CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - On Oct. 23 the Citrus Heights Homeless Assistance Resource Team (HART) hosted its ninth annual Spaghetti Fest at the Citrus Heights Event Center. This is the main fundraiser for the year to raise funds to help fund the annual two-month Winter Sanctuary program and serve the unhoused and homeless in Citrus Heights by providing housing and rental assistance. They also provide meals, showers and access to assistance through Living Waters Respite Care and community meals at the Celtic HART Café, Celtic Heart Presbyterian Church.

Nearly 350 attendees arrived to enjoy the evening, meet old friends and make new ones. With such a large group attending from Citrus Heights and beyond, many used their time between getting refreshments and checking out the 29 amazing silent auction and 63 raffle items; to read the reserved table names and find friends and organizations they had lost touch with. It was a refreshing 'old friends' night.

Invocations for transformation for all who are experiencing homelessness and for all who come together in the community to help were given by Pastors Julia and Thomas

Annual CHPD 'Trunk or Treat' Offers Spooky Fun

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - One of Citrus Height's biggest and most beloved fun Halloween family traditions returned last weeks as the Citrus Heights Police Department's annual "Trunk or Treat" event transformed the grounds of police headquarters into a spectacular costumed world of some rather spooky, family-friendly fun.

A good-sized crowd turned out for the event held just before sunset in their favorite Halloween costume and just say "Boo!"

The popular annual event was held on Thursday, Oct. 29 from 5 to 9 p.m. at 6315 Fountain Square Drive in partnership with Sunrise Recreation & Park District and the Citrus Heights Police Activities League (PAL).

The colorful Sunrise Parks and Recreation booth was also a popular event destination for many youngsters who received free art supplies. Photo by William Evans

"Trunk or Treat" also offered plenty of fun for grown-ups too, many of whom dressed up in costume, while little ones in their favorite Halloween costume stopped by to meet CHPD officers and then take a peek into the trunks of some very decorated police vehicles complete with cobwebs, spiders and skeletons to receive their favorite candy and special treats.

Council Reviews Road Safety Plan, Appoints Youth Commission Members

By Shaunna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - At the Oct. 28 meeting of the Citrus Heights City Council, staff from the general services department presented an update on the Local Road Safety Plan (LRSP) adopted by council earlier this year.

The purpose of the plan is to evaluate crash trends, identity significant roadway safety needs and establish a framework for pursuing safety improvements and grant funding.

From 2020 through 2024, there were 3,584 crashes on public roads in the city; 14 resulted in fatalities and 114 in severe injuries. More than half the crashes only resulted in property damage with no reported injuries.

The most common causes of crashes that resulted in injury or death were driving under the influence (25%), driving at unsafe speeds (16 %), and traffic signals and signs violations (11%).

The highest number of total crashes occurred where Greenback Lane intersects with Auburn Boulevard, Sunrise Boulevard and San Juan Avenue, with rear-end crashes due to aggressive driving as the most common cause.

Pedestrian involved crashes were most common at Greenback Lane and San Juan Avenue, Greenback Lane and Auburn Boulevard, and Sunrise Boulevard and Old Auburn Road.

To reduce crashes, the plan includes countermeasures such as rapid-flashing beacons, speed feedback signs, roundabouts, increased roadway lighting, upgraded warning signs, reflective stop signs, reflective backplates at traffic signals, etc.

The city also plans to implement the Old Auburn Road safety improvements, with buffered bike lanes, signalized right-turn slip lanes and coordinated traffic signals.

Approving the updated LRSP ensures the city remains eligible for grant funding, and staff are currently applying for the Highway Safety Improvement (HSIP) Cycle 15 funding.

Meanwhile, while attendees were enjoying the evening, nearly 50 students from the Mesa Verde High School Key Club, AVID - (Advancement Via Individual Determination) a rigorous college prep program, and the Public Safety Pathway program were working hard to make the evening fun for all while earning community service hours. Retired Citrus Heights Police Department Sargeant Janet Schaefer is their mentor and has exciting plans for their future. She shared they are excelling in sports and showing academic improvements.

Elena's Kitchen and Catering provided a meal of all you can eat salad, spaghetti and meatballs, bread and ice cream for dessert.

Live band, Rebel Creek provided entertainment for the evening.

Attendees included HART supporters the City of Citrus Heights, five churches, American Legion Post 637, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), Grace House NORCAL, North Sacramento HART and Living Waters Assemble of God.

There were six 2026 award recipients. Former HART client Sharon Doreumus received the award for Outstanding Achievement. According to her presenter, her story proves "your past does not have to determine your future." She had been on the streets for many years, getting to know the Citrus Heights police very well. She worked very hard breaking a generational curse. She is also someone's daughter and someone's mother. It was a community effort. After she finally took advantage of the resources available to her through the HART programs, and Grace House she broke the curse. Sharon volunteers at several local programs. Her daughter witnessed her receiving her award.

Tom Cooper received the Outstanding Volunteer award having come off the street years ago and working hard to help others, helping at the showers at Living Waters, working at the Winter Sanctuary intake every night and the overnight shift at Holy Family's fireworks booth. He continually encourages all those he meets who are where he was.

The Outstanding Humanitarian award was given to Dianne Ebbitt. Ebbitt surprised all by announcing she is leaving Citrus Heights to move to Kansas. She has been a mainstay in Citrus Heights, involved in many organizations including HART, Rotary Club, Citrus Heights Chamber of Commerce and Police Activities League (PAL). She will be missed!

Other awards were accepted by Sunrise MarketPlace for Outstanding Supporter, Grace House for Outstanding Faith Based Organization and Ladies Relief Society and LDS Citrus Heights Stake for Outstanding Partner. ★

The evening was perfect for the inner child in all of us who are still a trick-or-treater at heart, still looking for a brightly lit front porch on Halloween night.

The colorful Sunrise Parks and Recreation booth was also a popular event destination for many youngsters who received free art supplies were distributed by local sponsors Rock Hard Burgers & Brew and the Sunrise Christian Food Ministry which conducted a canned food donation drive at the event.

The scene was eerily festive as characters from the movie Toy Story mingled with Harry Potter-inspired wizards and other creatures of the night.

And absolutely no one was afraid of any ghosts in the city of Citrus Heights, so long as the white and red Ghostbusters vehicle was on the case and parked just outside of CHPD headquarters.

Representatives from the Sacramento County Police Chaplains, the Citrus Heights Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion Auxiliary also provided treats during the evening.

According to CHPD, its annual "Trunk or Treat" event helps to build trust and connection between families and local law enforcement, while giving kids a safe, fun Halloween experience. The event provided an opportunity for many to meet local officers and K 9 team in a festive, family friendly setting.

CHPD extended a huge thank you to all its community partners for helping to make this year's "Trunk or Treat" at CHPD headquarters even more special. ★

City Plans Greenback Lane, Birdcage Drive Improvements

In recent years, multiple portions of the steel mesh median just before the intersection of Greenback Lane and Birdcage Drive where two pocket turnout lanes which were previously damaged by prior traffic collisions were not replaced by the city.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Major roadway improvements are planned along a busy segment of Greenback Lane between Mariposa Avenue and Birdcage Drive in 2027 where an existing rust-colored steel mesh median barrier fence will be removed and the existing median reconstructed, according to the city of Citrus Heights.

