as well, but again, try to do it soon. They really need some warm soil to become established before cold weather arrives. Otherwise they may sit there doing little all winter, when you are hoping to enjoy their color, and then perk up and look beautiful as the weather warms up with the coming of spring. You may as well enjoy them winter and spring, so try to get them into the ground soon.
Here are some coming attractions to keep in mind:
... The three times for dormant spraying of fruit trees will soon be here – Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine’s Day. It is a busy time, be sure you have your dormant spray when the time comes.
... Cane berries become available in November.
... Another favorite, Blueberries, usually start arriving in November.
So, give these things some thought. You might want to do some pre-planning if they are of interest.
Bare Root fruit trees will be available in late December to early January.
Remember, fall is the best time for planting trees and shrubs. If you plan to do any fall panting, October is ideal for it.

The Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Books & More will be closed the first week in November and will reopen on November 11. We are looking forward to seeing Tania Rameriz get married in Tuscan, AZ. I sure hope the weather cooperates and we have a good time in the desert. Coming home, we plan to stop in at Borrego Springs for a couple of days. This is one of my favorite desert spots.
We hope many will attend the Yuba Feather Historical Assn. pot luck dinner next week. It will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 28 at 6:00 in the Masonic Lodge in Forbestown. Just going into this old building is interesting. Election of officers will take place. This group manages the museum and more.
We attended the YF Community Services board meeting last week and they are hoping to have a Christmas Walk in the Park on the first weekend in December. It will be the same weekend as the Peddler’s Fair and we are hoping for good weather. This walk will be the first in our area and will highlight the paved mile walking path. It is hoped that several businesses and non-profits in our area will help sponsor this event by offering to light and decorate 50 feet of the path. We have a plan for the 50 feet of Books & More. The plans are being made at this time, so keep tuned for the results. If you are interested in helping or taking part, please stop by Books & More and see how the plans are coming.

Yuba City Creates Public Affairs Director Position

By Susan Meeker

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - Yuba City will establish a new director-level position paying up to $139,800 annually to manage public information and community outreach, including communications during emergencies.
The Yuba City Council approved the Communication and Public Affairs Director position Oct. 6 on the consent calendar without separate discussion, along with several personnel and salary changes.
The position carries an annual salary ranging from $115,020 to $139,800, with an estimated cost of $98,900 for the remainder of the 2026-27 fiscal year, officials said.
Currently, no single city employee is responsible for overseeing public information, media relations, community engagement and social media communications across municipal departments.
The Police and Fire departments maintain their own social media accounts, but those responsibilities fall to employees who also perform other full-time duties. City officials said the lack of a designated public information officer creates challenges when emergencies require coordinated communication with residents, businesses and the news media.
The new director will serve as a central contact for public information, particularly during emergencies when residents need accurate and timely updates, officials said. Responsibilities will also include outreach to local businesses, public education about municipal services, gathering community input on city priorities and informing residents about progress on those initiatives. ★

City officials identified the need to address misinformation and improve public understanding of municipal operations as additional reasons for creating the position.
Human Resources Director Gina Rowland’s department conducted a salary comparison with surrounding jurisdictions before establishing the pay range. The proposed compensation was set approximately 10% below the market average, consistent with the city’s approach to other recently established positions.
The City Manager’s Office expects to cover much of the $98,900 expense through savings from an existing professional services contract for community engagement, officials said.
The department will review its budget at midyear to determine whether additional funding is necessary. If expenses exceed available allocations, City Manager Robert Bendorf would return to the council for a budget adjustment.
The council’s action also included changes to several employee classifications and adjustments required by California’s increasing minimum wage.
Hourly pay for certain part-time recreation employees and reserve police officers will increase from $16.90 to $17.40 beginning Dec. 26, the first day of the pay period that includes Jan. 1, 2027.
Officials said the additional wage expenses will be absorbed within existing departmental budgets. ★

