Fallen Soldiers Remembered

By Michele Taranto

The holidays are a time to rejoice, but also a time for remembrance. Norwood residents do not forget and demonstrate their sincere appreciation in December to those who sacrificed in the fifth year of Wreaths Across America. This national movement pays tribute to fallen veterans and honor those who are often forgotten. The mission is to REMEMBER fallen U.S. Veterans, HONOR those who serve, and TEACH your children the value of freedom. This is done by placing wreaths on local service men and women's graves at Highland and Old Parish Cemeteries. This expression is in coordination with wreath-laying ceremonies with Arlington National Cemetery and more than 1,600 locations across 50 states in the United States.

The event will take place on Saturday, Dec, 17, 12 noon, Highland Cemetery. Volunteers and visitors are encouraged to arrive between 11:30 and 11:45 a.m., as the minute of silence across Norwood America and islands begins at 12 noon. Currently scheduled to speak at this moving ceremony:

The Life & Death of a Survivor

BY DONNA LANE

His story is not pretty, yet there is a certain beauty in it. It is about a man who survived the Holocaust. A man who lost most of his family, but who late in life was able to form a new one. It is a story about hope and about coming to America. It is about Aron Greenfield, an inspiration, who with his wife Martha, owned Brenner's Children Shop, in Norwood Center, for 49 years and who willingly shared his story hoping those who heard it would be inspired to continue telling it and teaching others.

Aron Greenfield was born in Dukla, Poland, in 1926. He died unexpectedly, but peacefully, at his only daughter's home in Maryland, on September 26, 2022, the first day of Rosh Hashanah during a holiday nap, surrounded by the people who loved him most.

This is his story.

Aron lived in Poland, about 20 km from the German border in a small town of Szczakowa, near Norwood donations have steadily supported this event the past four years and local coordinator Andrea Reed is again counting on the community and local town municipalities and employees for their support in 2022. Reed, her volunteers, and corporate sponsor Ecolab are hoping to again reach last year's number of 400 wreaths. This year, Walsh Construction has already donated an impressive 100 wreaths for the Highland and Old Parish Cemeteries. This figure is a great launch to hopefully beat the approximately 400 wreaths placed in 2021. An individual wreath sponsorship is $15, 2 for $30, 5 for $75, or 10 for $150.

"We are always looking for donations as this is all based on the generosity of those willing to donate for wreaths to honor the veterans," Reed said.

Reed also welcomes any volunteers interested to personally join in the sentimental occasion through participation.

Wreaths Across America is a venue to not only pay tribute to this country's military but an opportunity to pause and reflect on the meaning of holidays, and honoring those who have sacrificed so U.S. citizens can celebrate with family and friends.

"Throughout the years of meeting veterans, volunteering for this and other events, I have heard so many amazing stories and yet, the remarkable people telling the stories are so humble," Reed said, "I cannot express how grateful I am that they take the time to share those stories with me as I am always so amazed and honored to be in their presence. They are every day heroes and walk among us every day. This even, for me, is one way that I am able give back and appreciate those who came before me as they have paved the way for my children to enjoy the freedoms of today."

the city of Krakow, with a population of 8,000, 2,000 of whom were Jews. He was familiar with the propaganda being broadcast into Poland and the slogan "The Jews are our misfortune."

His memory was clear and sharp at 88 when he told me this story. He was only 13 years old when, at 2:00 a.m., his home was invaded by soldiers telling everyone to get out and clear the streets of snow to make way for the soldiers. His parents, Orthodox Jews, and their nine children were driven out into the cold. If that wasn't enough, he watched as the soldiers beat his father and shaved his beard for sport. It was September 1, 1939.

His family was put on half rations. His father and older brothers were sent to work camps. He was the oldest male left behind. By the end of the winter of 1940, he was pressed into labor, forced to carry 12 bricks on his back, up and down stairs, to assist the renovation of a building the Germans would use as headquarters.

What was left of his family lived in a Ghetto, a part of the city where Jews were required to live. Three families occupied three rooms.

In 1941, Greenfield was sent to work in a tannery, and in 1942 sent to another concentration camp in Poland. Those who were not headed for a camp to work, especially women and children, were sent to Auschwitz; some to be put to work, others to be put to death. Aron said that each time he was sent to a new camp he had to learn how to survive in that camp. Workers were given two slices of bread per day, barely enough to live on. If you weren't careful, your food would be stolen.

When a particular job was done at a camp, the workers would be lined up and culled according to how strong they looked. By Camp #5, Aron was tired and weak and could hardly walk. It was extremely cold and he had to sleep in a warehouse.

"I have no idea how I survived," Greenfield said.

In 1944, he was sent to another camp where they made munitions. His job was to fill bullets with powder. Unlike the other workers, the Jews were given no gloves or masks and they were given very little food.

At 17, he was moved again to a camp in Gorlitz.