The City Council unanimously approved a contract with Ghilotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael, on Oct. 14 whose base bid of $11 million including two additional curb ramp projects and a 15 percent contingency at an estimated total for the project cost which could reach $12.79 million.

"The City awarded the contract to Ghilotti Bros. (on Oct. 14) and is finalizing paperwork. The contractor has not yet submitted a construction schedule," said Marisa Brown, city communications officer.

"The project is expected to take one to two weeks once construction starts, but the timing and any temporary impacts to turn lanes will be confirmed once the (construction) schedule is received," Brown said.

In recent years, multiple portions of the steel mesh median just before the intersection of Greenback Lane and Birdcage Drive where two pocket turnout lanes which were previously damaged by prior traffic collisions were not replaced by the city.

Pending improvements to the median along Greenback Lane in 2027 will be welcome news for motorists who travel along Greenback Lane towards Sunrise Mall, and who may also need to make left or right hand turns from the pocket turn-out lanes which offer little protection from oncoming traffic.

At night, the glare of headlights from oncoming traffic in both directions along Greenback Lane make turns out or into the residential apartment complexes along the route a difficult challenge.

By a general count, there are some 14 well established foliage trees within the existing median along Greenback Lane just after Mariposa Avenue and before the intersection of Greenback Lane and Birdcage Drive which may be impacted by the pending median reconstruction.

Motorists may also notice two heritage signs placed by the city which are written in script and fastened to the steel mesh median heading towards Birdcage Drive.

A substantial portion of mature landscaping and shrubbery which already exists within the existing median may also be impacted by the removal of the existing metal median fencing.

A general landscaping plan which describes what the new Greenback Lane median will look like or what materials it will consist of was not available from the city at press time.

"The City's planned improvements also include ADA ramp upgrades, traffic signal upgrades, pedestrian enhancements, adding a fourth crosswalk along the westerly side of the Greenback and Birdcage intersection and full pavement resurfacing," Brown said. ★

Arcade Monsters Moves Closer to Likely Opening Date

Arcade Monsters representatives held an in-person job fair last week to fill multiple positions at the former Sunrise Rollerland, 6001 Sunrise Vista Drive in Citrus Heights.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Arcade Monsters representatives held an in-person job fair last week to fill multiple positions at the former Sunrise Rollerland, 6001 Sunrise Vista Drive in Citrus Heights. The Oviedo, Florida-based company purchased the entertainment facility for $3.5 million this spring.

Banners hanging from the building's roof advertised last week's hiring fair, held Wednesday and Thursday from noon to 8 pm. The fair offered on-site interviews for "motivated, dependable, and enthusiastic individuals ready to be part of the Monster nation."

Available positions which include management, guest services, kitchen staff, security, maintenance, cleaning and administrative positions are posted at: https://www.arcade-monsters.com/join

Representatives for Arcade Monsters didn't respond to a request for further details concerning a likely opening date of the new Citrus Heights facility, or whether another in-person hiring event would be held at a future date.

Arcade Monsters is currently turning a much-beloved Citrus Heights local institution into a glowing, art filled arcade and rink hybrid, with both nostalgic and cutting edge entertainment elements. Admission covers both skating and arcade attractions.

The new Citrus Heights Arcade Monsters is described by the company as an "Immersive, art-driven entertainment space where admission covers everything, including the skating rink, with arcade games set to free play."

In a recent news interview, Arcade Monsters CEO Adrian Ravelo projected that the new Citrus Heights location would be "one of the most unique entertainment destinations in California."

"Everything is gonna glow," Ravelo said. "We're bringing the best graffiti artists in the world, many from California, some from the East Coast, all over. These are the artists that all other graffiti artists look up to, and they're all going to have murals in there that glow and are very special," Ravelo said.

The Citrus Heights Arcade Monsters' will be the company's third location in California, following a 28,000-square-foot facility in Murrieta and a location in San Diego.

The former Sunrise Rollerland's exterior has changed little since construction began earlier this summer. Its original medieval-style neon lettering remains above the main entrance lobby.

Earlier this summer, the Messenger was given a tour inside the building under the condition that no photographs be taken.

Within the former Sunrise Rollerland, multiple interior walls have been removed making the 26,736-square-foot building feel much bigger and less claustrophobic than it once did.

The entire historic rock maple roller link remains fully covered under paper as contractors continue their work on interior demolition and new electrical construction.

Colorful, day-glow murals inspired by graffiti cover three walls around the roller-skating rink. New gaming equipment is being staged in the front lobby, where a new mural also adorns the ceiling.

The general contractor has also placed large storage containers outside, parallel to the building's front and between its entrances. Some former interior furnishings, including shoe rental lockers and round tables have been placed outside the building awaiting disposal.

Outside the front entrance, a faded stop-work review order sign which was issued in September by the city of Citrus Heights was visible next to a typed notice from the Neutz family, the former owners, thanking the public for their past patronage of the popular recreation facility.

The recent city stop work review order was triggered on the staff level due to zoning code signage standards outlined in Section 106.38.070 G in the city's zoning code after public comment was initially received following the completion of a Manga-inspired mural along the length of one exterior wall of the building.

No further plan review by the Planning Commission was required and construction work resumed after the city approved the new mural.

The recent sale of Sunrise Rollerland in Citrus Heights included both the business and the entertainment facility that houses it a 2.82-acre parcel at 6001 Sunrise Vista Drive adjacent to Sunrise Mall.

Sunrise Rollerland, a unique part of Citrus Heights history, was previously owned and operated by the Neutz family for over 50 years before Ken and Kathy Neutz decided to retire. The couple purchased the rink in 2000 from Ken's parents, who had owned it since it was built in 1973. ★

An Aggie Connection: OOFOS Invests in UC Davis Student-Athletes

UC Davis Athletics News Release

DAVIS, CA (MPG) - UC Davis Athletics welcomed current student-athletes and former Aggies back to campus Tuesday, Oct. 6, for Aggie Elevate, an evening dedicated to connection, professional development and the lasting impact of the student-athlete experience.

Hosted at the University Credit Union Center in partnership with Aggie Leverage and the Aggie Varsity Club, the event brought together student-athletes and letterwinners to network, share experiences and explore opportunities beyond competition.

UC Davis Director of Athletics Rocko DeLuca opened the evening with remarks emphasizing the importance of the Aggie community and building relationships that extend beyond a student-athlete's time on campus.

The evening's keynote speaker, Angel Martinez '77, a former UC Davis All-American in Track and Field and Cross Country, shared his professional journey and the experiences that helped shape his career as a leader in the footwear industry. Throughout his career, Martinez has held founding and leadership roles with major footwear brands such as Reebok, Keen, Ariat, UGG, Teva and Hoka, combining his passion for sports with an interest in innovation, research and competition.

Martinez currently serves as Co-Chief Executive Officer of OOFOS, a footwear company focused on recovery and reducing the physical stress placed on the body. Drawing on his experiences as a student-athlete and business leader, he encouraged current Aggies to embrace the relationships, opportunities and lessons that will shape their lives beyond competition.

"Being a student-athlete at UC Davis taught me lessons that stayed with me throughout my career," said Martinez. "The discipline, relationships and experiences you gain here prepare you for so much more than competition. It's important to recognize the opportunities you have right now, invest in the people around you and understand that taking care of yourself, both physically and mentally, is just as important as pushing yourself to succeed."