Know Why You Failed

I am a pickleball fan of sorts. I hold a decent rating and am a PPR certified instructor. Right now, I am off the courts for an undetermined amount of time due to a shoulder injury.
Not from pickleball mind you, but more like a “hold my beer, watch this” moment.
Actually, it was a series of stupid endeavors I elected to perform on what was a minor strain that eventually enhanced it to a full thickness tear of a rotator tendon. (Few know my level of commitment).
In any case, at a birthday dinner last week, I was talking to another pickleballer who had just been beaten in a mixed men’s doubles tournament. I asked him how him and his partner had been beaten.
He looked at me oddly and queried what I meant. I simply threw the question right back at him. “How were you beaten?”
It was a straightforward question, so I wondered what he didn’t understand. He looked at me and said something like “they were better than we were”.
I pressed a little harder with a few specific suggestions like, did they serve better, had better soft shots, harder drives or were more athletic.
He gave me some answers but honestly, I never heard them.
At that point I started tripping on how odd this was not knowing exactly HOW they got beat.
It’s an automatic mental progression for me when I am bettered at something. Whether it be in sports, radio, business, or a hundred other things we do in our lives, when I don’t perform as I expected, my mind goes to figuring out what I did wrong or didn’t do right and then specifically break it down to a list of things that need attention.
No matter what one is doing, if you fall short of whatever measuring stick is being used, knowing the exact points of failure is the first step in finding solutions.
I competed in martial arts at the high school and college level.
I lost my share of matches and suffered my share of injuries. The first step in attempting to avoid whatever mistakes or lack of production occurred was to discover the specific techniques that were lacking, what mistakes I had made or just what overall deficiencies such as conditioning that may have hurt my performance.
One thing I didn’t do was to think “oh he was just better than me” and hoped that would help me get better next time.

In everything we do, there is always room for improvement.
Even if successful, we can look to improve. If we fail, it is even more important that we analyze in detail, case by case, event by event, of why we failed and what we need to do to improve.
If in pickleball, perhaps it was lack of movement, popping the ball up, not hitting your marks, not adequately blocking or whatever.
In martial arts, I looked at footwork, blocks, better kicking techniques, avoidance awareness or perhaps my counters were lacking.
In radio or public speaking perhaps it’s too many “uhah”s or pauses, bad pronunciation or speaking too fast.
In business, maybe your pricing is too high, your reaction time too slow, or your marketing lacks effectiveness.
Name a hobby, profession or even a chore like cutting the lawn, and you can find something specific that might need some attention, correction or even elimination.
When I look at a loss or setback that I experience, or even just think I can do better at something, I look for specifics.
What I don’t do are generalizations like “I sucked, it rained, they were better than me”.
Those thoughts do nothing when it comes to me knowing WHAT to do to improve.
I need to pinpoint exactly WHERE I went wrong, what I SHOULD have done, or what happened that I DIDN’T prepare for.
There are lots of people better than me at something, but that thought doesn’t help me get better.
I must first discover WHY they are better than I, why I lost the order, why my song didn’t get chosen or why I didn’t make enough money”.
And doing that requires observation, analysis, researching solutions and usually more hours learning whatever it is one needs to learn to improve.

Yuba College Brings Molière’s ‘The Hypocrite’ to the 1980s

By Shamaya Sutton

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - A charismatic con man, a gullible businessman and two women determined to expose the truth will take center stage when Yuba College Theatre presents Molière’s classic comedy, “The Hypocrite (Tartuffe),” opening Oct. 23.

Directed by professional actor Conrad Cecil, the production transports the 17th-century French satire to the 1980s, offering a fresh perspective on a centuries-old comedy about deception, hypocrisy and misplaced trust. The story follows Orgon, a businessman in a mid-life crisis who falls under the spell of Tartuffe, a con man posing as a devoutly religious man. As Tartuffe manipulates his way into the household and threatens the family’s future, Orgon’s wife, Elmire, and the outspoken maid Dorine work to expose his deception before it’s too late.

“I chose to stage Molière’s Tartuffe (The Hypocrite) because it is a funny story about a fake religious man who gets caught,” Cecil said in his director’s statement. “But along the way, I discovered it is a fable about the transformation of excess and blindness into clarity and finding the happy medium.”

The production brings together professional actors, community performers and Yuba College students, supported by a creative team of designers and backstage crew. The cast includes Christian De La Torre, who takes on the title role of Tartuffe, opposite Ulysses Chavez as Orgon. Lilijana De Jesus and Ayla Beamer share the role of Elmire, while Isabel Her portrays Dorine. The ensemble also features Denice Burbach as Madame Pernelle, Clark Green as Cléante, Anastasia Slepchenko as Mariane, Ezekiel Roa as Damis, Miles Small as Valère, Phoenix Flewellen as Laurent, Codey Boyd as Mister Loyal and Frankie Baldwin as the Officer. Rory McGoon and Ayla Beamer share the role of Flipote.