"It was a terrible camp," he said.

It housed about 6,000 people. "We walked seven miles to work each day," Greenfield said.

By the time he was 19, Greenfield was in his ninth concentration camp and was forced into a Death March - a forced march of prisoners of war or other captives with the intent to kill, brutalize, weaken, and/or demoralize as many as possible.

In April of 1945, with the war over, he looked for his family. He found one sister, Sala, in the town they came from. None of the next three years in a Displaced Persons camp in Austria, near Salsburg, where, gratefully, he received three meals a day and was able to read books. His formal education in Poland had stopped at 6th grade, so he was anxious to educate himself. He read a lot about the history of the United States and decided that's where of people who wished to go to America. He had a cousin in New York that guaranteed they would be responsible for him. Through Jewish agency help, he arrived in New York in January of 1949, stayed several months, and then settled in Boston.

He lived in Dorchester for three years with his sister, her husband, and their young daughter, taking work wherever he could and always reading, studying, and learning English. In 1953, he started his own business as a "custom peddler," selling soft goods door-to-door. In 1954, Greenfield became an American citizen.

In 1969, while on the road peddling, he met Martha who was also born in Poland (and also with an interesting history). In January of 1971, they were engaged. On May 1 of that year, Aron was shot. What irony! He survived nine concentration camps and a Death March only to be shot in a hold-up in Roxbury. Despite his injuries, he and Martha were married in June and spent eight months recovering from his gunshot wounds.

Two years later, Aron bought Brenner's Children Shop and slowly built up the store's inventory. It was a long time getting to Norwood, but he and Martha became a mainstay of the town, and for 49 years "dressed" hundreds of children for special events, like bat mitzvahs, First Holy Communion, Boy and Girl Scouts.

During our interview in 2014, Aron said, "I love this country. You can be anything you want to be here! And you can do anything you want." He worried about the youth of today and the fact that that they want so much in the way of material things. He advised "don't buy what you can't afford."

He said he took nothing for granted and he worried about his grandchildren. His advice to young people was to "Read the front page – not just the sports pages of the paper so you know what's going on." With everything happening in the world today, it is still remarkably sage advice.

Aron's daughter, Nadine, said that her dad was "a lover of dancing, good music, dark chocolate, cake, coffee, listening to the news, talking politics, and washing dishes. He was funny, young at heart and full of energy. He was an incredibly devoted husband, father, and grandfather, and there was nothing he wouldn't do for his family."

No chronicle can adequately detail all of the events and indignities that Aron survived. It was Aron's hope that people be aware, watchful, tolerant and kind to one another, because you never know what is or has gone on in the lives of others.

Norwood residents are thankful for the many years Aron and Martha served the community through Brenner's Children's Shop and Aron's public speaking events.

Donations in Aron's memory may be made to Jewish Family & Children's Services of Boston's Holocaust Services fund (www.ifcsboston.org), or to the American Association of Jewish Holocaust Survivors of Greater Boston.

Luminary Night Shines Brightly

BY BELLA CAGGIANO

Luminary Night is a magical night in Norwood, and for residents new to this wonderful Town and unfamiliar with this inspirational event, it is an inspirational experience that must be included for the holiday calendar. The Circle of Hope Foundation's Enchanting Luminary Night will be held on Saturday, December 3, 4-6 p.m., on Norwood's Town Common. Visitors stroll through the walkways in search for their personal messages in memory of lost loved ones. Even residents who have not posted a luminary, visit the Common to express and share their sympathies and to take a moment to embrace the spirit of the season.

For the past 20 years, luminaries have lit up the Town Common walkways in remembrance of lost loves. The luminary bags are engraved with an individual name, message, prayer or date as a symbol of Life, Hope, the Season or in Remembrance of others. Luminaries can be purchased the night of the event for $5.

"Every candle that is lit is help-founder Lee Kennedy said. "You don't know when you light that candle who you are helping."

The Circle of Hope foundation was established in 1998 in memory of Kennedy's daughter, Michelle Kennedy, who suffered from leukemia. Local residents united during her battle, many who did not even know her personally. The Circle of Hope established in her memory preserves that community spirit by donating fundraising proceeds to Norwood families who need assistance due to a catastrophic medical

Meet Pumpkin

It's pumpkin spice season folks and boy do we have a treat for you! Pumpkin is as sweet as pie and will purr the moment she sees her favorite humans, but still has her spicy moments that keep things interesting! After an adjustment period and getting to trust her new people, Pumpkin's spicy side subsides and turns into playfulness. Pumpkin is looking for a quiet home and some humans to call her own. She says no thanks to other animals, she is the star of the show! Pumpkin has a long coat and will need regular grooming to prevent matting and keep her paws trimmed down so she doesn't slide around! Other than that, once settled in she is a low maintenance gal who's just happy to have a spot on the couch or perhaps an armchair with a cozy blanket.

