Diwali Festival Amazes

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - At least 400 people celebrated Diwali – the Festival of Lights – Oct. 22 at District56 here where the audience cheered on the performers.

Guests included U.S. Rep. Doris Matsui, D-Sacramento, and Elk Grove Mayor Bobbie Singh-Allen, a Sikh and immigrant from India. The festival started at about 6:30 p.m. and lasted for about two hours.

“It’s a one time we can bring everybody together,” Singh-Allen said of the meaning of the festival to Elk Grove, including Buddhists, Sikhs, Hindus, Muslims and Jains.

To her, “it’s a proud moment for me to celebrate my culture,” she said, after dancing to music on stage with others.

Robles Facing Challenger
Parks

By Keith Burbank

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - City Council incumbent Sergio Robles is facing challenger Peggy Parks for the District 4 seat on the City Council here Nov. 3.

Parks, if elected, aims to be more accessible, transparent and available to her constituents, she said, holding office hours when residents could speak with her. She is in favor of a town hall meeting on Flock cameras.

“I want to support the people of Elk Grove,” she said.

Those at City Council meetings get three minutes to speak, Parks said, and no response beyond some form of written communication.

“There’s never any give and take,” she said.

At office hours, Parks said she would listen to what residents want and speak up for them. During office hours, she may be unable to provide the answer her constituent wants, but at least she would provide an answer, she said.

“I want to start being the voice of the people,” Parks said.

Robles wants to build on his accomplishments such as the creation of the down-payment assistance program for moderate-income homebuyers, he said.

Proposed senior housing project sparks rural development concerns

By Keith Burbank

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - The Summer Villas at Sheldon Road project – which goes before the Planning Commission Nov. 5 – would set a precedent for development here, a former planning commissioner told the Elk Grove Citizen.

“Big time,” said George Murphey, an Elk Grove Planning Commissioner for 17 years. “Big projects like this, they spawn a lot of issues.”

Murphey, too, is the chairperson for the Sheldon Community Association, he said.

The association advocates on issues from Bradshaw Road, north and south to Bond and Calvine roads, east and south to the city limits, including the Sheldon Business District, according to the website for Save Rural Elk Grove, which says it is “dedicated to transparency regarding the Summer Villas proposal and land use changes in the Sheldon area of Elk Grove.”

Save Rural Elk Grove includes the Greater Sheldon Road Estates Homeowners Association, too, which the website says advocates on issues “in Rural Elk Grove bordered by Elk Grove Florin Road to the west and Bradshaw Road to the east.”

The Greater Sheldon Road Estates Homeowners Association has refused to meet with the project’s developer Bryan Wilson and his team for more than a year, following an initial public outreach meeting, Wilson said.

“We requested follow up meetings to get their input for ways we could keep our project consistent with what their vision of the rural area is,” Wilson said.

And “not in my backyard,” is what the group has communicated to Wilson, he said.

Murphey is opposed to the project.

“Absolutely,” he said.

The General Plan says lots are to be a minimum of two acres.

“You look at the project, it’s far from two-acre

The next step is finding a builder who will construct homes for $250,000 to $300,000, Robles said, which would be affordable to that group.

Additionally, he wants to attract a larger employer to the city, such as a school or healthcare company, and build something like Sacramento’s Aggie Square. And he wants to bring more mom-and-pop businesses to the city.

Robles aims to make the city a desirable place to live with affordable homes and a place area children return to following college graduation.

“I’m excited,” he said.

He has the support of Mayor Bobbie Singh-Allen, U.S. Rep. Doris Matsui, D-Sacramento, and Assemblymember Stephanie Nguyen, D-Elk Grove, a former City Council member, he said.

Singh-Allen and District 2 City Council member Rod Brewer were the only nominees to their respective offices and were appointed by resolution to those offices. Neither will appear on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Singh-Allen will serve a two-year term as mayor while Brewer’s term is four years. The District 4 seat is a four-year term, too.

Polls open at 7 a.m. Nov. 3 and close at 8 p.m., according to the Sacramento County Voter Registration and Elections office. ★ light over darkness, good over evil, and knowledge over ignorance,” according to a city webpage dedicated to the festival.

Partway through the celebration, Matsui, Singh-Allen and other dignitaries lit candles and placed them on a circular, multi-level candle stand.

“I see lights in this room,” said Matsui following the lighting ceremony. “It’s a light inside all of you.”

Singh-Allen “learned about good over evil” from her mom, who was in attendance and was celebrating a birthday.

“She is my light,” Singh-Allen said of her mom, who taught her to stand up for the voiceless.

The mayor was far from the only one dancing at the festival Oct. 22. The event included performances by everyone from youth to seniors, many in bright, colored garments. Visitors even got a taste of Fiji from four dancers.

Children danced to begin the festival, which is in its eighth year.

It’s getting bigger and bigger, said Sita Choudhary, one of the coordinators. Planning starts two months before the celebration begins at the end of October or beginning of November, typically.

Performances occurred for at least an hour Oct. 22 to a variety of music. Food was available afterward.

Of the festival, “that was amazing,” said Elk Grove resident Anand Purohit. “It grows every year.”

Purohit has been an Elk Grove resident for about 12 years. Diwali is the biggest festival in India, Purohit said, and to Indian people it is equal to Christmas.