Joining Cecil behind the scenes is assistant director Dorothy Christy, a Yuba College theater graduate who has participated in productions at the college for more than a decade, primarily in acting and technical roles.

The production marks her first time serving as assistant director on a full-length show, although Christy has previously directed “Talk to Me Like the Rain” for the college’s one-act Tennessee Williams festival and performed in productions including “The Glass Menagerie,” “Airness” and “Silent Sky.” “Conrad was kind enough to give me the opportunity when the timing was right,” Christy said. “He has been a wonderful mentor; recommending books, adding perspective to his leadership style, and how to help an actor develop their characters without telling them exactly what to do.”

Christy also praised the cast’s commitment and the range of experience among the performers.

“The cast has been a delight to work with, there’s a range of experience and theater education. They have put their all into the work,” she said.

Though written more than 350 years ago, Molière’s satire of false virtue, blind devotion and manipulation continues to resonate with modern audiences. As Cecil observed, while the production unfolds amid the excesses of the 1980s, its lessons are hardly confined to one era. Evening performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 23, 24, 28, 29 and 30, with 2 p.m. matinees Oct. 25 and Nov. 1. All performances take place at Yuba College Theatre, 2088 N. Beale Road in Marysville. Tickets can be reserved online at <https://gofan.co/season/193789>. ★

A Guide to Halloween-Harvest Fun in Yuba-Sutter

By Shamaya Sutton

YUBA-SUTTER, CA (MPG) - The skeletons have escaped their closets, pumpkins are taking over front porches and Halloween is creeping closer. But for those who haven’t gotten their fill of spooky season, there’s still plenty of time to celebrate.

From terrifying homemade attractions to family-friendly festivities, here’s where to find the scares, sweets and seasonal fun through Halloween and beyond.

Haunted Houses

Some of the area’s most elaborate haunts are hiding in plain sight, including a residential garage in Yuba City. At 441 Pelican Place, Corey Ringseth has transformed his property into the Yuba City Haunted House, featuring live actors, elaborate sets and jump scares. This year’s production, “Sandman,” transports visitors to the 1950s and into the home of a fictional serial killer. The free attraction runs Oct. 23-25 and 30 from 7 to 10 p.m. and is not recommended for children younger than 13.

Meanwhile, Easterseals Superior California presents “A Spooky Family Affair,” inspired by television’s most beloved spooky families. The attraction is designed and brought to life by participants in the organization’s ACE IT III program, who construct sets, create costumes and perform for visitors. The event provides an opportunity for adults with disabilities to showcase their creativity and connect with the community. Located at 1670 Sierra Ave., Suite 601, in Yuba City, the attraction runs Oct. 26-30 from 10 a.m. to noon, with additional evening hours Oct. 29-31 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Those seeking a less frightening Halloween experience may consider House of Boo in downtown Marysville. Located at 319 Third St., the interactive attraction is designed for children ages 7 and younger, featuring sensory activities, crawl tunnels and blacklight paint splattering. Open Thursdays through Saturdays from 4 to 7 p.m. through October, admission starts at $5 per child.

Harvest Time

For traditional fall fun, Bishop’s Pumpkin Farm, 1415 Pumpkin Lane in Wheatland, offers pumpkins, corn mazes, farm attractions and seasonal treats through Nov. 15. Admission is free, although parking and attraction fees may apply.

For a smaller farm experience, Bishop & Company Farm, 1234 40 Mile Road in Wheatland, offers U-pick heirloom pumpkins and a display of scarecrows created by local youth organizations. The family-owned farm is open Wednesdays from 5 to 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. through Oct. 31.

Families looking for a free pumpkin can visit the Sutter County Sheriff’s Posse Annual Pumpkin Giveaway on Saturday, Oct. 24, beginning at noon at 56 Second St. in Yuba City. The annual event offers free pumpkins and crafts for local children.