Meet Juni (Juniper)

She does get stressed out easily, so a quiet home without young kids is preferred, even though she does tolerate them okay without lashing out. If you have sherpa blankets, she'll be your best friend!

If you would like to adopt Pumpkin or Juni, complete a non-commitment application on the BSAC website: www.baystateanimals.org

Our Foster Families: True Heroes

The Bay State Animal Cooperative (BSAC) is a non-profit cat rescue group which is run entirely by its tireless volunteers; From the board members, to the back-end admin staff, to transport, to the foster families. While every element contributes to the success of this organization, this is a time to give thanks to the selfless foster families.

These people open their homes and hearts and go above and beyond to rescue, foster, adopt, and love our most precious cats. Without a temporary place to call home, BSAC would not be able to accept these surrenders. Their time with their foster family can be short or can be long (and often a foster fail and resides permanently). It can take a lot of time and patience for a cat to adjust to a new home, and BSAC foster parents are not only up for the challenge but provide a loving environment.

During that time, the foster family is not only evaluating the cat's readiness for adoption, but also its needs, likes, preferences, and happiness. The next vital step is placing that cat in the perfect furrever home and learning and sharing these traits will assist the adoption counselors to do just that.

Some of our foster cats have medical or social challenges to face and those stays can be short or long term, or even a permanent foster placement. But not to fear....there are generous people within the BSAC who take in these souls as well. Once again, a caring group of volunteers steps in to give a home in what would otherwise be a hopeless situation.

2023 CALENDAF

So cheers to the 2022 foster families. Without them, the Bay State Animal Cooperative could not achieve their mission to save one cat at a time!

The BSAC is extremely lucky to have such gracious foster families that open their homes and their hearts for these helpless cats, but the need is great. There are more homeless cats than foster homes and BSAC needs help. have a normal high school life.

Norwood High School senior Tony Schaul reflected on his experience.

" I feel like it affected me the most when it came to school work," Schaul said. "I had a lot of trouble with online school and that kind of lowered my confidence with my school work and made me feel dumb. Now that it's more normal I've been doing really well and I'm happy about it."

The academic pressure that many students experienced really seemed to be detrimental to many and it is a big deal for seniors attempting to get into college because now they have to work really hard this year to get their GPA up.

The lack of social engagement that accompanied online school also was damaging to many students as they didn't get a chance to socialize and grow socially like prior generations.

Norwood High School Senior Jake Deshiro felt like he missed a lot from a special time in life due to Covid.

"It [Covid] didn't give me the opportunity to be a teenager," Deshiro said. "I didn't get to hang out with my friends, go places, spend money, because everything was shut down and quarantined."

Although every story has a silver lining, Deshiro reflected on that silver lining, which ironically, was Covid.

"It was definitely a net positive because I was able to work on and improve myself," Deshiro said.

Seeing Covid as a growth period was a way that many teenagers waded through the tough times.

Covid provided an interesting societal pause that allowed many students to take a deep breath and reel everything back in.

Living Healthy

I Never Saw a Bulls-Eye!!!!!

Lyme Disease often goes undiagnosed as the symptoms often mimic many other diseases such as chronic fatigue and the flu. When symptoms last several weeks, those signs should be followed up with a blood test. Lyme Disease is typically treated with doxycycline. This antibiotic however is not always effective, especially with the many co-infections of Lyme, such as Borrelia, Bartonella, Babesia, Rickettsia and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.

According to the Center for Disease Control (CDC), an estimated 300,000 Americans are diagnosed with Lyme Disease each year, and the numbers are rising. Although it is believed that Lyme is a result of a tick bite, the infectious bacteria can be spread by other biting or blood-sucking insects, including mosquitoes, spiders, fleas and mites.

Common effects of tick bites include an itchy "bulls-eye," but this rash only occurs in about half of those infected. Other symptoms include unrelenting fever, headaches/migraines and achy muscles and joints.

For three years Lillian suffered with various ailments, including muscle aches, joint pains, brain fog, extreme fatigue and unrelenting headaches. Her primary care physician diagnosed Lyme Disease, prescribed doxycycline, and notified her several weeks later she was successfully treated for Lyme. An appointment with a Rheumatologist for her "arthritic" condition resulted in a prescription for antidepressants, a side effect of dealing with the pain. Lillian felt her life was slowly slipping away. A referral to the Holistic Center at Bristol Square set her on a new path. At the center, Lillian was diagnosed with Bartonella, a coinfection of Lyme, and was treated homeopathically for the strain as well as for her other related health issues. Within three months Lillian's life started to return. Today she is virtually symptom free and enjoying her life free of pain and fatigue.

If you suffer from Lyme Disease, don't delay. Call the Holistic Center at Bristol Square today (508)660-2722 and schedule an appointment with Dr. Bien or Dr. Goldstein.