MEMORIAL

MARY F. KENNEDY — 1950–2026

Former Elk Grove resident Mary F. Kennedy passed away on Aug. 6 in Sonora CA. In 1981 Mary moved to Elk Grove, with her husband John and 2 yr. old twins Catherine and Christopher. While in Elk Grove Mary served as a Girl Scout leader, earned her teaching credential and taught at Franklin Elementary in the Elk Grove School District for 6 years. The family left EG 1997.

Mary Frances Anderson was born prematurely (2Lbs 14Oz) in Fresno on Oct. 9, 1950. While in elementary school she was diagnosed with epilepsy, but with her parents’ support and prescription meds Mary achieved a normal life. She spent many summers at YWCA camps in the Sierras; first as a camper and later as a camp counselor. In keeping with her love for the outdoors Mary graduated from Fresno State College with a BA in Recreation. That took her to a job with Campfire Girls in Klamath Falls Ore. where she met her (future) techno-nomad husband of 49+ years, John C. Kennedy. They would soon move to Portland OR, then Fremont CA, where Chris and Cathy were born and then to EG. In 1997 after John got a job in Strawberry-Pinecrest, Mary was hired to teach by the Curtis Creek School District in East Sonora, so she and Cathy joined John in Twain Harte while Chris went off to college. Mary retired in 2010.

Tragically, Mary passed away unexpectedly from sudden heart failure, less than a week after she and John returned from a trip to Minnesota and Ohio to visit family and friends. She is survived by husband John, twins Chris & Cathy (both Sacramento area), family in Fresno, Minnesota, Ohio and Colorado, and a multitude of friends. Mary’s remains are interred in a Sacramento area cemetery. For those wishing to make a charitable donation in her name, suggestions are The Epilepsy Foundation and Vision Impaired Persons Support (vipsmodesto.org).

As per Mary’s wishes John, Cathy and Chris are hosting a “Going Away Party” (Celebration of Life) Buffet Dinner for her many friends in Elk Grove in the Banquet Room at the Old Spaghetti Factory 7727 Laguna Blvd. in early Nov. For details, please contact John immediately at: wanderingboomers@yahoo.com, or Cathy at: geogisgal@gmail.com. RSVPs would be GREATLY appreciated but not required.

minimums,” Murphey said.

About 70 acres could be developed, according to a city map of the project area, which means 35 homes could be built on two-acre lots.

Wilson’s proposal calls for up to 499 single-family, single-story homes, according to a city webpage dedicated to the project. That’s a big deal to Murphey.

The site is the last developable land in the Rural Area of Elk Grove, Wilson said.

“And so, by developing it,” he said, “you’re going to stop any future growth because there are no other pieces to grow in the Rural Area.”

Building this project, Wilson said, will prevent affordable housing and apartments, for example, from being built there.

The homeowners in the Rural Area have the right to farm and raise animals, Murphey said.

“I can tell you when you put urban development up against farmland or farming or crop-raising you get conflicts,” he said. “You get odors, noise, dust, spraying concerns.”

But Wilson said his team built a subdivision across the street that has the same zoning.

“And all people did was they built mansions,” he said. “Not a single person wants an animal. Not a single person wants, you know, a farm life.”

The cost of those homes was in the millions of dollars, Wilson added. So, they are unattainable for the average person, he said.

The proposed development, Wilson said, is a higher-end 55 and older community. The builder is unlikely to build 499 homes, he said, “because they want to do a bigger, nicer product.”

Wilson said the homes might be 2,000 square feet and larger.

With senior housing, there is less traffic, Wilson said, and a third of the Elk Grove population is 55 and older, according to a study he cited.

Murphey’s main concern is the project’s lack of adherence to the General Plan. If the city approves a General Plan amendment for this project, “then behind that comes a rezone and behind that there’s a bunch of dominoes,” he said.

It might change greenhouse gas emissions, vehicle-miles-traveled and have population-inducing effects, he said.

“This is the camel’s nose,” Murphey said. ★

MEMORIAL

LORA “TINKER” CAGLE-ERRINGTON — 05/29/1947–10/10/2026

Mom, we love you. We miss you more than words can say, and there will always be a place in our hearts that belongs only to you. Thank you for the life you gave us, the memories you left us, and the unconditional love you showed our family. Until we meet again, rest peacefully with the Lord. We love you, Mom.

It is with broken hearts that we announce the passing of our beloved mother, Lora “Tinker” Cagle-Errington, on October 10, 2026.

Lora was born on May 29, 1947, in Vallejo, California, to Charles Leonard and Laura Estelle Cagle. She spent her childhood in Florin, California, alongside her parents and older siblings, Norma and Charles.

Throughout her life, Mom held many titles, but the ones that brought her the greatest joy were “Grandma” and “GG.” She cherished every moment spent with her family and was deeply devoted to those she loved. She absolutely adored being a grandmother to her five grandchildren and poured her heart into that role. When her six great-grandchildren came along, her heart only grew larger. There was something especially precious to her about being a “GG,” and she treasured every hug, laugh, and memory she shared with them.

Her love, strength, and unwavering devotion to her family will be remembered always. The lessons she taught, the traditions she passed down, and the love she gave so freely will continue to live on through all her knew her.