Martinez also discussed the importance of recovery and taking care of the body beyond competition, connecting his professional work with the demands student-athletes face throughout their athletic careers and beyond.

For current student-athletes, the opportunity to hear directly from a former Aggie who successfully translated his athletic experiences into a professional career offered a valuable perspective on life after college.

"Hearing from someone like Angel, who was once in our position as a UC Davis student-athlete, really puts into perspective how much we're gaining from this experience beyond our sport," said Ella Palmer, president of the UC Davis Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC). "It's encouraging to see how the relationships we build, the challenges we overcome and the lessons we learn here can continue to shape our lives long after we graduate."

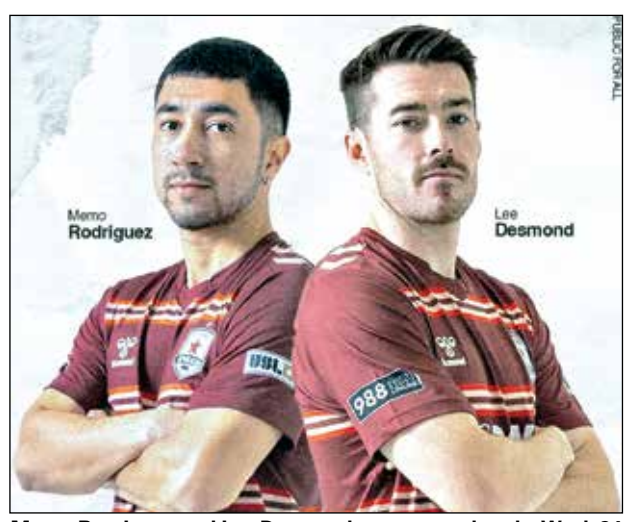

Martinez concluded the evening with a surprise announcement that all UC Davis student-athletes would receive a complimentary pair of OOFOS recovery footwear, drawing an enthusiastic response from those in attendance.

OOFOS serves as the Official Recovery Footwear of UC Davis Athletics, reflecting a shared commitment to student-athlete performance, recovery and well-being.

"We're proud to have OOFOS as the Official Recovery Footwear of UC Davis Athletics," said UC Davis Director of Athletics Rocko DeLuca. "This partnership is another example of our commitment to providing student-athletes with the resources they need to be successful both on and off the field. Having an Aggie like Angel Martinez involved makes it even more special, and we look forward to continuing to build our relationship with him and the OOFOS team." ★

Memo helped Republic FC get on the board early, posting his first assist of the night on Alfredo Midence's second-minute goal. After Oakland took a 2-1 lead before halftime, Memo later connected with Desmond for Sacramento's equalizer in the 81st minute. The midfielder delivered a curling ball from a set piece near the sideline, and Desmond rose above the defense to flick the ball past the goalkeeper. The Indomitable Club went on to win the game, with Kyle Edwards delivering the decisive goal in the 90th minute.

In addition to his two assists, Memo finished the night with four chances created, five duels won and five possessions won. Jackie White Settles in as Sacramento County Superintendent

New Superintendent Reflects on Her Journey and Vision for Public Education

Sacramento County Office of Education News Release

Jacqueline "Jackie" White was sworn in Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools on Sept. 1, becoming the first woman to hold the position in more than a century. Photo courtesy of Sacramento County Office of Education

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Jacqueline "Jackie" White celebrated a historic milestone during her Sept. 1 swearing-in ceremony as Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools, becoming the first woman to hold the position in more than a century.

Surrounded by family, friends, educators and community leaders, White reflected on the people who helped shape her journey, her more than 20 years in public education, and her hopes for the students and communities she now serves.

The occasion marked a new chapter in a career that began in the classroom, where White taught fifth and sixth grades in the Twin Rivers Unified School District. She subsequently served as a principal, district administrator and assistant superintendent at the Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE), overseeing programs ranging from career technical education and adult education to services for some of the county's most vulnerable students.

For White, the journey has been both professional and deeply personal.

She spoke warmly about her family, particularly her two grandmothers, one a school secretary and the other a science teacher, whose influence helped shape her life and commitment to education.

"They gave me both roots and wings," White said, reflecting on the generations who helped make the moment possible.

White also paid tribute to her predecessor, David W. Gordon, who served as county superintendent for more than two decades and whose career in education spans more than 50 years.

"You are a leader among leaders and have always modeled grace, compassion and kindness," she told Gordon, thanking him for his guidance and generosity during the transition.

The ceremony also featured a spoken-word presentation by Patrice Hill, a longtime educator, poet and director of Sacramento Area Youth Speaks, whose message of hope, resilience and collective responsibility reflected the spirit of the occasion.

"Together as community, embracing transformative leadership, we will light the way. We will fight for education and a brighter day," Hill told those gathered.

Her presentation, built around the theme "Futures Forward," emphasized the importance of working together to overcome challenges and create opportunities for future generations.

While recognizing the significance of becoming the first woman to serve as county superintendent since Minnie O'Neill held the position from 1907 to 1914, White emphasized that her attention is firmly on the future.

She acknowledged the challenges confronting public education, including declining enrollment, financial pressures and rapidly changing technology. But her message was one of optimism, determination and shared responsibility.

"We must stand resolute, arm in arm, knowing our children deserve the best we can give them," White said. "We must dream for them. We must work for them."

White emphasized that meeting those challenges will require schools, families and communities to work together, listening to students, expanding educational opportunities and strengthening the support systems that help young people succeed.

Her vision extends beyond academic achievement to preparing students for college, careers and meaningful participation in their communities.

Throughout the evening, White returned to the importance of the people who supported her journey and the collective effort needed to improve public education.

"It is with great humility that I recognize there is no me without all of you," she said.

As she begins her tenure, White hopes to build on Sacramento County's educational accomplishments while ensuring that every student has the opportunity to succeed.

Her goal is straightforward but ambitious: creating the conditions for every student in the Sacramento region to "belong, learn, lead and thrive."

"That is the work. That is the opportunity," White said. "And it is an honor to do that work with all of you."

The swearing-in ceremony can be viewed online at: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=F-WiwuzFHbaE. ★

Health Forum Focuses on Detection

By Kevin Ruse

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Shortly after attending an employer-sponsored health screening event, Andrew Cope received a phone call advising him of his APOE status. Andrew was told he had two copies of the APOE4 gene. This rare genetic profile, which occurs in only about 2-5% of the general population, represents the strongest known genetic factor for developing late-onset Alzheimer's disease. What followed, for Mr. Cope, a natural researcher, was an in-depth study of what his future might hold, all while navigating primary care, neurologists, clinics, and additional testing.

How many of us have wondered how we would feel and what we would do if we received similar information? Does having a family history increase my risk? How can I find out? Are treatment options available today? Who will take care of me, and how?

These questions and many more will be addressed at the 11th Annual Brain Health Forum to be held on Friday, Nov. 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Carmichael Elks Lodge #2103 at 5631 Cypress Avenue, Carmichael, CA 95608.

This year's theme is: "This Is Our Mammogram Moment." Just as mammograms transformed early detection and outcomes for breast cancer, advances in early detection and treatment are creating new opportunities for patients and families with Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia.

This year's forum will focus on exciting advances in Alzheimer's early detection, including blood-based testing, new treatment options and practical information for families navigating the challenges of caregiving. From 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m., resource tables will provide valuable information for caregivers, including help with meals, transportation, home safety and respite care.