Ready, Set, Decorate!

By Michele Taranto

Years ago, outdoor holiday decorating meant some lights sprinkled through trees and bushes and maybe some candles in the windows. Today, embellishing the exterior landscape and house has transformed into an competition months in the making.

Feeling that spirited holiday bug? Challenge your neighbors and friends this year at the Norwood Recreation Department is hosting its 5th Annual Holiday House Decorating Contest! This has become an incredibly popular and fun competition as Norwood neighborhoods flaunt their spirit for all to enjoy. For the past four years, residents pulled out all the stops on their decorating and this year should be an even bigger event building on that festive momentum!

Contestants simply need to register their house with the Norwood Recreation Department and it will be listed as an interactive map on the Norwood Recreation social media pages the second week in December. Rivalries not for you? Enjoy the spirit of others while driving throughout Norwood to take in all the decorated homes! Last year, approximately 40 homes entered the local battle of the holiday displays!

Judges will rank each decorated house and three winners will be announced a week before Christmas. The top winner will receive bragging rights with the traveling trophy! Gift cards to local businesses will be provided to each winner. To register your home or for more information, contact the Norwood Civic Center at 781-762-0466 or email mduffykidd@ norwoodma. gov. Residents can nominate their home or their neighbor's home. Town employees will contact nominations before placing them on the map.

Those who cannot visit the homes in person can also view on the map.

So, who in Norwood is up for the challenge and boasting rights for the most festive home in Norwood!!??

Scammers Unwelcome in Norwood

By Michele Taranto

The five or six weeks of the holiday season is a time to rejoice with family and friends. There intends. There is typically a lot going on, i.e., shopping, entertaining, dining, dining out, b a k i n g, wrapping, services, and much more. It is also a time when consumers can very easily get distracted and let their guard down. Unfortunately, predators are aware of this and use this busy time to target people either online, through phone calls, email, or even postal mail.

The Town of Norwood is addressing this increasing problem with the initiation of the Norwood Anti Scam Task Force. The idea was originally suggested by Town Manager Tony Mazzucco, approved through the Norwood of Selectmen, and is currently comprised of members from the Council on Aging, Norwood Police Department, Board of Selectmen, Norwood Public Health, and Norwood Bank. Their Mission Statement: The Norwood f

Anti Scam Task Force (NASTF) is staffed by Town of Norwood employees to provide e d u c a t i o n and awareness of scams that are occurring in

New England Ballistic Services

Instant cash paid for

Norwood. The task force is using a collaborative, cross-departmental approach, with a focus on older adults and those who may be more vulnerable, to help improve residents' lives by preventing and reducing scams that occur.

Look for a town-wide mailing from The NASTF over the holidays for more information, but in the meantime, residents are encouraged to stop and evaluate who/what is asking for money. If unsure, engage the help of others to investigate before reaching in your wallet for cash or a credit card, or driving to the bank or a store.

Once implemented, the NASTF will increase education around Town on how to protect yourself from fraudulent activity, including what to look out for, warning signs of suspicious behavior, and what to do if you think you have been scammed.

The program will also increase awareness of common fraudulent activity, such as telephone, gift card, banking, lottery, and charity scams.

As mentioned in its mission statement, the group will have a focus on older adults, (especially those over 65), and will work towards reducing the number of senior citizens affected by scams through increased awareness and education and decrease the negative stigma and shame with being a victim.

Throughout the holiday season, be vigilant of monetary requests, and keep a look out this month for more information on the Norwood Anti Scam Force through their town-wide mailing. In the meantime, anyone who feels they have been a victim of fraud should contact the Norwood Police Department.

Wonderful Women of Norwood: Martha Gilman Robie Winslow

By: Karen DeNaploi, Laurie Kearney, and Linda Rau, Norwood Historical Society

The Norwood Historical Society would like to present Martha Gilman Robie Winslow for our December Wonderful Women of Norwood series.

Martha Gilman Robie, (Mrs. Frances Olney Winslow) was born in Plymouth, NH, on November 11, 1841, and was the third of seven children to Col. Frederick Robie and Lucinda Gilman Fogg Robie. Martha came from two well-known and esteemed families in New Hampshire. On her mother's side, her grandfather Stephen Fogg served in the Revolutionary War in the First New Hampshire Militia under Captain Stephen Clark. Another uncle was Doctor David Sylvester Fogg, one of South Dedham/Norwood's first physicians (and whose wife, Mary Fogg, was one of our earlier Wonderful Women).

Martha was educated in Plymouth, NH schools and the Franklin Institute in New York. It is not clear when Martha came to South Dedham, perhaps to visit

(There is also speculation on where the high school was located at that time.) Being well educated, Martha was listed as an assistant teacher teaching languages and the classics.