Lora is survived by her sister, Norma Harp; her children, Joe Errington III, Sheri Boatwright, and Erika Baker; her grandchildren, Ciara Phillips, Cortnie Boatwright, Breanna Valencia, Brian Baker, and Bethany Baker; and her six great-grandchildren.

Though our hearts are heavy with grief, we find comfort in knowing she is at peace and reunited with loved ones who went before her. Her memory will forever be a blessing, and she will be deeply missed by all who had the privilege of knowing and loving her.

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - The top two flag football teams in the Delta League – Pleasant Grove High School and Sheldon High School – faced off Oct. 21 for the league championship.

Pleasant Grove came into the game with an overall record of 11-4, and a league record of 9-2. Pleasant Grove was ranked No. 2 in the Delta League. In their previous game they came out on top 25-6 against Monterey Trail High School.

Sheldon, however, came into the game with an outstanding 22-4 overall record and the Huskies were 10-1 in league play.

Sitting at No. 1 in the Delta League, Sheldon was riding a five-game winning streak following a loss to Pleasant Grove 18-15 in late September.

The championship game started out slow as both defenses were playing strong, stopping each other and forcing turnovers. With neither offense catching a stride, the first quarter went fast as both teams went scoreless.

Sheldon took the ball into the second quarter and there the game started to shift. Quickly scoring to start the quarter, the Huskies made it a 7-0 game. It was not just the offense for Sheldon stepping up, but the defense continued to stop Pleasant Grove, forcing them to punt.

In Sheldon's next drive, the offense picked up where it left off, driving downfield and quickly scoring again. But Pleasant Grove still had time to put points on the board before halftime.

Pleasant Grove drove down-field looking to score, but Sheldon's defense stood strong again and kept Pleasant Grove from scoring. At halftime, Sheldon led 13-0.

Not only did Sheldon lead at half time, but the Huskies had the first possession of the second half. As they were looking to put the game out of reach, the Pleasant Grove defense stood strong this time and forced a stop.

Once Pleasant Grove took the ball, they looked to be building confidence as they put together a drive down the field. But a throw into traffic was intercepted and the Huskies were able to run it back, weaving through traffic, all the way for a touchdown.

Converting on the two-point play put the game at 21-0, completely flipping the momentum and seemingly putting the game out of reach for Pleasant Grove entering the fourth quarter.

Pleasant Grove continued to fight for the rest of the game, preventing Sheldon from scoring any more points. However, Pleasant Grove's offense was unable to score.

The game ended with Sheldon the 2026 Delta League Champions in flag football.

Although the regular season is over, both teams qualified for the playoffs. In the first round of the Section Championship, Pleasant Grove is seeded No. 6 and plays Edison High School while Sheldon is seeded No. 4 and plays Rodriguez High School. ★

5K Celebrates Departed Ones

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - The fifth annual Dia de los Miles 5K race was held Oct. 25 at District56 here, where 1,400 racers gathered at 8 a.m. Additionally, children had a chance to race in half-mile and quarter-mile races.

Each runner received a shirt along with a medal and a free breakfast burrito after finishing the race. With the help of Fleet Feet and others who made the race possible, all donations from the race went to the Latino Center of Art &

At the front of the race was a mercado (market) celebrating Hispanic heritage and even an ofrenda in the middle of the walkway commemorating Día de los Muertos (Day of the Dead). Local Latino artists, too, sold goods including food and clothing.

Racers painted their faces and dressed up as skeletons to embrace Hispanic culture, as well as the local vendors celebrating the beginning of the multi-day holiday.

culture, but a tradition for the celebration of life, honoring loved ones who have died.

Families build ofrendas (altars), filling them with pictures of the departed loved ones along with their favorite foods and drinks, welcoming back the spirits of the dead for a reunion filled with joy. Families spread a trail of marigold petals to and around the ofrenda, guiding the spirits back to their family members and loved ones.

This celebration takes place in the last week of October and into the first week of November. Each day honors certain spirits in a certain way whether it is with a preparation or offering.

But the two main days of the celebration are Nov. 1 and 2. Nov. 1 honors and celebrates the spirits of infants and children, while Nov. 2 honors and celebrates the spirits of adults.

When it comes to an end Nov. 3, burning incense helps guide the spirits back on their path until next year.

During that week, there is no mourning throughout Hispanic culture. Instead, there will be vibrant colors, festivals and people embracing – celebrating the lives of departed loved ones – knowing that honoring them will keep their spirits alive. ★

The morning program includes a pancake breakfast, veteran and military displays and a short program.

by donating.

Veteran and military displays include a large collection of artifacts, uniforms, Wilton veteran photos and information as well as binders with newspaper articles. Wilton History Group member Alice Kutzer has spent many years collecting veteran photos and information and creating artful display boards.

"It has been a labor of love," Kutzer said. "I have enjoyed every minute of working to honor our veterans."

Many of the artifacts and uniforms were donated by Wilton History Group members, their families and the community. Several years ago, Kutzer began a project of gathering newspaper articles about area veterans and area residents and placing these articles in binders. Her project has grown to be a valuable resource that is easy to view and preserves much local information that could have been lost. Those binders referring to veterans will be on display for perusing.

