

For over a decade FACE Magazine has featured some of the most fascinating women in Acadiana. The stories they have so unselfishly shared with our loyal readers have made us laugh, cry and think. Their impact [past and present] continues to educate and inspire countless people on a global level.

Do you know a woman currently living in the Acadiana area that brings the best out in those she meets? A woman, who inspires others, has overcome a great tragedy, or accomplished an amazing or unique goal? Do you know a woman who puts others ahead of herself for the betterment of our community? If so, and you think she has a great community interest story; we would love to learn more about her.