In 1861, the village of South Dedham had not yet been incorporated into the town of Norwood. Most young women and men of high school age traveled to Dedham to attend the high school located on Highland St. In 1851, Dedham had the first high school in the country supported by tax revenue and was free and public. However, the travel to Dedham proved hard for some of South Dedham's young people so high school classes were held at the Everett School, and also, for about 40 students, at the First Congregational Church, in South Dedham. Speculation is that Martha taught the students who attended classes at the First Congregational Church. Martha taught these classes until 1866 which is the year that she married.

Martha was deeply religious and in 1861 she was united with (joined) the First Congregational Church in South Dedham, the same day that her future husband Frances Olney Winslow was united. Martha's husband Frances was the youngest son of the prosperous South Dedham Winslow family that built and operated the Winslow & Smith Tannery, one of the most profitable and longest-running industries in South Dedham (later Norwood). Both Martha and her husband Frances were outstanding and caring members of the community and supporters of education, arts, and charitable endeavors.

Martha and Frances Winslow married June 6, 1866, in Plymouth NH, and made their home in Norwood. In 1876, they built a beautiful house on Walpole St. and named it Oak View. Martha and Frances had two daughters, Clara Henrietta, who was the first wife of Frank Allen, and Edith Martha, who married George Willett. Both sons-in-law went on to play important roles in the forming of the town of Norwood. Clara died in 1924.

Martha, although no longer teaching high school, continued to teach Sunday school to the children that belonged to the First Congregational Parish, a volunteer ministry she continued her entire life. As for her charitable works, she did this quietly and many people did not even know that she was the source of their help.

After the town of Norwood was incorporated and separate from Dedham, they formed their own school system. From the late 1880s until the early 1900s Martha served on the town's school committee, serving as chairperson in 1892. She was the first woman to hold this position. Noted as having great kindness and empathy, along with great executive ability and a clear perception of right and wrong, Martha added much to the church and community committees and organizations she belonged to. She was an officer of the Norwood Women's Club, a trustee of the public library, and through her grandfather Stephen Fogg, a member of the DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution).

Martha died in Norwood, on January 28, 1913. Upon her death, her husband Frances O Winslow, knowing his wife's love of education, art, and charitable works, and sharing these characteristics, donated in her memory 39 pieces of art to various institutions in Norwood. The Norwood schools received 33 of these pieces of art.

Martha Gilman Robie Winslow, with her strong individuality, sense of fairness and compassion, and firm faith and love of her community was a much-loved Wonderful Woman of Norwood. Sources:

Norwood Sports Dylan O'Brien: Norwood Finish in Sight

By Christopher Tremblay

It wasn't a sport that he envisioned himself taking part in when he was a youngster growing up in Norwood. Playing Little League, he found himself on the mound as a pitcher, and in high school, he played outfield for the junior varsity squad. But running would eventually take over and he would pursue the sport all three seasons for the Mustangs.

"In middle school, they had a cross country program, so along with a bunch of friends we all tried it out," Dylan O'Brien said. "It was a good experience for me and I enjoyed it so I ran cross country in sixth and seventh grade. I really liked the team, and we had a lot of fun. Unfortunately, most of my friends quit after that first year, but I stuck with it. I enjoyed it so much that I decided to give up baseball to focus on track as I felt that I was better at it."

Upon entering Norwood High School, O'Brien joined the cross country team where he posted a personal best of 18:33. This year as a senior he has cut his time down to 16:21.

During the winter season, the Norwood native runs the 1000 and 4x400; his personal best at the middle distance has been 2:43. The movement from cross country to indoor track had him elated with the sport.

"I found that I liked track a lot better because there were no hills to run and I felt that I had more speed than stamina, although I had the stamina from cross country," O'Brien said.

However, while O'Brien seemed to enjoy running the middle distance events he had himself a very tough time in the beginning transitioning into the winter track season from cross country. The now senior recalls his first track race was tough as he really didn't understand how to approach his event.

"I came into my first track race treating it like it was a cross country race where I was pacing myself which I really didn't need to do as this was a much shorter race," O'Brien said. "After a few races, I realized that I didn't need to pace myself and that I still had a lot left in the tank when the race was done."

Having not run track before he didn't really know where his first race time (3:01 in the 1000) fit in so he began comparing his running times to that of senior Paul Forest to get a sense of the event.

Upon entering his first indoor track season, he figured that Coach Matt Curran would slot him in the two-mile race because he was a cross country runner, but that didn't happen as Norwood had a couple of good 2-milers on the team. Curran thought that the 1000 would be best for O'Brien.

After his first season running for Norwood, O'Brien would continue to practice every day, while using speed workouts to help decrease his times. Each and every meet O'Brien saw his times drop slightly, but it was usually during the big meets like the Tri-Valley League Championship and Divisional Meets where he saw the biggest decrease. The Mustang senior noted the decrease were larger during those meets as he was competing against some better competition.