Tricks & Treats

Halloween festivities are taking over local streets, businesses and community gathering places, with plenty of opportunities for families to celebrate throughout the final days of October.

Friday, Oct. 23: Peach Tree Health, 1275 Tharp Road in Yuba City, hosts a free trunk-or-treat from 5:30 to 7 p.m., while Playzeum, 1980 S. Walton Ave., offers its Monster Maker STEM night from 5:30 to 8 p.m. for $35 per child.

Saturday, Oct. 24: The Sutter County Museum, 1333 Butte House Road, hosts free Fall Family Day activities from noon to 2 p.m. Trunk-or-treating follows at Eufay Park in Plumas Lake from 3 to 5 p.m., while the Live Oak Community Fall Festival, 10720 Live Oak Blvd., runs from 3 to 9 p.m. Hope Point Church, 600 N. George Washington Blvd. in Yuba City, hosts a trunk-or-treat carnival from 5 to 7 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 29: Downtown Yuba City’s annual Trick or Treat the Street returns to Plumas Street from 4 to 6 p.m. Sutter County Public Health hosts its free Not-So-Scary Haunted Health Fair at Veterans Memorial Hall, 1425 Veterans Memorial Circle, from 4 to 7 p.m. Wheatland Union High School offers Halloween Bingo from 6 to 9 p.m., while adults can enjoy Moonlight and Merlot, a vampire-themed wine tasting benefiting The Sedona Project, at Munger Family Vineyard from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $50.

Friday, Oct. 30: The Yuba County Government Center, 915 Eighth St. in Marysville, welcomes trick-or-treaters from 2 to 4 p.m. Additional trunk-or-treat events follow at Marbella Marysville, 515 Harris St., from 5 to 7 p.m. and the Yuba County Probation TEAM Center, 120 Fifth St., from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 31: The Village Coffee Shoppe & Bistro, 101 Clark Ave. in Yuba City, hosts a free trunk-or-treat from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., while Playzeum offers its sensory-friendly Pumpkin Palooza from 10 a.m. to noon. The Cruisin’ Into Fall Car Show and Trunk-or-Treat begins at 10:30 a.m. at 1335 Harter Parkway. Summerfield Senior Living, 1224 Plumas St., welcomes costumed children from 3 to 5 p.m. Across the river, downtown Marysville transforms into Scarysville from 5 to 7 p.m., featuring trick-or-treating, decorated vehicles, music and children’s activities. ★

REPEC, A SINGLE MAN, as Trustor(s), in favor of MORTGAGE ELECTRONIC REGISTRATION SYSTEMS, INC., as Beneficiary, as nominee for MIDWEST LOAN SOLUTIONS, INC. as Beneficiary, WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, that certain property situated in said County, California describing the land therein as: SEE EXHIBIT "A" ATTACHED HERETO AND MADE A PART HEREOF EXHIBIT "A" LOT 145, AS SHOWN ON THE SUBDIVISION MAP "EDGE-WATER UNIT 1-YUBA COUNTY TRACT 90-457", FILED DECEMBER 9, 1992, IN BOOK 60 OF MAPS, PAGE 37, YUBA COUNTY RECORDS. The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 1661 SHORELINE DRIVE, MARYSVILLE, CA 95901 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $288,830.43 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.nationwideposting.com or call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA07000677-26-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916.939.0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA07000677-26-1 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Pink October: A Month of Awareness, A Lifetime of Hope

By Alexandria Jones

Sometimes, the most meaningful traditions begin with something simple: a group of people who care about one another and want to make a difference.

That’s how Pink October began at Yuba County Health and Human Services. What started as a heartfelt effort by employees to support coworkers and community members affected by breast cancer, has grown into an annual tradition centered on compassion, awareness and hope.

This year’s department theme, “A Month of Awareness, A Lifetime of Hope,” reflects the heart of the effort. While October brings breast cancer awareness into focus, the need for support, education and understanding continues all year long.

Throughout October, Yuba County Health and Human Services organizes their annual internal employee-led fundraising raffle to raise money for Geweke’s Caring for Women Foundation, separate from the department’s public services and operations.

Last year, employees raised $9,224, and this year, they hope to make an even greater difference.