A short program will begin at 9 a.m. Wilton History Group member Jim Ring will be master of ceremonies. Pastors Jonathan Vickery, Living Waters Church, and John Schmidt, Wilton Bible Church, will offer the invocation and the benediction. The Trail-Life group will conduct the flag ceremony. Speakers include Chaplin John Kent who will speak on the significance of the missing man's table. The military speakers will be Veteran Jim Koroush, who is turning 90 years old in November, and Erin Radulovich, a retired 20-year Air Force veteran. Kutzer and Ring will read a list of Wilton veterans who have died and are on our 'Memory OF' boards. New this year will be a collection box for used U.S. flags for a future flag retirement ceremony.

At the end of the program all attending veterans will be invited to pose for a group photo. All area residents are invited to attend the appreciation day.

"Although we specifically name our Wilton veterans, all area veterans are invited," Kutzer said. "We honor all our veterans and thank them for their service."

Defendant Sentenced to 650 Years-Life for Child Sexual Assaults

Sacramento County District Attorney's Office News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Oct. 15, the Honorable Kenneth Brody sentenced Michael Jones to 650 years to life in state prison. On Sept. 17, Jones was convicted by a jury of 16 counts of child sexual assault. Aggravating factors of substantial sexual conduct and multiple victims were also found true.

When the first victim was 11 to 13 years old, Michael Jones committed hundreds of sexual acts against her, including intercourse and sodomy. Jones initially began by grooming the victim and quickly progressed his conduct. When the victim disclosed the abuse, Jones fled and remained hidden from law enforcement for seven years. During this time, Jones began sexually assaulting another child when she was 9 years old.

Under current California law, Jones (age 43) would have become eligible for release at an Elder Parole hearing once he turned 50 years old and served 20 years of his 650 years to life prison sentence. With the passage of AB 2727, Jones will not become eligible for release at an Elder Parole hearing until he turns 65 years old and has served 25 years of his 650 years to life prison sentence.

Also, before any parole, Jones will receive an evaluation to determine if he is a Sexually Violent Predator (SVP). If he is deemed to be an SVP, he will face an indeterminate civil commitment to a secure state hospital facility for psychiatric treatment.

Additional material on Elder Parole can be found at sacda.org.

Former Contractors Behind Anchored Tiny Homes Face Felony Charges

Contractors State License Board News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Following investigations by the Contractors State License Board (CSLB) and Sacramento County District Attorney's Office, two brothers behind former company Anchored Tiny Homes have been charged with 35 felony counts related to unfinished accessory dwelling unit (ADU) projects.

Colton Paulhus and Austin Paulhus each face 33 counts of diversion of construction funds, one count of conspiracy to commit a crime, and one count of employee wage theft. Their charges come after CSLB investigated more than 200 consumer complaints across 18 California counties alleging abandoned ADU projects, unpaid subcontractors, payments in advance of work performed or often not performed and funds paid by homeowners that were not used for the homeowners' projects.

A settlement conference hearing initially scheduled for last week has been continued until Jan. 12, 2027.

Due to the volume and severity of the allegations, CSLB pursued a criminal investigation against Anchored Tiny Homes and took the most serious administrative enforcement action available to the Board by filing an accusation with the California

Attorney General's Office seeking revocation of its contractor's license. CSLB revoked Anchored Tiny Homes' license in Nov. 2024.

After the revocation, CSLB continued to receive and investigate consumer complaints, and in collaboration with the Sacramento County District Attorney's Office, began referring cases for possible criminal charges.

CSLB remains committed to protecting consumers from financial harm and ensuring integrity within California's construction industry. The Board's investigative and enforcement efforts play a critical role in reducing and preventing unlawful activity and unprofessional conduct in California's construction industry.

Contractors building ADUs must follow home improvement payment law restrictions regarding down payment and additional payments, known as progress payments. Down payments should never exceed $1,000 or 10 percent of the project's total cost, whichever is less. Any additional payments cannot exceed the value of the work performed or material delivered.

CSLB's Fast Facts: Tips for Building a Residential Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU) outlines other important information about ADUs.

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 8.50%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal or property evaluation, which typically range from $100 to $1,000. This cost will be disclosed in your commitment letter and paid at loan closing. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $525 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Collective Commitment Builds Paths for Student Success

Community Convening Focuses on Feedback and Support Actions

Student community partners, educators and families convened for the “Freedom to Flourish: A Black Student Success Collective Community Convening” on Aug. 27. Photo courtesy of Sacramento County Office of Education

Sacramento County Office of Education News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The youth in the room spoke with pride, their voices filling the space with authenticity and resilience as educational leaders from across Sacramento County gathered to listen.

On Aug. 27, students, community partners, educators and families convened for the “Freedom to Flourish: A Black Student Success Collective Community Convening” to address learning experiences and support positive educational achievement for Black youth.

The broader framework aims to gain a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities within the county's educational system, explore the experiences of Black students and identify key themes to inform meaningful collaborative support.

The convening focused on five core areas: a review of the Black Student Landscape Analysis, a youth panel discussion, the introduction of key strands of support, collaborative discussions and actionable community input.

Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools Jacqueline White and outgoing Superintendent David W. Gordon framed the convening around a commitment by the Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) to support Black students. Based on SCOE’s Landscape Analysis, discussions centered on four emerging themes:

Bridging the Cultural Gap: Emphasizing the need for culturally responsive education to engage Black students and affirm their identities.

Rebuilding Trust: Focusing on

honest conversations about race, bias, and systemic inequities.

A Collaborative Approach: Aligning efforts across systems environments centered on genuine care, trust and academic rigor and move away from heavy oversight. Recognizing that meaningful progress begins with genuine listening, SCOE leaders actively gathered perspectives to help shape future action.

The feeling in the room was urgent and real. Attendees addressed uncomfortable truths about systemic inequity while recognizing that lasting change requires all educators, families and community partners to actively share in the work.

To drive continuous improvement across county schools, SCOE introduced three distinct strands of support based on initial feedback: a Speaker Series to expand historical knowledge, a Community of Practice for local educational agencies (LEAs) to share strategies and a Deeper Dive process offering customized support for LEAs. These efforts ensure Black youth are empowered to belong, live, lead, belong and thrive across Sacramento County.

Circular Action Alliance Submits Revised California Recycling Plan

Updated plan incorporates public input and outlines investments to expand recycling under SB 54

Circular Action Alliance News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Circular Action Alliance California (CAA) submitted its revised California program plan to CalRecycle for review, marking a significant milestone in the implementation of California’s Plastic Pollution Prevention and Packaging Producer Responsibility Act, commonly known as SB 54.

The revised plan reflects feedback received during the 60-day public comment period led by CAA and includes significant updates intended to strengthen implementation and provide greater clarity into proposed program investments and costs.

“Submitting California’s program plan marks a major step forward in establishing a compliance pathway for producers,” CAA Chief of Staff Shane Buckingham said. “By recognizing the unique challenges across different material categories, our plan creates a structured strategy that provides the time and framework to overcome complex technical hurdles while making steady, measurable progress towards SB 54’s recycling goals.”

During the public comment period, CAA received over 2,400 comments from local jurisdictions, trade associations, NGOs, tribal representatives, producers, the Packaging Producer Responsibility Advisory Board and other interest holders. CAA’s revised program plan builds substantially on the draft plan submitted to the advisory board in June, with revisions made to multiple sections

The program plan outlines a comprehensive approach to implementing SB 54, with proposed investments and programs designed to deliver outcomes across California's recycling and reuse system. Photo designed by Magnific including environmental justice, reimbursement, materials strategy, Responsible End Markets (REMs), budget development and fee-setting.

CAA also expanded the plan's budget and fees chapters, providing additional detail on proposed investments, anticipated costs, fee-setting methodology and how producer funding would support implementation activities over time.

“Public input has played a valuable role in strengthening this plan,” California Executive Director Emily Coven said. “We greatly appreciate the time people and organizations took to share feedback reflecting a wide range of perspectives, and we made meaningful revisions in response. The revised plan provides greater clarity on proposed investments and implementation activities and lays out a practical path toward achieving the objectives established under SB 54.”

A public comment summary outlines major themes raised during the review process and the changes made in response.

The program plan outlines a comprehensive approach to implementing SB 54, with proposed investments and programs designed to deliver outcomes across California’s recycling and reuse system.

The plan provides for significant investment in California’s recycling system, including support for rural and remote communities and a broad range of entities eligible for reimbursement.

Environmental justice considerations are integrated throughout the plan, including a process to identify and consider potential environmental justice impacts during reimbursement application review.

A comprehensive Responsible End Markets Standard is designed to provide greater visibility into where recycled materials go and establish consistent standards for responsible end markets.

The plan outlines strategies to reduce plastic packaging and single-use food service-ware, improve recyclability and encourage the use of post-consumer recycled materials, supporting progress toward California’s source reduction and recycling goals.

Producer funding will support infrastructure, programs and other activities needed to strengthen recycling and reuse and advance implementation of SB 54.

CalRecycle will now review the final program plan. In accordance with California's SB 54 regulations, the agency may approve, disapprove or conditionally approve the submission as it determines whether the plan meets state requirements for implementation by Jan. 1, 2027.

CAA will continue coordinating with CalRecycle, producers, local jurisdictions and other interest holders as the plan moves through review and implementation planning continues.

Dave Ramsey

Dear Dave,

I’ve spent most of my marriage not being involved in our family finances. To be honest, I’ve not been a very good husband. After being introduced to your show and your books by a friend, I realized how irresponsible I’ve been. When I talked to my wife about it and apologized, I heard for the first time that we have about $100,000 in debt, plus $55,000 in debt on a new car and motorcycle I did know about. Of course, we also have a mortgage on our home. She apologized for making a mess of things, but I know it wasn’t all her fault. She hadn’t been sneaking around spending and taking out debt, she just made mistakes and was afraid to tell me. Together, we make about $150,000 a year. Do you have any advice for us?

– Caleb

Dear Caleb,

Brother, I am so proud of you. You made some

Dave Ramsey Says

Healing Problems... Together

mistakes, sure. But now you’ve made the decision to man up. And that’s a huge step in the right direction for you and your marriage.

To me, what you described is a lot different than her lying and hiding stuff. The truth is you weren’t plugged in. Maybe she wasn’t doing a great job, but then, she didn’t have anyone to talk to about it, did she? Things got worse, and she probably felt ashamed about how ugly it got and didn’t want to tell anyone.