Attendees will have the opportunity to speak with representatives from Dignity Health, Sutter Health, UC Davis, the Greater Sacramento Women's Brain Health (GROW) Program, Del Oro Caregiver Resource Center, the Alzheimer's Disease Research Center, Veterans Administration and more.

From 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., the forum will feature a variety of presenters including Dr. Shawn J.Kile, a neurologist who specializes in cognitive disorders including Alzheimer's disease and other forms of dementia. Claire Day, Chief Mission and Program Strategy Officer for the Alzheimer's Association Northern California and Northern Nevada Chapter, will speak about the U.S. POINTER lifestyle interventions shown to support cognitive health. Also presenting will be Andrew Cope, who will share his personal story and perspective on the importance of early detection and timely access to treatment.

Whether you're concerned about your own brain health, caring for a loved one or simply interested in the latest advances in Alzheimer's research, this free community event offers an opportunity to learn, ask questions, and connect with valuable local resources.

The 11th Annual Brain Health Forum is presented by the Alzheimer's Association of Northern California and Congressman Ami Bera, M.D. You can register for this free event at https://bera.house.gov/events/brainhealthforum or call 1-800-272-3900. The Brain Health Forum is free of charge. Light refreshments will be served along with giveaway prizes. ★

During the closures, detour signs will direct travelers south of the project where they can cross at the Paintersville Bridge. Traveler on the east side of the Sacramento River can take River Road/ Highway 160 to the Paintersville Bridge and drivers on the west side of the Sacramento River can use South River Road to the Paintersville Bridge detour.

Kings Korner

By V.G. Harris

Let's Get a Win

By V.G. Harris

As the Sacramento Kings enter the week with a winless 0-6 record to start the 2026/2027 NBA season, fans scratch their heads and ask the question, "where do we go from here?"

In this column I have discussed the value of leadership, and as the Kings continue searching for their first win of the season, I'm asking from what quarter will that leadership come?

Radio talking heads and pundits from all corners are calling for a change in the coaching staff and for All star Domantas Sabonis to be traded.

Doug Christie appears to be a ships captain without a rudder, and of the 6 losses the Kings have to start the season, only 2 of those games did Sacramento have a legitimate chance of winning.

If I have any criticism, it is not having a collective game plan. Simply telling the team to play better defense or shoot more 3's is not a game plan, and I wonder how long it will be before the players begin to lose faith.

All eyes are on Monday night's game against the Dallas Mavericks, and I am hopeful although doubtful that it will produce a win.

For those fans that simply say we don't have the players, I would say as I have before that there is legitimate talent on this team already.

Domantas Sabonis continues to be the constant foundation of the team, and whether it's scoring, rebounds, or defense, Domantas gives it 100% effort from start to finish.

When we talk about leaders, they come from outside the court and most definitely on the court.

While the organization won't stop talking about trading Sabonis, I completely disagree with their assessment, and if the worst thing that Sacramento will have to endure is a cellar dweller of a season to weather the storm, I believe that the fan base will hold their nose and stay the course.

Let it not be said that Sacramento fans ever turned their backs on this team, because it has never happened.

However, ownership needs to begin the process of making cogent changes that will not just bring energy to this team, but true direction.

The idea of playing the rookies and second year players is a no-brainer, but the offensive is unimaginative, and on defense any semblance of guarding the 3-point line simply isn't there.

Fans need to give credit where credit is due, and both Domantas Sabonis and Zach Lavine have shown up in a big way.

Is it any surprise that a healthy Domantas Sabonis is already leading the league in rebounding once again, and relative newcomer De'Andre Hunter is currently 32nd in the league in 3-pointers made.

Zach Lavine is tied in 32nd place in 3-pointers made, and I look for that to improve dramatically if the Kings can make progress with their offensive schemes.

Yes, Kings fans, it is a dark time in Sactown, but this early in the season it is way too early to throw in the towel.

I am but one opinion, and I'm anxious to hear from you, the fans.

Go to thekingskorner.com and subscribe to my website and please, by all means leave me a comment. What direction do you believe the Sacramento Kings should go?

I'll publish your collective thoughts, and we'll navigate through this difficult time together.

Without question bright spots remain in both Darius Acuff Jr., and rookie Emanuel Sharp, and how the Kings develop these 2 youngsters will be a testament of good things to come.

I heard a poem many years ago that the Kings should take note of and it goes like this:

For want of a nail, the shoe was lost,
For want of a shoe, the horse was lost,
For want of a horse, the rider was lost,
For want of a battle, the kingdom was lost,
And all for the want of a horseshoe nail.

Kings fans, Doug Christie and his staff don't need to reinvent the wheel. They need to find one small thing that is wrong and correct it. Once that has been accomplished, find the next thing, and repeat the process.

Once this exercise has been done a dozen times watch the victories mount up, and one more thing. Keep us informed as to what you're doing. We're all waiting for positive things to root about.

All the best! ★

California's Campaign Drama Entices Political Junkies, But Serious Issues Get Short Shrift

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

This year's political campaigns gave California's political junkies plenty of chaotic events to savor: gerrymandered congressional districts; the sudden, scandalous downfall of a frontrunner for governor, and running feuds with President Donald Trump over voting.

However, for those of us who just want effective governance that addresses the multitude of challenges arising from California's socioeconomic complexity, the campaign season has been drearily disappointing.

Few, if any, office seekers have even mentioned such serious issues as unstable water supplies, budget deficits, homelessness or rising living costs, much less offered voters clear-eyed approaches to them.

The Democratic playbook has often been to blame Trump for everything negative, even though those important issues afflicted California long before he appeared on the political scene.

Meanwhile Republicans, with very slim chances of making gains in such a blue state, have pinned every unresolved problem on outgoing Gov. Gavin Newsom, even though he inherited many of them when he took office in 2019.

Polls tell us that Californians are in a sour mood. They're worried about soaring living costs and the economy in general and are unhappy with the status quo. Yet they seem unwilling to make big political changes — preferring the known to taking a chance on the unknown.

That contradictory attitude is particularly evident in the campaigns for the two most important offices being filled this year, the governor and mayor of Los Angeles.

Despite having served in public offices for decades, including a stint as attorney general, Xavier Becerra's support for governor in polls last spring was in the low single digits. Back then the odds-on favorite, Congressmember Eric Swalwell, self-destructed as multiple women accused him of sexual harassment or even assault.

Swalwell not only dropped out of the race but resigned his congressional seat. The only other candidates with double-digit support were left-leaning billionaire Democrat Tom Steyer and Republicans Steve Hilton and Chad Bianco.

But they were unacceptable to Democratic leaders and their labor union allies, who immediately chose Becerra as a known quantity and therefore the most acceptable of the single-digit candidates. With Democrats holding a massive edge in voter registration, that made Becerra the likely next governor, and he still is.

Becerra's campaign has consisted almost entirely of blaming Trump and refusing to offer any tangible approaches to the multiple issues he'll likely inherit from Newsom. He knows he can win without committing himself publicly, so he doesn't.

While Becerra represents the don't-rock-the-boat stance at the state level, Los Angeles Mayor Karen Bass, another veteran of multiple offices, is his counterpart in the state's largest city.

But she, unlike Becerra, cannot coast into victory. Bass is carrying heavy baggage from her sloppy handling of the wildfires that swept through Los Angeles and its suburbs early last year.