Beyond fundraising, Pink October is an opportunity to share information that could make a difference in someone’s life. Knowing your family history, being aware of changes in your breasts and being informed about screening are important parts of breast cancer awareness. If you have questions about your personal risk or screening, a health care provider can help you understand your options. For Californians who may have difficulty accessing care, the state’s Every Woman Counts program offers free breast cancer screening and diagnostic services to eligible residents.

Just as importantly, the effort recognizes those living with breast cancer, and the loved ones who walk beside them through the uncertainty, appointments and difficult days.

Chances are, most of us know someone who has been affected by cancer. Sometimes we know their story; sometimes we don’t. But a little encouragement, a check-in or simply knowing someone cares can mean more than we realize.

That’s what makes Pink October special. Every raffle ticket purchased and every conversation started helps bring attention to a cause that touches so many lives. Together, these small acts can make a meaningful difference and remind people facing cancer that they aren’t alone.

At Yuba County Health and Human Services, the hope is that the conversations sparked this month last long after October ends. Because while awareness has its month, caring for one another is something we can do every day.

By Kathy Craig Harteis

It seems like only yesterday we were 17 and graduating from high school. Recently, we met again for coffee and realized we’re all closing in on 80.

What was great about meeting up with old schoolmates was there was no lack of conversation. Greetings with hugs and remembrances of the past continued into sharing where we had been, what we had done and pictures of kids, grandkids and, of course, our dogs.

Jim, Gloria and I all graduated from Pierce Joint Union High School in Arbuckle, California.

Times have changed.

Gloria and I remembered GAA (Girls Athletic Association) trips to San Francisco. Back in the 1960s, we dressed in our little Jackie Kennedy-style suits, gloves and high heels to go to the city. We were just turned loose on our own to wander the city for shopping. We’d meet up for the ballet before heading home.

Can you imagine turning kids loose there now? Much less, dressing to the nines for a day in the city?

Now we discuss what the guys did in Vietnam, the struggles with Veterans Administration care and how you get it.

Both of our husbands served back then. Both of them were just babies, like most who were sent there. Both of them deal with health issues linked to their time there.

Yet life goes on.

We’ve all lived good lives. We are all grateful for our freedom and appreciate how we got here.

Life is good today.

The Summary will be provided to Trustor(s) and/or vested owner(s) only, pursuant to CA Civil Code Section 2923.3(d)(2).) YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST DATED December 10, 2020. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. On December 10, 2026 at 01:30 PM, at the front entrance to the County Courthouse, 215 5th St., Marysville, CA 95901, MTC Financial Inc. dba Trustee Corps, as the duly Appointed Trustee, under and pursuant to the power of sale contained in that certain Deed of Trust recorded on December 15, 2020 as Instrument No. 2020-021113, of official records in the Office of the Recorder of Yuba County, California, executed by GLORIA OSBORNE, AN UNMARRIED WOMAN, as Trustor(s), in favor of MORT-

GAGE ELECTRONIC REGISTRATION SYSTEMS, INC., as Beneficiary, as nominee for ALL REVERSE MORTGAGE, INC. as Beneficiary, WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, that certain property situated in said County, California describing the land therein as: AS MORE FULLY DESCRIBED IN SAID DEED OF TRUST The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 14872 QUEENAN LANE, DOBBINS, CA 95935 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $318,858.43 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.nationwideposting.com or call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA07001627-23-2. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916.939.0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA07001627-23-2 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Effective March 1, 2026, new federal regulations (89 Fed. Reg. 70.258) may impact residential real property (1-4 residential units) title transfers to covered entities trusts, with reporting requirements unless exempt. <https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2024/08/29/2024-19198/anti-money-laundering-regulations-for-residential-real-estate-transfers> Date: October 6, 2026 MTC Financial Inc. dba Trustee Corps TS No. CA07001627-23-2 17100 Gillette Ave Irvine, CA 92614 Phone: 949-252-8300 TDD: 711 949.252.8300 By: Loan Quema, Authorized Signatory SALE INFORMATION CAN BE OBTAINED ONLINE AT www.nationwideposting.com FOR AUTOMATED SALES INFORMATION PLEASE CALL: Nationwide Posting & Publication AT 916.939.0772 NPP0495682 To: TERRITORIAL DISPATCH 10/16/2026, 10/23/2026, 10/30/2026

Murder Charges Filed in Save Mart Killing

By MPG Staff

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - A 33-year-old Yuba City man plead not guilty to murder and assault charges Tuesday, Oct. 13, following a knife attack at a Marysville grocery store that left an assistant manager dead and a customer injured.