Through his three years thus far as a Norwood runner, the senior has been named to the TVL All-Star team for cross country and winter track during both his sophomore and junior seasons, while also being named to the spring All-Star team last year as a junior.

When his senior seasons began in the fall, O'Brien was looking to go out and have fun while continuing to decrease his times. Finishing his junior season running cross country O'Brien ran a personal best of 17:22, and coming into this season he wanted to get his time below 16:45, which he did. His other goals this year will be to get his 1000 time below 2:38 (he's currently 5 seconds above that as the season gets under way) and in the spring he would like to see his 800 time go below 1:58 (he is 4 seconds above that right now).

To accomplish his goals, the Norwood runner will have to consistently train.

Once high school is complete, O'Brien's cross country and track career will come to an end as he has no plans on taking part in any kind of running sports in college.

"I'll still continue to run to stay in shape," O'Brien said. "To compete in college will be a lot of work and I'm going to want to focus more on my education." Although college is still another ten months away, O'Brien will still have two track seasons remaining with Norwood where he is looking to do some special things in his events.

Norwood Sports Norwood Gymnastics; A Building Year

By Christopher Tremblay

Taking part in the Tri-Valley League, is not only a small league (four teams), but also a very powerful one. With such robust competition, Norwood gymnastics finds themselves looking up at teams instead of being on the top of the ladder.

"Every year brings a different aspect to it, this one we find ourselves very young and in a rebuilding type of season," Norwood Gymnastic Coach Karen Broderick said. "Last year we finished fourth in the league, and while it doesn't seem all that great, the three teams above us all made it not the tournament, where only 12 teams make it. S, much like last year, I still believe that we'll be competitive within the league."

With the season getting ready to begin, Broderick and the Mustangs will most likely be without Shea Larkee, one of their strongest all-around performers, who will be sidelined with a knee injury.

"We will definitely miss her; she is a competitive individual for sure and was looking forward to her this season, but we will probably not see her all year," the Mustang Coach said. "Now we'll have to be creative with our routines because the majority of the girls are not up to par, skill level wise with what we are used to. We will have to focus more on the girls individual strengths in the best way that we can." This winter, Norwood seems to have a lot of seasonal gymnasts that participate in other sports with only a handful of club gymnasts. Broderick doesn't negate the girls taking part in other sports for the high school, but she does realize that it will be a challenge to get them ready as quicky as possible for the beginning of the season.

"We have a lot of talented individuals, we just have to wake it [talent] up as it's been sleeping for the last nine months or so," Broderick said.

With Larkee sidelined, Broderick will be relying heavily on Lucy Scafati. The junior is capable of taking part in all four events and will be looked upon as a leader who sets the tone for the other girls. According to the coach, Scafati has done all four events, but not all at once. Broderick knows that Scafati has the ability and is up to the challenge and is hoping that she'll be able to pick up the slack in the absence of Larkee.

Freshman Casey Collins brings an amazing vaulting prowess to the team, but assuming she will be ready for high school competition is still up in the air. The coach is looking for Collins to step up and become a role model for all the other incoming freshman this winter.

Another gymnast who is similar to Scafati in terms of taking part in all four events is Paige Mc-Brien, but Broderick especially likes what she brings to the table on the bars.

"I'll be looking to lean on Paige during this event as not many girls take part on the bars," Broderick said. "It's probably also our weakest event. It all depends on the talent of the rest of the girls to see what they can do, but we will definitely be leaning on her."

Senior Maddie Carriero brings four years to the team this season as well as leadership and a great personality. She is a cheerleader who transitioned to gymnastics and has strong floor presence while improving each year over the last three seasons to become a solid individual that Broderick can rely on during her season campaign.

In addition to the returners, Norwood has a lot of incoming freshman who have experience that will allow Norwood to build the program this year.

"It's still early in the planning stages, but by not having Shea we'll have to make some adjustments, but we're hopeful," Broderick said. "This year, I think that we'll try not to focus on wins and losses, but the high school experience by staying positive with what we can do."

Although it may not be possible to overtake the other three teams in the TVL, Norwood is looking to put forth their best effort on each and every event while hoping that the younger athletes improve as the year goes on.

Norwood Snow & Ice Policy

Winter in Norwood: What you need to know

This information provides a general overview of our snow and ice program, frequently asked questions, winter tips and also seeks your support in providing safe streets and sidewalks during snow and ice emergencies.

The Town of Norwood's Public Works Department is responsible for removing snow from and de-icing 110 miles of roadway and 6 municipal parking lots in the winter season. The Town also plows 31 miles of sidewalk to ensure safe passage for pedestrians.

The Public Works Department uses 5 large salt (de-icing) trucks to de-ice roadways. When conditions warrant the plowing of roadways to make them safe, the Town uses 26 municipal vehicles and up to 30 contracted pieces of equipment on 32 plow routes.