Bass was junketing in Ghana when the fires erupted, even though there had been forecasts that hot winter winds could create wildfire conditions. She tried to blame others for the miscue, fired the L.A. fire chief and later attempted to alter an official report on how the fires were handled.

Bass is highly unpopular but offers herself as a known quantity, while her left-leaning opponent, city councilmember Nithya Raman, represents the potentially disruptive unknown. The outcome could go either way.

Thank goodness the cacophony of shrieking TV spots making promises that cannot be kept or portraying rivals as devils incarnate — and the fliers filling our mailboxes — will all end soon.

Sometime after the polls close Tuesday — maybe weeks later in some close contests — we'll learn who survived. The losers will be disappointed, the winners will be jubilant and once again we will hope that they'll do more than plot how to climb the next rung on the political ladder.

Dan Walters is one of the most decorated and widely syndicated columnists in California history, authoring a column four times a week that offers his view and analysis of the state's political, economic, social and demographic trends. ★

Social Security Matters

Am I Entitled to More Social Security as a Veteran?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I served in the U.S. Army from July 1964 to July 1967. Am I eligible for a higher Social Security payment? Thank you. Signed: Vietnam Era Army Vet

Dear Army Vet: Please accept my sincere thanks for your military service. I believe you are referring to the "Special Extra Credit for Military Service" which has been the subject of many published articles. That refers to a special Social Security accommodation available only to those who served in the military during specific periods of time - but it does not add to your monthly Social Security payment. Rather, it adds to your military earnings record for the years you served, which may (or may not) result in a higher Social Security benefit when you later claim Social Security.

Here's how it works in your case:

Serving between 1964 and 1967, if you told Social Security of your military service when you applied for Social Security benefits (or gave them a copy of your DD-214), they would have added up to $1,200 per year to your military pay record (FYI, those who served after 1966 were automatically given earnings credit for their military service years). However, whether those special extra credits would affect your monthly Social Security benefit depends on your lifetime earnings record when you later claimed Social Security.

When you applied for benefits, Social Security reviewed your lifetime earnings and used the highest earning 35 years of earnings over your lifetime (adjusted for inflation) to calculate your "Primary Insurance Amount" (or "PIA," which is what you get if you claim benefits to start at your Social Security full retirement age). If, after your military service, you had 35 or more years of earnings which were higher than your earnings while serving in the military, Social Security would have used your later higher earning years to calculate your benefit, and your military earnings would not have had an effect on your Social Security benefit. However, if any of your military earnings (including the "special extra credits") were among the highest over your lifetime, then those higher military earnings would be included when calculating your Social Security benefit.

So, whether you would benefit from these "special extra credits for military service" depends largely on your earnings history after you were discharged from active duty. If your military earnings were among the highest earning years over your lifetime, and you provided SSA with a copy of your DD-214 when you applied for Social Security, then your current SS benefit already includes consideration of your military service (FYI, Social Security should have asked about your military service when you applied). If you didn't tell SS about your military service when you applied for Social Security, or if you aren't sure, you should contact the SSA at 1.800.772.1213 and ask if you were given those "special extra credits for military service" for your 1960s military service years when you applied for Social Security. But if you had at least 35 years of higher earnings after you left military service, your current SS benefit is already based on those later higher earning years, and you will not get any additional /Social Security benefit because of the "special extra credits" for your military service years.

Abdul El-Sayed is no JFK

Abdul El-Sayed, the Democratic Senate candidate in Michigan, thinks he's another JFK, not in terms of charm or wit, but as a fellow victim of religious bigotry.

When he ran for president in 1960, Jack Kennedy indeed encountered anti-Catholic prejudice, including the preposterous claim that he'd take orders as president from the Vatican. This was irrational conspiracy theorizing, whereas the questions that El-Sayed is facing about his family's ties to extremist groups are well-founded.

It wasn't a right-wing smear artist who first said that El-Sayed's mother was with the Muslim Brotherhood, but his own half-sister. She tweeted in 2012, "Had an amazing talk with my mom about her activism in the Muslim Brotherhood during the early 70s while she was in college #respect." She suggested that other family members in Egypt were involved in the Muslim Brotherhood. His mom -- just her luck -- also worked for the Islamic American Relief Agency, which the U.S. government designated a supporter of terrorist groups.

Now, El-Sayed could say that none of this has anything to do with him, since his biological mother didn't raise him, and that his mother made a mistake in working for the Brotherhood. Or he could produce evidence of the falsity of what his half-sister said, which, if it's wrong, shouldn't be difficult given that both his mother and half-sister are around (his half-sister is a radically anti-Zionist University of Chicago professor who is very excited about El-Sayed's candidacy).

Instead, he's argued that questions about this constitute rank Islamophobia. He makes it sound as though the Muslim Brotherhood is a fraternal association, a Knights of Columbus for Muslims, such that any concerns about associations with it are inherently hateful. His reaction is a little like someone being asked about his family's alleged KKK associations, and responding, "How dare you question my white Protestant heritage."

In a viral exchange, a questioner at a town hall asked the candidate if he disavows the Muslim Brotherhood. El-Sayed responded with a curt, "Yeah, sure," before challenging his interlocutor about why he was asking and going on a long riff about freedom of religion in America. Of course, no one is challenging his right to worship as he pleases, or to run for public office as a faithful Muslim. The questions have to do with the associations and his own views.

His father-in-law, a major donor to his campaign, served on the founding committee of the Islamic Society of North America, a group designated as an unindicted co-conspirator in the 2007 Holy Land Foundation case. He also -- just his luck -- served as president of the Council on American-Islamic Relations Michigan chapter, another group named an unindicted co-conspirator in that case.

As for El-Sayed himself, the New York Times reports that when he was a student at the University of Michigan, he was president of the Muslim Students Association, an organization founded by the Muslim Brotherhood in the 1960s. In 2012, he joined an open letter backing Muslim Brotherhood leader Mohamed Morsi, who had just become president of Egypt: "We, leaders of the Egyptian community, support the revolutionary decisions taken by the president, and we call on him to purge the media and the police as quickly as possible."

Here one must pause to express a little sympathy for El-Sayed: Who among us hasn't, at least once, urged an Islamist authoritarian to crack down on his political opponents? During this Senate campaign, El-Sayed excused an Islamist attack on a Michigan synagogue (before apologizing). He invited streamer Hasan Piker, who has repeatedly expressed sympathy with terror groups, to campaign with him. And he has refused to say that Iran is more dangerous than Israel.

He doesn't deserve the benefit of any doubt and has responded to questions about all of this with evasions and high dudgeon. No matter how often El-Sayed invokes JFK, Kennedy didn't defend his Catholic faith as a way of distracting from his own extremism and that of people around him.

Defendant Convicted of Human Trafficking-Related Charges

Sacramento County District Attorney's Office News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Oct. 27, James Wilkerson was convicted by a jury of attempt to traffic an underage victim and pimping and pandering.

James Wilkerson was arrested as a result of a joint Sacramento Regional Human Trafficking Task Force operation. On July 25, Wilkerson contacted a Task Force undercover agent posing as a minor and asked her to be a sex worker for him and to pay him to be her pimp. He also stated he had another female working as a sex worker for his benefit. The Task Force was able to quickly determine the identity of that female and setup an operation to arrest Wilkerson and recover the victim he was exploiting.