Samuel Enderwick Hartbower faces a potential life sentence on each charge in connection with the Oct. 11 attack at Save Mart, according to the Yuba County District Attorney’s Office.

Prosecutors charged Hartbower with the murder of Douglas Lee Eid, 64, of Clearlake, an assistant manager at the store, and assault with a deadly weapon against Robert Burgoon Balderaz, a customer who intervened during the attack.

Yuba County District Attorney Clint Curry said preliminary evidence indicates Hartbower attacked Eid with a knife after someone asked him to leave the store.

Balderaz witnessed the attack and attempted to stop Hartbower. During the confrontation, Balderaz suffered two lacerations that required stitches at a hospital, according to the district attorney’s office.

Other customers intervened as Hartbower attempted to flee. They detained him until Marysville police officers arrived.

According to the Yuba County Sheriff’s Office, deputies responded to a coroner’s request at approximately 2:15 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 11, following the fatal stabbing. The sheriff’s office reported Oct. 13 that the official cause of death remained pending completion of an autopsy investigation.

The criminal complaint, filed Oct. 13 in Yuba County Superior Court, charges Hartbower with one felony count of murder and one felony count of assault with a deadly weapon.

Prosecutors also allege Hartbower personally used a knife in the killing and inflicted great bodily injury on Balderaz during the assault.

The complaint includes allegations under California’s Three Strikes law, citing two previous felony convictions.

Court documents identify a robbery conviction dated March 27, 2023, in Yuba County and a first-degree burglary conviction dated Nov. 6, 2012, in Sacramento County.

Prosecutors allege both prior convictions qualify as serious or violent felonies under state law. If the court upholds those allegations and Hartbower is convicted of the current charges, he could face enhanced sentencing under the Three Strikes law.

During Tuesday’s arraignment, the court appointed a public defender to represent Hartbower. He entered not guilty pleas to both charges.

At the district attorney’s request, the court denied bail, ordering Hartbower to remain in custody while the case proceeds.

Hartbower’s next court appearance is scheduled for Nov. 4 at 1:30 p.m. in Yuba County Superior Court. ★

Bomb Threat Forces Marysville Walmart Evacuation

By MPG Staff

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - A reported bomb threat prompted the evacuation of the Walmart Supercenter on North Beale Road in Marysville on Wednesday, Oct. 14, but authorities found nothing suspicious during a search of the property.

The Yuba County Sheriff’s Office received a report of a potential bomb threat at approximately 1:45 p.m., prompting deputies to respond to the store.

Walmart employees had already evacuated the building in accordance with company policy before deputies arrived, according to the Sheriff’s Office.

Deputies conducted an extensive sweep of the premises but found no suspicious items.

Following the search, authorities cleared the store to reopen, and Walmart resumed normal business operations. ★

Gridley Rolls Past Wheatland, 33-13

By YSBC Sports

GRIDLEY, CA (YSBC) - The Gridley Bulldogs girls flag football team remained in the mix for the Pioneer Valley League pennant as they defeated the Wheatland Pirates 33-13 on Oct. 13.

Both teams battled in the first PVL matchup on September 17 where Wheatland came out with a one-possession victory.

On Oct. 13, the Pirates scored quickly on the first possession of the game as freshman quarterback Caylee Hansen found freshman wide receiver Evelyn Tillotson on a short pass and she went for a 66-yard touchdown that gave Wheatland a 7-0 lead.

Gridley responded with their first drive of the game as junior quarterback Delanie Cloyd scored on a 17-yard touchdown rush.

The Bulldogs missed the extra-point attempt and trailed 7-6.

Cloyd fluidly moved the offense downfield throughout the game as she converted multiple short passes to Gridley senior Natalie Mariscal across the middle.

The Bulldogs took a 12-7 lead after senior running back Ava Campos scored on a 19-yard rushing touchdown.

Campos had two touchdown rushes in the victory.

The Pirates regained the lead for the final time in the game a little under six minutes of the first half after a touchdown for a 13-12 lead.