Many factors can determine the Town's response to a snow event, some of which may include:

the temperatures before, during and after a storm;

the amount of accumulated snow;

the duration of the storm;

the road surface temperature;

the weather forecast for the following days

Plan of Operations: When the snow starts falling, salt trucks are dispatched to apply de-icing materials such as road salt and liquid magnesium chloride to keep the roads safe.

When 2-3 inches of snow has accumulated on the streets, the snow plowing operation usually begins.

Once the snow stops falling and the roads have been plowed, the streets will again be treated with deicing materials to prevent a freeze-up of the road surface.

Department personnel will then clear intersections and plow sidewalks and parking lots.

Black Road Policy: Within four hours after the storm has ended it is the policy of the Norwood Public Works Department to have a bare (black) road surface on all main streets and arterial collectors. Residential side streets and culde-sacs will also receive similar treatment but may take longer to have a bare (black) road surface.

Parking Bans: Norwood Town By-law (Article XII, Section 30) prohibits parking a vehicle on a street so as to interfere with the snow plowing or removal of snow or ice. Such vehicles will be subject to towing at the expense of the vehicle's owner. Norwood's Parking Regulations also prohibit parking of vehicles for longer than 2 hours, 12 a.m. - 6 a.m., on any street or Town owned parking facility from November 15th through April 1st.

Plow Damage: The Town is not responsible for damaged lawns, sprinkler heads, fences, steps, trees or shrubs that are located within the public way.

The Town will be responsible for mailboxes that are physically hit by a plow. However, mailboxes will not be repaired if they are in a deteriorated condition or are damaged by snow pushback. Mailboxes and posts damaged by a snowplow will be fixed and/or replaced by the Town with a standard wooden post and black box. The Town will provide a check in the amount of $50.00 for homeowner's use for any specialty mailbox and/or post that cannot be repaired.

All plow damage must be reported to the Public Works Department by May 1st of the current snow and ice season. Damage reported after May 1st will not be considered for repairs or reimbursement by the Town of Norwood.

Residents are urged to place stakes with reflectors along the edge of lawns and the corner of driveways / walkways.

Plow vehicles, while employed by the Town, cannot be hired or requested to clear private driveways or walks.

Sand / Salt Mixture for Residents

Norwood residents can pick up a sand/salt mixture in the following locations:

Babel's Paint Store Parking Lot (Cottage Street / Nahatan Street)

370 Winter Street (on Winter Street at entrance to Landfill).

Hawes Pool Parking Lot (Wash-ington Street)

Norwood Memorial Airport Parking Lot (Access Road)

Please bring your own container (limit 5 gallons) and shovel. Commercial and/or private contractors not allowed.

By-law - No Snow Deposited in Public Way Norwood Town By-law (Article XII, Section 32) prohibits the depositing of snow or ice onto or across any public way, including sidewalks or public property. This by-law addresses the ongoing problem of private contractors plowing snow from private driveways into the public way. This causes unsafe road conditions which must then be corrected by the Public Works Department.

Any such owner or agent violating this by-law shall be punished by a fine as well as any cost incurred by the Public Works Department to correct the condition.

Good Neighbor Policy: In the interest of you and your neighbor's personal safety, please shovel out nearby fire hydrants.

Real Estate Corner Registry of Deeds 2022 Holiday Food Drive

As inflation rates continue to rise and the cost of living becomes an increasing challenge for some families across Norfolk County, Register of Deeds William O'Donnell is asking people to take a moment to contribute to the Annual Registry of Deeds Food Drive, which runs through Tuesday, December 13th.

"There is no doubt that Norfolk County is a desirable place to live and to work," Register O'Donnell said. "However, there are people throughout the county that are truly hurting. This year we, as a community, have seen an unprecedented rise in inflation rates, especially in the cost of food. Some Norfolk County families are hit harder by these increased costs and worry about putting food on the table this holiday season."

Today, according to the latest Project Bread statistics, 19.6% of households in Massachusetts are considered food insecure. Furthermore, 22% of children in the state are also considered food insecure. The increasing cost of housing and food are likely factors that contribute to the rising rates of food insecurity.

"As the holidays approach, there is definitely a need for more food assistance," Register O'Donnell noted. "Household expenses are higher due to the cost of home heating fuel, food bills, and increased interest rates. Let us be mindful during this holiday season that others may need our help."

Non-perishable food items can be brought directly to the Registry of Deeds, which is located at 649 High St., in Dedham. A donation bin will be set-up in the Registry's lobby and food can be dropped off Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Suggested donations include canned goods, breakfast cereals, pasta, sauces, toiletries, and paper products.

If you can't get to the Registry of Deeds building to drop off food, you can check the Registry website at www.norfolkdeeds.org for a pantry location in your community. "Working together, we can truly make a huge difference this holiday season," Register O'Donnell concluded.