An allegation that Wilkerson has a prior strike conviction for assault with a firearm will be determined at the sentencing hearing.

Wilkerson faces a maximum sentence of 26 years and 8 months in prison. Sentencing is set for Jan. 22, 2027, at 9 a.m. in Department 11A before the Honorable Carlton Davis.

The Sacramento Regional Human Trafficking Task Force is a partnership between the Sacramento County District Attorney's Office, California Department of Justice, Sacramento Police Department, Homeland Security Investigations, Federal Bureau of Investigation Sacramento Field Office and California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR). ★

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County has mailed about 493,740 secured property tax bills which are payable beginning Nov. 1. These tax bills are mailed only once a year, however, property owners may pay their bills in two installment payments.

The first installment payment is due on Nov. 1. Payments will be accepted without penalty until 5 p.m. on Dec. 10. The second installment payment is due on Feb. 1. Payments will be accepted without penalty until 5 p.m. on April 12. Both installments may be paid when the first installment is due. A reminder notice will not be mailed for the second installment.

Taxpayers may sign up for online e-mail notifications for annual secured property tax bills and reminders before delinquent dates. Choose "e-Subscribe for property tax payment notifications" to receive these notifications.

Payments can be made online via credit card or electronic check. Taxpayers may print tax bill installment payment stubs to mail in with their payments. Taxpayers may also pay by credit card or electronic check over the telephone at 844-430-2823. There is a convenience fee for credit and debit cards. Electronic checks are free.

Payment can be made in person at the Sacramento County Tax Collector's Office at 700 H Street, Room 1710, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. In person payments can be paid via cash, check, credit card, debit card or money order. A convenience fee will apply for credit card and debit card transactions.

Payments can be sent via mail to P.O. Box 508, Sacramento, CA 95812-0508. The Tax Collector accepts and processes payments based on the postmark date. Payments may not be credited to the tax bill for several business days dependent upon the volume of payments received, whether payments were submitted with the correct payment stubs, and/or whether envelopes were postmarked by the delinquent date.

Property tax law requires that parcels be assessed at their factored Prop 13 value, or their fair market value (as of the Jan. 1, 2026, property tax lien date), whichever is less.

A rising real estate market can cause higher than expected increases in a parcel's annual tax bill if that parcel was in Prop 8 status last year. However, the assessed value of any parcel cannot increase beyond that parcel's factored Prop 13 level. The 2% inflation cap applies only to Prop 13 assessments. It does not apply to Prop 8 assessments, which by law must track the property's market value until it reaches the Prop 13 factored value.

Find assessed values at assessor.saccounty.gov under "Assessed Value Lookup," including this year's value and the factored Prop 13 value for comparison. If a taxpayer has evidence that their assessed value as of Jan. 1 was less than that shown on this year's 2026-2027 tax bill, they should visit the Assessor's Website (assessor.saccounty.gov), call the Assessor's Office at 916- 875-0700 or email the Assessor's Office at Assessor@SacCounty.gov.

Taxpayers can obtain current-year tax bill information, direct levy information, delinquent prior-year tax information and amounts due online by searching by APN or property address. A QR code is also provided on the tax bill payment stub for convenient access to the website using a smartphone. Payments can be made online by credit card or electronic check, or taxpayers may print tax bill installment payment stubs to mail with their payments.

Payments can also be made by telephone through the 24-hour Automated Property Tax Information Line at 844-430-2823. The automated line is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and provides property tax information, detailed billing and payment information, and the option to make payments by credit card or electronic check.

Tax specialists are available Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at 916-874-6622.

R&TC 2610.5 "Failure to receive a tax bill does not relieve the property owner of the liability to pay taxes in a timely manner or give the Tax Collector reason to cancel penalties imposed for late payment."

Even if your tax bill is being paid by a lending institution (mortgage company), state law requires that a copy of the tax bill be sent to the property owner; all property owners should receive either the original tax bill or an "Owner's Information Copy." It is the responsibility of the property owner to keep their mailing address current with the Assessor's Office. To update your mailing address, please contact the Assessor's Office in writing at 3636 American River Drive, Suite 200, Sacramento, CA 95864 or via email at Assessor@saccounty.gov. Please make sure you include a parcel number and phone number with all correspondence. ★

Mayor MariJane Lopez-Taff thanked staff for the report and said the reflective backplates at stoplights have significantly improved signal visibility.

The council considered a second amended Joint Powers Agreement (JPA) between the City of Citrus Heights and the City of Folsom, the City of Sacramento and the County of Sacramento – operating as the Sacramento Groundwater Authority (SGA).

The JPA was established in 1998 to manage, protect and sustain the groundwater resources in Sacramento County north of the American River.

The SGA's 16-member board of directors includes representatives from the coordinating agencies as well as local municipal water agencies that pump groundwater.

Currently, Citrus Heights' appointed representative on the SGA board is Caryl Sheehan (with Raymond Riehle as the alternate) from the Citrus Heights Water District (CHWD). Appointments are for four-year terms.

The SGA board identified several administrative updates to the JPA, which was last updated in 2002.

Most significant is the dissolution of the Del Paso Manor Water District (DPMWD), which was absorbed into the Sacramento Suburban Water District in 2025. This has left a vacancy on the board that can't be filled since the entity no longer exists. The proposed update would remove DPMWD as a member and remove the associated seat.

Other changes would align the JPA powers with those outlined in the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act (SGMA) of 2014, which gave groundwater sustainability agencies certain powers to manage groundwater use.

Another revision hopes to address the occasional delay in appointing new board members when a vacancy occurs.

During public comments, Citrus Heights resident Ted Costa said he served on the CHWD board for 30 years, and he opposed Citrus Heights appointing their SGA representative from within the CHWD. He said it's usually a councilmember or county supervisor who serves on the SGA board. He recommended the council appoint one of their own members to the SGA in the future, in order to better represent Citrus Heights' interests. He said, "We're talking about billions of dollars of water" that needs to be managed.

The council had additional questions about this item, and the consensus was to continue the discussion at a future meeting.

Finally, in February the council established a Youth Advisory Commission (YAC), which would allow local youth to participate in the governance of Citrus Heights by making recommendations to the council.

To be eligible for the commission, youth must be residents of Citrus Heights in grades 8-12. There were 13 available positions, and applications were accepted from June through September. The initial term is for one year, with the option for re-appointment to a second year of service.

The city received nine applications, but one was not a Citrus Heights resident, so eight were recommended for appointment: Abigail Davis, Kameron Edwards, Emelin Hernandez Serrano, Charles Howland, Tyler Panag, Lilliana Perez-Salazar, Hana Robbins and Gabreal Sansing.

Councilmember Jayna Karpinski-Costa suggested all nine should be accepted, since the non-resident did attend school in Citrus Heights.

Councilmember Tim Schaefer thought the residency requirement was reasonable. Mayor Lopez-Taff agreed, stating that residents would have a different viewpoint.

The council voted 2-1 to approve the YAC appointments, with Karpinski-Costa dissenting and Councilmembers Porsche Middleton and Kelsey Nelson absent.

City Attorney Ryan Jones said resolutions, ordinances or expenditures of money require a council majority of at least three members in favor, but in this case a simple majority of those in attendance can pass the motion.

So, the YAC appointments were approved.