Now you’re at the point where you’ve got to look at all this, and figure out how to fix it with a $150,000 income. It’s going to mean beans and rice, rice and beans. It’s going to mean a scorched-earth lifestyle and living on a budget, which also means you’re not going out to eat, and you’re not going on vacations.

I’d sell the car and the motorcycle. Get into a couple of very basic, inexpensive cars, and spend about two years being crazy intense to pay off everything but your home. You can clean this up, but you’re basically going to have no life during that time.

The two of you also have some relationship work to do. It sounds like you’ve already gotten a good start on that, with you owning your part and her owning hers. The thing is not to point fingers. From this point forward you need to always sit down together, and make all your decisions—financial and otherwise—together. I want you to hug on each other a lot, too.

If you’re both willing, you can heal the math problem, the debt problem and the marriage problem all at the same time. God bless you both!

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

Win a Game

By V.G. Harris

There is good news and bad news. The bad news is that the hometown Sacramento Kings have not won a single game in either the preseason or the regular season. Discouraging, yes without a doubt.

The stands were perhaps 75 percent filled in last night’s contest with the Memphis Grizzlies, and to the Kings credit for most of the contest it was actually a game that could have gone either way.

Fans responded with a standing ovation with five minutes to play in the fourth quarter as the Kings knotted the score at 106 apiece. There was genuine pandemonium in the arena, but it was soon to be dashed.

One of Memphis 24 three-pointers came next, and the grizzlies never looked back, eventually winning by 11 points 123-112.

So, where’s the good news? For one, Domantas Sabonis is playing like the all-star he is at both ends of the floor. Domantas along with Zach Lavine have been carrying the team with stellar play and a defensive effort that smacks at the criticism that neither can play defense.

What I saw Sunday night was two veterans who gave it their all, and their effort gave the Kings a genuine chance to win. Couple that effort with that of both Darius Acuff Jr., and Emmanuel Sharp and you have two rookies that are raising eyebrows.

Although Sharp scored only three points in limited action, his intense defense reminded me of former King Davion Mitchell, and it was a joy to see someone on the floor that gave it 100 percent. That is exactly what the Kings need, and it needs to be the ubiquitous energy that is the staple of this team.

Sadly, the preseason was a collage of players that will probably never again be on the court together, and any chance of developing a chemistry was simply lost. Coach Christie and his coaching staff are in all likelihood on a short leash, and the preseason is but one reason why.

Reportedly Keegan Murray was sidelined with a swollen ankle, and now in his fifth season, it’s time for Keegan to shine.

The idea that Murray is a power forward needs to be forever abandoned, and finally he should be played at the position he is most comfortable.

Murray is a natural small forward, and he has made it known that is where he is most comfortable.

For once stop pounding a square peg into a round hole. If a power forward is what you need, Precious Achiuwa or Jonathan Mogbo fit the bill, and allow Murray to show the staff what he can accomplish at the position that fits him best. Simply put, this team needs to put players in positions where they can thrive.

Both Sabonis and Lavine are firing out of the blocks, and along with rookie Darius Acuff Jr. are making noises like the second coming of De’Aaron Fox.

Sacramento was in both of the last two games, and with just a little luck could be 2-1 instead of the tepid 0-3 they find themselves in. With a rookie point guard at the helm, closing out games is still on the teaching agenda.

Coach Christie loves to talk about defense while his best defender, Emmanuel Sharp saw 14 minutes of action all night. Foul troubles contributed, but sometimes you need to let them play and live with the results.

Defense aside, where is the offense that led the entire NBA just four years ago?

Once again 3-point shooting is the Achilles heal of this team, and giving up 24 3-pointers will rarely win a game. The focus needs to be on how to effectively guard the 3-point line and do it!. Other teams have no problem guarding it against us, it’s high time we committed to defending the line.

Coaches represent more than just X’s and O’s. They are motivators, leaders, and they challenge players when needed. We need this coaching staff to step up and take accountability for what has happened thus far, and then do something about it.

It has been said before and it’s true, this team has NBA talent on it and has every opportunity to turn this losing streak around.

Dream the dream and give the fans a reason to buy tickets and stand to their feet.

All the best Kings fans! ★

Californians’ Support for Cutting Carbon Emissions Wanes as New Climate Warnings Arrive

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Earlier this month, Gov. Gavin Newsom and former Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger staged a low-key celebration marking the 20th anniversary of Assembly Bill 32, the landmark legislation committing California to immense reductions in greenhouse gas emissions.

It was the most notable achievement of Schwarzenegger’s governorship, not only setting a series of deadlines for emissions reductions, but creating as one of its major tools a system for industry buy-in known as “cap-and-trade.”

Environmental groups were opposed, favoring direct regulations, but Schwarzenegger insisted. Since then, the state has auctioned off a gradually diminishing number of emissions permits, thus, in theory, incentivizing industries to reduce greenhouse gases.

The Los Angeles Times has calculated that early goals were met. But in recent years reductions have slowed, and the 2030 goal of being 40% lower than 1990 emissions levels is highly unlikely.

Popular and political support for the state’s commitment to reach virtual zero emissions by 2045 also has been waning.