Gridley took the lead back quickly as Cloyd connected with senior wide receiver Nayeli Romo for a 26-yard touchdown pass.

The Bulldogs added a couple more scores in the second half and defensively tamed the high-powered Pirates' offense.

Wheatland head coach Mike Bartolomei told Yuba Sutter Butte Colusa Sports

Gridley senior Natalie Mariscal (8) rushes the ball during the Bulldogs' win over Wheatland on Oct. 13. Photo by Steven Bryla that they were dealing with a short roster at the time, but the Bulldogs are a great competitor and it's always a battle with them when they get together.

He added their offense is explosive and difficult to contain on a regular basis.

Campos and Cloyd expressed to YSBC that Gridley is excited for the opportunity to get back into the postseason for the Sac-Joaquin Section.

Although the Bulldogs are sanctioned in the CIF Northern Section, they competed in the SJS playoffs in 2025 because they were the only flag football team in the NS.

The Bulldogs qualified for the SJS playoffs and won their play-in game and were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs by Orestimba.

Cloyd and Campos said as Gridley is in its second season as a program, the transition in between years went smoother because a lot of the girls are returners and didn't have to start from scratch as opposed to 2025.

They added that the Bulldogs were fortunate to play at a tournament in San Diego at the beginning of September that really brought the team closer as a unit.

Gridley had one final PVL game on Monday versus Colfax. If the Bulldogs were successful in defeating the Falcons; they would have clinched at least a share of the PVL crown.

The Pirates have the opportunity to clinch a share of the PVL title if they were victorious in their final two games against Mira Loma and Lincoln.

Wheatland picked up a big win over Colfax on Oct. 15 that kept them in the hunt for a league title.

The SJS playoffs are scheduled to begin on Monday, Oct. 28. ★

Spartans Spear Through Warriors with Physicality in Shutout Victory

East nicolaus senior running back Justin Welch (21) rushes the ball during the Spartans' win over Winters on Oct. 16. Photo by Steven Bryla

By YSBC Sports

WINTERS, CA (YSBC) - The East Nicolaus Spartans redeemed the ending to their 2025 season as their physicality on both sides of the ball pounded the Winters Warriors 21-0 on Oct. 16.

This was the first time East Nicolaus was victorious over Winters since 2022.

The Spartans' opened the slugfest of physicality on the first drive of the game as their defense forced a fumble within the first couple of plays of the game and gave them great field position for their first offensive drive.

The 34-yard drive ended with East Nicolaus junior quarterback Braden Appelt scoring on a four-yard touchdown.

Spartans head coach Josh Appelt expressed to Yuba Sutter Butte Colusa Sports the name and goal of the week was to be more physical than the Warriors like they have done every game this season.

East Nicolaus's defense ended a few red-zone opportunities for Winters in the game and put up their third goose egg defensively this season.

Any rush attempted by the Warriors resulted in a play for a loss or a big hit by multiple Spartans crashing.

Winters was able to connect on passes throughout the game for positive yards, but the Warriors committed multiple penalties and were thrown into long passing situations.

Spartans junior lineman Max Guzman said that the goal was to get deep in the backfield and apply multiple pressure looks towards Baylor.

The East Nicolaus defense had seven tackles for loss, and five sacks.

Guzman ended the game with five tackles, including two sacks and three hurries.

Spartans junior linebacker Dylan Robbins led the way with 10 tackles, two for a loss, two sacks and deflected three passes in the win.

Offensively for East Nicolaus, senior running back Justin Welch found gaping holes in the Winters defense that were opened up by his offensive line.

Welch rushed the ball 14 times for 178 yards on the ground and two touchdowns.

Welch said that it was a big win for the Spartans because they like proving people wrong each week.

Josh said that Welch is a phenomenal leader on and off the field and when they get senior Jaxon Angland in a few weeks, the offense will just be even more dangerous and harder to contain than defenses are struggling with currently.

Josh expressed that he and his staff are telling the guys to just focus on going 1-0 on the week.

East Nicolaus returns home on Friday for a matchup with the Colusa RedHawks.

The Spartans have won the last two matchups, but Josh reminded his team in the postgame huddle that Sacramento Valley League is a place where anyone can pull out a win no matter what the record is.

Kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. ★