The next regular meeting of the Citrus Heights City Council was scheduled for Nov. 11, but due to the observance of Veterans Day, it will instead be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10. ★

Suspect Arrested in Ongoing Serial Commercial Burglaries

Citrus Heights Police Department News Release

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - On Oct. 27, at approximately 3:07 a.m., Citrus Heights Police Department officers responded to the 8000 block of Madison Avenue regarding a report of a subject inside a commercial business.

Prior to officers' arrival, the suspect, identified as 36-year-old Gregory Billman, fled the location with approximately $8,000 worth of power tools and other merchandise. Upon arrival, officers deployed a small, unmanned aircraft system (sUAS) and determined that Billman had gained entry to the business through the roof.

During the subsequent investigation, officers located several items of stolen merchandise concealed in nearby bushes. Billman was located nearby, where he was found hiding and in possession of additional stolen property. All of the stolen merchandise was recovered and returned to the store. Billman was taken into custody without incident and booked into the Sacramento County Jail.

"I am very proud of the excellent response by our patrol officers and the determined follow-up by our detectives that led to this arrest and brought accountability for Mr. Billman's previous crimes," said Chief Alexander Turcotte.

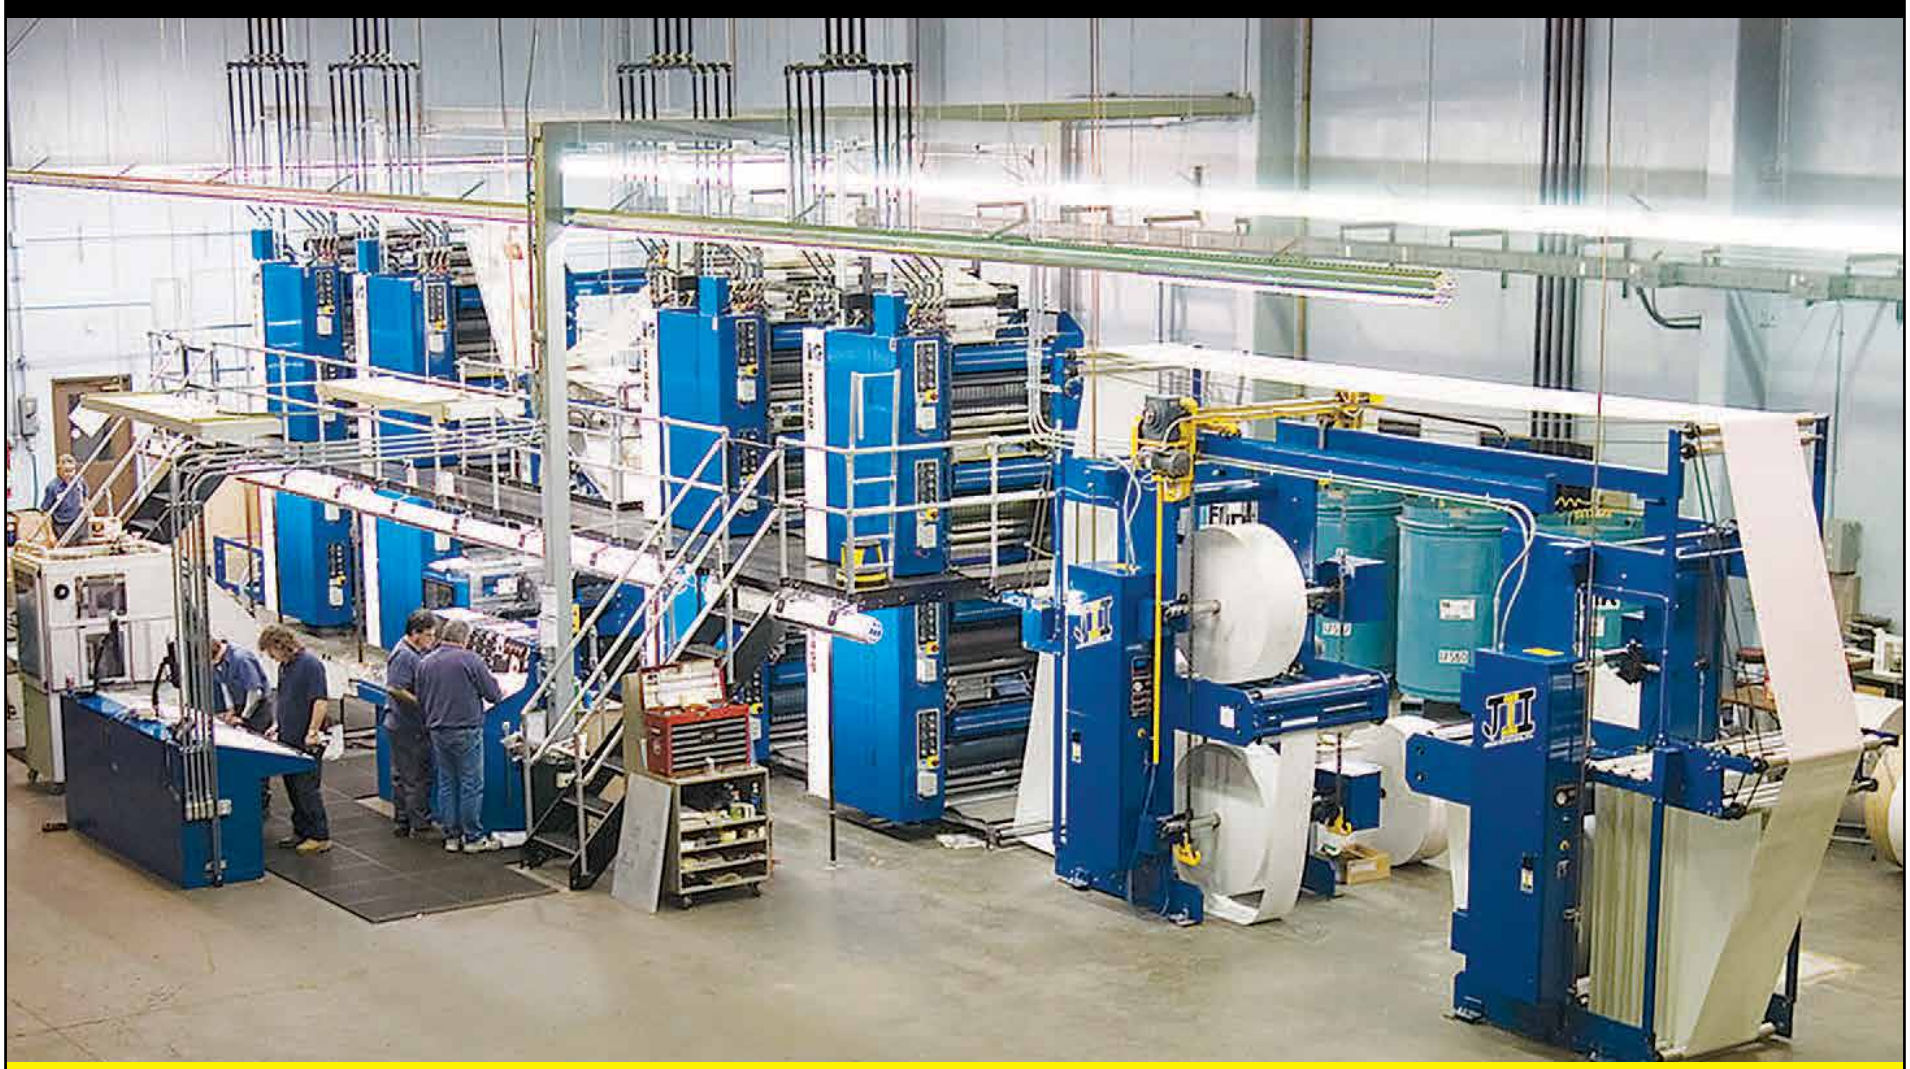

Billman was also booked on additional charges resulting from an ongoing investigation involving four additional commercial burglaries in Citrus Heights dating back to 2024. The collective value of merchandise stolen in those incidents is estimated at approximately $500,000.