To learn more about these and other Registry of Deeds events and initiatives, "like" them on facebook.com/norfolkdeeds, follow on twitter and instagram @ norfolkdeeds.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High St., Dedham, is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information. All land record research information can be found on the Registry's website, www.norfolkdeeds.org. Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Center at (781) 461-6101 or email registerodonnell@norfolkdeeds.org.

Thank you for your continued support, referrals and business.

Sending Warmest wishes for Season filled with joy,

Toys for Tots Drive

Believing that the true spirit of the holidays is based on giving, Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell recently announced the Registry sponsoring its 15th Annual U.S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots drive.

"The registry is proud to partner with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve to help deliver a happy Christmas to children this holiday season," Register O'Donnell said. "Also, we thank the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and all our Military personnel for their service."

Donations of new toys and games for toddlers and children up to age ten can be brought directly to the Norfolk County Registry of Deeds building, 649 High St., in Dedham, through noon, Wednesday, December 7, 2022. A marked donation bin will be set up in the lobby, which is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

"This year, especially with inflation rates at record highs, the registry is reaching out to the Norfolk County community to give to the Toys for Tots drive," Register O'Donnell said. "Because no family should have to struggle to give their child a gift this holiday season." This year marks the 75th anniversary of Toys for Tots. The program was established in 1947 when the wife of a Marine major wanted to donate a Raggedy Ann doll for Christmas, but couldn't find an organization to accept it. Since then, the national program has delivered over 627 million toys.

Property Recordings Down in Norfolk County

Norfolk County Register of Deeds, William P. O'Donnell, reported that Norfolk County recordings for the month of October, 2022, indicate a significant decrease in overall real estate activity, particularly mortgage activity, as compared to the October, 2021, numbers.

There were 9,052 documents recorded at the Norfolk County Registry of Deeds in October, a 37% decrease from October, 2021, and a decrease of 9% from September 2022

"The rise in interest rates has had an impact on many aspects of the real estate market," Register O'Donnell said. "Total document volume is down significantly compared to October, 2022. One of the components of document volume, the number of deeds recorded, indicates a decrease in property sales."

The number of deeds for October, 2022, which reflect real estate sales and transfers, both commercial and residential, show a decrease of 17% from October, 2021, and a decrease of 7% from the previous month of September, 2022. Sale prices for October appear to have leveled off when compared to October, 2021. The average sale price in October was $1,064,073, an increase of 5% compared to October, 2021, and down 2% from September, 2022. The total dollar volume of commercial and residential sales is down, decreasing 17% from one year ago and decreasing 12% from last month.

'Consumers seem to be less willing to borrow with interest rates above 7%," Register O'Donnell noted. "According to the numbers we are seeing at the Registry, mortgages are down more than 50% compared to October, 2021. The rising mortgage interest rates also have an impact on buyers looking to purchase real estate."

Overall lending activity showed a continued downward trend for the month of October. A total of 1,482 mortgages were recorded this month, 55% less than a year ago at the same time and down 12% from last month.

"The rising cost of living and increasing interest rates that the country is facing now are having

"Every holiday season, the Registry witnesses firsthand the many acts of kindness and Christmas spirit as numerous people drop off gifts for the Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots drive," Register O'Donnell said. "It's truly wonderful to see so many people drop off gifts, from Registry employees to title examiners, to attorneys, and from the general public."

The U.S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots program's mission is an impact on the local real estate market," Register O'Donnell said. "A continuing cause for concern in Norfolk County is the number of pending foreclosures.'

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds has been closely monitoring the foreclosure market. In October, there were 4 foreclosure deeds recorded as a result of mortgage foreclosures taking place in Norfolk County, one less than in October, 2021. However, in October, there were 25 notices to foreclose, the first step in the foreclosure process, down slightly from the 37 recorded in October, 2021.

"While the number of notices to foreclose have come down slightly from last month, they are still significantly higher than in October, 2021," Register O'Donnell said. "This indicates that more of our neighbors are facing financial challenges going forward. We will continue to track these numbers."

For the past several years, the Norfolk County Registry of Deeds has partnered with Quincy Community Action Programs (617-479-8181 x376) and NeighborWorks Housing Solutions (508-587-0950) to help anyone facing challenges paying their mortgage. Another option for homeowners is to contact the Massachusetts Attorney General's Consumer Advocacy and Response Division (CARD) at 617-727-8400.

"If you are having difficulty paying your monthly mortgage, please consider contacting one of these non-profit agencies for help and guidance," Register O'Donnell said. The rise in interest rates, at levels not seen in decades, has decreased the number of people willing to purchase property, which may be leading to an increasing drop in the average property sales price."

"Since that time, this program has spread so much joy with the gifts that have been donated," Register O'Donnell noted. "We all have the power to make a child's Christmas something special, and therefore, giving to the Toys for Tots drive just might make it the best Christmas present you can give yourself this holiday season."