Public Policy Institute of California pollsters found that while Californians still support emissions reductions in concept, views on specific programs have slipped. That’s particularly true of Newsom’s desire to ban the sale of new gasoline-powered vehicles by 2035. Support for that has dropped from 49% in 2021 to just 32%.

“Affordability has become a dominant theme in public discourse today — and it’s affecting the public’s views on the environment,” the PPIC says. “Most Californians choose cost of living as the top issue facing the people of California today; few name environmental concerns.”

The declining popularity of climate change programs is visible in the political arena.

Newsom spent months portraying gasoline refiners as price gougers and polluters, but when two refineries announced plans to shut down in 2025, raising the possibility of fuel shortages, he quickly changed his tune.

“We are all the beneficiaries of oil and gas. No one’s naive about that,” Newsom said at a press conference. “So it’s always been about finding a just transition, a pragmatism in terms of that process.”

Defying environmental groups, he and the Legislature passed bills designed to increase oil production, and this year the state even redesigned the cap-and-trade program to provide no-cost emissions permits to refineries.

The flip side of declining popular and political support for emissions reduction policies is a new warning from Newsom’s administration that California faces a slow-motion apocalypse.

“Climate change is increasing the frequency, intensity, duration, and impacts of climate related events in California, including short- or long-term hazard events like wildfire, extreme heat, drought, flooding, and sea level rise,” the administration’s 109-page Fifth Climate Change Assessment declares.

It is the latest in a series of such reports issued since AB 32 passed. Newsom endorsed its findings while, as might be expected from a likely presidential candidate, taking a shot at President Donald Trump.

“As the Trump administration turns its back on science, California is doubling down on climate action, on protecting our communities, and on building a safer future,” Newsom said in a statement.

Meanwhile, the climate assessment report’s warning of potentially catastrophic effects is re-energizing those who prescribe aggressive actions.

UC Berkeley’s Center for Law, Energy and the Environment issued what it describes as a “roadmap” of steps that must be taken.

“California is at a critical moment in its efforts to protect residents from the extreme weather caused by climate change,” Louise Bedsworth, the center’s executive director, said. “The next governor will need to demonstrate strong leadership to help the state navigate the intersecting challenges of worsening climate impacts, affordability, and federal hostility to the state’s goals.”

Xavier Becerra, the former attorney general almost certain to succeed Newsom, has been noncommittal about the issue, especially about the 2035 halt on sales of gas-powered vehicles. It’s smart politics given the reversal of popular support.

Dan Walters is one of the most decorated and widely syndicated columnists in California history, authoring a column four times a week that offers his view and analysis of the state’s political, economic, social and demographic trends. ★

Social Security Matters

My Brother Died on December 23rd – Does he Get Social Security for December?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: My question concerns the passing of my brother on December 23, 2025. Since he passed away before the month was over, does that mean he will not receive a Social Security payment for December 2025? Does the fact he passed before the end of December negate him receiving benefits for December 2025? Signed: Executor of my Brother’s Estate

Dear Executor Sister: Please accept our sincere condolences on your brother’s passing. FYI, according to Social Security law, all SS benefits are paid in the month following the month they are earned, which means two in things in this circumstance: 1. Any SS payment your brother received during the month of December (his month of death) is legally his (or his estate’s) because that payment was for the month before he died (November 2025).

2. Any SS benefits received thereafter (e.g., SS benefits paid in January 2026 for the month of December 2025) must be returned to Social Security (the bank which received his SS payments would normally handle this automatically if they were notified of your brother’s death).

Social Security benefits are not paid for the month of death because the beneficiary did not live the entire month, and SS benefits are not paid for partial months. So even though your brother lived about 3/4ths of the month of December, he (his estate) will not get any SS benefits for the month of December. Indeed, even those who pass shortly before midnight on the last day of the month do not get Social Security benefits for the month they died.

For additional information, if your brother was married and his wife is still living, she would be entitled to a one-time, lump sum death benefit of $255 (if she is also eligible for her own SS retirement benefit). And, depending on her own SS retirement amount, she might also be eligible for a surviving spouse benefit as your brother’s widow.

“All my life,” Charles de Gaulle famously said, “I have had a certain idea of France.” This, though, was presumably not what he had in mind. France has been wracked by riots targeting public buildings and symbols of the nation, as well as ordinary commercial concerns.

Of course, France has a long tradition of unrest on the streets. If someone isn’t setting a car alight somewhere in the country in protest, you almost wonder what’s gone wrong. In 1968, President de Gaulle himself briefly fled Paris for fear that student protesters were going to topple the government, before finding his nerve.

So, it’s not unusual that things are getting wrecked and burned, but the disorder is portentous all the same. It started as demonstrations against underfunded schools and has morphed into a red-green campaign of mayhem ranging much more widely.

Palestinian flags and the slogan “Free Palestine” are ubiquitous. It’s not clear what either of these things has to do with burning down the elegant, 19th-century town hall building in Limoges or looting a Louis Vuitton store. But the Palestinian banner has become the equivalent of the North Vietnamese flag in the 1970s -- a symbol of resistance to the West, and in this case, fierce opposition to Zionism and so-called settler-colonialism.