Detectives are continuing to pursue all available leads and are coordinating with outside agencies regarding the related burglaries that Billman has been linked to outside of Citrus Heights.

Anyone with information about this incident or related cases is encouraged to contact the Citrus Heights Police Department at 916-727-5500. ★

Dave Ramsey Says

Realigning, Teaching and Building Expectations Gradually

Dear Dave,

My fiancé and I are getting married next spring. This means I'm also going to become stepfather. The only concern I have is that my fiancé's daughter seems to be a little irresponsible. She's 23 and still living at home. She doesn't care about having a steady job, and if she doesn't have money to make her car payment, she expects her mom to make it for her. My fiancé and I both agree that she hasn't expected enough of her daughter in the past, but we're not sure how to change things going forward. Do you have any suggestions?

– Reece

Dear Reece,

This is a tough situation for you and your fiancé. But I think you're both on the right track in wanting to teach her some discipline and maturity. It's also very important that both of you are on the same page and in agreement every step of the way.

Lots of marriage counselors say you have a really good chance of a successful marriage if you're in agreement on four things—religion, money, children and in-laws. So, first things first. I'd strongly suggest you and your fiancé go through pre-marital counseling to make sure you're on the same page when it comes to handling this and other issues. You might also want to read a book called "Boundaries" by Dr. Henry Cloud. And do this together. It's a great book. It will give you several ideas for creating a reasonable timeline aimed at teaching her more responsibility.

Now, I would recommend letting her mom present any changes to her initially. Let her start the process by explaining that she's made mistakes in not teaching her more about personal responsibility and self-reliance. Then, she can begin to lay out a few simple expectations and rules.

If she doesn't currently have a job, there's absolutely nothing wrong with requiring her to get one within 30 days. I'm not talking about a full-blown career necessarily, just something to put her on the road to becoming a little more self-sufficient. During this first phase, looking for work every day of the week should be her job. And it wouldn't be a bad idea to start teaching her about budgeting, saving and everything else that goes into handling money wisely, too.

Phase two might consist of requiring her to help around the house doing chores on her days off. Then, after a month or two of this, phase three might involve her paying a small amount in rent.

Do you see what I'm doing? By stepping up the expectations gradually, you're building a foundation, so she'll have the tools and knowledge to be able to move out in a few months and start living life like a mature, responsible adult!

Citrus Heights Veteran Receives Overdue Military Honors

Family members across generations of the Giusti family honored Emil as member of the "Greatest Generation."

Congressman Ami Bera pinned each medal Emil's chest as his family, including grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and invited guests looked on.

Story and photos by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Emil Giusti, now 100 years young, a U.S. Army combat veteran of the liberation of the Philippines in 1945, proudly came to attention in his wheelchair on Tuesday, Oct. 13 in the front yard of his family home, flags unfurling behind him.

The afternoon ceremony began with an introduction from a member of Congressman Ami Bera's staff who introduced Emil recounting his remarkable life and love for his family and his local community.

In attendance, Congressman Ami Bera waited as members of a California Army National honor guard in dress uniform soon called "Attention to Orders" and read to Emil the official orders from the Department of the Army which would formally present him with the Purple Heart and Bronze Star medals for "wounds in action and meritorious achievement in active ground combat against an enemy of the United States."

Congressman Bera then stepped forward to pin the Purple Heart and Bronze Star on Emil's chest as his family, including grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and invited guests, including Citrus Heights Mayor MariJane Lopez-Taff and City Manager Ash Feeney, looked on.

Emil was just beginning his senior year at San Juan High School in the fall of 1944 during World War II when he was called up by the local Draft Board at age 18 to start Army basic training.

During his overseas wartime service, Giusti served with the U.S. 37th "Buckeye" Infantry Division, in Company C of the 145th Infantry Regiment during the liberation of the Philippines and the Battle of Manila in February 1945.

Giusti was wounded in action on June 17, 1945, during the battle for Luzon and was combat eligible to be awarded both the Purple Heart medal and the Bronze Star at the time of his discharge in 1945.

Bera described Giusti as a member of the "Greatest Generation," young men and women who stepped forward in a time of war to answer a call to service to their country during World War II and who when they returned, stayed true to their values of personal responsibility, duty, honor, and faith which forged them.

When Giusti was interviewed in early September for a Citrus Heights Messenger feature marking his upcoming 100th birthday, neither he nor his family realized that his original Army discharge record showed he was eligible for both the Purple Heart and Bronze Star.

Representatives of the Giusti family soon reached out to Congressman Bera's Office on their father's behalf, and within a month promptly received a reply from his office that both medals would be formally presented by the Department of the Army and that he would pin them personally.

His three brothers, Mario, Emil and Joseph are also inscribed on a commemorative plaque in a World War II remembrance garden in Rusch Community Park in Citrus Heights for their wartime service.

The Purple Heart, the oldest military award presented to American service members, was established by General George Washington on Aug. 7, 1782, during the Revolutionary War and is awarded in the name of the President of the United States, recognizing the courage and service of military personnel who have been wounded or killed in action.

According to the National Purple Heart Hall of Honor, more than 1.8 million Purple Heart medals have been presented to service members since the award was created in 1782.

During his wartime overseas service Giusti earned the Combat Infantryman's Badge (CIB), Giusti received the Philippine Liberation Ribbon with 1 Bronze Star, the Army Good Conduct Medal, the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal, World War II Victory Medal and the Philippine Independence Ribbon.

During the ceremony, Giusti was awarded the Bronze Star medal for "meritorious achievement in active ground combat against an enemy of the United States" while serving with Company C, 1st Battalion, 145th Infantry Regiment, in the Philippine Islands on July 14, 1945.

"Private First Class Giusti's exemplary performance of duty in active ground combat was keeping with the finest traditions of military service and reflects great credit upon him, the (U.S.) 37th Infantry Division, and the United States Army." The award was given under the hand of the Secretary of the Army on Sept. 1, 2026, by the Adjutant General, U.S. Army Resources Command, Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

During the ceremony, Congressman Ami Bera named Giusti Veteran of the Month and presented him with a Certificate of Congressional Recognition on behalf of the constituents of California's 6th Congressional District, honoring his community contributions and service to the nation. Giusti also received a folded U.S. flag flown over the U.S. Capitol at the congressman's request.

The U.S. 37th Infantry Division in which Giusti served was part of the U.S. forces in the Pacific Theater, fighting through the Northern Solomons and the Luzon campaign under the command of Gen. Douglas McArthur. Giusti's 145th Infantry Regiment, as part of the 73rd Infantry Brigade, advanced into Manila in early 1945 after the Japanese surrender.

Giusti concluded his enlisted Army service as a corporal in a military police unit and recalls escorting a Japanese general to Clark Field in the Philippines for a post-war criminal war trial.