The Anti-French Revolt in France

The flag also speaks to the immigrant component of the riots. France has done a poor job of assimilating immigrants and their children, a large portion of whom are Muslims from North Africa, thanks to France’s colonial history and, in particular, its incorporation of Algeria into France for a period of time (an insanely unrealistic project).

The problems that France has been creating for itself were foreseeable and, indeed, foreseen. As long ago as March 1959, de Gaulle is reported to have warned: “The Arabs are Arabs, the French are French. Do you think that the French can absorb 10 million Muslims who will tomorrow be 20 million and after tomorrow 40?”

One way to look at these riots is as Frantz Fanon’s revenge. What the great mid-20th century theorist of anti-colonial resistance called “the wretched of the earth” are living in the downtrodden suburbs of Paris and, in effect, seeking to colonize the colonizers.

Make no mistake, though -- white radicals, too, have taken a large hand in the disorder. Jean-Luc Melenchon, the leader of an ascendant left-wing party, has participated in the protests and condemned police for their supposedly brutish tactics. He celebrates the “creolization” of France and views immigrants and their children as part of a potential “bloc de rupture” that can revolutionize French politics and shift it radically to the left.

What’s ultimately in play is French identity. The country has traditionally had a universalizing mission (whether advancing Christianity or evangelizing for enlightenment values, depending on the regime) joined to a deep pride in the French nation. The rioters, who are illiberal and unpatriotic, aren’t much interested in either. Melenchon has said French identity cannot be “a tradition,” but is “a creation in permanent evolution.” And here, as has often happened in France’s history, it is evolving in the streets.

The unrest also serves as a warning that should the French public reject this left-wing vision and turn to the nationalist Marine Le Pen in next year’s election, the country will be made ungovernable. With the disorder spreading elsewhere, other Western European countries will also have to take note.

A key element of de Gaulle’s “certain idea of France” was its inherent greatness. His beloved France, though, is already a second-rank power. Its debt-to-GDP ratio is 120%, while much of the public apparently believes it is living under intolerable austerity and there is no political will to pull back on spending. An overmatched President Emmanuel Macron, presiding over a restive country, represents an exhausted center that has done much to bring the nation to this point.

Whatever France’s immediate future, greatness is not going to be part of the picture.

BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not au-tomatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property.
You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call, (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website, www.auction.com, for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, T.S.# 25-10700CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website.

The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction.
There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 280-2832, or visit this internet website www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this

TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself.
Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property.
You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property. Please be advised that the trustee may require entity or trust bidders at this trustee's sale to provide information, documentation and/or certification of the vesting instructions and the data required to be reported pursuant to FinCEN regulations effective for transfers of residential real property to covered transferees on or after March 1, 2026. The required information must be provided to the trustee before a trustee's deed upon sale will be issued for covered transfers.

ing these regulations and the Men are Like a Pair of Shoes

Have you been looking for Mr. Right in all the wrong places? Are you seeking your soul mate, but it seems like you’re having a devil of a time? Jeff Carta found his main goal in writing “Men Are Like A Pair Of Shoes”... A Single Woman’s Guide To Finding The Right Pair, was to encourage women to realize and exercise the power they have in selecting a mate. He believes some women simply accept flawed relationships. “Women do have power in their relationships,” he says, “While men ask, women choose.” But Carta made this book lighthearted in order to help with the emotional turmoil and fear of rejection women have in their shaky self-esteem.

Carta says when people wind up in unhappy relationships, it’s frequently because they haven’t seriously considered what they want in a mate. Too often, women let fears, insecurities, or social pressures shoehorn them into an improper fit. So, he asks the question every woman has had to face...would you be willing to walk in painfully ill-fitting shoes 24/7 for the rest of your life? Or would you complain about the many hurts your shoes are causing, only to protest you can’t part with them because the shoes hold so much potential. You’d toss them out in a heartbeat says the man. “What you really want are comfortable fitting shoes that are durable enough to last a lifetime,” Carta explains. You bethca’! In my humble opinion, you don’t have to settle and you don’t have to think he will change after the “I do” is done.

So there has to be Tips for Improving Your Shopping Style like Improper Fit, Health Risks or Disappointments, such as promiscuous buying and looking for shoes in the wrong places. “You have to shop with a Smart Heart,” says Carta. It gets to the heart of dating behavior, and that includes knowing the Right Stores for You, Buying Shoes Over The Internet, The discount Bin, Questions To Ask As You Shop, and If The Shoes Fit, Wear Them. There is a Shopping List for a Soul Mate which includes cleaning out your closet, knowing what type of shoes you are looking for, creating your Shopping List, and Wearing Comfortable Shoes vs Finding the Ideal Pair. And don’t forget, Making The Good Fit Last with Tips on Shoe Care, and even Talking To Your Shoes.

So, before you Throw Out The Old Pair of Shoes and Shop for New Ones, you gotta’ read this fun and timely look at looking for him. You’ll find lots of shopping tips, and before you start wearing another woman’s shoes or saying I Have To Have Them, you need to read “Men are Like A Pair of Shoes.” You’ll get some downright good info from Jeff Carta, and you’ll also have a good belly laugh or two. It is just amazing how men are like a pair of shoes. By the way, I did get a good fit for 53 years. Hope you find Mr Right too! ★
